They took the stand even though Morris had got himself into political hot water by urging a "get tough" policy against the rash of riots which have plagued Nebraska penal institutions.

Morris had taunted Nebraska penitentiary officials for refusing to open fire on rioters "because it might hurt somebody." His own guards, he boasted, had the "guts" to put down outbreaks without such outside aid as National Guardsmen.

Nebraska's prisons have become the most strife-torn in the nation in recent months. Thursday night's outbreak was the sixth in a year and the fourth within a month at state institutions.

Riots Last August

On Aug. 18 thousands of penitentiary convicts rioted, setting fire to prison buildings and causing $100,000 damage. The riot was followed by another outbreak at the penitentiary Aug. 22 and reformatory inmates rebelled the next week.

Morris put down that outbreak by striding into a cell block with his guards, yanking out the ringleaders, and ripping the clothes off them.

Despite is toughness, Morris was popular with the reformatory inmates. They were frankly angry when the superintendent was fired by the State Board of Control "in the best interests of the institution."

DeMoney Appointed To Toastmasters Area 2 Committee

Bob DeMoney, president of the Thomas R. Marshall Toastmasters Club in Columbia City, was appointed a member of a committee for training of new officers at an area meeting of District 11 of Toastmasters International Thursday at Huntington.

DeMoney represented the loca club at the session which was held for presidents and secretaries of the five clubs in Area 2. Others represented were the two Fort Wayne clubs, Hartford City and Marion clubs.

The purpose of the meeting, DeMoney said, was to co-ordinate plans and programs of the District 11 clubs in the coming year, which begins October 1 for Toastmasters International.

Among topics discussed at the meeting, besides the officer training school, were the area speech contest and make-up of club bulletins, DeMoney said.

Harold VanVoosrt, secretary of the Columbia City Club, was unable to attend the meeting.

9-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Gravel Pit

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (UP)—A 9-year-old boy drowned in a gravel pit late Thursday when a boat capsized, but his companion was rescued.

The body of Byrl Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mishawaka, was recovered from 15 feet of water. Dicky Frederick, 7, his companion, was pulled to shore by playmates.

Chicago Man Drowns In Wolf Lake

HAMMOND (UP)—A body found in Wolf Lake was identified Thursday as that of John Sichak, 48, Chicago, who drowned when he fell from a motorboat two days previously.

The body was found by John Sutkowski, East Chicago, whose fishing line snagged it. Police said Sichak drowned Tuesday when a boat overturned and threw three men into the water. The other two were rescued.

Bickering Couple Blown To Bits By Dynamite

Husband Clings To Struggling Mate

SHEPHERD, Mich. (UP) — A bickering couple was blown to bits Thursday when the angry husband clung to his struggling mate while two sticks of dynamite he held in his other hand exploded.

Versal Dunn, a 50-year-old factory worker, killed himself and his wife, Blanche, 39, because he was unable to reconcile a dispute which led to their separation three weeks ago, police said.

Neighbors told police Dunn had attempted a reconciliation with his wife since Tuesday. But Mrs. Dunn refused to admit him to the home of her married daughter, Mrs Duane Fisher, where she had fled after a family quarrel.

One of the neighbors, Guy Brooks, told police he saw Dunn drive past the house several times Thursday before he drove into the driveway. He said he saw Dunn fumble around in the back seat of his car and then pull out two sticks of dynamite with the fuses sputtering.

Dunn called to his wife and she came out on the porch but started to return when she saw her husband, Brooks told police. The angered husband grabbed his wife and dragged her about 10 feet when the dynamite exploded, shattering windows in the house and blowing a hole six feet deep in the ground.

Brooks, who was about 100 feet from the blast, and Mrs. Fisher and her six children, who were in the house, all escaped injury.

Purdue Glee Club, Bromfield Features Of Plowing Program

WABASH, — Music by the 48-voice Varsity Glee Club of Purdue University and an address by Louis Bromfield, one of the nation's leading authors and lecturers, will highlight the Plowmen's Program at 8 p.m., Friday, September 16, at the Honeywell Memorial Center here. Labor Disputes Idle Giant Port For Third Day

Threaten Coast To Coast Strike At Westinghouse

By UNITED Press

Labor disputes idled the giant port of New York for the third straight day today and threatened to send 44,000 CIO employes of Westinghouse Electric Corp. on a coast-to-coast strike.

Meanwhile, CIO United Auto Workers members voted unanimously at a mass meeting to end a violence-sparked wildcat strike at the Chrysler Corporation's Indianapolis plant.

The CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said its members are voting more than 2 to 1 for a nationwide strike at midnight Sunday to back 2,200 workers who walked out at the firm's East Pittsburgh, Pa., plant Aug. 8.

Dockers Defy Court

The workers struck in protest against a company time study of job efficiency, and about 9,000 other production and office workers were furloughed as a result. The strike vote already has sparked walkouts by 5,600 workers at four Westinghouse plants in New Jersey.

On the East Coast, leaders of the Independent Longshoremen's Union defied court orders and pleas of state officials to go back to work.

The 10-million-dollar-a-day walkout has shut down the port of New York and longshoremen in Philadelphia, Boston, Norfolk and Baltimore have also refused to go to the docks.

The union said it would not send the men back to work until the governors of New York and New Jersey agree to listen to their grievances against the anti-racketeering New York Waterfront Commission.

Govs. Averell Harriman of New York and Robert Meyner of New Jersey both served notice they would not bow to the union demands. Meanwhile, two permanent injunctions against the walkout were sought.

Harvester Calls Mediator

Another injunction led to the end of a 2-day-old wildcat strike at Indianapolis which had idled 3,600 workers.

Superior Judge John Niblack issued a temporary restraining order Thursday which banned picketing at the Chrysler plant. UAW leaders then made a back-to-work plea at a mass meeting and about 2,000 members voted to end the walkout.

The walkout was not authorized by the CIO United Auto Workers. It was believed to have started over a dispute about a man who was fired on charges that he staged a fight during a brief walkout last week.

In other labor developments, the UAW and the International Harvester Co. agreed to seek the help of a third party in settling a seven-state strike and an agreement was reached affecting 23,000 glass workers.

The decision to call in a labor arbiter in the Harvester strike was reached Thursday night after company and union negotiations became deadlocked.

At Toledo, Ohio, 23,000 CIO employes of major flat glass plants in seven states won benefits in a three-year contract extension.

The contract covers works at Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Co. and Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. plants. Its major new feature was a security benefit plan similar to the guaranteed annual wage.

Los Angeles' Killer Heat Wave Burning Self Out

New Forest Fires In California's Parched Brushlands

By UNITED PRESS

Los Angeles' killer heat wave was apparently burning itself out today, but new forest fires broke out of control in Californias parched brushlands.

Meanwhile, flood waters slowly receded in south Texas and temperatures warmed up in the nation's central and southern areas.

The record-breaking heat siege at Los Angeles appeared ended when the mercury climbed to a mere 96 Thursday and only 90 degrees was predicted today.

The heat wave, which sent the mercury into the 100s for eight straight days, is blamed for 100 deaths and about 25 million dollars' damage to agriculture.

In central California, meanwhile, a sudden shift in winds sent forest fires threatening two California areas and forcing a state of emergency in a Santa Barbara area.

Weary firefighters believed they had finally brought the rash of forest blazes under control until the winds fanned the fires again.

Near Santa Barbara, a fire went out of control on two fronts and became the worst in the history of the California coast. All available equipment was rushed to the San Marcos Canyon as the flames topped a 500-foot cliff overlooking a resort community.

In the 17,000-acre Sequoia National Forest, meanwhile, a blaze which was supposed to be controlled jumped its boundaries at two points. The same fire earlier threatened to destroy the General Grant redwood grove where giant trees have stood for 5,500 years.

A new menace arose as the flames drove hundreds of rattle snakes among the firefighters. A rush order was issued for 3,000 pocket-sized snakebite kits to be distributed among the men.

Elsewhere, temperatures went up in the Missouri Valley and Great Lakes regions, but stayed in the 40s and 50s in most of the nation's northern section.

Conference May Determine Fate Of West Europe

No Real Normalization Until Emotional Issues Settled

By KENNETH BRODNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told Soviet leaders today that German reunification and the release of 200,000 German war prisoners still held by the Russians were not "conditions" for the establishment of diplomatic relations between their two countries.

But he emphasized that there could be no "real normalization" of relations between the two peoples until these emotional issues were settled.

Proposes No Conditions

In an opening statement, Bulganin noted that the Soviet initiated the talks on "the assumption that the establishment of normal relations between our two countries correspond to the interests of both.'

In his reply, Adenauer said the questions of German reunification and the release of the prisoners were of major importance. He said solution of the questions was not a "condition" for the establishment of diplomatic relations.

But he added:

"I do not believe that it is enough to outlaw war, create security systems, and establish diplomatic, economic and cultural relations. I am much more deeply convinced that a real normalization can only come about when we solve the problems that make the present situation between us ab-

Egypt Rejects U.N. Recommendation To Resume Talks

CAIRO (UP)—Egypt today rejected a United Nations Security Council recommendation that it resume direct negotiations with Israel in an effort to reduce border tension in the Gaza area.

However, an official government spokesman said Egypt was ready to consider any suggestions submitted directly by Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, chief U.N. Palestine truce supervisor.

The Security Council, meeting at U.N. headquarters in New York Thursday, unanimously approved a series of steps aimed at ending Egyptian-Israeli border tension including resumption of direct talks, broken off by Egypt Aug. 24.

Local Jeweler Has Interesting Collection Of Rare Books, Knew James WhitcombRiley

By MRS. PHIL McNAGNY, JR.

How many of you readers recognize the young man? Poet pianist, pugilist, possesor of rare books, private in Spanish-American War who rose to rank of captain in World War I—in his colorful lifetime, Oliver Perry Morton Squires is worthy of each title.

The above picture is the frontpiece of his book of poetry, "Captain Squires' Commonoddities" published in 1922. Among the forty-six poems is "I Went and Licked My Kid," which was published in the Ladies Home Journal.

Knew Riley

Captain Squires was acquainted with James Whitcomb Riley. When the Chicago Herald Examiner offered a prize for the best poem about Riley, Captain Squires' entry won. He received a letter of appreciation from Riley. At the time of the Hoosier poet's death in 1916, Squires wrote a poem "To James Whitcomb Riley," also included in his book.

To W.Z.S.

A letter requesting Mr. Squires to give a small donation to the building fund of the Methodist Church in Churubusco inspired a poem "To W.Z.S." (the late Willard Zur Smith, father of Mrs Scott Gates of Columbia City.) The first and last stanzas are:

"Your letter came - my dear old friend—
Requesting check, I don't intend
One moment to waste till my duty do—
So with this find small sum for you.

"Ben Franklin said to Thomas

Family Financial Plan Will Help Provide Luxuries

LAFAYETTE, — A financial plan for the family income will help get luxuries as well as necessities, suggest Miss Gertrude Nonhaut, extension home management specialist, Purdue University. To be effective, such a plan must be worked out by each individual family since an outsider cannot decide needs or wants of another family.

"Of course, you may not be able to increase your income, but by careful planning you may be able to eliminate some unnecessary spending," Miss Monhaut said. Those expenditures may be single items or several small daily ones which are so easily forgotten. Shopping during sales offers a temptation to buy items because the price is less - not because the item is really needed by some member of the family. The purpose of stopping unnecessary spending is not just to save money but to get more lasting satisfaction from the money spent.

There are all kinds of plans and accounting systems being used individually tailored by different families, but the principle of all of them is the same. "List your definite obligations and commitments and find out how much you must put aside to meet these needs and contracted future expenditures," Miss Monhaut advised. "You can then figure out how much money you have left to spend for items the family wants beyond the necessities," she added. If the family is not satisfied with the way of living attained by the financial plan used, the family should alter the plan to give the greatest satisfaction possible.

By having a financial plan, you will be better able to control the money you spend and know where your money is going and why," concluded the Purdue extension specialist.

Parks Has Shelled Out More Loot Than Any Other Quizmaster

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — The long-green given out on such new shows as "The $64,000 Question" may seem pretty staggering, but it's just small change to an old quiz hand like Bert Parks.

Parks has shelled out more than $4,500,000 as a quizmaster, more loot than anyone has doled out in the history of the TV-radio business.

As emcee for 10 years on "Break The Bank," the genial Parks has distributed some $3,-195,000 to contestants. And in a comparable seat on "Stop The Music," which Parks again will emcee this fall when it moves to ABC-TV, he emptied the coffers over eight years for gifts worth some $1,375,000.

Parks, a veteran of almost 24 years in radio and TV, can remember the shows that kicked off the whole frantic quiz business, but admits he never figured it would mushroom to its present proportions.

High Wing Collar

"The fellow who started it all, I think, was 'Professor Quiz,'" said Parks. "That was way back in the early '30s. He wore a high wing collar and glasses and gave out a top prize of $20.

"There were a whole bunch of them after that — 'Dr. I.Q.' and "Double Or Nothing' and 'Take It Or Leave It.' But 'Break The Bank' was the first of the really big money shows."

Parks landed on "Break The Bank" as the result of the recommendation of Bud Collyer, who now emcees "Beat The Clock.' Parks came out of the Army in late 1945 when "Break The Bank' was being cooked up.

"Stop The Music," which began on radio, fell to Parks in 1948.

From Four To 80

Parks, perhaps the most experienced hand at making a guest feel at home, has worked with contestants ranging from four to 80-odd years of age.

"I get some of my biggest kicks out of working with kids. You see, I've discovered a secret — all you have to do is squat down to their level. Adults scare kids because they tower over them."

The father of nine-year-old twin boys and a six-year-old daughter himself, Parks passes his off moments puttering around in a power cruiser named after his wife, Annette.

"One of the wonderful things about a show like 'Break The Bank' is that it gives me so much free time. There are no rehearsals except for commercials. Then, too, I get a chance to perform on the show. I'm no Mario Lanza, but I love to sing.'

Power Generators For Individual Homes May Be Developed

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Individual power generators for the home may be developed in this atomic age and make electrical utilities outmoded, a financial expert told the Indiana Public Service Commission today.

Frank Travers, an Indianapolis insurance executive, testified on cost of money in Public Service Company of Indiana's request for a rate increase of $4,200,000 a year, affecting Hoosiers in 70 counties.

He broached the subject of atomic energy as an indication of how extensively potential utility investors must study company finances before deciding whether to buy stocks and bonds.

"An investor would be foolish to assume this is a risk-free industry,' Traver said. "The investors made that mistake on railroads, in the days before good highways, pipelines and trucks."

Electrical utilities hope atomic energy and sun energy can be integrated into their systems, he said, but they "fear someone will develop individual generators for the home. Perhaps a family could use atomic pellets and generate its own power."

Such a future risk is "relatively remote," Travers said, but it lends weight to the fact PSCI earned only 3.8 per cent on its investment in a new plant during a four-year period.

"The company failed to maintain its earnings in proportion to its capital structure," Travers said.

Henry Ryder, an attorney intervening for 47 industries in 10 cities, said only institutional investors would consider earnings on a new plant. Travers replied that institutional investors contribute the bulk of utility money and the investment role of the "man on the street" is "unimportant.'

PSCI must maintain its earning power to hold old investors and attract new ones, Travers said.

A major phase of the hearing, which may be reached late today or next week, will be testimony by the commissions accounting staff.

Exhibits prepared by Chief Accountant Bernard Perry contain an historical approach to utilit yearnings and differ substantially from exhibits entered by the utility a month ago.

Beavers are usually gentle toward human beings. Even if handled they are likely to use flailing tails rather than chisellike teeth in self-defense.

Plan To Swamp Ike With Birthday Cards Bearing Rerun Plea

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Indiana Republican women today unveiled a plan to swamp President Eisenhower with birthday cards bearing a plea he be a candidate for re-election in 1956.

GOP county and city vice-chairmen made plans at a luncheon to sell the cards for $1 each in a fund-raising move. The cards are to be sent to the White House before Oct. 14, the President's birthday.

In addition to birthday greetings, the cards say: "It is my personal and earnest hope that you will continue in great leadership by consenting to be my candidate for President in 1956."

"There was no violence. I wouldn't say it was a riot. They just wanted to talk to somebody.

John A. Cane who was sentenced to life in prison in 1934 for the murders of his wife, two daughters and a son and then pretended to be deaf and dumb for 18 years until he broke his silence to plead for freedom:

"In my cell at night I fought against having to cry out. But I kept silent. When a man makes up his mind he can do anything."

Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey on the demand of International Longshoremens Assn. leaders for an airing of their grievances against the waterfront commission which led to East Coast port tieup:

"The chief executive of New Jersey doesn't knuckle under to any group."

Nation's General Business Economy Is Riding High

CHICAGO (UP) — The nation's general business economy is riding high, but farm income has suffered a sharp decline, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said today.

A late-summer surge of business optimism was expressed by free-spending consumers and company outlays for new plants and equipment, the bank said in its monthly review "Business Conditions."

But, it said, farm operators' net income is now running 27 per cent below its 1951 peak after four years of continuous decline.

Net income per farm also dropped about one-fourth during that period, it said.

In the month ending July 15, the bank said, prices received by farmers dropped 2 per cent to a level equivalent to 84 per cent of parity, the lowest parity since December, 1940.

Writer Tells About Unpleasant Side Of Penicillin

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Several medical scientists have suggested that this writer tell the public something about the unpleasant side of penicillin so that the public will stop twisting doctoral arms in order to get a shot of the stuff for the least little thing.

The medical profession has just about curbed the enthusiasts among its members who were shooting first and asking questions later. But patients still demand it and when a medical man refuses to come across, many of them act as though he ought to be driving a bus.

The unpleasant side of penicillin is that some people are allergic to it. In some very few cases—comparatively speaking — it has produced the rushing, sledge-hammer kind of allergic reaction called anaphylactic shock which can be quickly fatal.

Leading Brake-Jerker

Dr. Sheppard Siegal of New York's Mount Sinai Hospital, an allergy specialist, has been one of the leading brake-jerkers within the profession. A recent lecture of his at the annual meeting of the Medical Society of the State of New York was heard only by other doctors.

Speaking of antibiotics generally, he said he did not want to "instill fear"—he wanted to "suggest a proper discrimination."

For allergic reactions, penicillin is the "problem antibiotic," he said. In his wide experience, he had classified four types:

⅛. "Delayed type," occurring at least five days after the penicillin shot. There are skin eruptions — usually hives — fever and pain in the joints. This is the reaction of an allergic person to the first exposure to an antigen, in this case, penicillin.

Accelerated And Immediate

2. "Accelerated and immediate" type. Not nearly as common as type one. Occurs only in persons who have had penicillin before. It may come within seconds of the shot or one or two days afterward. actions, mainly more severe forms

Type Three are "hyperergic" reaction, mainly more severe forms of Type One. Type Four is an eruption of the skin, particularly the hands, feet and groins.

All this indicates why doctors now almost always ask if you've ever had penicillin before and if so, was there any reaction. Dr. Siegal remarked that pediatricians "are fortunately less concerned with the hazards which beset physicians treating adults." The reason is that the severe forms of penicillin allergic reactions are "very rare in childhood."

Larwill WSCS Meets To Celebrate 15th Anniversary

The charter members and the past presidents were honored at the Methodist church social room in Larwill on Wednesday evening, when the Woman's Society for Christian Service celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the Society.

A table laid with a hand crocheted tablecloth, centered by a large white birthday cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Alvin Sweeney was the setting for the observance. Bouquets of summer flowers formed the decorations.

The theme for the occasion was Remember, Rejoice, Renew. Three leaders Mrs. Walter Meecham Mrs. Alvin Sweeney, and Mrs. Theodore Knox, used the three words as their part in the program. Each of the officers lighted a tall white taper and stated an accomplishment of the society as she lighted her taper. Mrs. Calvin Watkins president, lighted the tallest taper suggesting plans for the growth of the society in the future.

Charter members were honored during the ceremonies. Twenty were present to take part in the affair. Past presidents Mrs. Sanford Rush, Mrs. Alvin Sweeney and Mrs. Ivan Spurrier, who appeared for her mother, Mrs Grover Schuman, were given recognition for their efforts in the past.

A memorial was held for the ten departed charter members; Mrs. Theodore Knox, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Keith McManama, sang "Near to the Heart of God" and Mrs. Watkins read a tribute.

Mrs. Eudolph Holycross took flash pictures of the event. Punch the birthday cake, and mints were served by the hostesses, the Mesdames, Knox, Sweeney, and Watkins. The napkins bore the "Happy Birthday" motif.

Guests present were, Mrs. McManama, of Waynedale; Mrs. David Dunfee, of South Whitley; Mrs. Ernest Brown, of near Tri Lakes, and Mrs. James Bohnstedt, and daughter Marlene, of Etna-Troy township.

Employment Rise Reaches Record In Month Of August

WASHINGTON (UP) — The number of employed Americans rose to a record 65,488,000 in August. Unemployment dropped off to 2,237,000.

The rise in employment and fall in unemployment was attributed by the government today to the normal August pick-up in factory jobs and a smaller-than-usual decline in farm work.

The employed total was almost 500,000 higher than July, the Commerce and Labor departments reported. The jobless total was down by almost 250,000. The August survey was taken during the second week of the month.

Sizable employment gains occurred in the food and tobacco processing industries, clothing, and textiles.

New records were set in trade (stores), finance (banks, insurance companies), service (laundries, repair shops) and state and local governments.

High level consumer buying kept furniture industry and radio and television factory payrolls high. An upturn in spending by business firms for equipment and facilities kept machinery industry employment better than usual.

Farm employment normally falls off during August, but this time it held close to June and July levels.

On the unemployment side of the picture, the government said hiring of students and unemployed adults was "brisk" among expanding industries.

Stassen Plans To Ask Russia's Attitude On Plan

Designed To Give Warning In Case Of Attack

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. UP) — America asks Russia today whether its concern over a surprise attack is deep enough to get the Soviets to join in President Eisenhower's military inspection plan.

The two countries, in mutual agreement that safeguards against surprise attack are necessary, resume debate in the five-nation U.N. disarmament subcommittee.

American disarmament expert Harold E. Stassen planned to question Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev in detail on the Russian attitude toward the Eisenhower plan, which was designed to give ample warning of preparations for a surprise attack.

Soboley Shows Concern

Soboley, in what Stassen regarded as the first important Russian disarmament statement since the Geneva "Summit" meeting, stated the Soviet concern about the dangers of surprise attack and the need for safeguards against it.

However, Sobolev made no direct reference to the Eisenhower plan, which calls for a U.S.-Soviet exchange of military blueprints and the right of aerial and ground inspection.

Actually, Russia's expressed concern about surprise attacks was not new. Such concern was expressed in Soviet disarmament proposals of last May 10.

But U.S. experts pointed out that Sobolev's timing in bringing up the issue again after the overall Kremlin disarmament plan had been rejected by the West was significant.

The U.S. has abandoned what Stassen called "the rainbow approach" to disarmament — the seeking of agreement on overall, stage-by-stage arms reduction from the outset.

Surprise Attack Precaution

Instead, American emphasis is almost completely on obtaining agreement on inspection of the armed strength of Russia and the U.S. as a precaution against surprise attack.

The other Western powers take issue with the U.S. proposal because it does not include provisions for control or limitation of armaments. The U.S. is against any limitation until an adequate inspection system is in force.

On the other hand, none of the Western powers is willing to go along with Russia's demand for immediate reduction of armed forces and prohibition of nuclear weapons.

Republican State Chairmen Finish Campaign School

WASHINGTON (UP)— Republican state chairmen finish their "campaign school" term today and it was indicated their final assignment will be adoption of a resolution urging the President to seek a second term.

The resolution by Samuel L. Bodine, state party chairman for New Jersey, was assured of unanimous adoption. Presumably the group then would present it personally to the President at Denver Saturday when he plays host to the school at breakfast. The party officials will fly to Denver tonight on a chartered plane.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the party officials Thursday he is more optimistic than ever that the President will run. He said Mr. Eisenhower, however, will make that decision "at the time it should be made" and that he will make it on the basis of whether he thinks he is needed and whether he is in the best possible physical condition.

On that score Nixon said he never saw the President looking better or sharper. People who think he will quit the White House to take it easy are mistaken, he said.

Nixon predicted the big issue in '56 will be the nation's economy.

Timely?

NEW YORK (UP)—The New York City Transit Authority ran its first air-conditioned subway car Thursday.

The day's high temperature was 69.4 degrees.

Petunia Trail

A Petunia Trail including plantings nominated for awards in the contest sponsored by the Columbia City Chamber of Commerce has been set up to view the suggested petunia layouts in one trip with the least backtracking.

The suggested trail may be covered in less than one hour. It was originally planned to assist the judging committee and starts at the city hall.

Members of the local beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce include: Glenn Frank, Shinzo Ohki, Franklin Dillman, Mrs. Hugh Osborn and Mrs. John Adams. All have expressed appreciation for the wonderful cooperation in the entire community. They wish that many of the other plantings had been nominated for the ribbon awards.

If You Have Big Head, Chances Are You're Pretty Smart

WASHINGTON (UP) — if you have a big head, chances are youre pretty smart.

No guarantee, of course. But an expert said today there seems to be a "definite relationship" between man's intelligence and the size of his skull and brain.

This inspires optimism. Dr. T.D. Stewart, nationally known anthropologist, confirmed what many have suspected right along—man's head is getting bigger all the time.

"We don't know exactly why it is," Stewart said, "but men and women all over the world have been getting taller. And over the centuries the human skull has grown larger."

Stewart, curator of anthropology for the Smithsonian Institution, is serving as chairman of a two-day seminar on the role of anthropologists in the identification of skeletons for such things as criminal and immigration cases. Experts from all over the country are attending.

Only Few Formal 1955 State Fair Activities Remain On Schedule As Fair Draws To Close

By SAM NEWLUND
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—The "leftovers" were dished up today to stragglers attending the 10th and last day of the Indiana State Fair.

Only a few formal activities remained on the schedule and there seemed no chance the crowd would be big enough to boost the total paid attendance close to the record of 659,545 set in 1952.

Attendance through Thursday was 573-319—7,217 more than the total for last year's 9-day show.

The 1955 fair ends with a "Civil Defense Day" parade at 7 p.m (CDT), and vaudeville and horse show an hour later.

The parade will include 400 volunteer policemen, and Fort Harrison Army band, and equipment and vehicles used disasters. Col Edward L. Strohbein, state civil defense director, will review the parade in front of the grandstand.

4-H Highlights

"Farmers Day" Thursday included more 4-H open class competion.

Sandra K. Polk, 17, Claypool took first in the 4-H Home Economics electrical demonstration Her show with an electric french fryer was called "family favorites —electra-fried."

Ruth Anne Schuh, 18, Indianapolis, whipped up an asparagus casserole to win the 4-H canned vegetable demonstration. She enters Indiana State Teachers College this fall.

Jacqueline Hammond, 18, Indiana University freshman from Scottsburg, was chosen assistant director of the 1956 4-H Girls School. Alternates are Elaine Lou Neff, Nappanee, and Ruth Ann Schwartzkopf, Columbus.

The appointment goes annually to the top honor girl at the current school.

The Wind-up

4-H judging ended Thursday, and the only competition on tap today involved Brahman cattle, three classes of swine, and horse show judging.

Other winners:

Cattle—Folk & Sons, Springfield Ill., Guernsey bull; Mathers Bros., Mason City, Ill., Female shorthorn.

Swine—Ralph C. Miller, New Ross, Hampshire boar; Cottonwood Farms, Indianapolis, Spotted Poland china boar; Kenneth Dunbar, Osgood, Berkshire achievement.

Meadlowlark Farms, Clinton Hampshire sow.

Sheep—A.H. Stephenons, Winchester, Ky., Southdown ewe; J.E. Love, Eaton, Indiana Southdown ewe; William Lewis, Castialia, O., Corriedale ram and ewe; Stanley Scott, Claypool, Indiana Corriedale ram and ewe.

Truman Warns Nation To Keep Guard Up, Maintain Skepticism Toward Russia's Talk

CHICAGO (UP) Former President Harry S. Truman warned today the nation must "keep up our guard" and maintain "considerable skepticism" toward Russia's new talk about world peace.

Mr. Truman said he didn't want to "throw a damper" on hopes of peace, but the United States must avoid becoming complacent" and taking "an easy road that leads to disaster.'

"The international picture is not going to change from black to white over night,' he declared. "Anyone who tries to tell you that it can or will is either badly misinformed or guilty of a fraud."

The ex-president said the Soviets in recent months have seemed, "on the surface at least, to desire a lessening of world tensions."

But he recalled that the Communists have "talked sweetly, and then sabotaged" other hopes of world peace and said "we cannot tell what the real intentions of the new Soviet leaders are."

"We must and should confer with the Russians,' he said.

"We must and should look for peaceful solutions—but never at the price of justice and freedom.

"And above all," he said, "we must keep up our guard. It is very easy, when the air is filled with sweet reasonableness, to begin to relax a little. It is exceedingly easy, but it can also be awfully fatal.

"We must be sure that while we talk of peace, the balance of power does not shift against the free world."

Mr. Truman's foreign policy address was prepared for delivery at a luncheon of the Executives' Club of Chicago.

He warned that the job of "keeping up our guard" is a "big job and a hard and expensive one," and charged that the U.S. has been losing ground in its arms race with Russia.

Mr. Truman said recent disclosures about Soviet aircraft "raise very serious questions concerning the adequacy of our own forces.'

"They are making enormous gains," he said. "We are losing the margin of leadership we had built up a few years ago. The implications of these facts are enormous and dreadful.

"There is nothing in the world today, so far as I know, which will justify permitting this situation to continue.

Mr. Truman lashed out at cuts in American ground forces as "unjustified and most dangerous." He noted that retired Army chief of Staff Gen. Matthew Ridgway criticized these cuts but his remarks were "brushed aside as parochialism."

"If that's what it is, I want to say here and now that I'm from the same parish as General Ridgway," Mr. Truman said.

Superior Garment Factory Started 1904, Is Predecessor Of Blue Bell

Editor's note: The following story deals briefly with the history of the manufacture of work clothing in Columbia City, beginning in 1904 with the Superior Garment Company and continuing up to the present time with Blue Bell Inc. Roy Duncan, manager of Blue Bell, Inc., was the source of information for the story, which is intended to make citizens of this community more familiar with local industry.

In 1904 C. H. Snyder began the manufacture of work clothing in Columbia City operating the Superior Garment Company, located in the room over the present location of the Russell Wolfe garage on Market Street. In August 1915 they moved to the building on West Ellsworth Street, now occupied by the Moose Lodge where they manufactured bib overalls and employed approximately 25 operators. At that time, what power machines were used were powered with gasoline.

In 1926 Superior Garment Company merged with Globe Mfg. Co. forming the Globe Superior Corp. In October 1931 work was begun on the present building located at 307 South Whitley Street, and early in 1932 operation began in this building. In 1936 Blue Bell Overall Company merged with Globe Superior, forming the Blue Bell-Globe Mfg. Co. In 1943 the Corporation name was changed to Blue Bell, Inc. for easy identification throughout the trade, under which name it operates today, as the world's largest producer of work clothes. However, their products are not limited to work clothes only. In addition to bib overalls, waistband overalls, and coveralls, Blue Bell manufactures matched suits, shirts, jackets, blouses, shorts, kiddies play clothes, and Western clothes—clothes for the entire family, men, women, boys and girls—over 450 different lot numbers.

28 Plants

To faciliate production, each location manufactures just a few numbers of similar general construction, with Columbia City manufacturing the Wrangler western line and men's and boys', ladies' and girl's waistband dungarees. Twenty-eight plants are operated by the company. Plants in the Indiana division are located at Columbia City, Warsaw and Nappanee. In Illinois plants are at Abingdon and Bushnell, in Georgia at Comer and two plants at Commerce; in North Carolina at Lenoir and two at Greensboro; in Alabama at Oneonta and Arab; in Virginia at Luray, Shenandoah, Elkton, Madison, Mount Jackson, Woodstock and Ruckersville; and in Mississippi at Belmont, Natchez, Fulton, Tishimingo, Tupelo, Ripley, Baldwin and and Boonville.

Sales of the Blue Bell products are handled thru sales offices located in New York City, Greensboro, N.C., Atlanta, Ga; Nashville, Tenn., Dallas, Texas; Chicago, Ill., Columbus, Ohio; Portland, Ore., and Fresno, Calif. A warehouse is also maintained at Fresno. Sales have been increased under three brand names—Blue Bell, Big Ben, and Casey Jones. This policy not only maintains the brand names of companies absorbed by Blue Bell, which were strong in their particular section, but it also gives Blue Bell the opportunity to sell more outlets in each market area. In addition to branded lines, a part of Blue Bell's production is distributed in the form of customers' private brands, as well as the Wrangler brand western garments. Blue Bell is one of the chief suppliers to the large mail order outlets. Likewise Blue Bell is the largest single supplier of work clothes to the American wholesale dry goods industry. Through this coast to coast network of wholesalers, America's independent retailers are served, thus placing Blue Bell products in the retail stores of virtually every city in America as well as in the general stores that serve the crossroads of rural America.

Being a needle industry, Blue Bell employs 90 per cent women. In 1952 an award was received by the Columbia City plant for operating 500,000 man hours with no lost time accidents.

Blue Bell provides employment for approximately 250-275 people locally, with an annual payroll in excess of $500,000. Branches from the Columbia City plant operating in Warsaw and Nappanee are of equal size to Columbia City, with the sewing operations being done in those locations. In addition to the payroll, expenditures were put into this community in a local level of $100,000 during the past 12 months by the corporation.

Annually Blue Bell uses at the Columbia City location 5,635,700 yards of cloth, 599,760,000 yards of thread, 3,261,600 zippers, 62,500 pounds of burlap, and 38000 pounds of paper. This plant annually ships 3357,856 garments, which amounts to 2,518 tons of freight. Columbia City is the company's midwest shipping point and finished goods manufactured in other locations are transferred to Columbia City for shipping.

The building covers 75,000 square feet of floor space on three floors, with cutting department, storage for piece goods and supplies and cafeteria located on the first floor; office, shipping department and finished goods storage on the second floor; and sewing department, machine shop and a second shipping department on the third floor.

While the corporation operates with home office in Greensboro, N. C., all department heads are local people, most of whom have also had training in other Blue Bell plants throughout the organization. E. K. (John) Moyer is Superintendent of the Sewing Department; Lawrence Wolfe is foreman of Shipping Department; Jim Forst is foreman of the Cutting Department; Cliff Blanchard is office manager; Harry Staley is head machinist; Cliff Balyeat is in charge of cutting controls; Lucille Scott is Supervisor of the Cafeteria; and Ogereta Snyder is Personnel director.

The slogan this company has adopted is "The company that pays attention to all things." They believe in using local people for upgrading throughout, in any community where they operate plants.

Local Jeweler

Paine—

If I were you, I would refrain—
I do not know, but I have doubt
That you know what you talk about."
Seems strange that logical man,
Could see no Christ as we all can—
"The world is bad with churches about,
What would it be if it were without."

Rare Books

Few people in our community know this unassuming gentleman who has been a jeweler and watch repairman for 62 years, possesses one of the most valuable private collections of old and rare books in the state.

Several are almost 400 years old. The two oldest, written in Latin, were published in 1579 and 1586. A large Latin dictionary "Lexicon Harmonicum" bears the date 1661

On his bookshelf is "Gray's Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard." Mr. Squires prizes this old edition of the Elegy, called the greatest poem ever written. On every third page there is a verse with a picture above descriptive of that verse. The intervening pages are blank.

A very rare book is "Memoirs of Lady Jane Grey" by Sir Harris Hicholas. Published in 1832, the memories tell the tragic personal story of Queen Elizabeth I's half-sister, beheaded at the age of 17 by the Queen's command.

Several of the collection are unusually small in size—2½ inches wide and 5 inches high: 2 volumes of History of England, published in 1828, and 2 volumes of William Cowper's Poems, published in 1782.

Robert Burns

Mr. Squires treasures the second volume of "Poems of Robert Burns," published in 1811. The fact that this is an Edinburgh edition makes it very valuable. Another Edinburgh edition in his possession is the history of the renowned Don Quixote by Cervantes, 1771.

Mr. Squires' collection of poets include Thomas Moore, Schiller, Hood, Pope, Dryden, Meredith, Whittier, Byron, Bryant, Holmes, Carleton, Shakespeare Wordsworth, Longfellow and Riley.

His history books are equally interesting. He has "Life of Washington, by Rev. M. L. Weems, published in 1816 just a few years after the first president's death.

Students of Abraham Lincoln would find the first biography of the Civil War President. It is "Life of Abraham Lincoln," by Frank Crosby, a Philadelphia lawyer. Publication date is June, 1865, just two months after Lincoln's assassination.

Also in his collection is the first history of the Civil War, a book of 859 pages, published in 1866. W. O. Blake is the author.

His Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, published in 1867, is written in old English type.

Additional Books

A few more of this collection are: Book of Sermons, the first of which is by Rev. Matthew Sylvester, preached in Sylvester's Meeting-Place in Black-Friar's England, 1708.

Six volumes of English poems up to 1776.

A beautifully illustrated Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyan.

Atkinson's Casket, a bound volume of the magazine, "The Casket." Published, 1834. The first cover shows the latest London and Paris fashions. One item from the magazine reads, "We are seriously threatened with the revival of hair powder."

Three volumes of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, 1885.

Plain Facts, by J. H. Kellogg. M.D., the founder of Kellogg's Cereals at Battlecreek, Michigan.

Life History

Mr. Squires was one of 4 sons of Dr. James W. Squires, who practiced medicine in Churubusco for 28 years. Morton studied piano with his mother and later with Prof. Myers of the Fort Wayne Conservatory.

At 14, the boy started learning the trade of watch repair from George Hemmick and by 17 he had his own jewelry store in Churubusco. Lloyd Clapham, his watch maker, recruited Mort for the Spanish-American War. Bugler Squires was in one of the two Indiana regiments that went to Cuba.

Boxer

Returning to Churubusco, Mort did a little left-handed boxing. When Columbia City sent out a dare to anyone who could oppose their champion, Simon Egner Mort accepted the challenge. In the old rink, now Wolfe's Garage next to the jail, Mort out-feinted Egner with his left hand and won the match.

Jeweler

In 1903 Mort married Florence Souder of South Whitley. In those days many drug stores had watch repair departments. Mort repaired watches in Fred Norris' drug store in South Whitley for several years.

Soldier

From 1905 until World War I, Mort had a jewelry store in La-Porte. He enlisted at age 37 and rose to captain. His last service was Russellville, Kentucky as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Bethel College.

To Columbia City

In 1932 the Squires family moved to Columbia City. His first store was above M. Strouse Sons, then where the Salvation Army is now located. He moved to his present location at the corner of Van Buren and Line street in 1941.

Mort hasn't missed a Rotary meeting for 12 years. He is a Mason and also is in the Commandery.

He and the late Mrs. Squires have two sons: Dr. O. P. M. Squires, a Chicago optometrist, and Jack Squires, associated with Koerber's Jewelry Store, Fort Wayne.

Something Vaguely Familiar In Occasional Hints From Official Family On Ike's Plans

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Crrespondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — There is something vaguely familiar, like a half-remembered tune, in these occasional hints from close inside the Eisenhower official family that the President does not hanker for another term.

Insiders will tell you that it sometimes is drudgery for Mr. Eisenhower to flash that sunny smile upon the assembled citizenry. "Whew!" he'll exclaim as he settles back in the privacy of his airplane or automobile after a round of smiles and handshakes with the political customers.

Inside Report Reluctance

The insiders leak those hints that Mr. Eisenhower is really reluctant, doesn't want to be president again, would like to finish up his one term in good style and retire to the quiet life on his Gettysburg farm.

Maybe so, but a lot of old timers around town will bet now that Mr. Eisenhower is a second term candidate when the time comes. The Republican state chairmen who have been attending campaign school here and who will breakfast Saturday with the President will not be able to squeeze an answer from him. The announcement timetable has been set.

It was set half for laughs and half seriously last spring in a news conference when Mr. Eisenhower told a questioner he will answer up on the subject of his political plans one year hence. That would put the announcement day in early March, 1956. It is definite now that it will be no later and might come a bit sooner.

California's Primary Law

That is because California's primary law has been changed in such a way that the President scarcely would dare delay his announcement beyond March 15 or thereabouts. To do so would make it impossible to get his name on the California presidential primary ballot. If he were not on as an avowed candidate there would be a two or three-way contest for control of California's fat nominating convention delegation. It would be a mean and bruising contest, probably involving Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland.

Such a contest would rend the Republican organization in what has become the nation's second most populous state. Party leaders do not want that to happen, nor does Mr. Eisenhower. He will say yes or no in good time to prevent a California battle royal

It is an odds on bet that the answer will be yes, despite the inside leaks that Mr. Eisenhower is reluctant.

Fugitive Captured When He Tries To Make A New Start

PERU, Ind. (UP)An "extremely dangerous" fugitive from a Michigan hospital for the criminally insane was captured Thursday when he tried to "make a new start' in Indiana.

State police arrested Arthur B. Robertoy, 34, Washington, Mich., at his aunt's home in nearby Bunker Hill. He did not resist.

Robertoy, the onject of a Michigan manhunt since his escape from the Iona, Mich., institution last Friday, telephoned the hospital Thursday.

Authorities said he asked that his clothing and social security card be sent to his aunt's home because, he explained, he planned to get a job and "make a new start."

Michigan authorities promptly notified local police who made the arrest.

7 More Greenlease Bills Discovered

CHICAGO (UP) — Seven more bills from the $307,720 missing Greenlease ransom money have been discovered in the Federal Reserve Bank here, the FBI reported Thursday night.

The discoveries brought the amount of $20 greenlease bills found at the bank in the last week to 15. Seven others have turned up elsewhere in the country for a total of 22 or $440.

The bills reached the Chicago bank in the regular course of business from 1,000 members banks in northern Illinois, northern Indiana, southern Wisconsin and Iowa.

Their discovery here has led FBI agents to believe that someone is finally unloading the missing blood money in the Midwest.

Backstairs At The Summer White House

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DENVER (UP) — Backstairs at the Summer White House.

President Eisenhower's habit of having important business-as-usual conferences on holidays can sometimes lead to hectic moments for the government big-wigs here for the business.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon found that out early Labor Day morning.

So did the Brown Palace Hotel where the vice president was staying prior to an 8 a.m. appointment with the Chief Executive at Lowry Air Force Base several miles away.

At 7:20 a.m. on the holiday morning, the limousine provided for Nixon was waiting outside and ready to go.

But the town was quiet as a tomb. So was the hotel. Everything it seemed, was shut down, including the hotel valet shop.

That wouldn't have mattered normally, but the vice president wanted his grey suit pressed before his White House conference.

And while the minutes ticked by, a white-haired bellhop frantically telephoned all over town trying to find an ll ni gh rptessitonsp g find an all night pressing spot open at dawn on Labor Day.

He must have found one, for Nixon arrived on the dot in a neatly pressed suit.

Mr. Eisenhower was so delighted with one picture of himself fishing with grandson, David, 7, at Fraser Colo., that he asked the Air Force for several copies.

The shot was made by an Air Force photographer from Lowry Air Force Base, the Summer White House headquarters. It shows the Chief Executive bending over his grandson, instructing him how to grasp a casting rod.

Presidential press rooms, both at the White House in Washington and assorted temporary locations, have echoed to some strange sounds over the years.

But the Summer headquarters of Mr. Eisenhower at Lowry resounded to something new the other day. It was old-fashioned hymn singing — in the press room.

Soon it became a full-voiced hymn fest that echoed down the halls and had astonished airmen hanging from the windows in nearby buildings.

An out-of-the-way church in faraway Colombia provided the design idea for the limed oak pulpit which the President and Mrs. Eisenhower's family have given the Corona Presbyterian Church here. The gift will be dedicated Monday night at special services.

Corona's current minister, the Rev. Robert S. Lutz, spotted the unqiue pulpit design while traveling in Colombia.

A Clashing Wall Will Be The Subject Of TV Conversation

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—A clashing wall soon will be the conversation topic among television viwers that the plunging neckline was in early TV days, or BCTV (before color television), one decorator speculates.

Television already gets credit for various at-home innovations, such as TV pants, also called toreador pants, frozen TV dinners and revolving chairs.

But we haven't seen anything yet, Gregg Juarez warned, compared with the bright ideas color TV will put in our heads.

Just say, for instance, you'd been glancing more often at the tan living room walls and speculating how a wedgewood blue paint job would look. Suddenly you turned on your color TV set. The announcer was showing you a tan wall and saying, "Watch while we change the whole mood of the room."

Painter Begins Stroking

The painter would begin stroking wedgewood blue on the tan walls as you watched, and if it happened to be a do-it-yourself type show, the painter could well be a fragile model imitating a housewife just like you.

"It seems so much simpler when you watch someone else actually doing it," Juarez said.

Or you might be watching a comic cavort in front of a pale green backdrop. Suddenly you rushed to get a sample of the new drapes and held the cloth next to the TV screen. "Perfect," you murmured, noting the way green brought out the leaf in the floral pattern.

"Women are more concerned about color than any other single decorating problem anyway," Juarez said. "They already have found out that they can make a bigger change for less money by repainting the walls than any other way."

Former TV Actor

The former movie bit player and TV actor who discovered he was making far more money from his hobby of decorating successful stars' homes than from acting, begins his own half hour weekly TV show over a local station (WABD) next week, strictly on black and white for the time being.

He will "decor-analyze" women on the show, then show solutions to their particular decorating problems.

That analysis was a Jaurez invention, but up till now it has been a private matter between decorator and client. Juarez or one of his assistants would visit a client, and for a $100 fee would ask her 55 questions about her likes, dislikes, habits and friends. Then they would recommend colors, fabrics, etc., without actually doing the selecting as a decorator on a regular commission would do.

Prankster

MONTREAL (UP)—An employe of the Montreal General Hospital had to climb the 225-foot aircraft beacon tower atop the hospital's roof Thursday to remove the handiwork of a prankster.

The prankster, "probably a medical student," planted a skull and crossbones flag atop the tower, a hospital official said.

Young Harvard Scientist Works As Ringmaster

By JAMES ULLMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (UP)—James Nygren, one of the young Harvard scientists who worked on the Manhattan project which spawned the atom bomb, works as a ringmaster today.

His "animals" are tractors trucks and huge earth movers, put through their paces with pretty bare-legged dancing girls.

Nygren, wearing the traditional white breeches and bright red coat, is ringmaster of the "More Power to You" grandstand show at the General Motors Powerama exhibition on Chicago's lake front. His cast includes elephants, aerialists, clowns, and dancers, as well as an array of heavy diesel equipment.

He steps nimbly between eight big diesel tractors as drivers put the lumbering vehicles through a "barn dance" to the accompaniment of country music.

Fast on His Feet

"I guess it pleases the ham in me, to strut about like a ringmaster before 7,000 people four times a day," Nygren admits with a grin.

"You have to be on your toes, because that heavy equipment can move pretty fast. But I've had lots of experience as a dancer and I guess that helps."

Despite his intensive early preparation for a career in science, Nygren, a trim, blonde man in his early 30s, is no newcomer to show business.

He appeared with the ballet company of the Metropolitan Opera in New York and toured with the original Ballet Russe company. He performed in Broadway shows, and as a dancer and choreographer has been associated with several television shows, including "Stop the Music," the Ken Murray Show "Inside U.S.A." and the Paul Jerry Mahoney show.

From Science to Ballet

Nygren moved from the scientific world to the show business world shortly after World War II.

He grew up and went to high school in Milaca, Minn., and then won one of Harvard's national scholarships. He majored in and earned a bachelor's degree at the age of 20.

He was working on his master's degree when he joined Prof. Harold Urey's "Manhattan Project" unit at Columbia University. He stayed with the project during the war, and for a time was assigned to Oak Ridge, Tenn.

As the war neared an end, Nygren decided to study dancing. He progressed so well that a friend suggested he try out with the Corps de Ballet at the Metropolitan Opera. Nygren's audition ended with an offer of a job.

Looks Like Brooklyn Dodgers Will Get Wish-To Meet Either Indians Or Yankees In Series

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Now that they've sipped champagne, the triumphant Brooklyn Dodgers would like a taste of that long green, and it looks like they're going to get their $$$$$ wish to meet either the Indians or Yankees in the World Series.

Both the Indians and Yankees are doing their darndest to accommodate the Dodgers, who were looking at the world through a bright, bubbly haze today after breaking their own record for the earliest pennant clinching in National League history.

The Indians clung to their half game lead in the American League by beating the Orioles, 5-3, in 10 innings Thursday while the second-place Yankees stayed right on the Tribe's tail by trampling the Athletics, 13-0.

Dodger outfielder Duke Snider, speaking for the rest of his teammates after Friday's wrap-up 10-2 victory over the Braves, said, "We don't care whether its the Yankees or the Indians, but we'd like it to be either one of 'em because they both have big parks and that means more money."

Other Contenders Lose

The American League's two other contenders, Chicago and Boston, both blew 4-1 leads Thursday as the White Sox bowed to Washington, 5-4, and the Red Sox lost to the Tigers by the same score.

Virgil Trucks of the White Sox had a three-run lead over the Senators until Mickey Vernon homered with one on in the sixth and Washington went on to add the deciding two runs in the seventh. The defeat dropped the White Sox 2½ games off the pace.

The Red Sox fell four games back when the Tigers rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to win.

Four-Run Burst

The Dodgers routed Bob Buhl with a four-run burst in the opening frame and tnen added another four-run cluster in the fifth inning with the help of Jackie Robinson's two-run homer. The Dodgers thus broke their own record for the earliest National League clinching, having set the previous mark when they wrapped up the 1953 flag on Sept. 12.

Despite two home runs by Wally Post, the Phillies topped the Redlegs, 6-4, with the aid of a fine relief job by Bob Miller, who was credited with the victory. Post became the first right-handed Cincinnati batter ever to hit more than 35 homers in one season when he slammed his 36th with the bases empty in the third and his 37th with one on in the seventh.

Billy Gardner's homer off loser Harvey Haddix highlighted a five-run rally in the sixth inning that gave the Giants a 6-2 victory over the Cardinals. Southpaw John (Windy) McCall gave up seven hits including a homer by Alex Grammas, in notching his sixth triumph.

The Cubs and Pirates were idle.

Big Stars Grumble About Fast Greens, Tough Pin Placements

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (UP)—"The "big name" stars were grumbling about the fast greens and the tough pin placements today as they set out to catch a pair of dark-horse first-round leaders in the $50,000 Cavalcade of Golf Tournament.

Seldom victorious Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Walker Inman, an assistant pro from Augusta, Ga., surprised the favorites by shooting two-under-par 68s Friday over the Shackamaxon Country Club course.

By contrast PGA champion Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., struggled around in a nine-over-par 79 and found himself in danger of being ousted from the tourney when the field is cut after today's round.

Furgol and Inman enjoyed a two stroke lead over three players tied for third place at even par 70 — Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., Ted Kroll of Bethesda, Md., and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

Six players were tied at 71, including tourney favorite Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and Masters champion Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn. Deadlocked with them were Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Bob Crowley of West Caldwell N.J.

Tied at 72 were Gardner Dickinson Jr. of Panama City, Fla., Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn. and Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N.Y.

Tied at 73 were U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, Gerry Kesselring of Toronto, Ont., Donald Whitt of Alameda Calif., George Bayer of Cincinnati, Ohio, Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y., and Skee Riegel of Ithan Pa.

Wilt Chamberlain To Play For Kansas

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP)—Seven-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the nation's most widely-sought high school basketball player of last year, starts playing freshman ball for Kansas this year but rival Coach Sparky Stalcup of Missouri won't start worrying until he plays varsity next season.

"My aspirin budget for this year has been established and can't be increased,' explained Stalcup.

4 Seniors To Start For Jefferson Center In Opening Ball Game

Four seniors were listed as probable starters as the Jefferson Tigers took the field Friday afternoon in one of two games opening the 1955 baseball season at Whitley County high schools.

The Tigers played host to Larwill, while in the other game, Coesse went against Churubusco on the latter's home field.

Jefferson Center seniors are Max Aker, pitcher; James Tomlinson first baseman; David Phillips, second baseman and Bob Butcher, outfielder. Other boys on the squad are juniors Jerry Bolinger, catcher; Steve Dygert, shortstop; and Paul Rupert, out-fielder; sophomores Frank Hinen, third baseman; and outfielders Dean Phillips· Richard Shaffmaster, and Francis Clark; and freshmen Steve Hollenbaugh, pitcher; and Ronnie Fairchild, out fielder.

The Tigers are rebuilding, having lost seven lettermen by graduation. They are Ed Smith, Harold Fairchild, Clarence Hinen, Tom Hinen, John Vogely, Don Beard and John Morris.

Next Tuesday's schedule will have only one game; South Whitley will play host to Coesse.

The Tigers have a new coach in David "Tony" Newell, who replaces Roger Zwayer. Newell, who will also coach basketball, is a graduate of Rochester high school and Manchester College, where he played football and track.

Jefferson Center has no game scheduled next Tuesday, but they will visit Churubusco next Friday. South Whitley will play host to Coesse Tuesday and will visit Larwill next Friday.

Evansville Lincoln Turns In First Big Football Surprise

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —The honor of turning in the first major surprise of the young Indiana high school football campaign belonged to Evansville Lincoln today, 6-0 conqueror of city foe Memorial.

Lincoln's Lions, three-touchdown underdogs and never before victorious over their crosstown rivals, pulled off the upset with an 83-yard pass play from halfback Vic Maddox to end Henry Kelley with just 5:09 remaining in the game Thursday night.

Memorial, which blanked the Lions in last year's opener, 12-0, chalked up 10 first downs to 4 for Lincoln but its deepest drive fizzled out on the 10-yard stripe.

Upstate, meanwhile, East Chicago Roosevelt's powerhouse hammered West NIHSC foe Hammond Tech into submission, 47-13, and Gary Tolleston opened with a 31-7 margin over city foe Wirt. Neither game was a contest.

Roosevelt, perennially one of the best outfits in the Calumet, grabbed two Tech fumbles in mid-air for touchdowns. Halfback Richard Melleman scored twice.

Sports Briefs

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Milwaukee baseball fans did not live up to their title of "the finest fans in the world" at Brooklyn's pennant clincher.

Only 18,335 fans showed up for the afternoon game, proving perhaps that Milwaukee fans are no different from others—there are no raves if it isn't the Braves.

MILWAUKEE (UPP)—It was a fitting, if unintentional tribute, to the beer capital of the world that the Brooklyn Dodgers celebrated their pennant victory with cheese and beer in the dressing room.

The champagne came later in a downtown restaurant.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (UP)— An Army major from Chattanooga Tenn., today was the 1955 national service pistol champion, the first marksman since 1921 to repeat as a titleholder in matches here.

Maj. Ben. C. Curtis, an engineer who first won the championship in 1952, shattered a 34-year-old tradition by firing a record-breaking 290 out of a possible 300.

NEW YORK (UP)—Richie Ashburn of the Phillies moved four percentage points ahead of Roy Campanella of the Dodgers today in their struggle for the National League batting championship.

Ashburn collected three singles in four at-bats Thursday in the Phillies' 6-4 victory over Cincinnati to boost his average from .332 to .335. Campanella had no times at-bat in the Dodgers' pennant-clinching 10-2 victory over Milwaukee, being forced to leave the game when hit by a pitch in the first inning, and his average remained at .331.

Rookie Pitcher Spooner Is Toast Of Brooklyn Dodgers

By FRED PARKER
United Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — A rookie pitcher with a flair for strikeouts, Karl Spooner, was the toast of the Brooklyn Dodgers today and a probable World Series pitcher with the earliest National League pennant in history safely tucked away.

"I had the best stuff since I broke in with 15 strikeouts," Spooner said after striking out the first four men he faced and five others while holding the Milwaukee Braves hitless five and one-third innings Friday for the pennant clincher.

The Sept. 8, 10-2 victory enabled the Dodgers to break their own Sept. 12, 1953 record for early pennants. Ironically, the victims were the same club and the same pitcher they beat for the previous record — the Milwaukee Braves and Bob Buhl.

The 24-year-old Spooner relieved after starter Roger Craig put two men on with singles.

"I couldn't say for sure who my World Series pitchers will be." Brooklyn Manager Walt "Smokey" Alston said. "Don Newcombe for sure, and Carl Erskine, Billy Loes and Spooner if they hold up the way they have been the last three days."

"I'll have to look at Erskine, Loes and Spooner a few more times before the end of the month to be sure," Alston said. "Then I'll know for sure. But right now they look like a good bet along with Newcombe."

Alston would make no series predictions nor would Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley. "Our course has been clear to aim for the World Championship," O'Malley said at the Dodgers celebration party Thursday night. "We may not make it, but well give somebody a helluva scare."

Such restraint is understandable for the president of a club which has never won a World Series in eight appearances since the turn of the century. It was obvious, however, he had the highest hopes of all time.

Moore Better Start Looking Over Shoulder

GROSSINGER, N.Y. UP) — Challenger Archie Moore better start looking over his shoudler, because the manager of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano admits he has "spies" in Moore's training camp.

Manager Al Weill tipped his hand Thursday when he denounced a "demand" he said Moore will make to have eight-ounce gloves used in their Sept. 20 championship bout instead of the usual six-ouncers. How did Weill know Moore was going to make this demand?

"The Army ain't the only outfit with a counter-intelligence department," said Weill darkly. "I know everything Moore is going to do.'

Four Stake Races Ends Harness Racing At State Fair Today

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Four stake races valued at $3,000 each brought harness racing to a close at the Indiana State Fair today.

The Grand Circuit's final major events saw Canny Scot capture the $14,077 Hoosier Futurity for two-year-old pacers Thursday, while Newport Del raced to victory in the $13,367 Hoosier Futurity for two-year-old trotters.

Canny Scot of the famous Castleton Farms, Lexington, Ky., and driven by Frank Ervin, led all the way in a three-horse race-off to win in the slow time of 2:09, after a 2:05 1-5 clocking in the first heat.

Newport Del, with Del Cameron in the sulky, turned in the best time—2:01 1-5 in the preliminaries—and grabbed the deciding heat from Gratis Hanover in 2:06 2-5. The winner is owned by Newport Stock Farms, South Plainfield, N.J.

Cami Colby, owned by Howard Hall, Watertown, N.Y., won the 23-class pace in straight heats with a best time of 2:01 2-5. Ralph Baldwin was up.

The 23-class trot went to Vicki Wayne, owned and handled by Harrie Beattie, Sheridan, Ind., also in straight heats. His best time was 2:02 3-5. Both races carried purses of $3,000.

Andrade - Zulueta 10-Rounder Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Lightweight contenders Cisco Andrade and Orlando Zulueta, hoping for a winter shot at the title, will fight tonight in a TV-radio 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Boxer-punch Andrade of Compton, Calif., is favored at 8-5 over the speedy Cuban left-jab specialist, although Andrade is making his garden debut and is rated four notches below fifth-ranking Zulueta.

His harder punch, coupled with his boxing skill, apparently made the 25-year-old "Cisco Kid" the favorite. He knocked out 14 of his 32 opponents. Zulueta, 27, has had nearly three times Cisco's experience, but he stopped only five of his 86 targets.

Both are unusually rugged. Neither was ever kayoed.

National Open Polo Championships Set For Final Round

HINSDALE, Ill. (UP)—The defending champion CCC team of Detroit will clash with the Brandywine team of Kennett Square, Pa., in the final round of the National Open Polo Championships on Sunday at Oak Brook Polo Club.

CCC defeated Milwaukee, 10-4, as Don Beveridge scored four goals. Brandywine, led by Dr. Raworth Williams of Dallas, Tex., advanced with a 13-7 victory over Oak Brook Club.

Hal March Pops The Big Question

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The channel swim.

Hal March, emcee of "The $64,000 Question," has popped the big question. March is mum on the name of the gal — all he'll say is that she's not an actress. Sammy Davis Jr. is breaking up with Will Mastin Trio to work exclusively as a single. Sammy will be managed by Mastin, his uncle.

Realism was carried a little too far on NBC-TV's "Big Town" last week when the script called for an actor to attack Mark Stevens with a broken bottle. The result—Stevens wound up with a gashed hand which required several stitches.

Morgan Pulls Out

Henry Morgan has pulled out of the upcoming broadway show "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" He's being replaced by Martin Gabel, husband of Arlene Francis.

During the pre-broadcast run-through of "Person To Person" last week, Ed Murrow was finding it a little difficult to get any talk out of Ricky, the young son of Dick Powell and June Alyson. So, Murrow said: "What would you do, Ricky, if I told you I had Davey Crockett right here in the studio?" To which Ricky replied: "If you really do, I'd rather talk to him."

Bert Parks, a boating enthusiast says admiringly: "Dennis James has the craziest boat I've ever seen in my life — a 400 horse-power motor in a 26-foot hull. The darn thing is gonna come apart right in his hands one of these days."

Dates With Girls

Leslie Morgan, who plays "Junior" on NBC-TV's "Life Of Riley," grew so much this summer that he's now as tall as his make-believe pop, William Bendix. As a result, the script writers have decided that it's about time Junior started going out with girls.

Joyce Randolph, who plays Art Carney's wife on the Jackie Gleason Show, is altar-bound. Sid Lumet, who is directing Sylvia Sidney for NBC-TV's "Star Stage" premiere this Sept. 9, once played the part of Miss Sidney's son in the movie, "One-Third Of A Nation."

Businessman Says American Women Know What They Want

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—An impeccably-tailored businessman leaned across his gleaming executive desk and snapped that he was sick and tired of people telling American women what they should want.

"You are too smart to be led around by the nose," Frederic Rahr declared defiantly.

"I'm fed up with hearing that American women don't know what they want," Rahr continued. "I've never said this to anybody before but it is time somebody spoke up."

Rahr is best known as a color consultant. His organization samples the color preferences of women so manufacturers will know, for instance, whether more women would like to own pink refrigerators than ice blue refrigerators.

Customer Preference Clinics

But he also conducts something called customer preference clinics in stores across the nation, and in these gathers the likes and dislikes of some 100,000 women annually on all kinds of purchases, including clothing.

Out of all this Rahr has gained far more than the specific information he set out to discover.

"A healthy respect for women," he said in ringing, respectful tones. "If you give her a fair chance to tell you what she wants, a woman will give you a straight answer.

"If there is anything wrong with her taste, it is only because it has been tampered with too much by so-called experts who constantly try to reform her.

"She will not make a sudden change in the clothes she wears or the decoration of her house because she has learned too much about what is becoming and attractive.

Sort Fashions Out

"Fashion changes are a provocative thing to women. They notice but then they sort out. A woman now reacts to a fashion change only as fast as she can afford to change her wardrobe and only insofar as she finds the fashion will fit her and be becoming.

"American women would not accept the flat-chested look from Paris a year ago. I knew they wouldn't, because we asked them and they told us."

Rahr asked suddenly, "Which dress in your wardrobe would you like to get rid of first?" We mentioned an especially dismal frock.

"Either that is a dress you didn't like right after you got it home from the store, but kept anyway, or it is a dress you have had a long time and are sick to death of it, right," Rahr said.

"Then you won't buy another dress that resembles that one," he continued. "We should satisfy women's taste — not try to remake them before they are satisfied."

Moore Says Fighter Should Use Style That Suits Him Best

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (UP) — Archie Moore was asked Thursday if he'll fight an offensive or defensive battle against Rocky Marciano in their heavyweight title bout, Sept. 20.

Moore said, "During most of my career I was a defensive boxer. I wasn't spectacular. I went along winning, but I didn't attract much attention. I was like a jalopy that got you there without causing much comment. But when television came along, I became a hustling fighter to become popular

"Now, it's my opinion that a fighter should use the style that suits him best in the most important fight of his life."

Moscow Stadium Will Seat 20,000

PARIS (UP)—The 1958 World Gymnastic Championships were awarded to Russia Thursday by vote of the Congress of the International Gymnastics Assn. when Russia announced that the new Moscow Stadium to be completed in 1958 will include a gymnastics room that will seat 20,000 fans. Sweden originally had been scheduled to hold the '58 contests, but said it was unable to organize the competition.

Polio Peak Reached Two Weeks Ago Says Public Health Service

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S. Public Health Service said today it appears that the peak of the polio season for the nation as a whole was reached two weeks ago.

The service said that in the week ending Sept. 3 there were 2,033 new cases reported, exclusiv of Montana and Nebraska from which no reports were received.

It said that in the week ended Aug. 27 there were 2,289 new cases (2,275 xclusive of Montana and Nebraska).

"This would appear to indicate that the peak of incidence for the country as a whole was reached in the week ended Aug. 27,' the service reported.

A decrease in the number of new cases was reported in all geographic divisions except the mountain, the service said, However, in Ohio and Wisconsin, definite increases occurred, the service added.

A total of 16182 cases have been reported this year, as compared with 19,205 last year. In the "disease year" which began April 1 there have been 15,119 cases reported as compared to 17,652 last year.

The service said that 186 paralytic cases of polio have been reported among persons who received the Salk vaccine.

SEE YOUR ARCADIAN 12-12-12 SUPPLIER!

If wheat could talk it would tell you how well it likes ARCADIAN 12-12-12, the modern, balanced, complete, granular fertilizer. Actually, wheat, barley and other small grains tell you this story without words, if you watch them grow strong and sturdy, with extra stalks loaded with plump grain – when you use plenty of ARCADIAN 12-12-12.

For top grain yields, drill in ARCADIAN 12-12-12 with the seed at planting. Use 400 to 600 pounds per acre now, save the chore of top-dressing, and still feed your grain all the plant food it needs to turn out big, profitable yields. Free-flowing ARCADIAN 12-12-12 dissolves quickly in the soil, gives grain a fast start that helps it come through the winter strong for an early-ripening, big crop next year. Get ARCADIAN 12-12-12 now – use it now.

Around The Clock: Around The World!

By UNITED PRESS

ROME (UP) — The dean of American diplomatic historians today accused Russia of distorting its official accounts of historic events leading up to World War II.

Prof. William L. Langer, 59, of Harvard University, said a report on the origins of the last war submitted by the Russians to the current congress of historical science here was "complete poppycock."

He said he challenged Soviet delegate A. B. Nikonov when the Russian finished delivering a paper on "The Origins Of The Second World War" two days ago.

STERLING, Ill., (UP) — America's No. 1 circus fan died here Thursday night.

Fred A. Schmoeger, 77, died after a long illness. He was taken by his grandmother to Ringling Brothers' first wagon show when it visited Sterling in 1884. He never missed a Ringling circus after that and attended the circus at Beloit, Wis., last Aug. 1 for his 71st consecutive year.

PORTSMOUTH, England (UP)—Twenty-six British Sea Scouts "mutinied" and walked off their training ship because of too many girls and not enough work, it was disclosed today.

The boys went aboard the old naval full-rigger "Foundryoyant" last Saturday for a week of seamanship training.

A group of girl Sea Rangers was sleeping on the same deck, behind a canvas screen, and running about the top deck in their pajamas, the scouts complained.

The boys walked off the Foundroyant Tuesday and rowed to nearby Portsmouth where they are staying in a Salvation Army hotel.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (UP)—Police today hunted for a mystery man who entered a hospital room and severely beat a woman as she lay in bed recuperating from an operation.

A nurse told police she awoke from a nap to see the man hitting Mrs. Marian Cours, 34, Thursday. Mrs. Cours suffered a fractured jaw and contusions, but was reported in "satisfactory" condition.

LONDON (UP)—A wide area of Britain's West Country was shaken Thursday by an earth tremor which spread through the counties of Wilshire, Dorset and Somerset. The London Observatory recorded a faint rumbling.

STOCKHOLM (UP)—Prime Minister Tage Erlander will pay an "unofficial" visit to the Soviet Union early next year at the invitation of the Soviet government, the foreign office announced Thursday night.

Miss America Contest Odds Still Are Set At 49 - 1

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—The Miss America contest, was four-square today and the odds were about where they started—49 to 1.

This is a mixed up pageant.

First night we have a wonderful soprano from Alabama, Pat Huddleston. She knocked over the house with something from Verdi. That gave her the talent section for the night.

Then there was Barbara Viera, Miss Hawaii, the same night. She won in a swimming suit, which was easy for her because she bulges in the right places—bust of 36, hips to match and 24 inches around the middle.

Then Thursday night, along comes Miss Florida in the second night of talent—Sandra Wirth, who twirls a mean baton. Not only that but she is a little dangerous with it. She doesn't mess with the garden variety of batons. She twirls with the sticks on fire.

Another Perfect Figure

In the swim suit section was Ann Campbell, Miss Oklahoma. and there we were again—a perfect figure, weight 117, bust 36 inches, hips the same and a 24 waist. Not only that, but shoe size 7 and glove 6½. Ann is a brownette.

So there you are. It looks like anybody could win. The competition is wide open and a lot of things could happen and certainly a lot of tears will drip before the critical 11 judges pick a winner on Saturday night.

Tonight we have the kids competing thusly: In evening gown, the Misses Alabama, California, Colo- New Jersey New York, Ohio Oklahoma Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

In the all-important talent we have the Misses Arkansas, Arizona, Hawaii, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana sota Missouri, Montana, Nebraska New Hampshire, South Dakota, Tennessee and Utah.

Pot of Gold for Winner

In swim suit there will be the Misses Canada, Chicago, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida Illinois Indiana Kansas, Mississippi, Nevada North Carolina North Dakota, Oregon, South Carolina and Texas.

The run for the big money is something to look up to. It is said and the tax people can prove it, that Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, the retiring queen, picked up at least $70,000 in cash from television alone—and not too much of it carry home.

In addition she, and every winner, gets a $5,000 scholarship. The other nine finalists also get a scholarship. Grading down from the top.

Trouble is, there is only room for one at the top.

Adenauer

"The thought is unbearable that more than 10 years after the end of hostilities that men...are kept away from their families, their homes and their normal peaceful work.

"You should not consider it a condition when I say: It is unthinkable to establish 'normal' relations between our nations as long as this problem remains unsolved. This is no 'condition.' It is the normalization itself I am speaking of."

Big Four Duty

He then said the reunification of Germany is – duty of the Big Four powers," adding "here also I must repeat: I propose no 'conditions'.'

The 79-year-old West German statesman also indicated he did not expect the current negotiations in Spiridonovka Palace in the Kremlin to produce final agreement on the establishment of diplomatic relations.

Bulganin welcomed the Germans to the conference table and called for the rapid establishment of West German and Soviet embassies in the capitals of Bonn and Moscow.

He also proposed large-scale exchanges of West German and Soviet delegations in the fields of industry, agriculture, trade the cultures and sciences as well as sports and ordinary tourists.

Bulganin recalled the exchange of notes in which the Soviet Union invited Adenauer to Moscow and the chancellor accepted.

"The soviet government proceeded from the assumption that the establishment of normal relations between our two countries corresponds to the interests of both the Soviet Union and the German federal republic," Bulganin said.

"Such normalization of relations is in agreement with the task of strengthening peace in Europe and further reducing tension in international relations, in which both our countries cannot help being vitally interested."

The Soviet premier told Adenauer that the Soviet people bore no ill will towards the Germans over World War II.

The initial two-hour meeting was the first time non-Communist German statesmen have made an official visit to Moscow since German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop called on the late Premier Josef Stalin in August, 1939.

Bulganin called for "fruitful results" of the current negotiations and the "normalization of relations."

Adenauer said the will of the German people is for peaceful solution of international problems.

He stressed that the Paris agreements providing for the rearming of a free Germany within the Western defense alliance are completely defensive by nature.

The Soviet Union has insisted that West Germany withdraw from NATO and other Western alliances before Germany can be reunited.

Adenauer said it was the task of the Big Four powers—The United States, Britain, France and Russia—to create the conditions that would end the split of Germany into eastern and western states.

Soviet editorials were believed to reflect official Soviet concern with numerous unofficial expressions of West German reluctance to agree to the simple establishment of diplomatic relations.

The latest Soviet declaration came in a front page editorial in Izvestia, the official Soviet government newspaper. A similar declaration was carried Thursday in Pravda, the official Communist Party newspaper.

"It is self understood that establishment of such relations should not be made dependent upon any prerequisites on the part of one or the other side," Izvestia said. "This view is held by the Soviet Union and is shared by all in West Germany who base themselves on realistic acts."

Pravda served notice the Soviet would be all out for "concrete divisions" on establishment of full diplomatic, cultural and economic relations between the two nations.

It indicated Russia did not want to discuss the broad question of reunification at all during Adenauer's visit.

Adenauer and his 105-man delegation were specifically invited by the Soviet last June 7 to discuss establishment of diplomatic, cultural and economic relations.

But the granite-faced chancellor said at Bonn before he took off that two other subjects were uppermost in his mind: return of several hundred thousand Germans still held in Communist lands, and reunification of the divided country.

Terry Clapp, Gene Stoffel Win Chamber Golf Tournament

Terry Clapp and Gene Stoffel were the winners in the open golf tourney sponsored by the Columbia City Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon at the Crooked Lake Course. Clapp with a net score of 64 was the handicap winner while Stoffel shot a 75 to become the low gross winner. Clapp's gross score was 89, but he received a handicap of 24.

Each of the two winners received a cash prize of $5. All other of the 27 total entries received either a smaller cash prize or received golf balls as prizes.

Other handicap winners, in the order in which they finished in the first ten were Gordon Washington, net 65, gross 83; Clarence Feist, net 67, gross 76; Dr. Lon Sorey, net 68, gross 83; Paul Morsches, net 69, gross 90; Roy Duncan, net 71, gross 83; Paul White, net 72, gross 111 and Bob Breshahan, net 72, gross 84; Fred Horne, net 73, gross 94 and Shinzo Ohki, net 74, gross 89.

Seeks Answer To "Why People Laugh At Bermuda Shorts?"

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Why do people laugh at Bermuda shorts?

To get the answer to that question, Charles Gruner of Pinckneyville, Ill., a Southern Illinois university graduate student, donned a pair and strolled across campus questioning everyone who smiled or laughed.

A graduate speech student, Mr. Gruner came up with the idea of the survey while doing research for a speech on the "Psychological Basis of Humor."

His bare knees brought forth a stream of comment ranging from a passing truck driver's whistle and "How about a date?" to "Your knees seemed to be smiling at me, so I just smiled back."

Several students thought the shorts looked cool, but that the accompanying knee length stockings defeated that purpose. One girl said, however, "I think they're cute and I'm getting used to them."

Mr. Gruner came to the conclusion that the chief reason people laughed is "because they think they would be laughed at if they were in my place."

Following the survey, Mr. Gruner used the material in his first attempt as a paid after dinner speaker. Speaking to a group of junior bank executives who are attending a short course at Southern, he urged them to throw off thier inhibitions and long trousers, and switch to shorts.

The Publishers' Auxiliary reported "that the next morning eight bankers showed up for the class in shorts."

United Nations Disarmament Talks Are Headed For Deadlock

Mrs. Richard Stalhut holds the rosette blue ribbon awarded to the 30 Club for the sweepstakes planting in the commercial division.

She said this was the second year petunias had been used in the planters. More petunias are to be found around the parking lot at the rear of the restaurant.

Grandson Douglas Schrader, 4, picks a pink petunia for rosette blue ribbon winner Mrs. Wilbert Worrick. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Schrader.

Mrs. Worrick's favorite petunia planting this summer had been along the fence in the background. Blue delphinium and white lilies had been used along the back, with the pink petunias at the front.

Army And Marines Join Battle Against Big Fires In California

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Thousands of fresh Army troops and U.S. Marines joined experts from 10 states today in their battle against rampaging fires in California. An arsonist was sought in one section.

Nine major fires still burned in the state after more than a week of conflagration. The three worst fires were in Klamath National Forest near Yreka, where the loss was placed at 4 million dollars; in Sequoia National Forest in the Sierra Nevada, with damages fixed at 3 million dollars, and in the Los Padres watershed east of Santa Barbara, where the loss was placed at 7 million dollars.

The arson incident was reported near Yreka in the far northern tip of the state where several major fires have been burning for days.

An infuriated ranger reported that a blaze on Scarface Mountain was "deliberately set." It was brought under control after burning only 22 acres.

"There is no doubt that the fire was set purposely,' the officer said. He added that at least seven other small fires, also believed to have been man-made, were reported in the same area during the past few weeks.

The Army began throwing troops into the fray when it was reported that many of the state's 10,000 emergency fire fighters were ready to drop from exhaustion after a week of furious activity.

Sixth Army Headquarters said 800 men of the 23rd Infantry Regiment of Korean War fame were dispatched from Fort Lewis, Wash., to the Yreka fires. Five hundred engineers from Beale Air Force Base were also sent to the area to replace an equal number of San Francisco Presidio soldiers who have been fighting fire since early this week.

Airplane Crashes Into Schoolyard, Kills Small Boy

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UP)—A light airplane crashed into a schoolyard southwest of here late Friday, killing the son of a minister who was watching the takeoff with his mother and sister.

Killed was Thomas Eugene Bouher, 6, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Homer Bouher, Bloomington. The minister was a passenger of Mac Manion, 33, Crawfordsville, owner and pilot of the old-model Aeronca Chief. Both escaped with bruises.

Authorities said the plane failed to gain altitude after taking off from a field at Sanders, about 8 miles southwest of here and crashed. The minister's 8-year-old daughter, Twyla, was hit by flying debris. She was, hospitalized in "fair" condition.

Beginning Band Pupils, Parents To Meet Tuesday

New band instruments will be on display in the high school band building Tuesday evening at 7:30 when parents and children meet to become better acquainted. Parents of pupils joining the new beginning band classes now being formed have been invited to the meeting by Bandmaster Robert Sharpe. All "band parents" are invited, states Mr. Sharpe.

An instructional talk regarding the use of the different instruments and the educational advantages of band work will be explained at this time. The method of obtaining a good instrument on a rental plan to further check the childs ability will be explained in detail.

Parents from the three townships, Thorncreek, Columbia, and Washington, who have children interested in starting band in the township schools, are also invited to this meeting. Bandmaster Sharpe will teach in these schools twice each week commencing October 4.

To furnish the best data on the probable success of a child in band, music aptitude tests were given to students in the 5th and 6th grades on Wednesday of this week. Those students who scored high on this test were so advised by a letter sent home to the parents.

Red Cross Flood Aid Drive Nets $177 In County

Community Chest Gives $173; 10 Million Dollars Collected In Nation

A total of $177 was contributed by county residents for the Red Cross Flood Disaster fund, according to Waldo Greider, chairman of the Whitley County Chapter. This amount represented slightly more than half of the assigned goal of $350, which was met by a contribution of $173 from the Community Chest.

In a telegram to Greider, Ellsworth Bunker, president of the National American Red Cross in Washington, D.C., said that more than 10 million dollars in contributions and pledged gifts was made in support of the campaign to aid residents of the flood-stricken areas in the eastern states. Bunker said that the amount was adequate in the flood relief operation of the Red. Cross.

"Chapter leadership in this effort was outstanding," the telegram continued, "and we are grateful for your support. Please take this opportunity to thank all those who contributed so willingly to this disaster fund and the chapter and county leadership which has made this — effort possible."

Greider in turn expressed his appreciation to all those who contributed and assister in collections for the county goal of the flood disaster fund.

The amounts contributed to the fund according to collection points are Columbia City $129, South Whitley $45, and Churubusco $3.

National Head Of Democrats Speaks Thursday

District Meeting At Kendallville

Paul M. Butler, South Bend chairman of the National Democratic Committee was the speaker at the Fourth District meeting at Kendallville, Thursday evening. All counties in the district were represented.

The dinner meeting at the Publix Cafe was attended by Whitley county democratic chairman Merl Plattner and Mrs. Plattner; vice chairman Mrs. Hugo Jacobsen and Mr. Jacobsen; and democratic candidate for city mayor, Garland Stickler and Mrs. Stickler.

Mr. Butler discussed prospects and issues for the coming 1956 election. He stated that "the National Democratic Committee is interested in the fall city elections but will not interfere in the campaigns."

"We hope the elections will be decided on local issues and that the best men will be named to office."

"The plight of the American farmer will be the most important single issue of the campaign," Mr. Butler declared. "No administration can claim that the country is enjoying unprecendented prosperity when the men and women on the farms are having their worst year since 1941," the South Bend attorney continued.

The national chairman reiterated his belief that President Eisenhower will not be a candidate for re-election next year, but "even if he is, a Democrat will be elected," he concluded.

Their property at 401 N. Walnut street was recently sold to Lester Barney.

Ray E. Mangan Dies Following A Heart Attack

Funeral Services Monday Afternoon

Ray E. Mangan

Raymond Earl Mangan, 61, died at 10 o'clock last night following a severe heart attack at his home on North Walnut street. He suffered the fatal heart attack while watching television.

Mr. Mangan was born September 28, 1894 at Belle Plain, Minnesota, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mangan. He grew up in the Minnesota community and while still a boy he helped his brother-in-law in the bakery. He became a baker and for several years worked in bakeries in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Montana.

He enlisted in the US Army at Shakopee, Minn. August 5, 1918 and was a private in Co. A, CWS, Lakehutrs Proving Grounds, Lakehurst, N. J. He was discharged Dec. 23, 1918 at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

In 1928 he came to Columbia City to work as a baker for the K. P. Jones Bakery. He later took over the John Emerich Bakery as manager until the bakery burned down. Mr. Mangan then opened his own bakery (known as Mangan's Pastry Shop) on North Main street.

In the year 1945 he retired due to ill health. Since then he has been engaged in the real estate business, having his office in his home at 348 North Walnut street.

On November 21, 1928, he was united in marriage to Hilda Magley and they have lived most of their married life in Columbia City.

He was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church, being a past trustee. He was also a member of American Legion Post 98.

He is survived by his wife Hilda; one son, Ronald, El Paso, Texas; one daughter, Mrs. Elmer Mohler, city; two brothers, Leo, Le Center Minnesota, and Waldo, Minneapolis, Minnesota; and one sister, Mrs. Mildred Bristol, also of Minnesota. One sister preceded him in death.

The body was taken to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home where friends may call after 7 o'clock this evening. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home at 2 p.m. Monday, the Rev. G. L. Kleespie, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will follow in the Greenhill cemetery. American Legion Post 98, Edwin Pugh, commander, will conduct military services at the grave.

Jackson Peabodys Are Uninjured In Cleveland Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Peabody, Shinneman Drive, were uninjured in a multiple auto-truck accident in Cleveland over the Labor Day weekend.

Mr. Peabody was driving the 1955 Lincoln owned by his father, Jack Peabody. Several cars were stopped on Lake Shore Drive at a traffic signal when a large semitrucks brakes failed. It sideswiped two cars coming down an incline, then plowed into the rear of the last car at the stop light.

The Peabody car was next in line, and it in turn telescoped into the car ahead. Altogether there were six cars involved in the accident.

No oen was injured seriously in the accident. The rear of the Peabody car was badly damaged, and they returned Wednesday to the city by train.

Warsaw Engineer Named To Succeed Gray On 2 Drainage Projects

Donald H. Lessig, Warsaw, has been approved by Judge Lowell Pefley of Whitley County circuit court as engineer of construction in two drainage projects. Lessig suceeds Asher Gray, Wabash engineer, who died July 28, 1955.

Lessig will supervise the construction according to the Lowell L. Grant petition for lake level drainage at Crooked Lake and also the drainage petitioned by Fred Ostermeyer.

Red China Agrees To Release 29 More Americans

Reliable Sources Make Report Today

BENEVA, Switzerland (UP) — Reliable sources reported today the Chinese Communists have agreed to release the 29 Americans still held in Red China.

The sources reported the agreement was reached in a meeting here betwen U.S. Ambassador to Czechoslovakia U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Ambassador to Poland Wang Ping-nan.

One source said the Chinese Reds agreed to release 3 of the 29 Americans "in a day or two, "7 others "very shortly thereafter" and the remaining 19 "as expeditiously as possible."

The sources said the two envoys also agreed on a "formula" for repatriation of Chinese students in America who wish to return to their homeland. They said the repatriations would be handled through two neutral mediators — reportedly Britain and India.

A U.S. spokesman said only there will be a "substantial announcement" at 5 p.m. today (10 a.m. CST).

Johnson and Wang met for 2 hours and 15 minutes today in another session of the long U.S.-Chinese Communist Geneva negotiations, now in their seventh week.

The United States has been demanding the release of all 41 American citizens still known to be held by the Chinese Reds.

At last Tuesday's negotiating session, Red China promised to free 12 of the Americans. Of the immediately, Wang said.

Two other Americans, including a Catholic bishop, were promised their freedom if they applied for exit visas. Wang said a 12th American could leave within a few months after he cleared up his business affairs.

Soviet Accuses West Trying To Sabotage Talks

Charge Contained In Broadcast By Soviet News Agency

By BRUCE W. MUNN

United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)— The United Nations talks on disarmament appeared today to be heading for a deadlock, and the Soviet delegate accused the Western powers of trying to sabotage them.

The Soviet charge was contained in a broadcast by the Soviet news agency Tass. It said Soviet delegate Arkadi Sobolev had accused the Western representatives of having "in essence repudiated everything that has been done by the subcommittee earlier."

The disarmament subcommittee, made up of representatives of the United States, Britain, Canada, France and Russia, adjourned Friday until next Tuesday with no sign of even small agreement between the Soviet and Western positions.

Lettering On Thorncreek Fire Truck Belies True Ownership Of Vehicle

The fact that we "believe in signs" led us to make an error in the reporting of the fire which destroyed the barn on the ben Lott farm last Saturday.

In mentioning the fire departments which came to fight the fire, we went by the names on the trucks. One read "Four Townships Fire Department" and the other Wayne Township, Allen County." Realizing that the latter truck appeared to be a long way from home, we printed the name of the Wayne township, Allen County Fire Department as having been to the fire.

As the story turns out, it seems the recently organized Thorncreek township Fire Department purchased the truck about a month ago from Dr. Harold Luckey, who obtained the vehicle from the Wayne township department. The Thorncreek Department hasn't got around to changing the lettered name on the side of the truck. It still reads "Wayne Township, Allen County."

We regret the error in assigning the ownership of the truck, and as we said, we used to believe in signs.

Population Of Tokyo Prison Soon May Be Reduced As Result Of Shigemitsu's Visit

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

United Press Staff Correspondent

The population of the Sugamo prison in Tokyo may be reduced radically soon as the result of Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu's visit to the United States.

One of the main reasons for Shigemitsu's visit was to ask that the United States release the 210 men still held in its behalf.

Shigemitsu says it isn't quite right to ask Japan to rearm for a possible future war while a number of its military and political leaders are still confined for taking part in the last one.

Both Shigemitsu and his chief, Premier Ichiro Hatoyama, feel strongly about the issue.

Back On Top

Shigemitsu served part of a seven-year sentence as a "Class A' war prisoner. Hatoyama, who took no part in the war, was not tried. But he was barred from politics for some years by Gen. Douglas MacArthur because of his prewar activities and views.

It is part of a confused world situation that Shigemitsu and Hatoyama should have come back to the top in politics, and that both should be cooperating with the United States.

Their cooperation will be even closer, and Japanese enthusiasm for rearmament will be strengthened, if the United States makes the gesture of releasing some of th prisoners it still holds in Sugamo.

In addition to the 210 still held by the United States, there are 347 others. Australia sentenced 149 Great Britain 80. The remainingo Great Britain 80. The remaining seven, "Class A" criminals, were sentenced by an international court.

Russia Insisted On It.

Japan wants all of them, including the "Class A" men, given their freedom. It will not be surprising if the United States is first to act.

Shigemitsu, of course, never should have been tried as a war criminal. Gen. MacArthur disclosed last week, during a friendly talk with Shigmeitsu that he opposed the prosecution but that Russia insisted on it because he had served as foreign minister.

A career diplomat, a leading advocate of Japanese cooperation with the United States and Britain, Shigemitsu was made foreign minister in 1943. When the news came over Axis radios, there was surprise in Allied capitals. Shigemitsu was known to be a critic of the war lords. It was suggested that he was appointed because Premier Hideki Tojo realized that Germany and Italy faced defeat, and he wanted to use Shigemitsu in an attempt to get a negotiated peace when their collapse came.

Hatoyama came very near to becoming premier after the war. What tripped him was that he was on record, in a book he wrote before the war, as prasing Hitler and Mussolini. When war really came, however, he showed his opposition to the policy of the war lords by retiring to his country home and staying there.

Lone Ranger Takes Off Mask, Reveals What He Is Like

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — After 23 years of "hi-yo-ing Silver" on radio and television and now in the movies, the Lone Ranger took off his mask today and revealed what he's like.

This unmasking occurred at Warner Studio, and is akin in strangeness to Humphrey Bogart being photographed without his toupee or Rita Hayworth staying married.

The popular radio and television masked hero and his sidekick Tonto, are galloping in a widescreen movie in full color. Warner decided to film the veteran program after making movies of "Dragnet" and "Our Miss Brooks."

In the movie version the Ranger actor Clayton Moore, still will confront villains with a black mask covering his eyes as he does on TV. In fact, various publicists for the TV show insist he never is seen in public as the Ranger without his mask.

But on a studio visit I caught the Lone Ranger with his mask down. He loped into the commissary, maskless and in a pin-stripe suit like anybody else.

"I always wear the mask on personal appearances because if you take away the mask, you destroy the illusion," actor Moore explained.

"I can walk any place in town without the mask and nobody knows who I am. At the studio they don't recognize me unless I put on my blue cowboy suit and mask."

Moore's appearance on the Warner lot was the first time the press has had a close look at the western character. He turned out to be a soft-voiced, blue-eyed man who colects antiques and who used to be a male fashion model in the wide open spaces of Chicago.

Good And Bad News On Balance Sheet

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. The general relaxation of West-East tension bore fruit when Red China and Red Russia decided to free some Americans long held captive. After five weeks of negotiatio by United States and Chinese representatives in Geneva, the Chinese announced they would release 12 American civilians, including 4 women and 2 young girls. The Russians freed two American soldiers whom they had held prisoner for more than seven years. Negotiations continued in Geneva for the release of an additional 29 Americans held in China.

2. Tough old West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer flew to Moscow to discuss, at Russia's invitation, the establishment of normal diplomatic, trade and cultural relations. "My object is to serve peace, not only in Europe but in the whole world," Adenauer said on his departure. He planned to ask the Russians about the unity of Germany, and the restoration of the rich German territory east of the Oder-Neisse rivers line now held by Communist Poland. Allied governments were confident that whatever happened, Adenauer's close cooperation with the West would not be weakened.

3. The United States, in a new attempt to put disarmament negotiations on a business basis, called in the United Nations for a new study of the whole question of inspection and control of both nuclear and conventional weapons. Russia's refusal to permit real inspection of its nuclear weapons installations has long been an obstacle to agreement. There was some surprise when news came from Moscow that United States Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen and 10 other foreign envoys had been taken on a visit to a peaceful cities. Greece wants the island because its people are largelyGreeks. But Britain has held it since 1878 and Turkey owned it previously. Greece itself never possessed it. If Britain gives it up, Turkey wants Russian atomic installation, a power plant.

The Bad

1. The demand of Greece for the strategically important Mediterranean island of Cyprus resulted in anti-Greek riots in Turkey. Martial law was declared in three Turkish it. In London, a British-Greek-Turkish conference on Cyprus broke up without agreement. In Paris, the North Atlantic Treaty Council, of which all three countries are members, met to consider the situation.

2. French Premier Edgar Faure sought urgently to work out an agreement for limited home rule for the North African protectorate of Morocco before Monday, the deadline he has set for himself. But he has met violent opposition in his own cabinet and his position is dangerous.

3. The explosive situation between Egypt and Israel in Palestine was taken up by the U.N. Security Council. Truce supervisor Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns of Canada proposed a demilitarized zone to prevent clashes on the frontier of Israel and the Egyptian-held Gaza area. Israel reported that Jordan was concentrating armored and artillery forces on the Israel-Jordan frontier.

Today's Auto Has More Lights Than A Home

CLEVELAND, O. — (UP) —The average 1955 automobile carries more light bulbs than the average home, according to a manufacturer that makes both types.

William H. Robinson, Jr. (of General Electric) said new cars average 22.8 light bulbs, while the typical American home has only 19 lamps for general lighting. New cars carried only 20 lamps two years ago.

More Hoosier Toothaches Unless More Dentists

INDIANAPOLIS, — Hoosiers are headed toward more toothaches unless the state produces more dentists to match its growing population.

The growing deficiency of dentists has been brought to fore by the U.S. armed forces taking 40 per cent of 77 students graduated this year from the Indiana University School of Dentistry, the state's only dental college. Eventually these 32 dentists will be released for civilian practice but in the meantime are unavailable to Hoosiers with dental ailments.

Dean Maynard K. Hine of the dental school points out that though the school is training dentists to the limit of its present capacity and the number of graduates has increased there is a growing deficit in the state's dental profession. Whereas in 1940 there was one dentist for every 1,996 persons in the state, in 1954 there was one for every 2,050. The demand for dental services has increased because of the greater awareness by the public of the importance of dental care to general health.

Two steps in the opinion of Dean Hine are necessary to bring production of dentists into line with population. The first of these is getting more qualified young men and women interested in dentistry as a profession. Of the 77 June graduates of the I.U. School three are women, the largest number in the history of the School. Dean Hine thinks more women might well enter dentistry because of their neatural dexterity and ability to handle children

The other necessity, Dean Hine asserts, is more facilities for the four years of dental training. The Indiana University School of Dentistry is limited by its present facilities to an annual entering class of 68 students.

Benson Wants To Expand World Trade In Farm Products

ROME (UP)—U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has called for expanded world trade in agricultural commodities to end a situation in which "some nations struggle with problems of abundance while others suffer in abject poverty."

Benson, in an address at the opening session of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, said the United States would "not engage in any cut-throat race for markets" for its agricultural surpluses.

But he warned the United States cannot forever "carry the inventory for the world" while other nations are snatching markets from her.

"We are not afraid of talking facts — frankly and even bluntly," Benson told delegates from 37 nations attending the weeklong IFAP general conference here.

"This much I am sure we would all agree upon—there is need for honest exchanges of opinion, for discussing our problems, for mutual understanding of the conditions which prompt our national actions," he said.

Chicago Schools Try Green Thumb Plan

CHICAGO — (UP(— Educators and builders are joining forces behind "Operation Green Thumb" in the hope that it will curb school vandalism and spur beautification of the city's blighted areas.

The Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders Association is making plans to finance "Green Thumb" clubs in the schools to encourage planting of trees, shrubs and flowers on school sites.

The board of education and the builders group are interested in keeping youngsters busy because the board spent about $250.000 in 1954 to replace broken school windows and builders spent another $155,000 to repair damage done by vandals on new projects.

Roy Davis, a director of the association, said builders hope to encourage youngsters to take pride in their community's schools. They hope, too, that the beautification drive will spread "next door and right on down the street."

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given by t Board of Public Works & Safety of the City of Columbia City, Indiana, that sealed bids will be received by said Board at its office in the City Hall until 7:00 P.M. Central Standard Time, on September 27, 1955 as follows:

Children's Names Come From Cigars

Pound, Wis. —(UP) —A collector of cigar box covers, who named his children after cigars, has given up his hobby.

Stanley Malecki, 76, said he has exhausted the cigar box cover hobby after nearly 50 years. He has turned now to gathering fancy hatpins of the kind grandma wore 50 or more years ago.

Malecki decided to break up his collection and has sent 1,000 covers to Lightner's Museum of Hobbies in t. ASugustine, Fla. An entire room will be devoted to displaying them.

He plans to give another 1,000 tops to the Wisconsin Historical Society and to keep the remaining 275 pictorial covers to decorate the walls of a den at his farm home near here.

Malecki said he has never been able to find another cigar box top collection and he felt certain he had the only one in the world. He has taken dozens of prizes at hobby shows.

Malecki got his start when he was married in 1906. He bought seven boxes of cigars to give to wedding guests. He saved the box tops because he liked the pictures.

That nucleus grew to 2,275 tops and was forgotten until the first baby was born. Malecki and his wife had difficulty in picking a name good enough for their little girl.

They studied the cigar box tops and found the name Ottinia. Malecki, a non-smoker, didn't know if it was a good cigar. But he agreed with his wife that it was a good name.

The three other children were named in the same manner from the original seven boxes. They were Wanda, Estella and Peter Pan. Malecki has 22 grandchildren now but none was named for a cigar.

Horse Capital Would Have Less Trouble With Autos

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Residents of this Northenr Michigan tourist mecca are finding that it would be a lot cheaper and there'd be fewer problems if automobiles were permitted on the island.

The island, because of its ban on autos, is known as the "horse capital" of America and is one of the leading tourist centers in the Midwest.

The cost of keeping the island's 55 horse-drawn carriages rolling and other problems connected with the industry became so involved a few years ago that the island's livery operators formed Carriage Tours Inc., a cooperative organization.

Need 250 Horses

Art Chambers, president of the organization, outlined some of the problems he and other livery operators run up against.

"The island's 55 carriages require 250 horses—and to keep 250 horses is a problem,' said Chambers, who uses the same stables his grandfather built when he came to Mackinac Island in 1845 from Ireland.

"An item like a harness that could be bought at any hardware a few years ago now requires a buying expedition that covers four or five states," he said.

"And teamsters are a problem, too. We have to scout all over. There aren't men who can handle teams nowadays who will take off from their regular jobs for a couple of months to come here and there aren't many young ones growing up, either."

Carriages are a big problem, too, Chambers said, Four years ago the island's operators located a source of supply in Pennsylvania but they paid such a high price that they decided to build their own carriages from then on.

Blanket Insurance Coverage

Frames for the carriages, which are built during the winter, come from Detroit auto plants and cost from $600 to $1,000 each. Chambers said. By the time a new carriage is finished—including velvet upholstering that costs $6.50 a yard—the vehicle has cost almost as much as a limousine, he said.

The carriages must be insured, too, but the cost became prohibitive and that was the main reason the cooperative was formed. The operators now have blanket insurance coverage.

And then there are license fees for the carriages. State and local licenses cost $101 a year per carriage. Add to this the cost of rubber horseshoes $3 a pair, cost of hiring blacksmiths ($25 a day) and the amount of feed required for the horses and it becomes a pretty expensive business. Thirty of the island's 600 permanent residents make their living in the livery business.

Consider Path Hacked Out By Ellen Violett

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) If you're an ambitious girl who harbors a yen for a TV career, you might consider the path hacked out by Ellen Violett.

Miss Violett couldn't make it as an actress. But come this Sunday, her name will apear in bold letters on your home screen — as adapter of the two hour BC-TV spectacular, "The Skin Of Our Teeth."

The 30-year-old brunette, a native of New York, is the first woman ever to be entrusted with such a meaty assignment by the network. It was her job to chop through the verbal wilderness of the Thornton Wilder play and convert it into suitable fare for living room television.

"I used to think I might become an actress, but I was wrong," said Miss Violett. "I began knocking on the doors of producers, starting at the very top — with George Abbott. Nothing happened."

Facing up to the fact that her career as an emoter looked pretty shaky, Miss Violett switched to writing. She worked for a time with several magazines, then met Albert McCleary who was working as the head of the drama department at Fordham University.

When McCleary took charge of NBC's "Cameo Theatre," he called in Miss Violett. "He said they were looking for a small town story for the TV show with lots of conflict," she said. "And I immediately thought of a short story I had read called 'The Lottery,' "

"I had never seen a TV script, but I figured going to the movies was just as good," she said.

She was right. "The Lottery was accepted and from that point, Miss Violett was responsible for a whole raft of TV scripts. She sold plays to "Jamie' and the "Suspense" show and adapted "Uncle Tom's Cabin" for "Omnibus."

"The Skin Of Our Teeth" was not new to her. Probably the world's champion viewer of the play, she has seen it" obaut 50 times.'

"I had to cut about 25 minutes from the play for TV," she said. "There was a four-hour conference with Thronton Wilder about the cuts and he picked out the things he thought could go."

She worked on the TV script for about six weeks before whipping it into shape, editing out such things as lengthy mob scenes which can be captured by the TV cameras in a flash.

American Farmers Could Produce More Food Than Needed

PARIS (UP)—American farmers could produce at least 15 per cent more food than the domestic market can absorb, according to Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Addressing a meeting here of U.S. agricultural attaches of European posts, Shuman called for removal of trade barriers so that "in the interest of long time development of trade' foreign markets can be found for the 15 per cent potential.

Shuman said the United States must be prepared to deliver "quality products, competitively priced and vigorously merchandised in markets where customers have the ability and continuous opportunity to earn dollars to pay for these products."

DAR Lays Plans For Constitution Week, September 17-23, At Friday Night Meeting

Plans for national Constitution Week, Sept. 17-23, were laid Friday evening at the first meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The group, which met at the home of the newly-elected regent, Mrs. A. H. Moeller, plans to make the community aware of Constitution Week through displays at the library, comments from ministers and civic officials, and special comments at the schools. The group also hopes to get all merchants to display flags throughout Constitution Week.

The national theme, to be observed by Col. Augustine de la Balme chapter, will be "Protect America's Future Through Patriotic Education," with the emphasis to be placed on history, education, patriotism, home, youth, public affairs, and national defense.

Miss Marguerite Stultz read the revised by-laws, which are to be voted on at the November meeting.

Mrs. John Q. Adams read an article entitled "The Threat to Treaty Law."

"What the Constitution Means to Me," was the topic read from the organization magazine by Mrs Paul Morsches, Sr.

Mrs. B. F. McNear was selected as treasurer, to replace Mrs. Roger Walker who resigned.

The regent, Mrs. Moeller, announced plans for the Oct. 8 pilgrimage to historical sites in Fort Wayne, where the local chapter will be guided by the Mary Penrose Wayne chapter. School children from throughout the county will be selected to take the tour as guests of members of the local chapter.

Mrs. J. R. Messner, Mrs. Ross Smith, Miss Gladys Kyler, and Mrs. Robert Krider compose the committee for the October pilgrimage.

Raising Petunias A Family Affair

"Raising prize petunias is a family affair," the members of the local chamber of commerce committee found when they presented the ribbon awards, printed by Shinzo Ohki, to the local winners.

In the residential division, white ribbon winner, Mrs. Paul Carver said, "I set out the plants but my husband kept them weeded."

Mrs. Robert Weir, Squawbuck road came to the door with her new baby to receive her red ribbon. She said "Lately I haven't given them much attention. My father helped me set out the petunias, that border the front walk, and my son has helped in keeping them watered."

Mrs. Herschell King said, "This is a surprise," when handed the blue ribbon for the family petunia planting project. Many did not know that their homes had been nominated for awards.

Rosette champion, Mrs. Wilbert Worrick, reported that her husband, who is employed at the More Farm Store, had helped prepare the ground but that she had done most of the planting and taken care of the petunias.

She had used peat moss and bone meal around the petunias and had cut them back Memorial Day to increase the blooms. In addition to petunias bordering the neatly clipped hedges and along the driveway the petunia color was repeated in the porch boxes of "everyday bloomer" begonias.

The Worricks also had tall beds of red cannas and salvia planted around the white barn.

An unusual hanging affair resembling a fountain had a center support with six white buckets planted with flowers.

The individual bucket holders were made from iron teeth from a discarded hay rake.

Floyd Shelton of the United Telephone Company hoped to use petunias again next year in front of the evergreens. He believed part of the success was due to adequate watering for the petunias.

ILA Officials, Teamsters Meet To Get Support

For Paralyzing Waterfront Strike

NEW YORK (UP) — Officials of the International Longshoremen's Assn. meet again today with representatives of the powerful AFL Teamsters Union in a reported attempt to get support for their paralyzing waterfront strike

The talks indicated the independent union was seeking ways to strengthen its walkout protest against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission although the union faces possible contempt of court action if its members do not return to work Monday. State Supreme Court Justice William C. Hecht Jr., set the Monday deadline in a hearing Friday.

ILA officials met Friday with representatives of the Teamsters Union and agreed to meet again today. No announcement was made following the closed door sessions but the talks appeared to be a last-ditch attempt by the ILA to avoid having to give in to the courts.

The ILA was thrown out of the AFL two years ago because of charges the dock union was gangster dominated but has an informal "working alliance" with the Teamsters Union.

Justice Hecht ordered the union's leaders to get their men back to work Monday. He extended a temporary stay of strike action on the complaint of shipping interests but postponed action on another injunction sought by the New York New Jersey waterfront commission.

The strike is directed at the Waterfront Commission. The union is demanding that Govs. Averell Harriman of New York and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey meet with union leaders to discuss the dockers' grievances with the commission.

Strike plans of the ILA collapsed partially when longshoremen at other East Coast ports returned to work or voted to do so today. The ILA had hoped to extend their strike along the entire upper East Coast.

Baltimore and Philadelphia longshoremen returned to work Friday and Norfolk and Boston dockers voted to end their sympathy strike.

Both Parties Warm Up For 1956 Campaign

Have Two Likely Key Issues

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democrats and Republicans warmed up today for the 1956 campaign on two likely key issues — farm prices and proposed budget - balancing defense cuts.

Leading Democrats, from former President Truman down, charged that the administration is weakening national defense to achieve an election-year tax cut.

They also belabored the administration's farm program, even as state GOP chairmen marked it high on their list of topics to discuss with President Eisenhower in Denver today. Republican leaders have conceded that falling farm prices are their most vulnerable point at present.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Oka) charged that it is "highly dangerous" for the administration to "take the first change in Soviet manners as an occasion to cut our military strength — and then to take it all out of the Air Force."

Monroney aimed his fire at reports that the aerTryusnwtas ports that the Treasury wants Pentagon officials to cut defense spending this fiscal year by $1,700,000,000 to help balance the budget. Most of the proposed cut would come out of spending for new airplanes, a spokesman said.

Monroney told a reporter that the reported cut came "when the ink is hardly dry" on stories that we have lost our air superiority to Russia.

"If we are going to furnish leadership to the world, we have a responsibility not to cut our strength," he said.

Mr. Truman said Friday in Chicago that the administration is "crippling" national defense to pave the way for a 1956 tax cut.

The former President said the plan would involve "grave danger to our safety here and be disastrous to our allies abroad."

But Adm. Arthur W. Radford, conferring with Mr. Eisenhower in Denver, told newsmen that military spending would not be cut enough to change "basic military programs." He disagreed with Mr. Truman's estimate of the effect of the cuts.

Only Repentance Over His Firing Of MacArthur

Is He Didn't Do It Sooner Says Truman

CHICAGO (UP) — Former President Truman says the only "repentance" he has over firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur is "that I didn't do it two years sooner."

He made his comment in a question and answer period following a speech to the Executives Club of Chicago Friday in which he accused the administration of "crippling national defense" in order to cut taxes in time for the 1956 election.

Mr. Truman, asked why United Nations forces in Korea did not drive through to the Yalu River "as MacArthur said they could" instead of halting at the 38th Parallel, replied:

"MacArthur never was ordered to stop at the 38th Parallel. There were a million and a half Chinese Communists and he couldn't get there."

Mr. Truman fired MacArthur April 11, 1951, charging the general was "unable to give wholehearted support" to the policies of the U.N. and the Truman administration in conducting the Korean conflict.

Mr. Truman departed from his prepared text to level the charge of "crippling national defense" at the Eisenhower administration.

He said the administration was trying to balance the budget and reduce spending for political purposes, that is, to influence voters in next year's presidential elections.

"It's too great a sacrifice to make on the political altar," Mr. Truman said. Such a policy, he said, would hold "grave danger to our safety here at home and be disastrous to our allies abroad."

In his prepared speech, the 71-year-old ex-President warned that the nation is losing its "margin of leadership" in arms supremacy over Russia and cautioned U.S. leaders to be wary of current "sweet talk" from the Soviets.

In an earlier press conference, Mr. Truman reaffirmed his support of Adlai E. Stevenson for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination and said he believed falling farm prices would be a decisive campaign issue.

Secret Of Long Life

DETROIT (UP) — David Courlander, an artist who startled the art world with his "fantastic primitives" three years ago, celebrated his 88th birthday Friday and revealed his frank "secret" of long life.

"Just keep breathing," Courlander said.

Around The Clock: Around The World!

By UNITED PRESS

LONDON (UP) — The United States Air Force and airmen themselves agreed today that British courts are fair to American servicemen. A visiting congressman had charged the opposite was true.

Provost Marshal Louis E. Erichs of the 3rd U.S. Air Force said he had had "no complaints" from American servicemen serving time in British jails.

Rep. Frank J. Becker (R-NY) charged earlier this week that Americans convicted by British courts had complained to him they were being treated unfairly.

The London Daily Express conducted a poll among U.S. servicemen in Britain to see whether they agreed with Becker. Only one of those interviewed did.

Col. Van H. Albertson, 3rd Air Force judge advocate told the Express there had been no complaints from Washington about the treatment meted out to Americans by the British courts.

"We get British lawyers to defend us. What could be fairer?"

Since the Visiting Forces Act came into power last year American servicemen stationed in Britain can not be tried by Air Force courts-martial for offenses against British law.

FAENZA, Italy (UP)—A "cosmic crisis" caused by a huge sunspot was blamed today for the violent thunderstorms and floods harassing Italy and other parts of the world.

A spokesman at the Bendandi Observatory said the sunspot was "not less than 30,000 kilometers (18,641 miles)" from edge to edge.

He said the sunspot had reached the center of the sun as seen from the earth and will vanish behind the sun's western rim next Tuesday.

"The cosmic crisis foreseen on the globe has started," the spokesman said.

TRENTON, N.J. (UP)—The state has been advised that New Jersey Blue Cross cannot legally enter into a reimbursing arrangement with an Illinois corporation for medical services rendered out-of-state policyholders.

Deputy Atty. Gen. John F. Crane said Friday that under state law only insurance companies and hospital services corporations such as the Blue Cross can contract to furnish hospital services.

The Illinois corporation, Health Service, Inc., is one of several corporations set up by the Blue Cross in a number of states to furnish coverage for corporations which which have employes in several states.

TOKYO (UP)—A U.S. Air Force F86 Sabrejet pilot was killed today when his parachute failed to open. The plane crashed into a rice paddy.

A Far East Air Force spokesman said the F86 was one of two on a "proficiency flight' from Johnson Air Base near Tokyo to Komaki Air Base near Nagoya.

The plane was circling to make a second try at a GCA (ground controlled approach) landing at Komaki when the pilot bailed out. The second plane landed safely.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UP)—Two leading Uruguayan radio stations were fined by the government Friday for broadcasting political comments considered hostile to the Argentine regime of President Juan D. Peron.

The fines were levied by the governmental Radio Communications Commission on Radio El Espectador and Radio Carve apparently on the basis of an international [illegible] signed in Buenos Aires in [illegible].

Both stations announced they would appeal, pointing out that the agreement was denounced by Argentina years ago. The executive council of the Uruguayan Press Assn. condemned the RCC action as a "flagrant limitation of the freedom of expression."

THE HAGUE, Holland (UP)—The Netherlands will donate trees and shrubs for the creation of six parks in flood-damaged northeastern United States, it was announced Friday.

The parks, each of which will cover 2.5 acres, will be located in New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey and Rhode Island.

NEW DELHI, India (UP) — India's off-again on-again policy on the export of monkeys for polio research has touched off an exodus of expert monkey trappers to Pakistan, it was disclosed today.

The trappers began moving out early this year when India imposed an embargo on the export of Rhesus monkeys after complaints of their treatment during shipment to the United States. The exodus continued despite an agreement by India to export to the United States during the year ending June, 1956, enough monkeys to meet U.S. requirements.

Brazil's delegation will be seated at the left of the front row and other countries will follow in English alphabetical order.

LISBON, Portugal (UP)—Fire of unknown origin gutted the top floor of the three-storey 18th Century British Embassy building here Friday.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Federal Communications Commission today faced the task of sifting stacks of arguments for and against pay-as-you-see television before deciding whether to permit this new service.

A spokesman indicated that the commission won't reach a decision until next year. He said it will take a long time to analyze the 68 volumes of statements, legal arguments, letters and postcards the FCC has received on the subject.

The FCC last February invited comments on three proposals to inaugurate a subscription TV service providing new programs to viewers willing to pay for them. Friday night was the deadline for final comments.

ceptance of the Kremlin's May 10 disarmament proposals, already described by the West as "inadequate."

Speeches made by delegates during the two-week-old session have been "secret" but Tass broadcast excerpts from a speech made Wednesday by Sobolev.

Tass said the group discussed the disarmament proposals put forward by French Premier Edgar Faure at the Geneva summit conference and that Russia "considers that these proposals are of interest and deserve thorough study."

It said he spent most of the time re-stating the Soviet disarmament proposals of May 10 which called for stationing inspectors at strategic road junctions and other "agreed points" to supervise troop movements.

Believes Control Possible

"The Soviet government is profoundly convinced that effective control over disarmament is possible," Sobolev was quoted. "This has been and remains the viewpoint of the Soviet government and the establishment of such control is the aim of the Soviet government . . ."

"It is imperative to eliminate the possibility of sudden atomic attack by one state or another," he said, pointing out that large armies would still be needed to fight an atomic war and that the stationing of inspectors at "strategic points" would help minimize the risk of surprise.

"The failure of all previous attempts to solve the problem of control was a consequence of an unrealistic approach," he said.

In New York, Sobolev said he still was waiting for Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's special aide, to give the American view on the May 10 plan.

Man Believed Trying To Pass Greenlease Bill

RACINE, Wis. (UP)—A manhunt was under way today for a man who police believe attempted to pass a Greenlease kidnap ransom bill here.

Police said the man, about 30, was reported to have handed a $20 bill to a clerk in a drugstore Friday for a 15-cent purchase of candy.

But when the clerk jokingly asked the man if the bill were part of the missing Greenlease ransom money, the customer said he had the correct change after all and took the bill back.

The customer then went to another clerk in the drustore and attempted to purchase some cigars. But before the clerk could make change, the main again asked for the bill and left the store.

His description was flashed to police who started an immediate search.

The hunt for the Greenlease ransom bills shifted from Chicago to Racine after the FBI notified all Chicago area banks to keep watch on all $20 bills.

Meanwhile, federal agents sought to trace the first of the missing Greenlease bills to turn up in Southern Illinois.

The $20 was turned in to the Southern Illinois National Bank at East St. Louis Friday by a resident whom officials declined to identify.

A total of 24 bills from the ransom are now known to have been recovered, 16 in Chicago. All are $20 bills.

Mor than $303,000 is missing from the $600,000 pai din 1953 to the kidnap-slayers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease. The FBI did not comment on where the search was centered, but it appeared that the Chicago area was being watched more intensively than any other section of the country.

Churubusco Shuts Out Coesse 14-0 In 1st Game For Both

The Churubusco Eagles shut out the Coesse Indians 14-0 in the first baseball game of the season for both teams Friday afternoon on the Churubusco field.

The game was a typical opening game by both teams, however the Egales were able to hold the Indians while bringing their own men around to score at nearly every opportunity. The winners scored five runs in the first inning, one in the second, four in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth. The Eagles had only nine hits but were able to score often with the help of walks and errors.

The Indians threatened to score a few times, especially in the final seventh inning when they had the bases loaded. However, they were held to less than half as many hits as the Eagles got and were prevented from scoring.

The batteries for the teams were Eagles, Pete Geiger, pitcher and Rex Diffendarfer, catcher, and for the Indians, Ronald Steele pitcher and Jerry Walker behind the plate.

Coesse's next game will be Tuesday at South Whitley. Churubusco plays host to Jefferson Center next Friday.

Officials Say New Program May Deprive Youth Of Vacation

By PAUL SOUTHWICK
United Press Staff Corresponden

WASHINGTON (UP) — Pentagon officials are concerned about the prospect that the new military reserve program may deprive thousands of young Americans of summer vacations.

Youths who are enrolled in the ready reserves will be required to keep up their training in one of two ways: Either by attending 48 weekly drill sessions, plus two weeks of field training each year; or by spending 30days in field training each year, without the weekly drill sessions.

Either alternative could wipe out the summer vacation time of many youths who have regular jobs. In an extreme case, a 17-year-old who volunteered for the new "modified UMT" program (six months active training followed by 7½ years in the ready reserves) might not get a vacation until he was 25 years old.

One solution, which military leaders are now working on, would be to persuade employers to give extra time off with pay to young reservists.

Col. James A. Norell, director of the reserve officers policy division, said officials hope to convince employers that they have "more or less an obligation, not a statutory obligation but a moral obligation," to give reservists extra time off with pay.

Firms which cooperate will be awarded special plaques and pennants, like the World War II "E" production pennants. Employers also will be asked to avoid discrimination in hiring and promoting reservists.

Eagles Lose 21 — 18

Failure to convert on any of their three attempts for points after touchdown cost the Columbia City Eagle football team a 21-18 setback by Nappanee in the 1955 season opener for the Eagles. The game played at Nappanee last night, was the second win for Bob Courtney's Bulldogs this season, having blanked Knox last week 14-0.

The game was highlighted by three long runs. Ron Yant, CC fullback, made the first of the long runs, carrying the ball 53 yards to the Nappanee two-yard strip early in the first quarter to set up Columbia City's first touch down.

Gary Deutsch, Eagle backfield standout, dashed for the longest run of the game, a 72-yard jaunt in the third quarter that gave the Eagles an 18-14 lead. On this play, Deutsch started an end run around his right side of the line, but found little offensive blocking and cut back across field to his left. The field was clear, and Deutsch outran all would-be tacklers.

Wright, Nappanee's chief backfield strength, clipped off a 41-yard run early in the third period before being pulled down by Dick Jones, CC halfback, on the Eagle nine-yard line. Columbia City managed to hold the Bulldogs on four downs, and after getting the ball on the one-yard line, Deutsch punted out of the dangerous territory on the first play. Nappanee brought the punt back on the CC 25-yard stripe, and were not to be denied this time. Wright ended the Bulldog drive with an end run to pay dirt.

Nappanee Scores First

Nappanee was the first to score in the game, capitalizing on a Columbia City fumbled lateral and recovering the ball on the Eagle 39-yard stripe. Wright, of course sparked the Nappanee drive to the goal line, and climaxed the march going over from the three-yard line. The Bulldogs also notched their first of three points after touchdown by running the ball over.

After that Nappanee score, the Eagles came back fast with their first TD. Deutsch returned Wright's kick-off to the CC 32, and two passes by Deutsch and Whetstone preceded Yant's long run to the two-yard line. In two plays, Deutsch carried the ball over. A bad center on the play for the extra point prevented Whetstone from being able to hold the ball for Deutsch to kick.

Fast Fumbles

Late in the first quarter and on the first play of the second interception. Brennan, CC guard, started the wild exchange when he grabbed a Bulldog fumble on the CC 40-yard line. As soon as Columbia City took possession of the ball, Whetstone attempted a pass that was snatched by Wright for Nappanee. Then on Nappanee's first play, the ball carrier dropped the pigskin, and Bridge recovered it for the Eagles. The Eagles then ran four plays before fumbling the ball away to Brunso, of Nappanee

Jay Smith, CC tackle, made Columbia City's second TD—the easy way. Deutsch and Yant had teamed up to advance the ball to the Nappanee nine-yard line before the defensive Nappanee linemen halted the drive. Nappanee took over the ball on the 10-yard line, but Wright fumbled the ball on the first play. Charging Eagle linemen kicked the ball over the goal line, but it was Smith who picked it up, making it 12-7, Columbia City.

Wright made it 14-12, Nappanee in the third quarter with his end run, and the extra point that followed. Three plays after Wright's TD, Deutsch broke loose for his 72-yard touchdown run, but again the Eagles were unable to convert the extra point, and the score was 18-14, Columbia City.

Recovers Fumble

Nappanee's winning touchdown came after Stump recovered Yant's fumble on the Eagle 43-yard line. Wright immediately took off for a 28-yard gain around the Eagle right end before being stopped by Deutsch, who had to cross the field to make the tackle. From the 15-yard line, the Bulldogs continued the drive for the final TD. Lopp plunged for the extra point, making the final score 21-18.

The Columbia City starting lineup for the first game of the season included: Simmers and Smith, ends; Fry and Conrad, tackles; Brennan and Schrader, guards; Bridge, center; Deutsch and Jones halfbacks; Yant, fullback; and Whetstone, quarterback.

Dark Horse Takes Lead In $50,000 Cavalcade Of Golf

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (UP)—Another dark horse took the lead at the halfway point of the $50,000 Cavalcade of Golf Tournament today while the tourney's favorites were still having trouble with the Shackamaxon Country Club's course.

Freddy Haas, the golf glove and club salesman from Claremont, Calif., took over the lead with a 70-67—137, replacing first-day co-leaders Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Walker Inman of Augusta Ga. Furgol had a 72 to go with his first-day 68 and Inman, who tied Marty for the first day lead, had a 78 for a total of 146.

Two strokes behind Haas was Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, who shot a 69 to give him a total of 139.

It was an old story for Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., the tournament favorite—putting trouble. Snead missed six putts of five feet or less and needed 35 strokes on the greens to card a 72 that landed him in a tie for ninth place with 143.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., another pre-tournament favorite, stayed close with a pair 70 to give him a 141 and a tie with Gene Littler, the former amateur champion from Palm Springs Calif. Littler also posted a 71-70—141 score for the first two days of the tournament which carries a $10,000 prize for the winner.

George Fazio of Philadelphia matched Haas' 67-round to give him a two-day total of 142 — the same as Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Chief Justice To Attend Series

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chief Justice of the United States Earl Warren announced Friday that he will attend the World Series this year.

Rocky 190 Pounds

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky "nervous and irritable" by his handlers, is down to 190 pounds—only three above the weight he wants to make for his defense against Archie Moore at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 20.

Johnston Calls Rocky 'Foul Fighter'

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (UP) — Charley Johnston, manager of orator-boxer Archie Moore, renewed the challenger's charge today that heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano is a "foul fighter." Johnston said he had pictures to prove it, too.

Seixas, Trabert, Last Hopes Of U.S. Keeping Trophy

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UP)—Defending champion Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert, hoping for vengeance victories against tremendous odds, were America's last hopes today of keeping the U.S. tennis championship trophy from taking a long trip to Australia along with the Davis Cup.

They faced the razor-sharp Aussies — Seixas against canny Ken Rosewall and Trabert against mauling Lew Hoad — in the exact order of play in the U.S. semi-finals as on the opening day of the Davis Cup challenge round on which both Americans were whipped in four sets.

The Aussies, however, have lost a bit of their competitive edge while both Seixas and Trabert have been nursing their games toward a peak for today's show-downs.

Trabert squashed Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, keeping on such severe pressure Flam never was able to get going on the chasing game with which he previously had ousted Australia's No. 3 man Rex Hartwig. Hoad, meanwhile, had his share of trouble in downing slashing Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Tex., 6-3, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Seixas gained the semifinals on Thursday by downing Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo Tex., and Rosewall made it with a four set victory over Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La.

Int he women's division, the semi-finals matched 17-year old Barbara Breit of North Hollywood, Calif., against Pat Ward of England and defending champion Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., against Dorothy Head Knoxe of New York.

Miss Breit, the National Junior champion, scored a smashing upset Friday over Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., 8-6, 4-6, 6-0, and thereby became the tournament favorite. Miss Hart although the champion and seeded first has been unimpressive all through the tournament this year.

The senior championship for players over 44 was up for decision today with radio and television singer Phil Hanna against Los Angeles attorney Edgar Yeomans in the final. Both were in the senior class for the first time and Yeomans made the final by ousting defending champion Dave Freed of Salt Lake City, 6-1, 6-2.

Indiana High School Football Campaign Will See New Frontrunners, Some Also Rans

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — There were signs aplenty today that the 1955 Indiana high school football campaign will see a few new front-runners, and some "also rans" get out of the gridiron graveyard.

Just get a load of this:

Whiting and South Bend Riley proud finalists in last year's NIHSC play-off game, both lost their openers. Hobart spanked Whiting, 12-0, while city foe Adams broke a 14-game losing streak by beating Riley, 19-6.

Gary Froebel, which hadn't won since October, 1952, snapped out of the doldrums against Rensselaer, 48-0, to clip a 20-game losing streak and at the same time end the Bombers' 13-game victory string.

Rochester of the Central Conference, a 9-game loser last year, opened with a 13-7 conquest of Knox.

Other Powers Win

But it looks like such perennial powers as Muncie Central and Terre Haute Garfield are still up to their old tricks.

Muncie, which lost All-State quarterback Dick Stillwagon to Purdue this fall, routed Terre Haute Gerstmeyer, 41-13. Garfield's Western Conference and Wabash Valley champs extended their unbeaten string to 14, trimming league foe Linton, 31-13.

Jim Ware matched that feat as he led Danville to its 12th straight win and second this season over Speedway, 32-13.

Sullivan Routs Washington

And Sullivan, which went wild with halfback Tom Campbell last year, uncovered a new scoring threat in halfback Bob Crick whose longest of four TD's covered 31 yards in a 46-0 rout of Washington. It was the first time in 5 years and 43 games the Hatchets failed to score.

Whiting, the NIHSC play-off and "mythical" state champ, was hit hard by graduation and the loss to Hobart was not unexpected. Also the Oilers couldn't practice for more than a week during the recent Whiting oil refinery explosion and fire.

Meanwhile, the strings of New Albany, Beech Grove and Auburn got longer in other openers.

Beech Grove made it 12 in a row, trimming Franklin Twp., 25-14, and Decatur became Auburn's ninth straight victim, 14-0.

North Blanks Elkhart

In an East NIHSC encounter Fort Wayne North blanked Elkhart, 13-0, giving the Redskins' their second opening-game triumph in 15 years and first since 1950.

LaPorte's Slicers overpowered Hammond, 39-6, ruining the debut of coach Bernie Krueger. Logansport, trailing Peru 7-6 after one period, pulled out an east 3-7 decision, while Kokomo blasted Indianapolis Broad Ripple, 35-0.

Downstate, Evansville Reitz humbled Owensboro Catholic, 41-6, Harry Gonterman scoring twice on long runs.

Shelbyville took a South Central Conference thriller from Connersville, 18-13, in the last 20 seconds on a 15-yard pass from Jim Tindall to Bob Cowherd. Columbus beat Bloomington, 18-13, Tom Rogers scoring twice on a pass interception and a blocked kick.

Seymour's Bode Hill broke through for 3 tallies, one good for 88 yards, in a 27-7 triumph over North Vernon.

Everyone Calling Mossi, Narleski The Daily Double

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Don Mossi and Ray Narleski hang around together so much that everyone calls 'em "the daily double," but the way they're clicking for the first-place Cleveland Indians now, they look a lot more like a sure thing pennant parlay.

First Mossi helps Narleski out and then its Narleski to Mossi's aid.

On Thursday night, Narleski bailed out Mossi in the eighth inning against the Orioles. Friday night, Mossi rescued Narleski in the ninth inning against the Red Sox and nailed down a 3-1 victory that enable the Indians to remain a half game ahead of the pack.

Bob Lemon was the winner but he tired in the eighth and gave way to Narlesko, who made his 55th appearance of the season. Narleski faltered with two out in the ninth when he walked pinch-hitter Faye Thronebery and yielded a single to Billy Goodman.

With the tying runs on base, in strolled Mossi, making his 54th relief appearance, and promptly struck out Billy Klaus to end the game.

Win On Homers

All Cleveland's runs were the result of home runs. Al Smith hit his 22nd to tie the score at 1-all in the sixth inning; Ralph Kiner smashed his 17th to put Cleveland ahead for good in the seventh and Al Rosen belted his 21st for an insurance marker in the eighth.

Two homers by part-time first baseman Joe Collins played a big part in 5-4 victory by the Yankees over the White Sox. A seventh inning double by Yogi Berra drove in the run which eventually proved the margin of victory but Collins' two blasts helped the Yanks to a 4-0 lead that eased their path to triumph. The victory, credited to starter Don Larsen, kept the Bronx Bombers a half game off the pace while the defeat dropped the third-place White Sox 3½ games back.

Southpaw Bill Wight scattered eight Detroit hits in pitching last-place Baltimore to an 8-3 victory. The Orioles hammered Ned Garver and Dick Marlowe for 11 hits, including three by Cal Abrams.

Mickey McDermott pitched a six hitter and drove in three runs as Washington nipped Kansas City, 6-5, in the first game of a twi-night twin-bill but the Athletics took the nightcap, 7-6 despite two homers by Roy Sievers.

In the already settled National League race, the Brooklyn Dodgers, coming fresh off a pennant-clinching celebration, lost the opener of a double-header to the Cubs, 11-4, but bounced back to win the second game, 16-9.

Cocky Don Newcombe, who may open the World Series for the Dodgers, was blasted for nine hits in the two innings he pitched in the opener and wound up with his fifth loss. Ernie Banks smashed his 41st homer off Newcombe while Dee Fondy, Eddie Miksis and Ransom Jackson also hit for the circuit off him. The Dodgers collected only eight hits in the nightcap but among them were two homers by Don Zimmer, which accounted for six runs, and homers by Walt Moryn and Clem Labine.

Left-hander Joe Nuxhall of Cincinnati limited the Giants to four hits in beating them, 5-0, for his 16th victory. Wally Post poled his 38th homer off loser Don Liddle in the second inning and Gus Bell smacked his 25th with two on in the sixth.

Del Crandall's 24th homer in the seventh inning powered the Braves to a 3-2 triumph over the Pirates. Veteran Warren Spahn gave up eight hits for his 14th victory.

The Cardinals scored their highest total of runs since the first week ofthe season to beat the Phillies, 11-2, behind Willard Schmidt's six-hit pitching.

Martin To Receive Babe Ruth Award

NEW YORK (UP) — Infielder Billy Martin will receive the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding player of the 1953 World Series today before the ew York Yankees' game with the Chicago White Sox. Martin, who collected 12 hits in the series, has not previously received the award because of Army service.

Coaches Re-Hired

NEW YORK (UP) — Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox, who recently signed a new two-year contract, revealed Friday that coaches Ray Berres, Don Gutteridge, George Myatt and Del Wilber have been re-hired through the 1956 campaign.

Cisco Andrade Easy Conqueror Of Cuba's Orlando Zulueta

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) —Cisco Andrade, easy conqueror of Cuba's Orlando Zulueta, insisted upon a lightweight title shot today, but the International Boxing Club made a delaying offer of three profitable television fights.

"I'm ready now, and I want the winner of the Wallace Smith-Jimmy Carter fight,' declared the Cisco Kid from Compton, Calif., whose short right over - handed hooks ruined the 135-round division's best left-jabber in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Each weighed 135 pounds and they went into the ring at "even money" for their TV-radio 10-rounder. Andrade, 25, got the unanimous decision: 6-3-1, 6-3-1, 7-3. And the United Press agreed, 7-3. Zulueta was rated fifth among contenders, Andrade, ninth.

Matchmaker Billy Brown of the IBC offered Cisco a fight at Richmond, Calif., on Oct. 5, probably with Eddie Chavez of San Jose, Calif. Andrade's next opponent York in November if Ryff beats Joey Lopes at Detroit next Friday night.

"And after that Cisco can fight whoever is the outstanding contender in a New York challengers' bout for a winter shot at the title," Brown said. "Don't forget that the Smith-Carter winner at Cincinnati, Oct. 19, will have six months in which to make a defense.'

Manager Ralph Gambino agreed with Cisco that he deserves a quick title shot at the Smith-Carter winner, but his interest in a probable opponent at Richmond on Oct. 5 indicated he would accept the three television bouts. Of course the offer depends upon Cisco's continuing to win.

Friday night, rangy Zulueta, 27, peppered Cisco with left jabs in the first two rounds. But after that, Andrade found the range with short overhanded rights to the head, and only in the seventh round did the Cuban again have an advantage.

It was Cisco's 30th victory in 33 fights, and Zulueta's 23rd loss in 87 bouts.

Forty-Niners Win Easy Victory Over Los Angeles Rams

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Quarterback Y. A. Tittle, his veteran running attack benched with injuries, passed the San Francisco Forty-Niners to an easy 31-10 victory tonight over the Los Angeles Rams in an exhibition contest in Memorial Coliseum before a crowd of 65,633.

The Rams, badly outclassed, never were ahead although they left the field at halftime with a 10-10 tie.

Without the power running of Hustlin' Hugh McElhenney and Joe (Jet) Perry, the Forty-Niners still looked good. Rookies Carroll Hardy at halfback and Bud Laughlin, substituting for ailing Perry at fullback, and halfback John Henry Johnson, cut loose with runs when needed to balance the aerials of Tittle.

The Rams appeared hopelessly out of it after veteran signal caller Norman Van Brocklin, last year's passing leader, was taken out of the game in the first period with a sprained throwing hand.

Tittle passed for one touchdown, and set up all the others with his tosses, aided and abetted by Ram roughing penalties and fumbles.

The Forty-Niners jumped into the lead in the first period with a field goal by end Gordy Soltau. Tittle passed to end Billy Wilson for a touchdown in the second period. Johnson, Joe Arenas and Hardy scored running touchdowns in the final half. Soltau converted four times.

Ram scoring came on a field goal by Les Richter, and a one-yard sneak by Willy Wade, who replaced Van Brocklin.

Score by periods:

Los Angeles	0	10	0	0—10
San Francisco	3	7	7	14—31

Los Angeles scoring: Touchdowns — Wade, field goal, Richter. Point after touchdown, Richter.

San Francisco scoring: Touchdowns—Wilson, Johnson, Arenas and Hardy. Points after touchdown Soltau 4. Field goal, Soltau.

Hofstra To Open Against Maryland

HEMPSTEAD, .Y. (UP)—Hofstra College announced Friday it will open its 1955 football season against Maryland State on Sept. 23. Hofstra "lost" its original opening opponent when Scranton University was unable to meet the commitment because floods hampered its practices.

Grand Prix Of Italy

MOZA, Italy (UP)—Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina topped Friday's time trials for Sunday's Grand Prix of Italy automobile race with a time of 2:46.5 and an average of 134.05 miles per hour.

Coach Cites Blame

CHICAGO (UP)—Walt Schlueter, a coach on the 1952 U.S. Olympic team, warned today that this country is in "grave danger" of losing its aquatic supremacy to Japan and Russia. He blamed American stars who drop out of competition in their middle teens.

Excellent Diver Cannot Swim

DETROIT (UP)—Police charged Elmer Frame, 32, and his companion, James Bowden, 27, with drunkeness after Frame boasted to Bowden that he was an "excellent diver" and jumped into the Detroit River to prove it.

Police said Frame, who had to be rescued from the water couldn't swim.

Identification

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Police figured they probably wouldn't have much trouble identifying the 21-inch television set stolen from the I. B. Butler home.

Butler said "a big stinging scorpion" was lodged between the picture tube and the front glass. "I never bothered him and he never bothered me," he said.

Study Shows How Poisonous To Birds Insecticides Can Be

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — The fisrt prolonged and complete scientific study of how poisonous the hydrocarbon insecticides are to birds has shown they are very poisonous, indeed.

For instance, only 0.0005 per cent of aldrin in the daily diet of quails will kill every bird within 42 days. Increase the daily amount to 0.50 per cent and you get 100 per cent mortality in four days.

Aldrin is a chemical relative of DDT, which is considerably less toxic for birds as well as for insects. In quails, the addition of 0.020 per cent of DDT to the daily diet resulted in only a 10 per cent morality in 154 days. But increase the amount by only 0.005 per cent (from 0.020 to 0.025) and there is 100 per cent mortality within 45 days.

The study was made by James B. DeWitt of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior and published in a technical journal of the American Chemical Society.

Pheasants Stand Up Better

Pheasants stood up better to the insecticides than quails. As an example, an addition of 0.01 per cent of Aldrin to the daily diet of quails killed all birds in five days. The same amount added to the diet of five male pheasants killed them all in eight days. But the same daily amount fed to five females required 36 days before all were dead.

In general, aldrin was the most rapid killer of quails and pheasants alike, and strobane was the least rapid.

All these were adult birds. In very young birds, minute amounts of the hydrocarbons acted even more rapidly. Ten quails who began getting 0.002 per cent of aldrin in their daily feed when they were one day old died in six days.

DeWitt included 0.02 per cent DDT in the diet of breeding quails. Their eggs were less hatchable than the eggs of other quails, and fewer of their chicks were able to survive quail infancy.

Show Extreme Nervousness

Within two hours after eating food containing 0.50 per cent of endrin, adult quails began showing extreme nervousness, severe tremors, and lack of co-ordination and all were dead within 48 hours. At the other extreme, 0.001 per cent endrin in the daily diet produced no sign of illness in other quails until the 23rd day—but three days later all birds were dead.

At a level of 0.001 per cent, dieldrin produced no symptoms for four weeks. During this time, female birds laid as many eggs as they had before, and the same percentage were fertile. But the hatchability of the eggs fell from 87 per cent to less than 42 per cent.

His experiments had much point because of the continuing controversy over what effect widespread spraying of the hydrocarbon insecticides has on wild life. Insects are sickened by the insecticides—birds eat the insects. And the poisons are accumulative — they're stored in body fats, especially the liver.

Previous studies had shown that continuing sprayings with DDT reduced the bird population in sprayed areas. But DeWitt's was the first report on how hydrocarbons act upon two representative species of wild birds.

What This Country Needs Is A Good Five-Cent Nickel

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (UP) — "What this country needs is a good five-cent nickel and an Internal Revenue agent who knows how much to charge for it,' an expert on the subject of nickels declared today.

It was just a year ago Saturday that Mrs. Charles Deibel, wife of a household appliance salesman, was selected on a national television show as the recipient of a shower of nickels that could have made her wealthy.

As it turned out, the shower did amount to a small fortune. The $8,200 collected in more than 100,000 pieces of mail was almost twice as much as the annual salary of Mrs. Deibel's husband.

Internal Revenue Undecided

But this young couple still doesn't know how much of the money is legally theirs. The Internal Revenue Department has never decided whether to charge the Deibels a gift tax on the $8,200 windfall, or to consider it as non-taxable, individual five-cent gifts.

"I chew my fingernails down to the quick every time I start wondering whether Uncle Sam is going to nick us in our next income tax payment," the pretty housewife said. "I wish somebody in Washington would decide whether we can save what we have left, or if we must turn it over to the U.S. Treasury."

either Mrs. Deibel nor television comedian Garry Moore foresaw the tax difficulty when Moore declared on the spur of the moment during his television show of last Sept. 10, "I think that everyone watching the show should send this nice woman a nickel."

Mail Poured In

By the time Mr. and Mrs. Deibel and their small daughter returned home from their weekend vacation in New York, the mail was more than they could handle.

"We kept getting mail for four or five months,' Mrs. Deibel said. "But now we don't even get a dribble any more—and I'm sort of glad."

The housewife had always wanted an electric organ, and it was the only item on which she splurged. The rest of the money went into the litfle family's college education fund, where it will remain for future use—unless Uncle Sam decides he'd like a piece of it himself.

Assault And Battery

IRVINGTON, N.J. (UP)—Mrs. Elsie Bodewaldt, 44, of East Orange, N.J., filed an assault and battery charge against liquor store operator Carl H. Heidorn of Irvington.

She said she suffered a sprained right hand Tuesday when Heidorn squeezed it as he handed her change.

Fall Forest Fire Season To Start Any Day Now

By ROBERT V. HUDSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Any day now, smoke may curl from a part of 4,250,000 acres of timberland in Indiana.

Joe Young, state forester in charge of fires, said he expects the fall forest fire season to "start anytime now."

The fall and spring are crucial seasons. There is a lot of weeds and grass which serves as tinder when dry.

The fire danger point is up to 12 and 15—below five is normal—around Jennings, Clark, Crawford and Orange Counties. In other parts of southern Indiana the fire danger ranges from three to five.

The fire danger number, the point at which timber will burn, is computed on a card which considers the number of days since the last rain, the humidity and the velocity of the wind.

Southern Indiana is much more vulnerable than northern areas, Young said.

One August Blaze

"There were no fires during June and July," Young said. "And I only know of one in August. It was in Clark County, but only one-half an acre was burned. We got that one fast. It's pretty green yet, too."

So far this year, about 3,000 acres of timberland have burned in 180 fires, the Hoosier forester estimated.

"The years 1952 and 1953 were two of the worst years we've had in a long time," Young said. "We worked day and night seven days a week in the fall and spring seasons. There were fires nearly every month."

Young said there were 1,038 reported fires in 1953 which destroyed 17,557 acres of Hoosier timberland, an average of 17 acres a fire.

The year 1952 was worse yet. There were only 828 forest fires, but they burned 22,728 acres, an average of more than 27 acres a fire. Young said the damage was estimated at more than $150,000.

Might Impose Ban

Young said vegetation was particularly dry from severe drought those years. Last year it wasn't as bad.

Young, who is expounding forest fire prevention at the State Fair, said the fire record cannot be compared with other states.

"You can't compare quality and quantity," he explained. He said more acreage might be destroyed in other states, but the timber might not be as valuable as Hoosier timber.

"I believe we have the finest hardwood timber in the country—white oak, tulip poplar, red oak and black walnut."

Young said if the situation becomes serious this fall, Governor Craig could exercise his power to issue an emergency proclamation banning outdoor fires.

3,000 New Foods On Market In Decade

CHICAGO (UP) — Women are better food shoppers now than they were 10 years ago, a grocery executive says.

Alvin V. Hokanson of Chesterton, Ind., president of the National Association of Retail Grocers, says that "although today's homemaker has the advantage of modern store layout with thousands of items clearly and conveniently displayed, still she deserves credit for having developed an admirable selection technique."

Hokanson adds that it si a good thing the modern homemaker is capable of making quick decisions while shopping, because more than 3,000 new food items have been added to the grocery line in the last 10 years.

Today's grocery shopping, Hokanson says, is assured of a 50 per cent improvement in quality, quantity, variety and tastiness over the food she bought in 1939.

She was admitted to the hospital as a medical patient September 4.

The body has been taken to the Smith Funeral Home.

Number Of Milk Cows Decline During Last Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (UP) — The number of milk cows declined during the last fiscal year after two years of steady increase, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The 1.6 per cent reduction cut the number of milk cows to 22,067,000 on June 30, the department said.

It also reported a 450 million pound decline in milk output from January through July and a 30 per cent cut in price support purchases since April 1.

The department said lower prices for dairy products and serious droughts throughout many parts of the country contributed to the decrease in milk cow population. The lower returns and the higher production costs brought about by the droughts caused many farmers to sell off stock.

AdenauerRejects Red Proposal For Agreement

On Exchange Of Ambassadors

MOSCOW (UP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today rejected a Soviet proposal for an immediate agreement on the exchange of ambassadors, West German sources reported.

Details of Adenauer's reply to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin for an immediate exchange were kept highly secret, but well-informed Germans said he delivered a stern but polite rejection of any agreement on that point.

Adenauer was in the chair this morning when the Soviet-West German conferene began its second meetnig in the chandelier-hung marble room of the Czarist-built Spiridonovka Palace.

German sources said Adenauer's reply to Bulganin was hammered out in an six-hour strategy meeting Friday night aboard the 13-car special train brought here by the Germans as a "rolling embassy."

No Strings Attached

Adenauer told the Soviets in his opening policy declaration Friday that he did not intend to attach any strings to the primary objective of the conference: Discussion of establishing diplomatic, cultural and economic relations between the two nations.

But he made quite clear his position that no real "normal" relations can exist as long as thousands of Germans remain prisoners in the Communist country and the nation itself is split into two states. He appeaied to the Soviets to join the West German delegation in fruitful discussion of the whole subject.

West German sources indicated Adenauer would repeat today his assurances that West German alliance in the Western European Union (WEU) and ATO are not of an aggressive character and that WEU could form the kernal from which a real all-European security system could grow.

Adenauer was a few minutes late for the second session this morning because he paid a courtesy visit on M. P. Tarasov, deputizing for the absent Soviet President Marshal Klimenti Voroshilov.

Papers Note Omission

Both the official Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and the Communist Party newspaper Pravda took notice of the fact that Adenauer had not mentioned the "good and friendly" relations between Moscow and the East German government.

Both took exception to the fact Adenauer asserted these talks represented the first official meeting between representatives of the Soviet Union and the German people.

West German press chief Felix von Eckhard said Adenauer would have a prepared reply ready to Bulganin's statement of Friday.

Adenauer, who is chairman of today's plenary session, told the Soviets Friday he is ready to establish normal relations between the two countries without awaiting settlement of the issues of German reunification and the return of war prisoners.

EisenhowerMeets With Enthusiastic GOP Leaders

Still Does Not Tip Hand On 1956 Plans

DENVER (UP)—President Eisenhower met with enthusiastic Republican leaders from every state early today in a party pep rally that lacked only one vital ingredient — the President's agreement to run for reelection next year.

The GOP leaders, who flew here from Washington late Friday for a breakfast session with the Chief Executive, were reconciled to his decision not to tip his hand on his 1956 plans.

But that did not dampen their confidence that Mr. Eisenhower again will be there candidate or tone down their predictions of success behind him in 1956.

Views On Bolstering Party

The President was prepared to give the GOP state chairmen, led by National Republican Chiarman Leonard W. Hall, his views on what the party should do to strengthen its organization in an effort to win all the way from White House to courthouse next year.

Hall told newsmen that every precinct in every state will be manned in the 1956 elections. He admitted that was not the case last year when the GOP lost both houses of Congress to the Democrats.

The Republican state chairmen unanimously wired Mr. Eisenhower before leaving Washington Friday that they are counting on him to seek reelection next year. They brought up to date the GOP's victorious 1952 slogan by saying: "We like Ike better than ever. We are looking forward to supporting you again in 1956."

Want Answer Soon

Despite the unanimous front, however, some of the state leaders admitted privately that they want a one-way-or-the-other nod from Mr. Eisenhower as soon as possible.

Mr. Eisenhower planned to spend about two hours at the closed door party session at the Brown Palace Hotel in downtown Denver. The session was closed to the press, although the summer White House agreed to make public all or part of the President's remarks.

The President has said he does not plan to reveal his 1956 intentions until next spring. Asst. White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said that still stood.

Mr. Eisenhower has made clear several times his feeling that the party needs more young, vigorous leaders. The state chairmen, winding up a "campaign school" in Washington Friday, wired the President a promise that they will enroll 200,000 volunteer party workers between 21 and 30.

France To Give Morrocco Part Of Independence

Under New Pact Safeguarding Vital French Interests

PARIS (UP)—The French government has decided to give Morocco a large measure of independence under a new pact safeguarding vital French interests in the protectorate, it was announced today.

General of the Army Georges Catroux, special government envoy, said France plans to raise Morocco to the status of a "modern state."

He said a new treaty would be signed establishing an "interdependence" between Morocco and France, safeguarding the latter's economic, strategic, cultural and diplomatic interests.

Catroux's statement clearly implied the new treaty would supercede the 1912 pact establishing France's protectorate in Morocco.

Catroux made the statement after he and a top Foreign Ministry official, Henri Yrissou, concluded a five-day series of talks with former Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef at his place of exile in Madagascar.

The two special envoys flew to Paris today from Madagascar, where they won the ex-sultan's approval for Premier Edgar Faures Moroccan peace plan.

Hopes for a speedy solution of the crisis were soaring with the fizzling of a right-wing French Assembly revolt and a promise of support from the exiled sultan.

But French reinforcements still poured into Morocco to make certain that Sept. 12—Faure's target date for solving the crisis — does not bring a repetition of the bloodshed that has taken thousands of lives there.

New violence flared in Casablanca's central district late Friday when a home made bomb exploded, killing three Moroccans and wounding four others. France hopes to rush in 25,000 reinforcements by the Monday deadline to prevent further disorders.

The first inkling of some of Faure's actual self-rule plans for Morocco came from Rabat where semi-official sources said France had granted to Moroccans the right to join unions of their own choice.

The sources said this would come up in the form of an ahir (decree) before the Council of Visiers later today on the insistence of tough but diplomatic Pierre Boyer de La Tour du Moulin, the new resident general.

The key Moroccan problem—the departure of reigning Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa—remained unsolved. Arafa, who shot to power two years ago when Ben Youssef was deposed and exiled, is reluctant to relinquish the throne. Faure's plan hinges on his stepping down.

Convict, Shot In Back During Riot, Battles For Life

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—A Convict shot in the back in a riot of 150 prisoners who set fire to buildings at the Nebraska Reformatory battled for his life today.

Armed guards broke up the latest riot Friday with bullets and tear gas. It was the fifth outbreak at the prison since Aug. 16.

Supt. M. L. Wimberley said he would begin an investigation of the disturbance today. He believed about 23 ringleaders started the fire in the carpentry shop. Wind fanned the flames to the maintenance building, but caused slight damage.

The outbreak began about noon Friday in protest against dismissal of former Supt. George Morris, who had urged a "get tough" policy against rioters.

About 150 of the 300 prisoners staged a sitdown strike at their jobs in the morning but went to lunch on schedule.

Shortly after noon, about 20 rebels set the carpentry shop afire. The flames burned for 90 minutes. Armed guards patrolled the compound with orders from Wimberly to "be sure and be careful where you place your shots."

One inmate, Luis Morales, 28, San Antonio, Tex., was shot and taken to the prison hospital with a back wound. He underwent surgery Friday night and was reported holding his own although earlier he wasn't given a chance.

Morris with tears in his eyes, had watched the rampage from his residence across the road. He said the riot could have been prevented. He added that he was denied entrance to the prison Friday morning during the sitdown strike which he felt he could have settled.

The ouster of Morris followed his outspoken criticism against the board supervising state institutions. He claimed riots could be stopped by proper handling.

Wimberly said two prisoners who wanted to see Morris were told he no longer was on the payroll. One prisoner was quoted as saying the inmates believed Morris got a "raw deal."

Man Behind Badge

CHICAGO (UP)—Truck driver Norbert Niedziela, 24, walked up to two men on the street, flashed a badge and said he was a private detective investigating gambling and vice.

The two men flashed badges too, identifying themselves as police plainclothesmen. They hauled Niedziela off to the nearest stationhouse where he admitted getting his badge from a mail order house for $5.

Elephant Has X-Rays

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UP)—Medical scientists at Ceylon University reported today they have succeeded in x-raying an elephant but said the task was not so herculean as it might sound.

They only had to x-ray the giant mammal's tail — to see if a pin causing an infection still was there.

Why People Blush

BRISTOL, England (UP)—Psychoanalyst Dr. Joseph Sandler told the British Association for the Advancement of Science Tuesday that he has discovered many things about people who blush easily.

Most of them hate eating in public, dislike jazz, keep their things tidy and easily feel guilty, he said.

Freakish Weather Brings Threat Of Epidemic

As It Criss-Crosses The Nation Today

By UNITED PRESS

Freakish weather criss-crossed the nation today, bringing the threat of a typhoid epidemic to Raymondville, Tex., and whipping flames anew in nine major California fires.

Meanwhile, from a record high temperature the mercury was expected to plunge 50 degrees to a record low in Chicago, and the first snowflakes of the season were reported at Cut Bank, Mont.

In Raymondville, flooded with 3 to 4 feet of muddy rain waters, health and disaster authorities warned that one case of typhoid could easily touch off an epidemic and urged residents to take typhoid shots.

"Privies are overflowing all over town and water in the whole city is contaminated," said Dr. Ebony Hein, county health officer.

In California, thousands of fresh Army troops and Marines joined the battle against week-long wind-blown fires. Near Yreka, scene of one of nine major fire areas, an arsonist was sought after an infuriated ranger reported that a blaze on Scarface Mountain was "deliberately set."

There was good news in California, too. Cooling sea breezes were credited with snapping Los Angeles' worst heat wave in history Friday after it had caused 107 deaths and an estimated 25 million dollars agricultural damage.

In Chicago, residents awaited a predicted 50-degree drou in temperature, firmly convinced that nothing is impossible any more. A hot wind blew up from the Southwest Friday and sent the Windy City's temperature soaring to a record 95.

But today cold Canadian air swept toward Chicago, and the weatherman said he wouldn't be surprised if the mercury drops below the record low of 44 within hours this afternoon.

The cold air, swept along by strong north winds, already had invaded the northern Plains and central Rockies and dropped temperatures as much as 20 degrees.

Early morning readings dipped into the 30s in Montana, North Dakota and northwest Minnesota. Cut Bank, Mont., reported 32 and light snow early today.

Milk Products Show Big Sales Hike In 1954

"We'll have the federal government out of the dairy business if sales of milk products can be increased as much this year as in 1954."

Speaking during the annual dairy day at Purdue University's dairy center, Dr. Herrell DeGraff, world-known economist and Babcock professor at Cornell, praised American dairy farmers for the excellent job they have done in the past year to promote the sale of dairy products.

"A marked increase in per capita sales of milk last year moved six billion more pounds of milk into consumption. Government subsidization was cut in half from the 11.2 billion-pound high in 1953," DeGraff declared.

DeGraff, who is often termed "America's number one seller of milk," told the audience estimated at 400 persons, that the homemaker gets $1.50 in items of alternative food value, for every dollar of milk purchased.

Eleven exhibits of current interest to Hoosier dairymen were on display at the day-long event.

Silage discussions attracted the greatest attention as Purdue dairy specialists listed results of 1954-55 grass silage feeding trials and presented laboratory techniques for studying forages.

Farmers were told to "harvest grass forage before the plants flower and use an 'additive' to control fermentation." In order to demonstrate the advantage of grass silage, Purdue's dairy staff displayed "Purdue Perfection Queen," the cow that produced 38.6 pounds of milk per day with silage as the sole ration for 112 days.

Other information was given on fly control, the brucellosis eradication program, bulk milk handling, and manganese for dairy cattle.

A question and answer panel directed by Dr. Norman Lundquist, Purdue dairy specialist in charge of the event, terminated the program.

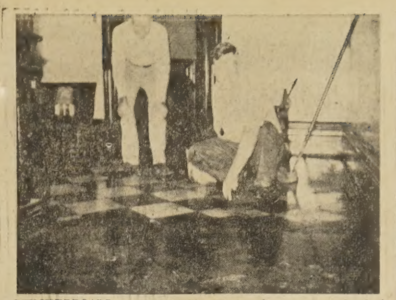
Adenauer And Soviet Leaders Agree On Continuous Relations



CHECKERBOARD SQUARES RETURN - The flooring in the county treasurer's office began to take on a new "old look" last week when Custodian John Wooten (right decided to see what the true color of the floor was. He is shown scraping some of the thick coating of oil and dirt from the floor where it had accumulated for the past several years. The "new" floor turned out to be shiney black and white squares of marble.

In the foreground can be seen an area of the floor before the thick coating had been removed. Watching the transposition is Ford Hickman, deputy county treasurer.

Wooten began removal of the crust-like substance from the floor at the request of Foster Riddick, treasurer. Riddick said he, like many other people, had forgotten what the floor "actually looked like." He thought "what better place to reveal the old floor than the treasurer's office where county residents come to pay their taxes."

Wooten used a solution of lye to remove the coating from the marble floor. He hasn't decided whether he wants to undertake the task of removing the substance from the rest of the flooring in the Courthouse, where it appears to be solid jet black.

Russian Leaders Say They Have Made Start On RelaxingCensorship

MOSCOW (UP) — Smiling Russian leaders told five visiting U.S. senators today tnat the Soviet Union had made a start on relaxing censorship.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he brought up the subject of censorship during a two-hour chat in the Kremlin with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party chief Nikita Krushchev.

The other senators present were: J. Allen Frear (R-Del), George W. Malone (R-Nev), Henry C. Dworshak R-Ida), and Milton R. Young R-D). Mrs. Malone also was present at the meeting.

Kefauver said he "pointed out that there were many U.S. press, radio and television men in Moscow, and that some of them had difficulties."

He said Khrushchev, who did most of the talking for himself and Bulganin, replied that the Soviets had been working on relaxation of censorship, "but you realize everything can't be done overnight."

Kefauver added that the party chief said the Russian government "was hoping for good results from the October foreign ministers' conference, and that censorship would be discussed there, and that meanwhile they were making progress.

Khrushchev smiled broadly as he made the statement.

Kefauver quoted Khrushchev and Bulganin as saying "they were going to progressviely revoke censorship." But Dworshak apparently understood the remarks differently. "I did not get any impression that they plan to remove censorship entirely," Dworshak said.

Other topics cropped up in the informal conversation. Young asked whether it would be possible to sell American farm surpluses to Russia. He said Khrushchev replied, "It is not only possible but desirable.' Young said the party chief told him there never had been any food crisis in Russia as Americans believed.

Dworshak said Khrushchev spoke of mutual trading in "certain raw materials and machines."

Kefauver added that Khrushchev said jokingly, "That does not mean we want to buy machines to make atomic and hydrogen bombs. We have enough of them."

Second Fire At Whiting In Two Weeks

Destroys Block-Long Three-Story Plant

WHITING, Ind. (UP)—Standard Oil Co. of Indiana officials today estimated that a fire touched off by the second explosion in two weeks at the Whiting refinery caused $50,000 to $100,000 damage.

The Aug. 27 explosion and fire killed 2 persons, injured 44, raged out of control for 36 hours, and damaged more than 10 million dollars worth of property.

Seven persons received minor injuries when Sunday's explosicn blew the roof off the filtering building and started the fire. The blaze lasted for 15 hours and spread to another three-story building in the plant before it burned itself out.

Plant firemen and workers battled the fire before bringing it under control. Company spokesman said the blast occurred after the bottom of a 12-foot cone-shaped filter gave way while it was being cleaned with pressurized steam. Naphtha fumes escaped from the cone and were ignited from a nearby gas furnace.

Ninth Annual Angus Sale Will Be Held Here On Tuesday

The Ninth Annual Whitley County Aberdeen-Angus auction will be held at the local 4-H Community Center Tuesday, beginning at 12:00 noon (DST).

Orville C. Briggs, president of the county association, and Luther Vance, sale manager, report that four bulls and 38 females will be auctioned in the sale of registered breeding stock. There will also be 47 steers sold as 4-H prospects. Col. Hamilton James, Newton, Illinois, will be the auctioneer.

In addition to the consignments of nine Whitley county Angus breeders, cattle will be entered in the sale from Berne, Milford, Warsaw, Woodburn, New Paris, North Manchester, Peru, Rochester, Plymouth, Auburn and Syracuse.

Anti-Communists Win Election In Indochina

First Election Since End Of Indochina War

PNOM PENH, Cambodia (UP)—The anti-Communist party of former King Norodom Sihanouk swept every seat today in the first Indochina election since the end of the Indochina War.

The winning of all 91 seats in the National Assembly by the ex-king's Socialist Peoples Community Party was a smashing rejection of neutralism as fostered by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru

The big loser was the neutralis Democratic Party which had a majority in the old Assembly. Party leader Son Ngoc Thanh had sought to take Cambodia into the neutralist camp with India, Burma and Indonesia.

Western observers characterized the victory as "sensational." They had expected a majority for the pro-western Norodom, but not by such a landslide. The ex-king's SPC Party took six seats out of six even in the Communist stronghold of Kampot Province.

Indiana Labor Ledger Shows Improvement With End Of Strike At The Studebaker Plant

By UNITED PRESS

The Indiana Labor ledger showed improvement today with the end of an unauthorized strike by about 9,000 CIO United Auto Workers against the Studebaker-Packard Corp. plant in South Bend.

The back-to-work movement, ordered by UAW international headnew strike by 550 workers at the quarters, more than balanced a Wesinghouse Electrical Corp. plant in Union City. The CIO-IUE workers at Union City joined a widespread walkout by Westinghouse employes in a work standards dispute.

The issues in the Studebaker dispute remained unsettled, but employes were ordered to return to work while negotiators resumed contract talks Tuesday.

A shotgun blast near New Castle signalled another outbreak of violence in the troubled CIO-UAW strike against the Perfect Circle Cor. A non-striking worker at the firms New Castle plant said he fired the shot to disperse a gang of masked men who stopped his car during the weekend.

The new contract between Chrysler Corp. and the CIO-UAW was ratified unanimously Sunday by workers at the firm's automatic transmission plant in Indianapolis. The employes had staged a wildcat walkout last week to protest the firing of a co-worker.

No progress wa sreported in the state's largest walkout of more than 12,000 workers against International Harvester Co.

Places Ninth In Hampshire Class At The State Fair

One Whitley county exhibitor was named among the winners in the Hampshire swine judging at the Indiana State Fair. Alvia C. Green, R 1, South Whitley, placed ninth with a senior boar pig in the judgeing Thursday.

Union Officials Order Waterfront Strike On Again

Because Of "Another Double Cross"

NEW YORK (UP) — Dockworkers' union officials who had called off the five-day waterfront strike Sunday night ordered it on again today because of "another double cross."

Capt. William V. Bradley, International Longshoremen's Assn. president, told longshoremen who showed up for work this morning "we had to call back the strike" because "an agreement reached by union officials and representatives of the New York State Legislative Committee last night" was broken.

The men, scheduled to resume work at 8 a.m. heeded Bradley and refused to work.

Bradley's assistant, Eexecutive Vice President Patrick J. Connolly, at one point had cancelled the strike when a staff member of the Legislature's Joint Labor and Industry Committee told the union that his committee would investigate its dispute with the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

Bradley had endorsed the strike-ending announcement.

But Bradley told the cheering longshoremen this morning that "I recommend to you men not to go back to work until a special mass meeting is held in the near future."

The strike had been called off because of the reported promise of Marshall M. Miller, the committee staff member, that the union's grievances would be investigated. The committee chairman said later Miller had no authority to make such a promise.

The longshoremen walked out last Wednesday in protest against the bi-state commission and demanded that Govs. Averell Harriman of New York and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey investigate its operations.

Both governors refused to grant the union's demand.

Courthouse Custodian Suffers Broken Toe In Fall At Home Monday

John Wooten, County Courthouse custodian, suffered a broken toe on his right foot in a fall Monday morning at his home at 107 West Market street. He was taken to Whitley County Hospital where the toe was put back in place.

Wooten, who began a week's vacation Monday, said that he tripped as he descended from steps leading from a hallway to the dining room which in on a lower level in the house. He said that his wife, who also assists him in work at the work at the Courthouse, had just waxed the steps "and they were kinda slippery".

The accident delayed the Wooten's vacation plans, since they were preparing to leave on a week's fishing trip near Cosperville. However, Wooten said that he and Mrs. Wooten still are planning to go, despite the broken toe.

Death Of Charles H. McKenna Is Sudden Saturday

Manager Of The Northern Indiana Public Service Company

Charles H. McKenna

Charles H. McKenna, 52, manager for the past 15 years of the Northern Indiana Public Service Company in Columbia City, died at 11:15 a.m. Saturday at Whitley County Hospital.

Taken ill at his home at 212 East Jefferson street, Mr. McKenna, known to friends in this city as "Pat". was taken to the hospital. Death came unexpectedly a short time after he was admitted to the hospital.

He had been a resident of Columbia City for the past 26 years, coming to this city from Fort Wayne. He had formerly resided in Tiffin, Ohio and at Cleveland.

In July, 25 years ago Mr. McKenna was married to Miss Charlotte, Stemen of this city at Flint, Mich. She survives with two daughters, Mrs. Paul H. Gross, Columbia City, and Mrs. Harry O. Leader, Kankakee, Ill., and a grandson Timothy Charles Leader.

Other survivors are a brother William McKenna of Wayne, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Rollie McDermott of McCutcheonville, Ohio.

He was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, the Elks Lodge, the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, the Boy Scout Association, and was active in the Bowling and Golf Association. He was a former member of the Fire Department.

Elk Twlight services will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Hollingsworth Memorial Chapel. Memorial services will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the mortuary, the Rev. G. L. Kleespie officiating. Committal services will be held in Greenhill cemetery.

Fire Damages Paul Redman Home Early Monday Morning

Fire which spread from a defective flue above a basement furnace caused extensive damage to the home of Paul Redman, 212 East Market street, early Monday morning.

City firemen were called to the residence about 1:30 a.m. when Redman awakened and was prevented from entering the basement by smoke. When the firemen arrived, they found a large area in the basement ceiling above the furnace aflame and spreading fast. The fire had burned through to the floor above in at least one case.

It appeared that the flames had spread through a hole in a metal covering over an outlet in the flue.

The firemen were able to enter the smoke-filled basement with the use of fresh-air packs which were procured by the department recently. The packs provide about one-half hour of fresh air and allow the user to work freely where the air is polluted with any foreign mass. It was the first time the packs had been used under such conditions by the department.

Weather Kicks Up Trouble In Parts Of U. S.

Texas Braces For Squalls, California Fights Forest Fires

By UNITED PRESS

Cold Canadian air brought crisp, fall-like temperatures to the eastern half of the nation today.

But elsewhere, the weather was kicking up trouble.

In Texas, coastal regions and the Rio Grande Valley braced for more squalls from an easterly tropical wave which loomed over the Gulf of Mexico.

In California, firefighters battled flames whipped by 30-mile-an-hour winds in four blazing forest fires.

Los Angeles, meanwhile, prepared for a new smog attack and a resurgence of its heat wave which ended after 10 days last Friday. The expected high today was 94.

The smog attack was predicted by the Air Pollution Control District, which said a smog alert may be called. Local fire departments were asked not to issue burning permits, and the public was requested to eliminate burning and unnecessary driving in the Los Angeles area.

The gulf squalls appeared headed for the disaster-struck littl etown of Raymondville, Tex., which was flooded by squalls from tropical storm Gladys last week.

At last word, the wave stretched from Port O'Connor, Tex., to a point 150 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico from Tampico, Mex., whirling the sea with 35-mile-an-hour winds and blowing up tides two to three feet above normal.

Nearly three inches of rain fell on Raymondville Sunday. causing disaster headquarters set up to handle flood victims to be overloaded again.

Stagnant floodwaters that inundated some streets were receding, but a typhoid epidemic still threatened because of contaminated watrs. About 4,000 typhoid shots were given.

In California, most of the fires which have raged for nearly 10 days in national forests appeared to be under control. But four large blazes stayed alive because of high temperatures and low humidities.

Firefighters were also searching for an arsonist who set 10 potentially dangerous fires along a road near Grass Valley in remote Nevada County.

3 Youths Admitted To County Hospital Following Accident

Three Columbia City youths were admitted to Whitley County Hospital about 10:30 a.m. Sunday suffering from minor injuries received in a one-car accident earlier on the county road about two miles west of State Road 109 and Cresco.

Emily and Randall Carpenter and Alfred Poffenberger were the occupants of the vehicle. Emily and Randall are children of Mrs. Bessie Carpenter, 108½ East Van Buren street. Alfred is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poffenberger, 204 Brownwood Ave.

According to hospital officials, Emily Carpenter, 15, complained of back pains her brother, 16, suffered abrasions of the knees and Poffenberger, 14, suffered a cut on the forehead.

The three were brought to the hospital by an un-identified farmer, it was reported. Therefore, it is not known who was driving the vehicle or how the accident occurred. It was reported by persons who saw the car that the driver was evidently forced off the road or lost control of the car and hit a steel culvert.

Meeting Place Changed

The Northeast Prayer Group of Trinity Methodist church will meet at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning with Mrs. Augusta Lundblad instead of the home of Mrs. Steve Ruckman.

Mrs. Zeigler is the former Emma Lou Workman.

U.S. Army Drops Cases Of 47 Former POWs

Who Were Suspected Of Collaboration

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army has dropped the cases of 47 former prisoners of war suspected of collaboration with their Communist captors in Korea and cleared six others, it was learned today.

The six were cleared by Army board action. The 47 cases were dropped for lack of evidence.

The Army now has 54 cases still pending under investigation or trial.

Of the 565 former POWs of the Army, Air Force and Marine Corps who were investigated for possible collaboration, 428 now have been cleared or their cases dropped. This number includes 3 Army men acquitted by court-martial.

Eight men, all Army, have been convicted by court-martial of various offenses including the writing of pro-Communist documents and the murder of fellow prisoners. They have received sentences ranging from dismissal to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's advisory committee on the prisoner of war problem reported that as of July 20, the Army still had 112 cases under investigation. All other services had completed action on all its cases.

Of the Army's 112, it was learned today, 47 have been dropped for lack of evidence, 2 have been convicted and 2 acquitted by court-martial, 6 have been cleared and 1 dismissed by action of the Army's security board, and 54 cases still are pending.

Among the Army's opening cases, charges already have been filed in at least eight, including the case of Maj. Ronald E. Alley, 34, Bar Harbor, Maine now standing court-martial at Ft. Meade, Md.

North Webster Couple Parents Of Second Son

A second son, David Jan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Reasoner, North Webster, at 6:23 p.m. Friday at Whitley County Hospital. He weighed 8 pounds 10¼ ounces and also has two sisters.

The mother is the former Jean Trumbull.

League Detects Public Change Of Attitude Toward Death Penalty In The United States

By HENRY MINOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

BOSTON (UP) —The American League to Abolish Capital Punishment has detected a "change of attitude" toward the death penalty in the United States and believes the time is ripe to step up its campaign against the gallows, gas chamber and electric chair.

Mrs. Herbert B. Ehrmann, executive director of the league and wife of a prominent Boston attorney, will fly to Des Moines, Iowa this month to lobby for her cause at a meeting of the American Correctional Congress.

She doesn't hope for any miracles. No state has abolished capital punishment since 1918. But she expects to find sympathy if not formal support among the wardens, reformatory officials and other penologists at the Des Moines meeting opening Sept. 27.

Change of Attitude

"There's been a change of attitude on the part of the public toward capital punishment," Mrs. Ehrmann said in the tiny office above a printshop where she functions as the guiding spirit of the league.

"More public officials are speaking out against it. There aren't as many executions every year. Juries seem more inclined to recommend clemency. The gas chamber is being substituted for hanging or the electric chair in some states because people think it's more humane."

Between Bonn And Moscow Says Chancellor

Exact Form Not Decided Definitely

By KENNETH BRODNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer informed the western Big Three foreign ministers that direct, continuous relations between Bonn and Moscow have been agreed upon by him and the Soviet leaders, it was reported today.

The contacts will not be formal diplomatic relations at first. The exact form they will take has not yet been decided definitely.

Adenauer told Ambassadors Charles E. Bohlen of the United States, Sir William Hayter of Great Britain and Louis Joxe of France that three forms of direct continuing contacts were being considered.

These included: working committees, "political agents," and trade committees, with the possibility that any or all three might be used.

Details Not Revealed

It also was understood from diplomatic quarters that Adenauer has agreed to join in discussions with East Germany and the Soviet Union on the question of freeing German prisoners still held by the Kremlin.

But these talks were to be purely on an informal and technical level, with the clear understanding that they would imply absolutely no recognition of any kind by West Germany of the East German regime.

It was further understood by diplomatic sources that the United States has no objections to such talks held under such conditions.

The details of when, where and by whom the talks will be held thus far have not been revealed.

Earlier, it was reported that Adenauer planned to invite Soviet leaders to visit Bonn as the first step in establishing "limited" diplomatic relations. He was reported still opposed to establishment of full diplomatic relations.

$433 Judgment Made Against Local Roofer For Balance Of Note

Oren Sheets, Columbia City roofing contractor, was ordered to pay $433.13 to the Interstate Finance Company of Fort Wayne when he was found guilty Tuesday in Whitley County circuit court for non-payment of a promissory note. The judgment represents $266.67 principal and $166.46 interest since March 3, 1954, the date of the last payment on the note.

The suit by the finance company to collect the amount due on the note was filed in court December 2, 1954.

Hutchins Says Collins Uninformed On Purpose Of Fund

NEW YORK (UP) —The president of the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Republic said Sunday night that American Legion Commander Seaborn P. Collins was "uninformed when he charged the organization is undermining the nation's security.

Fund President Robert M. Hutchins said, "it is too bad that Mr. Collins did not bother to try to find out the purposes and activities of the fund before he attacked it."

"The fund is dedicated to the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution."

Collins in a warning to three million legion members from Washington charged the fund is undermining the nation's security by attacking foes of communism and by "trying to propagandize Americans into believing that communism never has been and is not now a threat to this country."

"By shrewd grants and expenditures, the Fund for the Republic is threatening and may succeed in crippling the national security," he said.

Collins also said the 15 million dollar fund is attempting to make Americans believe "sinister forces under the pretext of fighting communism are the real danger and threaten the civil liberties of all."

The Ford Foundation created the fund in 1952 to study civil liberties and support activities fighting restrictions of thought.

One of its recent projects was a study of 50 cases involving security risk charges against government employes. The study showed the suspects had been questioned on everything from their premarital sex experience to the security aspects of meat testing.

The fund's latest grant was $25,000 to the Stanford University Law School to have testimony of leading witnesses on communism analyzed.

Britain To Carry Out New Atomic Tests Next Year

LONDON (UP)—Britain will carry out new atomic tests in the Monte Bello islands off Australia and in the Australian desert next year, it was announced today.

The Ministry of Supply said that the third series of British atomic tests would be carried out at Monte Bello in April of next year. A fourth "set of tests" will be conducted later in the year at Maralinga in the central Australian desert, the announcement said.

A ministry spokesman said the new tests "definitely will include no thermonuclear (H-bomb) explosion," even though Britain already has announced it is building the H-bomb.

"Of course every atomic explosion contributes some knowledge on the other type of explosion," the spokesman said.

Designers Develop Marilyn Monroe Shape Jet Plane

WASHINGTON (UP) — Aircraft designers have developed a revolutionary new "Marilyn Monroe" shape jet plane capable of boosting top air speeds 25 per cent.

The design narrows the plane's fuselage where the wings are joined. Its purpose is to cut down the "drag" which takes effect at supersonic speeds.

The long - secret development was disclosed last week by Aero Digest, an aircraft industry trade mwgazine. It was confirmed Sunday by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautucs.

The advisory committee said the first two military planes to use the new design have pushed up top air speeds "as much as 25 per cent."

The ACA said the scientific term for the design is "wrea rule," a principle developed by Richard T. Whitcomb, 34-year-old scientist at the NACA's Langley Aeronautical Laboratory.

The ACA described "area rule" as being "a rational way of reducing very greatly the sharp drag rise which occurs at transonic speeds."

Another Crockett Story

MEMPHIS, Tenn — (UP) — Two-year-old Patricia Ann Fields took the choir director at his word when he told the congregation, "Let's all sing."

While church members began, "Give me that oldtime religion," Particia Ann gave out with a shrill, 'Davee, Davee, Crockett, king of the wild frontier."

An older sister, Mary, nine put her hand over Partricia Ann's mouth.

Patricia Ann bit her.

Milwaukee Dog Is Steady Church-Goer

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — A Canadian husky dog named Brownie probably goes to church more than most people do.

Brownie is owned by the Rev. Thomas A. Madden, an Episcopal minister.

Brownie hasn't missed a sermon, wedding or baptism in the past eight years at St. John's Episcopal Church. His master always takes Brownie to the services and lets him stay at the altar.

When he first picked up Brownie as a stray and adopted him, the minister was afraid the congreattion might not approve of the dog's appearances in church. But the parishioners also adopted Brownie without question, and they bring him cookies and bags of bones.

Brownie remains quiet throughout the services, and nobody objects if he curls up for a snooze during the sermon.

What Is Right?

Lesson for September 18, 1955

THE most dangerous notion in the world is that "right" and "wrong" do not mean anything at all but "I like it" and "I don't like it." When people begin to think along that line, all the walls are down, they have made the surrender of their character. Right and wrong do mean something, and all the slippery philosophies to the contrary notwithstanding, a person who is blind to these green and red lights is headed straight into trouble. Even when people are professing not to see any sense in those great words, for themselves, however, they do see how important they are for others.

Dr. Foreman

Doing As Everybody Does

One of the wrong ways to find out what's right and what's not, is the simple, easy, and foolish method of counting noses. That is, some people will think anything at all is right if enough people do it. At the lowest level, take some primitive tribe in Borneo where men are admired in proportion to the number of heads—human heads—they have cut off and brought home. The "best citizens" of such communities are the most murderous! Now it has not occurred yet to some of those people that this killing is wrong; everybody does it, everybody has always done it, so it must be right. At the upper level, or at higher levels anyhow, take some American school or college where more than two-thirds of the students cheat on examinations. Everybody does it, the freshman is told, so it must be all right. In the same community, perhaps, people who should know better will indulge in liquor just because "everybody" does it. But you cannot make a wrong thing right by addition.

ers had failed—or not even tried? The answer, in one sentence, is: Nehemiah was the kind of executive who can make hindrances and handicaps work for him instead of against him. One of the handicaps obviously was the many jealous divisions among the people. The class-spirit can be shown just as easily in a group of castaways on a desert island, as it can in New York. Nehemiah knew all about this; and he organized his wall-builders by groups according to their occupation. The goldsmiths built here, and the priests built there, and so on. No group wanted to be outdone by any other group, so they all pushed on till it was done. It takes healthy competition to bring out what people can really do.

Fear Can Be Useful

Perhaps the big reason why the wall had never been built was that the people, ill-equipped and leaderless, knew that their watchful enemies would not want Jerusalem to rise again. They were afraid of "reprisals" or raids from one place or another, if they really set to work to build a real city again. Now Nehemiah did not wait till they got over being scared. They never would. So he (so to speak) tied that scare to their coat-tails, like a pack of fire-crackers. He ordered the citizens, as far as it was practical, to build the part of the wall nearest to where they lived. Every man and woman (yes, there were women) working on the wall would think: If this section of wall goes down, my own home will be the first one pillaged! So of course these scared people worked like mad, each one determined that if the wall gave way anywhere, it wouldn't be near his house.

Putting Human Nature To Work

All that business about the spears, and other army equipment—ordering half the people to stand by in battle dress while the rest worked on the wall—may have scared off the enemy raiders; but it did something else: it got the wall built in an amazingly short time. Just the sight of those spears would put everybody into high gear. They wanted to finish that wall before the battle started. It never started; but Nehemiah's dramatic mobilization, kept those amateur wall-builders going from dawn till dark. So Nehemiah showed in his time what the best executives have always shown: the skill to use human nature as it is, on the hoof. Executives—governors, presidents, heads of corporations, bishops—could doubtless get better results with better people.

Hoosier Farmers Puzzled Over Ag Department Estimate

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Hoosier farmers scratched their heads today wondering how the Agriculture Department's Sept. 1 estimate of their 1955 corn crop remained the same as the Aug. 1 estimate despite weeks of rainless weather.

The department announced Friday the current estimate was 275,595,000 bushels for Indiana, exactly the same as the estimate one month earlier before a dry spell set in over most of the state except the northeast portion.

A yield bearing out the current estimate would make this the greatest Hoosier corn crop on record and exceed last year's output by about 20 million bushels.

Estimates for seven states in the nine-state corn belt were reduced between August and September Only Indiana and Ohio escaped. Ohio estimate was increased by more than 11 million bushels.

While Indiana's estimate was holding its own, Iowa's fell by 140 million bushels and Illinois' by 38 million. Wisconsin, Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska and South Dakota estimates also were cut.

Experts reported only Friday that the dry weather in Indiana since early August—and late July in some areas—apparently hampered good pollination and left unfilled cobs and shriveled grains.

It was recalled, however, that in 1953 when Hoosierland had a similar dry spell in August and September after normal rainfall earlier in the growing season, the Agriculture Department's September estimate was similar to its August estimate and a reduction in the estimate followed in the October appraisal. However, the reduction was not as great as many farmers had expected it to be.

Negroes Seeking Unsegregated Schools Are Reported Fired

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — More than half of a group of Alabama Negroes who signed a petition seeking unsegregated schools today were reported fired and boycotted by white employers.

The petition presented to the city school board last Monday at Selma, Ala., bore the names of 29 Negroes. Chairman Alston Keith of the Dallas County Citizens' Council made "an educated guess" that 16 have since been fired.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People disclosed at its headquarters in New York that a plan for defensive action in the form of counter-boycotts is afoot.

Although the incident appeared thus far to be an isolated one, the setting is already duplicated in scores of other communities throughout 13 southern states.

The reliable Southern School News published at Nashville, Tenn. reported earlier this month that similar petitions of Negroes seeking admission to white schools are on file with 188 local school boards in the region.

Many of those localities are sites of the white citizens' councils whose pioneer organizers in Mississippi openly proposed economic boycott as a primary weapon against desegregation moves.

NAACP attorneys commenting on the Selma situation said the NAACP would stand by any Negroes who lose their jobs because of the petitions but has no job-placement service to help them.

The NAACP has chosen petitions as a mainstay of its prospective campaign to win integration decrees in local courts but will have to depend on counter-economic measures to protect the petitioners, the attorneys said.

The number of firings could not be verified immediately but among those reached for confirmation thus far were three, a maid and two laborers, who claimed they lost their jobs as a result of the petitions.

In addition, two barbers said they were advised to find new locations for their shops. Four other signers said they had not been subjected to any form of reprisals.

Keith denied the citizens' council had anything to do with the dismissals but said several of the employers involved were among the chapter's 1,300 members.

Supt. W. E. Suggs said that four other signers came to him asking that their names be withdrawn from the petition, saying they were misled about its contents when they signed it.

The first free diagnostic cancer clinic in the United States was opened in Columbus, O., in 1921.

Working Girl Works If She's A Typist

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. —(UP) — Pity the poor working girl — if she pounds the typewriter.

The average typist performs 14,745,000 operations on a machine each year, according to the testing laboratory of International Business Machines. The laboratory used a robot operator for its research.

It found that the average typist hits the keys— right or wrong — 11,150,000 times a year. And the hardest part of her job is the carriage return — she averages 268,000 a year.

Berlin Fashions Regaining Status

BERLIN — (UP) —West Berlin is out to make its fashions as popular as those from Paris and New York.

The city's clothing industry which before World War Two was the largest on the European continent, has made a startling comeback in the six years since the blockade was lifted. Today, some 450 firms employ more than 45,000 persons.

Berlin garment firms last year sold more than $4,000,000 in ready-made clothes to the United States, central Europe, Scandinavia, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and Jordan. They expect to double export sales in 1955.

Total sales, most of them in Western Germany, have more than tripled. This year they are expected to top $175,000,000.

The United States, in its program to help put West Berlin back on its own feet, has poured some $2,500,000 in funds and grants to buy machinery and modernize plants.

A similar sum has been set aside by the U.S. foreign aid administration to cover half of the costs for building a garment center in the heart of downtown Berlin.

The project calls for two large 12 and 16-story houses and several smaller buildings in the immediate vicinity of the city's zoological gardens, not more than a stone-throw from Kurfuerstendamm, Berlin's counterpart of New York's Fifth Avenue.

About one third of the major firms plan to move to the center.

Plans for a second and smaller project, located about a mile away at Nuernberger Platz, are under way. Several bombed-out buildings will have to be removed to make room for a production and administration center.

Berlin's garment industry, unlike that of Paris, does not specialize in expensive models. Its main product is medium-priced ready-to-wear clothes.

Good workmanship helped Berlin's clothing industry win back markets in central and northern Europe, but prospective buyers have told manufacturers to use brighter colors, if they want to reach the fashionable woman in the United States, Britain and Canada.

Exports to the United States still are negligible.

But two firms, the high-quality houses of Heinz Oestergaard and Susanne Erikson, Miss Germany of 1952, have opened a drive for business in New York's Fifth Avenue stores.

Heavy Quake Rocks Nile River Delta

CAIRO (UP) — A heavy earthquake rocked the Nile River delta from Cairo to Alexandria today and four schools were reported to have collapsed here.

The Ministry of the Interior announced that 10 persons, including 9 schoolgirls, were killed in Cairo, 5 in Damanhour and 3 in Tanta. Eleven persons were reported injured in Tanta, 6 in Damanhour and 8 in the province of Menufia. A communique said 65 were injured in Cairo, where the school girls were killed when their kindergarten in the Daher area was damaged by the quake.

The government information office said the Daher school opened its academic year this morning and became a scene of panic when the quake struck. Walls of the 50-year-old building began to shake and the girls stampeded in terror from their classrooms.

Trying to reach safety, the children jammed onto the stairway and broke the railing. Many of them plunged to the floor below.

In safety it's the little things that count, says Indiana Traffic Safety Foundation. A little more following distance, a little more room in passing, a little quicker on the brake, a little more attention to driving and, above all—a little less speed. Slow Down and Live.

Light Frost Touches Parts Of Indiana

By UNITED PRESS

A "cold wave" covered Indiana today, dropping temperatures nearly 65 degrees from a sizzling 99 at Evansville Friday to a low barely above 32-freezing in the north portion.

The lowest temperatures of the season spawned a light frost which touched greenery as far south as points below Indianapolis.

Lafayette had a 37 low and Huntington reported 36 with general frost. Huntington tomato growers said the forst was not heavy enough to damage their crops.

Light rains accompanied the cold wave late Saturday and early Sunday, with the north and east-central parts of the state recording the heaviest fall. Knightstown had 1.30 of an inch, Ridgeville 1.35 and South Bend and Fort Wayne .87 and .75, respectively. Knightstown also had hail.

Rainfall in the central and south portions of the state was sparse with Indianapolis registering .05 of an inch and Evansville .01.

The weatherman forecast mostly fair and somewhat warmer through Tuesday. He said temperatures will range from 68 north to 73 south today. Lows tonight will range from 43 to 48.

Tuesday's high temperatures will range from 72 north to 79 south.

Coolest spot in the state today was Lafayette with a chilly 37. The warmest low was 48 at Fort Wayne. The Indianapolis low of 40 set an all-time record for Sept. 12.

Highs Sunday ranged from a 74 at Indianapolis and Fort Wayne, to a 65 at South Bend.

East Meets West From Face Makeup To Home Furnishings

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—A week in Manhattan:

East is meeting West these days in everything from face makeup to home furnishings.

The mandarin collar is the least of it, though in the fashion department this Oriental standby is around in new versions. But we'll be seeing more sari-type evening dresses than even a one- world promoter could have envisioned.

The Indian sari, a filmy robe embroidered in gold that drapes gracefully around the body, has been adapted for budget cocktail dresses and custom-made evening gowns.

Goddess Of Joy

At the close of the custom fashion collection at Bergdorf Goodman this week, the traditional show-closing wedding dress was missing and an evening dress of filmy, pleated fabric named for Nandi, the Hindu goddess of joy, was substituted.

Home furnishings, both the fabrics and the furniture, have their new Oriental look too. One decorator fabric company introduced this week a collection of coverings for sofas and windows inspired by Marco Polo and his adventures in the Far East. The colors are melon pink and bronzed gold and other delicate, muted shades that remind the homeowner of the sun-bleached colors of the orient.

Much Use Of Cane

A furniture company begins a week-long show Monday of its Far Eastern collection — teak good storage chests with half - moon drawer pulls; tables inlaid with sunburst patterns and much use of cane in delicate chairs.

As for races — we're supposed to fade from summer sun tans to exotic paleness, the cosmetics people say, and use silvery-toned eye shadow and upturned lines at the outer corners of the eyes to accent the Oriental look.

Women aren't the only ones worried about reconditioning their sunburned skins. The Gourelli Groom Shop here, a strictly male appearance-improving salon, is featuring facials of active ozone cream to smooth sun-flaked skins.

Largest Pin Oak Tree Is In Pennsylvania

ST. DAVIDS, Pa. —(UP) — The lawn of a Main Line home here has the largest recorded pin oak tree in the United States.

The American Forestry Association declared the huge oak the national champion of its species after its dimensions—limb-spread, 135 feet; base circumference, 264 inches; breast-heighth circumference, 192 inches—were forwarded by its owner, James W. Ritter.

Press As You Sew For Tailor-Made Look

MADISON, Wis. — (UP) — Home-sewn garments can have that professional look, if you press as you sew.

Gladys Meloche, clothing specialist at the University of Wisconsin, says the trick is to press each part of the garment before it is joined to another. After making a seam, open it and press it flat before going to another seam. press in the same direction as stiched.

Curved areas which fit the rounded parts of the body need to be shaped. That is done by using a pressing cushion to get rounded darts and sleeve caps.

Hollywood Couple Has Do-It-Yourself Movie, Nets Fortune

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — The "do-it-yourself" craze is nearly demolishing American homes, but one Hollywood couple has come up with a "do-it-yourself" movie that is netting them a small fortune.

After eight years of working in studios, Andrew and Virginia Stone figured how to make a movie at home all by themselves.

They produced, wrote, directed and edited the film and never went near a studio. They shot the picture in real houses and on real streets, and even cut the film on a billiard table in their basement playroom.

The result: "The night holds Terror," a tidy, suspense picture released by Columbia Pictures. Critics praised it as one of the "sleeper' films of the year. And Hollywoodites are open-mouthed at the success of the well-made picture for the astounding budget of $78,000.

I visited the Stone menace to see how they make movies at home, and they turned out to be the most unusual producers in town.

Just One Of The Family

Their large, traditional - style home in Westwood Village is a two - person studio. Andrew, "a veteran screenwriter, wrote the script for "The Night Holds Terror' in his den. Meanwhile, Virginia went out to buy one dress for the leading lady, New York TV actress Hildy Parks, at a local store.

Instead of building expensive sets, she scouted a likely neighborhood and "started ringing doorbells."

"Some people just slammed the door in my face, but I finally found two couples who let us shoot in their houses for $75 a day," she said.

"While we shot, the families were right there, cooking, having family squabbles."

The Stones hired a camera crew of 17 (studios use 60 persons and up). In 18 days, they filmed "The Night Holds Terror" with such newcomers as Vince Edwards.

Loaned The Money

"When studios shoot on location they take over a store on Sundays or at night and bring along big lights and extras,' said Stone.

"We went on weekdays and shot with natural light when people actually were in the stores. We shot scenes in the telephone company and police headquarters while employees were at work. After we finished the picture, we held a preview for all the people who let us use their homes and stores as sets. They were very excited."

Virginia, a former film editor, cut the picture in the basement playroom between cooking and caring for the couple's two small boys.

Columbia Studio enthusiastically gave the Stones money to make their "do-it-yourself" movie and "let us have complete freedom."

"They never asked to see one foot of film or wondered what we were doing," said Stone. It's unheard of for a studio to do that.

"We think our system is movie-making in its purest essense. We're starting another.'

Police Called In On Baby-Sitter Problem

SAGINAW, Mich. —(UP) —Parents in Saginaw have been urged to teach their children to call the police in case of trouble.

A four-year-old boy was so instructed and tried to use his new-found knowledge to solve his "baby-sitter problem."

The lad called police and told them to pick up a baby-sitter who was causing trouble. The trouble, he explained after much prodding, was that the baby-sitter had made him go to bed.

153 And 44 Are Your Want Ad Numbers

JACKIE GLEASON HONORED: For his "generous services in behalf of polio victims," Jackie Gleason, above right, was presented with an acknowledgment award of the national Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation, Minneapolis, Minnesota, by Marvin L. Kline, executive director. In a TV appeal for public contributions to the 1955 annual Kenny fund, Gleason points to the Kenny Treatment for polio victims as their best chance for return to normal living. Kline, in thanking Gleason for his help, declared that Kenny facilities across the country continue to provide treatment to victims of polio and to rehabilitate persons crippled by the disease in the past.

Kenny Therapist Role Important In Treatment of Polio Patients

Minneapolis, Minn.—The training of highly-specialized Kenny Therapists to carry out the physical treatment of all phases of polio continues as one of the major activities of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation.

Kenny Therapists are registered nurses or physical therapists, male or female, who have received additional post-graduate training under scholarships provided by the Kenny Foundation. The course is of 18 months' duration, with nurses required to take an additional 12 months of physical therapy training at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

HELP CONTINUE POLIO TREATMENT Give
SISTER KENNY FOUNDATION

The acutely-ill polio patient, shortly after admission to a Kenny center, is placed under care of a Kenny Therapist who works with him daily, under medical supervision, up to the time of discharge, administering the technique as taught by the late Sister Kenny. Treatment administered by the Kenny Therapist is aimed at re-educating muscles and teaching patients to use in the most-effective manner possible their remaining muscle strength.

The Kenny Therapist instructs the nurse in correct body position for the patient and range of motion for the affected areas. For some types of cases, exercises for strengthening the uninvolved parts are started at this time also.

Kenny polio patients receive constant attention from a group of pediatricians who are responsible for the over-all direction of the treatment program. Quite commonly, special medical problems arise, requiring the transplanting of a muscle by the orthopedist, the provision of a special airway by an Ear, Nose and Throat specialist or, as has happened, the delivery of a baby by an obstetrician while the mother is confined to an iron lung. Perhaps a patient may need the aid of a psychiatrist or a urologist.

The Kenny Therapist is aware that she must have her patient's confidence to achieve maximum results from the knowledge and skill which she possesses. Patients are treated as individuals and given constant encouragement but are not permitted to build up hopes beyond a practical and reasonable goal.

There is no charge for the Kenny treatment. Admission to Kenny hospitals or treatment centers is through referral by a doctor.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

Since hand-crocheted and hand-knit clothes are receiving wide acceptance among women for both day and evening wear, the crocheted and knitted look in hats and bags is also gaining favor. Both large and small hats, handmade from cotton or wool yarns are finding their fashionable place on many a pretty head. On some of the stylish chapeaux you will see knitted or crocheted trimmings. The hats which are all handmade are sometimes given firm contours by way of satin or felt skirting. This is especially true of the large crocheted or knitted hats which are being seen in many of the new fashion collections.

SMART AND SPEEDY

In addition to the fact that crocheted headgear is attractive to wear, it is easy to make . . . and quick. Crochet, in its recent associations with speed, is taking a cue from jet propulsion. Crochet cottons and yarns have been developed to speed up your crocheting, and new designs have been created to facilitate faster, easier needlework. This hat, for instance, can be crocheted in as little time as 90 minutes! Before you have time to worry about not having a new hat to match your outfit, you can crochet a smart model that will put you in style.

PILL BOX ENSEMBLE

Hat and bag yarn and grosgrain ribbon are used to fashion this neat ensemble. Rounds of single crochets are made to form the crown of the pill box hat and pouch part of the drawstring bag. Each accessory features a band of cluster stitches with a row of meshes through which the grosgrain ribbon is laced. The ribbon is tied in a pert bow at the front of the hat. A drawstring is laced through the beading at top of bag. The complete instructions for making this PILL BOX HAT AND BAG for your wardrobe may be obtained from the Needlework Department of this paper. To get a copy, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for Leaflet No. 107.17.

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS TO HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Women's Relief Corps will hold a birthday party Tuesday evening at the IOOF hall in honor of those with birthdays in July, August, and September.

A potluck supper will be served at 6:30.

MISSION CIRCLE TO OBSERVE FAMILY NIGHT

Family night will be observed Wednesday evening at the church by the Mission Circle of the First Church of God.

A carry-in supper will be served at 6:30 in the church social room.

National Guardsmen Patrol Institutions As Precaution

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Two penal institutions here were reported "quiet" today after the latest of five riots in less than a month.

But National Guardsmen armed with carbines and submachine guns were on patrol as a precautionary measure.

The troops were dispatched to the Nebraska Men's Reformatory after 150 prisoners set fire to a prison building over the weekend, causing an estimated $35,000 damage. One prisoner was shot during the uprising, and about 25 "suspected ringleaders" were placed in segregation cells.

National Guardsmen have already been on duty at the Nebraska Penitentiary since the first of a series of riots occurred Aug. 16. Prisoners caused more than $110,000 damage during that riot. Other uprisings followed, at both the reformatory and the penitentiary.

Manchester College President Schwalm To Greet Visitors

NORTH MANCHESTER — Dr. V. F. Schwalm, president of Manchester college will extend greetings from the college to all visitors at the National Plowing contest, to be held near Urbana, Friday afternoon at 1:05 p.m. He will also introduce the Manchester College A Cappella choir, immediately preceding their performance.

Now beginning his 15th year as president of Manchester College. Dr. Schwalm is recognized by his colleagues as an able administrator and educator. Previously, he served the college as dean for ten years and four years as professor of history. In addition, he was president of McPherson College, Kansas, for 14 years.

Dr. Schwalm holds his M.A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Chicago, and was awarded the L.L.D. degree from Juniata College, Huntington, Pennsylvania, in 1943. He has written numerous articles, sermons and books, his latest being a biography on the late Otho Winger, former president of Manchester college for 30 years. Dr. Schwalm is also a member of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren, and serves as chairman of the Foreign Missions Commission.

Exhibition Opens At Manchester College By Chinese Artist

Opening the 1955-56 art exhibition series at Manchester College will be the showing of a group of 29 block prints by the outstanding contemporary Chinese - American artist, Seong Moy, announced Prof. Max Allen, head of the department of art at Manchester.

This show is being held in the Winger Memorial Recital Hall at the college and will be open to the public through Friday, September 23. Visitors may view the exhibit until 10:00 p.m. each weekday and Sundays.

Prizes and recognitions for Mr. Moy's paintings and block prints have been numerous and include competitions in all of the major showings from coast-to-coast, according to Professor Allen.

Mr. Moy was born in Canton China, in 1921 and in 1931 settled in St. Paul, Minnesota, where he lived until 1909. His present home is New York Cnty, where he works and teaches. As recently as the summer of 1953, Mr. Moy was artist-residence teacher at Indiana University.

During World War II he served as photographer for the U.S. Air Force in the China-Burma theatre.

Mr. Moy's style of designing in his prints is distinctly individual and highly expressive of a controlled freedom found in the early works of his ancestors, stated Professor Allen. Spontaniety, bold aggressive coloring, and a happy, free interpretation of subject matter marks all of the items in the exhibition.

Indiana Has Three Traffic Fatalities During Weekend

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana squeezed through the weekend with only three fatal traffic accidents—something that happens only a few times a year.

Vicky Fawbush, 11, Decatur, was killed when a trailer in which she was riding was struck by a car near Decatur. The trailer, loaded with tomatoes, was being pulled by a tractor on U.S. 224.

Gabriel Cherody, 70, St. Joseph County, was killed when a car and a truck collided on Ind. 2 west of South Bend during a heavy rain.

James C. Reynolds, 26, Anderson, was killed when a car ran a traffic light south of Anderson on Ind. 67 and hit a truck.

Bluffton Street Fair Is One Jump Ahead Of State

BLUFFTON, Ind. (UP) —The Bluffton Street Fair was one jump ahead of the state today in its latest battle to set up shop on downtown streets used as state highways.

The state sought a temporary injunction against the fair, but Wells Circuit Judge Homer Byrd denied the request Saturday. He said there was no proof of any great inconvenience or threat t public interests as a result of the fair.

"In fact, the proposed detours around the congested fair areas are safe and less time-consuming to the motoring public," the judge said.

The major issue was whether the state or municipalities have control over the use of city streets which are designated as highway routes, but the ruling left it unsettled. The state also has petitioned for a permanent injunction on grounds the state controls such streets.

Last year the state tried to prevent the fair from blocking four state highways in the downtown section. But fair officials were granted a restraining order against interference by the state.

This year the fair is set for Sept. 20-24.

Miss America Says She Cooks Nice Fudge Cake

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — The new Miss America, a lovely auburn haired 19-year-old from Colorado, says she cooks a nice fudge cake and would like to continue her study of drama.

After she gets through the coming strenuous year, that is exactly what she intends doing.

The new beauty queen, Sharon May Ritchie, already has a $5,000 scholarship, $7,500 in cash plus the promise of a new car and many other gifts.

As successor to Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco who was Miss America 1955, she will receive more than $50,000 in prizes and personal appearance fees.

Miss Oregon, Dorothy Johnson, was named runner-up.

Miss America 1956 stands 5 feet 6, weighs 116 and has a 35-inch bust, 23-inch waist, and 35-inch hips. She is the second red-haired beauty to win the title in the 30-year history of the pageant.

Later today, Sharon will motor to New York City to start her one-year reign as the nation's beauty queen.

Businesslike Manner Dress For Students

LONGMEADOW, Mass. (UP)—Longmeadow High School banned shorts, pedal-pushers and dungarees today.

Principal Hugh A. Mac Farlane also ruled today that boys must wear neckties during the current school year.

School "is a business," he said, and students should dress in a "businesslike manner."

FASTER THAN SOUND—Col. Horace A. Hanes, U.S.A.F., holds the Thompson Trophy during presentation ceremonies at the National Air Show in Philadelphia. Colonel Hanes was awarded the trophy for his record-breaking supersonic flight in an F100C Sabre Jet. The Air Force announced that Hanes had set the world's first official faster-than-sound speed record—822.135 miles an hour—at Palmdale, Calif., last Aug. 20.

Amvets Close Annual Convention

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Amvets' 11th annual national convention closed here Sunday with a blistering attack on the administration's "bluff poker" civil defense program and a condemnation of the first session of the 48th Congress.

A resolution denied that the government has any "actual or effective civil defense" and warned that "our American cities and the civilian population slumber at the pagan whim of the Communist enemy and his hydrogen bombs.'

The resolution said present civil defense policies would "write off as expendable of upwards of 50 million lives and hence the public must be alerted to the crisis."

"We believe that the administration at Washington is playing a game of bluff poker, with our nation and lives upon the table as the stakes," the Amvets said.

The convention declined to authorize the Amvets' annual congressional award, with the criticism that "no member of Congress has contributed in a manner which would merit this high award."

Rudolph G. Pesata, Berwyn, Ill., became new national commander of the Amvets after a close election that required a second ballot.

Butz Says Many Depend Too Much On Government Help

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz today criticized "vast segments" of the economy for depending on the government to "bail them out when they get into trouble."

He said sometimes it seems the both farmers and farm produce distributors "place so much importance on these (government) activities that they neglect the all-important job of selling their product to people.'

Butz called for a reduction in direct participation by the government in farm price-making, saying the "free marketing system will be in danger if government price manipulation continues to grow."

In a speech prepared for the Grain & Feed Dealers National Assn. Butz said agriculture has gotten itself into the current "almost unbelievable surplus situation primarily because many of our people believed, or at least hoped, an act of Congress could brush aside fundamental demand and supply relationships."

Color Telecast Of Surgical Operation

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Surgeons and medical personnel from four continents watched a vivid color telecast of a surgical operation today at the opening of a four-day International College of Surgeons conference.

The telecast was a demonstration of a new color television camera developed specifically for medical use by the Radio Corporation of America. The telecast showed a half-hour operation at the Veterans Administration Hospital for the removal of an internal growth from a 64-year-old patient.

More than 5,000 delegates to the 20th annual congress of the U.S. and Canadian sections of the International College of Surgeons watched the scalpel-edged views of the operation on a theater-size color television screen in Convention Hall a few blocks away.

The new camera, which is much more compact and flexible than conventional color cameras, was mounted directly above the operating table and focused on the area of surgery. It picked up close details of the operation which were transmitted over a closed circuit to the convention floor.

Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, New York television and electronics consultant who presented the demonstration, told the meeting that such telecasts can tie togeher widely separaed hospitals into a super-clinic of the future.

Texas, the largest state in the nation, embraces more than one-twelfth of the total area of the continental United States.

Sullivan Gets A Chance At Terre Haute Garfield's 14-Game Winning Streak Friday

By KURT FREUDENTHAL
United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Sullivan's Golden Arrows get a chance at Terre Haute Garfield's 14-game winning streak Friday and Marion clashes with Kokomo in the top Indiana high school football conference games of the week.

The No. 1 intersectional clash has East Chicago Washington opening at Muncie Central.

Sullivan's Bob Crick, who took over for the graduated Tom Campbell, already has romped for seven touchdowns against Dugger and Washington in an early bid for the scoring championship.

Garfield, with the longest string since Rensselaer's weekend loss at Gary Froebel, launched defense of its Western and Wabash Valley championships with a comparatively easy victory at Linton.

Risk 2-0 Records

Marion and Kokomo, North Central Conference powers, risk 2-0 records.

East Chicago Washington, still an unknown quanityt but one of the top powers in the Calumet in preseason speculation, tests a Muncie crew which overpowered Terre Haute Gerstmeyer in its Friday opener, 41-13.

Plymouth, the early Central Conference leader, seeks its third straight victory at Rochester Friday. Columbus invades Seymour in the top South Central encounter. Also in the NCC, Richmond tests Anderson and Lafayette goes to Frankfort.

The NIHSC also has a full program. In the eastern division Friday, Mishawaka is at Elkhart, Michigan City at Fort Wayne North, Goshen at South Bend Adams, and South Bend Central at LaPorte. Saturday, South Bend Washington smacks into city rival Riley.

Froebel at Valpo

In the western wing, Valparaiso returns to loop warfare following a seven-year absence by hosting Gary froebel, which Friday snapped a 20-game losing streak at the expense of 13-game winner Rensselaer. East Chicago Roosevelt seeks its second league triumph at Hammond Clark, Gary Wallace is at Mann of the steel city, Whiting at Hammond.

In the Southern Conference Saturday, Bloomington travels to New Albany and Princeton to Evansville Bosse, the latter's opener.

Auburn shoots for its 10th straight win and second this year at Kendallville Friday. New Haven's defending northeastern loop champs entertain Decatur.

Whiting's 1954 mythical state champs, South Bend Riley and New Albany will be out to recapture prestige lost in dropping openers last Friday.

Wild Pitch Lets Indians, Yankees Split Double-Header

By UNITED PRESS

The wildest American League pennant race of them all may have been decided by the most costly wild pitch in 51 years.

Thrown by Ed (Whitey) Ford, the errant pitch enabled the Cleveland Indians to split Sunday's momentous double-header with the New York Yankees and put them in a position where they probably can win a second straight flag with only six victories in their remaining games.

Yesterday's results:

National League

Cincinnati 9-5, Brooklyn 0-3.
Chicago 7, New York 5.
St. Louis 6, Pittsburgh 5.
Milwaukee 5-9, Philadelphia 4-1.

American League

Detroit 8-0, Washington 0-1.
Boston 6-2, Chicago 2-7.
Kansas City 4-2, Baltimore 3-4.
New York 6-2, Cleveland 1-3.

Manage rAl Lopez Insists Yankees Aren't Through Yet

NEW YORK (UP)—Manager Al Lopez of the league-leading Cleveland Indians today insisted "the Yankees aren't through yet," but a glum Casey Stengel hinted they might be.

"Time is running out on us," Stengel muttered after the Indians retained their 1½ game lead by splitting a doublehader with the Yankees Sunday before 65,310 fans. "I've said all year that we hadda have a winning streak. But there ain't much time left for one now."

Lopez admitted "were in good shape now" although he had hoped, of course, to have virtually nailed down the pennant by beating the Yankees twice.

As it turned out, Lopez had to settle for a split and even that was in doubt until the eighth inning of the nightcap when southpaw Whitey Ford wild-pitched the deciding run home.

"There's no question it was a big ball game to win," Lopez said, "but in a way, the three-game series we have starting with Washington Tuesday night is the biggest series of the year.

"Those Senators are hotter than a pistol against us. They've beaten us 12 out of 19 this year. Maybe they're just getting back at us for beating them 18 out of 22 last year."

Like Lopez, ex-Yankee Gene Woodling said. D''no't believe it when someone says they don't have the pitching. What was wrong with their pitching against us in those two games yesterday? But I still feel well beat 'em because we have more depth in our bullpen."

Larwill Wins 5-4 At Jefferson Center In Opening Game

The Larwill Trojans defeated the Jefferson Center Tigers 5-4 in a baseball game Friday afternoon on the losers' field. It was the first game of the season for both teams.

The game was close most of the way and was not decided until the final seventh inning when Larwill scored a run to take the lead. Before that, the game had been tied at two different times.

Larwill led off the first inning with two runs, but the Tigers came back with two in their half of the inning. Both teams remained scoreless until the fifth inning when Jefferson surged ahead with two runs to make th esocre 4-2. However, Larwill came back to tie the score at 4 all with two runs in the first half of th esixth innign. They added one run in the third half of the seventh inning to take the game.

Cornelius and Tuggle were the big hitters for the Trojans. Cornelius had a double and Tuggle a triple.

Roger Woll was the pitcher for Larwill. He struck out 15 batters and walked only four. Steve Hollenbaugh was the Jefferson Center pitcher. He struck out 9 but walked 11 batters.

Larwill had four errors and Jefferson 2. The umpire was Dal Van Houten.

Next week's schedule for the two teams will have Jefferson Center at Churubusco and Larwill playing host to South Whitley on Friday.

Gene Hartley Wins In Midget Racing

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Gene Hartley of Indianapolis Sunday night won the 150-lap feature of an accident-packed midget racing program in which Johnnie Parsons and Roy Newman of Hammond escaped crashed with minor injuries.

Parsons, 36, winner of the 1950 Indianapolis 500-mile race, received shoulder and arm injuries when his car struck the outside guard rail of the first turn and flipped over. He was taken to a hospital and later released.

Newman was dragged 50 feet on his helmet and shoulders in a five-car smash up. He escaped with bruises and cuts.

Jack Turner, 1954 AAA midget-driving champion from Seattle, finished second and Leroy Warriner of Indianapolis ninth.

Japan's First Lady Wrestler Match Ends Abruptly

TOKYO (UP) — Japan's first "lady wrestler" match ended abruptly Sunday night when a milk bottle flung by a spectator floored husky Miss Sadako Igari with injuries so serious she was taken to a hospital.

Rikiya Iida, 21-year-old newspaper delivery worker who hurled the bottle, told police he did so because "that Igari woman was too rough and I couldn't stand her."

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (UP)—Herb Score of the Cleveland Indians will set a season record for strikeouts by a rookie pitcher when he fans his next batter. Score raised his season's total to 226 Sunday when he struck out six Yankees. The record of 227 was established by Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1911.

CINCINNATI (UP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, who set a record by clinching the National League pennant at the earliest date in history, may set another mark for the longest hangover in history. The champion Dodgers have won only one of five games since they popped the champaigne bottles last Thursday ni;ht and Sunday were limited to one hit in the midst of 9-0 and 5-3 losses to the Cincinnati Redlegs.

PARIS (UP) — A touring track and field team from the United States won six of the seven events it entered Sunday in an international meet. Rod Richard, formerly of UCLA, won the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

MILWAUKEE (UP)— The Milwaukee Braves have signed 21-year-old outfielder Donald Peth of Tomah,Wis., to a 1956 contract for their Evansville, Ind., farm team of the Three-I League. Peth batted .434 for Tomah of the Western Wisconsin Semi-Pro League this year.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — Manager Lou Boudreaux, who piloted the Kansas City Athletics to a solid sixth place in the American League, had a new one-year contract today to the surprise of no one. Owner Arnold Johnson provided the new contract Saturday and also extended the papers for Coaches George Susce, Oscar Melillo and Harry Craft.

Wisconsin's 1955 Team Will Compare Favorably With 1954

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UP) — Wisconsin's 1955 football team, despite the loss of All-American Alan Ameche, will compare favorably with the 1954 squad which tied for second in the Big Ten race, Coach Ivy Williamson believes.

"Our first ball club is pretty solid,' he said. "Our starting team will compare favorably with last year but I don't think our second team is as good, particularly in the line."

Williamson said he was best fortified for his nine-game schedule at quarterback, with Jim Miller and Jim Haluska, both veterans, competing for the job. Haluska called the signals in 1952, but broke his leg in mid-summer, 1953. Miller took over for that season and they shared the chore last year.

"Miller is a pretty good boy to have around," Williamson said. He's not fast, but he has real good judgment. He sees the field very well, and he runs where he should. If he had a little more speed, he'd be real good."

Williamson believed that Charley Thomas would be the starter at fullback and said he has 'looked better this fall than he's looked at anytime. Defensively he's all right and will compare favorably with Ameche."

The halfback jobs, he said, would have more speed, with veterans Pat Levenhagen and Billy Lowe as the tentative starters. The speed, though, will come from reserves Dannie Lewis and John Bridgeman, who have looked like breakaway runners in early drills.

Lettermen will start at every line position, Jim Reinke and Dave Howard at ends, Bob Konovsky, 245 pounds, and John Dittrich at tackles, Capt. Wells Gray and Paul Shwaiko at guards and Bill McNamara at center.

"If the boys come through at halfback," Williamson said, "we'll be in pretty good shape. Lowe is right half because of his experience but he doesn't have Lewis' speed or size and Lewis is definitely coming in.

"We're a little thin in the line,' he added. "That's our main problem and we want to find somebody behind Howard. We can't help but miss somebody like Ameche but if we get more speed at halfback and Thomas does his job, we can offset that somewhat."

Williamson said he would continue to use three formations, the semi-spread, the single wing and the T.

Wisconsin opens against Marquette and plays its other non-conference games against Southern California. Conference opponents will be Iowa, Purdue, Ohio State, Michigan State, Northwestern, Illinois and Minnesota.

Indiana, Kentucky Split Wins

ELKHART, Ind. (UP)—For the second straight year the argument of which state produces the better college basketball talent—Indiana or Kentucky—remained unanswered today.

The Hoosiers roared back Saturday night to slap a 97-72 setback on the visitors from the Blue Grass State who 24 hours earlier downed the locals at Louisville, 78-66.

Last year, in the first such off-season extravaganza, the two teams also split the series.

Towering Don Schulndt, his former Indiana University Teammate Burke Scott and Purdue's Ted Dunn made the difference in the return engagement. Schlundt peppered the nets for 31 points. Dunn contributed 17 and Scott, the playmaker, 16.

After breaking an early-game tie, the Hoosiers forged ahead at the first period, 25-20, and were in command the rest of the way.

Two Louisville grads, John Prudhoe and Vladimir Gastevich, paced the losers with 16 and 15 points, respectively. Gastevich is a former Gary Froebel net star.

Milwaukee Braves Officials Keep Mum

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Milwaukee Braves officials kept mum today on which city they plan to move their American Association franchise to when they pull out of Toledo for the 1956 season.

It was announced during the weekend that the Braves would seek to transfer its franchise from Toledo to an unannounced city becasue of the "pressure" of major league baseball and television on Toledo.

It was believed the Braves' decision to make the switch was influenced by the large attendance this year at Omaha and Denver, two new clubs in the loop. Milwaukee is expected to switch the Toledo franchise to another city in the Midwest or to the Southwest.

Braves General Manager John Quinn said that despite Toledo's respectable attendance of 182,000 this year "over the long haul it will be cheaper to operate somewhere else."

Louisville Wins 3 - 2 Victory

By UNITED PRESS

Louisville gained a 2-2 tie in its best of seven post season playoff series with Omaha Sunday, coming up with a run in the bottom of the eighth inning for a 3-2 victory.

The Colonels came back after a two-run homer by "Pistol" Peete had given Omaha a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning. Louisville got its first two runs in the third.

Both teams got six hits and made one error. The big difference was the clutch pitching of Jerry Casale, who went all the way for the Colonels.

The winner of the Omaha-Louisville series meets league-champion Minneapolis, which completed its rout of Denver in post-season playoffs with a 9-8 victory Saturday night. The Millers took four straight from the Bears.

Peth Signs

MILWAUKEE (UP) —Outfielder Donald Peth, Tomah, Wis., was signed Sunday to a 1956 contract for the Milwaukee Braves' three-I League farm team at Evansville, Ind.

Peth, 21, batted .434 this year for Tomah of the Western Wisconsin Semi-Pro League.

Etna-Troy Defeats Churubusco 10-1 In Grade Baseball Game

Patty Berg Appears To Be Back In Form

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Patty Berg appeared to be back in form today as she closed in on Louise Suggs in their quest for the second annual St. Louis Women's Open title.

Miss Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., had to bear down on the back nine to stave off the gal pros' top money winner Sunday and gain a three-stroke lead.

Miss Berg shot a 72, best round o fthe day, to give her a three-quarter mark score of 220. Miss Suggs had a 74 for a total 217.

Miss Berg, who had a 68 opening day but slipped to an 80 on the second round, thus took over the runner-up spot, and Mary Lena Falk, Thomasville, Ga., moved into third with her score of76-72-73—221.

At the halfway point Sunday, Miss Suggs learned Patty was two under par when she was two over for nine holes. She then birdied the 10th, 12th and 13th holes to hold a lead.

"I was quite satisfied," she said, "despite a very poor start."

The amateur lead changed hands as Nan Berry of Quincy, Ill., stroke a 77 to bring her total to 239, one better than Gloria Fecht of Los Angeles.

Bumblebees Thrive In The Far North

BARROW, Alaska — (UP) — It may come as a surprise to many persons, but this farthest-north community under the United States flag boasts of bumblebees.

Yes, there are bees at Barrow, despite the ice and snow.

Recently, Dr. Basil E. Montgomery, associate professor of entomology at Purdue University, came to the Arctic Research Laboratory here to study the bumblebees of the Arctic Slope.

"People always appear surprised when I mention there are bees at Barrow," he said. "As a matter of fact, Robert E. Peary even found bumblebees near the north coast of Greenland at about 80 degrees latitude. Not only that, but bees were reported at Barrow back in 1880."

League

Bills to abolish capital punishment failed to pass in the 13 states where they were introduced this year, but the 1955 legislative sessions on the whole were encouraging to Mrs. Ehrmann. She said the league measures progress in the way death penalty laws are modified or modes of execution are changed.

New Mexico voted to substitute the gas chamber for the electric chair and Maryland decided to use gas instead of hanging. There are now 11 states using the gas chamber, more than ever before. Twenty - four employ the electric chair and 7 still use the gallows, including Utah which offers a condemned man a choice between being hanged or shot by a firing squad.

"Abolition" tates

Six states — Michigan, Rhode Island, Maine, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin — do not exact the death penalty for any crime. Michigan, an "abolition state" for more than 100 years, rejected a bill this year that would have restored the death penalty in some cases. A rash of murders and sex crimes led to introduction of the bill.

"Whenever there is a shocking or brutal crime, efforts are made to increase the severity of the punishment," said Mrs. Ehrmann. "But this brings only a temporary emotional satisfaction. The fact remains that killing criminals has never succeeded in lessening crimes."

While the anti - capital punishment forces held the line in Michigan they took a setback in Kansas. The Kansas Legislature broadened its death penalty laws to include hanging for a kidnaper who harms his victim. This was a direct outgrowth of the 1953 Bobby Greenlease kidnaping.

Mrs. Ehrmann said that despite the reluctance of state legislatures to make major changes in capital punishment statutes there has been a significant decline in the number of executions in the past 25 years.

Executions hit their peak in 1935, when 199 persons were put to death in the United States. Last year, there were only 82. The number has declined from an average of 147 per year for the 1930-50 period to 83 per year in the 1950-54 period. Last year 27 states had no executions at all.

There has been no comparable decline in the number of crimes committed which are punishable by death. To Mrs. Ehrmann and her followers in the ALACP this means judges and juries are less inclined today to prescribe the sentence of death.

Williams Credits Truman Administration

CHICAGO (UP) — Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan said that any hopes growing out of the Geneva conference result from accomplishments of the last Democratic administration.

Whatever the hopes may be, Williams said Sunday, "they are the results of the Truman Doctrine, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Marshall Plan, the Economic Cooperation Administration, Point Four, and the rest."

Williams, speaking at a Polish rally, criticized cuts in the defense budget proposed by the Eisenhower administration. Cuts in the armed forces, he said, would not bring "either peace or the liberation of Poland."

Interior Department Has Uranium Maps

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Interior Department has prepared a new map — the first of its kind — showing the locations of the more important deposits of uranium in this country.

Interior Secretary Douglas McKay said Sunday the map was prepared for the Atomic Energy Commission.

It differentiates between deposits now being mined, those considered too low in ore grade to be mined under present conditions, and those from which uranium can be recovered only as a byproduct.

McKay said studies in recent years show traces of uranium nearly everywhere under extremely varied geological conditions. However, concentrations large enough to warrant mining are restricted.

Copies of the new map may be ordered by mail at 50 cents each from Geological Survey distribution centers at Washington 25, D.C., and Federal Center, Denver 2, Colo.

Weather Bureau Issues Storm Alert

MIAMI (UP)—Hurricane Hilda boiled up almost in the backyard of the Bahamas Islands today and the Weather Bureau warned the string of British islands and South Florida to remain on the alert for the 75-mile-a-nhour-hour storm.

The new tropical blow, only 50 miles southeast of Miami, aimed its destructive winds at a point between the southern tip of Florida and Cuba. It was moving in a west-northwest direction at a speed of 13 miles per hour.

Shortly after the Miami Weather Bureau issued the first advisory on Hilda, the San Juan, Puerto Rico, Weather Bureau issued hurricane warnings for the Dominican Republic, less than 100 miles south of the tempest.

Huntington Editor Promoted To Publisher

IDIAAPOLIS (UPN) —Howard Houghton, Huntington, has been promoted from editor to publisher of the Huntington Herald-Press.

The sugar regarded today as a necessity in every household was so rare before the 16th century that only the extremely wealthy could afford it.

Carpets are not harmed by radiant floor heating. Temperatures of the heating system cannot rise high enough to cause damage or danger.

The heating of wood in order to convert it into carbon or charcoal may have been the first chemical process discovered by man. Charcoal fuel has twice the heating power of wood and burns without flame or smoke.

Resolution Calls For Improvement Of Farm Economy

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (UP)—Democratic Party leaders from nine Midwest states called on Congress today to counteract the Eisenhower administration's "brazen and ruthless betrayal' of the nation's farmers.

They said in a resolution that "immediate action" was needed to improve the nation's farm economy.

The resolution, adopted Sunday at the close of a three-day meeting of state party chairmen, accused the administration of deliberately bringing about a decline in farm prices and income and trying to turn urbanites against farmpeople.

It called for a new national farm program that would include price supports on livestock and production payment plan to control surpluses.

The resolution demanded an immediate restoration of price supports at 90 per cent of parity on major commodities.

The Eisenhower administration's farm program is based on flexible price supports, which vary with the amount of crop supply on hand. There is no coverage of livestock in this program.

The party leaders—from Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Dakotas, Kansas, Nebraska, Montana and Minnesota—accused the administration of "callous indifference" to the economic losses they said farmers were suffering.

They charged the administration with "recklessly treating our blessings of abundance as a curse penalizing instead of rewarding farmers for responding patriotically to the nation's appeal for increased production in times of national emergency.'

One way to amend this, they said, is to use incentive payments, instead of the current system of planting restrictions, to take unneeded acres out of production and get them planted to grass.

Another way, they said, is to establish credit authorization to help low income farmers achieve economic stability.

Nation's Crops Are In Fine Shape, Expect Record Yields

WASHINGTON (UP)— The nation's crops are in fine shape and record yields are expected despite last months floods and drouths, the Agriculture Department reports.

In its monthly crop report the department estimated the harvest this year would be second only to the bumper crop of 1948.

Drouth conditions trimmed corn prospects by about 10 per cent, however, and this year's crop of the key feed grain will be the fifth on record, with an estimated 3,133,467,000 bushels.

The continued dry hot weather in the Midwest and central Great Plains during August also whittled the estimated size of the grain sorghum crop by 15 per cent and the soybean crop by 8 per cent.

But with big surpluses on hand, the losses do not point to any shortage in any of the three crops. The estimated soybean yield would still be a record one. The sorghum crop would be second largest.

Crop losses from the drouth far outweighed rain and flood damage on the East Coast. Flood and water damage was most severe on tobacco crops in the Connecticut River Valley and vegetable crops in New Jersey, southern New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

While corn was taking a beating from drouth, spring wheat prospects farther north improved by almost six million bushels during the month to 227 million bushels, 27 per cent larger than last year.

Changes in other crop prospects from a month ago include increases for rice, oats, peanuts, sweet potatoes, sugar beets, sugar broomcorn and decreases for hay flaxseed, barley and potatoes.

When Lawn Turns Brown, Dye Grass

EVANSTON, Ill. —(UP) —Neighbors wondered how Mark Maxwell kept his lawn so green when theirs turned brown during the hot, dry months. Now they know. He dyes it.

Maxwell, an advertising man who dabbles in chemistry, decided to take drastic steps about his lawn after a batch of crab grass poison he brewed eliminated weeds but turned the grass brown and yellow.

"It looked pretty bad," says Maxwell. So he decided to fix it.

A week later neighbors looked at Maxwell's lawn and did a double-take. The large brown patches were now a lush green.

After much coaxing, Maxwell finally let out his secret. He said he didn't want to at first because folks might think he was crazy.

He said he tried several experiments and finally came up with a grass dye that will not harm vegetation. He put it on with a hand sprayer.

One neighbor borrowed some to brighten up his lawn before a party and later business inquiries came in. Maxwell said he may go into commercial production.

"Who knows, there may be a market for dyed grass," he said.

Lydia Argerbright Is Junior Member Of Holstein Association

Announcement has been received that Lydia Ann Argerbirght, R 2, Columbia City, has been accepted as a Junior Member of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Battleboro, Vermont. She was eligible to become a junior member of the organization for having done satisfactory dairy club work with registered Holsteins and was recommended by B. V. Widney, county agent.

Receipt of a Certificate of Merit and a Holstein Junior Membership Pin, entitles Lydia to all of the privileges of the Association, except voting. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donal Argerbright, Washington township.

Senator Jenner To Receive Award

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — The American Coalition of Patriotic Socieities will present Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) with its highest award Sept. 24 for Jenner's anti-subversive activities.

The organization, representing more than three million members of various groups, gives a certificate of merit annually to two or three Americans.

Main speaker at the program will be Clarence E. Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School.

Boy Wounded In Cops And Robbers Game

MUNCIE, Ind. (UP) —Rudoph Banda, 10, was recovering today from a rifle wound suffered in a game of "cops and robbers."

Authorities said the boy, son of a Mexican migratory worker, was shot in the chest Saturday while playing with other children on a farm west of Hartford City.

Deputy Sheriff Walter Messner said the boy was scuffling with a 12-year-old girl at the time of the shooting, which appeared to be accidental. The victim was reported in fair condition in Ball Memorial Hospital.

World War I Vets Hold Convention

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —About 3,500 delegates were on hand today for a four-day national convention of the Veterans of World War I.

An equal number of women's auxiliary members was expected to attend the meeting which opened Sunday. Delegates came from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines.

National officers will be elected Wednesday. Emanual Levy, Fort Wayne, is national commander, and Mrs. Ira Metherd, Gary, heads the national auxiliary.

Craig Says Bigotry And Intolerance Aid Cause Of Communism

HAMMOND, Ind. (UP) Bigotry and intolerance aid the cause of communism, according to Governor Craig.

Any injustice toward a member of any minority group is "grist for the Communist propaganda mill," Craig said at the dedication of Beth-El Temple Saturday night.

"Under these circumstances," he said, "it is our obligation...to show an example of a society in which prejudice is counted out...and discrimination rated as a crime."

Craig said more tolerance and less bigotry came from the ruins of World War II.

"We insult the memory of our heroic dead if we permit bigotry, intolerance and discrimination to exist in our midst," he said.

War Hero's Son Is At Dad's School

BOSTON — (UP) — Boston College has a "carbon copy" of a war hero graduate, and the bright-eyed freshman still carried his father's famous letter.

Cmdr. John J. Shea went down with the carrier Wasp in 1942, three months after writing his son and namesake: "Study hard....... Be a leader in everything good."

This fall Jackie entered Boston College after graduating from Boston College High School with high honors.

"I feel Dad is here with me when I have the letter in my hand," he said. "I know how he felt and how he would want me to act in every situation."

The boy turned down a chance to attend the Naval Academy to enroll at Boston College where the Commander Shea Room stands as a memorial to the famous winner of the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism.

Indiana Agencies Say More Children To Receive Vaccine

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Indiana health and medical agencies moved today to make Salk polio vaccine available soon to all children 5 to 9 years old who are not covered by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis program.

A joint statement issued by the agencies this morning was aimed at assuring children of parents who cannot afford, or feel they cannot afford, to pay for the vaccine that they will get it, just the same.

The statement came from the Indiana State Department of Health, the Indiana State Medical Association and the Indiana Pharmaceutical Association.

It said free vaccine will be available through physicians' offices just as soon as it is received by the State Board of Health and distributed to local health officers for release to physicians.

Federal funds will be accepted to pay for inoculation of those children whose parents cannot afford the protection for their youngsters.

Most of the vaccine will come from an allocation of about 18,000 shots made by the federal government some time ago and earmarked by the state for welfare purposes.

About 72,000 additional doses were made available to Indiana commercial channels last week for use in the 5-to-9 age group.

"From all indications, there will be more than enough vaccine for all in Indiana in a very short period of time," the statement said.

Shotgun Death Appears To Be Suicide

NASHVILLE, Ind. (UP) —State Police reported today the shotgun death Saturday of Eugene R. Johnson, 25, near Nashville, appeared to be suicide.

However, they were not certain and said an investigation was continuing. Johnson's body was found in a garden behind his home.

Dr. Otto Grisier Dies Today In Santa Barbara, Calif.

Retired Some Years Ago From The Medical Corps Of The Navy

Word has been received here of the death of Dr. Otto Grisier, 70, former resident of this city, which occurred this morning at the Cottage hospital in Santa Barbara, Calif. Death was due to pneumonia.

Born in Collins, Dr. Grisier was the son of late Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Grisier and for some years was associated with his father in the practice of medicine in this city.

Six months before the outbreak of the first World War he joined the Medical Corps of the Navy and retired a few years ago as a captain and later became a resident of California.

Dr. Grisier is survived by his wife, Grace and a brother Forrest, a resident of this city. A sister, Mrs. Roy Evans, died a couple of years ago at Miami, Florida. A niece, Mrs. Betty Cubillis, and a nephew, Robert Evans, a resident of Miami and a nephew, Frederick Ev[illegible]s residing in Georgia, also survive.

Funeral services will be held in Santa Barbara Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Masonic rites Burial will occur there.

Dr. Grisier was a member of the Masonic Order in this city.

Church Rites To Be Held Tuesday For Mrs. Dorothy M. Hill

Death Occurs Saturday In County Hospital

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Center Evangelical United Brethren church for Mrs. Dorothy Marie Hill, 60, of Road 5 north of Larwill, whose death occurred Saturday in Whitley County Hospital.

The Rev. Russell Klinger and the Rev. Wilbur Workman will officiate at the memorial services, and committal services will follow in Graceland IOOF cemetery at Claypool. The body, taken to the Smith Funeral Home was removed today to the Hill home where friends may call until 11 o'clock Tuesday morning when the body will be taken to the church.

Mrs. Hill was born November 9, 1894 at Colburn. She was reared from childhood by Mr. and Mrs. William Culp. She grew up in the vicinity of Colburn and on December 15, 1914 was united in marriage to Ellis Hill. After living for five years at Colburn, they moved to the Silver Lake community, and for the past 14 years have lived at their present home on State Road 5, 1½ miles north of Larwill.

She was a member of the Center Evangelical United Brethren Church located near Silver Lake.

Mrs. Hill is survived by the husband, Ellis; two sons, Donald, Columbia City, and Anthony W., R 1, Larwill; four daughters, Mrs. Caroline D. Wise, Claypool, Mrs. Elene E. Shively, Warsaw, Mrs. Alice Jene Neyman, Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Maralee Watson, Larwill and sixteen grandchildren. Two daughters have preceded her in death.

Thomas Hickman, Coesse Resident, Dies This Afternoon

Thomas Hickman, about 90, of Coesse, died at 1:40 p.m. today at the Farris Nursnig Home. The body was brought to the J. A. DeMoney and Son Funeral Home, where funeral arrangements are incomplete.

LAW WON ANYWAY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(UP)— The city lost a $1 bet because a rookie policeman picked the wrong horse. Police, using the rookie as a decoy, raided a handbook and arrested a bartender who took the bet. The raid netted $105, scratch sheets and racing forms. But the rookie cop's horse ran out of the money.

Superintendent Young Warns To Guard Against Accidents

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Indiana School Supt. Wilbur Young called on parents, teachers and students today to guard against school accidents and injuries.

He said a survey of accidents in two school systems showed 40 per cent of them occurred during recess or lunch hour and most of the remainder in gym, shop and home economics classes.

Almost half the accidents occurred on Friday, indicating safety precautions slip a bit as pupil and teacher prepare for the weekend.

Authorities Seek Cause Of $100,000 Fire At Portland

PORTLAND, Ind. (UP)—Authorities today sought the cause of a $100,000 fire which destroyed two buildings at the edge of Portland's business district and routed two sisters from an upstairs apartment.

The Gross Electric and upply Co., containing television sets and electrical appliances, and the Portland Skating Rink next door were destroyed early Sunday. Firemen from Redkey and Fort Recovery, Ohio, helped battle the blaze.

Acting Fire Chief Ernest Gillett, who estimated the loss, said defective wiring may have been the cause.

Coast Guard Officer Candidate Has Been Cleared

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Coast Guard officer candidate whose commission had been withheld because his mother allegedly associated with subversive organizations has been cleared for security and will receive his commission Wednesday, the Coast Guards announced today.

The officer candidate is Norton Pierre Gaston, San Francisco, a 23-year-old seaman who will receive a commission as an ensign

Gaston was graduated eighth in his officer's candidate class at New London, Conn., on April 1. But his commission was withheld because his mother, Mrs. Jeanne Grisez, was accused of participating in various organizations of the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

She was not accused of membership in the Communist Party as was the mother of Eugene Landy, whose naval reserve commission was held up after he graduated from the Martime Academy.

Gaston's attorney, Murdaugh Madden, said Gaston, who has been assigned temporary duty here pending the outcome of the security check, will be returned to New London Wednesday to receive his commission.

French Cabinet Has Emergency Session Today

To Approve Self-Rule For Terror-Torn Morroco

PARIS (UP)—The French cabinet met in emergency session today to approve self-rule for terror-torn Morocco.

This was the self-imposed deadline day set by Premier Edgar Faure to solve the crisis which has caused widespread bloodshed in North Africa.

The French government was split over the Moroccan issue, and the threat of more trouble hung menacingly over North Africa's cities.

But hope for peace rose with a report that Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa was ready to quit his throne in Rabat.

Ben Moulay Arafa was reported to have informed the Paris government that he would quit if he received a solemn promise that his rival, exiled Sulta Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, will not be allowed to return to the throne from which he was ousted two years ago.

Ben Moulay Arafa's retirement would clear the way for immediate application of the French plan, which is aimed at restoring peace in Morocco by offering a large measure of self-rule.

According to the plan, France and Morocco would conclude special agreements giving Morocco self-rule. France would have its economic, strategic, cultural and financial interests guaranteed.

The plan would give Morocco control of its domestic policies, but would leave France in charge of its defense and foreign affairs.

Woman Undecided About Appearance At Murder Trial

CHICAGO (UP)—The mother of a Negro boy slain in Mississippi said today she had been urged to "stay out of Mississippi" and not testify at the trial of two white men indicted for her son's murder.

But Mrs. Mamie E. Bradley said not until she receives a written invitation to appear at the trial will she make up her mind as to whether she will be a witness.

Her son, Emmett Till, 14, was kidnaped from the home of his uncle during a vacation trip to Money, Miss., Aug. 28. The boy's weighted body was found several days later in the Tallahatchie River, badly beaten and with a bullet hole in his head.

Two half brothers, Roy Bryant and John W. Milam, have been indicted at Sumner, Miss., for the murder of the boy. Young Till's offense which led to the kidnaping allegedly was a "wolf whistle" at Bryant's wife.

Ike Impressed By Tour Of Air Force Academy

Wonders If Cadets Have Time To Learn All They Need To Know

DENVER (UP) —President Eisenhower, thoroughly impressed by his first tour of the Air Force Academy, wondered today if the cadets had enough time to learn all they needed to know.

After visiting the academy's temporary installation at Lowry Air Force Base here and talking with its faculty Sunday, the President appeared to be pleased with everything he found.

It also gave Mr. Eisenhower an opportunity for some reminiscing with his former West Point classmate, Lt. Gen. Hubert Harmon, the academy superintendent.

But, Mr. Eisenhower expressed optimism over the educational setup in what he called "today's complicated life."

The President said that in his day, a "boy straight from the prairie" could learn enough in high school to handle the normal duties of citizenship. But now, he said, he had doubts that anyone could get enough education in the same number of years to meet the "complications" of modern living.

"I think the educational years may have to be lengthened in view of the complications," he said. He said he thought the average college education might be increased a year to keep up with the busy and complex modern age, and teach today's youth all it needs to know.

Mr. Eisenhower said he believed a proposal by Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, had a lot of merit. The Conant proposal calls for a two-year junior college in every locality to supplement the local high school.

Harold has given up sitting for a while, and that's why Nurse Anne Godwin is holding him.

Rep. Adair Announces Plans Of 4th District Tour In September

Congressman E. Ross Adair, representative of the Fourth Indiana District, has announced plans for touring county seats in the district the last two weeks of the month of September. Beginning September 19 at the Bluffton Courthouse, Congressman Adair will visit the seven counties besides Allen in the Fourth District.

The congressman will be at the Courthouse in Columbia City on September 27, and as in the other counties, he will be available from 10 a.m. until noon and from 2 p.m. until 4. Other counties in the district are Adams, Steuben, LaGrange, Noble, DeKalb, and Wells.

Besides his visit on the official district tour, Congressman Adair will be in Columbia City at the City Hall Sunday, October 9 for a public forum on current issues in congress.

Adenauer Demands Three Major Concessions From The Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today demanded three major concessions from the Soviet Union in return for an agreement to insistent Russian demands for the exchange of ambassadors.

A member of the West German delegation said they were:

1. Amnesty for Germans still held in the Soviet Union.

2. Agreement that the final borders of Germany in the event of reunification will be decided only by a formal peace treaty.

3. A clear understanding that full diplomatic relations between Bonn and Moscow will not imply recognition of the Communist East German government by the Bonn regime.

It was still too early to say what the chances were of Soviet acceptance.

But there was no question that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molomotov were seriously considering the Adenauer proposals.

Leaders Seek Formula

Adenauer and Bulganin met in a hard-as-nails bargaining session to discuss a formula to break the deadlock that has marked the Soviet-West German talks since they

Sandra Disbrow Injured When Crossing Street

Girl, 12, Runs Into Side Of Auto At Walnut And Van Buren Streets

Sandra Disbrow, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Nicodemus, 408 West Spencer street, suffered a broken collarbone and bruises at about 4:15 p.m. Monday when she was struck by a car while crossing the intersection of Walnut and Van Buren streets.

She was taken to a local physician's office where she was treated following the accident. She suffered a bruised cheek and lip, also.

According to city police, the Disbrow child ran into the side of an eastbound automobile driven by Patricia Hooker, 16, of R 6. Elmer Heinley, school traffic patrolman at the intersection, said that traffic was supposed to be stopped and children were crossing the intersection at the time of the accident. The young girl had gone half way across Van Buren street when she collided with the car.

The impact broke the radio aerial on the car, but it was not damaged otherwise.

Mrs. Ethel Hooker, mother of the driver, and Barbara Bates were passengers in the car at the time of the accident.

2,000 Jobless As Result Of $5,000,000 Fire

That Adds Horror To Flood Destruction

CUMBERLAND, R.I. (UP) — Some 2,000 workers were jobless today as the result of a five million dollar fire that added new horror to the destruction from last month's floods.

The flames at five factories late Monday sent 600 dayshift workers racing from their jobs.

Most of the factories' had returned to their jobs this week for the first time since hurricane Diane sent the Blackstone River pouring into the plants.

"It looked like the gates of hell," Machinist John T. Russell said of the fire. The flames burned out of control for almost five hours. Firemen said the sprinklers were inoperative—because of the recent floods.

The fire started in two plants on the Cumberland side of the Blackstone river and the nleoped 120 feet to burn two more factories.

32 Enrolled In First Grade At Columbia Township School

There are 32 first-grade pupils enrolled at Columbia township school for the 1955-56 school year, according to figures released by Howard Youngblood, principal. A total of 212 students are enrolled in all grades of the school.

First-graders are: Joseph Adams, Susan Baker, Cherly Brown, Toban Chapman, Lucinda Corbin, Brenda Crawford, Vada Fahl, Gary Fenker, Particia Frank, Thomas Gondek, Marion Harris, Harold Hull, Roger Hull, Vickie Hull, Timmy Jackson, Connie Johnson, Karen Fenker.

Phillip Keirn, Robert Knecht, Pamela Krider, Lorene Minnix, Maxine Minnix, Richard Ness, Linda Penn, Roy Puckett, Dennis Putman, Richard Sewell, Gary Sheeler, Steven Simmons, David Trimmer, Tommy Wood, and Brent Zumbrun.

The teacher is Mrs. Evelyn Jarboe.

95 Pupils Enrolled In Local First Grade; Will Use 120 Texts Through High School

Enrollment figures reveal that 95 pupils have entered the first grade in the Columbia City school this year. They will become a part of the class of 1967 of the Columbia City Joint High School if they continue in the school area.

They will have studied from about 90 different text books in grades one to eight and from 25 to 30 books in high school, or including the books they used in kindergarten about 125 books. This does not include any outside reading or reference books.

Pupils from grades one to eight will rent most of their books for at total of about $50.00 with a refund of $1.00 per year.

The group of 95 will use a total of over 11,000 books.

Since the books are rented much less home space will be needed to take care of old text books, which in other days found refuge in attics.

Shades of Mr. McGuffy — Grandparents will not be able to read from their old text books to future generations.

10 Year Old Comes To Ohio By Mistake

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (UP)—Billy Hunt, 10, Muncie, Ind., came to this city by mistake when he began playing in a freight car and noticed—too late—that it had begun to move.

Billy's ride started in the Muncie freight yards where he was playing in a box car. When he suddenly discovered the train was moving, he climbed along six cars to the locomotive and notified the crew.

Billy rode in the locomotive until the train arrived here. He was fed and cared for until his parents drove the 90 miles to claim him.

New Blazes Flare Today In California

Hopes Of Firefighters To Control Inferno Go Up In Smoke

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — New blazes flared today in the California forests and the hopes of firefighters to control the 70,000 acre inferno went up in smoke.

The blaze, which flared out of control again near Santa Barbara, trapped some 260 persons for several hours Monday night in an area smaller than a city block.

The Santa Barbara fire is one of five major blazes still raging unchecked through the state. Since the first of the month, a rash of the worst coastal brush and timber fires in California's history has blackened 350,000 acres and caused an estimated 20 million dollars damage.

The trapped group, including 55 teen-age boys, was encircled in Paradise Canyon when the six-day old blaze flared up suddenly and jumped State Highway 150. Bulldozers quickly scraped fire breaks around the area and water pumping units took stations on the perimeter of the fire.

Sheriff's deputies and California highway patrol officers then convoyed the group to safety. About 50 privately - owned autos in the area were evacuated a few at a time to prevent snarling the highway, already jammed with firefighting equipment.

The fire broke lines Monday just as 1200 firefighters were hoping for control sometime today. They had controlled all but about six miles of the 72-mile perimeter.

"But the flareup shattered our hopes for control in the near future," a forest service official said.

Salk Vaccine More Effective Than In 1954

Is Belief Of National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK UP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis expressed the belief today that the Salk vaccine will prove "considerably more effective' against polio this year than it was in the mass field trial of 1954.

The belief was expressed in a statement by Basil O'Connor, foundation president, which accompanied the organization's annual report for 1954. It followed a report by the U.S. Public Health Service that the 1955 polio season had passed its peak.

Cites Improved Production

O'Connor based his optimistic belief for the 1955 "disease year," which began about April 1 and extends into the first days of winter, on "improved production of the vaccine and an important change in the schedule of dosage."

"The immunity level being achieved by children now receiving it," he said, "may be much higher than the 60 to 90 per cent reported by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. on April 12, 1955, in his evaluation of the (1954) field trial. However, these results cannot be known until 1956.'

Latest figures available from the Public Health Service showed that since the beginning of the disease year April 1 through Sept. 3 there had been 15,199 cases reported. This compared with 17,652 during the corresponding period in 1954.

For the entire year, there have been 16,182 cases, compared with 19,205 in the same period in 1954. In each instance, abut one-third of the cases were of the paralytic type of the disease.

No Conclusions Drawn

Without drawing any conclusions as to the efficiency of the vaccine, the health service said that about 450 of this years reported cases were among the approximately 6,500,000 persons who had been innoculateed since April 12, when the noculated since April 12, when the Salk vaccine was licensed.

The new dosage schedule referred to by O'Connor provides that persons who received two shots last spring or during the summer should get a third shot before the 1956 polio season begins next April 1.

Bee In Car Reported As Cause Of Accident Injuring 3 Youths

It has been reported that a bee in the car was the cause of the accident in which three youths suffered minor injuries Sunday morning on the county road west of State Road 109 and Cresco.

The youths, Emily Carpenter, 15, and Randall Carpenter, 16, children of Mrs. Bessie Carpenter, 108½ East Van Buren street, and Alfred Poffenberger, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poffenberger, 204 Brownwood Ave., were all admitted to Whitley County Hospital following the accident. The Carpenter youths were dismissed Tuesday after treatment for minor bruises and abrasions. The Poffenberger boy remains at the hospital for further treatment for a laceration of the forehead.

It has been reported that the youths said the driver of the car lost control of the automobile while looking around at a bee which was flying around in the vehicle. The car ran onto a steel culvert which was overgrown with weeds, according to the report. The vehicle was a total loss in the accident.

The President's message was read to some 15,000 Eastern Star members from the United States and nine foreign nations gathered here for the organization's 28th triennial assembly.

Congress To Have Real Battle During Next Year

On Cutting Income Taxes Of Individuals

By VINCENT BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Noah M. Mason (R-Ill) said today President Eisenhower and Democratic leaders will plunge Congress into a "real battle" next year by proposing rival plans for cutting individual income taxes.

He predicted that President Eisenhower will win the battle by getting the support of several key Democrats in the Senate.

Mason is one of 10 Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation.

Mason said Mr. Eisenhower would propose a "sound tax reduction program" which probably will call for an across-the-board percentage cut, possibly of five or 10 percent.

GOP Plan Termed Sound

That would give those paying the heaviest taxes the biggest dollar reduction in taxes. This is "sound" and necessary to provide investment capital to create new jobs, Mason said.

On the other hand, he said, Democratic leaders will propose an "unsound and inflationary" plan calculated to give everybody about the same cut in taxes, regardless of the tax load they are carrying.

"The Democratic plan will have more political appeal for low-income groups," Mason acknowledged.

Concedes House Victory

He conceded that Democrats would be able to put their plan through the House. But he said it won't get through the Senate because Sens. Harry F. Byrd D-Va) and Walter F. George (D-Ga) "can be expected" to back the administration's plan instead.

They helped the administration kill the Democrats' $20-a-person tax-cutting plan in the last session, after it won House approval.

Under this plan a taxpayer with a large family paying the minimum tax rate of 20 percent would get a bigger tax cut than a person with a small family who is paying an average tax of 87 percent on an annual taxable income of $1,000,000 or more.

Local Band Will March In Parade At Wabash Wednesday

Bandmaster Robert Sharpe reported today that the Columbia City Joint high school band will march in the parade celebrating the Diamond Light Jubilee at Wabash Wednesday evening at 6:30.

Several other high school bands and the 45-piece Great Lakes Naval Training Center Band, along with the floats, will make up the parade expected to last three hours. The Diamond Light Jubilee at Wabash is being observed in conjunction with The National Conservation Days and the State and National Plowing Contests.

The week-long event got underway at Wabash Saturday and ends Friday. It is expected to be the liveliest week in the history of Wabash county.

Serious Damage Caused When Semi Upsets

Driver Loses Control When 16-Ton Machine Slides Off Early Today

Serious damage was caused to a semi-truck and trailer, in addition to other property, early Tuesday morning when the vehicle upset as it rounded the curve on U.S. highway 30 at State Road 9.

The accident occurred about 1 a.m. when the eastbound driver, John Ansel Gaskill, 25, of Fort Wayne, lost control when a 16-ton punch press machine slid off the trailer as he made the turn into East Chicago street. The machine landed in the driveway of Luckenbill's Standard Service station. As the truck and trailer tipped sideways, it hit an electric light pole then righted itself. The pole was broken and electrical wiring was cut in two, and began sparking when it came into contact with parts of the machinery or vehicle.

City firemen made a silent run to the scene and linemen of the City Utilities Department were called to repair the broken wiring to prevent anyone from being hurt.

Damage to the machine, front end, windshield, cab and both sides of the truck and trailer were estimated at $2,700. Damage to the station driveway, electrical pole and wires was estimated at $450.

Gaskill, driver of the vehicle, said that the machine, which was held on the trailer only by two by four inch braces, started to skid as he started around the curve in the highway.

VFW Post 5582 Plan Variety Show For Next Week

The VFW Post 5582 is planning a variety show on September 21 and 22 according to LeRoy Loe, commander of the post.

The show is entitled, "Funnybone Follies" and is under the direction of Miss Ellen Stewart Dixon.

Miss Dixon met Sunday with members of the VFW post and its auxiliary unit and rehearsals and other scheduled plans are now under way.

The theme of the follies is based on television over TV station FUN. Clever and unusual stunts, skits and gags set a fast-moving pace of entertainment, states Miss Dixon.

Many well known TV and movie personalities will be imitated in addition to several chorus numbers of "American Beauties" and "Girls of the Golden West."

Trusties Disappear, Were Hauling Supplies In State Truck

PENDLETON, Ind. (UP) —Two Indiana Reformatory trusties disappeared Monday while hauling supplies in a state truck.

State and southern Indiana authorities were alerted.

The men were identified as Harvey James Lundt, 29, serving a 2-5 year term for burglary from Vanderburgh County in 1954, and Eugene C. Smith, 26, serving a 1-10 year term for grand larceny from Monroe County this year.

Warden Ralph Tahash said the two, who were trusties since March 23, were enroute to the institution after delivering supplies to an outside shop when they vanished.

H said neither of the uertteiss was armed and he did not consider them dangerous.

She Nearly Paid $1,000 Subway Fare

NEW YORK (UP)—Peggy Keenan nearly paid $1,000 to get through a subway turnstile Monday but got her money back, thanks to an honest transit employe.

Miss Keenan was on her way to the Internal Revenue office to pay the tax for her employer when she suddenly discovered she no longer had his bag of money with her.

She rushed back to a subway station from which she had just emerged and found a subway employe holding the bag of money which she had left on top of a turnstile.

Hilda May Veer North, Striking The East Coast

Still A Threat To South Florida

MIAMI (UP)—A new hurricane rampaging in Bahama waters may veer northward and strike the East Coast, a weatherman warned today.

Forecaster Walter Davis of the Miami Weather Bureau said the tempest, which sprang up Monday is still a threat to south Florida. Most of the Bahamas were on alert.

Hurricane Hilda, eighth tropical whirler of the year, churned the sea just south of Turks Island nearly 750 miles southeast of Miami during the night in an almost stationary position.

An advisory reported Hilda, with top winds of 75 miles per hour, was drifting slowly west-northwestward on a course aimed near Miami.

The slow-down from an earlier speed of 12 miles per hour when Hilda sprang into full hurricane formation and strength Monday was considered a signal of further growth.

Weathermen said it was too early to estimate the full potential strength or course of the whirler which developed from a group of squalls in the Antilles at dawn Monday.

Davis said there was a good possibility of Hilda turning northward and hitting the trails of hurricanes Connie and Diane which spread death and destruction along the Eastern Seaboard states earlier this year.

The hurricane was born hundreds of miles nearer the U.S. mainland than either Conie or Diane, which moved in from far out in the Atlantic to hit the Carolina coast.

Seven Top War Criminals Still Held In Prison

Convicted Of Atrocities, Other Crimes Against Allied Forces In Pacific

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States and seven other governments will soon approve the release of Japan's seven top war criminals still held in prison, it was learned today.

Diplomatic sources said the eight governments would announce in the near future that the seven "Grade A" war criminals are eligible for parole.

Two or three of the war criminals would be released almost immediately afterwards, these sources said. The others probably would be freed over the next few months.

The Japanese prisoners have served almost 10 years in Sugamo Prison in Tokyo. They were convicted of atrocities and other crimes against Allied forces in the Pacific during World War II.

They are Kingoroo Hashimoto, president of the ultra right-wing Sakisei Party; Naoki Hoshino, former official of the Japanese puppet government in Manchuria; Koichi Kido, former minister of the imperial household Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Nazi Germany; Teichi Suzuki, former chief of the cabinet planning board; Okinori Kaya, former finance minister, and Kenryo Sato, former director of the army military affairs bureau.

Besides the United States, these nations have a voice in the release of the war criminals: Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, France and the Netherlands.

At least two-thirds of the eight members of the International Military Tribunal, which conducted the war crimes trials, must approve the release of any "Class A" war criminals. Russia has no say in the matter because it did not sign the Japanese peace treaty.

Great Balloon Mystery Is Slightly Deflated But Still Able To Touch Off Controversy

By UNITED PRESS

The great balloon mystery was slightly deflated today, but it was still puzzling enough to touch off a controversy.

Three of the huge balloons, which appeared out of the blue and then disappeared back into it in the Midwest Sunday, were definitely claimed.

But a fourth floater—shot down near Fowler, Ind., and accompanied to earth by two parachutists—provoked an airy dispute between a newspaper and an Air Force base as to its ownership.

The O.C. Winzen research firm of Minneapolis, Minn., claimed a balloon carrying mice and instruments, which was sent aloft Sunday and landed near Phelps, Wis.

Ohio weather forecasters gave in and said they were the dispatchers of a balloon sighted sighted over the central part of the state.

And reports that a huge 20-story balloon seen by thousands of Chicagoans came from Lowry Air Force Base in Colorado were not denied.

But Lowry officials did deny a newspaper report that the downed floater belonged to them. The denial stemmed from a Chicago Tribune report today which said the paper learned that the remains of the balloon which fell to earth near Fowler had been shipped back to the Denver base.

"Research equipment landed by parachute had been rushed away Sunday," the newspaper said.

Maj. Jack Laurie, Lowry public relations officer, said it was true that a number of balloons released from the base had drifted far to the east.

But, he said, reports that the punctured balloon carried animals proved "it's not Lowry's." He said none of the Lowry balloons carried anything other than instruments.

While the mystery of the fourth balloon kept many officials up in the air, another balloon was sent up by the Winzen firm Monday. And this one came down.

The Air Force recovered the 25-story test balloon after it had risen to the edge of the earth's atmosphere with a cargo of live animals.

Officials said "all looked well" when they recovered the balloon, loaded with 90 live mice, three guinea pigs and some living tissue culture 10 miles west of Willmar Minn.

Superintendent Says Indiana Can Meet Classroom Needs

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Indiana can meet its classroom needs without federal aid, an education conference was told late Monday.

Paul C. Garrison, superintendent of Richmond schools, reported to the Governor's Committee for the White House Conference on Education.

The group's school building committee, headed by Garrison, noted that a law passed by the 1955 Legislature is helping solve the school building shortage.

The law makes about $13,500,000 left over from the World War II bonus fund available to school units which have exhausted their bonding and taxing power.

The Governor's Conference on Education will be held Oct. 24 at Butler University.

Couple Refuses To Reveal Events In Mysterious Death

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A couple charged with the abortion of heiress Doris Jean Ostreicher refused today to reveal the mysterious events that occurred in their apartment the night the 22-year-old bride died.

Bartender Milton Schwartz and his beautician wife, Rosalie, were arrested Monday night. Their attorney, Israel Finkelstein posted bail of $5,000 each. The couple will be arraigned Thursday.

Finkelstein said he would authorize "absolutely no statement" by the couple.

The arrests came only a few hours after the victim's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Silver, 49, wife of a food chain store executive, was released in $1,500 bail when her hearing on an accessory charge was continued. She was to be sent to a mental institution.

Three other charges were contained in the warrant against the couple in addition to the actual abortion. They were accused of being accessories before the fact of an abortion resulting in death, of conspiring with Mrs. Silver in the abortion attempt and of perjury at the Sept. 2 inquest into the girl's death. The inquest resulted in a finding of homicide.

The Schwartzes and Mrs. Silver were present in the apartment, Aug. 24, the night of the death of Mrs. Ostreicher, who had eloped two months to the day earlier with Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle patrolman Earl Ostreicher, son of a Chicago businessman.

Mrs. Silver Monday was declared unfit to be arraigned by two "impartial" psychiatrists.

Magistrate Elias Meyers permitted bail on the promise of Mrs. Silver's personal psychiatrist to have her admitted to a mental hospital for treatment until she is able to appear for a hearing.

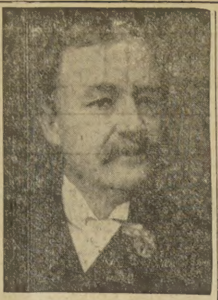
CITIZENS STATE BANK

THE WARD ORGANIZATION which started in a single room in this old Chicago building now serves the entire country through its almost 600 retail stores, over 250 mail-order offices and nine large mail-order houses.

This week Montgomery Ward celebrates its 83rd year in business, having operated continuously since 1872. The store here in Columbia City was opened in 1940.

In 1872, A. Montgomery Ward started the very first mail order house. Up to that time people in rural areas traded at small general stores, or depended on the itinerant peddler for the necessities and small comforts of life. Only meager stocks of merchandise were offered and the prices were truly excessive.

Ward, a "drummer" for several leading drygoods firms, had a new idea. When America celebrated the completion of the first transcontinental railroad in 1869, Montgomery Ward saw that the time was ripe for a greater merchandising service than had ever before been attempted. Ward started saving his money and by 1871 had $2400 for this venture. Then, the great Chicago fire wiped out everything he had except $65, and the firm he worked for went out of business. He found another job, and by living on a bare minimum, built up his savings to $1600 in only a year. That, with a contribution of $800 by George R. Thorne, who became his partner, launched the first mail order company.



A. MONTGOMERY WARD revolutionized the merchandising field when, in 1872, he launched his mail-order company with a policy of satisfaction guaranteed.

The total space for office-warehouse operations was one room, only 12 x 14 feet, in a building on Chicago's North Clark Street. The first catalog was a one-page list of merchandise and prices. Progress was slow in those early months, but the public was soon impressed by the statement, "satisfaction guaranteed or your money back" which was, up to then, unheard of. The usual policy of the day had been, "let the buyer beware."

This was the beginning of the mail order business, destined to have a revolutionary effect upon the merchandising methods of the mail order houses and over 250 catalog sales offices, Wards have nearly 600 retail stores.

Not only did Montgomery Ward lay the foundation for one of the world's greatest merchandising successes, but he revolutionized retail trade throughout the country. With Woolworth, who created the "five and ten", and Wanamaker who originated the department store, Montgomery Ward was one of the Big Three who changed the buying habits of the nation.

Today Wards first "catalog" is considered one of the hundred influential books published before 1900 which greatly affected the life, thought and culture of America.

Custer's Garden Is A One-Acre Plot Of Corn Custer Believes Will Set Production Record

AUBURN, Ind. (UP)—The question most frequently asked of A.J. Custer these days is "How does your garden grow?' And Custer answers "Fine, thanks."

The "garden" is a one-acre plot of corn which Custer believes will set a world production record, perhaps so great it won't be broken for years.

Last spring, Custer planted an acre of corn by unprecedented methods. He experimented by dumping far more fertilizr into the field and planting farm more seed than normally are used by corn growers anywhere.

Custer took a chance. After all, the seed was planted awfully close together. Then there was the chance of wind and hail to ruin it, and a drought to keep his hopes from materializing.

But while most other sections of the state dried up in an August-September rainless spell, the showers soaked Custer's acre and kept his lush growth of corn green and healthy.

More Than 300 Bushels?

Custer's goal was 300 bushels per acre. The highest yield known, according to agricultural experts, was about 260 bushels. Does it look as if he'll reach his goal?

"I expect more than 300 bushels," Custer said confidently.

His only worry, he said, is the result of a rather mild windstorm which laid down a little of the corn as it bounced erratically across the field. Custer is afraid when his production is checked officially by representatives of the Indiana Corn Growers Association, they'll get into too much of the damaged corn to take their samples.

Custer said pollination, which was risky because it was planned to occur at various stages in the plot over a 10-day period, turned out "wonderful." The farm had "a fine rain" about 10 days ago.

Estimates of the potential of the acre have ranged as high as 354 bushels. Custer has found in checking that there are as high as 11 ears to three feet of row. He believed half the ears in the field would weight more than a pound each when harvested.

Not For Glory

Custer vows he grew the experimental acre not for personal glory but for benefit to corn growers everywhere.

"A great amount of knowledge will come out of this acre," he said. "It will prove that we can produce more corn per acre economically. It will prove the value of organic matter in the soil. It will prove there is no limit, hardly, to growing crops if the soil is prepared properly."

Custer believed it was possible his experiment might contribute eventually to bringing the state corn yield average up from 50-some bushels per acre to 75, 80 or even 90.

Custer plans to harvest at least one-third of the acre on the day the experts come, near Nov. 1, to spot-check the field and determine mathematically his yield.

"I want to put it all in baskets and determine actual production," he said.

Leslie Irvin To Go On Trial For Murder

PRINCETON, Ind. (UP)—Leslie Irvin, accused of killing six persons in and near Evansville, goes on trial on a first degree murder charge Nov. 14.

Gibson Circuit Judge A. Dale Eby refused Monday to remand the case back to Evansville where it originated. The case was sent here from Vanderburgh Circuit Court.

Defense Attorneys Theodore Lockyear Jr. and James Lopp argued if the case were sent back it would nullify the one change of venue granted by law. Then, they said, they could ask for another change of venue to a county outside the area to avoid local prejudice.

Eby ruled no further change of venue could be granted.

Irvin will be tried first in the slaying of W. Wesley Kerr, 29, Evansville filling station attendant.

Prosecutors Paul Weaver and Loren McGregor charged the request for a change of venue was a stalling tactic.

Boy, Soldier Who Helped Him Escape Are Back In Custody

VINCENNES, Ind. (UP)—Charles Case, 15, and a 22-year-old soldier who allegedly helped him escape from Knox County jail Sunday night were back in custody today facing additional charges as a result of the break.

Case and Donald Clinging, Pleasant Hill, Ill., stationed at Fort Knox., Ky., were captured Monday near the army base.

The boy and soldier were in jail together Sunday Charles held for running away from the Knox County Orphanage and the soldier for inability to pay a speeding fine.

The soldier paid his fine Sunday night and was released.

A shorttime later, jailers discovered Case had escaped by sawing a hole through the bars of the cell window.

Big Joke

MAITOWOC, Wis. (UP)It was all a big joke until the fists started flying.

Charles Kirwan, 19, rural Manitowoc, stepped up to the bar and announced, "when I drink . . . everybody drinks."

Sheriff Lester Nichols said everyone in the house had one. Then the bartender tried to collect from Kirwan.

"When I pay . . . everybody pays" Kirwan said.

A fight followed. A woman was insulted. Sheriff's deputies were called.

Kirwan and a friend were arrested. Municipal Judge Harold W. Mueller gave them 10-day jail sentences Monday.

"I don't know if the bill ever got paid or not,' the sheriff said.

Bricker Confident Eisenhower Will Seek Second Term

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) says he is confident President Eisenhower will seek a second term next year, but the Republicans will win with or without him.

Bricker, here for a talk before members of the building industry, said regardless of what Mr. Eisenhower decides "the Republican Party will find a candidate it can win with."

Bricker also said his Constituional amendment limiting the President's treaty-making powers will be approved by Congress in 1956, although it may be modified.

"There's too much of a demand for Congress to neglect it," he said. "I think a satisfactory solution can be worked out."

Bricker, vice-presidential nominee in 1944, said he is not interested in seeking the nomination again.

Albert M. Cole, federal housing and home finance administrator, estimated home building will "level off" from 1.3 million units this year to from one million to 1.2 million in 1956.

323 Women Hold Elective Offices All Over Nation

WASHINGTON — (UP) — More women are holding elective public offices today than ever before, according to Miss Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee.

A total of 323 women are serving in federal and state offices to which they were elected, not appointed, she said.

"There are 16 women members of the House of Representatives—nine Democrats and seven Republicans," she said. In the Senate Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) is the only woman right now," she added. Mrs. Smith was reelected for her second term in September, 1954.

"A total of 306 women are members of the state legislature," Miss Adkins continued. "This is an increase of two over the previous all time high in 1954."

The political line-up for women legislators is: Democrats, 117; Republicans, 186; two without party designation, and one independent.

The first woman ever elected to Congress was Jeannette Rankin (R-Mont.) in 1916. Since then a total of 60 women were elected or appointed to serve in Congress, she said.

The first year of Federal women suffrage was 1920. And 29 women gained office that year in state legislatures. "Since then the number has steadily climbed to the all record high this year of 306-women," she said.

Nebraska adopted a unicameral legislature 19 years ago. This year for the first time a woman is serving. She is Mrs. Kathleen A. Fotte (R.).

"Four states— Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia and Oklahoma—have no women state legislators," Miss Adkins concluded.

Manchester Choir To Sing Friday At Plowing Contest

One of the highlights of Friday's activities at the National Plowing contest, to be held near Urbana, will be a program by the Manchester College A Cappella choir, under the direction of Dr. Clyde W. Holsinger, chairman of the department of music and conductor of choral organizations at Manchester College.

The A Cappella choir is a group which was organized in 1946 by Dr. Holsinger. Composed of 50 voices, the choir has rapidly become recognized as one of the finer choral organizations in this area. Appearing before a national church conference of over 8,000 delegates and visitors this past summer at Grand Rapids, Michigan, the choir presented Handel's "Messiah" and numerous other selections.

Chosen by audition from the student body, this group of voices comprises the most perfected singers on campus. The choir's repertoire includes choral literature of many types, specializing in unaccompanied masterpieces of both ancient and modern composers.

Numbers to be presented by the A Cappella choir Friday afternoon include two spirituals, "Balm In Gilead," arranged by Dawson, and "Rock-a-my-Soul," arranged by DeVaux; the "Twenty-Third Psalm" by Newman; some folk songs, among which will be "Polly-Wolly-Doodle" and "Deaf Old Woman"; and such other numbers as "Falling In Love With Love", "Happy Wanderer" and "It Might As Well Be Spring."

Dr. Holsinger, a 1941 graduate of Manchester college, received both his Master of Music NA Ph. D. degrees from Northwestern university, receiving the latter in 1954.

Mary Katherine Goldwood And Donald Dean Hartman Wed In Church Rites Sunday

The Church of the Nazarene on North Elm street was the scene Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Mary Katherine Goldwood and Donald Dean Hartman of this city. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Goldwood of 212 East Hanna street and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hartman, 307 Catherine Ave.

The Rev. Merle Bright, pastor of the church, read the double-ring ceremony, and the Rev. Richard Wood, uncle of the bride, offered the prayer as the couple knelt at the candlelighted altar. The alter was decorated with palms and white gladiolus.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Glenn Davis, organist, and Mrs. Merle Bright, vocalist.

The bride, attired in a gown of white crystal satin, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves that came to points over the hands. Seed pearls marked the neckline and self covered buttons came to the waistline in the back of the tight fitted bodice. The full skirt fell into a chapel train. A tiara of seed pearls held in place her finger tip veil She carried a white Bible topped with red roses.

Mrs. Charles Simon, who was in a ballerina length gown, attended her sister as matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations. Penny Sue Goldwood, sister of the bride, and Rebecca Weller, niece of the bridegroom, who were in gowns of white and lavender respectively, served as flower girls.

Mrs. Goldwood was in a grey afternoon dress with which she wore a small white satin hat with a brow veil. Her gloves were white. The bridegroom's mother was in a grey gaberdine dress. Her accessories were black. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

Robert Hartman attended his brother as best man and Carl Goldwood, brother of the bride and Terry Hartman, brother of the bridegroom were ushers. Guests were received on the lawn at the Goldwood home after the ceremony.

The lace covered table was centered with a four-tiered cake topped with bride and groom figurines. Assistants at the reception were Mrs. Homer A. Diffendarfer, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Carl Goldwood, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Donald Weller and Mrs. Glenn Judd, sisters of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside at 362 North Elm street. The bride was formerly employed at the White market. Mr. Hartman is now employed at Salisbury Axle Company in Fort Wayne. He spent nearly three years in military service, 18 months of that time in Germany.

Miss Wilodene L. Kemery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Kemery of near Larwill, became the bride of Russell E. Sanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville T. Sanson of South Whitley, in a home wedding solemnized Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Marion Shroyer read the double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a beige dress featuring a V neckline and cap sleeves. She wore a corsage of red roses and her accessories were in beige and black.

Mrs. Clem Evard, who attended her sister, was in an aqua blue dress with which she wore a corsage of pink asters. The two mothers wore corsages of white asters. Mr. Evard attended Mr. Sanson. The men of the wedding party wore white aster boutonnieres.

Assisting at the small reception held following the ceremony were the Mesdames Richard Sanson, Paul Bump, Porter Adams and Miss Lura Montgomery.

The bride was graduated from Larwill high school. Mr. Sanson is associated with the Peabody Seating Company at North Manchester where the couple will reside at 504 East Fifth street. The bridegroom is a graduate of South Whitley high school.

No Progress In Settlement Of Their Strike

By J. ROBERT SHUBERT
United Press Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Settlement of a current strike of CIO Westinghouse Electric Corp. workers over a one-plant grievance may prove a major block in early conclusion of a new wage agreement with the company, union President James B. Carey indicated today.

Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers, emerged from a meeting with Westinghouse officials at 1:30 a.m. CDT and gave a grim "no progress" report.

He had sought settlement of a two-day walkout of the IUE's 44,000 Westinghouse members which was called in support of 2,200 East Pittsburgh plant workers who went on a strike Aug. 8 in protest to a company time-study program.

Wages Talks Thursday

Carey, who also has been CIO national secretary since the organizations formation, said he would confer once more with company officials before going into a strategy session with the Wage Negotiating Committee at 9 p.m. Wage talks with the company open on Thursday under a contract reopening clause.

The 2,200 striking East Pittsburgh workers, who are paid by the day rather than for production, quit work charging the company's time study program was the prelude to a "speed up."

The company - wide walkout, which management said will cost the workers $3,500,000 a week, started Monday after a "peace" agreement between Carey and Westinghouse Vice President R. D. Blasier blew up.

Conferred With Board

After conferring with Robert Nellis, chairman of the IUE Westinghouse Conference Board, and his associates, Carey announced that he would not even submit the proposed settlement for ratification, because Blasier refused to put into writing "understandings" reached at the bargaining table.

Kefauver's Chance Of Winning Democratic Presidential Nomination No More Than Fair

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver's chance of winning the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination is no more than fair, despite which he is the man to watch next year.

For one solid reason: Kefauver is a serious obstacle in the path of Adlai E. Stevenson. The middle-aged (52) Tennessee senator has not formally announced for the 1956 contest. He is going through the preliminary motions, however, and the odds are long that Stevenson must get by Kefauver to win.

Sitting back cool, comfortable and with an ace in the hole is Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. The fates of these three men, who are so unlike, are tied securely together; the political Davy Crockett from Tennessee, the polished, easy - mannered man from Illinois, and Harriman, who would be the richest president since George Washington.

Stevenson's Decision Approaches

The season is approaching when Stevenson must say yes—or no—to the question whether he will run again. Democrats will not draft Stevenson again.

That's where Kefauver's coonskin cap will be right in the center of the ring. The senator is a deadly primary opponent. He licked President Truman in New Hampshire's kickoff primary in March, 1952.

Kefauver went on to win primaries in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Illinois, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Maryland Oregon Pennsylvania Tennessee, South Dakota and California. Some of these were mere courtesy votes which did not bind delegations. He split Ohio and Florida.

Lost At Convention

The Tennessee senator probably had the largest public following of any Democrat when the national convention assembled in Chicago in 1952. Kefauver was well ahead on the first two ballots, then the professionals, led by Mr. Truman, did him in. Stevenson was the winner.

Kefauver will go into the primaries again if he moves at all next year, and that puts it up to Stevenson to enter and meet him. A series of primary losses to Kefauver would be enough to bench Stevenson for life.

Then would come the $64,000 question. Would Mr. Truman and the other party leaders whom Kefauver has offended accept him this time.

ILA, Defying Courts, Orders General Strike

Against Atlantic And Gulf Coast Ports

NEW YORK (UP) — The International Longshoremen's Assn. defied the courts today and ordered a general strike against all Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports to enforce its demands against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

The defiant action, which exposed ILA officials to the possibility of jail terms or heavy fines, was expected to halt dock activity from New England to Texas. Dock bosses on both coasts indicated they would comply with the union order but some replies carried tone of reluctance. Several of the ports were expected to stage only token strikes.

Officials Scheduled For Court

Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the independent union, and three of his assistants were ordered to appear Wednesday to show cause why they should not be jailed or fined for contempt of court for defying a temporary restraining order signed last Wednesday, the day the strike began, at the request of shipping interests who say the strike is costing more them more than one million dollars a day.

In Philadelphia, James T. Moock, ILA international vice president for the Philadelphia area, said "it looks as though there'll be no men at work along the waterfront" today.

New England Tied Up

Daniel J. Donovan, ILA vice president for New England said he would call out dockers in Boston, Portland, Maine, and Providence, R.I.

Some 20 top officials of South Atlantic and Gulf Coast districts of the ILA met in Houston, Tex., Monday to consider the general strike order.

The officials would not say whether they would order a strike of their ports, extending from North Carolina to the southern tip of the Texas Coast. District President Ralph Massey said it was up to individual locals whether to strike but "as a general rule they go along with the recommendations of the district board."

The union's avowed objective in calling the general strike is to bring about an investigation of its feud with the commission, which it claims is illegally interfering with union activities and longshoremen's private lives.

Union demands that its complaints be investigated by Govs. Averell Harriman of New York and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey were rebuffed by the chief executives.

Government Rushes Food, Medicine To Devastated Areas

CAIRO (UP)— The government rushed food and medical supplies today to areas devastated by an earthquake which killed at least 20 persons and injured 8 others.

Many families were left homeless both here and in provincial towns to the north in the wake of the severe quake which rocked the Nile delta and was felt as far away as Cyprus.

Azzouz Ismail, director of the Helwan Observatory, said the danger of immediate new quakes apparently had passed.

Ten of the dead were little girls dressed in their Sunday best for their first day of the new school term here.

Craig In New York In Interest Of Lake Michigan Port

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Governor Craig and three other state officials are in New York City this week in the interests of a seaport on Lake Michigan.

The governor went there Sunday and expected to stay all week, apparently to carry out his previously announced plans for seeking private financial support for development of a 60 million dollar public harbor at a Porter County point known as Burns Ditch.

With him were Dr. Dimon Geiger, chairman of the Indiana Toll Road Commission; Harry T. Ice, bond counsel for the commission, and Buford Cadle, a member of the Indiana State Police board.

Cleveland Indians Aim To Settle A Couple Of Scores With Sad Sack Senators Tonight

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians aim to settle a couple of scores with the sad sack Senators tonight, the first one having to do with something personal and the second one with something like $10,000 per man.

On the personal side, the Indians are fed up with the increasing needling they have been subjected to from the seventh - place Senators, who have beaten them 12 out of 19 games this year.

Then there's the always vital matter of World Series money. The Indians, who lead the American League by 1½ games, are convinced they can eliminate the last major obstacle in their road to the pennant by capturing at least two games of the three game series which opens with a twi - night doubleheader at Griffith Stadium tonight.

Two Veterans To Pitch

Towa that end, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, who says "this series can make or break us," has nominated two of his pressure-tested right-handers, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia, to pitch against Washington in tonight's twin - bill.

Chuck Dressen, the fiery little Senator skipper who vows he'll treat the next three games as if they were World Series contests, indicated his pitching choices may be southpaw Mickey McDermott in the opener and right-hander Bob Porterfield or left - hander Chuck Stobbs in the nightcap.

The Yankees, a game and a half off the pace and one game down in the all importwnt "lost column" havz troubles of their own. But their troubles could suddenly dissolve if they were to beat the Tigers today while the Indians lose their double dip to the pesky Senators. Such a series of events would result in a tie between Cleveland and New York for first place.

Casey Stengel is sending his right handed fast-baller Bob Turley to the mound against Detroit today while Bucky Harris of the Tpgers has given the nod to Bob Miller, a 20-year-old bonus hurler who has just returned to Detroit after compiling an 8-2 record with Augusta of the Sally League.

The third - place White Sox, who are 3½ games back, are at Baltimore for a twi-night doublheader, while the Red Sox, who insist they still have a chance even though they are six games behind, meet the Kansas City athletics in a twi-nighter.

In the only game scheduled Monday night, the last-place Pirates defeated the seventh place Cardinals, 9-3, behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Lino Donoso. Dale Long and Frank Thomas each homered for the Pirates while Stan Musial clouted his 29th and 30th homers for the Cards.

Racing Tracks Give To Red Cross Fund

NEW YORK (UP) — Three harness racing tracks in New York State have contributed a total of $21,000 to the American Red Cross relief fund. Yonkers and Roosevelt Raceways presented checks for $10,000 each and Buffalo Raceway turned over a $1,000 check to Gov. Averell Harriman, acting for the Red Cross.

Its overall length is 18½ feet, more than 7 inches longer and 2½ inches lower than 1955 Lincolns. Developing 285 horsepower, its new, low-friction V-8 engine has 9 to 1 compression ratio and delivers 401 ft.-lbs. of torque, assuring outstanding performance. Lincoln is first to introduce a group of safety features including retracted steering column and safety-flex steering wheel, triple-strength safety door locks and optional safety seat belts.

Blackbourn's Second Season As Coach Of Green Bay Packers

By DON BRYDON
United Press Sports Writer

Blackbourn starts his second season as coach of the Green Bay Packers with a group of eager rookies holding the key to success or failure.

The Packers started the 1954 season with high hopes, but inability to win the close ones landed the club in fifth lace in the National Football League's Western Division at the finish with a 4-8 record.

Green Bay's chances to improve on that record this year depend to a discouraging degree on newcomers. The attack last year was built almost entirely around quarterback Tobin Rote and ends Billy Howton and Max McGee. When that aerial combination failed, the Packers lost.

McGee In Service

This year McGee has been lost to the armed forces and Blackbourn is still looking for a number one left end. The top candidates are rookies Jim Jennings of Missouri and Bob Peringer of Washington State, with second year man Gary Knafel also in contention.

But none of the prospects has looked good enough in pre-season exhibitions to take his place alongside Howton, one of the best pass catchers in the league when the opposition can't double - team him.

The Packers also need a top reserve quarterback, and they may have found one in an unlikely place — Prairie View (Tex.) A&M. Charlie Brackins, who passed, kicked and carried the ball to set a flock of records at Prairie View, has taken the switch to pro ball in stride and should stick as Rote's understudy.

Defense One Of Lops

The Packers' defense, already one of the best in the league, has been strengthened considerably with the addition of rookie guard Tom Bettis of Purdue, Green Bay's first draft choice. George Timberlake of Southern California and Hank Bullough of Michigan State also have shown promise of sticking at guard.

Rookie halfback Doyle Nix of Southern Methodist has looked good on defense, and probably will team up with Val Joe Walker, who ranks as one of the top pass defenders in the circuit.

Blackbourn has been rebuilding for the past two years and said he did not expect to win a championship "until we have championship caliber men on the club."

Suggs Says She's Through For Year

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—Louise Suggs, smooth-swinging Sea Island Ga., golfer who won the $5,000 women's open here by six strokes, said today that she is "through for the year."

Walking off with the $900 first prize Monday, Miss Suggs said she will devote the next few months to her new job as president of the Women's Professional Golf Assn. and to teaching at Sea Island.

She shot her fourth successive sub-par round in the final to pile up an 11-under-par 289 on the Norwood Hills Country Club course.

Mary Lena Faulk, former national amateur champion from Thomasville, Ga., finished second with a 295, one stroke better than Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.

The defending champion, Betsy Rawls, ended in a three-way tie for ninth place with Betty Bush and Fay Crocker.

Nan Berry, Quincey, Ill., copped the amateur title with a 316 total, six strokes better than Gloria Fecht of Los Angeles.

Babe Appeals To All To Get In This Fight Against Cancer

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP) — Famed athlete Babe Didrickson Zaharias appealed to everyone "to get in this fight" against cancer today as she prepared to leave the hospital after a second bout with the disease.

The Babe is scheduled to leave John Sealy Hospital Wednesday. She said she and her husband, George Zaharias wanted to start a voluntary fund for early detection and treatment of cancer "to save as many lives as possible."

The famed woman golfer, often referred to as the world's greatest all - round woman athlete, announced establishment of the fund from her hospital bed Monday.

A Galveston bank pledged the first $1,000 to the fund and the Babe matched the bank's contribution.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. Zaharias was in "good" condition, and she corroborated it qualifiedly:

"I feel real well, but I get tired quick and I like that bed real well."

She said she was anxious to get to her new home in Tampa, Fla., to "start practicing golf and fooling around with flowers."

The Babe said she plans to start playing in tournaments next year "if the doctors will let me.' She said she "will only play in the big ones now.'

Mrs. Zaharias, who first was striken with cancer in 1953, appealed to everyone "to get into this fight" and send voluntary contributions' to the "Babe's Cancer Fund, Galveston, Tex."

Logart Has Clear Victory Over Wilson

NEW YORK (UP)—Speedy Isaac Logart of Camaguey, Cuba, who has designs on the welterweight crown once worn by fellow-townsman Kid Gavilan, was rewarded today for his clear victory over Al (Sugar) Wilson by a return bout with Virgil Akins of St. Louis.

Logart and Akins, who split-decisioned Logart on Aug. 8, were listed today for a clash at St. Nicholas Arena, Oct. 3. provided Akins escapes injury in his bout at Indianapolis tonight against Harold Jones. Should Akins suffer some slight injury, the bout would be set back to Oct. 17.

Logart, the 8½ to 5 favorite, captured a wide margin in the official voting in Monday night's bout against Wilson, of Englewood, N. J., at St. Nick's

There were no knockdowns, but Logart bloodied Wilson's nose in the second round and kept it flowing the rest of the way, and also kept Wilson's right eye partially closed from the fourth round on.

Harbert Elected Captain Of Ryder Cup Golf Team

NEW YORK (UP) — Former PGA champion Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., has been elected by the other members to captain the United States Ryder Cup golf team in its annual series against Britain at Palm Springs, Calif., Nov. 5-6.

Other star pro golfers on the team are Marty Furgol, Cary Middlecoff, Sammy Snead, Boug Ford, Tommy Bolt, Ted Kroll Jerry Barber, Jackie Burke Jr. and Chandler Harper.

Expect Decision Soon On Suspension Of Tennis Star Huber

VIENNA, Austria (UP) — Final decision on the suspension of Austrian tennis star Fred Huber, nicknamed the "Tennis Clown," is expected on Sept. 17.

Huber was suspended Monday by the Austrian Tennis Assn. While it is investigating charges that "the prestige of Austrian sports has been seriously damaged by his behavior abroad' in recent tournaments in Germany and Czechoslovakia. The association did not state the exact charges against Huber, who has been suspended several times in the past.

Brennan Begins His Second Year As Coach For The Irish

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (U.P)—Notre Dame's 1955 football success might depend upon two injured knees and the luck of Coach Terry Brennan as a gambler.

Brennan, beginning his second year as the Irish coach, began his first gamble with the opening of fall practice when he sent his squad, the smallest physically in modern Irish history, into a scrimmage on the first day of drills and then scrimmaged them four of the first five days of practice.

The knees belong to veteran Ray Lemek, switched from guard to tackle this year, and Bob Kapish, letterman end. Both appeared to be certain starters if their knees don't give out after off-season operations to remove and repair torn cartilege.

Irish Luck Holds

So far, Brennan's luck has held up. He wanted the scrimmages to give his players "the rough work they haven't had in games,' and he took a chance on hurting some of them to get the squad ready for head bumping when the season begins.

"Weve had to gamble, they'll get through without injuries, but it's the only way to get them under fire," he said.

The scrimmages too revealed that while Lemek and Kapish may last the season without further injury to their knees, Brennan must find replacements for them.

"Both of them have been shaky," he said. "The legs get tired and while the knees don't give way, they tend to buckle. We don't know how long they'll be able to play, but certainly neither of them will be able to go 60 minutes any time.'

Brennan plans more varied defenses than he has had in the past in an effort to cover up whatever weaknesses there may be in his lineup.

Starters a Problem

"We won't be able to sit in there with just one or two defenses," he said, "because with one or two exceptions, we'll be outweighed in every game.'

Hence he indicated the Irish could expect to be scored on in every contest, but perhaps his team could outscore the foe in some if not all of the matches.

He'll have experienced hands at quarterback, with Paul Hornung, at fullback, with Don Schaefer, and at right half with Jim Morse. At left half sophomore Aubrey Lewis, a former standout performer in the decathlon, with good speed and power, probably will gain the berth.

In the line Brennan has center Jim Mense, guard Pat Bisceglia and tackle Wayne Edmonds with experience, and probably will use sophomore Dick Prendergast at the other end, and Gene Martell at the other guard.

"We'll have a little more backfield speed, and I hope our line will be faster than last year,' he said. "Theyll be quick, I think, but not exceptionally fast."

"We don't have much experience and up front we're a little thin. Our problem is to find a starting lineup, and then to find some depth behind them."

Hoosier Income Depends More On Industrial Payroll

BLOOMINGTON Ind. (UP)—Hoosier income is depending more and more on industrial payrolls, a study by the Indiana University School of Business showed today.

The study by Associate Director Wallace O. Yoder of the Bureau of Business Research showed the percentage of Indiana income from manufacturing rose from 23.1 in 1940 to 37.5 in 1953.

In the same period, the proportion of total income from farming remained about the same—7.2 per cent—but the number of persons dependent on farming declined.

Other 1953 percentages are trade and service income 22.3, a drop of 4 per cent since 1940; government 12.2, about the same as 1940, and all other sources 20.8, a decline of 9 per cent.

The study also shows Hoosiers now get a larger share of the national income. The percentage was 2.27 in 1940 and 2.8 in 1953, although the state's population growth in the 13-year history was in about the same proportion as the country generally.

DELILAH, MODERN STYLE

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. —(UP) — Cecil Adams' wife didn't like the beard he was growing for Cheboyan County's centennial celebration. One night while he was sleeping, she plugged in his electric shaver and cleaned one side of his face before Adams woke up. Adams took a look in a mirror, plugged in the shaver again and took off the rest of the beard.

Handley Saye We Need Institution For Mentally Ill Youths

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Lt. Gov. Harold W. Handley said Monday night that Indiana should start thinking about its youngsters in connection with its mental health program.

Handley said a new institution is needed for mentally ill youths, since at present only LaRue Carter Hospital accepts psychotic youngers.

He said also that something should be done to avoid the harmful effects of children seeing their fathers "hauled off to jail just because they are mentally ill."

Handley said the state should increase its emphasis on mental hospital construction so it can sidestep a practice of detaining mental patients temporarily in jail cells until places can be found for them in mental institutions.

"It just isn't right for kiddies to see their daddies hauled off to jail just because they are mentally ill," Handley said. "This is one reason for the need for more construction."

Handley spoke at a program conference of the Indiana Association for Mental Health during a three-day convention.

State Rep. Jesse L. Dickinson (D-South Bend) told the group that mental health leaders should make state legislators aware of mental problems immediately after they are nominated in the primaries.

Gary To Consider Proposal For Funds

GARY (UP)—Gary's City Council meets in special session tonight to consider a proposal that $1,400,000 paid the city by the Indiana Toll Road Commission be spent immediately for civic improvements.

The proposal came from Mayor Peter Mandich, who suggested $400,000 be spent to complete a municipal stadium, $350,000 for emergency repairs and cleaning of deteriorated sewers, $200,000 for resurfacing runways and improvements at Gary Municipal Airport, $30,000 to complete a city planning survey, $100,000 to buy land and develop a park system, and $320,000 to build fire stations in four areas.

The city gets the money under an agreement with the commission which is constructing Indiana's first toll road across the north portion from the Ohio turnpike to chicago. The road bisects Gary.

White Men Kidnap Negro In Mistaken Identity Reprisal

CARROLLTON, Ala. (UP) — Three white men kidnaped, tortured and threatened a 21-year-old Negro at gunpoint in a mistaken identity reprisal Monday night, Sheriff R.. Shields Reported.

The white men, identified as Wiley McGee, 24, a service station operator, Cecil Sullivan, 27 and James L. Roberts, 25, a sawmill operator were of Gordo, Ala. All were held in county jail without bond.

The Pickens County sheriff said he arrested the men as they drove along U.S. 82 after releasing the Negro, Mutt Jones, beaten and frightened but otherwise unharmed.

Several persons gathered at the jail after the men were locked up at about 11 p.m. and asked that they be freed. Shields said. But there was no indication of possible violence.

Recalls Till Case

"There was hard feeling toward me for putting them in jail but I told them Ive got to do it," the sheriff said.

Shields said the case bore a similarity to the "wolf whistle" incident in Mississippi in which a 14-year-old egro Emmett Till, was abducted by two white men for allegedly insulting a white woman. Till was later found slain.

Shields said he charged the men formally with assault and battery and presenting firearms at another and would notify federal authorities of possible grounds for federal kidnap and civil rights charges.

The mzn dragged the negro into a car and drove him to a beer parlor at Columbus, Miss., where the alleged blackjacking occurred last Saturday night, shields said.

The sheriff said he notified Sheriff C. E. Farmer of Lowndes County in Mississippi that part of the kidnap ride and part of the beating occurred in that state.

Men Get Scared

The men took Jones to Columbus where McGee's father, John Wesley McGee, a beer parlor operator, "looked Jones over" and decided he was not the negro who blackjacked him Saturday night, Shields said.

"They got real scared then and bought Jones $1 worth of beer, and then brought him back home and told him if he told anyone what they had done they would come back later and kill him," th esheriff said.

Shields said he first learned of the incident from Jones' parents who rushed from their rural home to Reform, Ala., and were "screaming in the street" that their son was being killed.

The defendants told Shields they asked Jones to help them free a cordwood truck that became mired some distance away but the parents claimed they beat Jones and forced him into the car at gunpoint.

Another Nebro, Ed Guyton, about 50, told Shields he persuaded Jones not to risk further harm by resisting and rode with the group for several miles, but then was forced fro mthe car.

The white men halted suddenly, drew a shotgun loaded with five shells on Guyton, and told him to start running, Shields said. He said he fled.

Good Teacher Likes Children

BISMARCK, N.D. — (UP) — Miss Rita Murphy, who has taught English to more than 5,000 students at the local high school, says that the secret of being a good teacher is to like children.

"That's first," she emphasized. "Knowledge of the subject comes only second."

Miss Murphy recently was named, along with nine others, to an honor roll of teachers in a national magazine (McCalls).

Miss Murphy says:

"I don't have any," she said when asked about discipline problems. "The only youngster I ever had to slap became a policeman. And we're good friends today."

Miss Murphy said youngsters now have many more outside activities than when she first started teaching in the 1920.

"But that works both ways," she added. "Nowadays they have more information because of the activities."

Warmer For Next Few Days, Cooler During Weekend

By UNITED PRESS

The five-day weather outlook for Indiana today promised warmer temperatures for the next few days with cool weather returning during the weekend accompanied by rain Friday or Saturday, just in time to dampen the inaugural of the college football season.

The weatherman said temperatures will average 3 to 6 degrees above normal highs ranging from 78 north to 84 south and normal lows from 54 to 59.

Rainfall generally will average less than one-fourth of an inch throughout the state.

Wednesday's temperatures will range from 82 north to 86 south. Temperatures today are expected to range from 78 to 80, with lows tonight from 56 to 60.

Lows early today ranged from a chilly 41 at Lafayette to 45 at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne and Evansville.

The warmest spot in the state Monday was Evansville with a moderate 75. South Bend was low with a 69.

Rites On Wednesday For T. J. Hickman, Coesse Resident

Death Occurs Monday Afternoon After Two Years Illness

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the J. A. DeMoney and Son Funeral Home for Thomas Jefferson Hickman, 89, who died at the Farris Nursing Home. Monday afternoon.

The Rev. G. L. Kleespie will officiate and burial will be in the Coesse Lutheran cemetery. Friends will be received at the mortuary.

Mr. Hickman had been ill for the past two years.

He was born in Noble county to Isaac and Delilah Jones Hickman, November 28, 1865. In 1888 he was married to Irene Jeanette Kinsey at Coesse. She sirvives with a daughter Mrs. Lille Grant, Columbia City and a son, Mervin Hickman of Pinconning, Mich. Seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren survive.

Mr. Hickman spent his entire life in Whitley county with the exception of seven years spent in Huntington county where Mr. Hickman was a member of the Friends Church.

Rites Held Monday For Ray Mangan

Funeral services for Ray Mangan were held Monday afternoon at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home. The prelude and postlude were played on the funeral home organ by Kenneth Growcock. The Rev. G. L. Kleespie, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, officiated at the services.

Friends who served as pallbearers were Nile Schrader, Paul Schrader, Rheinhart Heinfeld, Paul Morsches, Sr., Walter Miller, and Clarence Feist. American Legion Post 98 conducted military rites at the grave. Members of the post taking part were: Edwin Pugh, commander; Junior Hively, chaplain; Herbert Johnston, bugler; Adrian Scott, Galen Adair, Robert Meyers, and Sherman Kneller, color guard; and the firing squad consisting of Howard Wherry, Paul Martin, George North, Howard Sewell, and Herbert Kneller with George Henschen as commander. Interment followed in the Greenhill Cemetery.

Father Of Nine Polio-Stricken Children Says He Needs Lot Of Prayers, He Is Getting Them

DURAND, Ill. (UP) — Keron Walsh, father of nine polio-stricken children, stood on the front porch of his wooden farmhouse today and said:

"We need a lot of prayers."

He was getting them. And lots more besides.

All through the night and into the day, nearly every one of the 679 residents of Durand trekked to Walsh's farmhouse, offering prayers, food, money and help on his 160-acre spread.

Their sympathy was aroused when the ninth of the Walshes' 14 children was stricken within 10 days after the first case.

The latest victim, Edward, 16, was stricken Sunday and taken to Winnebago County Hospital, in Rockford, 15 miles southeast of here.

A brother, 17, was afflicted Saturday and was in critical condition at home.

A sister, Rosellen, 5, was convalescing from the disease in St. Anthony's Hospital in Rockford. And six other children, ranging in age from 1 to 15 years were under observation at home.

Walsh, 53, and his wife, 45, were perplexed about their sudden stroke of misfortune.

"It's beyond us," Walsh said. "There's not a case of polio in Winnebago County except ours.

"My children are the only children in the hospital with it. It's as though we were picked out."

The five other Walsh children, ranging in age from 6 to 18, have not shown any polio symptoms.

None of the nine stricken thus far received injections of Salk vaccine, Walsh said.

"There wasn't enough to go around," he said.

Six Killed As Air Force B25 Crashes, Burns

Shortly After Takeoff Today

MITCHEL AIR FORCE BASE, N.Y. (UP) — An Air Force B25 twin-engined bomber crashed and burned in a cemetery shortly after taking off from here today. All six persons aboard were killed.

Three bodies were recovered immediately after the flames were put out by fire crews from the base and nearby towns.

The plane carried three crewmen and three passengers en route to Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. The passengers were identified by a base spokesman as a soldier, a retired Air Force colonel and a civilian.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane had reported engine trouble and was returning to the base when it crashed into an unused section of Greenfield Cemetery a short distance from the busy Southern State Parkway.

The plane apparently caught fire on impact, the spokesman said.

Find Decomposed Bodies Of Two Elwood Men

ELWOOD, Ind. (UP)—The badly decomposed bodies of two Elwood men were found here Monday in one of their one-room shacks.

They were James Dinwiddie, 65, who had 37 convictions for intoxication, and Lawrence Van Briggle, 74. Dinwiddie was released recently from the Indiana State Penal Farm.

Police said the two had been dead several days. They lived together for about a week, authorities said.

Neighbors became alarmed and called authorities when they did not see the two men for several days.

Police said there was no evidence of foul play, but they did not know the cause of the deaths. There was no evidence of drinking, they said.

Fire Causes $250,000 At An Abandoned Packing Plant

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (UP) — A raging fire burned on today at an abandoned Cudahy Co. packing plant, where it has destroyed four major buildings and several smaller ones, and caused damage estimated at more than $250,000.

The fire, however, was under control.

Earlier there was fear of the fire spreading to active plants in the stockyards district, and all off-duty firemen were called to battle the flames.

But Police Capt. Joe Davidchik said a fire wall was confining the blaze to the area of the abandoned plant, and there was "no present danger" of the fire spreading.

The flames broke out Monday night at the abandoned plant. Cudahy shut down operations at the plant more than a year ago.

Four major abandoned buildings and several smaller ones were destroyed, and officials estimated that more than one-half of the 75 buildings in the 28-acre abandoned plant area were damaged.

The fire was believed to have started in a three-story building which was being razed to clear the area. A workman for the firm that is tearing down the buildings said the blaze may have started from sparks of cutting torches.

U. S. To Press Red China About 450 Missing GIs

Despite Communist Denials They Are In Peiping's Custody

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States will press Red China for information about 450 American soldiers missing from the Korean War despite new Communist denials that they are in Peiping's custody.

The new American effort to find out what happened to the missing GIs and to win release of any still alive will be made in the next phase of U.S.-Red Chinese talks in Geneva. The next meeting of ambassadors from the two sides is set for Wednesday.

Red China agreed Saturday to free 41 American civilians as soon as possible, some in a few days. That agreement apparently completed business on the first part of a two-art agenda and cleared the way for discussion of the second — "other practical matters at issue.'

The State Department would not say what it intends to raise under this broad heading and usually helpful officials declined to list the subjects privately. But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said when the talks started that the United States intended to bring up the matter of missing American soldiers.

At the time of the 1953 Panmunjom Korean truce talks, the United States listed 944 GIs missing and unaccounted for. That number has been trimmed since to 450 who now are listed as missing and presumed dead.

But Dulles said there was slight evidence they might be prisoners.

Jenner Says Farm Prices May Prove Costly To GOP

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) said today that falling farm prices may cost the Republicans their chance to regain control of Congress next year, even with President Eisenhower heading the ticket.

The Indiana Republican, back from a grass roots survey of his state, said in an interview that "it's going to be hard for the Republicans to carry congressional elections in the Midwest if the farm picture deteriorates much more.

"Some farm program has got to be evolved," Jenner said.

He said the four-year fall of farm prices, coupled with the rise in cost of the goods farmers buy, has hurt not only midwestern farmers, but the small businessmen whose customers are chiefly farmers.

Unless their troubles are solved, or at least eased, he said, the Republicans in 1956 may not only fail to win new congressional seats but may lose some which they now hold by narrow margins.

Jenner's analysis was even gloomier than that of most GOP leaders, who have conceded that the farm vote now appears to be their biggest trouble spot. Republican state chairmen, meeting here last week, marked down the farm problems as a special area of concern.

Jenner said talks with local and district GOP leaders convinced him that if the farm depression continues, the 1956 election in the Midwest may be "another 1948," a year of Democratic victory. In his state, he said, many farmers who normally vote Republican stay away from the polls.

France Outlaws Communist Party In Algeria In Bold Move To Bring Peace To Its North African Empire

PARIS (UP)—The French government, moving boldly to bring peace to its violence-torn North African empire, outlawed the Communist Party in Algeria today, raided its various headquarters and took the first steps toward granting home-rule to Morocco.

In Tunisia, where France already has granted home-rule, Premier Tahar Ben Ammar resigned so the country could form its own government to include Nationalist elements that battled the French for years in a series of bloody uprisings.

The government of Premier Edgar Faure instructed its resident general in Morocco to open immediate negotiations with Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Mouley Arafa to persuade him to retire while guaranteeing the Sultan's "interests and dignity."

In Algeria, rocked today by a "fairly strong" earthquake, the government announced it was outlawing the Communist Party for its support of the anti-French uprising that killed some 1,500 Frenchmen and Arabs last Aug. 20. Another 700 or more died in Morocco at the same time.

Outlawing of the Communist Party and "all organizations and associations directly attached to it" came as police all over Algeria launched heavy raids against Red headquarters and fellow-travelling organizations to learn their connection with the uprisings.

The nationwide raids started Monday night on orders of Gov. Gen. Jacques Soustelle and officials said today a number of important documents had been seized. Soustelle ordered the raids following an inflammatory appeal by Algerian Communists to oppose French rule.

The action came as 40 members of the rebel "National Liberation Army" in Algeria ambushed a Foreign Legion truck convoy between Philippeville and Tamalous, killing one French soldier and wounding four others in a machine-gun attack.

Faure's move to ease out the Sultan of Morocco came in an order to Resident General Pierre Boyer de Latour to begin talks with the sultan, key figure in Faure's solution of the Moroccan crisis.

Comedie Francaise To Tour U. S., Canada

PARIS (UP) — The Comedie Francaise, one of the world's oldest theater troupes, will sail Thursday for its first tour of the United States and Canada, officials announced today.

The players will board the liner "Homeric" at Le Havre. After landing at Quebec, they will perform three weeks in Toronto, Quebec and Montreal before going to New York for a four week stay.

The formula came up in an hour and 45 minutes long conference between the West German and Soviet leaders at Spiridonovka Palace in the Kremlin.

Informed sources said if agreement is reached it would be along the broad lines of a Soviet face-saving "amnesty' for some if not all of the 9,626 Germans the Russians acknowledge holding as "war criminals.'

In return for this, and after the "amnesty" has been actually carried out, the Germans would establish immediate full and normal diplomatic relations, according to the reported formula.

TACHIKAWA AIR BASE, Japan (UP)—Japanese police clashed repeatedly today with thousands of villagers and left wing demonstrators attempting to block expansion of this United States Air Force base 20 miles from Tokyo.

No Americans were involved. U.S. Air Force personnel were ordered to stay out of the area.

A police spokesman at the scene of the daylong violence said two persons suffered serious injuries and more than 200 policemen and demonstrators received lesser hurts.

The demonstrators formed human road blocks in an attempt to prevent a government survey team from staking out a proposed runway extension. They fought back fiercely when police moved in to disperse them.

New York Longshoremen Vote To End Seven-Day Dock Tie Up

Which Spread To Other East And Gulf Ports

To Have Airing Of Grievances

NEW YORK (UP)—New York longshoremen voted today to end a seven-day dock tie up which has spread to other East and Gulf Coast ports.

Some 5,600 of the port's 30,000 dockers approved with a shout their leaders' recommendation that they accept the offer of a New Jersey legislator to provide an airing of their grievances against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

"Try to get back to work this afternoon,' International Longshoreman Assn. President William V. Bradley told the cheering men. "If you cannot, return tomorrow morning."

Plan Citizens' Committee

ILA leaders had been rebuffed by the governors of both affected states, by federal authorities, congressmen and a New York legislative committee in their attempts to by-pass the commission, set up two years ago to police a dock clean-up.

The ILA jumped Tuesday night at the proposal of New Jersey State Sen. James F. Murray Jr. that he set up a "citizens fact finding committee" to hear the union's grievances against the waterfront commission of New

Kids' Day
1955
Sponsored by Kiwanis International
Boys and Girls—Our Greatest Resource

"OUR GREATEST RESOURCE" — The poster for Kids' Day 1955, September 24, emphasizes that boys and girls of today are the worlds hope for a better tomorrow. A facsimile of the poster and theme is being used also on the U.S. Air Force Recruiting billboard for late summer and early fall.

Kids' Day in this community will be observed with a bicycle Safety Rodeo for Whitley County children under 13 years of age. The event will be sponsored by the Columbia City Kiwanis Club, the Whitley County Safety Council and the Whitley County Association of Insurance Agents. Its purpose will be to promote safer bike-riding habits among school children.

Plans Progress For Bicycle Rodeo To Celebrate Kids' Day In County

Progress is being made in the development of plans for the celebration on Saturday, September 24, of Kids' Day. The local Kiwanis Club is joining with hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii in developing a program with complete local flavor which will lift the theme of the day, which is "Boys and Girls—Our Greatest Resource."

Harold Murphy, president of the Kiwanis Club, has announced that Donald Staples, chairman of the club's Boys and Girls Committee, will be the general chairman of the Kids' Day observance in the community. He will be assisted by the following men, who have been assigned to special duties on the general committee: Cal Landrum, Robert Meyer, Robert Weir, Esta Keirn, Richard Dornick, and Charles Guse.

Observance of Kids' Day in Whitley County calls for a Bicycle Safety Rodeo September 24 in Columbia City. Co-sponsors of the event with the Kiwanis Club are the Whitley County Safety Council and the Association of Insurance Agents. The purpose of the rodeo is to promote safer bike riding habits among school children, Chairman Staples said.

The rodeo will be open to boys and girls in certain age groups throughout Whitley county this year. In previous years, it was open only to Columbia City youths. Prizes will be awarded to winners in each group based on their performance in seven bicycle riding skill tests.

The rodeo will be conducted the morning of Saturday, September 24, on Chauncey street between Market and Van Buren streets. Jack Hancock, owner of Columbia Theatre, has extended an invitation for grade school children to attend a free movie at 1:30 in the afternoon as a part of the Kids' Day observance.

4-H Club Steers Are Attraction At Annual Angus Sale

Seventy-six animals consigned to the Ninth Annual Whitley County Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Sale Tuesday attracted buyers from three states. The chief attraction at this year's sale was apparently the 4-H Club steer prospects, as they were sold to buyers from Bowling Green, Ohio; and Berren Springs and Schoolcraft, Michigan. Club calves were also sold to buyers from Marion, Camden, Plymouth, Gaston, Kendallville, Ligonier, Elkhart, Rensselaer, as well as many from this county.

Thirty-seven 4-H club steers sold for an average of slightly less than $135.00.

Four registered Angus bulls sold for an average of $342.50, and 35 head of registered females sold for an average of $212.80, according to a report by the county association treasurer, Dale Bitting.

He was graduated in 1949 from Larwill high school and is a former employe of Salisbury Axle Corporation in Fort Wayne.

Arntson Elected Head Of Zoning Appeals Board

Organization Meeting Held Tuesday Night

An organizational meeting of the zoning board of appeals was held Tuesday night at a meeting of the board members and members of the city planning commission.

Carl Arntson was elected president, and Joseph R. Roe was elected secretary. The two men, who were appointed to the board of appeals, hold similiar offices on the city planning commission. Members of the zoning board of appeals in addition to Mr. Roe and Mr. Arntson are John Bechtold, Ford Goble, Garland Mullendore.

In a separate meeting of the planning commission members, a plan was adopted to present at the next meeting of the city council a recommendation for reclassification of the area west across the alley from the Methodist parsonage. This area was formerly occupied as a used car lot but the recommendation will ask that this be made a residential area.

A plan was presented to the planning commission by two local businessmen, whereby the city would purchase property adjacent to the business district which could be used for parking. The plan was tabled for further consideration.

The business of the planning commission was concluded with the acceptance of a plat for subdividing land belonging to Lloyd Long.

Marine Captain McCutchen Lands $64,000 On Quiz Show, Had Situation Well In Hand

NEW YORK (UP)—"Wow! I'm all out of wows, but wow, anyway! I'm unraveled and it's all over, thank God.'

Those were the words that came tumbling out of Capt. Richard Sherrill McCutchen Tuesday night after the Marine landed $64,000 on well in hand.

McCutchen, the first contestant ever to go for and win the top prize on CBS-TVs "The $64,000 Question," grinned broadly and waved aside questions about taxes.

"I didn't think about the money. If I had thought about it, I probably wouldn't have gone for 64. But I knew from the first that I was going to go.

"The Corps took me through it."

Seven-Part Question

The 28-year-old career officer doubled the stake of $32,000 he had won the previous week by dishing up the correct answer to a seven-part question in his chosen category, food and cooking.

The query dealt with a meal served on March 21, 1939, at Buckingham Palace to French President Albert Lebrun and his wife.

McCutchen was asked to describe:

Consomme quenelle (a clear soup with dumplings or meat balls), filet de truite saumonee (a slice of sea trout), sauce maltaise hollandaise sauce with blood-orange juice and rind), petits pois a la Francais (cooked peas with onion, butter and sugar), corbeille (a basket of fruit), chateauy quem (a French sweet white wine) and Madeira sercial (white, dry wine).

Father Of Three

McCutchen, the parent of three young girls, said he planned to use his winnings for his youngsters' education and possibly, the building of a house.

One other contestant on the show, Mrs. Myrtle Power of Buford, Ga., correctly socked her way through a baseball query to reach the $16,000 level. She will be back next week when she decides whether she'll settle for her winnings or try to double them.

The 70-year-old widow, a red-hot Brooklyn Dodger fan, named the five American League batters Carl Hubbel struck out in the 1934 All-Star game. They were: Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth, Joe Cronin, Jimmie Foxx and Al Simmons.

County Board Pares One Cent From Tax Rate

Welfare, Hospital Funds Are Lowered; Civil Rate Left At 53c

The Whitley County Tax Adjustment Board pared one cent off of the over-all tax rate for the 1956 budget in a meeting Monday at the Courthouse. The reductions were made one-half cent each for the welfare fund and the hospital fund and will mean a decrease in the budget of $3,915.

The board also made a number of reductions in the rates for several of the taxable county corporations. The rate for the civil county general fund was left at 53 cents, the same as approved by the County Council last week. This rate, which pays for the largest county expenditure, will raise $267,000.

The one-half cent reduction in the welfare fund rate was made, because the original rate was based on county property evaluation of last year. With the increase in evaluation to $39,153,090.00 the board found that a six and one-half cent rate would raise the amount required. The welfare rate last year was five and one-half cents per $100 evaluation.

The one-half cent decrease in the Whitley County Hospital maintenance fund rate from seven cents to six and one-half cents was made primarily, the board said, to even the rate in the townships and towns.

In addition to approval of the Soviet Makes Move To Accept Inspection Plan

In Hope Expressed By American Authorities

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—American authorities expressed confidence today that the Soviet Union is moving toward acceptance of President Eisenhower's military inspection plan.

U.S. sources said this became apparent as American disarmament expert Harold E. Stassen outlined to the U.N. Disarmament Subcommittee American plans to seek U.N. General Assembly acceptance of the plan.

The Americans said subcommittee discussions indicated Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev had begun to grasp the American position that there must be an adequate inspection system in operation before any actual arms cuts can take place.

Moving Toward Acceptance

They said they believed the Russians were moving toward acceptance of the Eisenhower plan for Soviet-American exchange of military blueprints plus aerial and ground inspection as a "pre-disarmament" step.

Stassen, informants said, also is satisfied with the support accorded the Eisenhower plan "at this stage" by Britain, France and Canada, the other members of the subcommittee.

Although voicing praise for the scheme, none of the Western Allies has formally endorsed it.

Stassen told the other disarmament experts the United States would ask the General Assembly late in the session, which opens next Tuesday, to approve a resolution putting the plan in effect at the earliest opportunity.

Other Nations To Decide

The resolution will call on other nations to decide what part they can play in the plan and consider its extension to their own territories on a reciprocal basis.

A third provision is that the major powers continue their efforts to agree on a disarmament plan, giving priority to the question of inspection, reporting and control of armaments.

It was believed the disarmament subcommittee will continue its meetings concurrently with the assembly session. But no report was expected until after the meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers which opens in Geneva Oct. 27.

The General Assembly was expected to begin debate on the American resolution in late November or December.

Mrs. Fay Bleich To Teach School In Homer, Alaska

Mrs. Fay Bleich former teacher in Whitley County arrived recently in Alaska. She has accepted a position as an instructor in the Homer, Alaska, public schools.

Mrs. Bleich resigned her post as fifth grade teacher at South Whitley this spring to accept her new position in Alaska. She traveled from the states to Alaska by air.

Homer is a coastal town of 1,000 persons on the Kanai penisula some 125 miles southwest of Anchorage. It is called the Shangri-la of Alaska. It was founded in 1869 by miners in search of gold, and lies on Kachemak Bay. It is a part of the Cook inlet which leads back into the continent to Anchorage.

The town has a temperature differential of about fifty degrees seasonally; ranging from 15 degrees in the winter to 65 degrees in the summer, due to it being moderated by the Japanese current. It's principal industries are fishing, dairying, truck farming and berry raising.

Mrs. Bleich plans to remain in Alaska until the close of the school there next spring, and then plans an extensive vacation trip.

Council Approves Water Tower Site Tuesday

Ordinance Provides For Purchase Of Redick Land In North Of City

The City Council passed an ordinance at its meeting Tuesday night approving the purchase of about two acres of land at the north end of the city on which to build a water tower. The property, extending 300 feet west of the center of the alley between Elm and Oak streets then 239 feet north, will be bought by the city from Lucille G. and Harry Redick, the present owners.

Plans for the water tower grew out of a suggestion by an engineer last fall to construct a water tower in increase pressure in that area. The contract for the property has not been completed, but the cost is expected to be about $3,500.

In other business, the council declared the ordinance barring sale of crime and indecent comic books in the city in effect. The ordinance is to be enforced by the city police department.

The council granted permission to Oren Sheets, 112 East Jackson street, to cut a curb and for the Kiwanis Club to block off Chauncet street from Market to Van Buren street for the Bicycle Safety Rodeo for children September 24.

A request for designating the alley running along the south side of the high school as one-way from east to west was approved by the council. school authorities felt that with parking the alley was too narrow for two-way traffic.

The council asked the police department to investigate the possibility of extending the hours of the school safety patrolman at the intersection of Walnut and Van Buren streets. It is believed that he now leaves his position there at 4 p.m. each school day. The question on extending the partolman's hours arose as a result of an accident in which a 12-year-old girl was injured while crossing the intersection Monday.

Howling Tropical Storms Strike South Of Border

Hilda Wallops Eastern Tip Of Cuba

By UNITED PRESS

Howling tropical storms struck south of the border today, bringing torrential rains which sent rivers gushing over their banks and flooded thousands of persons from their homes.

One of the storms was hurricane Hilda, which walloped the eastern tip of Cuba with damaging winds and rains on its westward path toward the Florida mainland.

It was reported that 12,000 of the 80,000 residents of Bracoa, a lowland city, were set to be evacuated.

The other storm battered Tampico Mex., and brought the homeless count to 1,500.

North of the border, Los Angeles braced for another heavy smog attack, and officials were alerted by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to prepare for disaster measures.

At Tampico, floodwaters from seven feet, inundating the Shantytown section for the second time in two weeks with the worst flood in 22 years.

In Los Angeles, the densest smog on record blanketed the area Tuesday with eye-irritating and lung-choking fumes which approached official "health menace" levels.

The area was under a "first level" smog alert for 3 hours and 9 minutes in sticky temperatures which climbed to 93. It was only the seventh first level alert in Los Angeles history.

Some of the weather news in California was good. Heavy rains and a lack of wind brought relief to fire-scorched areas in the northern part of the state, although two major blazes continued to blaze out of control in the south.

Elsewhere, clear skies were reported over most of the nation, although thundershowers were common in Wisconsin, lowr Michigan, northern Illinis and parts f the Southwest and Northwest.

Turncoat Is Coming Home From Red China

He Says In Letter To His Mother

ALDEN, Minn. (UP)—The mother of turncoat American GI Richard Tenneson, 22, of Alden, says she has received a letter from him saying he is coming home from Red China.

Mrs. Portia Howe who made a dramatic flight to the Far East in December, 1953, in an attempt to see her son and persuade him to come home, said she recieved the letter Tuesday at her farm near here.

She qouted it as saying, " No matter what I say, I'll be put away.'

Tenneson was one of 21 American prisoners of war who chose to stay in Communist China instead of accepting repatriation. Three others have already returned.

Mrs. Howe quoted the letter as saying in part:

"I am coming back to the States coming home, but my friend, the Army, will see to it that I dont get that far.

"It won't be long now. On the 3rd of August a representative of he Red Cross General Society came and guaranteed that it wouldn't be too long. He said preparations were already being made."

Mrs. Howe, a devoutedly religious woman, said the letter came as a surprise. She said none of his recent letters hinted he might come home.

Tenneson was captured in South Korea May 18, 1951, when he was 17 years old.

Key To Success Or Failure Of France As A Great Colonial Power May Lie In Morocco

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

France's whole future as a great colonial power may lie in Morocco.

It has all but lost out in Indochina. It must hold its North African possessions — Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia — or face the loss of its position as a world power. Morocco is the key to all three.

The success or failure of Premier Edgar Faure's present desperate attempt to work out a complicated solution of the Morocco crisis is now being determined.

Faure may well fall if he fails. French premiers are expendable. But if he falls it will be up to his successor, or one of his successors, to try to hold Morocco and its sister areas by force of arms or by political persuasion.

Overthrow Of Spanish King

Morocco is a country of fertile orchards, of plains and rugged mountains of Arabs and of Berber tribesmen — and of about 500,000 French colonists.

It extends from the Atlantic Ocean to the burning sands of the Sahara Desert. France's stake in its 158,000 square miles is enormous.

It is almost forgotten now that Moroccan resistance to foreign rule nearly caused the premature outbreak of World War I, and that it did lead indirectly to the overthrow of King Alfonso XIII of Spain.

Morocco's history goes back more than 1,000 years before Christ, when its coast was dotted with Phoenecian villages. Next came the Carthagenians.

Morocco's status as an Arab country dates back to 682 when the Arabians started invading it

Ford To Add 2,000 Workers To Plants

DETROIT (UP) — Ford Motor Co. will add 2,000 workers to its plants throughout the nation by Oct. 1 to increase the companys auto output by as much as 250,000 cars during 1956.

R.S. McNamara, Ford vice president and general manager of the Ford division, announced Tuesday that the company already has expanded its production capacity to meet the expanded market anticipated for next year.

McNamara made the announcement at the press review showing of the new Ford line on the grounds of the home of the late Henry Ford.

The Ford vice president also forecast industry sales this year would be 30 to 35 per cent above last year's figures and estimated industry sales would reach between 7,400,000 and 7,500,000.

Two major changes in the new Ford line will be announced to the public near the dealer introduction date Sept. 23, he said. These changes will be in the performance and styling of the new models.

Notice To Taxpayers Of Additional Appropriations

Notice is hereby given to the taxpayers of Smith School Township of Whitley County, Indiana, and Smith Township of Whitley County, Indiana, (the same being the civil township) that the Advisory Board and Trustee of said school and civil townships will meet in the office of the Township Trustee in the Central Building in the Town of Churubusco, Whitley County, Indiana, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. (Central Standard Time) on the 26th day of September, 1955, to consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time:

1. An appropriation of the funds of said school township and said civil township in the sum of One Hundred Seventy-two Thousand Dollars ($172,000.00) to be applied on the cost of erecting and equipping an Eight Classroom High School Building, and connecting corridor, in said school township, including the incidental expenses to be incurred in connection with said building project. The funds to meet said appropriations are to be provided from funds now on hand and funds to be received in 1955 from the following sources:

(a) Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000.00) of said total amount from funds now on hand from unexpended monies previously raised and appropriated in 1954 and 1955.

(b) Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12,000.00) of said total amount from funds to be received in 1955 from the cumulative building fund of said school township

(c) One Hundred Twenty Thousand Dollars ($120,000.00) of said total amount from funds to be received in 1955 from the Department of Public Instruction of the State of Indiana Veterans Memorial School Construction Fund.

The foregoing appropriations for the cost of erecting and equipping an Eight Classroom High School Building, and connecting corridor, in said school township, are in addition to all appropriations provided for in the existing budgets and levies and an extraordinary emergency for such appropriations exists for the reason of the inadequacies of existing facilities to accommodate the pupils of high school age resident within such townships.

Taxpayers appearing at such meeting shall have a right to be heard thereon. The additional appropriations as finally made will be automatically referred to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, which Board will hold a further hearing within fifteen days at the County Auditor's Office of Whitley County, Indiana, or at such other place as may be designated. At such hearing, taxpayers objecting to any of such additional appropriations may be heard and interested taxpayers may inquire of the County Auditor when and where such hearing will be held.

Truck Loaded With Explosives Overturns

WASHINGTON, Ind. (UP) —A truck loaded with 30,000 pounds of explosives overturned in a transcontinental highway today when it went out of control on a hill.

State Police reported the vehicle was loaded with 15 tons of "Class 'B' propellant explosive" enroute from Indian Head, Md., to McAlester, Okla.

The driver and relief driver were injured.

Driver Fernando W. Grimes, Annapolis, Md., told authorities the power steering failed as he drove down a hill in U.S. 50 two miles west of here. The trailer overturned and the cab plunged down an embankment.

Grimes was hurt but not hospitalized. Relief driver John Hann, who was asleep in the cab at the time, was taken to Daviess County Hospital with back injuries.

Adenauer Returns From Moscow With SovietPromise To Start Action To Release German War Prisoners

BONN, Germany (UP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer returned from Moscow today with a Soviet promise to start action on the release of German war prisoners before the end of the da.

The Soviet assurances on the release of prisoners were given at the end of five days of talks in Moscow in exchange for West German agreement to establish diplomatic relations with Russia.

The 79-year-old chancellor looked tired as he arrived after his fateful conference in the Soviet capital with Premier Nikolai Bulganin and other Kremlin leaders.

He is scheduled to report to the cabinet Thursday and is expected to hold a news conference Friday. He will report later to the Bonn Parliament sometime after it reconvenes Sept. 22.

Expects Fast Action

Before leaving Adenauer told a press conference:

"I am authorized by Marshal Bulganin to declare that before our delegation arrives back in Bonn action to release the prisoners will begin."

Adenauer, in statements to the press, assured the United States, Britain and France that he had entered no secret agreements and to its membership in ATO and the Western European Union.

In a letter accepted by Bulganin and made public today Adenauer made it clear the Bonn government does not recognize Communist East Germany and that final determination of Germany's borders must await completion of a peace treaty.

The second point was in answer to the Soviet position that German lands east of the Oder-Neisse line, given to Poland by the Potsdam agreement, cannot be restored to Germany.

Victory For Russians

Diplomatic observers in Moscow expressed belief the German-Soviet agreement was largely a diplomatic victory for the Russians.

Adenauer said "I will limit myself to saying the situation could not remain as it was, so I think establishment of diplomatic relations will be a factor for the stability of Europe and I hope you will think of it that way."

Grandmother, 67, On 1,500-Mile Hike

FARMINGTON, Maine (UP)—A 67-year-old grandmother from Gallipolis, Ohio, neared the end of a 1,500-mile hike on the Appalachian Trail today.

Mrs. Emma Gatewood, the hiker, is within 110 miles of her destination—M.T Katahdin, Maine. She expects to reach the mountain in a fortnight.

Mrs. Gatewood, a sturdy five feet, four inches, started from Oglethorpe, Ga., on the Appalachian Trail, last May 2. Mt. Katahdin is the end of the trial.

Mrs. Gatewood carries a light shoulder pack with a raincoat, blanket and enough food to last her between stopovers. She walks only about eight miles a day now because of a lame leg.

Why the long walk?

Mrs. Gatewood, who has 11 children, 23 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren, put it this way:

"After 20 years of changing diapers and seeing my children grow up and go their own way, I decided to take a walk—one I always wanted to take."

Ava Gardner Flips Mercedes Over Twice

MADRID, Spain (UP) — Ava Gardner flipped her new Mercedes roadster over twice today while driving to the Barjas airport to meet some friends but the actress emerged unscathed.

Miss Gardner was speeding along the Barajas two-laned speedway outside Madrid when the car rolled over twice.

The civil guard said she was visibly shaken up by the experience and instead of calling a taxi walked back to the Castellana Hilton hotel where she was staying.

Four-Day Agricultural Program Featuring A National Plowing Contest Opens At Wabash

WABASH, Ind. (UP)—A four-day agricultural program featuring an annual National Plowing Contest opened today on 2,000 acres of farmland northeast of here.

The festivities will be climaxed Saturday afternoon with an address by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who afterward will make a political speech at a Republican $100-a-plate dinner in Indianapolis.

The site for the plowing contests is a broad area between the towns of Urbana, Speicherville and Lagro, scarcely a stone's throw from the famed Wabash River and deep in the heart of country which figured in Indian lore.

The plowing contests are only a portion of the program. Indiana state plowing events will be run off today and Thursday, with national matches Friday and Saturday.

100,000 to Attend

Visitors—and sponsors talk in terms of entertaining 100,000 or more—can take a five-mile wagon ride around a two-square-mile loop and see 5 conservation projects built especially for the event or in the process of construction.

About a dozen farms were literally "taken over" by sponsors of the event to install the conservation projects and provide land for the contests.

It required many months of work to get the land in shape.

For Wabash, it was only part of a broader celebration. The plow matches and conservation show were tied into a week-long program marking the 75th anniversary of the world's first electrically lighted city.

In 1880, arc lights were installed atop the Wabash courthouse to light the city's streets.

Exhibits Set Up

Another drawing card was a huge display of merchandise and equipment arranged by manufacturers and dealers anxious to show their wares to the contest crowds.

A special airstrip was set up near the contest site to handle flocks of Flying Farmer planes from several states. Sponsors talked in terms of hundreds of planes visiting the show.

Among area persons scheduled to appear on the program is former Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard, who will be one of the plow contest starters. Wickard operates a farm near the contest scene.

Red Cell Within Government As Late As 1954

Chairman Says Committee Has Evidence

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee has evidence that a Communist cell operated within the government as late as 1954, Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said today.

He told newsmen a preliminary inquiry by the committee indicates that "upwards of 150 persons" were in the cell at one time or another and that "some of them were in rather responsible positions."

But he said, there is no evidence at present that any of the cell members still work for the government.

Walter's announcement followed a disclosure Tuesday by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) that his Senate Investigating Subcommittee has evidence of profiteering by suspected Communists at government expense.

He told a news conference that large sums of government funds have been paid to the Communist suspects for running trade schools for ex-GIs. He indicated one school has received more than one million dollars from the government since 1947.

McClellan said his subcommittee will begin public hearings on the matter in mid-November or later. He said the inquiry may result in recommendations to change the GI Bill of Rights to eliminate payments to the affected schools.

Walter said his House committee will hold public hearings on the Communist cell matter as soon as Congress reconvenes in January.

He said there was no doubt about its members "being Communists.' He said the committee's evidence was obtained from "some people who were in this thing" and who furnished "a lot of valuable information."

Navigator Dismisses Thought That Survival Training School Subjects Men To Ordeals

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

STEAD AIR FORCE BASE, Nev. (UP)—You kneel on a broomstick until the pain has you sweating.

The insufferable blond young man in the weird helmet and green shirt calls you an s.o.b.

His brown-haired accomplice, just as insufferable, screams that your wife is a tramp.

The brutish-looking soldier standing behind you with a rifle inquires in a roaring voice, "you want your head smashed?" He swings the butt menacingly close to your left temple.

What with one thing and another, including minutes-long support of weighted bags in your outstretched hands, you get to feeling that it is just possible you might pass out.

But, said the blue-eyed major, you do not break, you do not feel you are being tortured and if anybod wants to know, just being a member of a Strategic Air Command crew, "is far worse than this."

Thus lightly did a 35-year-old B47 navigator from Texas dismiss the thought that the U.S. Air Force survival training school here is subjecting its students to inhumane physical and mental ordeals.

May Alter Program

A controversy has been going on of late as to whether Air Force efforts to make combat crewmen immune to Communist brainwashing techniques have gone too far toward the side of "torture."

"Hell," said the major, "I knew it wouldn't last long (it lasted just 15 minutes). I knew the swearing and the cracks at my wife were just meant to make me mad. And I knew the whole idea was to help me out if I ever ran into the real thing.

"Under the circumstances," he added, "you certainly couldn't call it torture."

Nevertheless, Base Commander Burton E. McKenzie, who inherited this job two months ago, is thinking of ditching some phases of the training program until he gets new directives from Washington.

The controversial phases—the realistic interrogation of students by members of the staff specially trained for the job—constitute only a small part of the training program here.

They have to do with President Eisenhowers code for American servicemen who may become prisoners of war. Under this code, U.S. POWs must at all costs protect information disclosure of which might jeopardize their military units and the security of the Uunited States. The Air Force is preparing new training procedures to implement the code.

Newsmen Tour Camp

Some 40 reporters, TV - newsreel cameramen, and newspaper photographers from both coasts were invited to Stead Tuesday for what was described as "an open look" at the training methods used here.

They saw the "interrogation shacks" — complete with bright lights and electric shock machines and out-of-this-world walls so planned as to induce physical and mental giddiness.

They saw the sweat-box—a vertical coffin used by Romania in World War II—in which you can neither stand nor sit nor lie. They saw the horizontal coffin—a shallow and narrow trench with a rock bottom in which, face, down, a POW lies while his tormentors pound on the cover and think up other means of softening him up. They saw "the hole"—a circular pit eight feet deep and 2½ feet across in which U.S. prisoners of the Reds in Korea have spent months.

nual observance of Kids' Day, it is the second year of sponsership exclusively by Kiwanis Clubs. Last year over a million three hundred thousand children were entertained on Kids' Day and Kiwanis Clubs raised more than $940,000 for their yough service work.

The Bicycle Safety Rodeo sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club is a non-fund raising project, but all money raised on Kids' Day in other communities is used on local youth projects in those places.

Also as a part of the observance of Kids' Day, the United States Air Force Recruiting Service is including the design of a Kids's Day poster on its recruiting billboard on display in late summer and early fall. Many air force bases also invite youth in the areas to an open-house during the Kids' Day observance.

53-cent rate for the county general fund, the board also left the following rates unchanged: Hospital Bond six cents, Cumulative Bridge Fund six cents, and 4-H Clubs, Inc. fund two cents. This makes the over-all county tax rate 80 cents. With the addition of 15-cent state tax, the total county tax rate would be 95 cents, or 14 cents higher than for this year.

Reductions in the rates for other taxable units in the county were: Richland township, a reduction of one cent in the school corporation tax, made to even the tax rate, and lowering of the school tuition from $ 1to 99 cents to lower the total tax rate to $2.96; the Larwill corporation rate was also reduced by one cent from 43 to 42 cents making its total rate $4.38;

Etna-Troy, the special school rate was reduced from 39 to 38 cents to even the tax rate at $3.26; Columbia township, special school lowered from 83 to 82 cents making the total $3.58; Columbia City, reduction from 10 to 9 cents the rate for the General Improvement Fund to lower the total rate to $5.54; Thorncreek, special school reduced from $1.19 to $1.18, evening the total at $3.64;

Smith, a reduction from six to five cents the township poor rate to make the total $4.12; Churubusco, the same reduction for township poor plus a one cent reduction in the corporation rate, and lowering it from 79 to 78 cents and making the total rate $4.90.

The rates in other taxable corporations which were left unchanged, except for the one-cent overall county reductions are: Cleveland township $3.50, South Whitley $4.70, Washington $2.82, Jefferson township $2.86, and Union $2.82.

All rates are subject to approval by the State Board of Tax Commissioners which will be in Whitley county September 28.

CAA Investigates Charges Godfrey Crowded Plane

CHICAGO (UP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration today began an investigation of charges by an airline that Arthur Godfrey's private plane crowded one of its planes.

Ralph Horn, a CAA investigator, said Tuesday a formal complaint was made to the CAA office here by Ozark Airliners.

Ozark said Godfrey's plane took off last Wednesday from Midway Airport here, 55 seconds behind an Ozark DC3 airliner. The complaint also stated, Horn said, that the Godfrey plane flew 100 feet off the airliner's right wing, then crossed in front of the Ozark plane.

Godfrey's aircraft is also a DC3, but has been modified to produce extra power. Ozark said its plane was crowded while over nearby Aurora, Ill., an "air highway junction," Horn said.

Godfrey returned to his air show Monday after he had been on vacation. He said this week on the program that he had been fishing and hunting in Wyoming.

On Jan. 7, 1954, Godfrey buzzed the traffic control tower at the Teterboro, N.J., airport following a take-off. He admitted the violation after a CAA investigation, and was grounded for six months.

In line with standard practice, a CAA agent will investigate the Ozark charges and pass his findings to the CAA lawyer for the Chicago region. The lawyer, in turn, will send to the CAA in Washington his recommendations on the case.

Britain Promised War

Out of this grew the Moorish Empire which extended across North Africa to the Egyptian frontier.

The Arabs were so powerful then that they managed to invade Spain and establish themselves in it. Later their piratical sea rovers ranged as far as the English coast.

Morocco's present status dates from the turn of the century when France, Britain and Germany became interested in it. France won out.

But there was a rebellion, one of many, against France in 1911. Germany took advantage of it to send its gunboat Panther to Agadir, and toyed with the idea of intervention. German Foreign Minister Alfred von Kiderlin - Waechter was ready to go to war. Kaiser Wilhelm II and Chancellor Theobold von Bethmann - Hollweg opposed him. David Lloyd George settled that matter when he announced that Britain would go to war beside France if necessary.

Then, after World War I, came the great revolt of Abdel Krim in Spanish Morocco. The Spanish army was routed. Spain and France together defeated Abdil Krim. But the revolt was the beginning of the end for King Alfonso.

Odds Are 100 To 1 There Will Be Election Year Tax Cut In 1956; Also To Be Disputes

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)— The odds are 100 to 1 that there will be an election year tax cut in 1956, but where and how much are questions of angry dispute.

The dispute will become angrier as the presidential campaign develops. Politicians are convinced that tax cuts win elections, although that is not always true.

President Truman strove by veto to prevent the Republican 80th Congress from reducing individual income taxes. Congress finally put the tax bill through, however, and the voters promptly returned Democrats to control of Congress and continued Mr. Truman in the White House for four years.

Regarded As Fluke

But the politicians regard that as a fluke, which it probably was. So a tax cut is coming, for sure, next year. The politics of the dispute between Republicans and Democrats is beautiful in its simplicity — beautiful, that is, from the Democratic side of the argument.

The Democrats propose to load the tax reduction bill in favor of the vast miltitude of so-called little fellows. In these days of 50-cent dollars and 20-cent street car rides a little fellow, so-called, is anyone among the neary 50-million taxpayers whose gross income is not more than $10,000 a year.

There won't be quite 50-million of such perhaps, making 1956 returns on income up to that figure, but they will not fall far short of that number. And that is what makes the Democratic side of the argument so beautifully simple— that magic 50-million will listen with interest and considerable enthusiasm to Democratic congressional and campaign orators next year who declaim that they should receive more consideration than their wealthier fellows when the levy is passed around.

Smaller Audience Appeal

The Republican argument is not so easy to sell and will appeal most effectively to a smaller audience — the 1,500,000, roughly, tax payers whose returns for 1956 will report income of from $10,000 up. The Republican argument is expected to be that there should be a percentage reduction across the board say 10 per cent for purposes of calculation.

The little fellow paying $300 income tax annually would get a cut of $30 compared with the $300 windfall to the taxpayer whose liability had averaged around $3,000 a year. The Republican argument is that the percentage system not only is fair to all but would have the added advantage of releasing large sums among the higher bracket taxpayers for productive investment.

CLIPPING HIMSELF—The price of a haircut in Chicago is going up, up and up to $1.75 on weekdays and $2 on Saturdays, but that doesn't worry this youngster. He's joining the do-it-yourself movement, as are other Chicagoans, according to cutlery stores reporting greatly increased sales in home-barbering kits.

Pen Notes

By PI EPSILON NU

Editor's Note: The Columbia City newspapers are pleased to publish the second installment of a series of poems written by members of Pi Epsilon Nu Sorority of which well-known poet Mrs. George Daily is a member.

The history and purposes of the organization follows: Pi Epsilon Nu Sorority was organized in 1947, by a group of ladies interested in studying the arts and creative writing. Members of the group have done distinguished work in art, music, song writing, and commercial illutration. Pi Epsilon Nu is a member of the Indiana Poets Federation, a member of Poet's Corner of Indianapolis, and are associated in fellowship with the Pegasus Club of Muncie, a similar organization. Members have published two anthologies, have won recognition in State, National and International. Several members have had poems published in Ideals magazine, and many who have not been published have had their work accepted for future publication

The club has a tea each year in October, usually with some well known writer as guest speaker. It has sponsored a junior group of writers, of highschool age, one of whom is now studying in Chicago, and have junior members who study with them. Members are interested in encouraging young women who have writing ability to develop their talent, by group study.

QUIETNESS

It's good from time to time to choose
A quiet place to sit and muse
Upon your problems. I confess
I have a need for quietness.

The inner self has time to grow
In stature, to a dynamo
With meditation, more or less!
I have a need for quietness.

To find an isolated isle,
And sometimes be alone a while,
Will often dissipate distress.
I have a need for quietness.

TODAY

What if tomorrow shall be sad
Or never comes at all. I've had
A glad today.
One flawless gem, forever bright,
One perfect love, one hour of light,
One fleeting day before the night-
Today.
I'll let no foredoomed shadow
L'll let no boredoomed shadow cast
The morrow's gloom, nor live a past
Of vain remorse. This time flies fast.
I'll live today.
So, if tomorrow must be sad
Or never comes. I'll still have had Today.

He ate up all the flies and beetles
That ruined the farmers crop so farmer's let all tipsy toads

MEMORY OF MOTHER

She may be gone- But these are here,
The little things she held so dear:
So when you go to bake a pie
Just take time out to have a cry
Rememb'ring how she loved to bake
And carry to you pie or cake.
Remember how she passed the hours
Caring for beloved flowers,
And when you plant a flower or tree
Tend it in her memory.
When you for the children spread
Jam or applesauce on bread
Remember how she put away
The summer's fruit for winter's day.
Yes, Mother's gone, but don't forget
The things she loved are with us yet;
So we may love them just as she
And thus preserve her memory!

LESSONS FROM GRANDMA

My grandma thought a little girl
Should never idle be,
So when I went to stay with her
She had an endless task for me,
Sewin' carpet rags together
Wasn't any fun at all
Not even when I had enough
To make them in a ball.
Because I couldn't wind them tight
She'd best do that instead
While I would sew and sob and sniff
And wish that I were dead.
I'd get so homesick sitting there
Sewin' carpet rags all day
When all I wanted most to do
Was go out doors and play.
Though Grandma's gone these many years
I wish that she could know
The many rugs I've made from rags
She taught me how to sew.

THE PARTY LINE

Every time the old phone jingles
I pick it up right quick
To see what's goin' on round here
Anr find out who is sick.

Say, Martha had her baby
It's a blue eyed boy - six pounds
And, Henry's tractor's out o' gas,
Joe's cows are out o' bounds.

He's gettin' Benny Miller
To help him chase 'em out.
Old Grandpa Ezra's bedfast
With another round o' gout.

Johnny Edsel poped the question
And Amy answered yes,
So in August in the village
They'll be married up, I guess.

Sue's got weekend comp'ny comin',
They'll be on the train at four:
Ed Allen's gonna sell his place -
Don't like it any more—

Oh I know I shouldn't listen,
But then where is the harm?
It's a constant source of neighbor's news
When you are on the farm.

It may now be polite but then
Tis sure the quickest way
To know what folks are doin!
And to pass the time o' day.

For folks who live in cities
Private telephones are fine.
But I wouldn't take a million
For my good old Party Line.

U. S. Rejects 'Higher Level' Talks Proposal

Which Was Made By Communist Chinese

GENEVA (UP) — The United States tonight rejected a Red Chinese proposal that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Peiping Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-lai start direct negotiations.

The Communist Chinese had proposed that talks here be raised to a "higher level" now that Peiping has agreed to free 41 Americans still held in Red China.

U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, who has been conducting the discussions here with Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan, said such high level conferences would be "premature" until Peiping carries out its promise to free the Americans.

The U.S. rejection took the form of a communique issued shortly after Wang made his proposal for extension of the talks.

Not until all the Americans actually have been freed, Johnson said, could the talks move on to the second item on the agenda.

The release of civilians by both they would free the 41 Americans sides with the first item on the and the United States said all Chinese were free to leave America and go to Red China.

The second item concerns "other practical matters at issue" between the two sides.

Peiping has sought a foreign ministers' meeting for months as a "first step" in winning recognition as a world power and in gaining a seat in the United Nations.

The United States also was understood to be pressing for action on two technical matters—Communist agreement that Britain would be invited to assist in repatriation of the Americans and that Peiping would give wide publicity to the arrangements for release of the Americans.

"We would like to know what action they have taken on these two technical maaters," a U.S. spokman said.

Hank Greenberg Gets Salary Increase

WASHINGTON — UP — Hank Greenberg was rehired as general manager of the Cleveland Indians today with a one-year contract calling for an increase over his old $60,000 salary.

SKUNK IN BAKERY

CRANSTON, R.I. — (UP) — A skunk in a bakery is worse than a bull in a china shop. Collier's Bakery said a visit paid by a skunk made necessary immediate destruction of $2,000 in baked goods and other products, replacement of several walls and repainting of the place.

Try honey as a topping for cereals, or as a spread with peanut butter on breakfast toast.

Toasty Cheese Loaf

Most of us take bread for granted as a necessary part of a meal, but it can be made the center of attention with very little effort. Sharp Cheese Spread transforms a loaf of French bread into a real appetite tempter and a different and unusual flavor accent with salad or a main dish.

The base of the Sharp Cheese Spread is a bar of Good Luck margarine which has fine flavor and spreadability. Make the spread up ahead of time to use whenever you want to perk up a meal with a special taste treat. It's a good way to use up day-old rolls, too.

1 bar Good Luck margarine
1 5-ounce jar sharp cheese spread
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 loaves French bread
Poppy Seed (optional)

Let margarine soften in mixing bowl, then cream thoroughly with mixing spoon. Add cheese spread and Worcestershire sauce and cream until well blended. Cut French bread diagonally into slices ¾" thick, almost to bottom. Spread cheese mixture generously between slices and over top of loaf. Sprinkle with poppy seed, if desired. Place on baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (375°F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Serve hot, letting those served break off pieces. Makes 12 to 18 servings. If only 1 loaf of bread is used, halve the amounts of other ingredients.

Discretion Keeps Lopez From Claiming 'In', Hope Keeps Stengel From Saying Uncle

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The only thing that kept elated Al Lopez from claiming his Cleveland Indians are already "in" today was polite discretion while the only thing that kept grim old Casey Stengel from saying "uncle" was the fading hope of some long-shot baseball miracle.

Lopez' onrushing Indians snapped a season-long "jinx" and stretched their American League lead to two games by sweeping a twi-night twin-bill from the upstart Senators, 3-1 and 8-2, Tuesday night.

Even in the face of those two victories that left his Yankees two games back even though they defeated the Tigers, 6-0, Stengel was of little mind to concede.

"We can still win it," insisted the Yankee skipper, "but it'll take a 10-game winning streak."

According to Lopez, though, it will take more than that. The Indians have nine games left to play and the Yankees 11, but the great Indian chief doesn't think anyone can catch his club.

Lopez Confident Now

"These two wins over Washington were about as big as any we got all year," Lopez said. "The Senators had our number all year and they could have hurt us plenty now. But they didn't and we're in first class shape."

Ex-Yankee Gene Woodling fixed things in a hurry when he tripled home two runs to highlight a third-inning three-run rally in the opener and Mike Garcia capped the performance with a six-hitter for his 11th victory. Southpaw Chuck Stobbs was the loser even though he gave up only four hits in the eight innings he worked.

A four-run rally in the fifth inning of the nightcap helped Bob Lemon to his 18th victory in the nightcap although he needed relief from Ray Narleski in the ninth. Larry Doby drove in four of Cleveland's runs.

Only a last-ditch ninth inning rally salvaged a 9-6 victory for the floundering White Sox in the nightcap of a doubleheader after they dropped the opener, 2-0, to the last-place Orioles. The White Sox came out of the split 4½ games out of first place with 10 games remaining.

Ray Moore stopped Chicago on six hits in the first game and Jim Dyck quickly put the Orioles ahead in the nightcap with a grand slam homer in the first inning. But Baltimore dissipated the lead and the White Sox pushed across six runs in the ninth on three walks, four hits, a wild pitch by loser Ed Lopat and a sacrifice fly. Reliever Harry Byrd was the winner.

Boston Seven Behind

The Red Sox fell seven games behind by dividing a doubleheader with the Athletics. Vic Power singled home the winning run in the 12th inning to give Kansas City a 6-5 decision in the opener while a pair of two-run homers by Jim Piersall and Faye Throneberry gave Boston a 7-6 win in the nightcap.

Bob Turley of the Yankees hurled a six-hitter in posting his 16th victory at the expense of the Tigers. Turley struck out eight, giving him a season total of 200, and was aided by Hank Bauer's two-run homer.

In the already settled National League race, Willard Schmidt of the Cardinals beat Brooklyn with a six-hitter, 8-2, as Wally Moon smashed his 18th homer. It was the third straight loss for the new N.L. champions who have won only one of their last six games. Karl Spooner suffered his sixth loss.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli hit his fourth homer of the season and drove in four runs in leading the Giants to a 8-1 victory over Milwaukee.

Home runs by Frank Thomas and Gene Freese helped Bob Friend of the Pirates defeat the Redlegs, 5-2. Wally Post hit his 39th homer for Cincy.

The Phillies walloped five Cub pitchers for 15 hits and a 10-0 victory in strengthening their hold on fourth place. Murry Dickson was the winner.

Because of variations in the intensity of the earth's graviational field, a man who weighs 200 pounds at the Equator weighs 201 on Ellesmere, Canada's northernmost island, says the National Geographic Society.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (UP)—Carl Braun, the New York Knickerbockers' leading scorer last season, has signed his contract for the 1955-56 National Basketball Association campaign, it was announced today. The former Colgate University star averaged 15.1 points per game last season.

NEW YORK (UP)—Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, today threw cold water on a suggestion that the officials announce their votes after each round of next week's Rocky Marciano - Archie Moore heavyweight title fight. Helfand said such procedure "is contrary to the rules and regulations of this state."

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (UP)—Archie Moore is expected to leave here next Monday for his title fight with heavyweight champion Archie Moore at Yankee Stadium. Promoter Jim Norris visited Moore's camp Tuesday and after a long harangue with the challenger announced, "I am confident now that Archie will come in to New York on Monday . . . instead of taking a chance by flying into the city just in time for the weigh-in Tuesday noon."

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UP) — Trainer Charlie Goldman said today he isn't worried if Rocky Marciano is overtrained for next week's fight with Archie Moore. "I'd much rather have a fighter overtrained than undertrained," Goldman declared.

YONKERS, N.Y. (UP) — Adios Harry, harness racing's fastest pacer, turned in two sparkling workouts Tuesday for the $27,900 Good Time Pace Thursday night at Yonker's Raceway.

Panel Of Coaches To Select Cream Of Crop Each Week

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—A panel of coaches, all experts in their chosen profession, will again rate Indiana's top high school football clubs this season.

The United Press coaches poll, in its third year, will select the "cream of the crop' each week, beginning Sept. 21.

Tabulations are made on a point system, 10 points for first place, 9 for second, on down the line to 1 point for 10th.

The final poll at the end of the season will determine Indiana's "mythical" grid champion.

The others are Art Rolfe, Gary Emerson; Pete Rucinski, East Chicago Roosevelt; E. R. (Gene) Dykstra, Mishawaka; Fordy Anderson, Fort Wayne Catholic; Dick Donovan, Peru.

Valdes Wins TKO Over Don Cockell

LONDON (UP) — Hulking Nino Valdes of Cuba barged back into the heavyweight championship picture today on the strength of a technical knockout over Don Cockell that he claims was "better than Rocky Marciano's."

Valdes slashed Cockell's left eyebrow so badly that the stocky British champion was forced to retire at the end of the third round of their scheduled 10-round bout at White City Stadium Tuesday night. Marciano knocked out Cockell in the ninth round of their title bout, May 16.

Valdes floored Cockell for an eight-count in the third round. Marciano floored the plucky Briton three times.

A swarm of Valdes' fans sounded the keynote of the victory celebration for the 30-year-old, 207-pound Cuban as they thronged around his corner, waving their national flag and shouting over and over, "Marciano, Marciano."

It was an impressive comeback for Valdes, who had tumbled out of title contention when he lost successive bouts to Archie Moore and Bob Satterfield this year.

Wolf Lake Lumber, Jackson Township In Tourney Finals

Wolf Lake Lumber Company and the Jackson Township softball teams advanced to the finals of the local softball tourney with their respective wins Tuesday night.

Wolf Lake Lumber eliminated Culligans of Garrett 4-1 last night, and Jackson Township (of Wells county near Ossian) nosed out Kennedy's Repair Shop of South Whitley 5-3 Tuesday.

The consolation game to be played at 7:30 this evening will be between Kennedy's Repair Shop and Culligans of Garrett. At 9:00. the first of three final games will be played between Wolf Lake Lumber and Jackson Township. The other two games between the finalists will be played Thursday at 7:30 and 9:00.

In advancing to the final game, Wolf Lake Lumber defeated Markle Shell and Culligans of Garrett. Jackson Township has won from Roanoke and Kennedy's Repair Shop.

Etna-Troy Cubs Win 2nd Game 9-1 From Washington Center

The Etna-Troy Cubs won their second grade baseball game Tuesday when they beat the Washington Center nine on their home field 9-1.

Tuggle and Terman were the pitchers for the Cubs while Myers went all the way for Washington. Tuggle and Roberson hit home runs for the Cubs in the second inning.

The Etna-Troy lineup was Lundy, rf, Sheets, lf, Tuggle p, Franks and Richards 2nd, Roberson c, Ostermeyer 1st, Johnson and Runk 3rd, Terman ss, Blain, Hontz, and Krider rf, Hill, Van Wey and Wise cf.

The Washington lineup was Kethcart rf, Zwick and Beck cf, Myers p, Anderson 2nd, Workman c, Sheets and Reed 1st, Graves 3rd, and Sims ss.

Symington To Head Democrats' Senatorial Campaign Committee

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) will soon be named to head the Democrats' Senatorial Campaign Committee for next year's elections, informed sources said today.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) will name the new campaign committee — with Symington as chairman — perhaps as early as next week, Senate informants said.

The campaign committee acts as strategy board for the Democratic candidates who will seek 32 Senate seats next autumn. Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz) heads a GOP counterpart.

South Whitley Wins Over Coesse, 20-1 In Game Tuesday

The South Whitley baseball team defeated Coesse by a lop-sided score of 20-1 Tuesday afternoon on the winners' home field. It was the first game of the season for the winning Bulldogs and the second loss for the Indians in as many starts. Coesse was shut out Friday 16-0 by Churubusco.

Jack Ulshafer went all the way on the mound for South Whitley to gain the win while Tom Clapp was the catcher. While scoring the victory, Ulshafer posted 14 strikeouts.

The losing pitcher for the Coesse team was Ronald Steele. The catcher was Jerry Walker. Both played the entire game.

Coesse will not have a game Friday, but South Whitley will play at Larwill, winners over Jefferson Center Friday. Jefferson Center will be at Churubusco Friday.

Demarco-Vejar 10-Rounder Tonight

BOSTON (UP) — Ex-champion Tony Demarco, who set a ring record by losing his welterweight crown in exactly 70 days, hits the comeback trail tonight in a 10-round nationally televised scrap against cagey Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn.

The 23-year old Bostonian, ranked No. 1 among the welterweight contenders, must come up with a win over the Connecticut veteran or lose his priority on a return match with Carmen Basilio.

Basilio took the title away from Demarco at Syracuse, N.Y., on June 10, exactly 70 days after Demarco dethroned Johnny Saxton via the technical knockout route in Boston Garden.

Tonight's scrap will be the first for Demarco since he lost the title.

The ex-champ ruled a 7-5 favorite to keep the o. 4 challenger from advancing up the 147-round ladder.

Faure Orders Delay In Plans For Morocco

Bows To Stiff Right Wing Opposition

PARIS (UP) — Premier Edgar Faure, bowing to stiff right wing opposition, today ordered a delay in his plan to bring peace to Morocco.

High sources said Faure instructed Moroccan Resident General Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour to delay transmission of a presidential message to Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa asking the unpopular ruler to retire.

The delay was the first victory of the right wing coalition in its determined fight against Faure's liberal plan to give Morocco self-government.

Observers feared the delay might touch off new disturbances in Morocco where the population is tensely watching the struggle in Paris.

Fresh difficulties arose when several cabinet members disagreed with other ministers and the premier on how far to go in relaxing the French hold on its Moroccan protectorate.

Defense Minister Gen. Pierre Kenig, leader of Faure's opposition, rocked political circles with a flat declaration that he was against the Faure plan.

But the Gaullist leader refused to resign because he believes it would leave the army without guidance now when half of French troops are battling Nationalist insurgents in North Africa.

FHA Makes, Insures Record Farm Loans

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Farmers Home Administration made and insured farm loans totaling a record $293,190,000 in the recent fiscal year.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that loans in the previous year totaled $292,462,000. About a third of the fiscal 1955 total, $108,500,000, represented emergency loans to farmers and stockmen hit by drought, floods and other disasters.

The insured farm loan program, under which funds advanced by private lending agencies are insured by the government, expanded greatly during the year. Of a record total of $50,932,000 lent to farmers for buying and developing farms, $31,933,000 was insured. The remaining $19,000,000 was lent from government funds.

Brandon DeWilde, Child Actor, Retires At Age Of 13 Years

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Brandon De Wilde, the child actor, is retiring at the ripe old age of 13 after two hit movies and three plays because his parents want him to remain "adjusted.'

Brandon, the boy in "Shane' and "Member of the Wedding," by now is a rapidly growing 13.

But his sign-off from cinema and stage at the height of his career is a matter of "personality," not of size, his parents say.

"His teen years are a little too important for his own adjustment" explained papa Frederic De Wilde.

"We want him to finish college and then make up his own mind whether he wants to be an actor."

Brandon currently is at work on his "retirement' picture, "Goodbye My Lady,' a John Wayne-Bob Fellows production. On the movie set, at least, he appears to be one of the few child actors extant who does not drive co-actors or interviewers to ulcers.

Young De Wilde became a star by happenstance. His father was acting in "Member of the Wedding on Broadway when the casting director begged to let the boy, 7, try out for the leading role. The De Wildes reluctantly agreed."

"We didn't care about a career for him," the De Wildes, a good-looking young couple agreed. "We cared more about his character development.Twenty-five pictures were offered to us befor we selected 'Shan,"

As DeWilde spoke, his son acted in a scene with veteran Walter Brennan and a barkless dog. Young De Wilde later came over to stand by his parents, but shyly avoided looking at his interviewer. He dug his toe into the artificial ground of the stage and played with the dog, Lady.

"They gave the dog to me," he said eagerly. "I had a dachshund at home (in Baldwin, N.Y.) but he died two weeks ago."

After a while he said, "I agree with my mother and father I should retire, I'll go to Yale, I guess, maybe, and I figure on being a director."

Brandon followed the tradition of all retiring actors, however, when he left a loophole: "If some play comes up I'd like to do over much I might do it, though.'

Then, after Director William Wellman called him, he ran off, whooping, to the set.

"We think our son is normal,' his father, now a stage manager for "Bus Stop," said. "He's really not impressed with his success. We've never tried to give him the star treatment and we discourage others from doing that.

"He wants a newspaper route but other parents would criticize us.

"It's rather difficult," the young father added, "to teach him to earn money when he already earns six times what I do."

Parents Keep Vigil As Condition Of One Of Polio-Stricken Children Becomes Critical

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UP)—Farmer Kron Walsh and his wife kept a bedside vigil today as the condition of one of their eight polio-stricken children reached the "crisis" stage.

The grieving couple sat praying in Rockford Township Hospital's contagion ward, outside the room where their 17-year-old son, David, was battling the dreaded bulbar polio.

Dr. Charles L. Leonard, the family physician, said he urged the parents to stay here through the night because of Davids condition, rather than drive back to their farm near the village of Durand, 15 miles northwest of here.

"He's in serious shape," the doctor said. "The crisis is occurring right now."

In Oxygen Tent

Leonard said the boy was unconscious in an oxygen tent and an iron lung, and that polio had paralyzed his lungs. At one point, he said, David turned blue for over 30 seconds.

Even if the boy recovers, the doctor said, there is a possibility of permanent brain damage.

David, a six-foot-two-inch farmboy, is one of 14 children of the Walshes. They range from 1-year-old Molly Lou to 18-year-old Lorraine and include two sets of twins.

Polio, rare in this area this season, has hit eight of the Walsh children in the last 11 days. Leonard ordered David and three other children hospitalized, while four remained home until the symptoms of the disease cleared up.

"I can't understand it," Walsh said. "My children are the only children in the hospital with it. It's as though we were picked out."

Friends Rally to Aid

In the Township Hospital contagion ward with David were Edward, 16, and Julia, 13. Leonard said it appeared that Edward "may be going into' the same stage as David.

"We're watching him," the doctor said. "He has looked a little worse and we're getting an iron lung ready."

Julia, who is a twin, was hospitalized only Tuesday after Leonard said tests showed she suffered spinal polio.

The doctor said that Rose Ellen, 5, had passed the acute stage. She has been moved to St. Anthony's Hospital here for orthopedic treatment of a weak right leg suffered from the attack.

Meanwhile, friends and neighbors in the little northern Illinois village of Durand were rallying to the aid of the family, and moral support came from as far away as California.

Walsh said a woman telephoned him from Los Angeles to say she was praying for the children and asked what else she could do.

"I just told her to keep praying,' he said. "We need all the prayers we can get.'

Special prayer services were held Tuesday night in the town of 679 persons at St. Mary's Catholic Church and the Methodist Church. The Walshes are Catholic.

EAGLE DILEMMA

ARCHER, Neb. — (UP) —Kenneth and Dick Luebbe and Stanley Sinsel captured a bald eagle with a lasso after it was wounded. The boys found they couldn't keep up with the eagle's rabbit-a-day appetite, couldn't kill it because of a $1,000 fine imposed to protect the prototype of the national emblem and couldn't let it go because it would prey on small farm animals. Nebraska's fame commission finally took the bird for zoo purposes.

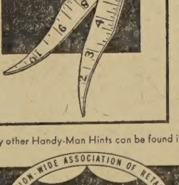
HOW TO MAKE A CALIPER



A folding rule, once broken, is generally considered useless and simply thrown out of the home workshop. However, here is a handy comparative caliper, useful for taking both inside and outside rough measurements, made from just such a broken folding rule. Two 6-in. sections are easily cut to the shape shown in the sketch by cutting on a jigsaw or by filing. Fine sandpaper can be used to smooth off any remaining rough edges.

State Tax Board Approves Money For Joint School Architect's Fees

The State Board of Tax Commissioners approval of additional appropriations for architect's fees removed the last existing obstacle to the Columbia City Joint High School building program, Jay Crawford, president of the Joint Board, said today.

Approval of additional appropriations was certified to school corporations affiliating in the new high school plans in letters from Fred C. Wissman, secretary of the State Tax Board, Monday to the county auditor.

The board specified, however, that each school corporation is to be reimbursed from the funds to be received by the Columbia City Joint High School Building Corporation.

The action clears the way for Columbia City Joint High School Board and Holding Company to proceed with final plans for the new high school building, Crawford said.

Architect Walter Scholer has been advised of the State's action and is expected to have final blueprints of the building available for letting of bids at the earliest possible date, it was said.

George F. Gable, a representative of the State Tax Board, presided at hearings on the additional appropriations here last month. At that time, several residents of Jefferson, Washington and Union townships sought to prohibit the school corporation officials from making appropriations for the architect's fees. A number of them also appeared at the hearing of the State Board in Indianapolis. However, the board over-ruled all objections and gave its approval of the procedure.

Citizens of Columbia City and Thorncreek township did not protest the additional appropriations at the hearings, but gave their approval.

East Coast Ports Humming With Activity

As ILA Ends Eight-Day Tieup

NEW YORK (UP)—East Coasts ports today hummed with activity brought on by the decision of the International Longshoremen's Association to end an eight day shipping tieup in costly protest against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

The tieup had choked and strangled commerce in the New York waterfront and cost shipping companies more than eight-million dollars. Many other Atlantic Seaboard longshoremen supported the walkout during its latter stages and hundreds of ships laid idle from Maine to Florida until the general back to work movement began today.

The ILA members voted to return to their jobs when State Sen. James F. Murray Jr. of ew Jersey agreed to set up a "citizens fact-finding committee" to hear union complaints against the waterfront commission.

Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the ILA, ordered the walkout on charges the commission was unfair and exceeded its authority.

The union had been enjoined in Supreme Court from carrying on an illegal strike and faced contempt action for violating the injunction.

Justice S. Samuel Di Falco postponed hearing on the contempt citation until Sept. 22.

Richland Township Farm Bureau Has Annual Elections

The regular Richland Township Farm Bureau meeting was held recently at the Larwill school. Mrs. Amon Beard was in charge of devotions.

The election was held, and the results were as follows: Galen Wilkinson, chairman; Ray Kessie, vice-chairman; Paul Studebaker, secretary-treasurer; Glen Johnson, assistant; Mrs. Joe Wilkinson, S & E leader; Mrs. Jerry Bowers, assistant; Mrs. Ivan Spurrier, Pet & Hobby; Mrs. Elmer Banning, assistant; and Ozro Burnworth, Ray Kessie, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Wilkinson, and Mrs. Walter Halt, delegates to the state convention.

Refreshments of doughnuts, coffee, and chocolate milk were served by the committee of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Binkley, and Mrs. Ralph Johnson.

Kid's Day Sponsors Express Appreciation For Local Assistance

Harold Murphy, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Don Staples, chairman of the general committee, both have expressed sincere appreciation for the cooperation being given to the Kids' Day celebration, by not only the officials of the city, but also by the general public. "It indicates the intense interest that the average citizen has in the welfare of the youth and a keen desire to assist in any way that will bring to a successful fulfillment projects designed to better conditions for our youth", Murphy said.

The City Council Tuesday night approved a request by the Kiwanis Club to hold the bicycle rodeo on Chauncey street between Market and Van Buren streets. The bicycle rodeo will test the youths' abilities for handling bicycles in a safe manner.

Plans are rapidly moving toward completion for the local observance of Kids' Day, September 24, Staples reported, through the efforts of the local Kiwanis Club and community leaders.

Runner-Up Of Miss America Dines In Local Restaurant

A runner-up of Miss America stopped in this city Tuesday evening and was a supper guest at the Ennis restaurant in the Central block.

Miss Chicago, in the person of Florence Gallagher, was en route home from Atlantic City, scene of the pageant, and was accompanied by her aunt and her grandparents. Like all doting grandparents, the grandfather made known to the waitress that the young woman was his granddaughter and that she was one of the five runners-up. The waitress soon made it known to the management and the guests in the restaurant.

The very reserved and attractive young woman, in black slacks and white blouse, seemed to be satisfied to be just a runner-up with her $2500 scholarship, a $500 television set and other gifts.

Jack Black Is Air Force Enlistee

Jack Black, 1954 Columbia City high school graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Black of East Van Buren street, was to be flown from Indianapolis to San Antonio, Tex., yesterday, following his enlistment in the Air Force. He had applied almost a year ago for admission to the Air Cadet training program and it has been indicated that within about two months he will be transferred to this training at Waco, Texas.

Baer Field Officer To Speak Sunday At Washington Center

Capt. G. D. McCord, senior flight commander and training officer from Baer Field, will be the guest speaker at the Washington Center Evangelical United Brethren Youth Fellowship meeting at the church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

He is a member of the 163rd Fighter Interceptor Sqd.

The Rev. H. H. Steele is the pastor of the church.

Chairman Gives Mental Health Campaign Report

Drive In County Totals $1218.75

Mrs. Robert Sharpe, chairman of the Whitley County Mental Health drive, reported today that a total of $1218.75 was received during the campaign. The amounts received from the different areas of the county were as follows; Tri-Lakes Area, $129.15; South Whitley, $203.10; Churubusco, $42.00; Columbia City, $844.50.

Permanent officers of the Whitley county committee are to be a chairman, vice-chairman, treasurer, and public information chairman. These officers will be selected soon, as well as the committees to perform the various programs of the organization.

The Christmas Gift program is already being organized under the leadership of Mrs. Jules Heritier. Gifts will be collected to be distributed this year at Christmas time to the patients in our mental institutions.

The Public Education committee will have the responsibility of getting information to the press and radio, and of placing material in local office waiting rooms to educate the public concerning the mental health problem.

There will also be two local persons appointed to participate in an organized visit to the hospital at Westville which serves our area and who will report to the people here.

The committee will have on file names of speakers who can be obtained to satisfy requests of local groups for speakers on mental health. Other committees will be responsible for maintaining close touch with the problem of the jailed mentally ill, adopting of a program for the forgotten patient, and providing assistance and service to the discharged patients of our county.

Soviet Premier Bulganin Is Ill

MOSCOW (UP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, 60, is ill, it was reported today.

The information came from sources close to the Finnish delegation to Moscow.

Bulganin had to cancel a courtesy call today from Finnish Premier Urho Kekkonen. Sources said "illness" was given as the reason.

There were no details of the illness.

Mayor Proclaims September 24 As Kids' Day

Building Of Youth Is Principal Task, He Says

Columbia City Mayor Thomas H. Hood today issued his official proclamation regarding the September 24th Kid's Day observance sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Columbia City.

The Mayor's proclamation is as follows:

"WHEREAS the citizens of Columbia City are vitally interested in our youth and recognize the importance of adult participation in matters pertaining to the welfare of our children;

WHEREAS one of the principal tasks facing our nation and our community today is the building of our youth into useful and honorable citizens;

WHEREAS it is fitting that we make every effort to keep all children from being prey to any form of delinquency and to foster all good and proper endeavers aimed at helping our youth to achieve the benefits offered by the American way of life;

WHEREAS through the joint efforts of Kiwanis International and the local Kiwanis Club, a day has been set aside to focus attention upon the problems and the accomplishments of youth throughout the forty-eight states at both a national and community level; said day to be identified with the objective slogan — "Boys and Girls - Our Greatest Resource";

WHEREAS the purpose of the day is to provide worthwhile experiences for all youth;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas A. Hood, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Columbia City, do hereby designate Saturday, September 24 1955, as Kid' Day in Columbia City and do call upon all citizens to support the objectives of this day and to cooperate to the best of their abilities in making the event a success.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Columbia City to be affixed this 15th day of September, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Fifty Five."

Thomas A. Hood

1915 Paper Reveals City Installing Heat To School

Editor's note: Local newspapers of September 15, 1915 revealed plans for heating the West Ward school from the city steam heat line. Forty years later a new heating plant is being built by the West Ward school.

The 1915 article follows:

"The section of the steam pipeline leading from the courthouse to the West Ward school buildings was given a test Wednesday and the result was very satisfactory.

When the tests are completed the pipes will be covered with a two-inch thickness of asbestos and a layer of cement will be laced above them and the trenches filled up.

Several days ago the section of the pipes leading from the city electric light plant were tested successfully and have been wrapped with asbestos and covered with cement.

Wayne Leatherland, foreman of the gang, states he hopes to have the apparatus ready for service within the next ten days."

Detectives Seize Man Hunted For Slaying Foreman

Snarling When Taken To Headquarters

CHICAGO (UP) — Three detectives today seized Michael Morabito, 31, hunted in the slaying of a Chicago Daily News mail room foreman, at a street intersection on the city's Northwest Side.

Dressed in dirty clothing, Morabito was snarling when taken to police headquarters where Lt. James McMahon of the homicide squad attempted to get a statement from him.

Hundreds of policemen had hunted him since Wednesday morning, when he walked into the Daily News building and shot Henry George, 45, the foreman. He had raped a woman during the night.

Police knew him to be crazed. He had threatened others among mailers and pressroom employes in other newspaper shops.

He first was sighted today by detective Peter Rendik, who had been working all night with Sgt. Howard Pierson in the search and was on his way home.

Tries to Escape

Rendik fired three shots at Morabito after tense moments in which he faced the fugitive, who had a gun pointed at him.

Rendik was getting gasoline for his automobile at a station at Augusta and Crawford when he sighted Morabito.

He pulled a pistol and started toward Morabito. The fugitive also produced a gun. For seconds, the two men stood a few feet apart, Rendik said, each pointing a gun at the other.

Morabito started sidling away. Rendik maneuvered him toward an areaway, telling him to drop his gun. Morabito would not, and Rendik fired one shot.

Morabito dropped, pretending to be hit. Then as Rendik walked toward him, he leaped up and dashed away. Rendik fired a shot in the air, and two more after him.

The shots missed. Morabito did not fire.

Rapes Woman on Beach

Other police were summoned. The three detectives, Harry Gozola, James Nihill and James Cooley, finally caught up with him at Chicago and Harding, near Morabito's home.

Morabito, a former mail room employe for nine years, fired two shots into George, a veteran of 16 years wit hthe Daily News, then stood over the sprawled body and fired three more shots point-blank, witnesses said.

They said Morabito received mental treatment three years ago.

Police said Morabito took a 20-year-old woman to a Lake Michigan beach Wednesday night and raped her.

Hurricane Swirls TowardMainland L. A. Has Smog

Third Straight Day Of Heavy Attack

By UNITED PRESS

A hurricane swirled toward the U.S. mainland, and Los Angeles braced for its third straight day of heavy smog attacks today.

Meanwhile, southerly winds extending from Texas northward to eastern Montana and the Dakotas brought unseasonably high temperatures to the Plains States.

Hurricane Ione, a newcomer and the ninth such tropical storm of the year, boiled suddenly into full strength 250 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and headed directly for the Carolina coast more than 1,000 miles away.

Hilda also gained renewed force after its deadly path across Cuba and was traveling on a west-southwesterly course that weather experts said would carry it toward northern British Honduras.

In Los Angeles, the Air Pollution Control District forecast a third straight day of possible first-level alerts.

The ozone content, the measuring stick for the amount of pollutants in the air, reached .64 in downtown Los Angeles Wednesday. The first stage alert is sounded when the ozone concentration reaches .50.

Tears flowed freely in Los Angeles, and United Press writer Paul Hawkins gave a description of what the smog is like:

"It creeps in under the door, filters through windows, and hangs over the city four or five hours each day like the blue pall of gunsmoke. It smarts the eyes and causes you to sneeze and cough with all the symptoms of double pneumonia...it smells too."

The smog got so bad Wednesday that 40 motorcycle delivery men for a blueprint firm decided to go on strike. They said their eyes smarted and it was damgerous for them to ride. The strike was settled amicably when Henry R. Davis, general manager of the firm, bought 40 gas masks and passed them out.

The winds in the Plains States jacked up temperatures as much as 25 degrees since Wednesday. In Bismarck, S.D., it was 72 this morning after readings of 47 a day ago.

In California, a heavy rain has smothered all but two of the major forest fires that plagued the state for nearly two weeks. Officials were optimistic the two remaining fires would soon be under control.

Rehearsals For Local Variety Show Are Now Underway

Rehearsals are underway for the "Funnybone Follies," a variety show to be given at Marshall Memorial Hall September 21-22.

Presented by VFW Post 5582 and its Auxliary unit the show includes outstanding talent of the community.

Darlene Smith will portray Doris Day, and the witty master of ceremonies, Groucho Marx, will be Adrian Scott, the man of a thousand and one jokes. Mrs. Walter Ditton will be seen as Ma Kettle and Robert Hollingsworth will serve as the commercial announcer.

One scene in the local talent variety show is a riotous womanless wedding with prominent men taking the parts of Miss Dainty Anne Gruesome, the blushing bride, and Will B. Tremblin, the reluctant groom. The ceremony will be performed by Justice Type D. Knott, and the "bridal party" is guaranteed to send the audience into gales of laughter.

U. S. Anxiously Awaits Report On Moscow Talks

High-Ranking Diplomat Expected This Weekend

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States today anxiously awaited a hurried first-hand report on the West German-Soviet agreement to establish diplomatic relations.

Informed sources said Dr. Wilhelm Grewe, high-ranking German diplomat, was expected here this weekend to report on the Moscow negotiations. Grewe, director of the political department in the West German Foreign Ministry, accompanied Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to Russia.

Grewe's views may clear up some reported differences of opinion between American diplomats over whether Adenauer did the right thing in agreeing to diplomatic ties with the Soviets. Officially, the State department says the move was a fine thing which disclosed the "bankruptcy" of Soviet policies on Germany and "enhanced' West Germanys prestige. Privately, some diplomats aren't so sure that the agreement will work out too well.

Grewe will meet next Monday or Tuesday with American, British and French diplomats who will open talks on Allied strategy for the Oct. 27 Big Four foreign ministers meeting at Geneva. The top item of preparatory business is to survey the whole range of prospects for German unity and European security.

State department officials are working overtime on a series of security ideas designed to eliminate Moscow's objections to early German unity. They range from a five-power pact between the United States, Britain, France, Russia and a united Germany to a 15-power pact. The idea is to guarantee that an attack by Germany on Russia wbuld be prevented by broad security arrangements in western and eastern Europe.

Opposition Says He Sacrificed Chances Of Unity

For Germany; Meets With Cabinet

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met today with his cabinet to begin a drive for parliamentary approval of his Moscow agreements. He ran into immediate charges by the Socialist opposition that he had sacrificed chances of German unity.

Behind the Iron Curtain, the East German Communists denied that Adenauer had received a Soviet promise to free German prisoners. Bonn officials dismissed this as Red propaganda and even Adenauer's opposition preferred to believe the chancellor and expressed confidence the oviets would carry out the promise.

The cabinet met at the gleaming white Chaumburg Palace close to the Rhine River one day before an East German delegation headed by Premier Otto Grotewohl was taking off from East Berlin for Moscow and high-level conferences of its own.

The official Communist Party newspaper Neues Deutschland said in a dispatch from Moscow that Adenauer "claimed" that he "allegedly" received such a Soviet promise. It quoted the Soviet press chief as saying the prisoner question was an all-German matter and not a subject of the West German-Soviet negotiations.

Western officials said the statement was an obvious propaganda move aimed at winning prestige for the unpopular Communist regime in the east zone. They predicted the East German delegation would win a writen Soviet pledge to return German prisoners.

But it came at a critical time for Adenauer. Cheers of triumph for winning a Soviet promise on prisoners still resounded, but underneath there was an angry undercurrent of criticism because he had agreed to establish full relations with Moscow.

The German Socialist Party was the most vocal and said his agreement torpedoed German chances for early reunification. Similar complaints came from the moderate rightist Free Democrats, second largest party in the Adenauer

Workmen Injured In Tabernacle Collapse, Falling Haymow Causes Fatality In 1915

Editors note: The September 15 papers of 1915 report two tragic accidents occurring in the late afternoon of the previous day. One was the collapse of the tabernacle roof in which scores of men working on the structure were injured. In the other, Dan Daniel, father of Louis Daniel and Mrs. Hattie Daniel Mier, was fatally injured when a haymow in his barn collapsed and buried Mr. Daniel in the debris.

These were recalled when Barney Lewis, former used furniture store proprieter, gave a member of the local staff several copies of old newspapers among which were accounts of the accidents.

THE COLLAPSE OF THE TABERNACLE

The tabernacle was constructed on the present site of the C. W. Schrader and Sons Garage.

The program was sponsored by the churches of Columbia City. A union revival service was held in the tabernacle and converts could join the church of their choice.

Rev. W. C. Mealing was the evangelist and he was assisted by F. L. Leonard in charge of the choir and music. The meetings were to continue for five weeks in the tabernacle. It was torn down after the meetings were over.

The account is used in part:

Just as the army of volunteer workmen were putting the finishing touches on the big tabernacle building and were about ready to proclaim to the community that they had made good their promise, that of erecting the massive structure in one day, the huge building was seen to sway and before a warning could be sounded to the men who were working on the roof the same collapsed and the score of workmen were hurled to the ground a distance of about twenty-five feet and fourteen men were more or less injured.

Many See Accident

The accident that occurred just at five twenty o'clock Tuesday afternoon was witnessed by many, who were attracted to the scene by the rapid construction of the building, and who were anxious to see who of the workmen would have the honor of driving the last nail, and when they saw the big structure start to sway they shouted their warnings to the men employed on the roof, but before they could reach a place of safety the building spread apart and the roof collapsed and the men accompanied the broken timbers to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. Immediately following the collapse, those who witnessed the accident realized that some people had been hurt and there was a general rush to the rear of the building to assist in getting the men out and giving them all the relief possible and it was then that the sightseers began to realize the enormity of the accident.

One by one the injured men were dug from the debris and carried to the front of the tabernacle and from this point each of the individuals injured were taken to their respective homes in automobiles, where their injuries were dressed.

One woman fainted dead away at the sight of the injured men.

The Real Cause

W. H. Kissinger, who was the superintendent of construction, stated to a representative of this paper immediately following the accident that in his opinion the nails in the stringers across the top of the big building had pulled away and this caused the building to sway to the west, and as that part of the structure was unsupported with braces the building continued to move in that direction until the roof buckled in, causing the men so working on the roof to be carried to the ground with the timbers.

This statement on the part of Mr. Kissinger was supported by John Waterfall, who was the boss carpenter on the job, although he stated that it was possible that the many people on the roof moving backward and forward had something to do with the building swaying to the west and that once the structure got started in that direction there was nothing to hold it back and it was forced to collapse.

Plans Of Evangelist

The plans and specifications by which the building was being erected had been furnished to the committee in charge of Evangelist Mealing, who at the time he delivered the same to the committee stated that they were the same plans over which all of his tabernacles had been constructed and he assured the committee that the same would be safe if followed.

However, it now appears that there must have either been some defect in the plans and specifications, or some defect in following them out, as it was demonstrated fully that structure of this magnitude could not stand up under the strain, especially with no braces or supports.

The building, which was 60 feet wide by 120 feet in length, was held together by long stringers that were nailed together in the center with four spike nails and naturally when the weight of the structure began to move to the west the nails could not stand the strain and pulled apart, thus causing the roof to cave in. the east side of the structure butted against the brick wall of the Brand & Outcelt garage (now Farm Bureau store) and had been nailed fast to the brick wall so that that side was protected and remained in place when the remainder of the building collapsed.

Trouble Starts At South End

Shortly before the accident happened, several men who were standing in front of the structure looking at the manner in which the building was being erected, noticed that the same was leaning to the west and informed some of the workmen engaged in putting on the siding that the building did not look safe, especially at the south end of the structure, and they had no more than made this statement until the crash came and it was then seen that the roof at the south part of the building had collapsed and when this occurred the building was seen to sway to the north and west and in an instant the entire roof fell to the ground.

At the south part of the building is where the carpenters were putting on the finishing touches and it is estimated that something like twenty-five men were working in a radius of probably thirty or thirty-five feet and the constant moving of those men together with their combined weight is what caused the building to start swaying and when the same reached the right momentum the structure collapsed.

Immediately following the collapse of the building and the spectators realized what had happened, there was a general rush on the part of all to the rear of the building to see just what damage had been done and it was then first learned that many had been injured and the work of removing the debris was started with a will.

Rush For Doctors

A general call for doctors was answered by Dr. E. V. Nolt; Dr. O. V. Schuman, Dr. D. S. Linvill, Dr. Ben Linvill, Dr. N. I. Kithcart, Dr. F. G. Grisier and Dr. Otto Grisier.

Many Boys Escape

One of the things that the public cannot figure out is how the many little boys who were on the roof at the time, assisting in the work to the best of their ability, managed to escape being injured and this truly was one of the miracles of the accident. Immediately following the dismissal of school the school children flocked to the scene, they also being interested in the erection of the building, and the young boys immediately climbed to the roof and assisted in their own way in carrying timbers and water to the workmen and when the roof collapsed it is estimated that there were fully twenty of the youngsters on the building and not a single one of them were injured, although the majority of them followed the falling timbers to the ground.

Walter "Muzzy" Myers when interviewed remembered that he and Jim Kaler, son of Mrs. Bertha Kaler, were the water boys and were excused from school for the day. They did not receive any pay. Mayor F. L. Myers sent five gallons of ice cream to the men working on the tabernacle about three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Injured

One of the first to be removed from the debris was Glenn Overdeer. He received a broken left leg just below the hip. He had rushed down to the tabernacle to help after the close of school for the day.

R. Frank Raber, suffered the most severe injuries and received a broken leg and collar bone.

Ralph Ferrey and Clinton Wilcox went to work on the tabernacle after they had completed their work for the day at the Farmers Loan and Trust Company. They suffered sprained backs and shoulders. Mr. Ferrey remembered that they took along their tools and were starting to put on roll roofing, and the sheeting up near the roof comb. The west wall of the building did not seem to be securely braced and moved out from the added weight on the top.

Mr. Ferrey recalled that later that week volunteers finished the tabernacle and covered the floor with saw dust with four aisles leading up to the front called "sawdust trails." He remembered that Henry Phend was one of the construction superintendents.

Others injured included Clinton Gregg, Rev. W. E. Hunter, Wallace Waterfall, Herbert Clugston, Edward Kessler, Ben Clugston, August Erdmann, George Rhoades, John Waterfall, Jacob Bowers.

Others on the roof were: Russell Nowels, Roscoe Garrison, Ed Smith, Jake Wallace and Felix Orner.

Tabernacle Rebuilt

S. J. Peabody, who had furnished the lumber to build the tabernacle sent all of the lumber mill employees to work on the tabernacle the next day.

The collapsed portion of the building was torn out, the stringers were bolted together and nailed with long spikes and the west wall of the building was reinforced with braces.

The men who reported to work Wednesday morning from the Peabody mills were: Edward Cool, Jacob Bray, Harry Shaw, John Walker, Edward Sell, James Shaffer, Stephen Schultz, Edward Cool, Jr., A. S. Nowels, Marshall Keirn, Adolph Eber, John Snyder, Peter Gluckert, Dewey Skinner, Lee Carver, Howard Smith, Charles Marker, Edward Robinson, Hillard Moore, Asa Maires, John Cearbaugh, Earl Spurrier, Frank Sharp. Others who reported for duty were C. G. Whitney, David Williamson, Roy Kenner, Jud Smith, E. Nolt, C. H. Orner, William Waterfall, David Evard, Jacob Wallace, Edward Bair.

DAN DANIEL CRUSHED

Dan Daniel was killed about 3:30 in the afternoon before the collapse of the tabernacle. He had gone to the barn beside the residence on West Jackson street. (The barn was on the present site of the Whitley County Motor Sales Used Car Lot.) Mr. Daniel was assisting with the unloading of some oats which Joshua Schuman and his son Alvin had brought to the barn. Also assisting was Ed Heinley. Mr. Heinley and Alvin Schuman who were carrying the oats to the bin in the loft when it fell without warning, burying the men under the grain and hay. Mr. Daniels died early the next morning from his injuries extracts from his life story follow:

"He was born February 18, 1844 in the Kingdom of Bavaria and there received his early education."

"At the age of 22 years he left his native land and came to America sailing from Havre de Grace, France, for New York and proceeding direct to Columbia City, where his brother Leopold, was then located."

"He received his start in business by traveling over Whitley and bordering counties as a peddler, carrying a pack of merchandise and learning the English language."

By 1868 he had raised sufficient funds to engage in the meat business which he operated with his brother Leopold and a Mr. Levi.

They built the brick buidling which was used in 1915 by the F. G. Binder & Sons meat market and the Gus Frohmuth shoe store.

In 1894 Mr. Daniel went into business for himself, buying and shipping stock and other merchandise. He operated the shoe store for a time, before selling it to Mr. Frohmuth.

Mr. Daniel was interested in local affairs and served as city councilman and jury commissioner.

Mr. Daniel was married to Miss Hannah Levi, Fort Wayne, in 1873. Other children named were Mrs. Lewis Allman, Mrs. Benjamin Ettinger, Mrs. Isaac Baum, and Albert and Maurice Daniel.

Most Of Workers Return To Westinghouse Electric Plants, But Key Local Is Still Out

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A majority of 44000 members of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers reported for work at 27 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants today but the key local which had sparked a nationwide walkout remained out on strike.

The announcement late Wednesday by Local 601 at the firm's big East Pittsburgh works that "the strike is still on" followed a vote by the IUE's Westinghouse Conference Board ,representing all the union's Westinghouse locals approving peace agreements reached by top negotiators.

The local's action apparently raised a major obstacle to company-wide wage negotiations tentatively scheduled to open here today. Local 601, the largest IUE group in Westinghouse operations, represents approximately 8,500 workers, including 2,200 dayworkers whose objections to a company time-study plan touched off the nationwide walkout.

Overhwlming Vote Reported

The 60-man conference board reportedly voted "overwhelmingly' to end the 72-hour company-wide strike effective Wednesday midnight by accepting twin agreements reached by IUE President James B. Carey and company Vice President R. D. Blasier. The move overruled an earlier vote by some 2200 members of Local 601 rejecting the settlement plan.

The subsequent announcement by the local that it would "not return to work against the wishes of our membership" presented a direct challenge to the board.

One part of the agreement accepted by the board called for ending the East Pittsburgh strike. The second applied to the IUE International and all its locals. Both sections provided that the time-study dispute would be taken up in the national wage negotiations.

Settlement Termed Fair

Blasier termed the settlement "fair to management, union and employes."

In accepting the agreement, the board stipulated the union's right to strike Oct. 15 barring achievement of an acceptable peace formula.

The walkout in 28 Westinghouse plants began last Monday as a sympathy move after the conference board had endorsed the strike of Local 601 at East Pittsburgh

The East Pittsburgh strike began Aug. 8 when the 2,200 dayworkers walked out in protest against a company time study of their jobs. The huge plant was virtually idled as more than 6,000 additional production and clerical workers were furloughed because of the strike.

National Americanism Director Of American Legion Is Resigning

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Lee R. Pennington, national Americanism director of the American Legion, anounced his resignation today in order to devote full time to countersubversive work for the Legion.

Pennington, whose resignation is effective Friday, will take over the countersubversive activities office of the Legion's National Americanism Commission in Washington.

National Legion Commander Seaborn P. Collins immediately appointed C.A. Tesch, former West Virginia state adjutant and Pennington's assistant, as acting Americanism director.

Pennington served 25 years with the FBI and assumed the Legion's Americanism post in 1953.

Order To Prohibit Man From Interfering With Church

Decatur, Ind. (UP)—A temporary restraining order was issued Wednesday to prohibit neighbors from interfering with the Pleasant Grove United Brethren Church.

Judge Myles Parrish set Monday for a hearing on a permanent order against Jimmie G. Harkless and Alvina Harkless, whose property adjoins the land on which the church was built.

Church trustees filed suit charging Harkless built a barbed wire fence around the church property which his grandfather donated 63 years ago to the congregation. The suit said Harkless removed hymnals and other church property and once kept worshipers from Sunday services with a shotgun and hammer.

Butler, Former U. S. Ambassador, Dies

NEW YORK (UP) —Robert Btuler, former U.S. ambassador to Cuba and Australia, died early today following a heart attack. He was 58.

Butler, who returned from Europe Tuesday aboard the liner United States, was taken to New York Hospital Wednesday after a heart attack. He died there at 2 a.m. EDT today.

Butler was president of the Walter Butler Construction Co., of Minneapolis, Minn.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Porter Butler a son, Walter, of New York, and three daughters Mrs. Margaret Mitch, of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. Raymond Higgins Jr. of Duluth, Minn. and Mrs. Joseph Ringland Jr., of St. Paul.

3 Year-Old Girl Is Traffic Victim

RUSHVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Deborah Kay Hensley, 3, was killed late Wednesday when she fell beneath the rear wheel of a truck as her father watched helplessly from the porch of their nearby home.

The girl, daughter of the Donald Hensleys of Rushville, stumbled and fell under the wheel while crossing a street, police said. Truck driver Thomas Smith, 31, Rushville, was not held.

She was Rushville's first traffic victim since April 2, 1953.

CAA Asks Full Written Report From Godfrey

CHICAGO (UP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration today asked Arthur Godfrey for a full written report on his plane's alleged "crowding" of an airliner.

Ozark Airlines claims the TV performer's private DC-3 zoomed dangerously close to one of it passenger planes after both took off from Midway Airport here eight days ago.

Godfrey has denied the complaint in New York, saying, "There was absolutely no danger of a collision."

Godfrey said he was 1,000 feet away and 200 to 300 feet above the airliner.

It was the second time the entertainer had been accused of endangering others with his souped-up converted airliner. On Jan. 7, 1954, he buzzed the traffic control tower at the Teterboro, N. J., airport while taking off.

He admitted that violation after an investigation, and was grounded for six months.

Girl Suffocates In Barn Fire

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (UP)—Sandra Kipper, 2, suffocated Wednesday in a barn fire despite an heroic rescue attempt by her mother.

Mrs. Clarence Kipper suffered second degree burns on her arms when she tried to penetrate the flames in search of the girl.

Firemen said the girl was playing in the barn at the family farm when the fire broke out. Authorities believed she may have found some matches and accidentally ignited baled straw.

Coroner Charles Helm said the girl's body was burned but she probably suffocated before the flames reached her.

Craig Appoints Director Of Physical Training Programs

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—William (Billy) Thom, who was Governor Craig's wrestling coach at Indiana University two decades ago, today was appointed to the newly-created job of director of physical education and recreation at state institutions.

Craigs staff said Thom will be paid in the neighborhood of $9,000 a year to develop and expand physical training programs at state penal and mental institutions.

"He won't teach pole-vaulting or wall-climbing to the prisons," commented Doxie Moore, the governor's administrative assistant.

Thom, 55, played football at the University of Iowa and at Indiana University, he was track and wrestling coach and an assistant football coach and scout. Most recently, he has engaged in sports promotion work in Indianapolis.

Betty Geiger Requests Separate Maintenance

Betty Geiger filed a complaint for separate maintenance from Thomas H. Geiger in Whitley county circuit court Monday. The complaint requested separation from bed and board for a period of five years.

According to the complaint, the couple was married May 8, 1948 and separated September 12, 1955. The plaintiff charges the defendant with cruel and inhuman treatment and requests custody of four minor children born of the marriage.

Court Dismisses Cases Pending 4 Terms

Several cases pending in Whitley county circuit court were dismissed this week under Rule 3 of the Indiana State Statutes. The rule provides for complete dismissal of any case which has failed to be decided for four terms, or one year, of court.

In several other cases where the defendants had filed no answer to charges filed, they were ordered to do so within 10 days.

For economy and efficiency, use electric appliances in mid-morning or mid-afternoon when there generally isn't as heavy a demand on current.

NOTICE OF ORDINANCE

Yankees Within One Game Of Pace-Setting Indians, Are Even With Them In Lost Column

By MILTON RICHMOND
United Press Sports Writer

All of a sudden it's a brand new American League pennant race—from the stand-point of the Yankees, anyway.

To hear the jubilant Yankees whoop and holler today someone might get the idea they had just clinched the flag, but what they actually did was climb to within one game of the pace-setting Indians and draw even with them in the all-important "lost column.'

The man chiefly responsible for the "new look" in the pennant race and the new lease on life for the Bronx Bombers is a skinny, little-heard-of Washington rookie, whose only previous claim to fame was that he owned the longest name in the league.

His name is Jose Valdivielso and it was his eighth-inning double that brought the seventh - place Senators a 3-2 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night. Washington's triumph, coupled with a 6-4 victory by the Yankees over the Tigers, sliced a full game off the Indians' league lead and put an entirely new complexion on the pennant race.

The figures all boil down to the fact that the Yankees now are in a position to finish in a pennant tie should they win all their remaining 10 games — which Casey Stengel feels they can do — and the Indians win all their remaining eight contests.

One-Game Playoff Possible

If that's the way it winds up, a one-game playoff to decide the American League winner will be year. That total tops the previous best mark for a rookie set in 1911 when Grover Cleveland Alexander struck out 227 as a fledgling with the Phillies.

Gil McDougald and Hank Bauer each cracked homers in the Yankees victory over Detroit as lanky Don Larsen survived rocky first and ninth innings to notch his eighth victory.

The White Sox, whose pennant chances grow dimmer every day, split a deouble header with the Orioles, dropping the opener, 8-2 and winning the nightcap, 6-0. The split left Chicago four games off the pace.

Zernial Homers Twice

Big Gus Zernial drove in six runs with his 27th and 28th homers to lead Kansas City to a 7-3 victory over the Red Sox, who remained seven games back. Art Ditmar registered his 11th victory with an eight-hitter.

While everybody is watching the tightening American League race, hardly anyone is noticing that the Dodgers are taking their daily lumps in the already settled ational League race.

The new N.L. champions suffered their fourth straight loss when the seventh-place Cardinals beat Carl Erskine, 3-0, Wednesday night. Tom Poholsky held the Dodgers to three hits in posting his ninth win.

Del Crandall and George Crowe each connected for two-run homers as veteran Warren Spahn of the Braves defeated the Giants, 9-2. Willie Mays slammed his 44th and 45tn homers of the season, tying Ted Kluszewski for the major league leadership.

No other games were schedlued in the National League.

Chico Vejar Loses To Tony DeMarco On First Round TKO

BOSTON (UP) — Manager Steve Ellis cried today that the famous Brinks robbery was nothing compared to the way his boy, Chico Vejar, lost to welterweight Tony DeMarco.

"It was the fastest I ever saw a fight stopped in my life," said Ellis after Demarco had won a first-round TKO victory over Vejar in Wednesday night's nationally televised scheduled 10-rounder at Boston Gardens.

"That referee (Tommy Rawson) shouldn't have been so quick in calling it quits with only 10 seconds left, Ellis said. "Vejar has been known to start off that way and still come back strong.

"As a matter of fact Vejar looked better after the second knockdown than he did after the first."

Ellis was referring to the unexpected battering from the former welterweight champion. The 23-year-old Demarco rained an assortment of blows on the head and body of the Stanford, Conn., drama student until he was staggering with a mouth full of blood.

It was not certain whether the national TV audience realized the force of Demarco's punches but the Marciano-like Bostonian said, "I never hit anybody harder."

He moved in relentlessly against 24-year-old Vejar from the opening bell. He was almost arm weary —as he was against Johnny Saxton in taking the welterweight title April 1 — as he pummeled Vejar with right crosses, left hooks and overhand rights.

Bowling Award Winners In First Week Are Named

Bowling award winners in the first week of the current season at Cook Lanes were Charlotte McGrath and John Cowen.

Mrs. McGrath won the Cook Lanes "575 series pin" with her 597 series on the Grip Nut team in the Thursday Nite Ladies League. She also had a high game of 242.

Mr. Cowen won the Cook Lanes belt award with a series score of 650 or over. Cowen's score was 657 in the Friday Nite Men's Commercial League.

Injury, Illness Cause Shakeup In Starting Eagle Line

During the practice workouts this week following the football opener at Nappanee, the Columbia City line had undergone a major overhaul by Coaches Barnum and Duffield. An injury in the Nappanee game and sickness of another player have caused the major change.

The injury and sickness sidelined the Eagle starting ends for this week's workouts. Terry Smith received a painful shoulder injury at Nappanee last week, and Ben Simmers has been ill this week with "something like the flu."

Will Make Change

Two boys who have been "given a lot of consideration" for the two end positions are two converted tackles, Barry Brennan and Jay Smith. Brennan, who actually plays guard and tackle, leaves a vacancy in the starting lineup, and there is a mad scramble for that position. Boys who have a chance to jump into that first string position are Tom Fisher, Bob Hall, Dan Martin, or Dick Loe. The coaches state that Loe looked well on defense at Nappanee last week and will probably see a lot of action against Concordia Friday. There will just plain be a lot of switching come this Friday night, Head Coach Barnum predicts.

Jay Smith, who is making the change to end with Brennan, has been playing reserve tackle and is the boy who booted a Nappanee fumble into the end zone and then picked it up last week.

Other Linemen Ready

The remainder of the Eagle linemen, Bridge at center, Fry and Conrad at tackles, and Schrader at the guard spot are apparently in good shape and ready for the Cadet, who last week trounced Fairmount 20-7.

There will probably not be much change, if any, in the Eagle backfield. Deutsch and Jones are still holding down the halfback positions, Yant at fullback, and Whetstone at the quarterback spot.

The game against Concordia Friday night will be played at Dwenger Park in Fort Wayne at 7:30.

Larwill Wins 2nd Game Of Season 5-4 From Cromwell Nine

The Larwill Trojans won a non-county league baseball game Wednesday defeating Cromwell 5-4. It was the second win of the season for the Trojans, who beat Jefferson Center September 8 by a similar score in a county league game.

The Larwill nine waited until the fifth inning to pull the game out of the fire, after they had fallen behind 3-1 when Cromwell scored one run in the first and two more in the first half of the fifth inning. Larwill had also scored one run in the first inning and Cromwell brought another runner across the plate in the first half of the seventh inning.

Coach Roger Zwayer used Pitcher Roger Tuggle all the way in the game with Fred Cornelius behind the plate. Tuggle struck out seven men while issuing three walks and holding the Cromwell nine to eight singles.

Martin went all the way on the mound for the visiting Cromwell team with Archer behind the bat. The visitors committed three errors in the game to help the Larwill cause, although they did complete the only double-play in the game.

Lowell Bennett was the leading hitter for the winning Trojans, getting three hits out of four trips to the plate. Cornelius had a home run in the fifth inning with two men on as he got two of four for the Trojans. Larwill had a total of eight hits.

The umpires were Don Butts and Dale Van Houten.

The Larwill team will play South Whitley Friday night at home while Jefferson Center will travel to Churubusco.

BULLETIN

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) —Joe Campbell, Anderson, Ind., led way into the quarterfinals of the U.S. Amateur golf tourney today when he eliminated Jake Howard, the upset kid from the University of Georgia, 5 and 4.

Wolf Lake Wins First Of Three Final Games 4-0

Wolf Lake Lumber Co. won the first of the three final games with Jackson Township in the Columbia City softball tourney last night at DeVol Field 4-0. The two final games will be played tonight and the championship decided. Wolf Lake shut out the Jackson Township team without a hit.

Hartack Now Has 296 Winners For Year

MAYS LANDING, N.J. (UP) — Willie Hartack increased his advantage over Willie Shoemaker in the national jockey standings Wednesday by riding five winners at Atlantic City. Hartack now has 296 winners for the year, 22 more than Shoemaker.

HUNGARIAN PROBLEM

WASHINGTON—(UP)— Failure to supply the public with enough meat and animal fats is giving Hungarian Communist officials problems with profiteering, the U. S information Agency reports. The shortages have resulted in sales by farmers of meat and meat animals at exorbitant prices, and state quotas are consequently not being met.

Memorial Rites Held For Mrs. Leininger

Memorial services were held at the J. A. DeMoney and Son Funeral Home Monday afternoon for Mrs. Orpha Elizabeth Leininger.

The Rev. Graham L. Kleespie, pastor of the Coesse Lutheran Church officiated at the funeral home rites. Mrs. James Hess sang "Good Night and Good Morning" and "In The Garden" and her organ accompaniment was played by Kenneth Growcock, organist at Grace Lutheran Church. Friends of the Leininger family who served as pallbearers were Frank Wigent, Earl Pettigrew, James Hess, Elmer Fisher, George Wilson and Harmon Auer.

The committal services followed in South Park Cemetery.

Hold Memorial Rites For T. J. Hickman

Memorial services were held at the J. A. DeMoney & Son Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon for Thomas Hickman.

.The Rev. Graham L. Kleespier, pastor of the Coesse Lutheran church,officiated at funeral home rites and the committal services held in Coesse Lutheran Cemetery. Mrs. B. V. Widney played the prelude and postlude on the funeral home organ. Friends and neighbors of the Hickman family who served as pallbearers were Aquilla Marker, Charles Pettigrew, Charles Johnson, Cleon Klingaman, Harold Wood and Raymond Bird.

F. Ralph Smith Dies; Rites To Be Held Saturday Afternoon

Formerly Resided South Of Coesse

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the C. M. Sloan Funeral Home in Fort Wayne for F. Ralph Smith, 60, the father of Roland M. Smith of Big Lake. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery, Fort Wayne.

Friends will be received at the funeral home after 7 o'clock tonight. The death of Mr. Smith occurred Wednesday at the Veterans Administration hospital in Fort Wayne where he was a patient three weeks.

Mr. Smith resided at 1901 Rosemont Drive, Fort Wayne. He resided on the Bass Road south of Coesse from 1933 to 1950. Until he became ill seven months ago, he had been an employe of the General Electric company for 30 years. He was a native of Angola.

Mr. Smith was a member of the Christian church at Dunfee and a member of the General Electric World War Veterans Association; the General Electric Quarter Century club, the American Legion Post 47 at Fort Wayne and the Masonic lodge at Hamilton.

His wife, the former Lura Powers, two sons, Roland M. Smith at Big Lake and Robert P. Smith, Chicago; two brothers, Ben F. Smith, Pleasant Lake, and Leslie, C. Smith, Optima, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Walberry, Spearman, Texas, and Mrs. Hazel Rusterholtz, Sturgis, Mich., and four grandchildren survive.

LESS FORGETFUL

DETROIT —(UP)— The number of motorists locking their keys in their cars dropped in 1954. The American Automobile Club reported its annual survey of emergency calls showed only 717,000 calls for emergency lock and key service compared to 803,000 the year before.

Military Budget Trimmers Face Problem, To Provide Additional Training Facilities

WASHINGTON (UP) — Military budget trimmers face a problem of how to provide one-billion dollars worth of additional training facilities for the new compulsory military reserve program, it was learned today.

"We don't have the dollars to take care of the facilities for NRP (National Reserve Plan)," Roger W. Fulling, director of defense construction, said.

The whopping program to build and expand facilities for training the 2,900,000 man ready reserve force threatens to be a major obstacle for budget planners who are pressed to slash military spending.

The first volunteers under the new six-month training plan for pre-draft age youths start training Oct. 1. after finishing active duty training at regular Army installations, they will go into the ready reserve for 7½ years. The Defense department expects 90,000 in the program by July 1, 1956.

Under this plan, the pre-draft age youth, after beginning his reserve service, must attend 48 drill periods and 17 days of summer training every year, or as an alternative 30 days of summer training a year.

The Pentagon earlier this year asked Congress to authorize a five-year $1,336,000,000 construction program for reserve and National Guard facilities. Congress instead authorized a 250-million dollar, three-year program, and appropriated 10 million dollars for the first fiscal year which ends June 30, 1956.

Fulling said the three-year fund will be exhausted at present rates in less than two years, and the Defense department will be back next year asking for more.

Rites To Be Held Saturday Morning For Arcola Woman

Mrs. Myrta Sitton Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Myrta Sitton, 72, died Wednesday morning at the Cherry Grove Nursing Home in Fort Wayne where she had been a patient since April. She was a life long resident of Arcola. Her husband preceded her in death in 1946.

Surviving are one son Owen of Arcola and a sister Mrs. Gladys Shaffer, Phoenix, Arizona.

The body was taken to the Sonday Funeral Home where services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. with burial in Compton cemetery, Rev. Marion Shroyer officiating.

Friends will be received at the funeral home until the hour of the service.

Houghton Standout In Rangers' Drills

SASKATOON, Sask. (UP) — Rookie defenseman Mid Houghton apparently has won a berth with the New York Ranegrs after two previous trials in the National Hockey League. Houghton has been one of the standouts in the Rangers' early drills.

Adenauer

coalition.

Western diplomats said the Soviet invitation to East Germany to send a delegation there only underlined Moscow's policy of keeping the two Germanys apart. They were stunned by the announcement and called it a "slap in the face" for Adenauer.

The Moscow talks were expected not only to try to give the East Germans credit for the release of German prisoners but to reject Adenauer's claim to speak for all of Germany.

The Neues Deutschland rejected this claim today and took issue with Adenauer's Moscow statement that Germany's boundaries could not be finally determined until a peace treaty is written. Such statements are "meaningless," it said.

Most of the Communist newspaper's dispatches were aimed at undermining Adenauer's Moscow achievements. It took pains to point out that official communiques and letters on the conference mentioned only the restoration of diplomatic relations.

Similar observations were certain to plague Adenauer at home. Several West German newspapers commented on the fact and his political enemies were expected to emphasize this angle. But the West German press comments were generally warmly enthusiastic.

Informed sources in Bonn placed this interpretation on the East German Moscow visit:

1. The Soviets wanted to demonstrate they do not intend to drop their East German satellites despite their new relations with Bonn.
2. The Soviets want to make clear they expect the division of Germany to last for a long time.
3. The Soviets want the East Germans to receive some credit for the prisoners release.

New York Man Is National Commander Of World War I Vets

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Harry J. Millen, Watertown, N.Y., was elected national commander of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. late Wednesday at the close of the group's five-day convention here.

Millen, a retired utility lineman, said he would work to obtain increased federal hospital and medical benefits for World War I veterans.

Harlan W. Barnes, Portland, Ore., was elected senior vice commander. Portland will be host to next year's convention.

Richmond Man Injured Fatally

LIBERTY, Ind. (UP) —James Coyner, 23, near Richmond, was injured fatally late Wednesday when he jumped from the rear of a truck and was struck in mid-air by a freight engine at a private rail crossing near here.

Ironically, the truck beat the Chesapeake and Ohio freight engine across the grade and the driver escaped unhurt. Two men riding with Coyner in the back of the truck also jumped, but were not injured.

Coyner, an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, died shortly after the accident in Rel Memorial Hospital at Richmond

INCOGNITO—Actress Rita Hayworth, who had been traveling under an assumed name, is escorted by an unidentified man from a train in New York City. She is reported to be taking her daughter, Yasmin, to visit the child's father, Aly Kahn. Rita recently left her fourth husband, singer Dick Haymes.

Whitley County REMC Mortgage Burned At Annual Meet Thursday

One of the highlights of the 18th annual meeting of the Whitley County REMC Thursday, along with the election of directors, was the burning of the 19-year-old, $394,000 mortgage of the local member owned organization.

As the huge crowd of attenders chanted "one, two, three- burn" Mark Mowrey turned the switch and dropped the mortgage on a small electric heater, and all watched it go up in smoke. The mortgage was paid off one year ahead of schedule, and since electricity paid back the money, it was considered appropriate to have electricity burn the mortgage.

Nine of the original incorporators were present for the mortgage burning ceremony. They were A. P. Collier, Ralph Wrigley, Allen Crawford, Asa White, Homer Ummel, Sylvester Rouch, Frank Goodrich, Howard Kelsey, and Mark Mowrey, County Agent B. V. Widney was paid special recognition for his "leg work" in getting the original signers. The $394-000 paid for the service installed for the first 1,000 rural consumers in Whitley county.

Election

Following the report of the nominating, headed by Clarence Zeigler with Eldon Bailey secretary, the election of directors was held. Those men elected for three-year terms as directors were: Paul Fry, Smith township; Howard Stoner, Washington; Dee Cormany, Thorncreek, Henry Hilger, Lake and Aboite townships in Allen county; William Holmes, Perry township in Allen county. Mr. Stoner, Mr. Cormany, and Mr. Holmes were re-elected.

In their report, the directors had good news for REMC consumers, in that "during the year past more electricity was sold at a cheaper rate and with more net margin than ever before in the history of the organization".

Safety Awards

Special safety awards were presented during the annual program. Jud Taylor accepted a plaque on behalf of the line crew for having completed 50,000 man hours of work without any lost time due to injuries. Also two nine-year safe driving awards were presented. These awards went to Russell Ray and Elmer Branning for no driving accidents nor time lost.

Fun and frolic session was conducted by Ed Tomlinson, of the Wrought Iron Range Works, of St. Louis, and many games were played.

President Luey Wade called the annual meeting to order at 11:05 a.m. and conducted the business session in the afternoon, prior to adjournment.

Democratic 4th And 5th District Women To Meet

At Marion, Wednesday; Tickets Available

The final arrangements have been announced for the Indiana Democratic Women's Political Conference, to be held all day Wednesday, September 21, at the Marion Hotel in Marion. This meeting is held jointly, with 4th and 5th District Democratic women participating and with registration at 10 a.m.

Promptly at 10:45, Mrs. Lucile Girardot, 4th District Vice-Chairman will introduce Mrs. Inez Scholl, National committeewoman, who will preside as moderator of the morning session.

A special luncheon will be served at noon and a fall Shoe Style Show will be held. During the afternoon, Mrs. Lawrence Arnsman, State Vice-Chairman, will conduct the forum, with responses made by various women of both districts on assigned topics.

Numerous attendance prizes will be awarded and all the Democratic women in Whitley county are urged to attend. A limited supply of luncheon tickets are available and can be reserved by calling Mrs. Hugo Jacobsen, at 199 in Columbia City.

Tri-Lakes Boy, 6, Reported Improving From Serious Burns

Billy Wickliffe, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wickliffe, Tri Lakes, is reported to be "improving" at Whitley County Hospital from second and third degree burns he suffered while playing near the Busco Ready Mix Concrete Plant, Churubusco, September 9. However, hospital officials said that he is expected to be there for at least another week.

According to Mrs. Wickliffe, her son, who enrolled in the first grade at Thorncreek township school this fall, suffered the burns over both legs below the knees. She said that he was playing in what he believed to be a pile of white sand at the plant when he was burned. According to the concrete plant officials, the "pile of sand" was actually hot ashes and residue from old cement bags which had been burned earlier.

Mrs. Wickliffe said that Billy, barefooted and wearing shorts, had gone to the plant with his grandfather, George Galloway, about 6 p.m. to see why an order of cement had not arrived. She said that the Galloways, her parents, are building a home alongside the Wickliffes at Tri Lakes.

The Wickliffe youth under went surgery at the hospital Wednesday for removal of the burned skin from his two legs. Either she or the boy's father William, or Mrs. Galloway has been staying at the hospital with the boy continuously, since he was admitted Friday.

The youth was taken to the hospital by a truck driver from the cement plant, Mrs. Wickliffe said.

Secret Service Agent Sits In The Corridor While David Eisenhower Tackles His Lessons

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—A husky young man who looks more life a prep school coach than a Secret Service agent sat in the corridor of an exclusive private school today while David Eisenhower tackled his lessons.

Most early-grade children only have to cope with their teachers, but President and Mrs. Eisenhower's grandchildren have to bother with guards as well, since federal law requires the Secret Service to protect all members of the immediate family of a president.

The agent, whose collegiate tweed coat conceals both his credentials and his .38-caliber detective special, was set up on a permament basis at a table between the doors of Davids second-grade classroom and the first - grade room of David's sister, Barbara. A telephone on the table was connected to the White House switchboard.

Seven-year-old David began his fall term Thursday at St. Agnes Episcopal School in nearby Alexandria, Va. Barbara, age 6, stayed home, however because of a sore throat.

Minimum Of Disarrangement

The management of the school including Principal Roberta McBride, the Secret Service and the White House press office all combined to agree with the wishes of the President's son that his kids go to school with a minimum of disarrangement.

Guarding presidential families is old stuff to the Secret Service.

Two Local Soldiers Help Fight Forest Fires In California

Two soldiers from this community were among the 500 men from the Presidio of San Francisco, California who were convoyed more than 300 miles to the fire line in the mountainous area near the California - Oregon border to fight fires in the Klamath National Forest.

Army Specialist Third Class Ronald L. Puckett, son of Mrs. Mildred A. Puckett, R 7, and Pvt Donald R. Kreider, son of Albert Kreider, R 1, South Whitley, helped with the fire fighting there.

Pvt. Kreider is a member of the 561st Engineer Company, and Puckett is a mechanic in the engineering company.

Draft Calls Will Double In November

Result Of Navy's Decision To Use Selective Service

WASHINGTON (UP)—Draft calls will jump to 20,000 in November, double the current rate, as a result of the ..ard-pressed Navy's decision to use Selective Service for the first time since World War II.

The Defense Department announced late Thursday that the Navy, unable to keep up its strength with volunteers alone, will draft 10,000 me nin November and a total of 56,000 by next June. The Army will draft its usual 10,000 in November.

Speculation immediately arose as to whether the Air Force, well below authorized manpower, eventually will have to resort to the draft too. A spokesman said, however, that the flying service "has absolutely no plans" for drafting men.

Starting in November, selectees will not know whether they are headed for the sea of ground forces until they are assigned by armed forces examining boards.

The Navy said it would return to voluntar enlistments alone as soon as possible. But the present outlook is for a levy of 10,000 men in Nvember, December, February, March and April and 6000 in May.

Russia Urgently Desires Long Period Of Peace

Says Adenauer After Moscow Talks

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

BONN, Germany (UP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today his Moscow talks convinced him the Soviets urgently desire a long period of peace to enable them to overcome internal problems.

The chancellor appealed to the free world to accept this Soviet need as a "reality."

"It may lead the world on two possible paths," he told a press conference. "It may lead the world to realize that it is better for it to develop peacefully, or it may lead to a return to the old methods.

"But the free world, with all watchfulness and caution, must accept this Soviet need as a reality in world politics."

Adenauer, still showing signs of the strain of five days of bitter negotiations with the Kremlin leaders, appeared before a crowded news conference of more than 300 German and foreign newsmen.

He told the conference hs is convinced the Soviets will carry out their promise to release tens of thousands of Germans still held prisoner in the Soviet Union.

He refused comment on the trip to Moscow today of the East German Communist leaders only 48 hours after he himself left there.

Adenauer made these other points:

1. The Soviets genuinely desire a security system.
2. The Soviets considered acceptance of diplomatic relations a "prestige question." If he had walked out of the Moscow talks without agreeing to diplomatic relations it would have meant abandoning all possibility of getting the prisoners released.
3. Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party leader Nikita Khrushchev gave their "word of honor" before the whole assembled Moscow conference that the prisoners would be released.
4. Establishment or diplomatic relations will enable Bonn to negotiate directly with Moscow on German reunification in addition to negotiations by the Big Four.
5. The Soviets will not abandon their East German satellite.

Trustees, Managers Of Homes For Aged Attend Conference

NORTH MANCHESTER — Trustees and managers of the five homes for the aged that are owned and operated by the Church of the Brethren in the Central Region, will be in attendance at a conference on the Manchester College campus, today and Saturday.

Those attending will be taken on a guided tour through Peabody Memorial Home before this evening's program. At 7:30 p.m. Dr. Morton Leeds, director of the Jewish Home for the Aged in Indianapolis, will give an address entitled, "The Problems of Aging."

Beginning at 8:30 Saturday morning, Miss Opal Stech, head of the department of home economics will discuss diet for older people as it relates to health and temperament. Other subjects in the morning program will be, "What direction should our homes move in the future?"; "The psychology of assessment for support of our homes versus personal solicitations"; "What should be the minimum requirements for admission to our homes?" and "The role of the trustee."

From 1:15 to 2:30 Saturday afternoon, Dr. Alfred Kamm, of the state Division of Health, will discuss "Activities Therapy." The afternoon program will close with a discussion on "The role of the superintendent."

There will be on registration fee and anyone interested in problems of older people and how to adjust to old age, as well as proper institutional care for aged, are given a cordial invitation to attend the sessions.

The Friday evening program will be in the lounge of Calvin Ulrey Hall and the Saturday sessions will be conducted in the social room of the Women's dormitory.

Regional School Officials Meet Here October 5

Administrators Of 15 Counties To Attend State Sponsored Event

Region 2 of the State Superintendent's Meeting for School Administrators will be held at the City Hall in Columbia City on October 5. A similar conference was held here last year.

The featured speaker at the meeting of principals and superintendents of schools in Northeastern Indiana will be Christian H. W. Lucke of Fort Wayne. C Emmet Eiler will serve as chairman of the program, which will include various speakers from the State Department of Public Instruction. Supt. Wilbur Young is scheduled to appear at the meeting.

The regional meetings are sponsored each year throughout the State of Indiana by the superintendent's office. Their purpose is to familiarize educators with current regulations and policies regarding public education in the State. Meetings are held in five other regional areas in the State.

Counties in Region 2 are Adams, Allen, Blackford, DeKalb, Elkhart, Grant, Huntington, Jay, Kosciusko, LaGrange, Noble, Steuben, Wabash, Wells and Whitley.

Arrangements for the meeting here and for local contributions to the program is under the direction of Harry T. Yoder, county superintendent of schools.

8 Jefferson Center 1955 Graduates Are Enrolled In College

Eight students of the 1955 graduating class from Jefferson Center high school are enrolled in colleges or universities, it has been reported by Eudolph Holycross, principal. The number represents exactly one-half of the class of 16 students.

Other members of the class are employed in the area or are in the armed forces, Holycross said.

James J. Harris is taking a pre-medical course at Danville Junior College at Danville, Ill.; Mary Ellen Kelsey is preparing for an elementary teaching career at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie; Rita Kay McNamara is taking a similar course at Indiana University Center in Fort Wayne and John Morris is studying Business Administration at I.U. Center.

Gaylen Ed Smith is also studying Business Administration at DePauw University, Greencastle; Marshall Dunfee and Garland Thompson are enrolled in International Business College in Fort Wayne; and Martha Marie Hasty is in nurses training at Ball Memorial Hospital, Muncie.

Members of the class reported working at jobs in the area are Donald Ray Beard, Harold Fair-Hinen, Thomas Hinen and John Vogely. In service are Gerald Robert Mansdorfer, U.S. Air Force in Texas camp, and Donald Suter, U.S. Signal Corps at Colorado camp.

Other former Jefferson Center students returning to college are Chester Pinkham, Indiana University, pre-medical course; Sharon Mowery; Indiana University, business; Kenneth White, Purdue Center, Fort Wayne, engineering; David Miller, I.U. Center, Fort Mary Ann Hasty, Ball State at Muncie, elementary teaching; and Berniece Gass, St. Francis at Fort Wayne, elementary teaching.

Army, Navy Units Revolt Against President Peron

State Radio Says Revolts Were Crushed

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — Army and navy units revolted against the government of President Juan D. Peron at a number of points throughout Argentina today.

But the state radio said the revolts were crushed. It announced a state of siege had been proclaimed throughout the country.

The government broadcast said there were uprisings by army garrisons at "several interior points," notably at Cordoba and Curuzu-Cuatia in Corrientes Province.

Some naval garrisons also were involved, the broadcast said.

It said loyal troops had smashed a subversive movement by a garrison at Entre Rios Province, which lies north of the Parana River in the northeast. It said 300 men were arrested there.

Newspapers in Cordoba reported an exchange of artillery fire between forces at the artillery and the infantry schools at 3 a.m.

Capital a Military Camp

In Buenos Aires, police mounted guard at dawn at the telephone exchanges and other vital offices throughout the city.

Machine guns were set up at the post office.

Military vehicles and anti-aircraft guns patrolled the streets, and troops unloaded boxes of ammunition from trucks at the Defense Ministry Building which lies opposite the Casa Rosada.

Field guns and anti-aircraft artillery ringed the building.

Despite the intense police and military activity, the center of Buenos Aires otherwise appeared normal as workers poured into the city for work.

The government radio announced at 9:20 a.m. (6:20 a.m. CST) that the "subversive units are swiftly controlled by the national government."

"The subversive movement is under control and is being reduced by loyal forces," the broadcast said.

The state radio said "absolute

Soviet Housing Officials Desire To Visit Fort Wayne

WASHINGTON (UP) — Fort Wayne, Ind., was listed today as among the cities a delegation of 19 Soviet housing officials would like to see on a proposed tour of the United States.

Earl W. Smith, El Cerrito, Calif., president of the National Association of Home Builders, said he was informed by the Soviet embassy that the group of Russians plans to arrive in New York Oct. 2 to begin a four-week tour.

The State Department said it would give the Soviets entry permits if the Russians are official representatives.

Other cities to be visited include New York, Boston, New Orleans, Austin and Tyler, Tex., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Tucson, Ariz., Seattle, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

Hurricane Ione Has Destructive 90 MPH Winds

Coastal Residents From Florida To North Carolina Warned

MIAMI (UP)— Hurricane Ione, its winds up to a destructive 90 miles an hour, pounded through the Atlantic in the direction of the U.S. mainland today only 650 miles east of Miami.

Coastal residents from Florida to North Carolina were cautioned that the storm might hit somewhere in the area before the weekend has passed.

The year's ninth tropical storm was by far the most serious threat of the two hurricanes on the prowl at the moment. Hilda hit the Yucatan peninsula this morning but with winds scarcely of hurricane force.

Ione was headed in a west-northwesterly direction at 12 miles an hour. Its power had built up gradually during the last two days —from 60, to 70, to 80 and by noon EDT today to 90 miles an hour.

At that hour Ione was about 480 miles east of Nassau in the Bahamas.

The Miami Weather Bureau said that "before the weekend is over" the U.S. mainland at some point between North Carolina and Florida might be smacked by the big blow.

Tax Rate Advertised For Richland Township Was In Error By $1

The total property tax figure for Richland township as it appeared Wednesday in the legal advertisement showing the tax rates to be charged is $1 less than it should be, it has been pointed out by Raymond Rloph, county auditor.

Eloph said that an error at his office caused the figure to be printed as $2.96, whereas it should be $3.96. The tax rates shown for the individual items for Richland township are correct; only the total figure appeared incorrectly.

Roman Catholic Priest, Student Are Released

Under Terms Of Agreement Reached In Geneva Talks

HONG KONG (UP)—Communist China freed two American civilians today, one a Roman Catholic priest held in solitary confinement the last six weeks, another a student who said he was a "spy."

They were the first of 41 U.S. citizens to be released by the Peiping government under terms of an agreement reached in Geneva talks between U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors.

Those released today:

The very Rev. Harold W. Rigney of Chicago, the Catholic priest who hinted the Communists tried to reeducate him while he was in jail.

Walter A. Rickett of Seattle, Wash., who said he had "spied' for American, Dutch and British groups before he was sentenced to a 6-year prison term.

Wife Released Earlier

Rickett's wife, Adle, was released by the Communists last Feb. 27. She arrived singing the praises of Communist China and said she, too, had been a "spy."

Rickett, faced by a battery of newsmen and photographers after his release, was asked pointblank, "Are you a spy?"

"Well, I collected information for the American consulate and other organizations," he said.

He added in an undertone, "Therefore I am a spy."

Asked if he had been "indoctrinated" by the Chinese Communists Rickett hesitated and asked that the question be changed to were you "educated."

Rickett said he had been in contact with another American, Miss Harriet Mills of New York.

"She is in excellent health and will be released soon," Rickett said.

Appeared In Good Health

Rickett, dressed in tan slacks and sport shirt, appeared in fairly good health. Rigney wore a gray suit, open neck shirt and a tropical pith helmett.

"I waited two years and two months for this day," the priest said.

The priest told newsmen the Communists informed him last Sunday he would be released. Rigney said a Chinese judge asked him what he was going to do and he said he replied he was "going to get my teeth fixed and apply for an exit permit."

Rickett and Rigney were among 10 American civilians whose prison terms were shortened by the Communists so they could be released under the agreement reached by U.S. ambassador U Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan in negotiations at Geneva.

State Health Officials Consign 44,064 Doses Of Salk Polio Vaccine To Commercial Use

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana health officials today consigned 44,064 doses of Salk polio vaccine to commercial use and predicted all children 5 to 9 can be inoculated within two months.

This new vaccine allotment will be part of a free-or-pay plan under which Hoosier parents can decide whether to pay for the vaccine themselves or let the state or federal governments buy it for them.

Dr. Bertram Groesbeck, Jr., state health director, and Dr. A.C. Offutt, state health commissioner, held a news conference today to "clarify" the vaccine situation.

Groesbeck predicted the supply of vaccine will increase substantially so that all children 5 to 9 can receive two inoculations within two months and the age base can be broadened thereafter.

Says "Handout" Resented

He emphasized that the National Polio Foundation program of free shots for first and second graders will be completed soon throughout the state. Some counties already have given the second shot and others plan to administer it in the months ahead.

Groesbeck figured that will leave 191,000 children in the 5-to-9 bracket who have not received shots. For them, parents must obtain shots through family physicians and individually decide whether they want to pay for the shot or receive a free one.

"There is a large amount of the population who resent a handout and would prefer to buy the vaccine themselves," Groesbeck said. "So it would be ridiculous for the state to buy up all it could get and make people take something they don't want."

Indiana's plan, which probably will receive federal approval soon, is this:

Jefferson Center Boys Attend Farming Event Near Wabash

Twenty-two boys in the Jefferson Center high school vocational agriculture department and members of the Future Farmers of America chapter attended the opening day of the National Conservation Days near Wabash Wednesday.

The boys visited the many machinery displays, toured the five-mile soil conservation service exhibition, and witnessed the construction of farm ponds, on the spot operation of clearing land with bulldozers, operation of deep tillage tools, demonstration of sub soil fertilization, strip cropping, and contour farming.

The group was driven to the event by two adult farmers, Coral Platter and Clifford Esterline, and the vocational agriculture instructor, Gerald Wallace.

Constitution Week

The Colonel Augustin de la Balme Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution has loaned a copy of the organization magazine in which the President General, Mrs. Gertrude S. Carraway asks all members to call attention to Constitution week, September 17 to 23.

She says "Despite possible failings and shortcomings, for no government, no person, is perfect, our Nation is the finest on earth, with more freedoms, opportunities and advantages than in any other land.

Here we have greater blessings, with higher standards of living, than anywhere else in all history. As we have enjoyed these benefits, so it is our mission to see that they are preserved for later generations."

"Our constitution is not just a Bill of Rights, significant as they are. It is also a Bill of Obligations. William Tyler Page in The American's Creed, said 'It is My duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its Flag, and to defend it against all enemies.'"

Nor is our Constitution merely a Bill of Sale Its a Contract, which binds citizens as well as the Government to its support.

During Constitution Week especially we should rededicate ourselves to the funfamental principles of our Founding Fathers—their valor, virtue, devotion to duty, belief in God, the God-given rights of man, and the vital necessity for human morality.

Today our Constitutional Republic is seriously threatened, from within as well as from without our borders. We must be internally strong through patriotic education, well informed on current trends, active as good citizens and as promoters of good citizenship among others, and intensely zealous to help preserve our American Way of Life.

So long as glows our flame of freedom in "This Nation under God," with patriotic service on the part of our citizens, it will be a shining beacon to all liberty-loving peoples everywhere.

The spirit of Americanism can pierce even an Iron Curtain. It is the hope of the world.

Mrs. Desse Forney, Chester Motz Married In Baptist Rites

In simple church rites performed Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock at the First Baptist church in this city, occurred the wedding of Mrs. Desse Gardner Forney, Columbia City, and Chester C. Motz, retired farmer of Allen county.

The Rev. Dale T. Heinbaugh, pastor of the church, read the ceremony using the single-ring ceremony. The program of nuptial music played by Miss Judy Fisher, the church organist, included "Indian Love Call," "Because," "I Love You Truly," and the traditional wedding march, the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin.

Yellow gladiolus decorated the altar.

The bride was in an afternoon dress of aqua silk crepe with which she wore a corsage of pink roses.

Only members of the two immediate families and a few close friends were present.

After the ceremony, a dinner was served in Fort Wayne at the home of Mr. Motz's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Calir Motz. Covers were laid for 11 at a candlelighted lace covered table.

Roses in varied hues marked the center of the table enhanced with a large wedding cake. After a trip to Niagra Falls and Canada, the couple will be at home on the bridegroom's farm near Fort Wayne.

Mr. Motz is a representative of the Modern Woodman Life Insurance Company.

Baptist Women At Thorncreek Meet Wednesday; Plan Work

Mrs. Richard Dickerson was hostess Wednesday for a meeting of the Aid Society of the Thorncreek Baptist church. The church women have made plans for a bazaar to be held in November at the home of one of the members of the society.

The morning was spent in making hot pads. Mrs. Dickerson and Mrs. David Johnson were in charge of the devotional period. A dinner at noon was enjoyed by seven members.

The next meeting of the society will be held with Mrs. James Berry in Fort Wayne.

District Meeting Of Rebekahs In January At South Whitley

Eel River Valley lodge of the Rebekah Order at South Whitley will be hostess for a district meeting of the Rebekah Order next January. Hope lodge at New Haven was hostess for a district meeting Saturday, when Mrs. Elizabeth Blaine of South Whitley was elected district president, and Mrs. Jacob Hile of this city was elected district secretary.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Irene Hoacker, Fort Wayne, vice-president and Mrs. Florence Norris, Fort Wayne, treasurer, Eel River Valley lodge received the flag for the highest average in attendance and Fort Wayne lodge received the banner for the largest gain in membership.

Hope Lodge at New Haven received the certificate of perfection. The lodge in East Chicago gave the degree work. One hundred and thirty-two members of the order in the district attended the meeting and 19 visitors outside the district were present.

Class Of 1949 At Wolf Lake Holds Its Sixth Reunion

Members of the class of 1949 of Wolf Lake high school were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burnworth, northwest of Wolf Lake, Sunday. It was the sixth consecutive time members of the class have been together since graduation.

Visiting with former classmates and their families and games followed the picnic dinner.

Those present besides the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McLallin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Phipps and daughter of Kimmell; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ott and family, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dunfee and son of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cullers and family of North Manchester, and Mrs. David Coleman and family of Goshen.

Agent

During the tnure of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, gun-carrying Secret Service agents went to school with the male members of the immediate family. One agent was an auditory student while Franklin Jr. studied law at the University of Virginia.

Even Went Abroad

Agents also protected Margaret Truman when her father was president, even accompanying her to Europe.

The instant Mr. Eisenhower became president, it was the duty of the Secret Service to keep close tabs on members of his family. The President's brothers do not rate federal protection because they are adults and considered to be able to take care of themselves.

The grandchildren of any president, however, are regarded by the federal police as possible prime game for kidnapers. Consequently, the children of a president's son and daughter are watched almost as carefully as the chief executive, himself.

The school selected for David and Barbara Ann is a 16-acre private establishment owned by the local Episcopal diocese and located not far from Ft. Belvoir where Major Eisenhower has been stationed since his early - summer transfer from Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.

Peron

calm" prevails at all garrisons loyal to the government. It asked that the public remain calm.

Cordoba, mentioned by the radio, is the capital of the province of the same name. It is about 300 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Curuzu-Cuatia, a town of about 15,000, is a farming center some 300 miles north of Buenos Aires. It is the site of an airport.

The revolt came three months to the day after the abortive navy-led June 16 rebellion against Peron. That revolt was put down with heavy loss of life.

Reliable sources reported earlier that loyal forces had uncovered a "subversive plot" in Buenos Aires and arrested its leaders before the rebels could carry out their pre-dawn strike.

Military cars streaked through the streets of Buenos Aires in the pre-dawn hours and rounded up many of the plotters before they could strike.

The number of arrested in Buenos Aires was believed to exceed 100.

Authoritative sources said 50 suspected plotters were arrested near the Puerto Nuevo Naval Base which figured in the June 16 revolt. All of the plotters were armed with pistols and one man carried a machinegun.

At least 17 carloads of other suspects were reported picked up in other parts of the capital. All of the rebels were said to have been armed.

Informed sources said the conspirators admitted they had planned to seize the arsenal at Puerto Nuevo in a major effort to wrest control of the nation from Peron.

Some of those arrested were military officers.

It was the third reported plot against Peron since the June 16 navy-led revolt. On Aug. 15, federal police announced they had foiled a plot to assassinate Peron and top government and military leaders. Some 200 members of opposition elements were reported arrested.

Earlier this month, five high army officers, including Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Videla Balaguer, were accused of conspiring against Peron.

Dulles Returns To Tough Schedule

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles comes home from a Canadian vacation today to one of the toughest diplomatic schedules an American secretary of state ever faced.

The secretary and his wife have been spending the past two weeks at their Duck Island, Lake Ontario, lodge and were due back in Washington "late today."

Dulles will spend Saturday and Sunday at his office catching up on the world's latest diplomatic developments, making overdue decisions, and putting the finishing touches to a speech he will deliver Monday before the United Nations General Assembly at New York.

He will fly back to Washington Thursday or Friday to prepare for an American-Australian-New Zealand Defense Council meeting on Saturday, Sept. 24.

Truman Sends Telegram To L.A.

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Former President Truman urged Democrats today to beat the Republicans in 1956 "by simply telling the truth" to halt GOP cuts in national defense appropriations.

Mr. Truman, in a telegram sent Thursday night to the Democratic National Committee's $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner here, said he had been "disturbed for some time by the present administration's policy of scrimping on national defense...to hold down expenditures."

Bulganin Quite Sick, Not Dangerously Ill

MOSCOW (UP)—Former Finnish Foreign Minister Reinhold Svento said today Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin is "quite sick but not dangerously ill."

Svento participated today in the first meeting of the current Finnish-Soviet talks and said afterwards he was told about Bulganin's state of health by the Russians.

The Soviet was represented by President Klement Voroshilov, Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, First Deputy Prime Minister Mikhail Pervuchin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev.

Bulganin was absent. He excused himself Thursday due to his illness from receiving Finnish Premier Urho K. Kekkonen when the Finns arrived from Helsinki.

Bulganin's illness was reported Thursday by the official Soviet news agency Tass though later Moscow Radio referred to Bulganin's "indisposition."

Tass gave no further details but informed sources said the 60-year-old marshal had been suffering headaches for several days.

Hullinger Wins 1st Place, Hoosier Hot Rods End Warsaw Season; Banquet September 29

Jimmy Hullinger, Bunker Hill, was the winning driver Wednesday night at Warsaw Speedway as the Hoosier Hot Rods, Inc. ended its regular season of stock car racing at the track. Hullinger won the third-heat and feature races to end the season with a total of 177 points and qualify for the first-place trophy.

He will receive the trophy at a banquet sponsored by the racing organization the evening of September 29 at the American Legion Home. C. E. Gibson, Columbia City, president of Hoosier Hot Rods, Inc., will also present trophies to drivers winning the other four places in total points for the season.

Bob Staley and Archie Holle, Warsaw, tied for second place with 169 points each; fourth place was won by Arden Leiter, Pierceton, with 93 points, and fifth place went to Gale Smith, Columbia City, who finished with 81 points.

The winners Wednesday night were first heat: Kenneth Leiter, Etna Green; Dick Parker, Columbia City; and John Fike, Wabash; second heat: Moe Brewer, Wabash; Rollin Smith, North Manchester; and Cecil Huntley, Columbia City; third heat: Hullinger; "Wheaties" Smith, Warsaw, and Claude Everingham, New Paris; fourth heat (jalopies): Paul Michaels, Carl Secrist and Dick Leiter; six fastest qualifiers: Everingham, Holle and Rollin Smith;

Consolation race: Staley, Arden Leiter, Charlie Howell, Wabash; Steve Osbun, Warsaw; and Bob Tucker, Wabash; feature: Hullinger, Staley, Everingham, Holle, Howell, Arden Leiter, Rollin Smith, Gale Smith, Jake Burtsfield, and Tucker. In a 20-lap jalopy race, LaMarr Secrist with Dick Leiter and Bud Gullett finishing second and third. Two trophies were awarded for the race. Trophies were also swarded to 15 finishers in the 50-lap feature race.

While winning two races and the track championship for total points for the season, Hullinger also had a near-record qualifying time of 18.29 for one lap. Gale Smith holds the track record of 18.28 seconds.

Although Wednesday night's races officially ended the stock car racing season for the Hoosier Hot Rods, Inc., officials said that an open-competition race will be held at the speedway within two weeks, if weather permits. The race will be open to any type of car which is entered.

Pepper Martin Will Be A Coach For Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (UP)—Pepper Martin one-time base-stealing star of the St. Louis Cardinals' "Gas House Gang," will be a coach on the Chicago Cubs next season.

Martin is managing the Cubs' farm team at Des Moines, Iowa, in the Western League, which is now competing in the playoffs. Earlier in the year he managed the Cub farm at Macon.

Bears Throttle Cleveland Browns In 24-21 Victory

By UNITED PRESS

Otto Graham's finding the range but the Cleveland Browns' offensive is still sputtering.

The brilliant quarterback who led the Browns to five pro football world titles and recently answered Coach Paul Brown's emergency call to come out of retirement, sparked Cleveland to a 21-7 halftime lead over the Chicago Bears Thursday night. He completed four of eight passes for 102 yards, passed for one touchdown and ran 14 yards for another.

But the Bears throttled Otto and Cleveland's ground game in the second half and scored a 24-21 victory on George Blanda's nine-yard field goal in the fourth period. Graham completed only two passes in the second half — both in the final 75 seconds.

Ed Brown starred for the Bears before a home crowd of 43,067, completing 13 of 21 passes for 169 yards and two touchdowns.

At San Francisco, meanwhile, the Forty-Niners cut halfbacks Bobby White and Frank DiPietro and linebacker Carl Brettschneider from their regular roster. The moves cut San Francisco's roster to 35 players — a total it can carry for the first two games of the National Football League season.

The Green Bay Packers revealed that former Wisconsin end Fred Temp has reported to the Army at Fort Eustis, Va., for induction but said there was a chance he would be allowed to play the season before he is called to active duty.

Ulcer-Producing Pennant Chase Resumes Tonight

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The American League's ulcer-producing flag chase resumes tonight with the front-running Cleveland Indians facing the league's hottest pitcher in Detroit's Billy Hoeft and the New York Yankees jousting with the circuits most dangerous hitter in Boston's Ted Williams.

Rated 3-2 favorites to win the pennant on the basis of their current one-game margin and an easier schedule in the final week of the campaign, the Indians nevertheless could drop out of first place if they lose tonight.

The Yankees could then go ahead by beating the Red Sox with a .614 percentage compared to the Indians' .612 mark.

Wynn Against Hoeft

Manager Al Lopez selected Early Wynn, a 35-year old right-hander with a 16-10 record to face the brilliant Hoeft, a 23-year-old southpaw. Hoeft has a 16-7 record and leads the majors with seven shutouts.

Manager Casey Stengel, who thinks his Yankees can win all 10 of their remaining games, chose 17-game winner Whitey Ford to face posed by Frank Sullivan, an 18-game winner.

The Yankees' big worry as they enter the series is controlling the great Williams. It's a job they've accomplished fairly well so far—he's hitting .333 against them but has driven in only three runs and hit just one homer in six games.

Following this three-game series with Detroit, the Indians play the White Sox twice and then wind up the campaign against the Tigers at Detroit. The Yankees have three games with the Washington Senators and four at Boston with the Red Sox left after the sequence beginning tonight.

Buckled Before Spurts

It was only in the last two weeks buckled in the face of twin drives by Cleveland and New York — a .765 spurt (13-4) by the Indians and a .714 pace (10-4) by the Yankees. The White Sox, who play the Kansas City Athletics tonight, still have a faint mathematical chance in the event of a total collapse by the two leaders but the Red Sox are definitely out of it.

In the National League, meanwhile, the champion Brooklyn Dodgers returned to New York for a "homecoming parade" today feeling anything but invincible.

They completed their final Western swing of the year Thursday by dropping their fifth in a row—a 3-2 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in 12 innings in the only game played in the majors.

UCLA Meets Texas A & M To Inaugurate Country's Big 1955 Gridiron Season Tonight

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

UCLA, the nation's No. 1 college football team last year and a contender for the same title again this year, inaugurates the Country's 1955 gridiron season tonight by meeting upset-minded Texas A & M under the lights at Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

Several other smaller games also will be played tonight and then the pigskin really starts bouncing Saturday with almost a full schedule of games.

UCLA, sparked by All-America candidate Bob Davenport at fullback, heads into its opening game a 14-point favorite to score its 14th straight victory. The Bruins won all nine of their games last year and the Pacific Coast Conference championship, but weren't eligible to go to the Rose Bowl.

The Bruins have lost several fine linemen, including All - America Jack Ellena, from the team rated the nation's best last year by the United Press Board of Coaches. Coach Henry (Red) Sanders insists he's rebuilding, but the word is out that the Bruins are ready.

Not Too Highly Rated

Texas A & M, not rated too highly in its own Southwest Conference, has a sophomore-studded squad that Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant says has at last got the hang of his split-T offense. The Aggies were the last team to beat a Sanders-coached UCLA squad in an opener, turning the trick by 21-14 in 1951, but they're not expected to do it again.

Other games o ntonight's starlight program include Catawba-Davidson, Drake-North Dakota State, and Utah State-San Jose State.

Then, without even waiting for the American League to settle that wild pennant race, the punters, plungers, and passers start going all out Saturday in a heavy slate of games that includes an interesting nationally-televised clash between Miami (Fla.) and Georgia Tech.

This opening TV presentation marks a milestone in such events, for it will be the first color telecast of a college football game. If you're one of those rare lucky persons with a color TV set, you're due for a dazling eyeful as the gold, green, and orange-clad players battle on the greensfield and pretty cheerleaders whoop it up.

If yours is a black-and-white set you'll have to settle for what figures to be a whale of a ball game. These could be the two strongest teams in the Southeast section of the nation and the odds-makers are calling it strictly even money.

Second Game At Night

Incidentally, the Miami-Georgia Tech struggle is the day half of a unique day-night doubleheader on the same field. At night, Mississippi and Georgia, both contenders for the Southeastern Conference crown, collide and the odds-men believe that will be a battle, too, for they rate Mississippi just a one-point favorite.

As usual at this time of year, the schedule Saturday will be heavily loaded with intersectional games.

In some of the best of these, Pittsburgh is favored by six points over California, Iowa State by six over Denver, Kansas State by seven over Wyoming, Maryland by 20 over Missouri, Texas Christian by 20 over Kansas, and Oregon State by 19 over BrighamYoung.

The Pacific Coast Confernce competition opens with Southern California favored by 19 over Washington State and Washington by 14 over Idaho.

Top non-league night games in the Southwest finds Texas favored by seven over Texas Tech and Baylor by 20 over Hardin-Simmons.

Wolf Lake Wins Area Softball Tourney, Beating Jackson 4-1

The Wolf Lake Lumber Co. team won the Columbia City softball tourney Thursday night by defeating Jackson Township 4-1 at DeVol Field. Both teams were presented trophies by Roy Kilby, promoter of the tournament.

The victory by the Wolf Lake team allowed them to end the season with 41 victories and only three losses.

Charles Geiger and Vern Gaff were the winning pitchers for Wolf Lake. Gaff came into the game in the fifth inning when Geiger had difficulty and set the Jackson team down without a hit the rest of the way. The good relief job by Gaff brought the total innings in which he failed to give up a hit to 10. Wolf Lake's Wysong had a home run in the first of the seventh inning.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (UP) — Broadway bookmakers have discarded one of their most time-honored axims: Notre Dame and the New York Yankees.' They're betting against League pennant race.

In their latest odds, the bookies are pegging the Cleveland Indians as "7-8" picks to win th flag. This means a bettor favoring the Indians must give the bookie 8-5 odds while a Yankee backer could get only 7-5.

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UP) — Trainer Charley Goldman denied emphatically today that Rocky Marciano is "stale," but the champ appeared far off form in his latest workout.

Perhaps it was merely a one-day lapse, but Rocky looked surprisingly lethargic and futile in the four rounds he sparred Thursday in preparation for Tuesday's defense against Archie Moore.

With no sparring session scheduled for today, Rocky rested at his training cottage. He agreed with Goldman and said, "I feel swell.'

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (UP) — Archie Moore has his plans all set for celebrating if he beats Rocky Marciano and wins the heavyweight championship next Tuesday.

Moore announced today he will hold a "victory party" in New York after the bout and he also has signed for a six-week "victory tour" with a dance band.

Frankie Ryff 9-5 Favorite Over Joey Lopes

DETROIT (UP)—Frankie Ryff, who boasts he can beat any lightweight in the world, ruled as a 9 to 5 favorite today over Joey Lopes for tonight's 10-round nationally televised bout at Olympia.

Ryff, a hard - punching New Yorker who earned the Boxing Writers Association's "rookie of the year" award last year, has suffered only one loss in his brief but brilliant career.

That loss was a close decision to Ralph Dupas earlier this year at New Orleans in Ryff's first fight away from his native New York. But the 23-year-old frankie isn't superstitious about tonights match with Lopes although its his second "road" bout.

Ryff ranks fourth among the contenders for Wallace (Bud) Smith's 135-pound title and considers the bout with the eighth-ranking Lopes as a stepping-stone to an early match with champion Smith.

Lopes, 25-year-old native of Portugal's Cape Verde Islands, has been fighting for pay since 1949, except for a two-year hitch in the Army during which he served as a boxing instructor. His overall pro record shows 33 victories in 41 bouts.

Rodney Dee Brodie Has 4th Birthday

CHICAGO (UP)—Rodney Dee Brodie, first head-joined Siamese twin to survive separation, celebrates his fourth birthday today.

Rodney 'is as excited as can be,' nurses and doctors at the Illinois Research and educational Hospital said.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie of Ferris, Ill., will help Rodney celebrate.

Rodney was separated from his twin brother, Roger Lee, on Dec. 17, 1953, in a history-making operation at the hospital. Roger died a month later without recovering consciousness.

It was feared in May that Rodney would die when he suffered a cranial hemorrhage at his home. He was brought back to the hospital where he has been under observation.

Rodney apparently has fully recovered from the hemorrhage but doctors never were able to deter nine he cause of it.

He is now a "very normal four-year-old," according to doctors "and sassy as can be at times."

Outstanding Foreign Runners To Compete In U. S. Indoor Track

NEW YORK (UP) — Six outstanding foreign distance runners have been invited to compete in the United States' indoor track season this winter, the National Amateur Athletic Union announced today.

The six are four-minute milers Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson of Britain, record-breaking Sandor Iharos of Hungary, Vladimir Kuts of Russia, Roger Moens of Belgium, and Jerzy Chromich of Poland. The AAU said it did not know whether any of the six would accept the invitation.

Three Players Expect To Join Red Sox

NEW YORK (UP) —Three players recalled from Louisville of the American Association were expected to join the Boston Red Sox today in time for tonight's game against the New York Yankees.

The players were third baseman Frank Malzone, who batted .310 for Louisville; first baseman Dick Gernert, who played for the Red Sox in 1952-53-54; and catcher Haywood Sullivan, who returned to baseball this year from the service.

It takes plenty of big, full heads of wheat or barley to make profitable yields, when growing costs eat up 15 to 20 bushels per acre. Many Midwest growers make big profits on grain by using ARCADIAN 12-12-12 to turn out 40, 50 and even 60-bushel yields. Here's how it's done:

Full-feed your wheat this fall with 400 to 600 pounds of ARCADIAN 12-12-12 per acre drilled in at seeding. Free-flowing ARCADIAN 12-12-12 spreads easily, dissolves quickly in the soil, feeds your fall grain fast and full-feeds it right through to ripening a big crop. Use ARCADIAN 12-12-12 now to supply all the nitrogen, phosphorus and potash your crop needs for a strong start, good wintering over, and big yields of plump grain.

East German Delegation Arrives In Moscow Today To Discredit Adenauer And Widen Split Of Germany

By KENNETH BRODNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP) — The Communist East German delegation arrived today for a conference aimed at discrediting West German Konrad Adenauer and widening the split of Germany.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin, who is ill, was not at the airport to welcome the Germans, but the greeting by other Soviet leaders matched the pomp and circumstance afforded Adenauer on his visit to Moscow last week.

The East Germans, lead by Premier Otto Grotewohl, were met by Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev, Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov, First Deputy Premiers Lazar Kaganovich, M.G. Pervukhin, and Powers Stations Minister Georgi Malenkov.

Grotewohl, in a brief speech of greetings from "the entire German people," called for a collective security system in Eruope and the reunification of Germany in order to make a German peace treaty "possible in the foreseeable future."

Second Phase of Strategy

Grotewohl's arrival marked the second phase of the developing Soviet strategy on Germany. Western observers now regard this strategy as one designed to seal the division of Germany for years to come, and to reduce Adenauer and the agreement made with him to a secondary position.

The observers believe the Soviets plan to hammer home both to the Communist world and to the West that Adenauer does not speak for all of Germany, in the Soviet view.

The Soviets delivered a stinging rebuff to Adenauer Thursday night when they bluntly contradicted his claim to speak for all of Germany and his assertion that only a peace treaty can fix the final frontiers of Germany.

Informed sources said the Soviets also intended to give full credit to the East German delegation headed by Premier Otto Grotewohl for the release of German war prisoners. Adenauer announced Tuesday he had won the promise in four days of hard bargaining.

Agreement Made Tuesday

Adenauer said Bulganin and Communist Party chief Nikita Khrushchev told him Tuesday the Soviet Union would release all German war prisoners currently held in the Soviet Union. This was a price he had demanded for establishment of diplomatic ties.

Announcement of their verbal promise was widely hailed in the Western world as a victory for Adenauer. But the sudden switch which brought the East Germans to Moscow was seen as a resounding slap in the face for the 79-year-old chancellor.

Not Part Of Bargain

Western observers here said the Soviets would likely dress up the release of the prisoners as an act of clemency following appeals from East Germany — not as part of a bargain made with Adenauer.

Such a move, observers said, would not only discredit Adenauer —at least in the eyes of the Communist world — but would give an intense stimulus to the East German government.

The impending double take was considered a switch from the "love everybody" policy which the Soviet has pursued since the Geneva Summit Conference last July, and the sources predicted it may bring forth considerable criticism from the West.

Proclamation

Designating September 17-23, 1955, as Constitutional Week.

Whereas, the basic need in our Nation today is the preservation of Constitutional Government; and

Whereas, in order to protect our priceless heritage under our unique form of government, it is essential to support our Constitution, "The most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man"; and

Whereas, for its proper support, it is necessary that our citizens understand its provisions and principles and appreciate its values and benefits as "The greatest document for human liberty in two thousand years of recorded history"; and

Whereas, the Daughters of the American Revolution are sponsoring the observance of Constitution Week September 17-23, 1955, in commemoration of the 168th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution;

Now, Therefore, I, Thomas H. Hood, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Columbia City, in the State of Indiana, do hereby proclaim the week of September 17-23, 1955, as constitution week in the city and urge all our citizens to pay special attendtion during that week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American citizenship, flying United States Flags at their businesses and homes and especially emphasizing the purposes of Good Government as set forth in the Constitution's Preamble and the duty of all persons in our Republic to protect our Constitution and the freedoms in its Bill of Rights, so that it may continue to protect us and our posterity in "This Nation under God."

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Columbia City to be affixed at Columbia City, Indiana the 14th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and eightieth.

Old Paper Gives School Enrollment Figures Of 1915

An article published in the September 15, 1915 local newspaper states that "County Superintendent A. R. Fleck is very well pleased with the enrollment of several of the high schools in the county."

"There are fifty in attendance at Larwill; forty-two at Washington Center, one hundred at South Whitley and ninty-three at Churubusco."

Enrollment figures for 1955 for the same high schools are: Larwill 140; Washington Center 100 students, who this year started attending the Columbia City Joint High School; South Whitley 162 and Churubusco 197.

"The new law, passed about two years ago, (In 1913) that compels all under sixteen, instead of fourteen, to attend school, is proving to be a wonderful builder of the high schools."

Leader Touches Off Democratic Get-Tough Policy

Charges President Is Political Freak

By DOUGLAS DILTZ
United Press Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader touched off a Democratic get-tough policy today with a charge that President Eisenhower is "a political freak . . . who has enjoyed a tenderness of approach that is unique in America's political history."

The Pennsylvania Democrat, in slashing criticism of the President remininscent of ex-President Truman's "give 'em hell' speeches, declared here Thursday night that Democrats no longer will use the "soft" approach to the President.

"Even George Washington enjoyed no such protection in press and politics," said Leader, who is substituting for the ailing Mr. Truman in addresses here and San Francisco at $100-a-plate Democratic rallies.

"Skilled and seasoned politicians obviously have been in grave doubt as to how they should grapple with such a political freak," Leader declared.

The governor said he was convinced Mr. Eisenhower would be chosen by the GOP to run again for president and added that Democrats, in campaigning against him this time, would drop the "soft" approach Mr. Eisenhower previously enjoyed.

"Dwight Eisenhower is no constitutional monarch, a symbol of state removed from party contention," the governor said. "He is a Republican partisan president . . . and he should be so recognized and treated.

He made no reference in Thursday night's fiery speech to "underworld" influences in the GOP as he did in San Francisco the night previous, setting off the verbal political battles to the forthcoming presidential election. Leader said a "hard ugly underworld" in the GOP is influencing the Eisenhower administration.

Salk Vaccine

Druggists to Doctors

As vaccine is allotted to Indiana in the future, Groesbeck and his vaccine advisory committee will determine what demand there is for free inoculations and how many parents want to pay to have their children vaccinated.

for those who want to pay, the state will release vaccine into commercial channels, like the 44,064 doses freed today. That will go to pharmacists who in turn will distribute it to doctors.

For those who want free shots, Indiana will purchase the vaccine with part of a $640,000 federal allotment and make it available to doctors whose patients ask for free inoculation.

In addition, through its normal state welfare program, Indiana itself purchased 18,000 doses for indigent children and distribution of that already has started.

To Broaden Age Group

Groesbeck said the federal allotment, which must be used by next Feb. 15, would buy about 700,000 shots. Obviously, he said, there will not be demand for that many free shots in the 5-to-9 age group.

He predicted that within a few months, federal officials will broaden the age group, perhaps allowing vaccine to all children aged 2 to 12 and to pregnant women. Then more of the federal monies will be used to buy free vaccine for those who want it.

With today's allotment, almost 154,000 doses of vaccine have been consigned to commercial use in Indiana. Of that total, 84,174 CC's have been delivered.

Groesbeck said distribution is closely matched to density of population. To date, northern Indiana, with 29 per cent of the population, has received about 99 per cent of the commercial vaccine, and the other areas: east, 17 per cent of the commercial vaccine.

TORTURE BOX—A U.S. airman, wearing only shorts and boots, is pressed into a torture box at Stead Air Force Base, Nevada, as part of a course designed to harden servicemen to Communist "brainwashing" techniques. The wooden coffin-like box, 16-inches wide and deep, is too short and shallow to allow either standing or sitting; and after hours of confinement GI's tumble out like footballs. After Newsweek Magazine published an article describing the will-breaking devices used in the school's 17-day course, the Air Force instituted a check to see if the course was too realistic.

Civilian Pilot Strides Across The Border Into Hong Kong Today

Wave Of Terror Sweeps Morocco In Protest Against French Delay

PARIS (UP)—A wave of terrorism swept Morocco in protest against the French delay on a solution to the crisis and French Resident General Pierre Boyer de Latour du Moulin hastened to Paris today to help overcome an 11th hour obstacle to the peace plan.

The precarious calm which has existed since the bloody August riots which claimed over 2,000 lives in North Africa was shattered Friday. Three persons were killed and 20 wounded in shooting and bombing attacks by terrorists in the protectorate.

Premier Edgar Faure - Summoned de Latour to sit in on urgent talks aimed at selecting a "council of the throne," to succeed Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa in the first step toward granting home-rule to Morocco.

De Latour made an unscheduled call on the sultan in his green and cream imperial palace in Rabat before taking off by plane for Paris.

Crux of the latest threat to Faure's peace plan was the composition of the throne council. Moroccan Nationalists flatly refused to accept as a member an anti-nationalist cohort of the Pasha of Marrakesh, Si Hadj Thami El Glaoui.

Informed sources said Faure was planning a compromise where by the council would be increased from three to five persons.

De Latour will help Faure select the five. He also will report on the mood of the sultan who, according to reports from Rabat, refused to "fade away" from the throne.

Various rightwing groups in Paris were reported flooding Arafa with telegrams and messages urging him to stay on.

The Gaullists staged a demonstration in front of Faure's residence Friday night as a protest against "the gravediggers of our empire."

Larry Pequignot Suffers Broken Leg In Car-Cycle Collision

Larry Pequignot, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Pequignot, R 4, suffered a broken right leg when the motorcycle which he was driving collided with a car at about 4:25 p.m. Friday on Elm street just west of the entrance to Marshall Memorial Hall. He was taken to Whitley County Hospital by a Smith and Sons ambulance and his condition is reported to be satisfactory.

According to city police, the collision evidently occurred when the car, driven by Duane Rogers, 21, of 313 Collins street, was pulling away from the curb after picking up a passenger on the west side of the street. Both vehicles were going south and the motorcycle rammed into the left rear of the car. Pequignot's leg was evidently broken when it was smashed against the left tail light and bumper of the car, the police said. A passenger on the rear of the motorcycle, John Pence, also 16, of R 3, was not hurt.

The foot stand on the right side of the cycle was damaged as was the housing under the crank case, all estimated at about $30 cost. The rear left light of the car was broken in the collision.

Man Is Dogs' Best Friend

NEW YORK (UP)—Police said two holdup men who robbed a window cleaning services office of a $1,100 payroll Friday locked two employes and an elevator operator in a storeroom. But they found as they tried to escape that they couldnt operate the elevator.

They then released the elevator operator, compelled him at gunpoint to show them how to work the elevator, locked him up again and escaped, police said.

Russia Offers To Return Navy Base To Finland

Soviet Considers It Possible To Give Up Installation

MOSCOW (UP)—Russia offered today to return to Finland the Soviet-operated navy base at Porkkala, on Finnish territory.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin made the offer to Finnish Prime Minister Urho Kekkonen, who is in Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders.

Bulganin told Kekkonen the Soviet government considers it "possible to give up the naval installation and "withdraw its troops.

Porkkala, a fortified naval base on the Baltic Sea just south of Helsinki, was leased by Finland to the Soviet Union for 50 years under terms of the Russo-Finnish peace treaty.

Disclosure of the Russian offer was made by a Soviet Foreign Office spokesman at a hurriedly called news conference.

He said the offer to return the base was made in a meeting between top Soviet leaders and the Finnish delegation headed by President Juho Paasikivi this morning.

In addition, he said, the Soviets declared they were ready to prolong the 1948 treaty of friendship, mutual assistance and cooperation which is due to expire soon.

Group Tells Congressional Subcommittee Rights Guaranteed By Constitution Abused

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — A group of citizens told a congressional subcommittee today that rights guaranteed by the Constitution are being abused—in some cases by Congress itself and by executive agencies of the government.

The warning came in statements prepared for a Senate Judiciary subcommittee for an unusual observance of Constitution Day at the nations Capitol. Billed as "a petition for redress of grievances, the session was a prelude to a study which the subcommittee will make of Constitutional rights.

Under the domed roof of the old Supreme Court chamber — which has housed the Senate as well as the high court—a lawyer, teacher, woman, veteran, churchman Negro, bussinessman, workingman, farmer, newsman and a representative of fraternal organizations gave their assessment of the current status of constitutional liberties.

In an unusual twist, senators on the subcommittee traded places with petitioners and occupied seats generally used by witnesses.

Highlights of some of the citizens statements:

1. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., said the House Un-American Activities Committee frequently has infringed on individual rights.

2 Cars CollideOn 30 When Driver Swerves To Avoid Truck

No one was injured but two cars were damaged in an accident Thursday night on U.S. Highway 30, about six miles west of the city.

The accident happened when Charles A. Fawley, 20, of R 4, eastbound swerved into the westbound lane to avoid a rear end collision with a stock truck. His car went into the path of a westbound car driven by Carl H. Rohrer 48, Fort Wayne. As both drivers swerved their cars to the berm to avoid a head-on collision, they collided.

The right front of Rohrer's car was damaged an estimated $100 and the right rear of the Fawley car about $300.

Fawley was arrested following the accident on a charge of failure to yield the right of way. He posted bond and was released until the trial date.

The accident was investigated by Sheriff Galen Adair and State Police Trooper Wayne Reese.

Leader Now Has No Ambitions For Presidency

Could Make Quick Change Of Mind

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Pennsylvania's Democratic Gov. George M. Leader, whose fiery speeches in California opened a hornet's nest of inter-party charges and counter-charges, said Friday he has no personal ambitions for the presidency but could make "a quick" change of mind.

Leader declined to name any choice for the Democratic nomination at a press conference. He said it was "too early" to endorse any Democratic party presidential hopefuls at this time.

But asked if he would accept candidacy for president or vice-president if either were offered him, Leader grinned and conceded it would be possible for him to change his mind.

The Quaker State Governor charged Thursday night in a speech in Los Angeles that President Eisenhower is "a political freak...who has enjoyed a tenderness of approach that is unique in America's political history." The speech was seen as the beginning of a Democratic get-tough policy toward the President and possibly as Leader's bid for a presidential nomination.

Leader spoke at the Los Angeles dinner and at a San Francisco dinner Wednesday night in place of former President Truman who had to cancel his scheduled appearances at the fund-raising affairs.

His San Francisco speech referred to "underworld" influences in the Republican Party and brought impassioned replies from Republican leaders and from White House spokesmen.

Assistant White House Press Secretary Muray Snyder said that the underworld label might be more appropriate if pinned on Leader's party.

Leader replied that he was not referring to criminal elements but to "the isolationist wing and the prevent-atomic-war now people in the Republican Party."

In his Los Angeles speech, Leader said "Dwight Eisenhower is no constitutional monarch, a symbol of state removed from party convention. He is a Republican partisan president...and he should be so recognized and treated."

Stongholds Fall Announced By President Peron

Loyal Airborne Troops In Action

By WILLIAM L. F. HORSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — The government announced the fall of two rebel strongholds today and sent loyal airborne troops against Cordoba where rebel Gen. Felix Videla Balaguer had declared himself head of a revolutionary government.

Other loyal army units were reported mounting an attack against the great, rebel-held Atlantic naval base of Puerto Belgrano.

The rebel-held naval base of Rio Santiago, 45 miles south of Buenos Aires on the River Plate, had withstood two land attacks and one from the air by loyalist bombers but finally surrendered before the massed threat of 7,000 troops drawn up for a dawn attack.

The rebels had ignored a government ultimatum to surrender by 9 p.m. Friday, EDT.

The government also announced the surrender of Curuzu Cuatia, a small army base 550 miles northeast of Buenos Aires in Corrientes Province near the Uruguayan border to forces loyal to President Juan D. Peron.

Besides Cordoba and Puerto Belgrano, also still firmly in the hands of the rebels was the great grain and port city of Bahia Blanca, 397 miles south of Buenos Aires. It is 19 miles from Puerto Belgrano and together they hold the key to the whole of southern Argentina.

Like Cordoba, Mahia Blanca is an important rail center.

Cordoba, Argentinas third largest city with a population of about 375,000, fell to the rebels in the first hours of their well-coordinated attack which seized strongholds in a vast triangle capable of holding Buenos Aires in a strangulation grip.

Balaguer took an oath to defend the Argentine constitution, declared himself head of a revolutionary government and invited Cordoba civilians to join the movement.

Reports from Cordoba said that a few hours after the call, Cordobas Plaza Independencia was crowded with volunteers.

Tony Lefkowicz At Leadership Camp At Purdue

Tony Lefkowicz, a graduate of Columbia City high school, is one of 180 students chosen from the list of applicants for attendance at the 1955 Freshman Leadership Camp of Purdue University.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lefkowicz, R 4.

This camp, which is open only to men students and is held at the Ross Civil Engineering Camp, southwest of Lafayette along the Wabash River, opened today and extends through Saturday.

Following this camp and attendance at the orientation program for all freshmen, opening Sunday and extending through Wednesday, Lefkowicz will begin his work as a freshman in engineering with the opening of the fall semester on Thursday.

Students are chosen for this camp on the basis of leadership qualities shown in high school activities and upon the recommendation of their high school principal.

The major function of the camp is to give those attending advance orientation training in order that they may put their leadership ability into immediate use by aiding other new students in their orientation adjustments. Leadership in all fields of student extra-curricular activity is stressed.

The camp is under the direction of Harland W. White, associate registrar directing admissions, and Donald R. Mallett, dean of men.

Conference On Physical Fitness Of Our Youth

To Be Attended By Big Names In Dozen Fields

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DENVER (UP) — The Summer White House today made public a list of 139 big names in a dozen fields of endeavor who have been invited to attend President Eisenhowers two-day conference on physical fitness of American youth here Sept. 27-28.

The list reads like a who's who of sports, education, journalism, military affairs, medicine religion civic affairs government and youth organizations.

The group will live and meet at Lowry Air Force Base, the Summer White House headquarters, during the two-day session designated to find a way to make the average American youth a better physical specimen.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be chairman of the conference and Mr. Eisenhower will be host at a windup dinner the final night when he will receive the conference, informal recommendations for a federal program.

Hurricane Roars Near Battered East Coast

Weathermen See Little Chance Of Its Changing Course

MIAMI (UP)—Hurricane Ione's growing turbulance in the Atlantic roared dangerously near the battered U.S. east coast today.

The lower Atlantic seaboard states were directly in the path of the 90-mile-per-hour fury and weathermen saw little chance of its changing course.

The big hurricane, still growing in both size and intensity, was churning shoreward at 14 miles per hour. The Miami weather bureau spread an alert from central Florida to North Carolina.

A midnight EDT advisory said Ione, ninth tropical tempest of the year, was riding 520 miles offshore (centered at lat. 25.7 N. long. 72 W.) almost due east of Miami.

The whirler's movement toward the west-northwest or northwest placed the Carolinas directly in its path. This direction for the moment relievee a-south Florida.

The hurricane already had caught a half-dozen ships in the grip of its outer winds, the weather bureau reported, but none was believed in immediate danger. One ship reported it was riding in rough seas with winds up to 50 miles per hour.

Ione's forerunner, hurricane Hilda, swept across the Yucatan Peninsula in Central America, whipping the sparsely settled jungles with 75-mile per hour winds.

The New Orleans weather bureau last midnight EDT estimated it was centered at (lat. 20.3 N. Long. 89.7 W.) about 50 miles south of Merida, Mexico, and was traveling west to west-northwest at 10 miles per hour.

The weather bureau warned in an advisory that Hilda, a killer earlier this week when it crossed eastern Cuba, likely would regain its former 110-mile-per-hour intensity over the Gulf of Mexico.

Ships in the southwest gulf area were warned of danger.

The new hurricane Ione was feared likely to bring high winds, dangerous tides and heavy rain to parts of the U.S. mainland this weekend unless it turns sharply.

Forecaster Paul Moore of the Miami weather bureau said such a change Friday night appeared "doubtful."

The indicated path lay somewhat south of that taken by hurricanes Connie and Diane earlier this year before their destructive sweeps into the seaboard states.

Girl Scout Leader Training Course Is Partially Completed

Eight hours of the training course for new Girl Scout leaders have been completed during two morning sessions in the Presbyterian church.

The leader in charge of the leadership training course, Mrs. John Whiteneck, of Warsaw, is covering the fundamentals of Scouting. The history and philosophy of Girl Scouts were discussed, as well as the requirements of good leadership, troop organization and needs, and troop program making.

The complete course will entail 18 hours. The adults completing the 18-hour course will be certified Girl Scout leaders. At the present, 21 are attending the leadership training course, with four new leaders starting since the course began. They are: Mrs. E. J. Meyers, Mrs. Phil Beard, Miss Carol Meyer, and Mrs. Harry Lorber.

The meeting will be open to the public and refreshments will be served.

Non-Partisan Meetings Ask Benson To Resign

Four Meetings Of Iowa Farmers Have Been Held

DES MOINES (UP)—Non-partisan protest meetings were snowballing across Iowa today to demand that Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson resign.

Four meetings of Iowa farmers have been held, and three more were scheduled in the state for the next two weeks.

Both Republicans and Democrats attended a meeting at Corning, Iowa, Thursday where more than 400 farmers from five counties applauded demands that Benson resign.

Jay Loghry, a feed salesman, and Duane Orton, a farmer, sponsored the Corning meeting and said they hoped that the protest movement would spread to all parts of Iowa and then across the nation.

Loghry said he was a registered Democrat but was not active in party politics. He said that "every effort would be made to keep the meetings non-partisan.

Both Loghry and Orton called for Bensons resignation. And Loghry suggested that "everyone here write a letter to Benson and ask him to resign.

Albert J. Loveland former Democratic undersecretary of agriculture, said the meetings were a forerunner of a Democratic election victory in 1956.

Loveland, a member of a Democratic farm advisory committee that will meet in Chicago Monday, said at his Janesville, Iowa, home that "these meetings are evidence that the Republicans have failed once again to solve farm income problems. He believes, he said, that the farmers will "help put a Democratic administration back in office.

Orton told the gathering that farmers make up 13.4 per cent of the nations population, but get only 5½ per cent of the income.

"We even feed our hogs more equitably than that, he said.

Reds Also Release Italian Bishop

By WENDELL MERICK
United Press Staff Correspondent

HONG KONG (UP) — Lawrence Robert Buol, a civilian pilot jailed by Red China five years ago, strode across the border into Hong Kong today and a joyous reunion with his wife, Sue, who had worked untiringly for his release.

"Gee, he looks just wonderful," she cried.

"This is the happiest day of my life," the 34-year-old former Marine and Flying Tiger said.

Buol had spent the last two years of his imprisonment in solitary confinement and had lost 30 pounds. But he gave a broad grin when he crossed the border and shook hands with his welcomers. He was chewing gum from an American Red Cross package.

Buol, Stockton, Calif., pilot for Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's Civil Air Transport, was the third of a group of American civilians now being freed by Communist China under an agreement worked out in Geneva talks with the United States.

The Chinese Communists also released Italian Bishop Alfonse Ferroni today. The bishop, looking more like a skeleton than a human being, had to be carried across the border by a police inspector and a Catholic priest. He is 63 but

Two Girls From Here Start Training At Parkview-Methodist

School started this month for 61 student nurses in the pre-clinical class of Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing, Fort Wayne. Within this group of 53 students registered from Indiana, 5 from Ohio, 2 from Michigan and 1 from Illinois, the following are from this community: Peggy Ann Burnworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burnworth, R 3; and Barbara Ann Meyers, daughter of William A. Meyers, R 2.

Practical training will be carried out in the new $4,500,000 Parkview Memorial Hospital. In addition to classes at Parkview School and in the Hospital, students will receive instruction from the regular faculty of Purdue University in Fort Wayne and upon completion of the first year will have received 17 hours of college credit from Purdue.

Miss Marie Kolter, R.N., Director of Nurses at Parkview Hospital, stated that, "The addition of this class brings total enrollment to 168, the greatest number of student nurses ever in training at Parkview or its predecessor schools."

Republicans Call On Nixon To Defend Their Farm Policies Against Democratic Attacks

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Republican high command today called on its ace trouble-shooter, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, to defend the administrations farm policies against Democratic drumfire attacks.

Nixon was to deliver this afternoon what he called a "hard-hitting farm speech at Wabash, Ind., to answer mounting Democratic criticism of the administrations handling of faltering farm prices.

The Democrats geared for still heavier attacks on the administrations policies. A special Democratic committee, headed by former Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard, meets Monday at Chicago to map campaign strategy.

The prize for two political parties are contending for is the important farm vote in the 1956 presidential and congressional elections.

Nixon was expected to give full administration backing to the promise by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson Friday that the administration will take action to ease the price-cost squeeze now crimping farmers income.

Nixon also planned to deny that President Eisenhower has reneged on the promises he made to farmers in the 1952 presidential election.

Benson angrily accused "prophets of gloom and doom — his name for Democratic critics — of trying to make a "political football out of the farm crisis. He conceded that the farmers price-cost squeeze is "real and said he was "deeply concerned over the farmers plight.

Nixon said Friday he wants to show that President Eisenhower has fulfilled the pledges he gave to farmers in 1952. He said he wants to "put into context what the President said in the 1952 campaign about helping farmers get 100 per cent of fair-price parity for their crops.

Hubert Reinhold Attending Week-Long Purdue Conference

Hubert Reinhold, assistant county agent here in charge of the Better Farming and Better Living program, is among 13 similar agents attending a conference at Purdue University this week. Paul Crooks, state leader of the Better Farming and Better Living program, is conducting the week-long meeting.

Other agents attending the meeting who are known in this community are: Francis Schuler, former vocational agriculture instructor at Larwill and now in Henry county; Robert Taylor, former ag instructor at Coesse and now in Allen county; and George Dunton, Noble county assistant county agent.

Marshall Honored On 200th Anniversary

Editor's Note: John Marshall, whose bicentennial is being celebrated during September this year, was born September 24, 1755. General Braddock's defeat just eleven weeks before had begun the Frensh and Indian War and Indian raiders had murdered families a few miles from the log cabin birthplace of Marshall, in Fauquier County, Virginia.

It has been said that if George Washington is the Father of our Country, John Marshall is the Godfather.

During 34 years of the Nation's formative years, the great Chief Justice presided over the Supreme Court and enunciated in more than 500 decisions which he delivered personally, those principles of justice and freedom under law which guided the United States then and today.

It was Marshall who welded together the young states of the Nation by establishing the supremacy of federal authority. It was he who gave practical force to the doctrine of checks and balances among the legislative, executive and judicial branches of our Government by asserting the right of the Court to declare null and void any action of a branch of Government in conflict with the Constitution.

It was Marshall who made firm the right of any citizen to seek redress from the courts for any injury under the law, and whose leadership of the Court established that tribunal as the most august and powerful in the history of civilized government.

It was under Marshall's leadership that the Court established its right to interpret the Constitution and pronounce a judgment on the validity or invalidity of Government action, binding on everyone including the President, the Congress, and the State Governments.

It was Marshall's decisions which often solved the underlying problems of a developing nation in a way flexible enough to meet the exigencies of his time and yet strong enough to withstand the test of time since then.

Marshall served his Country not only as Chief Justice, but prior to that as an officer of the Revolution, a lawyer whose weight was felt at the Constitutional Convention, a member of the House of Delegates of his native State of Virginia, a member of the Congress, Minister to France, and as Secretary of State.

Marshall actually had little formal schooling in law— six weeks at William and Mary College and some private instruction later in Richmond. The first year of his law practice he had but four cases, yet four years later he was recognized as one of the leading lawyers in Virginia.

His lank frame, often disheveled appearance, and easygoing manner belied his ability to penetrate quickly to the heart of a problem and advance a common sense solution which commanded respect.

Never personally ambitious for high office, he entered politics at the insistence of his fellow citizens who felt the State and later the country needed his talents. He ran for Congress only reluctantly at the urging of the retired George Washington.

He declined an appointment as Secretary of War offered by President Adams and turned down an appointment to the high court once before his final acceptance in 1801. Often his motive in refusal was his desire to have more time for his wife and 10 children to whom he was truly devoted.

Kindly, genuinely interested in the problems of Americans as individuals and neighbors, Marshall's penetrating logic and unassailable integrity were such that he refused to bend to popular opinion and only one of his Supreme Court decisions was publicly acclaimed in his day.

It is not only fitting that we observe the 200th Anniversary of John Marshall's birth this month with appropriate ceremonies throughout the Nation, but it is well that we rededicate ourselves to the protection and preservation of liberty under the Constitution which were among John Marshall's great contributions to our national heritage.

LONDON (UP)—A wartime heroine who endured Nazi tortures to save the life of her future husband is being sued for divorce, it was made known today.

Capt. Peter Churchill, World War II head of a section of the British counter - espionage network, has filed a divorce petition against his French-born wife, Odette, alleging misconduct with a man identified only as Harlowe. The suit was not defended.

Mrs. Churchill, who won fame when books and motion pictures told her story, was awarded the George Medal for her services in occupied France. She still carries on her back the scars of the Gestapo's red-hot branding irons.

A divorcee, with three children, Mrs. Churchill volunteered for counter-espionage in 1942. For two years she travelled between Britain and occupied France until the Gestapo captured her and her immediate superior—a man known to her only as "Raoul."

Raoul was the alias of Captain Churchill.

WASHINGTON UP) — Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. is planning a trip to the Far East soon to survey progress of U.S. economic aid programs to the critical area.

Hoover plans a "fairly extensive journey to see whether the money spent in Asia is paying off in the fight to keep free Asia out of Communist hands. He is expected to visit Japan, Korea, Formosa, the Philippines and South Korea.

While in the area, Hoover also will attend sessions of the 17-nation Colombo economic meeting in Singapore Oct. 17-22. That meeting will discuss plans to develop South and Southeast Asia.

KINGSTON Jamaica (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said Thursday night he gets a "little bewildered" by the hot-and-cold attitude of some Americans toward the Soviet Union.

Stevenson, in a speech at the opening of Jamaica's Tercentenary Fair, commented on the millions of peoples who have gained independence since World War II.

"I confess I get a little bewildered and anxious as I watch the rapid temperature changes among my own countrymen as we vault from the depths of pessimism and ill will to the heights of hope and optimism," he said.

KYOTO, Japan (UP)—A former U.S. Navy airman has donned the robes of a Buddhist priest in ceremonies at this ancient center of Japanese Buddhism, the Kyoto News Agency said today.

Kyoto said that Ronald Lean, 28, of Honolulu, Hawaii, became a priest at the Nishi Honganju Church Thursday after a year of study. Lean told the agency that he became interested in Buddhism while serving with the U.S. Navy in India and China during World War II.

BRUSSELS Belgium (UP) — Prince Albert of Belgium, 21-year-old brother of King Baudouin, leaves today aboard the luxury liner Ile de France for a 10-week tour of the United States.

The prince will be received by President Eisenhower Sept. 27.

SANTIAGO, Chile (UP) — President Carlos Ibanez' attempts to name a new ambassador to the United States ran into another roadblock today.

The Liberal Party instructed its senators to refuse to confirm the appointment of Gen. Eduardo Yanez Zavala to the post when and if his name is submitted.

Perry Como Digs Out Razor He Used When He Was Barber

By BILL EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The channel swim.

Perry Como's 15-year-old son, Ronnie, is mulling over entering the priesthood. Perry, a devout Catholic, is all for the idea. Incidentally, the elder Como dug out a straight-edged razor he had once used as a barber in Canonsburg Pa., and rode her on Ronnie's first shave the other day. "Just touched up the character's adam's apple,' said Perry.

Lu Ann Simms has named her new seven-pounder, Cynthia Lee. Arthur Godfrey has gone on a diet —he put on 10 pounds during his vacation.

Star To Sing

Eve Marie Saint, wholl sing in NBC-TV's musical version of "Our Town" this Monday, used to do a singing commercial on TV for a linoleum company. Her pay — $25 per shot. Captain Richard McCutchen, the cooking marine of "The $64,000 Question," is also quite an expert at Judo. McCutchen owns a championship belt which attests to his prowess.

Dig that crazy quartet, dad: CBS-TV's new series, "Brave Eagle," stars a Cheyenne, a Hopi, a Sioux and Bert Wheeler. Carolyn Leigh who wrote the pop hit, "Young At Heart,' as well as the lyrics for "Peter Pan" and the upcoming NBC - TV spectacular, Heidi," used to be secretary to comedian Phil Silvers.

You think actors have a soft touch? The other day the entire cast of CBS-TV's "Gunsmoke" bundled up in mackinaws and mufflers for a snowstorm scene in the San Fernando Valley. At the time, the mercury was having a ball in the giddy 100's.

Chair Arm Higher

Whoops! The real name of Willard Parker who stars in CBS-TV's "Tales Of The Texas Rangers,' is Worster Van Eps. If you take a close gander at Ed Murrows chair in "Person To Person," you may notice that the arm farthest from the camera is built six inches higher than the nearer one. It makes for easier viewing of Ed's cigaret hand.

Current gag around the networks has it that a program is being planned that will feature a magician cutting a woman in half. They'll call it, "Saw It Now." If Merry Anders, who plays Val Marlowe in CBS-TV's "It's Always Jan", looks familiar to you, it's because she used to play the eldest daughter in the Stu Erwin TV series.

Elderly Persons Being Adopted By Teenage Girls

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—More than 500 elderly men and women have been "adopted" by teenage girls here in a unique project that is beginning to spread to other parts of the nation.

As adopted grandparents the old people suddenly find themselves getting cards on their birthdays, candy on Easter, unexpected visits from youngsters and even a night out now and then.

One grandfather became so popular that the girls' parents began including him in family outings.

"It is one of our most successful projects," a Girl Scout official said. Girl Scout troops in the metropolitan area started the grandparent adotpions five years ago.

Girls Learn Something

"The girls gain as much from it as the old people,' one director of an old people's home pointed out. "We didn't think of that when we first agreed to let them adopt some of our residents. But the girls learn something about the way old people live."

A man actually started the idea. He was the recreation director for 1,800 old people living in a city-financed home and hospital on Welfare Island. A check of the records showed that 1,700 of the residents were never visited by relatives or remembered on holidays.

"Nobody was interested in them" Arthur H. Holtzman recalled. "So any attention the youngsters showed them was invaluable."

Now, five years later, 8,000 girls have some part in the lives of 523 old people living in homes for the aged in the five boroughs.

Occasionally a prospective grand parent is apprehensive. One old man worried that he wouldn't know what to talk about when his scout troop arrived for a visit.

Read Them Poems

The visit ended with the girls sitting on the floor and their adopted grandfather reading them poems he had written and kept carefully hidden away.

"We intend to keep our adopted grandmother as long as we are a troop,' a group of girls from 10 to 13 years old wrote the National Scout Council. "She is 94 years old now — and we hope she lives to be at least 100."

Individual attention is the key to the project's success, Holtzman believes. Generous groups visit the old age wards regularly to hand out cigarettes, candy and other gifts.

"But when 20 girls concentrate on one old person — that really does something for him," Holtzman said.

Las Vegas, The Glittering Monte Carlo Of America, Undergoes A Terrific Change

Editor's Note: One of the most amazing business phenomena of the decade has been the mushroom growth of Las Vegas, Nev., into the gambling capital of the world. But in recent months there have been reports of faltering business. The United Press, in a two-part series, details the picture in Las Vegas today and its possible future.

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—Las Vegas, the glittering Monte Carlo of America, has so changed that even Frank Sinatra has climbed aboard a camel to try to lure customers back to one of his dying hotels.

This scene occurred at Las Vegas' first "retread" opening, when a hotel which opened its doors only last May had to have a second "premiere."

The Dunes Hotel never got off the ground following its first opening six months ago. The Sands Hotel was asked to take over the Dunes on a lease of $1,250,000 a year, and last weekend "the Sands married the Dunes," as the ads said.

The flashy premiere—the most colorful and also most weird Las Vegas has seen—is indicative of the change in Las Vegas.

The Dunes is not the only new hotel that has failed to rake in those expected millions at the gaming tables. The seven-story, lush Riviera had to be taken over by a group that formerly ran the successful Flamingo. And that group already has asked the Sands to take the Riviera off its hands.

A Busy Casino

The Royal Nevada not only has changed owners once, but the new handlers already have tried in vain to lease the hotel to the veteran Desert Inn. The interracial Moulin Rouge also had to bring in new capital and has hired veteran showman Gene Mann to hypo up the shows.

The hoop-la reopening of the Dunes marked the first round in a battle to get Las Vegas out of a recession that has hit some of the expensive hotels on the suburban "Strip," which is county territory outside the city proper. With Frank Sinatra, one of the owners, as the headliner of the show, the Dunes had a busy casino at its "reopening" for the first time since it was built.

"How to revive a dying hotel" is an interesting process. The Sands' press agents drew up a 200-page book of instructions and plans for the reopening of the Dunes, and I managed to steal a look at this fascinating document. It included such suggestions as the construction of a 14-foot long Aladin's lamp on the lawn of the hotel.

"People can write wishes on cards and place them in the lamp," the publicity manual said. "This will add a touch of the Far East—and besides, we'll get a mailing list for the hotel."

Once Booming Business

The Sands-Dunes previous publicity feat was staging the Dick Haymes-Rita Hayworth wedding. The retread job on the Dunes, observers figure, might last longer.

The ceremonies featured Sinatra on his lurching camel, three white Arabian horses charging through a canopy of spears, and Arabian costumes for all the native musicians (Local 807) playing Oriental music beneath an Arabian tent.

A true Arab would have wilted in his burnoose to see it. But the event was the opening of a drive by Las Vegas to woo back its once-booming business.

What is happening to the other hotels in Las Vegas? Is the land of cactus and roulette wheels fizzling into the most expensive ghost town in history? Has the boom of new hotels gone too far or will Las Vegas continue as the lushest resort town in the country?

23 Greenlease Bills Recovered

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A total of 33 of the missing Greenlease ransom money bills have been recovered, the FBI here announced today.

The latest discovery of one of the $20 bills in a total of $303,720 was made by Mrs. Charles E. Weirauch, wife of a retired farmer, at Norris City, Ill.

Weirauch, 62 said he believed he obtained the bill at a department store in late July.

The first recovery of a bill made public was made by an airport bookkeeper at Minot N.D., on Aug. 3. Since then the bills have turned up here and in Chicago, uincy and East St. Louis, Ill.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Philadelphia; Denver, Colo., and Miami Fla.

The FBI refuses to discuss progress in recovering the bulk of the missing money paid in a total of $600000 when 6-year-old Bobby Mo., was kidnaped.

Plenty Of Plant Nutrients Vital For High Wheat Yields

LAFAYETTE, — "High soil fertility pays off in high wheat yields," reports A. R. Halvorson, Purdue University extension agronomist.

Yields of 50 to 60 bushels per acre have been obtained where the soil has a good supply of plant nutrients. Farmers, who are now planning to seed this fall's wheat crop, should make sure adequate nutrients are present.

Halvorson says soil tests will determine how much phosphate and potash are needed. Nitrogen needs have been found by actual field experiments with different rates.

A good general fertilizer recommendation for wheat is about 20 pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds each of phosphate and potash per acre at planting time. Applications in the fall should be followed in the spring with nitrogen top dressing. If all the nitrogen is applied in the fall, it should be limited to the heavier soils where there will be less loss of nitrogen by leaching.

High fertility practices, however, must be accompanied by other good practices. Farmers should make certain the seed is clean and treated for control of stinking smut. And don't sow wheat until after the fly free date, Halvorson concludes.

Hoosier farmers can obtain additional information on seeding wheat from the county agent.

Frontier Stew Has A New Type Topping

Here's a hearty beef stew — rich in flavor — much as that of the old frontier days when a hot meal was the best part of a long hard day.

Those Davy Crockett fans will go for Frontier Stew in a big way. So how about it? When it's chow-time at your house, why not greet your active family with this savory Frontier Stew and its extra special topping?

INGREDIENTS:
¼ cup plus 1 tablespoon cooking fat
Flour
1 lb. stew beef cut in 1" cubes
½ cup water
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
1 cup onion slices (halve large slices)
1 cup carrot slices
2 bay leaves
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 teaspoons salt
3 cups water
2 eggs
1½ cups grated American cheese
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
Dash of Tabasco sauce

METHOD: Melt the fat in a skillet. Thoroughly cover the beef with flour. Brown the beef in the fat. Blend one tablespoon of flour into the fat. Slowly stir in the water. Add the tomatoes, onion, carrots, bay leaves, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Mix well. Cover and cook over a low heat 1 hour or until the meat is tender. Add more water if a thinner mixture is desired. About 20 minutes before the beef is done, put the rice, salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes. Stir in the eggs, cheese, pepper and Tabasco sauce. Pour the beef-vegetable mixture into a greased shallow baking dish about 12"x7"x2". Arrange the hot rice mixture over the stew, leaving the center uncovered. Place the baking dish under the broiler and broil 15 minutes or until the rice mixture is heated through and slightly browned. Serve immediately.

This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Carol Ann Hancock, Lee Stanford Loos Plight Troth Today In Methodist Rite

Mrs. Lee Stanford Loos

A soft lilac and traditional white formed a setting for the pretty wedding today of Miss Carol Ann Hancock of this city and Lee Stanford Loos of Rome City, married this afternoon in Methodist rites at Trinity church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hancock, 106 East Jefferson street and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Loos of Fort Wayne.

The Rev. Verlin Vernon, pastor of the church, received the marriage vows in a single ring ceremony at 2 o'clock.

White mums and greenery tied with ribbon in a soft orchid marked the candelabra along the two main aisles of the church carpeted in white.

Palm foliage interspersed the three beauty vases that held huge white mums at the altar. Candles burned on either side in candelabra marked by clusters of greenery and white bows of soft orchid satin ribbon.

Thirty-Minute Musicale

The program of nupital music was given by Mrs. Helen Slagle Aker, organist, and Miss Patricia Puckett, vocalist, who sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "Because" before the ceremony, and at the close of the ceremony she sang "Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Mrs. Aker's organ program included "Meditation from Thais" by Massant; "September Song," "Dawning," "Intermezzo." During the ceremony she played "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin.

Gown of Alencon Lace

Mr. Hancock gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride chose a gown of imported re-embroidered Alencon lace and nylon tulle over crystal white satin. The snugly fitted bodice was fashioned by a scoop neckline and long tulle sleeves, appliqued with the re-embroidered lace. The tremendous skirt of tulle was complimented by a band of the Alencon lace and swept into a brush train. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was caught to a Swedish crown of pleated tulle sprinkled with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Three white orchids and lilies of the valley formed the cascade bouquet the bride carried.

The maid of honor, Miss Sondra Loos, sister of the Bridegroom, and bridesmaid, Miss Mary Orr of this city, wore gowns of lilac nylon chiffon. The shirred fitted bodice of each gown was detailed by a cowl neckline with a back drape to the hemline of the very bouffant waltz length skirt. They wore circular veils caught to a lilac velvet open plateau, and carried cascades of Happiness roses in a deep red.

Little Betsey Beaber served as flower girl in a short white nylon embroidery dress with which she wore white satin ballet slippers. She carried a white basket filled with Happiness rose petals.

The bridegroom wore a lily of the valley boutonniere and his groomsman, John W. Hancock, Jr., brother of the bride, and the usher, Frederick Peck of Ligonier, wore boutonnieres of white carnations.

The two mothers wore white orchids. Mrs. Hancock chose a gold afternoon dress with which she wore black accessories and Mrs. Loos wore a white chiffon dress appliqued with lace and she wore black accessories.

The two grandmothers, Mrs. A. E. Hancock and Mrs. Emma Linvill, wore corsages of yellow roses.

Reception at Rome City

Fifty guests were received at the Limberlost Country club at Rome City after the ceremony. The traditional white marked the lovely appointments of the affair.

The bride chose a black silk afternoon dress styled with a jacket with which she wore black accessories and the three orchids from her bridal bouquet for her three weeks wedding trip to Florida and the Bermudas. On their return the couple will reside at Rome City where the bridegroom is associated with Sylvan Lake Marine Inc. Mr. Loos attended Indiana University. His bride attended Hanover college.

Guests from out of the city were H. H. Lee of Ohio, and Mrs. Herman B. Young, Green Springs, O.

During the past few weeks the bride has been feted with a number of pretty parties given in this city and at Rome City.

Mildred Bowlby Honor Guest At Party Given By Mrs. Hollie DePoy

A pretty party and miscellanous shower for which Mrs. Hollie DePoy, North Line street, was hostess Friday evening, honored Miss Mildred Bowlby, who will become the bride of Dick Deubner, son of Mrs. Remonda Deubner of near this city.

The September wedding of Miss Bowlby will be solemnized in the Evangelical United Brethren church in this city.

A color scheme of pink and white marked the pretty affair. Mrs. DePoy served a dessert during the evening. Gifts for the honor guest lay on the lace covered table which was centered with a bride doll.

The pretty gifts consisted on an electric clock, linen, china and pieces of silver to match the pattern chosen by Miss Bowlby. The game "bride" in the form of bingo was played and the prizes awarded in the game were presented to Miss Bowlby.

Guests besides Miss Bowlby and her mother, Mrs. Homer Bowlby and Mrs. Remonda Deubner, mother of Mr. Deubner, were the Mesdames Walter Ewigleben, George Baum, Jack Gwin, Jack Grant, Ray Pence, Mont Harrold, Miss Delee Deubner, Miss Barbara Mundt.

Whites Make Their First Airplane Trip; Go To California

Mr. and Mrs. Burton White, 214 South Line street, are now on their way by plane for San Diego, Calif., where they will attend the 45th National Convention of Spanish American War Veterans. It is their first airplane trip.

They were taken to Chicago this morning by their son, Marcus White and at 2 o'clock this afternoon left on their plane trip. They will land at 10 o'clock tonight at Burbank. Mr. and Mrs. White will be registered at the Blackstone Hotel during the four-day convention which opens Monday.

This will be Mr. White's 18th National convention he has attended since his retirement 21 years ago as a mail carrier out of Larwill, where Mr. and Mrs. White resided before moving to Columbia City a few years ago.

The Whites expect to be gone a week or 10 days. Before returning home they expect to go to Phoenix, Ariz., to be the guests of a past National Commander of Spanish American War Veterans.

County Clerk Gets 3,000 City Election Ballots This Week

County Clerk Kenneth Nichols has received this week 3,000 ballots for use in the 1955 Columbia City election, November 8.

The ballots were drawn up by the County Election Board, which includes Nichols, and representatives of the two political parties having candidates in the election, Ira Webber, Republican, and Donald Alberty, Democrat. They were printed locally.

The ballots are printed on white paper and contain the names of each of the two parties' candidates for the seven elective city offices.

The ballots will be locked in the safe at the county clerk's office until November 5, the first day an election inspector may get ballots and election supplies for his precinct.

Absent voters' ballots may be applied for and obtained by mail any time between September 9 and November 5, however Nichols reported that none have been requested as yet. There were 17 absentee voters' ballots cast in the 1954 general election.

A total of 2,980 persons are registered and eligible to vote in the city election, Nichols said. To be eligible to vote in the election, a person must register by October 10.

Good, Bad News On Balance Sheet

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. The results of German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Moscow were greeted in Western capitals with official satisfaction. Privately, there were expressions to establish diplomatic relations even though he failed to win any concessions leading toward eventual German unification. He did get a promise that remaining German war prisoners would be freed. Adenauer also made two important reservations in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin. He said that final determination of Germany's border must be settled by a formal peace treaty. He specified that he would not recognize the East German Communist regime. The State Department said German-Russian agreements marked "the abandonment . . . by the Soviet Union of its bankrupt German policies." Adenauer's alliance with the West remained unshaken. On the whole, the results of the

2. Communist China, after long negotiations in Geneva, promised to free 29 American civilians whom it had long held prisoner. conference seemed to be good.

The first 10 are expected soon in Hong Kong. Red Chinese delegate Wang Ping-nan made a bid for high-level talks between Red Premier Chou En-laj and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on other issues. The United States refused even to discuss that question until all Americans have been freed.

3. Thirty - three - year - old ex-King Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, campaigning as a private citizen, won all 91 seats in the parliament of his Indochinese state. He gave up his throne to fight for a program of cooperation with the West and internal constitutional reforms. His sensational victory, as leader of the political party he formed only six years ago, also was a big victory for the west.

The Bad

1. French Premier Edgar Faure's desperate attempt to set up home rule in Morocco and end the bloody terrorism there suffered further delay. Some right wing members of his own cabinet as well as the French colonists in Morocco fought ferociously to defeat the Faure program. Morocco seemed certain, whatever happened, to remain a dangerous trouble spot.

2. The campaign of Russia and its Iron Curtain satellites to lure refugees home achieved a big victory when Hugon Hanke, premier of the Polish government in exile, suddenly turned up in Warsaw. In a broadcast speech, Hanke urged other refugees to go home.

3. The angry situation in Palestine continued despite the efforts of United Nations truce supervisor Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada to stop border clashes between Israel and its Arab neighbors. After serious incidents on the Israeli-Egyptian border, Israel complained of raids by Jordanian and Lebanese groups on its northern frontier.

The list was made public as the President kept up his own physical fitness program with plenty of golf on a relaxing stag weekend with business and golfing friends. They included famous golfers Francis Ouimet, the 1913 U.S. Open Champion, and Charley Yates, onetime British Amateur titleholder.

The conferees for the physical fitness parley include such varied personages, picked at random from the list, as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Marion B. Folsom; Rogers Hornsby, onetime baseball great; Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington; President Frank H. Bartholomew of the United Press; Maj. Sammy Lee, Korean-American Olympic diving champion; Surgeon General Leonard A Scheele; Mrs. Harold H. Guilty of "Spying"

Two released Friday were the Very Rev. Harold W. Rigney, a Roman Catholic priest, and Walter A. Rickett, a Fulbright scholar. Both said they were guilty of "spying," the charges on which they were jailed by the Reds. Rickett was full of praise for the Peiping regime.

Father Rigney disclosed today his trial had lasted for three years and two months before he was finally given a 10-year sentence. He was grilled several times daily throughout the trial until he finally confessed to get it over with.

Buol was chief of operations for Chennault's CAT line when he was captured Jan. 15, 1950 in Mengtze, Yunan Province, in southwest China. The airline then was flying in supplies to guerrillas in the closing days of the Chinese Civil War. Communists took over the field while Buol was there.

His salary continued while he was in China and his earnings were reported to total $100,000.

His wife never gave up hope for his release. She appealed directly to Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai and to Jacob Malik, then the Soviet representative at the United Nations. She asked the State Department for action and she remained near the border for years.

Mrs. Buol, since working as Chennault's secretary, has spent the last few days in Hong Kong resigned to further waiting but full of impatience.

Buol, who was under armed guard all the way to the border, was wearing blue Chinese slacks, a white sports shirt and faded sneakers. He said that "morally, my treatment was not good, physically, not bad."

He had been held at Kunming, one of the wartime Chennault headquarters. He said he had arrived at Canton Tuesday and had not seen any other American prisoners since then.

Buol was informed of Rickett's statement Friday that he would like to return to China some day as a guest.

"I cannot believe it," he said. "How can any person in his right mind want to go back there?"

Freedom Of Information

2. J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald and chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, warned of threats by the government to freedom of information.

He said congressional committees recently have held more than a third of their proceedings in secret and that courts and quasi-judicial agencies performing the functions of courts also have met behind closed doors. He said executive departments "have frequently withheld and concealed matters of vital public concern and that "transactions not at all touched with military security have been concealed in secrecy.

3. William F. Schnitzler, secretreasurer of the American Federation of Labor, said the rights of workers to organize, bargain collectively and strike if necessary have been threatened. He said the major threats stem from the Taft-Hartley Act and "restrictive legislation passed by states to govern union activity.

Communists Endanger Liberties

4. Donald R. Wilson, past national commander of the American Legion, said constitutional liberties are endangered by Communists and fellow travelers, the very people who most often demand the Constitutions protection. He said the committee should determine how to protect Americans "against those who would defy the Congress, deceive the courts, destroy the government and enslave the people while proclaiming that the Constitution pronibits their being unmasked and revealed in their true identity.

5. John Lester Buford, president of the National Education Association, warned of a "climate of fear in the schools. He said academic freedom has been impaired by pressures brought upon teachers by local pressure groups and by "censorship of textbooks and teaching materials.

6. Boyd Campbell, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and John C. Lynn, legislative director for the American Farm Bureau Federation, cautioned that the tendency of Congress to usurp legislative fields reserved for the states threatens the constitutional blueprint.

Minnesota Man Wins Plow Contest By Single Point

WABASH, Ind. (UP)— Eugene Holmes of Waldorf, Minn., celebrated today after winning the national contour plowing championship by a single point. Holmes defeated Kenneth Clark of Cherokee, Iowa, Friday, 73-72.

A crowd of more than 30,000 saw Holmes rack up 73 points out of a possible 100, in clear, hot weather.

Other winners included John Daniels, Mulberry Grove, Ill., third; Owen Jorgenson, Guthrie Center, Iowa, fourth; and William Rhoades, Greenville, Ohio, fifth.

Another large crowd was on hand for today's program which featured a speech by Vice President Richard Nixon and the national level land plowing championship. Nixon will also speak at Indianapolis tonight at a $100-a-plate banquet.

Underrated Cadets Win 37-6

An underrated Concordia Cadet football team gave the Columbia City Eagles a thorough shellacking at Dwenger Park Friday evening, a score of 37-6. It was the most one-sided loss the Eagles have sustained in a number of years.

Columbia City was the first to score, however, and had chalked up a TD in less than two minutes. The Eagles kicked off to the Cadets, it being an onside kick which Columbia City recovered on about the Concordia 30-yard line. In four quick plays, Dick Jones, Eagle halfback, scooted over the goal line to paydirt. The attempt for the extra point failed, and the score was 6-0, CC.

That 6-0 Columbia City lead was short-lived. The Eagles kicked-off to Concordia, and the ball rolled into the end zone and was brought back out to the 20-yard line. On the first play, Ron Roemer took a lateral and raced the remaining distance to the goal line. Hein's try for extra point was good, and the score was 7-6, Concordia.

Was Preview

The first Concordia score was a early preview of what was in store for the remainder of the game, as the Cadets lateralled, passed, and ran through the CC line for five more touchdowns. In addition to the six Cadet touchdowns which were counted, one other one was called back on a Concordia clipping penalty. Another "near miss" was registered for the Cadets when Ridley, Concordia end, got behind the Eagle defenders and was about to pull in one of Doerffler's passes when he stumbled over the pitcher's mound on the combination football-basefall field.

After scoring twice in the first quarter, the Cadets were unable to get over the goal line in the second period, however, two more six-pointers were added in the third quarter, and two more in the final period.

Concordia's second score in the opening quarter was on a pass play from Doerffler to Ridley, which covered 60 yards. Hein's try for the extra point was no good, as were the rest of his attempted placements.

Miss Opportunity

In the second quarter, the Eagles missed a golden scoring opportunity. It was at the beginning of the quarter following Concordia's kick-off after touchdown. The kick was short, going to Tackle Phil Fry. Fry grabbed the kick and was pulled down on the Cadet 48-yard line, after two Concordia tacklers bounced off the husky lineman.

With Gary Deutsch leading the way, handling the ball on six of the eleven ensuing plays, the Eagles marched down to the Cadet 15-yard line. At this point, Whetstone shot a pass into Deutsch's hands in the end zone, but the Eagle halfback juggled the ball and dropped it on the fourth down. That was the only time the Eagles threatened during the remainder of the game.

In the third quarter Concordia scored two more TD's. The first of these two climaxed a march which was highlighted by a 33-yard end run by Roemer. Doerffler finished the drive, going over from the one-yard line. The next TD took concordia three plays, after getting the ball on their own 48-yard line. Doerffler passed to Dammeyer for 32-yards, and then Doerffler took a lateral and ran to the six-yard line. On the next play, Doerffler carried the ball over for a 25-6 score.

Eagles Fumble

A Columbia City fumble on its own 29, set up the next Cadet score, and the inspired Fort Wayne team wasted little time in scoring. It was Roemer on an end run which registered a 31-6 count. After the TD, the Cadets kicked off to the Eagles, and Concordia recovered the ball on the mid-field stripe. On the way to their final score, some Cadets were stopped by nice tackles by the Columbia City reserves who were in the game b ythis time. John Crampton, Gene Simon, and Dick Loe made three of the very few good tackles for the Eagles. The march was ended on a pass from Doehrmann to Koehlinger, and the final score was 37-6.

Needless to say, Columbia City was outplayed in every department.

UCLA Scores Easy Victory Over Texas A & M

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

College football muscles in on the American League pennant race for nationwide interest today by stealing one of baseball's gimmicks — the day-night doubleheader.

Miami and Georgia Tech will help launch the 1955 gridiron season by colliding in the opener of a twinbill at Atlanta, Ga. Then Mississippi and Georgia will meet under the lights on the same field.

UCLA, the nation's No. 1 team last season, picked up where it left off Friday night by scoring an easy 21-0 triumph over Texas A—M at Los Angeles. Ronnie Knox threw three touchdown passes for the Uclans before a crowd of 65,334.

The Miami-Tech battle will be nationally - televised by NBC starting at 3 p.m. EDT. It will mark the first color telecast of a college football game, but also will be shown on black-and-white receivers.

Georgia Tech is reported loaded with backfield talent but weaker in the line than last season's Cotton Bowl champions. Miami also has a strong attack built around such "southern" gentlemen as Don Bosseler of Batavia, N.Y., Mario Bonofiglio of Kenosha, Wis., Jack Losch of Williamsport, Pa., and Whitey Rouviere of Buckner, Ill.

MOTOR MAIDS

Device Educates Drivers to Watch Their Speed

By Betty Skelton, Dodge Test Driver

A small device called a Speed-Watch is teaching a valuable lesson to many a speeding American.

With the aid of the Speed-Watch, traffic police in many of our large cities are making commendable progress in their efforts to educate the average motorist in safe driving principles.

The Speed-Watch, in case you are unfamiliar with it, is an electric timing device which automatically records the speed of automobiles as they cross two cables, stretched 132 feet apart on the pavement.

Miss Skelton

Two police officers operate the Speed Watch, one holding the clock-like apparatus which is wired between the two cables, the other standing beyond the cables to flag down the motorist who exceeds the speed limit. The motorist is then confronted with the findings of the Speed-Watch, and that usually settles any argument.

Less Costly

Unlike radar-controlled areas, which utilize a variation of the radar transmitters developed during World War II, the Speed-Watch, a less costly item, is powered by electricity from the police car's battery. A switch activating a dial indicator records the seconds it takes for the motorist to cross the area between the two cables.

A second dial calibrates the exact number of miles per hour according to the seconds. The testimony of the Speed-Watch is so infallibly accurate that it is accepted in practically every court.

So there will be no charge of a "speed trap," approaching motorists are warned by a sign posted ahead that speed is electrically timed.

Motorists Slow Down

A given area is speed-watched for several days. When the speeders disappear, the police move on to another street, perhaps returning later to see whether they have succeeded in educating people to observe the speed limit.

"We aren't out here to see how many tickets we can give," one officer told me. "We want to educate people to the fact that they are driving too fast for their own safety."

Police find that motorists are driving at slower, more sensible speeds on streets where they have conducted Speed Watch tests. The electric speed detector is particularly useful in residential areas where traffic is thin.

Motorists stopped by the Speed-Watch, whether ticketed or not, learn a vivid, dramatic lesson in safe driving. And they remember to practice that lesson whenever they are at the wheel.

America's most famous woman driver, Miss Skelton holds the woman's automotive speed record of 143.44 mph, and is the only woman test driver in the automotive industry. Address any questions or suggestions about cars, safety, and driving problems to her in care of this newspaper.

Frankie Ryff Wins Decision Over Lopes

By LLOYD NORTHARD
United Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (UP)—Frankie Ryff, the young lightweight sensation from New York, sai dtoday he'll have to start worrying more about boxing and less about his dry cleaning establishment if he hopes to wrest the 135-pound title from Wallace (Bud) Smith.

Ryff pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over tough Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., in Friday nights nationally televised fight at Olympia but the 23-year-old New Yorker was ar from pleased with his showing.

It was the first ring appearance in four months for Ryff, who weighed 138, and the layoff clearly spoiled his timing. But he kept Lopes, who scaled 134¼, tied up most of the time and landed enough heavy leather to win a wide voting edge from referee Johnny Weber and judges Donald Dilley and Malcolm House.

Has Good Margin

All three of the ring officials favored the fourth-ranking Ryff by margins of five points or better.

"I should have beat him in a breeze, Ryff said. "But my timing was off and my legs got tired after the first few rounds. I know now that Ive got to keep fighting regularly if I want to win the lightweight title.

He said hes been splitting his time between his dry cleaning shop and the gymnasium since he lost a close decision to Ralph Dupas at New Orleans four months ago.

That was the only blemish on Ryffs ring record. He had won 17 pro bouts in a row before running into Dupas and was named "rookie of the year in 1954 by the Boxing Writers Association.

No Knockdowns Scored

There were no knockdowns in the fight although Ryff slipped to the canvas when he missed a punch in the 10th round. Lopes opened a cut above Ryffs left eye in the second round and reopened the wound in each of the last four rounds.

Lopes, who was born on Portugals Cape Verde Islands, was disgusted with the loss and accused Ryff of holding his gloves throughout the fight.

"If he ever comes out my way (California) I'll knock him out, said the 25-year-old Lopes who dropped his seventh fight against 33 victories and two draws.

Podres Suffers Chest Injury

BROOKLYN (UP) — Southpaw Johnny Podres of the Dodgers, who was a candidate for a starting pitching assignment in the World Series, may not appear in the classic at all because of a chest injury.

The Dodgers learned Friday night that the 22-year-old Podres is suffering from a torn cartilege on the right side of his chest, and club physician Dr. Eugene Zorn, who examined him, said it was doubtful whether he would be able to pitch in the World Series.

If Podres is unavailable for the series, Dodger vice-president Buzzy Bavasi will ask commissioner Ford Frick for permission to bring up lefthander Ken Lehman from Montreal of the International League where he compiled a 22-9 record this season.

Podres, suffered the injury to his chest when he ran into batting fungoes during pre-game practice before the Dodgers left on their last road trip two weeks ago.

Brooklyn Gives Dodgers Welcome

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (UP)—Brooklyns unpredictable baseball fans, who have given their own Dodgers the "Bronx Cheer' 'on occasion, gave them a rousing pennant-winning welcome Friday during a two and-a-half mile victory parade.

It marked the first glimpse Brooklyn fans had of the Dodgers since they clinched their ninth National League pennant at Milwaukee, Sept. 8.

Those Stalwart Hard-To-Keep-Down New York Yankees Bob Up In First Place Again

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The hard-to-keep-down Yankees bobbed up in first place again today, but don't go too far away because Ol Casey Stengel is pretty sure that two percentage points won't settle the American Leagues palpitating pennant race.

Stengels stalwarts took over the lead on a percentage basis — .614 to .612 — when they beat the Red Sox, 5-4, in a hair-raising finish Friday night while the Indians fell to second place by dropping a 3-0 decision to the Tigers.

Yogi Berra is known up and down the league as a bad ball hitter but he never hit two better ones for the Yankee cause than he did against Boston. Berra pickled a ninth inning pitch off Ellis Kinder for his second homer of the game to return the Bronx Bombers to first place for the first time since Aug. 29.

Berra also homered in the fifth inning and just before he connected for his game-winning wallop, Hank Bauer slammed a home run to tie the score at 4-all.

Former Teammate Hurts Indians

Until Bauer and Berra rapped their homers to reward relief pitcher Jim Konstanty with his seventh victory of the year, Cleveland looked like it would hold on to first place despite the loss to Detroit.

What hurt the Indians most was that the defeat was inflicted by former teammate Steve Gromek, who checked the Tribe on three hits after relieving starter Billy Hoeft in the fourth inning.

The Tigers were stopped by Early Wynn until the seventh inning when an error by Bobby Avila set up a bases-loaded situation, Earl Torgeson, a National League discard, then came through with a two-run single and the Tigers added another run in the eighth on Ray Boones double and Bill Tuttles single.

The Indians, now one game down to the Yankees in the vital "lost column, have seven games remaning while the New Yorkers have nine.

Three-run homers by Hector Lopez and Joe Astroth paced the Athletics to a 13-7 win over the White Sox.

The Baltimore Orioles defeated the Washington Senators twice, 5-4 and 8-7 in their effort to climb out of last place. Little Art Schallock was credited with the opening game victory while rookie Bob Hale singled home the winning of the nightcap. The two triumphs moved the Orioles within two games of the seventh-place Senators.

Robin Roberts, the Phillies' candidate for the "most valuable player award, registered his 23rd victory by defeating the Pirates, 8-1. Dick Groats second inning homer was the only run allowed by Roberts, who also won 23 games in 1953 and 1954. Willie Jones homered for the Phils as Max Surkont absorbed the setback.

The Dodgers snapped a five-game losing streak by beating the Giants, 4-3, when George Shuba's single in the seventh inning drove in Gil Hodges with the winning run. Reliever Don Bessent notched his seventh victory without a loss.

In the only other game scheduled, the Braves defeated the Cardinals, 9-4 with the aid of home runs by Ed Mathews and Chuck Tanner.

Ward, Hyndman Meet In Amateur Golf Championship

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—Harvie Ward, a 29-year-old automobile salesman who feels "I can go all the way, and Billy Hyndman, a 39-year old insurance salesman who told the starter when he teed off for the first round Monday morning that "Ive got a feeling this is going to be it, met today for the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Ward, the 1952 British Amateur Champion, and Hyndman will tee off for the first 18 holes of the 36-hole final at 9:30 a.m. EST. The afternoon round was scheduled for 2 p.m.

Ward, who is seeking the crown for the ninth time, was favored to defeat the tall, slender Philadelphian, who is competing in the tournament for the fifth time.

Neither ever has gotten this far before. Wards best showing was in his first amateur in 1947 at Pebble Beach when he went to the quarter-finals. Hyndman got to the third round at Minneapolis in 1950.

Both played steady golf as they won their semi-final matches Friday over the rolling 6,718 yard James River course of the Country Club of Virginia. Ward was one over par for the 34 holes it took him to defeat Billy Booe, the former Yale Football star, 4 and 2, while Hyndman was five over regulation figures for the 33 holes he needed to oust Hillman Robbins the 23-year-old Memphis State Teachers College student.

"Billy was mighty tough, Ward declared. "Every time I figured I had him, when I'd go 2 up, the first thing yo uknow I'd only be 1 up. He just wouldnt give up.

Ward, who at five feet nine ,is seven inches shorter than Hyndman, said he was worried until he won the 31st hole. He was 1 up at the time and hit his tee shot on the par four 333-yard hole into the rough.

"I decided to gamble for a par in the hope I could have the hole because Billy was straight down the middle, he added. "So I took a wedge and put it on the green, about 120 yards away, and the ball stopped eight feet short of the cup. Billy put his second on, seven feet from the pin. I sank mine for a birdie and Billy missed. Then I knew I was home.

The 175-pound Hyndman, who until this tournament wasn't known too well outside of the Philadelphia district, said it was the 30th hole when "I figured I had Hillman.

"But I sure did a lot of squirming before that, he said. "When I went 6 up after the first five holes of the afternoon round, I thought I could make it. But before I knew it, Hillman had won four holes and I was only 2 up going to the 29th tee.

"So I said a prayer there and the Lord answered. For I won that hole and then the next one to go 4 up again. Then I knew for sure I was in. But actually, it wasnt until I won the 30th that I really had a secure feeling. Hillman had put his tee shot in a trap and put his third in the rough. So I decided to play safe for I had a good drive. But I put my No. 2 iron on the green, 12 feet from the cup, and when I got down in two putts that was it.

Things May Be Different For Colts This Year

By OLIVER MORRISON
United Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP) — The Baltimore Colts had the poorest attack in the National Football League in 1954 but things may be different this year because of rookies George Shaw, Alan Ameche and L. G. Dupre.

The Colts field one of the best defensive platoons in the league they wound up last in the Western Division with a 3-9 record because they scored only 131 points — the poorest offensive showing in the 12-team pro circuit.

That scoring weakness forced head coach Weeb Ewbank to concentrate on adding offensive talent during the NFL draft last January. Luckily, he won the bonus choice and promptly selected Shaw the Oregon State quarterback who led the nations major colleges in total offense last year with 1,536 yards.

Ewbanks number one choice in the regular draft was Ameche, the All-America fullback from Wisconsin. His third choice was Dupre of Baylor, one of the outstanding backs in the southwest conference.

"It is too soon to say that these three youngsters will become stars in the rugged pro competition. But they have looked mighty promising in exhibition games.

Shaw and Dupre carried most of the offensive load against the New York Giants recently. Shaw scored both Colt touchdowns in a 17-14 defeat, the first coming on a 62-yard run when he chose to run instead of pass.

Shaw, who stands 6-1 and weighs 180 pounds, has been throwing twice as much as the more experienced Gary Kerkorian and figures to be Ewbanks No. 1 quarterback.

Ameche hasnt lived up to his All-America notices yet but that is nothing new in the NFL. He has shown plenty of power and a tremendous will to learn "post-graduate football.

Dick Szymanski of Notre Dame, Dick Young of Chattanooga and Dick Chorovich of Miami (Ohio) University are three other rookies who have shown ability.

Art Donovan, all-pro tackle, and end Dino Marchetti head the rugged defensive line.

But souping up the offense has been Ewbanks big problem.

Etna-Troy Cubs Take 3rd Game Of Season Beating Jefferson 3-1

The Etna-Troy Cubs won their third grade school baseball game Thursday when they downed the Jefferson Center team by a score of 3-1. The Cubs haven't lost a game this season.

Robertson with two home runs paved the way for the Cubs' win with Tuggle doing a good job on the mound to hold the losers to a single run. Mowrey pitched for Jefferson.

Players for Etna-Troy were Tuggle, pitcher; Terman ss; Franks 2nd; Wise, Wolfe and Van Wey cf; Lundy and Krider lf; Robertson c; Ostermeyer 1st; Sheets and Burnau rf and Johnson, Long and Runk 3rd.

The Jefferson players seeing action were Pittenger ss; Doudt 1st; Mowrey p; Phillips 3rd; Meyers c; Butcher lf; Tschantz 2nd; Evans rf and Loma, Snimer and Wagner cf.

Fearless Fraley's Facts And Figures

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) — Fearless Fraleys facts and figures from the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship:

Billy Hyndman, the Philadelphia insurance broker who plays in todays finals, is listed at 39 years or age. But if ou take Mrs. Hyndmans word for it, Billy is giving it the Satchel Paige.

"I don't care what he says," she asserted firmly after driving in from their Abington, Pa., home for the semi-finals, "He's 41."

USGA officials frown on the occasional temperamental outbursts of Don Bisplinghoff, the Florida amateur who before he was eliminated buried a putter in a couple of greens. But when it comes to temper, Clayton Heafner still is the champ.

During the Beaumont Open one year Heafner started the first round with a bogey five and a double bogey six and then on the third hole pushed his tee shot right up against a tee.

Lady Bystander Protests

"Pick it up, son, he told the caddy sulphurously. "Were going back to the clubhouse.

"You cant pick it up, said a lady bystander vehemently. "Ive got you in the pool.

"Okay, let it sta there, son, Heafner said. "Now lets go to the clubhouse.

John Kinder, the Plainfield, N.J., pro, tells about the time he had an unpredictable caddy named Sam. On the sixth hole in the New Jersey Open Kinder trapped his approach for the fourth straight time.

"Boy, are you lousy, Sam stormed, with which he threw down the clubs and started back to the clubhouse. "Get another caddy.

An official collared Sam and told him he'd be barred from every club in the district. Sam hurried back, apologized and Kinder let him take the bag again. As Sam picked it up, Kinder told him he had hit his approach and Sam started to hand him the putter. "Not that, the wedge," Kinder said. "Im in a trap.

Too Much For Sam

That was too much for Sam.

"Holy mackerel, he yelled. "Not again. This time he didnt come back.

Boston writers who are covering the U.S. Amateur, primarily of Celtic origin, ran out of home hopefuls in the fifth round so they adopted Bill Waryan of St. Paul. Only instead of calling him Waryan they made it "W. A. Ryan.

The story of the week at the amateur is another in the long line of Texas jokes. It concerns the fact that they don't have week ends in Houston anymore.

Seems that a fellow there struck 12 oil wells in one day and bought Saturday and Sunday.

Churubusco Edges Jefferson 9-8, For 2nd Win Of Season

The Churubusco high school baseball team won its second game of the season Friday afternoon on its home field when it edged out Jefferson Center 9-8.

The score was tied 8-8 when the Eagles went to bat in the last half of the seventh inning. They scored the winning run in that inning without a hit. Gaff up in the inning walked, stole second and third and scored on an infield out. The Eagles had overcome an 8-2 deficit with five runs in the fifth inning and one in the sixth to tie the score. They also scored one in the first and fourth innings.

The Jefferson Center Tigers had racked up the big lead by scoring in each of the first five innings. They had one in each of the first three, three in the fourth and two in the fifth. Then their pitcher Aker was taken out and Hollenbaugh was put in to face the winning Eagles in the fifth inning. Diffendarfer was behind the plate for Churubusco and Bolinger for Jefferson.

In the win, Churubusco had only five hits to Jefferson's nine and they also had four errors to the losers' one. However, when the Eagles got men on base, they were able to bring them around to score. Churubusco's Gaff had a home run in the fifth inning. A Jefferson Center rally was cut short in the fourth inning after Butcher, who had hit a home run, was declared out because he forgot to touch third base.

Dale Van Houten and Tracy Turner were the officials for the game.

Churubusco plays Wolf Lake Wednesday while Jefferson Center will play host to South Whitley.

Larwill Wins 2nd Game Of Season, 14-7 From South Whitley

The Larwill Trojans won their second county baseball league game Friday afternoon when they beat South Whitley 14-7 on the winners' home field.

The game was close until the sixth inning when the winners scored six runs on only five hits, a walk and a hit batsman and errors contributed by South Whitley.

The score was tied at 4-4 going into the last half of the fourth inning when Larwill scored three runs to take the lead at 7-4. They were never behind after than. The runs by Larwill came after Evans came in to replace Cordill on the mound for South Whitley. Larry Woll went all the way on the mound for Larwill with Cornelius and Mathias behind the plate.

Cornelius had to leave the game in the top of the third inning when he suffered a broken little finger on his right hand when it was hit by a foul tip from the bat of a South Whitley player. He had hit a triple in the first inning when the Trojans scored their first two runs.

In the Trojans' big sixth inning, Leedy also had a triple and Lundy a double.

In the game, Larwill scored 14 runs on 13 hits and nine walks. South Whitley had seven runs on seven hits and six walks.

The win was the third over-all for Larwill, since they also beat Cromwell 5-4 Tuesday in a non-county game.

Larwill will play at Coesse Tuesday while South Whitley will be at Jefferson Center.

Rooting Section

NEW YORK UP)—The Boston Red Sox will have a "private rootifig section" all their own at Yankee Stadium today and Sunday when they play the New York Yankees. About 2,500 Boston fans made a "package tour" costing $25 per person and including round trip transportation, a private show aboard the train, reserved seats in a "Boston section" of the stadium and hotel accommodations.

ABOUT FLIES AND CITY POLITICS
You, too, will notice that THANKS TO HERB KNELLER AND HIS GOOD CITY CREW OF WORKERS AND TO THE CREDIT OF THE RESIDENTS OF COLUMBIA CITY.
The flies in this town are practically absent. To the mothers this probably means less polio, to the fathers it means less pollution.

New Stamp To Honor Theodore Roosevelt

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today announced the description of the 6-cent Theodore Roosevelt stamp of the new ordinary series. This stamp, the twelfth of the new regular series to be released, will be the first placed on sale at New York, New York, on November 18, 1955, the opening day of the American Stamp Dealers' Association Show.

The central subject, a likeness of Theodore Roosevelt, was reproduced from a photograph of the Philip A. De Laszlo painting. The color of the stamp will be red with white lettering.

Cincinnati Redlegs Purchase Dotterer

CINCINNATI (UP) — Catcher John (Dutch) Dotterer, who hit .221 with Nashville and Memphis of the Southern Association this year, has been purchased by the Cincinnati Redlegs. Dotterer was the Redlegs bullpen catcher in 1954a.

Rookie From Roster To Office Job

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Washington Redskins cut rookie tackle Len Durham from their National Football League roster today but gave him a job in their front office because they want him to try out for the team again next year. Durham starred on Army teams but had no college grid experience.

State's High School Football Coach Directory Revised

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana's high school football coach directory underwent quite a revision since last season, a survey showed today, with numersous mentors swapping jobs or throwing in the towel.

Missing from the sidelines are such veterans as Zeke Young of Aburn, Marion Crawley of Lafayette and Max Kidd of Brazil.

At least one coach gave up a college assignment to "step up" to a high school spot. That was Vic Overman who went to Michigan City of the NIHSC after compiling a 3-4-1 record at Franklin of the Hoosier College Conference.

Young was the state's oldest active head coach with 31 years experience when he surrendered the coaching reigns to basketball mentor Randall Lawson after three delicate eye operations.

He plans to continue teaching for three years and then retire for good.

During his long tenure, Youngs teams won 142 games, lost 63 and tied 14. They captured the Northeastern Conference pennant nine times. Young had four undefeated elevens—in 1941, 1946, 1947 and last year.

Crawley always had his hands full at Lafayette where he also is athletic director and basketball coach. He turned over the grid chores to assistant Norman Willey.

Kidd quit at Brazil after 15 years "under pressure" and was succeeded by Ken McCaffry, a product of Purdue University.

No major conference had a turnover as large as the North Central. Besides Lafayette, Logansport, Kokomo and Frankfort also signed up new hands.

Bob Hamilton, formerly of Butler University, replaced Clarence (Tuffy) Laymon at Kokomo. Freshman coach Harvey Roberts was elevated at Logansport, where Bob Faris left after a 10-year tenure to return to Pike Twp. (Marion County). At Frankfort, Fletcher McLane took over for James Baldwin.

The NIHSC has two other new headmen. Bernie Krueger, a former Illinois star, returned to Hammond, his alma mater, following the ouster of Lee Gellenbeck. And Victory Kay succeeded Augi Boto at Gary Tolleston.

Jake Inman whose North Vernon clubs grabbed the last five Southeastern Conference titles, moved up to Connersville of the South Central, succeeding Jim Hunt. North Vernon, in turn, elevated assistant Paul O'Neill.

Stuart Faught jumped from Linton to Clinton, succeeding Chuck Sanders. The latter became an assistant coach at Wabash College. Ball State assistant Al Scrivnor filled the Linton vacancy.

Woods Is Valuable Asset To Any Farm

LAFAYETTE, — Hoosier farmers can harvest a timber crop each year if a well organized farm woods program is followed.

E. J. Lott, extension forester at Purdue University, says the farm woods is a valuable piece of property and should be managed just as carefull as the rest of the farm.

Trees of all sizes are found in the good farm woods. Since a few trees reach maturity each year, annual cuttings will yield the farm owner added dividends. And timber can be grown on land too rough for cultivation.

Livestock should be kept out of wooded areas since grazing destroys young trees. Livestock also damages older trees by trampling roots and compacting the soil. Lott predicts a protected woods will grow between 200 and 300 board feet of timber an acre a year. It has been proven through research that there is no such thing as a good woods pasture.

"Safety strips," 10 by 12 feet wide, should be plowed and disced between the woods and sources of fire, such as railroads and highways.

Lott says farmers can improve their woods by cutting dead, defective, crooked, or diseased trees for firewood; post, or poles.

Vines which are growing on good young trees should be removed.

Farmers should use caution when using or selling timber from the farm woods. Enough large trees of desireable species should be kept to replace a barn or other farm buildings. Such a timber reserve is added building insurance at low cost.

Further information on farm woods can be obtained from the county extension agent or from the district extension forester.

Razing Of Station At Churubusco Nearly Completed

The Pennsylvania railroad station in Churubusco built in 1877 is being razed.

The first railroad came to the town in 1852 and the railroad changed hands several times before the station was built.

In 1871, the construction of the old Detroit, Eel River and Illinois R.R. was resumed and the first trains were run through in October of the same year.

About 1845, William Walker and David Craig settled on the land that was to become Churubusco. Walker laid out the town of Franklin north of the proposed railroad and David Craig the town of Union on the south side.

The town was named Churubusco for a village in Mexico where on August 20, 1847 occurred one of the most important battles in the war with Mexico. Here 9,000 American troops under command of Gen. Winfield Scott defeated Mexican troops numbering about 30,000 commanded by Santa Ana.

The Churubusco postoffice was established December 28, 1948.

Find Nine More Greenlease Bills

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The FBI today announced the finding of nine more of the missing Greenlease ransom bills, bringing to 42 the total recovered since Aug. 3.

The total now missing is $302,880.

Eight of the $20 bills were located at Chicago and the other turned up in Jacksonville, Fla., according to J. Earl Milnes, agent in charge of the FBI office here.

All the bills were recovered in Federal Reserve banks in the two cities on Thursday, Milnes said.

Bulganin Has Brief Meeting With Premier

MOSCOW (UP)—Ailing Premier Nikolai Bulganin returned from his sick bed today for a brief meeting with East German Premier Otto Grotewohl.

The premier, who caught a cold and ran a temperature during the visit here of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, had excused himself from all official functions Thursday and Friday. He returned to his desk in the Kremlin today.

Grotewohl, head of the 11-man government delegation from the German democratic republic which arrived Friday, also paid a courtesy call on Kliment Voroshilov, president of the Supreme Soviet.

Grotewohl's brief talk with Bulganin and Voroshilov opened the second round of Soviet-German negotiatins.

The first phase ended when Adenauer left Moscow three days ago after a five-day conference which ended with an agreement to establish diplomatic relations between West Germany and Russia.

President And Governor Proclaim Constitution Day

President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Governor George Craig have each proclaimed the week September 17-24 as constitution week.

Copies of their proclamations have been furnished the newspaper by the Colonel Augustin de la Balme Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

The President quotes the familiar preamble setting forth the reasons for adopting a Constitution, followed by a reminder of our debt to the makers:

"We the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common Defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

On September 17, 1787, the delegates to the Federal Convention in Philadelphia met for the last time and approved these familiar words now enshrined not only in our Nation's basic Instrument of Government but also in the hearts of our citizenry.

Led by the President of the Convention, George Washington, the great majority of the delegates signed the newly drafted Constitution, and on the following day their Secretary set off for New York by stage coach to deliver the engrossed document to the United States in Congress there assembled. On September 28, the Congress resolved to transmit the draft text officially to the States of the Confederation for action.

Let us give thanks for the wisdom of those statesmen of 1787 who labored "to decide the fate of republican government" and of their successors throughout our country's history who contributed to making our Constitution a living thing, a great taproot to feed and support the growth of our republic.

Governor Craig paid tribute to the project theme "Protect America's Future Through Patriotic Education," adopted by Miss Gertrude Carraway, president general of the DAR. He writes:

The Constitution of the United States was adopted by the Convention one hundred and sixty-seven years ago and became the fundamental law of the land.

Through all the changing years since that momentous action, alike in times of peace and of war, the Constitution has endured as the Charter and protector of our political and religious liberties.

It is fitting and proper that the birthdate of this cherished document be observed by every American citizen.

Around The World: Around The Clock!

By UNITED PRESS

ROME (UP)—Two United States Senators who visited Moscow believed today that the United States should re-examine its trade relations with the Soviet Union.

Sens. Henry C. Dworshak R-Idaho) and Milton R. Young (R-ND) arrived here Friday. They were the first of a group of five senators to return from behind the iron curtain.

During their visit to Moscow, they saw a Soviet atomic plant turning out electric power, a truck and automobile factory and a collectivized farm. They also had a two hour interview with Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Young said he asked Khrushchev why Russia did not import some of the United States considerable surplus goods.

Khrushchev said frankly that Russia would like to take our farm surpluses, Young said, But couldnt "because you men of the United States Congress put a ban on that trade.

Dworshak said the Russians apparently expect a great deal out of the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva next month and added he would recommend another examination of trade relations "with the aim of a ban only on strategic materials until long range policies are formulated.

POLPAICO, Chile (UP) — at least 13 persons were killed and 40 injured Friday when a passenger train smashed into a bus loaded with workers at a crossing near here.

TORQUAY, England (UP) — A British professional hypnotist, who claims he has cured hundreds of persons of the smoking habit, has offered to go to Moscow and help cure Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin of his chain-smoking and restore his health.

Henry Blythe said he believes smoking is the cause of Bulganins present indispositfon. He offered his services to Bulganin in a cable to Moscow Friday.

AUGSBURG, Germany (UP) — Two former officials of the Nazi SS go on trial here Monday charged as accessories in the murders of Adm. Wilhelm Canaris and four other anti-Hitler plotters in a concentration camp.

Walther Huppenkothen, 47, previously was acquitted on the same charge but a higher court ordered a re-trial. His co-defendant, Dr. Otto Thorbek, was a witness at the earlier trial.

Huppenkothen and Thorbek allegedly were prosecutor and judge during the trial of Canaris and the other four plotters in 1945. All five were hanged in the abortive time-bomb plot against Hitler.

Indiana Traffic Fatalities Heavy During The Weekend Heat Wave

By UNITED PRESS

An automobile rammed into four children on a Gary sidewalk and accounted for two of at least 14 Indiana traffic fatalities during the weekend.

Two Indianapolis high school athletes killed when their car struck a tree stump at high speed were among the weekend dead ranging in age from 22 months to 85 years as motorists by the thousands headed for recreation areas to escape a late summer heat wave.

At Gary, John Jones, 57, Gary, was charged with reckless homicide in the sidewalk deaths of John Nash 8, and Dorothy Holly, 13. His car struck them, Dorothy's brother John and Arthur McCloud, 15, when it swerved out of control on railroad tracks and mowed them down Sunday night.

At Indianapolis, two Ben Davis High School athletes were victims of a Sunday crash.

IH Workers In Some Cities Return To Work

Fort Wayne Workers To Vote Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Indiana's biggest strike, involving about 12,500 International Harvester workers, was over today, but another walkout threatened and a third strike was averted.

Harvester workers at Indianapolis, Evansville and Richmond began streaming back to their jobs today following ratification of a new three-year contract to end their 26-day strike, Fort Wayne workers will vote on ratification tonight.

The pact between the CIO United Auto Workers and the company was negotiated Saturday at Chicago.

Returning to work were 3,100 Harvester employes at Indianapolis, 2,700 at Evansville and 600 in Richmond. Still out, pending ratification of the pact, were 6100 workers at Fort Wayne.

Meanwhile workers at the Guide Lap Division of General Motors in Anderson voted overwhelmingly to strike unless a work schedules dispute is settled by company and union negotiations this week.

About 4,000 CIO United Auto Workers would be affected by the walkout. The employes claim the new schedules constitute a "speed-up."

At Connersville, UAW members Sunday ratified a new 18-month contract with the American Kitchens Division of Avco Manufacturing Co. to avert a strike by about 1,200 employes.

The agreement included a pension program, an immediate five-cent hourly pay increase for non-incentive workers and another three per cent across-the-board wage hike Sept. 16, 1956, plus fringe benefits.

Leaders Of Both Parties Plan For Conventions

Lay Groundwork For 1956 Campaign

CHICAGO (UP)—Top leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties met today to lay the groundwork for their 1956 conventions and presidential campaigns.

The Democrats beefed up their talks by calling a group of former federal agricultural officials to discuss the farm "crisis," which they hope will provide major ammunition for their presidential bid next year.

Meanwhile, top officials of both parties met to talk over plans for the conventions which will choose the nominees in the 1956 race.

The party leaders hoped to decide how to streamline the conventions, which will be held in Chicago by the Democrats and in San Francisco by the Republcans.

It was also possible that disputes over the seating of Southern delegates at next year's convention might boil up in the Democratic meeting. A special advisory committee's report on whether delegates should be subjected to a party "loyalty oath" was up for discussion.

The Democrats' 15-member farm advisory committee was headed by former Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard and included another former secretary, Charles F. Brannan, as a member.

Today's meeting was the committee's first and dealt with falling farm incomes.

Wichard, in a pre-meeting statement, charged that GOP farm policies are driving farmers "bankrupt" and "agriculture today is in dire circumstances."

The Republicans and Democrats held their convention talks in the same hotel, the Conrad Hilton, and both sides indicated they want to present a better show to the television-radio audience next year.

GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall was expected to lend a hand in the Republican talks.

Hy Raskin, former deputy national chairman for the Democrats, said "We want to make this a good, interesting, fast-moving convention."

Police Get Report Of Break-In Sunday At South Side Store

City police received a report Sunday of a break-in at the South Side Market, 107 East Chicago street, Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The report by Leland Williams, owner of the store, said that nothing appeared to be missing from the establishment.

The break-in was discovered by Earl Hoover, father-in-law of Bob Williams, son of Leland Williams and operator of the market, when the former opened the store Sunday morning. Bob Williams said that when Hoover opened the rear door to the store, he found the steel latch bar lying on the floor of a back room about 10 feet from the door. He said that the door leading to the grocery in the front was still locked.

Upon investigation, city police found that the screen on the rear door had been pried loose allowing someone to reach inside and unlatch the bar on the door.

The younger Williams said that he was in the store about 1:30 a.m. Sunday and that possibly he had scared the person or persons away before they could gain entrance to the grocery from the inner door.

Red China Frees Seventh U. S. Civilian Today

Missionary Who Said He Signed Fake Spy Confession

HONG KONG (UP) — Communist China today freed an American missionary, who said he signed a fake spy confession and later refuted it, in time for a joint birthday celebration with his wife.

Levi A. Lovegren of Seattle, Wash., seventh American civilian released under the Reds' slow motion repatriation plan, crossed the border at 2:02 p.m. (11:02 p.m. CST Sunday).

He said the Reds made a special effort to free him on his 67th birthday today. His missionary wife, who was waiting for him near the border, celebrated her 65th birthday. The happy couple and their daughter, Mildred, who already had baked a birthday cake, planned a celebration tonight.

Shouts of "happy birthday" from the party which met him at the border brought tears to Lovegren's eyes. "Thank you all so much for remembering," he said.

The Baptist missionary denied Communist charges of "espionage" on which he was imprisoned. He said he signed a "confession" because the Communists told him it was the only way he could get out of China but "I refuted it a year ago."

"They accused me of being an

Part Of Cast For Variety Show Has Been Announced

The purchase of the first ticket to "Funnybone Follies" by Mayor Thomas Hood officially launched the intensive ticket campaign for the staging of the riotous comedy farce.

The production will feature all local talent and will be held at Marshall Memorial Hall on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. It is sponsored by VFW Post 5582 and its Auxiliary.

Among the many entertaining sequences in "Funnybone Follies" is the Toyland scene, where many local tots appear as toys, with the Magic Lady of Toyland and the fabulous "Bubble Ballet."

Another outstanding performance will be that of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis as portrayed by Greg Woodham and Gordon Carpenter. Marsha Sevits appears as Dale Evans with her trick horse, Black Beauty, in a comedy routine.

Members of the Toastmaster's Club appear in a hilarious skit entitled "Here Comes the Bride".

A group of Columbia City high school girls will add a touch of beauty and charm to the variety show with songs and dances. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Lois Cunningham.

Tickets are available for the comedy show at the Rexall Drug Store, Garden Gift Shop, M. Strouse Sons, Hawk's Grocery, Clark's Market, Helfrich's Service Station, Grable's Service Station and from members of VFW Post 5582.

Sunday's 96 Sets An All Time High For September 18

Sunday's 96 set an all time high for September 18, and Saturday's 96 also was a record for the 17th.

Thus far there have been 39 days of 90-degree temperatures. This is still short of the all time record in 1953 when there were 48 days of such torrid temperatures.

This season got off to a slow start, as June was one of the coldest on record, having but two days of 90-degree weather. July had 15; August 16, and thus far September has had six.

In 1953, there was one day of 90-degree weather in May; 11 in June; 17 in July; 12 in August and seven in September.

This month has been very dry and the area is in need of rain. Thus far the .61 of an inch on September 11 has been the only precipitation.

Diplomats Of Four Powers Seek Strategy

Capable Of Breaking Down Objections To German Reunification

WASHINGTON (UP)— American, British, French and German diplomats searched today for strategy capable of breaking down Russia's objections to early reunification of Germany.

Diplomats of the four powers began meetings at the State Department to "study the whole concept of German unification and European security" as ordered by the July Big Four "summit" conference at Geneva.

The United States was reported ready to present a series of proposals for security treaties with Russia, and possibly with other Iron Curtain countries.

Diplomats at the current session hope to be able to recommend some plan to the Big Three foreign ministers and to German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano when those top level officials meet in New York the middle of next week.

Big Four Parley

All meetings are in preparation for the Big Four foreign ministers parley at Geneva beginning Oct. 27.

Pierceton School Enrollment Climbs To 541 For 1955-56

The enrollment at the Monroe-Washington school, Pierceton, for the 1955-56 school year is 541, or an increase of 16 over the total figure for last year, Howard Stouffer, principal, has announced.

The increase was in the seventh and eighth grades while the number of beginning students in the first grade remained constant.

A breakdown of the enrollment figure follows: Grade 1 - 49, Grade 2 - 44, Grade 3 - 53, Grade 4 - 44, Grade 5 - 37, Grade 6 - 41, Grade 7 - 59, Grade 8 - 52, Freshmen 44, Sophomores 41, Juniors 38, and Seniors 39

Students in the upper six grades met the first week of school to elect officers. Those elected are as follows:

Grade 7: David Mowrey, president; Janice Drudge, vice-president; Janet McConnel, treasurer; Gary Earnhard, and Becky Pletcher, student council; Vera Moe and Elizabeth Kaye Smith, class sponsors.

Grade 8: Mary Lou Jones, president; Robert Cole, vice-president; Joan Whitehead, secretary; Janet Danner, treasurer; Mike Mosher, and Judy Crouch, student council, and Marvin Heaton and Sam Nelson sponsors.

Freshmen: James Werstler, president; Lynn Pletcher, vice-president; Bobby Jo Leifer, secretary-treasurer; Max Spann and Alfred Plew, student council and Richard Rothgeb, sponsor.

Sophomores: Brent Widman, president; Max Jones, vice-president; Danny Cristoffel, secretary-treasurer; James Warner and Arden Leiter, student council and Richard Reed, sponsor.

Juniors: David Walsh, president; Kenneth Fawley, vice-president; Sandra Brubaker, secretary; Thelma Conley, treasurer; Judy Stouffer and Rex Rhinehart, student council and John Mowrey, sponsor.

Soviet, East German Leaders Meet Today

To Set Stamp Of Approval On Pact

MOSCOW (UP)—Soviet and East German leaders meet today to set the stamp of approval on a pact informed sources said would link East Germany more firmly with Russia and the Warsaw Treaty nations.

The pact also will raise East Germany to the same legal status as West Germany and seal the division of the country, the sources said. East Germany now bases its claim to independence on a Soviet statement that it is free and that the state of war has ended.

The sources said the draft treaty will closely parallel some of the arrangements now in force between West Germany and Britain, France and the United States. East German Premier Otto Grotewohl has asked for a formal bilateral agreement on such arrangements.

Experts said putting East Germany on the same legal basis as West Germany would strengthen the Soviet's demand that the two Germanys negotiate between themselves to clear the way for unification.

A key feature of the East German-Soviet treaty is believed to be saw pact system, the alliance among the nations of Eastern Europe set up by Moscow in answer to the Western NATO.

East Germany has abstained from the Warsaw pact but Grotewohl was expected to agree to join now.

There also was a possibility the Soviets would announce today their plans to release German war prisoners now in Soviet hands.

East German Deputy Premier Otto Nuschke said East Germany had "long ago" intervened with the Soviet Union to secure the release of 18,000 Germans. (West German sources put the figure at 140,000 including some 9,600 prisoners of war.)

The Soviet Union yesterday granted a sweeping amnesty to Soviet citizens who had collaborated with the Germans during World War II.

The amnesty decree, issued by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, said it was "inspired by humane principles."

36 Enrolled In 1st Grade At Larwill School This Year

3 Fort Wayne Men Injured In 2 Accidents

1 Driver Loses Control Of Car; Other Fails To Make Turn In Road

Three Fort Wayne men were injured in two separate accidents over the weekend in Whitley county.

One man was injured early Sunday morning when he lost control of his car on a curve and hit a bridge on State Road 9 about four and one-half miles south of the city.

The driver, Robert E. Humphreys, 31, was taken to Parkview Memorial Hospital, Fort Wayne, by a Hollingsworth ambulance suffering from a fractured left collarbone, and ribs and chest and head injuries.

According to Trooper Norman Pierce of the State Police and sheriff Galen Adair who investigated the accident, Humphreys was driving north when his car left the road as it entered a curve after crossing the Nickel Plate Railroad tracks. The officials said that the car came back onto the road crashing into a concrete bridge then coming to a stop at a gravel road intersection.

A charge of reckless driving was placed against Humphreys by Pierce.

Two Fort Wayne men were injured early Saturday evening in a one-car accident on a gravel road north of the Blue River Methodist church.

Calvin Krieger and Dale Pankop both were thrown from the car when the vehicle failed to make a turn in the road. Kreiger suffered leg injuries and lacerations of the scalp and the face. Pankop received minor injuries to the face. They were taken to Luckey Hospital, Wolf Lake in a Hollingsworth ambulance.

According to the report of the accident by Bob Hollingsworth ,the driver of the car was unfamiliar with the road and did not realize driver of the car did not realize that it came to an end at the intersection of a north-south highway.

The accident happened at about 6 p.m. Saturday.

Alert Coast All The Way To New England

Appears To Be Year's Mightiest Hurricane

By ROBERT E. GATELY

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (UP)—Awesome Hurricane Ione collided with the North Carolina coast today with 120-mile-an-hour winds—flooding towns and fishing villages, and tore the Diamond Shoals light ship from her moorings off lonely Cape Hatteras.

The mighty howler struck the extreme eastern end of North Carolina, already punished by previous visitations from the tropics, and aimed for Norfolk, Va., 140 miles to the north-northwest.

No deaths or injuries were reported in early stages of the storm but the coast all the way to New England was alerted for what ap-

Sheriff Recovers Stolen Car Before Owner Misses It

Sheriff Galen Adair Saturday night recovered a stolen car before its owner had discovered it to be missing.

The car, owned by Ralph Killian and parked at his auto parts yard on U.S. highway 30 east, was located by Adair on the Old Yellowstone Trail about three and one-half miles from the city on a tip from a resident of that area. The farmer called the sheriff's office when he noticed the vehicle had been parked for some time on the side of the road.

After investigation, Sheriff Adair apprehended a 14-year-old youth visiting friends in that vicinity who admitted taking the car from Killian's Auto Parts yard.

The youth is being held in Whitley County jail pending a hearing in juvenile court on a charge of vehicle taking.

Nixon Pledges Farmers Bold Help, Says Farm Issue Will Not Hurt GOP In 1956 Campaign

By KEITH L. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Vice President Richard M. Nixon pledged "bold" help to farmers during two weekend speeches in Indiana and insisted the farm issue will not hurt Republicans in the 1956 campaign.

He spent 12 hours in the Hoosier political spotlight Saturday—on a dusty farm near Wabash at the National Plowing Contest site and in Indianapolis for a $100-a-plate GOP banquet.

Nixon told both groups something will be done for the nation's farmers because they "are not getting their fair share of America's unprecedented prosperity."

"There is no farm depression in the united States," Nixon said, "but farmers are undeniably caught in a squeeze. The prices of the things they sell have gone down faster than the prices of the things they buy."

Defends President Eisenhower

He blamed the farm price sag on holdover Democratic policies and said the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program is "basically sound" and will be continued.

Nixon was optimistic about GOP chances in 1956, predicting good support for the party from both the farm and labor elements.

"I predict that in 1956 we will get an even greater percentage of union-labor votes than in 1952," he said. "Union leaders can rave and rant all they want. Results count. "American workers today have more jobs, less strikes, higher wages, and greater purchasing power than at any time in history, and they have peace to boot."

As for the farmers, Nixon said "It will be apparent to a great majority of farmers by 1956 that the Eisenhower farm program is in their best interests and that Democrats offer no alternative program. I believe we'll hold our own in the farm belt."

Dust Bothers Nixon

He said Democrats have no issue with which to attack the Republi-

2 Cars Damaged Early Monday At City Street Intersections

Two cars were damaged at about 6:45 a.m. today when they collided at the intersection of Van Buren and Line street.

According to city poolice, a car driven west on Van Buren street by Eli Walton Johnson, 75, of Decatur was struck by one driven south on Line street by Ivan Gerald Snapp, 48, of 310 West Jefferson street, when Johnson failed to stop for a red light at the intersection.

The entire right side of the Johnson car was damaged an estimated $165 and the cost of damage to the left front of the Snapp car was estimated at $20.

March Of Medicine Bows In On TV Tuesday Night

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—"The March of Medicine," TV's oldest rubber gloves show, bows in Tuesday night for another assault on the traditional taboos of television.

It was the "March of Medicine" which kicked off (doctors should pardon the expression) the whole cycle of scalpel and stethoscope epics now mushrooming on home screens.

Since its initial unveiling in June, 1952, the series has delved into such seemingly touchy matters as the actual birth of a baby, a breast tumor operation and the presentation of mental patients on TV.

Alcoholism and Cancer

This season, among other things, the show will report on alcoholism and the role of the atom in cancer treatments.

The program is staged with the cooperation of the American Medical Association and is sponsored by the Smith, Kline and French Laboratories which foregoes the usual commercial spiel.

"What we're trying to do is reflect what is new in medicine," said Fred Roll, the man in charge of TV activities for the sponsor. "We're in an area of touchiness and I'll tell you, sometimes the responsibility of it almost turns my hair white."

Effect On Listerners

The most gratifying aspects of the whole program for those who work with it, is its effect on litseners. "We showed an actual arterial graft on the program," said Roll, "and six months later when I saw the surgeon who had performed it, he told me that six patients had decided to go through with the operation after seeing it on TV. All of them had bten hesitant about t before that."

But perhaps the most satisfying incident took place after a new type of cross-circulation heart operation was demonstrated.

"When the people in one small town in Minnesota learned about it," said Roll, "they all chipped in to send an ailing little girl to the University of Minnesota for the operation. As far as we know, she's alive and doing well today as a result of it."

Bartender, Wife Face Arraignment

PHILADELPHIA (UP) —A bartender and his blonde beautician wife faced arraignment today in a heavily - guarded courtroom on charges they performed the abortion that killed heiress bride Mrs. Doris Silver Ostreicher.

Milton Schwartz, 49, and his wife, Rosalie, 42, are charged with abortion resulting in death, accessories before the fact of abortion, conspiracy and perjury.

The pretty, honey-haired bride died last Aug. 24th in the Schwartz's $40-a-month flat in North Philadelphia only a short time after she and her mother left their $70,000 ranch home in suburban Melrose Park.

The death took place exactly two months after she had eloped with Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle policeman, Earl Ostreicher. Her parents opposed the marriage and the girl left Ostreicher shortly before her death.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Silver, 49, wife of a one-time butcher who amassed a fortune of more than $2,000,000 helping to build the Food Fair Stores, Inc., supermarket chain, also was charged as an accessory before the abortion and conspiring with the Schwartz couple. Mrs. Silver was released earlier on $1,500 bail pending her release from a mental institution where she was confined with "bereavement shock."

The Schwartz couple and Mrs. Silver were present in the Schwartz flat when the death occurred, according to police. The perjury charge stemmed from the Schwartz's testimony at an inquest on Sept. 2 which resulted in a ruling of homicide resulting from an bortion attempt.

Other arrests were expected in the case.

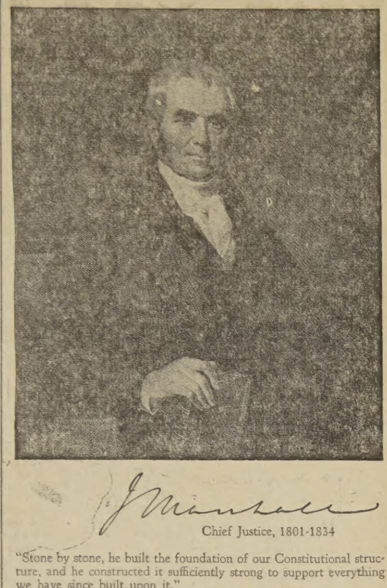
JOHN MARSHALL

BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION, September, 1955



J Marshall

Chief Justice, 1801-1834

"Stone by stone, he built the foundation of our Constitutional structure, and he constructed it sufficiently strong to support everything we have since built upon it."

—Chief Justice Earl Warren, 1955

Marshall, Great Chief Justice, Honored on 200th Anniversary

John Marshall, "The Great Chief Justice," whose bicentennial is being celebrated throughout the United States this month, is generally credited with having made a greater contribution to the foundations of this country as a great Nation than many a better-known personage of his time or since.

Born September 24, 1755, in a frontier farm log cabin in what is now Fauquier County in Virginia, the eldest of fifteen children, Marshall had little if any formal education, yet after his service as an officer in the Revolution became one of Virginia's most successful lawyers and then, as Chief Justice, was the Nation's first powerful expositor of the principles of American Constitutional Government.

Marshall served as Chief Justice under six presidents from 1801 to his death in 1835. He is universally recognized as our greatest Chief Justice and for having enunciated and firmly established the doctrine of Federal supremacy over State authority under the Constitution, the doctrine of "implied powers" by which the Supreme Court ruled that the Government has powers in addition to those specifically named in the Constitution, and the authority of the Court to invalidate these acts of the Congress and the Executive which it deems to be in conflict with the Constitution.

In the leadership that he provided the country and in the more than 500 decisions which he personally wrote, Marshall is credited with laying the foundation of much of modern Government and with establishing the Supreme Court, in early days regarded as a relatively minor branch of Government, as in fact coequal with the Executive and Legislatures and the greatest appellate tribunal in history.

As Chief Justice Warren said of him, "Stone by stone he built the foundation of our constitutional structure, and he constructed it sufficiently strong to support everything we have since built upon it."

Of his appointment of Marshall as Chief Justice, ex-president John Adams, a quarter-century later, wrote, "My gift of John Marshall to the people of the United States was the proudest act of my life."

Speaking in Philadelphia, President Eisenhower said, "John Marshall was a soldier in the War for Independence, a Congressman, a diplomat of outstanding ability, a Secretary of State. But his reputation for greatness most firmly rests on his services as Chief Justice of the United States . . . He made of the Constitution a vital, dynamic, deathless charter for free and orderly living in the United States.

A Presidential proclamation issued in July of this year cited Marshall as a "soldier, diplomat, legislator, and Fourth Chief Justice of the United States," who played "a vital role in the strengthening of our constitutional form of government! and said his long and distinguished term of office as Chief Justice, from 1801 to 1835, was marked by precedent-setting decisions which have been important factors in developing and maintaining the historic liberties of the people of the United States."

The Congress designated this September as "John Marshall Bicentennial Month, in recognition of the vital part which he played in the development of our Nation."

All over the country, schools, libraries, colleges, and national organizations are participating this month in Marshall programs. Inaugurating the general public observance of the Marshall Bicentennial were the ceremonies jointly sponsored by the U.S. John Marshall Bicentennial Commission and the American Bar Association on August 24th at Independence Square in Philadelphia, where President Eisenhower made the principal address and the response was made by Chief Justice Warren.

Commemorative programs and special events honoring John Marshall are being held in Washington, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Richmond, Williamsburg, Va., Philadelphia, and in other leading cities and towns in most of the states across the nation.

The Library of Congress in Washington is devoting the month of September to an exhibit of the writings of Marshall and books and articles about him. John S. Richards, President of the American Library Association, has requested all of the country's libraries to arrange similar exhibits.

"Decision for Justice," a half-hour television dramatization of the famous case of "Marbury vs. Madison," and of John Marshall's decision on the case when he was Chief Justice, will be presented on the "Du Pont Cavalcade Theater" on September 20th on a nationwide broadcast. A limited number of film prints of this drama have been made available for screening for local groups, through the auspices of local branches of the American Bar Association.

The U.S. John Marshall Commission is publishing an illustrated brochure on John Marshall with a text written by Edward S. Corwin, Professor Emeritus of Jurisprudence, of Princeton University. Copies will be on sale by the Superintendent of Documents in Washington.

The United States Post Office Department is issuing a 40-cent John Marshall stamp. This stamp, the ninth of the new regular series to be released, will first be placed on sale in Richmond, Va., on September 24th.

Mystery Shrouds Meeting Of Lane And Mrs. Comiskey

CHICAGO (UP) — The meeting between Frank Lane and Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, was shrouded in mystery today.

Lane requested the meeting today to settle the controversy he has been waging with her son, Charles Comiskey III, Sox vice president.

But the time and place of the meeting remained a mystery.

Mrs. Comiskey said only that she had received a telegram from Lane in which he requested an audience with her.

Her son, Charles, said Sunday night he knew of no meeting. He said he didn't know if his mother would meet with Lane today or not.

Lane said Sunday in Kansas City that he wanted Charles present at the meeting so they could both air their views.

Lane requested the meeting with Mrs. Comiskey last week to settle "once and for all" the broiling feud he and Charles have been waging.

The feud broke out into the open again after Lane was fined $500 by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick for "abusive and profane" language he used in a ball game while the Sox were in the thick of the pennant fight.

Charles reprimanded Lane while Mrs. Comiskey defended him, saying he forgot himself "in the heat of the flag race."

selor Douglas MacArthur II, one of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' most trusted advisers.

Others meeting with MacArthur are Lord Hood of the British Foreign office; Jean Daridan of the French Foreign Ministry, and Dr. Wilhelm Grewe, director of the political department in the West German Foreign Ministry.

The United States, along with Britain, was reported to favor a five-nation security pact as a means of getting Soviet agreement to a unified Germany. Signatories would be the United States, Britain, France, Russia, and a unified Germany. Purpose of the pact would be to reassure the Russians against a German attack.

British Plan Considered

On the pre-Geneva table also will be a British plan for a demilitarized zone 100 miles deep on each side of the Iron Curtain which now splits Germany in half. The United States, with French support, has not warmed up to the British idea in advance of formal negotiations.

A cloud was cast over the four-power "working level" meeting by new evidence that Russia is planning either a long delay in German unification or a scheme whereby German unity will be worked out between both East and West Germany and Russia.

The United States is expected to try everything within reason to prod the Russians into a unification program. But officials said one key point in advance planning had been approved at the highest level — the United States will not enter into any security arrangement unless Germany is unified.

Chicago Gangster Taken For "Ride"

CHICAGO (UP) — Police tried today to piece together the tangled crime career and married life of Dominic Christiano, who was taken for a gang-style "ride" and left dying beside a highway Sunday.

Christiano was the fourth to die of a gang that made a risky career of holding up gambling spots operated by the crime syndicate.

Police pointed out this alone was an invitation to death.

However, the 37-year-old ex-convict had also been involved in a gun fight over his statuesque wife, who once accused him of forcing her into prostitution and relented only when Christiano married her.

Christiano was to have appeared today on charges of shooting his partner in a restaurant venture, George Wilson, in an argument about the red-haired Mrs. Josephine (Vicki) Christiano, 27.

Wilson, who was wounded in the leg in the Aug. 30 fracas, was missing from his usual haunts today and police launched a search for him. Mrs. Christiano, sporting diamond ear rings, ended another search when she came to the state's attorneys office Sunday night but she refused to make any statement.

Christiano was found early Sunday lying in a patch of weeds beside a highway near Chicago. He had been shot six times, but was still breathing faintly. He was dead on arrival at a hospital and was never able to name his attackers.

The dead man's car was found abandoned a short time later. There was blood on an armrest and the auto "reeked of perfume," police said. They believed Christiano had been shot while driving the car and was then pushed out.

The killers had scorned to take $904 in cash and a gaudy diamond ring found on Christiano's body.

At West Point, in the days when every room of the United States Military Academy had a fireplace, loose bricks were commonly found on the hearth. The space behind could be used as a hiding place for "boodle"—forbidden food or drink.

Dentist Goes On Trial On Charges Of Strangulation

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Dr. Asher Arnold Axilrod, a 50-year-old dentist, went on trial today on charges of strangling a young soldier's wife who threatened to "tell the world" he had made her pregnant.

Axilrod, who has pleaded innocent to the first degree murder charges, is accused of killing Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Moonen, 23, last April 22 and leaving her body in the fashionable Lake of the Isles neighborhood.

The trial began today before District Judge Leslie L. Anderson. Selection of a jury was expected to take a week.

The stocky, dark-haired dentist is accused of giving Mrs. Moonen a sedative when she visited him as a patient and of then making her pregnant.

He has admitted he took the young woman for a car ride April 22 and said he became enraged when she accused him of making her pregnant. But Axilrod insists he "blacked out" after Mrs. Moonen made the charge and that when he recovered consciousness she was gone.

Subsoiling Season Is Approaching

LAFAYETTE, — Hoosier farmers interested in subsoiling are reminded that the most effective soil shattering season is approaching.

Purdue University agricultural engineers say that subsoiling is most effective when the soil is dry and hard. Each year subsoilers become more popular as tools for breaking up hard pan or compacted soil layers.

When the subsoilers are pulled through hard ground, a trench is opened and layers of hard pan are shattered on both sides of the implement.

Draft of the machine is not much greater when the soil is dry than when moist.

A. L. Neuhoff, Purdue agricultural engineer, has recently completed a preliminary study on the draft requirements of subsoilers in a number of soil types.

Results to date indicate that a tractor of given horsepower is able to pull a mounted subsoiler deeper than a trail-type machine because of increased rear wheel loading.

Indiana University Plans Pre-Game Openhouse Saturday

BLOOMINGTON, — Indiana University today announced a public open house for the new David Starr Jordan Hall of Biology Saturday, Sept. 24, to take advantage of the late starting time of the I.U.-Michigan State opening football game.

Starting time for the game, which will be televised by CBS was set by Big Ten ruling for 3:30 p.m. (daylight time), because of previously scheduled baseball.

Also open for public inspection will be the University's newest and largest residence centers, the Men's Quadrangle and Smithwood Hall for women, each of which houses more than 1,000 students; the Auditorium, the Union Building, and Ernie Pyle Hall, home of the journalism department, Indiana Daily Student, publications office and printing plant.

A special invitation to all alumni, parents of students and others who will be attending the game to arrive on campus in time to tour the buildings between 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. (daylight time) was issued by vice-president J. A. Franklin.

Jordan Hall has just been opened for classes. One of the most modern and complete buildings for scientific study in the country, it houses the departments of bacteriology, botany and zoology. The structure took three years to build. It is now the largest classroom and laboratory building on campus.

Franklin urged visitors to the open house who also intend to go to the football game to park near the stadium and make the tour on foot. Signs will be posted to guide visitors.

Select Becoming Fall Fashions

LAFAYETTE, — "From the wide range in fall fashions, you will find a style that is becoming to your figure," reports Mrs. Lottie E. Sumner, extension clothing specialist, Purdue University.

"As you shop for your fall wardrobe you will see fashions in sheath-line, princess, Empire, form-fitting fronts with loose backs, and long, tight-fitting or full sleeves," Mrs. Sumner said. Skirts with modified fullness are still popular. Shoulder lines remain normal with little or no padding, but extra width may be added in the upper sleeve, leg-of-mutton style. This type sleeve is suitable for the tall, narrow-shouldered person. The princess and Empier fashions are becoming to slender figures. Hemlines will remain about the same, or a little shorter than the past year.

There are tunics for every type of figure because tunics may be straight or flared and any length - wrist, knuckle, finger-tip, knee or seven-eight lengths. The sheath skirt is a "must" with the tunic. Belts, half-belts, or no belts are popular. making the fashion more adaptable to figure types.

"When you are selecting your fall wardrobe," Mrs. ummtr says" you should keep in mind the general principles of line, color and design." Lengthwise lines are slenderizing and add height; crosswise lines make the figure look shorter and wider; and diagonal lines may give the appearance of length or width, depending on the angle. Light and bright colors seem to increase the size of the figure, while dar kcolors decrease the size. Large and widely spaced designs seem in increase the size of the figure. Small, all-over patterns are more becoming to those who have figure problems. Remember, too, that the very popular "separates" are more becoming to the figure if skirt and blouse, or sweater, are the same color.

The straight silhouette, long fitted sleeves, and single breasted coats create the illusion of height. Tunics and peplums, three-fourth length coats, contrasting belts, and double-breasted suits make the figure appear shorter and wider.

Fashion-wise there are fabrics for every figure - tweeds in many weights and textures, flannels, broadcloth, jersey, faille, velvet and crepes, fleeces, and fur-like fabrics.

Seal-O-Matic Asphalt Shingles
They hold tight in high winds
because they are Self-Sealing
Here's the secret: The sun's heat seals the tabs automatically because of a special cement strip on the underside.
The butt edges are sealed down by the sun's heat.
No fear of damage in high wind... wind can't get under the shingles.
Traditional shingle design.

This development of Johns-Manville research is the most important contribution to roofs in the last 20 years. Seal-O-Matics seal themselves down—grip the shingles underneath with bulldog tenacity. Cost but little more than ordinary shingles. Your choice of many colors and blends. Come in and see them!

We are Proud that Morsches Lumber Co. was awarded a certificate by Johns-Manville for its integrity in dealing with the Public and its contribution for 15 years of building towards better homes in the community.

Four Women Known As The Big Four Together On Mrs. Estlick's Birthday

Mrs. Don Poland of Los Angeles, Calif., who will be leaving Tuesday for her home on the West coast, after a visit at her former home here, entertained with a birthday dinner Friday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Charles Estlick, 311 South Chauncey' street.

The Estlick home was gaily decorated with late summer flowers. The beautiful birthday cake that centered the table laid for the dinner, was baked by Mrs. Estlick's granddaughter, Mrs. Morris Sheets of Laud, daughter of Mrs. Poland.

Guests at at the dinner besides Mrs. Estlick were Mrs. Ted Daniel of South Whitley, Mrs. Ruby Wilcox of Larwill and Mrs. Della Brookins, Fort Wayne. These three women, with Mrs. Estlick, started to school 77 years ago, at Old Center schoolhouse in Troy township, and have remained close friends through the years.

When the four women had finished school they were married and they, with their families, continued their friendship, holding reunions, dinners and other activities.

The combined ages of the four women is 332 years. All are in good health and able to enjoy the get-together Friday and are planning another get-together in the near future.

The four women attended the Troy Presbyterian church together and started to school when they were five years old. In reminiscing on their school days, they recall that they attended summer school and sometimes followed the rail fence because of the condition of the roads. They were not allowed to attend school in the winter because of high water, deep mud and sometimes because of ice and heavy snows.

Mrs. Kissinger Is Here From Texas

Mrs. W. H. Kissinger has as her guest at her farm home near Larwill, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Barbara Kissinger, of El Paso, Texas, the wife of the late William Kissinger.

Mrs. Kissinger will be here for the next week or 10 days. Mrs. Edith Briggs of Ohio, the mother of Mrs. W. H. Kissinger, has been spending the summer with her daughter.

VISIT THEIR DAUGHTER IN INDIANAPOLIS

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gillespie of North Oak street spent Sunday with their daughter Miss Marjorie Gillespie at the Kappa Alpha Theta House on the Butler University campus at Indianapolis.

Miss Gillespie left this city Sept. 5 to begin her sophomore year in the University.

RETURNS FROM MICHIGAN WHERE SHE SPENT SUMMER

Mrs. O. A. Stamm has returned to this city after spending the summer with her two sisters at Coldwater, Mich., and an aged aunt whom she cared for a number of weeks at Crystal Beach on Coldwater Lake.

We Seem To Have Most Of French Originals Over Here

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—A week in Manhattan:

Paris must have some fall clothes left on that side of the Atlantic, but the past 10 days have seen so many straight-from-Paris fashion shows here that we seem to have most of the French originals on our side.

The Fashion group, an organization of fashion writers, designers, manufacturers and retailers, collected an hour-long show of top French imports Thursday from various stores and manufacturers.

The general impression is startling — no belts no waistlines and skinny skirts on almost all of the daytime dresses and suits shown by the fashion group.

Severe black dresses and suits worn with incredible hats are part of the new import fashions from Paris.

Mrs. John C. McCutchen, mother of the Marine captain who walked away with $64,000 this week for his knowledge of food, says her two sons "learned about food from the start" by doing the grocery shopping when they still wore knee pants.

She didn't set out to teach her son, Richard, to be a food expert, however. And she couldnt have answered the question that won him the $64,000.

Davey Crockett may be waning as an influence on youngsters, but touches of the wild frontier are increasingly evident in fashions as more and more leather outfits are designed.

Latest in the leather fashions are a new suede jacket announced this week that is both washable and dry cleanable and leathers printed like fabrics. The printed leathers have a delicate, almost silky srface.

Seems an odd time to worry about bathing suits, but one swim suit manufacturer chose this week to hold a waterfront fashion show of the shape of next year's beach beauties. More covered up, said the Jantzen experts in unveiling their 12-nation international bathing suit collection. We'll be covered to the collar bone on the beach.

Rivers, lakes or coastline comprise 88 per cent of the 4,137 miles of boundaries enclosing Texas.

Hurricane

Contined from page one

eared to be the year's mightiest hurricane.

Lashing winds and mountainous waves tore the Diamond Shoals lightship from her moorings at 8:10 a.m. today and set her adrift t Ione's mercy.

The "Monstrous" Seas

A Coast Guard spokesman said the vessel was underway trying to maintain her position. The light ship was under standing orders to hold her post at all costs to warn other ships away from the rocky shallows some 13 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras light.

The light ship with 15 men aboard measures only 128 feet.

"That's like a canoe out there today," the Coast Guards spokesman said.

The Coast Guard cutter Mendota out of Charleston, S.C., was ordered to proceed at full speed to the light ship's aid. The Mendota was 200 miles south of Cape Hatteras, following the hurricane.

Winds in the area were reported 5 to 75 miles per hour and seas were "mountainous."

Two Navy jet pilots who flew through the giant storm said they were awed by the "monstrous" seas it kicked up just before it hit the coast.

Could Alter Course

A United Press reporter at New Bern, 40 miles from here, said "the worst flooding conditions in modern history" were in prospect here.

The Washington Weather Bureau issued a special warning that gales from Ione probably will howl as far north as New England by tonight.

The huge Navy and commercial shipping center of Norfolk lay only 40 miles to the north-northwest, the direction in which the storm was plowing.

The Weather Bureau noted, however, that Ione had taken on an "erratic" movement which could alter the course during the day.

As that hurricane, ninth tropical storm of the year, raked the eastern seaboard, its sister, Hilda hit the Mexican Coast near Tampico today with full force after a journey across the Caribbean Sea.

Winds hit Tampico an oil refining and port city 150 miles south of the Texas border, with a force of up to 120 miles an hour. At least one nearby town was reported leveled. A major disaster appeared in the making.

Hurricane Ione forced cancellation of plans for naval acceptance and builders trials for the new super aircraft carrier Forrestal at Newport News, Va.

Trees were blown across roads at Manteo. A number of windows were cracked and shattered. Flooding of basements was reported at New Bern and Morehead City. Rain-swept debris clogged storm drains and sewers, causing deep overflows in the streets.

The Red Cross manned disaster centers all along the coast. The National Guard stood by with trucks to aid in evacuation of flooded areas. Schools were closed in many sections.

The battleship USS Iowa, the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga and the heavy cruiser USS Albany steamed to sea to ride out the blow. Ninety other vessels of the Atlantic Fleet—including 40 destroyers and the heavy cruisers Macon, Newport News and Roanoke—were ordered to hurricane anchorage in the Chesapeake Bay.

Weathermen warned the whirler's brief overland excursion in eastern North Carolina would not lessen Ione's punch, although the tempest might veer from its northwestward course to a more northerly one.

Gales spanning a 535-mile area engulfed a broad stretch of the ocean from Cape Hatteras northouter banks extending through the ward to Norfolk, Va., in narrow strips populous with resort homes.

Chief forecaster Gordon Dunn of the Miami Weather Bureau said Ione "definitely is the biggest thing this season" and "as far as the coastline is concerned is more dangerous than any storm that hit this year or last year."

Vacationers fled the North Carolina resort beaches in droves ahead of the gales last night. Storefronts of Morehead City and other towns near the coast were boarded up.

Red Cross and Civil Defense officials set in motion their elaborate relief prepations. Military bases went on hurricane alerts.

The teeming port city of Norfolk, Va., was warned of possible dangerous flooding. Alerts were extended through Delaware, New Jersey, New York and most of New England to Boston, Mass., some 650 miles northeast of Hatteras.

An armada of hundreds of ships of the Atlantic Fleet Mine Force moorings in Norfolk waters sped to safer anchorages up the Charleston River while big ships of the Norfolk Navy Yard put out to sea.

A POINTER

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. —(UP) — Roger Coppenbarger, filling station attendant, scared off two men who pulled a gun on him and demanded his money, simply by pointing a finger at a squad car that had just stopped for a traffic signal across the street. The men fled.

Have a clip fastened to the cabinet door at the mixing center. Use the clip to hold a recipe while cooking. This saves a "dirty face" on the cards and the recipe is readily visible.

Backstairs At The Summer White House

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DENVER (UP)—Backstairs at the summer White House:

President Eisenhower's wife Mamie hasn't gone shopping much since she arrived to share her husband's Colorado vacation, but when she does she likes to browse around the stores like any other housewife.

She wants to be sure she doesn't overlook something.

During one of her two shopping expeditions so far to a downtwn Denver store she decided to look at some dresses.

The delighted store management was ready to send models and dresses to the fitting room for the first lady's private inspection.

But Mrs. Eisenhower told the store manager she'd just as soon "look through the racks" of dresses. She didn't want to miss anything that she might like.

The President's return trout fishing trip to Fraser, Colo., in the Rockies this week may be his last of the current Colorado stay which began Aug. 14.

But the White House still isn't saying when the President may wind up his Western visit and return to Washington. The best guesses center around mid-October.

Meantime, Washington newsmen covering the President are skeptical even about that. Already parted for more than a month from wives and families, they have a new slogan: "Out of the Rockies by Christmas."

Although the President's golf scores are carefully-kept secrets, Mr. Eisenhower himself doesn't cooperate sometimes when he has a good day.

Like any other golfer, he was quick to let friends know about it the other day when he came in with a 38 on the last nine holes of the difficult Cherry Hills Country Club course. That's only two over par.

The southernmost source of the Nile River, the world's longest, is 10 tiny springs 6,700 feet above sea level in the central African highlands of Ruanda Urandi.

Casey Stengel And His New York Yankees Have Pennant Virtually Locked Up Today

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees had the American League pennant virtually locked up today —and they "won the big one" just a year to the day after their fabulous five-year reign as world champions ended.

With Bob Grim, the rookie of the year in 1954, hurling no-hit relief ball for seven innings, the Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, Sunday and went two full games ahead when the collapsing Cleveland Indians dropped their fourth straight game 10-3, to the Detroit Tigers. It was on Sept. 18, 1954 that the Indians mathematically clinched the flag and ended the Yankees' record string of five consecutive world championships.

Can Stretch Lead

The Yankees, who've won 13 of their last 17 games, can stretch their lead to 2½ games tonight by beating the Washington Senators and they'll clinch the flag mathematically if they cop five of their last seven games. The Indians can finish with 95 victories if they win all their last five games but the Yankees already have won 91 games with seven to play.

The third-place Chicago White Sox, who've lost seven of their last 12 games including an 8-1 decision to the Kansas City Athletics Sunday, will be mathematically eliminated with the Yankees' next victory.

The victory made Grim's record 6-5 compared to his brilliant rookie campaign in which he won 20 games and lost six.

The Indians, meanwhile, suffered a humiliating defeat at the hands of 20-year old rookie Bob Miller, the kid pitcher the Yankees beat last week and whom Detroit Manager Bucky Harris promised to hurl against Cleveland, too.

Gus Zernial's grand-slam homer was the big blow for the Athletics, who took two out of three from the White Sox. Art Ditmar went the route for his 12th victory while Dick Dnovan suffered his ninth defeat.

In the other American League game, the Baltimore Orioles tied the Washington Senators for seventh place when the beat them, 9-0, behind Jim Wilson's five-hit pitching. The win made Wilson's record 12-17.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the New York Giants, 7-5, as Clem Labine made his 57th relief appearance but Willie Mays hit his 48th homer to retain his two-homer lead over Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski. Kluszewski hit No. 46 as the Redlegs crushed the Chicago Cubs, 12-5.

The Milwaukee Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1, while the Philadelphia Phillies downed Pittsburgh, 2-1, after the Pirates won the opener of their doubleheader 5-2.

Vogts Wins F-Class Hydroplane Race

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (UP) — Harry Vogts, knocked unconscious when his boat upended, fought back Sunday to win the F-class hydroplane race in the World Champion Outboard Motorboat races on the Wabash River.

Hap Owens of Bedford, Ind., was neck-and-neck with Vogts until his craft nosed over on a turn.

Earlier, in the third lap of the C-class hydroplane event, Vogts boat upended in the rough wake of the boats ahead. Vogts, of Madison, Wis., was knocked unconscious, but recovered in time to win the F-class event.

Burt Blaskie, Battle Creek, Mich. won the B-class event by nosing out Dennis Martin of Jackson, Mich., after Martin's craft dropped a spark plug.

Martin returned in the C-class event to win it from 1954 champ, Dave Livingston, Lake Village, Ark., after Livingston's boat developed engine trouble.

The Weekend Sports Summary

By UNITED PRESS

Saturday

ATLANTIC CITY (UP) — Irish bred Blue Choir captured the $50,000 Foreign-Bred Stakes at the Atlantic City track.

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)— Harvie Ward of San Francisco crushed Bill Hyndman of Jenkintown, Pa. to win the United States Amateur Golf championship.

NEW YORK (UP) —Lalun won the $69,400 Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct Park, in a race that was marked with three spills. Jockeys Tony Despirito, Sidney Cole & Pete Anderson were taken to Physicians Hospital.

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y. (UP) — Dr. Sherwood Johnston of Greenwich, Conn. won the eighth annual Grand Prix sports car race.

SAN MATEO, Calif. (UP)—Robinar won the $25,000 California Junor Miss Stakes at Bay Meadows.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UP)— Hungary beat Switzerland, 5-4, in an international soccer game at Olympic Stadium.

Sunday

BELGRADE (UP) — Vladimir Kutz of Russia was clocked at 13:46.8 to reclaim the 5,000 meter world record. His old record had been bettered by Sandor Iharos of Hungary on Sept. 10.

NEW YORK (UP)—Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees turned over $8,000 given to him on "Rizzuto Day" to start a scholarship fund "for some worthy student."

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — The Cleveland Indians gave nearly $16,000 in gate receipts from Saturday's game with Detroit to the March of Dimes in thanks for the recovery of outfielder Vic Wertz who was stricken with polio.

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Ted Kroll of Bethesda, Md. won the Philadelphia Daily News $20,000 Open Golf championship.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Danny Foster piloted Guy Lombardo's Tempo VII from behind to win the 1955 running of the President's Cup.

NEW YORK (UP)—Jockey Tony Despirito, former national jockey champion, was placed on the seriously injured list at Physicians Hospital with brain lacerations suffered in a spill at Aqueduct Saturday.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (UP) — Cautious Casey Stengel "ain't countin' any chickens yet" even though most everyone else already is counting his Yankees "in."

"I've seen this thing turn around too many times to make any claims about the pennant," said Stengel after the Yankees increased their American League lead to two games.

"Naturally, I felt good when I looked up on that scoreboard and saw the other side (Cleveland) lost again," he added. "It was nice to see Detroit so wonderful. But we gotta' keep winning. We got seven games left, you know."

CLEVELAND (UP) — "We just run out of gas at the wrong time," Manager Al Lopez said today. He sadly admitted it left him with little more than a hope and a prayer.

"Three games down in the loss column," Lopez muttered grimly after the Tigers beat the Indians for the third straight time, and the Yankees had made it a three-game sweep over the Red Sox.

"That's a long way to go—and we can't do a thing unless the Yankees lose a few. All we can do is win the rest of them," he said, "and let nature take its course."

NEW YORK (UP) — A quick return to duty is forecast for the three ailing New York Yankee players.

Centerfielder Mickey Mantle, who has a pulled leg muscle, took batting practice Sunday. First baseman Bill Skowron, who has a broken toe on his left foot, is ready to play with a cut-out shoe. Shortstop Phil Rizzuto suffered no ill effects from being struck on the head by a pitch in Saturday's game against the Boston Red Sox.

CLEVELAND (UP)—The Cleveland Indians turned over nearly $16,000 in gate receipts from Sunday's game against Detroit to the March of Dimes today to fight polio in thanks for the recovery of outfielder Vic Wertz from the disease.

BROOKLYN (UP)—Willie Mays of the Giants clung to a two-homer lead over Ted Kluszewski of the Redlegs today in the battle for the major-league home run championship.

Mays clouted his 48th homer of the season, and fifth in the last five days, Sunday in the Giants' 7-5 loss to Brooklyn. Kluszewski his his 46th of the season in the Redlegs' 12-5 victory over Chicago.

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The Milwaukee Braves led the major leagues in home attendance this season for the third straight year.

The Braves closed their 1955 home schedule Sunday when a crowd of 28,859 saw them beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1, in 11 innings to clinch second place in the National League. The Braves' total home attendance for the year was 2,005,836 as compared with the all-time record of 2,131,388 set here in 1954.

NEW YORK (UP)—The Broadway bookmakers think the Yankees are just about "in" as American League pennant winners.

Odds-men who only three days ago quoted the Indians as the pennant choice were listing the Yankees today as 5-1 favorites. Moreover, they made the Yankees an early 6-5 favorite to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series.

UCLA, Arkansas And Mississippi Teams Rank High

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

Now that the early returns have been tabulated on the 1955 college football season, pass and punt pundits today agreed that UCLA, Mississippi and Arkansas once again will rank high on the national ladder.

All three teams turned in impressive triumphs during the weekend and should be ready to shoot the works when the ball starts bouncing all over the nation this week.

UCLA, the No. 1 team in the United Press ratings at the conclusion of the 1954 season, opened its new campaign with a 21-0 rout over Texas A&M. The Uclans next run into Maryland, a 13-12 victor over Missouri, in an interesting East-West meeting at College Park, Md., next Saturday.

Mississippi hopes to follow up its 26-13 spanking of Georgia with another victory at Kentucky, while Arkansas, which presented new coach Jack Mitchell with a 21-6 triumph over Tulsa, will play the Oklahoma Aggies at home.

Ohio State Meets Nebraska

The remainder of last year's top 10 teams, with the exception of Miami, launch new drives for national recognition next weekend. Rose Bowl champion Ohio State will entertain Nebraska, Oklahoma will be at North Carolina, Notre Dame hosts Southern Methodist, Navy entertains William & Mary, Army plays Furman at home, and Wisconsin hosts Marquette.

Miami, beaten by Georgia Tech, 14-6, in their nationally - televised opener at Atlanta, has an open date this week then will warm up against Florida State before meeting Notre Dame at home Oct. 7.

In this week's other major games, Illinois will be at California, Washington at Minnesota, Georgia Tech at Florida, Michigan State at Indiana, Missouri at Michigan, Boston U. at Penn State, Pittsburgh at Syracuse Miss. St. at Tennessee Tulane at Texas, Baylor at Villanova, Washington St. at Kansas, and Kansas St. at Iowa.

New Coach Adds Pep

Last weekend's games proved once again that a new coach always provides his team with added incentive, at least in opening battles.

Paul Dietzel, former assistant coach at Army, gleefully watched his L.S.U. squad turn back Kentucky, 19-7; former Pittsburgh star Johnny Michelosen made a successful debut at his alma mater when the Panthers scored a 27-7 victory over California, and Oregon State blanked Brigham Young, 33-0, for new coach Tommy Prothro.

Red Wings Beat Toronto; Millers Win From Omaha

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UP) — It will be the Rochester Red Wings of the International League against the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association in the Junior World Series.

Both teams completed a 4-0 sweep of the final round of their league playoffs Sunday. The amazing Red Wings came from six runs behind to beat Toronto, 11-10, in 11 innings here. The Millers won two games from Omaha, 7-3 and 7-2, at Omaha.

The first game of the best-of-seven Junior World Series will be played here, the date yet to be chosen in view of the quick finish in each playoff. Manager Dixie Walker of the Red Wings indicated that righthander Duke Markell, who won three games in the playoffs, would be Rochester's first-game starter.

The Red Wings, a St. Louis Cardinal farm, won eight out of nine games in the playoffs in a finish that stunned the International League. After finishing fourth during the regular season, the Wings ousted pennant - winning Montreal, four games to one, before crushing Toronto.

Minneapolis, a New York Giant farm, won the pennant in the American Association and won eight out of eight in the playoffs. Omaha protested the Millers' victory in the third game of the finals and the final three innings were ordered replayed Sunday before the regular fourth game.

The Millers came up with seven runs in the final three innings to pay away the first game. Then they wrapped up the playoff finals in the second game with Rance Pless's two-run homer in the fourth inning and a four-run uprising in the seventh.

Ward May Not Have Time To Try For Open And Masters

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) —Harvie Ward, brilliant new National Amateur Golf champion, would like to try now for the U.S. Open and Masters championships but he isn't sure he'll have the time.

"I would like to add the Open and the Masters to my list of championships," Ward admitted, "because they are the only two I haven't won that I would like to in. But I can't play golf and sell automobiles, too. My job comes first. Golf has to be secondary with me.'

Ward convinced a lot of folks that he would have a good chance in next year's Open and Masters tourneys by the brilliance with which he subdued Billy Hyndman of Philadelphia in Saturday's final round, 9 and 8.

Steelers Sure They'll Have Good 1955 Season

By RUDY CERNKOVIC
United Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers are confident they will have a good 1955 season because they have practically the same team that humbled the Cleveland Browns, 55-27, last Oct. 17.

The Steelers reached the heights that day at Forbes Field. They whipped Cleveland for the first time in nine games and handed the Browns their worst National Football League defeat.

Considering that triumph and the team's other early-season victories in 1954, owner Art Rooney lighted a fresh stogie and predicted his Steelers would have their best campaign since he obtained a National Football League franchise in 1933.

"It's practically the same team that won four out of the first five games last year including that upset of the Browns," Rooney said. "That's why I'm not worried about our disappointing showing in exhibitions. Our team will get better as the season goes on—we're that kind of a club.

Pittsburgh took a battering from the Philadelphia Eagles in that fifth 1954 game and won only one of its last seven contests to wind up fourth in the Eastern Division with a 5-7 record.

Rooney admitted Coach Walt Kiesling faced a big task in developing a replacement for Bill Walsh, the All-Pro center who has returned to his alma mater, Notre Dame, as a line coach. Kiesling has been using Fred Broussard, a rookie fro mTexas A & M and Northwest Louisiana State, at center.

The club suffered another blow last week when Pat Brady, the league punting champion, sustained a serious leg injury in an exhibition game. Vic Eaton, a quarterback who has shown up well on offense and defense, will handle the punting. Brady is out for the season.

The team lost two of its best 1954 rookies to the service — offensive halfback Johnny Lattner and defensive halfback Paul Cameron.

Marchibroda Back

"But, on the other hand, the Army gave us back Ted Marchibroda and in a few weeks, Marv Matuszak, a good guard, and George Tarasovic, a defensive end will be back from the service," Rooney said.

Skip Doyle, discharged from the Army in time for the training grind, has been used as a defensive back. The former Ohio State player was a fine offensive back in college.

The club has experienced men for the offensive backfield berths. Lynn Chandnois and Ray Mathews will be the halfbacks with Fran Rogel and Marion Motley at fullback and Jim Finks at quarterback. The Steelers obtained the 35-year-old Motley, one of the game's great fullbacks when he was in his prime, in return for Ed Modzelewski in a recent deal with Cleveland.

Graham Begins Toronto Crusade

TORONTO (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham's crusade to awaken Toronto, widely known as the city of churches, out of its "religious indifference" began Sunday with the same enthusiasm that marked the opening of his crusades in London and Glasgow.

The Rev. Joseph Blinco, British Methodist minister who joined Graham's team to help with the Toronto crusade, said the opening meeting at the Canadian National Exhibition Coliseum "compared favorably" with the evangelist's first appearances in England and Scotland.

After Graham's 45 minute sermon 187 men and women walked down the long aisles of the Coliseum, stood in prayer at the platform's edge, and later registered their "decisions for Christ" in a side rotunda.

In Dutch Guiana there is a road made of aluminum and solid mahogany, notes the National Geographic Society. The road is based on a corduroy of mahogany logs, common in the area, and is surfaced with bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is extracted.

Kroll Triumphs Over Doug Ford

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Ted Kroll, veteran golf pro from Bethesda, Md., who finished on the short end of four playoffs in the past three years, had $4,000 worth of revenge today from his playoff triumph in the Philadelphia Daily News Open Golf Tournament.

Kroll sank a 30-foot putt to win the tournament Sunday on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff with PGA champion Doug Ford. They had tied in the 72-hole tournament at the Cobbs Creek golf course with one-over-par 273 scores.

Four other times—at Detroit El Paso, Cincinnati, and Cleveland—Kroll had gone into playoffs. Cary Middlecoff beat him at Detroit and Cleveland, Lloyd Mangrum at Cincinnati and Chandler Harper at El Paso.

He started the final round four strokes off the pace of Ford and Bud Holscher, the Apple Valley, Calif., youngster who eventually finished in a tie for fifth.

Doug Higgins of Midland, Tex., overcoming a four-over-par fourth hole when he went into a creek and couldn't come out, and Marty Furgol, finishng with a red hot 64, tied for third place at 274. Fifth place money went to Holscher, Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga and Paul Leary of Bismark, N.D., with 277s.

You Pretty Girls Do Not Outshine Mom's Generation

NEW YORK (UP) —Any pretty girls around who think maybe they outshine mom's generation?

There is an office full of proof that 'tain't so in a busy skyscraper here. File cabinets are crammed with beautiful faces recorded on photographs now faintly brown.

This is the headquarters for the Ziegfeld Club, a 1,500 -member organization that includes names to bring a misty look to many a man's eyes. Names like Billie Dove, Mae Murray, Gladys Feldman, the highest paid show girl of the 20's, and Lillian Lorraine the toast of Ziegfeld's Midnight Frolic in 1916.

The blonde well-dressed woman behind one of the desks did a hula dance in Ed Wynn's stage show, "The Perfect Fool," in 1921 as Vivian Thomas. As Vi Corey she acted in summer stock with Rosalind Russell. Now she is Mrs. Violet Phillips a housewife in Westbury L. I. and the treasurer of the Ziegfeld Club, although she never was a Ziegfeld girl. Other performers are admitted.

The white-haired woman at the other desk is Kathryn Dix, secretary to Flo Ziegfeld, Jr., from 1916 until he died in 1932.

"Here is our corresponding secretary," Mrs. Dix said, taking a photograph from a stack she had just removed from a file cabinet.

The picture showed a beautiful brunette seated demurely on a bench — covered only with a meager drape of net and a few sequins. "Madeleine Janis, 1927 Ziegfeld Follies," was recorded on the back.

"Those were wonderful days Mrs. Phillips sighed. "Each girl was an individual personality. Mr. Ziegfeld didn't want a standardized beauty.

"Just picture us coming out of the theaters then. . you didn't come out in jeans and wearing a scarf over your head the way the show girls do now. We dressed our hair carefully, and we wore beautiful clothes.

Mrs. Dix smiled. "And the girls had lovely natural figures," she said. "They weren't all heisted up with brassieres the way girls are now."

Their records show that approximately 75 per cent of the Ziegfeld girls married happily. Other case histories are less cheerful. Often a woman comes to the tiny office for help.

"We don't have much trouble checking to see if they were Ziegfeld girls and are entitled to the help," Mrs. Dix said, putting her photographs back in their drawer. "I usually recognize them."

Ward Says He'll Never Join Wedge And Wallet Brigade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) — Pro golfers contend that Harvie Ward is the only amateur who would make an outstanding professional but the new U.S. Amateur champion insisted today that he never will join the wedge and wallet brigade.

Harvie disclosed, after thumping Billy Hyndman in the Amateur finals by a landslide 9 and 8, that he almost turned pro after he graduated from the University of North Carolina. But now that he has added the U.S. title to the British Amateur crown he won in 1952 he may become only a "weekend golfer."

Ward obviously intends to become a pro of another variety.

"My business is selling automobiles in San Francisco," he asserted. "Of course, I'd like to try to win the U.S. Open and the Masters but I'll only do so if I have the time."

Handsome Harvie obviously intends to cash in on his reputation. Nor can you blame him.

Best Social Circles

As a personable amateur he has entree to the best social circles. His titles tend to make him even more welcome. Now, having won both the U.S. and British championships, he is a golfing rarity who will always be a man of distinction to prospective customers.

The decision to concentrate on business and make his tournament appearances "strictly for fun" proves that Harvie is as intelligent as he is skillful. The life of a pro golfer may look glamorous but it's demanding, travel - worn life where only a dozen at most can make a lot of money.

His announcement that "I will never turn professional" was cheering news to the U.S. Golf Assn. The last two amateur winners, Gene Littler and Arnold Palmer, both skipped to pro ranks. This caused the USGA to issue a manifesto without teeth urging amateurs not to compete in their events if they contemplated turning pro.

Look Like A Pro

Certainly Ward looked like a pro, at least, as he flattened Hyndman, a 39-year-old Philadelphia insurance broker, in Saturday's finals. Toney Penna one of the watching professionals, said as much and labeled Ward as the only amateur who hits pro type shots.

Harvie tied the course record on the first 18 holes of the 36-hole final with a 31-35—66. He needed only 28 holes to dispose of his tall, slender rival and was five under the card for that distance. It was a long, tough course, too, and the greens were amazingly tricky.

The extent of Hyndman's lacing can be fully comprehended by realizing that he won only one of the 28 holes.

Ward's irons were deadly and his putting was sensational. Hyndman just couldn't match Harvie's pro-type game. It was a case of a fine amateur against a guy who could be a pro but says he won't.

ABOUT FLIES AND CITY POLITICS

You, too, will notice that THANKS TO HERB KNELLER AND HIS GOOD CITY CREW OF WORKERS AND TO THE CREDIT OF THE RESIDENTS OF COLUMBIA CITY.

The flies in this town are practically absent. To the mothers this probably means less polio, to the fathers it means less pollution.

Now About Those Flies

We confess we do not know exactly what the latest official census figures are on the number of flies now present in Columbia City.

We're grateful that no one within the city has had polio (but somewhere in the back of our minds we seem to recall that a Dr. Jonathan Salk may have had something to do with this as well as the present Republican Administration.)

But We Do Remember This About Flies . . .

DO YOU?

Prior to the last Democratic administration of 1948-52, open trucks picked up garbage, spilling garbage from the trucks to the ground,, all in allmaking a very unsatisfactory condition for sanitation. We suspect the garbage drew a few flies, too.

BUT THANKS TOA PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION which purchased the FIRST City Sanitary Truck and DISPENSED with contracting for private trucks to pick up the garbage, the condition today is very sanitary.

P.S. The Present City Street Commissioner was hired by the last Democratic Administration.

Remember
A DEMOCRATIC VOTE IS A VOTE FOR PROGRESS

New Act Permits Only Six Months Army Active Duty

Reserve Forces Act of 1955 amends two laws constituting the foundation for the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 and the Universal Military Training and Service Act. It establishes a lesser military obligation for individuals who enter the armed forces after August 9, 1955, and perform active service.

Until August 1, 1959, a qualified young man from 17 to 18½ years of age may enlist in the Army Reserve for a period of 8 years and perform an initial period of 6 months active duty for training. During the 6 months period the enlistee will receive 8 weeks of basic training, 8 weeks of advanced individual training and 8 weeks of specialized training at appropriate specialist schools. Upon completion of 6 months active duty training, the individual will be transferred to a home town reserve unit, of his choice.

This act provides an opportunity for individuals enlisting under this program to be draft deferred so long as he participates satisfactorily in army reserve unit training and then discharged upon completion of his obligation.

Young men, between the ages specified above, attending high school and wishing to enlist under the 8 year program in the Army reserve will not be ordered to active duty training until they cease to pursue the high school course of inctruction satisfactorily, graduate, or become 20 years of age, whichever occurs first.

Detailed information concerning this program may be obtained by contacting your local Army Reserve Unit at 101 N. Line Street, above Squires Jewelry Store, between the hours of 9:00 and 12:00 on Wednesday, September 21.

Registered Holstein Ends Production Test

Announcement has been received from The Holstein-Friesian Association of American of the completion of an official production record by a registered Holstein cow owned by Monroe Kitson, R 4, city. Dictator Rag Apple May produced 526 pounds of butterfat, 15,318 pounds of milk on twice a day milkings for 339 days. She was four years and one month old when test began. Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of the milk for this record. This program is designed to give an official production record on every cow in the herd every year so that wise selection for increased efficiency can be made.

Truck Driver Guilty Of Taking Part In Murder

Of UP Correspondent Gene Symonds

SINGAPORE (UP) — Chinese truck driver Ong Ah Too was found guilty today of participating in the mob murder of United Press correspondent Gene Symonds last May and was sentenced to death by hanging.

S. Suppiah, an unemployed Indian youth accused with Ong, was found innocent of the murder charges.

The prosecution charged that Ong and Suppiah helped beat Symonds to death the night of May 12 when he was covering citywide riots that followed a bus strike. Symonds died in a hospital of a fractured skull.

Several witnesses testified they had seen the two men actually strike the United Press Southeast Asia manager; both men denied the charges and Ong said he was at home with his ailing wife the night of the slaying.

Goh Ah Pong, one of the two crown witnesses who positively identified Ong as one of the assailants, told the court his life had been threatened because of his testimony. Police furnished him a body guard.

The other crown witness, Seet Bag Cheng, testified he left a coffee shop with Goh the night of the Communist-led riots and later came upon Symonds as he was being attacked. He said the two accused struck the American newsman repeatedly as he lay helpless on the ground.

Seet said Symonds broke away once but the crowd chased him and continued to hit him until he fell the last time.

Another accident at a driveway killed 22-months-old David Smith, Michigan City. The youngster was crushed by a truck which was towing a car into the driveway of his home.

A head-on crash on U.S. 41 in Lake County killed Kenneth Kline, 6, Calumet City, Ill.

Fred Spurlock, 26, Lawrenceburg was killed when his motorcycle crashed into an auto on Ind. south of Greenfield.

Steven Dobson 4, Vincennes, was killed Saturday when he was struck by a car on a city street while trying to follow four playmates across the road.

Stewart Sanders, 8, Fort Wane, was struck b a taxi Friday night as he crossed a street near his home.

Isaac N. Bainter, 73, Greenfield was hit by a car while crossing U.S. 40 at Greenfield Friday night.

Benjamin Pravecek, 31, Knox, was killed when his car struck a bridge railing on U.S. 35 in Starke County Saturday.

Picketing Resumes At Perfect Circle

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (UP)—Mass dawn today at the New Castle picketing was resumed before plant of the strikebound Perfect Circle Corp., and non-strikers were barred from the production lines.

Between 75 and 100 pickets showed up. Their presence and nails in driveways prevented trucks from fanning out from the plant to pick up about 100 non-strikers who have kept the plant open during the long walkout of CIO United Auot Workers.

Company officials said the mass picketing was in violation of a court order.

Nixon's hay fever was aggravated by the dust at Wabash and he had to resort to a nose inhaler while handshaking his way through well-wishers among the 10,000 farmers.

Mrs. Opal Walters of North Manchester baked him a huge cake, which Mrs. Nixon cut up for the dignitaries, and Jake Schmalzried of Lagro rushed up offering a handshake and a grin.

"I'm one of those poor farmers who can't hardly get along," Schmalzried told Nixon, then added:

"All the farmers around here are up to their ears in money."

Memorial Rites To Be Held Tuesday For Laud Resident

Mrs. Minnie Chavey Dies Sunday Morning

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Smith Funeral home for Mrs. Minnie L. Chavey who died Sunday morning at 4:45, at her home in Laud. The Rev. Paul Clark, pastor of the Laud Christian church, and the Rtv. J. Maurice Thompson of Huntington will officiate at the Memorial rites, and the committal service to be held in South Park cemetery.

Mrs. Chavey had been in failing health for several years and in May of this year suffered a stroke of apoplexy. She entered the hospital at that time and made sufficient recovery to return to her home. On August 19 she re-entered the local hospital, and returned to her home September 3.

She was born near Laud July 23, 1875, a daughter of Benjamin Franklin and Martha Ann Maring Ihrig. She was baptized on February 5, 1889, and on December 21, 1899, was united in marriage to Eugene Chavey. They started house-keeping on the farm three miles west of Laud, and later moved to their newly completed home in Laud where they spent their married life. Mr. Chavey preceded her in death in March 1947. Mrs. Chavey was a member of the Laud Christian Church and the Laud Rebacca Lodge, 382.

The surviving relatives include one brother, William Ihrig, R 6, Fort Wayne; three sisters, Mrs. Edna Kaufman, Miss Ethel Ihrig and Miss Myrtle Ihrig, all of Laud. In addition to her husband, she has been preceded in death by three brothers and two sisters.

Friends are being received at the funeral home.

Lushen Lopshire Dies At His Home This Morning

Was Native Of Allen County

Lushen Alfred Lopshire, 608 E. Ellsworth street, city, died at his home at 11:45 a.m. today. His death followed an illness of the past year. A retired farmer, Mr. Lopshire and his wife came to this community in 1946 from Allen county. They lived in Jefferson township until 1950 when they moved to Columbia township. In 1954, they moved to this city, after purchasing the self service laundry in 1953.

Mr. Lopshire was born May 26, 1892 in Allen county, the son of George A. Lopshire and Jane Ewert Lopshire. On September 12, 1925, he married Miss Laura Baker, and they began housekeeping near Nine Mile in Allen county.

He was a member of the Uniontown Church of Christ, F. & A. Masonic Lodge of Roanoke, and the Zanesville IOOF.

Survivors of Mr. Lopshire are his wife, Mrs. Laura Lopshire, 608 E. Ellsworth street; one son Russell Thomas Lopshire, New Castle; one daughter, Mrs. Roger G. Miller, Columbia township; two grandchildren, Pamela Kay and Cynthia Sue Miller; one brother, Charles, New Haven; and two sisters, Mrs. Otto Graft, Waynedale; and Cora Geuth, R 1, Uniondale.

Friends may call at the J. A. DeMoney and Son Funeral Home after 2:00 Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Alvih S. Link, pastor of the First Church of God, will officiate at the funeral services Thursday at 1:00 p.m.

Backstairs At The Summer White House

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DENVER (UP)—Backstairs at the Summer White House:

President Eisenhower is trying out the newest type of putter in an effort to improve a weaker part of his golf game.

It's described as a "pendulum copper-plated putter," now in use by many o fthe top-flight professionals on the golfing circuit.

Ralph (Rip) Arnold, pro at Cherry Hills Country Club where the President usually golfs while here, steered the Chief Executive onto the new club in an effort to improve his game on the greens.

Whether i twill turn the trick remains to be seen.

The various country clubs Mr. Eisenhower visits seem to be outdoing themselves trying to provide for his golfing comfort and convenience.

Scooter - like electric caddy cars that carry him from shot to shot have become almost standard equipment. They speed up playing time and save wear and tear on the presidential arches, enabling him to play more holes with less time and effort.

But the Green Gables Country Club, which Mr. Eisenhower visited one day, turned out the "super" in caddy cars. It sported a huge ornate canopy to protect the President from the sun.

Two men carrying covered coat hangers were having trouble early one morning gaining admission to the Summer White House headquarters building at Lowry Air Force Base. They had no passes and were finally steered around to a back entrance.

Fortunately, somebody let them in, for their burden turned out to be two sports coats the President had ordered from a downtown men's shop.

The White House Correspondents' temporary press room in the downtown Brown Palace Hotel is probably the only one in th eworld with its own oxygen tank.

It seems one reporter wrote that the high altitude of the Rockies bothered him at times.

Next day, an oxygen firm sent over the portable tank, complete with masks, instructions etc.

Numerous Groups Of Civic Leaders Now Seek To Outlaw Internal Security Act Of 1950

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Internal Security Act which a numerous group of civic leaders now seeks to outlaw passed Congress with overwhelming support, smashed down a presidential veto and became effective on Sept. 23, 1950. Every section of the United States contributed to the big House and Senate majorities.

There is no chance that Congress would reverse itself on the penalties established for the purpose of curbing Communist operations. If the act is to be junked, the Supreme Court must junk it. The act was aimed not only at the Communist Party but at so-called Communist front organizations, including labor unions, if the latter became infiltrated.

The Communist Party, whose functioning is considerably hampered by the act, seeks Supreme Court action declaring it to be unconstitutional. The party has been joined in that petition by 360 civic leaders, as friends of the court, of whom freshman Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) is the major political figure. McNamara and his associates hold the act to be in violation of guarantees of freedom of speech and otherwise offensively unconstitutional. Further, they argue that Communists and communism in the United States do not constitutue a clear and present danger to the republic warranting the act's vigorous measures.

McNamara is the only congressional figure among the petitioners, Congress, itself, having okayed the legislation with such enthusiastic vigor five years ago as, perhaps, to persuade members that the measure had aupport of both depth and area countrywide. It was a catch-all Democratic bill, sponsored by the late Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada and Rep. John S. Wood of Georgia to which was added some requirements for registration of Communists originally proposed by Republican Sens. Homer Ferguson (Mich) and Karl E. Mundt (SD).

The whole business was somewhat in response to a special message sent Congress on Aug. 8, 1950, by President Truman. Mr. Truman sought additional safeguards against sabotage and espionage. He warned in that message against action which would violate the Bill of Rights. He mentioned the effort of "some people" to enact laws "which would seriously damage the right of free speech and which could be used not only against subversive groups but against other groups engaged in political or other activities which are not generally popular."

That language was believed at the time to be directed against the Ferguson-Mundt bill then pending.

Mr. Truman vetoed Congress' effort on Sept. 22 in a long message holding that the omnibus security bill was a "terrible mistake." His veto plea gained a handful of votes, but the act survived the Senate by a vote of 57-10; the House by 286-48.

The Supreme Court before this has outlawed acts which Congress passed with lopsided majorities. Congress or the administration rarely has failed to find a new and satisfactory approach which would survive court inspection or, even, discourage further adverse opinions.

Is Patient At Luckey Hospital

Mrs. Ben Gawthrop, 130 Hilltop Drive, was admitted to the Luckey Hospital, Sunday, as a medical patient.

Mrs. Hauptmeyer Fractures Wrist

Mrs. Henry Hauptmeyer, who fell while in her front yard at her home in Warsaw and fractured her left wrist and left hip was taken to the Lutheran Hospital in Fort Wayne Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Hauptmeyer was taken to the hospital in a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance.

Mrs. Pugh Has Major Surgery

Mrs. Zada Prugh, former Whitley county resident and now of Fort Wayne, submitted to major surgery September 9 at St. Joseph Hospital.

She was visited Sunday afternoon by her sister Mrs. Roscoe Brumbaugh and Mr. Brumbaugh of this city.

Has Possible Hip Fracture

Simon Ummel was taken from his home on R 2, to the Whitley County Hospital Saturday afternoon by the J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance. Mr. Ummel was admitted to the hospital for possible fracture of his right hip.

Condition Of Harry Hudson Satisfactory

Harry Hudson, 88, of North Main street, was reported in a satisfactory condition today at Parkview hospital, Fort Wayne, following major surgery performed Friday morning. He will be forced to remain at the hospital some days before returning to his home here.

Eli Whiteleather Hospital Patient

Eli Whiteleather, Larwill, is a patient at the Whitley County Hospital where he was taken Sunday afternoon in the Smith and Sons ambulance. He was entered as a medical patient.

He became ill while visiting near North Manchester, but was able to return to the home of his son-in-law, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Menzie, residents northwest of Larwill.

Leaves Hospital

Nick Eloph of Jefferson township, who has been a patient at the Whitley County Hospital the past eleven days, has been dismissed. He fractured his leg in a fall near the courthouse and it has been in a cast since that time.

Upon his dismissal from the hospital he was taken to the Bakle Nursing Home by the Hollingsworth ambulance.

Condition Of Steve Ruckman Satisfactory

The condition of Steve Ruckman of North Washington street is regarded as very satisfactory. He is expected to return to his home the latter part of the week.

Mr. Ruckman underwent major surgery Friday at Parkview hospital in Fort Wayne. His daughter, Mrs. Byron Kortier of Eau Claire, Wis., is at his bedside.

Retired Merchant Leaves Hospital

Henry Romey, retired hardware merchant who is approaching his 83rd birthday anniversary, was returned to his home on North Main street Sunday from the Whitley County Hospital where he had been a patient since Friday afternoon when he collapsed on the street. His brother-in-law, Adrian Eberhard, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Paul Romey of Fort Wayne, took him to his home where he was reported today to be in good condition.

agent," he said. "I was not. I am a missionary."

The Communists jailed Lovegren on charges of "collecting intelligence" in the Sikang area of far western China and of "conducting espionage." He had served four years and eight months of a five-year sentence.

Hong Kong police said no more Americans were expected at the border today. The Reds have promised to release a total of 41 U.S. civilians.

The communists Sunday freed three American priests after two years of captivity. They are the Revs. Frederick A. Gordon, Somerset, Ohio, Joseph E. Hyde, Lowell, Mass., and James G. Joyce, Clinton, Mass.

All three had been under house arrest and said they lost considerable weight during their captivity. Gordon said the Communists questioned them at long intervals "but they never charged us with being spies."

Plan Wardrobe Before Shopping

LAFAYETTE, — Before you go shopping, plan your wardrobe carefully for the season and you will avoid that "I-have-nothing-to-wear-feeling" later.

Miss Frieda C. Stoll, extension clothing and textile specialist, Purdue University, suggests that you actually write down all the garments in your wardrobe. This list will include coats, jackets, suits, skirts, dresses, blouses, hats, shoes, and acessories, such as gloves, scarf, purse, jewelry and flowers.

Study the list and decide which garments you will wear, which ones you should discard, and what clothing you can refashion. Consider what colors will harmonize with those you already have in your fall and winter wardrobe. Be sure to keep in mind the amount of money you can afford to spend for clothes and the length of time you plan to wear the garment.

Decide what you can afford to buy this year and what should go on next year's list. The big items, such as coats, suits, and shoes, are most expensive. Balance the buying of these big items among the members of the family, in so far as possible. For example, it is easier on the purse if every member does not have to have a new coat the same winter.

Miss Stoll gives the following suggestions as a guide to spending your clothing dollars: about 50 per cent for basic costumes - suits coats; 20 per cent for shoes and hose; 15 per cent for hats and other accessories; 10 per cent for undergarments; and 5 per cent for upkeep, cleaning and repair.

President Juan Peron's Nine-Year Personal Rule Of Argentine Ends On Fourth Day Of Bloody Civil War

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UP)—Juan D. Peron's nine-year personal rule of Argentina has ended.

His government announced today that he would resign.

He took the action under the guns of a rebel fleet which stood in battle array off Buenos Aires, threatening to bombard the city unless Peron resigned.

The rebel radio at Cordoba said Peron had sought political asylum in the Paraguayan Embassy in Buenos Aires.

The news that Peron had decided to give up in the fourth day of the Argentine civil war was broadcast over the official Argentine radio in Buenos Aires. Gen. Franklin Lucero, minister of war, in announcing Peron's decision to resign, said:

"His spirit of battle prompts him to fight, but his patriotism and love of the people induce him to renounce all personal ambition."

He Had No Choice

Actually, Peron and Lucero had no choice. Buenos Aires was in dire danger and the revolt had spread rapidly through the provinces.

Lucero played his last card at about the time a rebel ultimatum was due to expire. The ultimatum stipulated that the fleet would shell Buenos Aires unless Peron quit.

Lucero offered to negotiate a cease-fire, and invited the rebel leaders to go into Buenos Aires and confer in his office. The rebels announced they would not start any parley until Peron resigned unconditionally. But they did offer to send a ship into Buenos Aires, take Lucero aboard and talk with him aboard a warship in the estaury of the Plate River.

Rebels Bombard Town

Lucero's request to the rebels for a cease-fire was made almost at the moment that the insurgent ultimatum expired.

Presumably, Lucero's request to freeze the present battle positions was an attempt to prevent the threatened rebel bombardment of Buenos Aires and the oil refineries at Eva Peron.

The cease-fire offer was broadcast by the official government radio station in Buenos Aires. It said the offer was made in an effort to avoid further bloodshed. But at least one rebel warship was reported to have already started a bombardment of Mar Del Plata, a summer resort area 250 miles southeast of Buenos Aires.

The rebel radio announced shortly afterward that Mar Del Plata had been captured.

A radio broadcast, believed to be from the rebel fleet, had announced that Buenos Aires would be brought under fire at 1 p.m. (10 a.m. CST) unless Peron resigned.

The broadcast repeated previous warnings to the civilian population to leave areas around military objectives.

It cited specifically the installations of the state oil monopoly at Eva Peron (La Plata) and the Rio Santiago naval school, which it said would be shelled at 1 p.m.

Another radio broadcast from the rebel fleet warned civilians to evacuate a strip more than a half mile wide along the Buenos Aires waterfront.

The Revolt Spreads

The rebel radio in Mendoza was heard in Santiago, Chile, announcing that the cities of Rosario, Tucuman, Santa Fe, Catamarca and Nequen were in the hands of the revolutionary forces.

Earlier, the rebels claimed that Santa Fe provinces, containing Rosario, the nation's second largest city, had joined the spreading revolt.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department said today it had talked to the U.S. Embassy in Buenos Aires at 10:45 this morning and learned the Argentine capital was quiet then, and there were no reports of injury to American citizens.

The telephone conversation was the first after a 24-hour break in telephonic communications. The department received some cables during the telephone break.

Department spokesman Lincoln White said: "Things are quiet there. There are no reports of injury to American citizens or property.

White declined to comment on the military situation.

About 3,000 Americans live in Argentina. About 2,500 of them are in or near Buenos Aires.

Murder Trial Opens In Tense, Crowded Court

White Men Charged With Death Of Negro

By JOHN HERBERS
United Press Staff Correspondent

SUMNER, Miss. (UP)—The trial of two white men for the "wolf-whistle" murder of a 14-year-old Negro boy opened today in a tense and crowded courtroom of this quiet Mississippi farming community.

The defendants, J. W. Milam, 36, and his half-brother, Roy Bryant 24 appeared confident in the face of charges that could mean death in the Mississippi gas chamber. They were charged with the kidnap-slaying of Emmett Till of Chicago, because the boy allegedly insulted Bryant's wife with a "wolf-whistle."

Defense attorney C. Sidney Carlton said Milam and Bryant were "in very good spirits."

Anxious For Justice

Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham was assisted in the prosecution by former FBI Agent Robert B. Smith, appointed by Gov. Hugh White because "the people of Mississippi are anxious that justice be done."

Carlton said Milam and Bryant were confident of acquittal on charges of a murder that brought cries of indignation from many parts of the world, directed both at them and the state of Mississippi.

Attorneys said the two were anxious to get the trial over with and were ready to face trial on additional charges of kidnaping. The kidnaping charge could bring a maximum of 10 years in prison under Mississippi law. Conviction of murder could mean a life sentence if mercy is recommended and death in the gas chamber if mercy is not recommended.

Milan and Bryant admitted routing the boy from bed at the home of an uncle he was visiting at the tiny community of Money, Miss., last Aug. 28 and taking him away at gunpoint. But they claimed the released Till unharmed.

Group Of Teen-Agers

Sheriff George Smith of Leflore Count, in which Money is located, quoted the defendants as saying they thought Till was one of a group of teen-agers who had insulted Bryant's attractive 24-year-old wife at the Bryant's rural store by directing a wolf call and an "insulting goodbye" at her.

The half-brothers said they drove Till to Mrs. Bryant but let him go when she said he was not "the one."

Wright reported the incident and a widespread search for the boy ended three days later when his battered body was found in the Tallahatchie River, weighted down by a heavy cotton gin fan. There was a bullet hole behind the left ear.

Hurricane Ione Sweeps Well Out To Sea, East Coast Out Of Danger

NORFOLK, Va. (UP) Hurricane Ione swept "well out to sea" today, and the Weather Bureau said the East Coast was out of danger barring sudden and "radical" change of course.

A special bulletin issued by the Washington Weather Bureau shortly after 9 a.m. CST said the storm was "moving eastward away from the Coast." It was certained at that time about 200 miles east of Norfolk.

Conrad P. Mook, meteorologist in charge of the emergency warning center in Washington, told reporters that it would take a "radical change of course" within the next two or three hours for Ione to present any threat whatever to the East Coast.

Even that theoretical threat should be erased by late afternoon if the storm continues on its present course, he said.

Lower All Warnings

The Weather Bureau lowered all hurricane warnings long the coast.

Ione had lost most of its punch before it put out to sea.

But before swerving out to sea during the night, it struck savagely through North Carolina and Virginia coastal areas, leaving at least two dead and "tens of millions of dollars" of damage in its wake.

For anxious hours, it appeared that the storm, which packed 100 mile an hour winds as it came ashore, would continue its destructive course up the East Coast. Heavily populated New York and southern New England were alerted to stand by for a hard blow.

But the anticipated worst never came. Ione, after churning around off Norfolk most of the night, set off almost due east toward the wide open spaces of the Atlantic. Norfolk and the great naval base at nearby Hampton Roads escaped with comparatively little damage.

By early today, the highest winds near the center of the storm were reported to be down to 60 or 70 miles an hour—below full hurri-

The VFW Variety Show Will Not Be Held Here

"Funnybones Follies" Has Been Cancelled

Don Smith, entertainment chairman for the "Funnybone Follies" and Miss Ellen Dixon have announced the cancellation of the variety show scheduled for this Wednesday and Thursday night at Marshall Memorial Hall.

Miss Dixon stated that due to a last minute withdrawal by one of the local organizations, it was virtually impossible to replace the act on such short notice. The director of the show said she received no word of the withdrawal until Monday night.

LeRoy Loe, commander of VFW Post 5582, sponsors of the show, advised the newspaper that rather than give a sub-standard performance, and inasmuch as the show had advertised the womanless wedding, he and his committee deemed it best to cancel the entire production.

It was impossible to postpone the show due to future commitments of the director, Miss Dixon.

Loe stated that he especially wished to thank all of those in the cast who had given of their time and effort in rehearsals for the variety show.

Miss Dixon stated that although her contract called for such, she would receive no personal compensation for her ten day's effort in directing and organizing the show.

Commander Loe said that all those purchasing tickets for the show would have their money refunded by turning in the tickets to the seller or to his residence at 409 Swihart street.

June Hicks Reed Leads Her Class At Ball Hospital

Columbia City high school's 1951 valedictorian, Mrs. Max E. Reed, the former Miss Rosalyn June Hicks, finished her four years at Ball State college, Muncie, leading her class at Ball Memorial hospital training school for nurses and as a result has been presented with a $100 award which is annually granted to the student graduating with top honors.

Mrs. Reed and her husband, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reed of Warsaw, left yesterday for East Lansing, Mich., where they will reside while Mr. Reed completes his work toward an LL.B. degree at the law school at Michigan State University. Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hicks, former Columbia City residents, now live in Garrett where Mrs. Hicks operates the bulk plant for the Standard Oil Company.

Mrs. Reed, while her husband pursues his studies at the law school, will serve as a staff nurse at a Lansing hospital.

Craig Requests Surplus Foods

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Governor Craig requested Monday that Indiana be given an allotment of federal surplus cornmeal and flour for distribution to needy families.

He submitted the request half a week after State School Supt. Wilbur Young accused Craig of delaying it. Craig said he withheld the request pending approval of the project by Young and State Welfare Administrator Richard Sweitzer, Jr.

Bicycle Rodeo Chairman Donald Staples Lists First Three Of Tests For Saturday Event

The first three of the seven tests on which entrants in the Bicycle Safety Rodeo Saturday morning will be judged have been announced by Donald Staples, chairman of the Boys and Girls Committee of the Kiwanis Club, which will conduct the youth event.

The boy and girl receiving the highest score over the seven tests in the rodeo will each receive a trophy in addition to other prizes. Other winners will be judged within four groups: boys age 10-13, girls age 10-13, boys under 10 and girls under 10.

The first three tests described are: Balance, Changes in Balance, and Obstacle. Following the naming of each test, its purpose and significance is also given.

Details of the four remaining tests will be printed in a later issue of the newspaper.

Test 1. Balance

Coast for 30 feet on a straight line not more than four inches wide, with the foot on the left pedal and the right foot pushing the ground on the left side of the cicycle. The rider stands erect with both hands on the handlebars, but not sitting in the saddle. Repeat the move with the right foot on the right pedal and the left foot pushing.

Purpose-to test the primary sense of balance.

Significance - Young riders can develop a sense of balance as well as a sense of momentum of turning. It emphasizes and makes

First Snow Of The Season

FRASER, Colo. (UP)—The first snow of the season rimmed President Eisenhower's Rocky Mountain hideaway today with a vista of glistening snow-capped peaks.

A heavy rain during the night drenched the mountain valley in which the President is staying at the Byers Peak ranch of Denver businessmen Aksel Nielsen and Carl Norgren. The temperature dipped to 32.

Two Americans Cross The Border Into Freedom

Are Presbyterian Women Missionaries

HONG KONG (UP)—Two American women missionaries crossed the border to freedom from Communist China today. They said they were so suspicious of their jailers they were almost afraid to accept Red Cross packages.

The missionaries, both Presbyterians who were kept in the same jail for 4½ years, were Sarah Perkins, 63, of New York City and Dorothy Middleton, 42 Cicero Ill. They taught in leper colonies.

They were the 8th and 9th Americans the Communists announced on Sept. 11 would be "deported" before "expiration of their terms." Almost all the Americans were charged with some form of "espionage." The two women were charged with "sabotage."

Tenth Expected Wednesday

The 10th, Dilmus T. Kanady of Houston, Tex., a Shanghai businessman sentenced to 4½ years by the Reds, was expected at the border Wednesday.

They were the first ten of 41 Americans in Red China listed by the Peiping regime for immediate freeing under terms of an agreement worked out in Geneva conferences. Reports from Shanghai today said some other Americans

16 Cars Derailed Near Plymouth

PLYMOUTH, Ind. (UP)—Authorities today sought the cause of a derailment of 16 cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train in which a motorist narrowly escaped injury by flying debris.

The cars, most of them empty, jumped the track Monday afternoon and tore up 1,000 feet of main line. Through rail traffic was rerouted on a spur line around the wreckage.

An automobile driven by M. C. Knepper of Plymouth was showered by debris and damaged when it emerged from an underpass just as the wreck occurred overhead. Knepper escaped injury, and none of the train crew was hurt.

Two 1955 Graduates Are Enrolled In Wabash College

CRAWFORDSVILLE, — (Special) Two men from Columbia City have recently registered as freshmen at Wabash College, Crawfordsville. The two are: Lloyd R. Crampton, R 4, and David E. Kohne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Kohne, R 4.

Both men graduated from Columbia City high school last June.

The are among approximately 200 new students at the all-men, liberal arts college. This is the second largest freshman class in the history of the college, and it will raise total enrollment to an expected 600 students, an increase of 50 over last year.

Under the presidency of Dr. Frank Hugh Sparks, Wabash is beginning its 123rd year this fall. The college is in the midst of a two and a half mmillion dollar building program, with a campus center and two new student dormitories completed last year and the beginning of construction on a new library expected in the near future.

U. S., Red China Compromise On High-Level Talks

Will Move On To Other Points

GENEVA (UP) — The United States and Communist China reached a compromise on bringing political issues and the Western trade embargo into their high-level talks here today.

U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson agreed to Red Chinese demands to move on to other points in exchange for Peiping Ambassador Wang Pingnan's agreement not to consider the exchange of prisoners issue closed, diplomatic sources said.

Item one on the two-part agenda of the talks which started Aug. 16 was the exchange of nationals held in each country. Item two deals with "other practical matters" at issue between the two nations.

Peiping has agreed to free some 41 Americans it holds, and the U.S. has said that all Chinese who wish to do so are free to leave America for the China mainland. But the U.S. had insisted that the Chinese Reds complete their release of Americans before taking up other issues.

However, a brief official communique said Johnson and Wang "exchanged information" today on prisoner release, and then "exchanged views" on item two.

Thus, for the first time since the discussions started, trade and political issues were considered, marking a turning point in the conference.

Diplomatic sources interpreted the wording of the communique to mean that a compromise has been framed whereby parallel talks would continue on both agenda items.

An American spokesman said the "fringe" of item two was discussed today, but he refused to specify what items were taken up or what progress had been made.

Under the topic of "other practical matters" Peiping is seeking a high-level conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Production At Fort Wayne IH Is Curtailed

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Production at the International Harvester plant was curtailed today when 50 to 60 forge shop employes demonstrated in front of the gate to show dissatisfaction with a new labor contract.

A company spokesman said the demonstrators did not attempt to prevent employes from entering the plant, but by starting time only 40 per cent of the plant's 5,000 workers were on the job.

By mid-morning, about 4,000 were back at work, but production dropped from the normal quota of 74 trucks to only 16.

Company officials met with Tom Burns, president of Local 57, CIO United Auto Workers, and they agreed the men would return to work Wednesday until the matter can be negotiated. A meeting between union and company officials was set for 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The forge shop workers claimed the new contract which ended a 26-day strike of 40,000 workers in six states, did nothing for them.

The demonstration was orderly and no picket lines were set up.

President Now Renews Plea For Better Highways

Asks Motorists To Put Pressure On Congress

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower urged motorists today to put pressure on Congress for better highways.

He did so in a message to the 3rd annual convention of the American Automobile Assn.

Mr. Eisenhower asked the 1200 delegates "to speak up again and again for prompt action" by Congress "on a highway system adequate for modern living. . . . a modern road system is one of our great national needs."

Mr. Eisenhower's original proposal for a multi-billion highway construction program, financed by special bonds, was sidetracked in the last session of Congress. The issue is certain to have high priority in the next session.

AAA President Andrew J. Sordoni of Wilkes Barre, Pa., warned the motor club delegates that new highway plans could be endangered by political groups and private interests "which want the roads but do not want to pay for them."

Sordoni also said "the spirit of crackdown is abroad in the land" in enforcement of traffic rules.

"Helicopters hover over the road unmarked police cars and cops not in uniform lie in wait," he said. "Over a thousand radar and other speed detection devices line our major roads. Fee-splitting constables and justices of the peace make small communities potential traffic traps."

"We must work for the rule of reason and fight to the last ditch against unjustified crackdowns which, in the final analysis, do more harm than good," he said.

Toastmasters Club Elects Officers

The Thomas R. Marshall Toastmasters Club had a dinner meeting at the Moose Hall Monday evening.

Robert Leach was the topic master, Bill Meyer the toastmaster and the speakers were Louis Schalk, David Spence and Harold Van Voorst. Thomas Bennett was the general evaluator.

David Spence received the speaker of the evening award.

The following officers were elected: Robert Estlick, president; Milton Schubert, educational vice-president; David Spence, administrative vice-president; Harold Van-Voorst, secretary; Ira Webber, treasurer; Lowell Grant, sergeant-at-arms.

Franklin Schultz was a guest of the club.

Fewer Heart Disease Deaths In Indiana In 1954 Than In 1953

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —There were 349 fewer heart disease deaths in Indiana in 1954 than in 1953, despite the fact the population expanded.

The indiana Heart Foundation said 15,225 deaths compared with 15,574 the year before last. The drop in deaths per 100,000 population was even greater, from 373.2 to 357.1.

A sharp drop in cases of influenza and pneumonia during 1954 was credited primarily for the decline. In 1953, there was a flu outbreak in the first two months characterized as "esevre and widespread."

But last year the flu death toll was 70, lowest in Indiana history.

Heart deaths in 1954 included 7,484 persons below 65 years of age.

U. S .Confident Of Fighting Off Any Soviet Bid

To Give Red China United Nations Seat

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) —The United States rallied firm support today to turn back any Soviet attempt to give Communist China a United Nations seat.

An American spokesman expressed confidence that the United States and its allies would defeat the perennial Soviet resolution to seat Red China when the General Assembly opens its 10th annual session today.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was prepared to counter a Soviet resolution expected to be introduced by Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

Britain Supports U.S.

Britain announced it would support the U.S. stand and America's other allies were expected to follow suit.

The first regular order of business was the election of an assembly president. Jose Maza of Chile was slated to get the post with only perfunctory opposition from the five nation Soviet block which, if it follows precedent, will vote for a representative of one of its members.

Aside from Red China, the contest between the Philippines and Poland for the Security Council seat now held by Turkey was expected to spark East-West fireworks. The U.S. supports the Philippines while Russia backs Communist Poland for the seat.

Dulles to Speak

Vice Presidents and committee chairmen will be elected Wednesday with general debate opening Thursday. Dulles is scheduled to speak then, followed by Molotov on Friday. Observers expected the two speeches to keynote the assembly session and give some clue as to whether the spirit of goodwill at the Geneva Summit Conference extends into the United Nations.

Some delegations expressed belief Molotov would offer proposals on the nine-year-old disarmament stalemate, the top item on the assembly's agenda.

Aside from disarmament, two other top issues before the General Assembly will be proposed expansion of the atoms-for-peace plan and the possibility of a review of the U.N. charter.

Carl Simon Escapes Serious Injury When Tractor Rolls Over

Carl Earl Simon, 35, Columbia township, escaped serious injury about 3:30 p.m. Monday, when he lost control of the John Deere tractor he was delivering and overturned down an embankment on the side of the County Farm road at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing. Simon was taken to Whitley County Hospital by a J. A. DeMoney and Son ambulance. Hospital authorities said today that X-rays taken of his back, of which he complained, revealed no injury.

The accident, which was investigated by Sheriff Galen Adair and Deputy Sheriff Cal Watkins, occurred as Simon was on his way home with the tractor, which his brother-in-law, Carl Snepp, had just purchased. Simon told witnesses at the scene of the accident that he was crowded from the road by a passenger car and that the tractor overturned on him as it plunged down the embankment. He was conscious, when the ambulance attendants reached him, but was unable to move.

Air Conditioning Installed For Five Rooms At County Hospital At Total Cost Of $6,250

Installation of air conditioning in four surgical rooms and the nursery at Whitley County Hospital has been completed, it has been announced by Stanley Mullendore, administrator.

The unit, which is being financed jointly by the hospital and by staff physicians, was installed during the last two weeks at a cost of $6,250. It provides air conditioning service to the two regular operating rooms, the maternity labor and delivery rooms and the nursery.

The hospital's share of the cost of the unit came from a fund which was set up by the will of Ruby Egner a few years ago for improvements at the county hospital. Besides the contributions from staff physicians, money also came from several outside medical men in the area who use the facilities of the hospital, Mullendore said.

Mullendore said that although space and plans were provided for air conditioning at the hospital when the institution was built, it was one of the items which was not included in order to keep the cost of the building down.

Before installation of the unit to serve the five rooms, separate window air conditioners were used. These proved unsatisfactory and were not approved by the state fire marshal for use in operating rooms, Mullendore said. It was also impossible to filter out all of the foreign matter in the air brought in through the window units.

The new unit uses the large air filter system used by the heating plant at the hospital. This system uses only air which is already in the hospital rather than drawing it in from the outside.

Besides making the air in the rooms more sanitary and cooler the unit will also provide more safety in the operating rooms where anesthetic is used, Mullendore said. It will help control the humidity in the rooms and thus lessen the chance of explosions caused by a spark from static electricity coming into contact with the anesthetic used.

If the humidity in the rooms is high, water being a conductor of electricity, would increase the chance of such an explosion, the hospital administrator said. He said that such accidents are very rare. However, every medical institution must prepare to fight against their occurrence.

Besides the air system and ducts of the unit which is housed with the heating system on the second floor of the hospital, the air conditioner also includes the water cooler which is set up in the basement boiler room.

Revolt Leaders Begin Talks To Restore Peace

Negotiate With Military Committee

By W.H. McCALL
United Press Staff Correspondent

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP) —President Juan D. Peron, ousted by a successful revolt against his nine-year rule as dictator, headed for exile in Paraguay today.

The Paraguayan ambassador to Argentina escorted Peron aboard the gunboat Paraguay at 8 a.m. (5 a.m. CST) today.

The former president left to go into exile even as leaders of the revolt negotiated with a 13-man military committee to restore peace to this country.

Paraguayan Ambassador Juan Chaves accompanied Peron on board the gunboat. Then he returned ashore in Buenos Aires. He returned to the vessel later with food and other supplies for Peron's personal comfort because of lack of adequate facilities on board.

The gunboat, which had been undergoing repairs in Buenos Aires, was expected to sail momentarily.

Mrs. Thomas Wolfe To Head 'Birthday Cards For Ike' Sale

Mrs. Harold Buell, Operation Birthday Card chairman of Indiana, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Thomas Wolfe of 218 East Van Buren street to head the sale of "Birthday Cards for Ike" in Whitley county.

The cards wish President Dwight D. Eisenhower a happy birthday and urge that he run for re-election in 1956. They will be signed by the individual purchasers and sent to the White House.

The President's birthday is October 14.

Operation Birthday Card is sponsored by the Indiana Republican Citizen's Finance Committee. The funds obtained from sale of the cards will be used to sponsor a campaign to re-elect Ike president in 1956. Sale of the cards is being conducted by Republicans in counties throughout the State.

Purdue Increasing Stadium's Capacity To Seat 55,000

Purdue University at West Lafayette, is increasing the seating capacity of its stadium to 55,500. The additional seating space will make this stadium the fifth largest in the Big Ten Conference and the 12th largest in the country.

The press box has been enlarged and a unique feature is the addition of an elevator to carry TV equipment to the roof of the press box.

All of this work is being done by United States Steel Corporation's American Bridge Division and is expected to be completed in time for Purdue's first home football game September 24.

70-Year-Old Fan Steps Up To The Plate Again Tonight

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs. Myrtle Power, a 70-year-old baseball fan currently batting 1,000 in TV's toughest league, steps up to the plate for her 10th swing tonight.

The sprightly charmer from Buford, Ga., has swatted her way through nine queries on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Question" to run her earnings to $16,000. This evening, "Myrt," as she prefers to be called can try to double her stake or call a halt to the contest and retire with her winnings.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," says Myrt. "I change my mind four or five times in a day. I may go to the program thinking one thing and do another. Last week, I didn't know what I was going to do right up to the time the show went on."

Myrt, who is almost as cool in the clutch as one of her favorite ballplayer, Ted Williams, has breezed through the questions thrown at her thus far.

Myrt, a vociferous partisan of the Brooklyn Dodgers, now works for a couple in Roslyn Heights, N.Y., as a nursemaid and housekeeper. "I've been going to a couple of ballgames a week," says Myrt, "and when I can't get to the park I watch on TV."

Myrt has been a baseball fan since 1895. "My two brothers played ball, my brother-in-law, my uncle and my three sons," she says. "I had to learn baseball or they would have thrown me out of the house."

Many of Myrt's friends and relatives played ball for a semi-pro team in Georgia, now disbanded, about which Myrt still reminisces. "The team was the Bona Allen Shoemakers," she says, "and they were one of the finest semi-pro teams in the country. They used to go to the national tournament every year and bring home the money."

Myrt intends to put in an appearance at the World Series in New York now that her team, the Dodgers, have copped the National League flag. She's rooting for anybody but the New York Yankees to take it in the American loop.

"But I'm afraid," says Myrt, "The Yankees may take it. They win the big games."

Myrt will be 71 this Oct. 3, but admits she still gets pretty excited at the ball park. "I holler at those games," she says, "maybe I holler too much. But that's what I pay my money for—to holler and say what I want to."

Attorneys Expect To Complete Jury For Murder Trial

SUMNER, Miss. (UP) — Attorneys expected to complete selection of a jury today and begin first testimony in the trial of two white men charged with the "Wolf whistle" murder of a 14-year-old Negro boy.

Two final jurors were to be chosen first on the second day of the trial of half-brothers Roy Bryant, 24, and J.W. Milam, 36, for murder of young Emmett Till of Chicago.

The state charged the men kidnaped the boy from an uncle he was visiting at Money, Miss., and killed him for insulting Bryant's 24-year-old brunette wife at their country store. They claimed they freed Till unharmed.

Ten white jurors, eight of them farmers, one an insurance man and one a laborer were chosen during the opening session in the jammed trail room of the Tallahatchie County Court House.

Circuit Judge Curtis M. Swango excused three veniremen because of their connections with a $6,000 defense fund raised in this strictly-segregated farming community.

Rep. Charles Diggs (R-Mich) wired Swango from Detroit that he would appear at the trial as an observer. He said he was bringing two attorneys with him.

Diggs was to be met by a delegation from Mississippi's all-Negro community of Mound Bayou.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, Till's widowed mother, was scheduled to arrive from Chicago. She is expected to be called as a prosecution witness to prove the identity of the body found three days after Till's abduction.

Russian Reply Unsatisfactory Says U. S. Spokesmen

MOSCOW (UP)—A U.S. Embassy spokesman said today Russia has made an "unsatisfactory" reply to an American protest that a U.S. congressman was held for more than an hour at gunpoint in a Moscow suburb by a Soviet army officer.

The congressman was Rep. Joseph Holt (R-Calif) who visited the Soviet Union with other Americans earlier this month. He has since returned to the United States.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, now home on vacation, delivered a "vigorous protest" to the Soviet Foreign Ministry 10 days ago which protested that Holt was held for more than an hour.

The embassy spokesman said the Russian reply to the protest was received last Saturday and "the answer was unsatisfactory." He refused to give further details and said the matter had been referred to Washington.

Congressman From Michigan Dies

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich), a member of Congress since 1932 and an expert on taxes, died Monday night of heart disease at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

Dingell, 61, was the first member of the 84th Congress to die. The fact that not a single lawmaker died last session set something of a modern record.

The Michigan congressman came into office on the New Deal sweep in 1932 and had served ever since, rising to second-ranking Democrat on the tax-drafting House Ways & Means Committee.

In that capacity, he had a hand in most of the important tax legislation shaped by Congress in recent years.

Dingell entered the hospital Friday. His condition had not been considered serious but he took a turn for the worse Monday night and died about 9 p.m. EDT.

Only 24 of the 435 House members had served in Congress longer than Dingell. He was elected to 12 consecutive terms.

Reckless

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UP)—Police reported today that Walter Harrell, 60, is serving a 30-day jail term for reckless driving.

Harrell's car jumped a guard rail on a bridge as he drove from the court where he had been fined for trying to cash an $8.50 check drawn on the "Bank of Anywhere, Anywhere, USA."

Juan Peron Picked Up Many Of His Political Ideas From Mussolini

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Juan D. Peron picked up many of his political ideas from Benito Mussolini.

He liked to make speeches from a balcony to his followers massed in the street below. Peron watched Mussolini in action when he was Argentine military attache in Rome. He listened and learned. He became a politician in uniform.

Like Mussolini, Peron is a great talker, and he had a knack of telling his listeners exactly what he thought they wanted to hear.

Once when Guy Ray, U.S. counsellor to Argentina, reproached him for an anti-American speech Peron said: "You must always keep in mind the people I'm talking to."

A Way With Businessmen

Peron is handsome in a florid way. In recent years he kept his hair jet-black by the use of dye. He is husky in build, tending to pudginess in middle age.

He is a sports enthusiast. During his student days he had been an outstanding boxer and swordsman and when he took over Argentina he sponsored everything that favored the development of sports in the schools.

Whenever visiting American business men called on Peron he had a set speech for them. First he thanked them for giving him some of their valuable time. Then he said he didn't want to meddle in the internal affairs of other countries, but he would like to suggest that the United States quit making overly generous loans to Latin-American countries.

"If the United States lends them millions of dollars," Peron would say, "these South American countries lose incentive to produce wealth for themselves. Quit lending them mony! Make them go to work themselves!"

The average business man from the United States thought that was very sound, indeed, and was inclined to consider Peron a misunderstood or misrepresented figure. What was overlooked was that Peron himself had got a 25-million-dollar loan from Uncle Sam in 1951 although he insisted was not a loan but a "credit."

No Free Press

Peron had absolutely no conception of a free press. He knew that after he had confiscated the great independent newspaper La Prensa nothing was printed in Argentina that was contrary to his wishes. He couldn't understand why the same thing wasn't true elsewhere.

One U.S. ambassador after another would be met with Peron's request to "do something" about the unfriendly attitude of the American newspapers toward his regime. He couldn't believe that Washington couldn't change the editorial policy of the leading U.S. newspapers if it really wanted to.

Peron was very skilful at playing off opposing elements against each other and eventually liquidating both.

His entrance on the political scene was due to the revolution of the Argentine army in 1943. But despite that he set out to do everything he could to cut down the power of the army. The big Campo de Mayo just outside Buenos Aires was reduced sharply in number of detachments and armament. The naval air base at Punto del Indio rarely had enough gasoline to mount a full scale attack against the capital city. He limited the number of cannon, machine guns, trucks and tanks assigned to the various regiments. Also he screened carefully the officers and set up an elaborate spy system to watch over them.

Communists Gained Strength

I had a dozen or so talks with Peron during the time I was assigned to Buenos Aires. On most of the visits I found him smiling and amiable and trying to convince me that he was a great lover of the United States. He also insisted he was strongly anti-Communist. He would make references to the strength of the Communists in Brazil and Chile and then point out that in Argentina he had cut down their force to almost nothing.

Actually, the Communists gained in strength under Peron because his campaigns of promoting class hatred fitted perfectly into their strategy. He told me last year that he had weakened the Communist Party "not with my speeches but by giving them something." By that he referred to the wave of pay increases he put through by government decree which had won the votes of the workers.

Many people in the United States had the idea that Evita, Peron's vigorous wife who died three years ago, was the more dominant personality of the two. I do not agree. I think that she had great influence over Peron, but I also think that he used her for his own purposes—often to do dirty work he didn't want to take the responsibility for himself.

Ruined Argentine Economy

Peron prided himself on being "the first worker of Argentina." All the official newspapers printed daily a schedule of his work day, invariably starting off with the fact that he arrived at his office at 6,20 a.m. Once when a delegation of American labor leaders were in Buenos Aires Peron invited them to a meeting at 8 a.m. and was irked when they replied that that was too early.

Part of the secret of his early show-up, however, was that he went to his office with his clothes put on over his pajamas. At the office he would bathe, be shaved, read the morning papers and have breakfast before his first appointment.

Peron's regime wrecked the economy of the country, spending all that had been accumulated before he took over and all the income during his administration. If rumors are correct much of the deposits placed in the pension fund for the future also were spent. First through his brother-in-law and later through his brother-in-law's associate, Jorge Antonio, Peron was supposed to be in on the pay-offs of almost all the important business done by the Argentine state. Diesel locomotives could not be bought for the railroads which Peron nationalized.

Frozen meat could not be sold to Peru or carpet wool to the United States without Peron getting some share of the take. He is supposed to have a large fortune staked away in Switzerland.

WIN-T Fall Programs Offer A Good Variety

WIN-T's fall program line-up offers outstanding features.

Affiliated with both CBS and the American Broadcasting Company, WIN-T can integrate programs, which gives the viewer the advantage of watching both networks where, in some markets, one excellent CBS program will be opposite an ABC show on another station.

One of the most talked about shows in the television industry is the "Ford Star Jubilee" Sept. 24 at 9:30 p.m. when Judy Garland will make her television debut. This will be a 90-minute Ford color extravanganza.

"I Love Lucy" returns to the CBS television network Monday, Oct. 3, and Jack Benny and his troup of funssters begin their sixth season on the CBS television network after a summer haitus Sunday, Sept. 25. Jackie Gleason, Mr. Saturday Night, returns for a fourth year in "The Honeymooners" in which he plays bumbling bus driver, Ralph Cramden. Gleason's "Honeymooners" will feature his regular supporting cast, Art Carney, Audrey Meadows and Joyce Randolph. It will be preceded by a musical half hour, "Stage Show". "Burns and Allen,, launch their sixth season Oct. 3.

Brian Keith stars as Matt Anders, a free-lance writer who helps victims escape from lands of tyranny and terror in "The Crusader," a new series bowing over the CBS Television Network Friday, Oct. 7.

Other Shows

"Science Fiction Theatre," "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal," "Confidential File," "Million Dollar Movie" and "Ellery Queen" are new film shows sponsored locally which will afford many hours of family entertainment throughout the coming season.

Other new shows that will be seen in WIN-T are "The Adventures of Robin Hood," one of literature's best-loved legends recreated for television, starring Richard Greene as Robin. Friar Tuck, Little John, Maid Marion, the Sheriff of Nottingham and other members of the Robin Hood band are excellently portrayed by an all-English cast. "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" and "Warner Bros. Presents" will be other additions to the WIN-T line-up that will make television viewing more pleasant. "Navy Log," a CBS documentary film, will be seen on WIN-T Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m. Sports fans will be watching the Cleveland Browns football games on Sunday throughout the football season and five regional Big Ten football games Saturday afternoons.

CBS has brought its successfully produced radio show "Gunsmoke" to television. This is adult western drama of the days when a six-gun was the real authority. It stars James Arness as Marshall Matt Dillion and will be seen Saturday at 9 p.m. There are other news shows which CBS is producing but have not been finalized at this point.

All of these news shows, plus the old ones carried over from last year, make fall viewing something to look forward to.

Trend To Television "Second Sets" Now

More and more of America's new homes are making provision for a "second set" for added pleasure in TV viewing. The trend is apparent in every part of the nation, according to home builders and television experts.

Generally, it's found that the "number one" set usually is a console model — either a 21-inch or 24-inch receiver — which holds sway as the "number one" attention-getter in the living room.

Viewing Favorite Programs

The "second set" most likely finds its spot in the play room, den, patio, or bedroom. And, most likely, it's used by the individual — or group — who do not care to watch the program being viewed on set "number one" in the living room.

Fathers find the "second set" ideal for watching sports events, for instance, and the kiddies use it to view their favorite cowboy movie. Now and then, too, mothers favorite televised "soap operas" or lie the "second set" to screen their other shows.

Brand New Receivers

In times past, many a "second set" was the small-screen receiver which had been in the possession of a family for several years and deposed from its place of promincence in the living room. But, according to various television manufactururers, an ever-increasing number of "second sets" are brand new receivers.

TV Superstitions Fall

Television, like anything new, has given rise to a number of misconceptions on the part of set owners, according to engineers and technicians. Some of these mistaken ideas can be quite funny. But others can cause set owners needless expense, worry or inconvenience.

For example, television receivers sometimes show a glowing white spot on the screen for several minutes after the set is turned off. Owners of these receivers sometimes imagine this means the tube is about to burn out or suffer some similar disaster. Actually the condition is nothing to worry about and is common on many sets. It can often be avoided, point out the technicians, by simply turning up the brightness control just before turning off the receiver.

No Such "Rule"

Another TV "superstition" is that the size of a room should determine the size of the screen. According to this "rule," a 14-inch screen should be used in a 14-foot room, a 17-inch screen is proper for a 17-foot room, and so on. This is simply not true. Most people sit about eight to twelve feet from a receiver regardless of its size. Even a 30-inch screen can be viewed fairly close up with comfort. You can prove this easily in any television dealer's store by turning on several screens of varied sizes. The viewering distance between them is negligible.

Another mistaken idea is that, if you see a set whose performance you like but whose price or style doesn't suit you, you will have to take some other make of receiver as a second choice. When shopping for a receiver, remember that manufacturers commonly use the same chassis in several different cabinets. Ask your salesman to show you other models with the same chassis and you'll have a better chance to find the set you want.

But no matter what mistaken ideas people have about TV sets, they'll have to go some to beat the case of the man who lived between an electric railroad and a power house. It was explained to him that his TV reception was poor because of heavy electrical interference from trains and the power lines. But the set owner insisted on his own weird explanation. There were too many sets in the neighborhood, he said, and they used up so much of the programs that there wasn't enough left for him.

Not Harmful To Eyes

Some people have misconceptions about possible ill effect on the eyes from watching television. According to television experts, those millions who watch TV can do so with absolutely no fear of eye strain. The experts have it on the authority of the American Optometric Society that viewing television is not injurious in any way. Instead, the Society has stated, "Great technical improvements has been made in telebision equipment, and vision specialists are in agreement that viewing television is not likely to create visual problems. Discomfort in television viewing, however, may call attention to uncorrected visual problems of long standing."

Russian Breaks Own World Record

LONDON (UP)—Russia's Mihail Krivonosov broke his own world record for the hammer throw with a toss of 211 feet, 7½ inches Monday during an international track meet. Nina Otkalenko of Russia set another world's record in the women's 800-meter run with a clocking of two minutes, 6.4 seconds.

Active Chapter Of Delts Sees Film Of New Fall Fashions

A covered dish dinner marked the fall meeting of the active chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority held in the Elks club rooms Monday evening.

Fashion dolls centered the small tables from which ran streamers to each cover marked with a paper cut-out. A rain coat and umbrella cut-out marked the cover of Mrs. D. M. Johnson, winner of the door prize which was a folding umbrella.

Entertainment for the group consisted of a film of fall fashions shown by Ray Inger and Mr. Hutner of the Hutner's Paris store in Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Douglas Clapp was nominated a delegate to the Province convention of the sorority to be held at Elkhart. Mrs. Lyman Sanders and Miss Donna Myers were named alternate delegates.

The committee for the dinner meeting consisted of the Mesdames Robert Sharpe, Allen Rush, Warren Niccum, Robert Fahl and Martin Nelson.

To Hold Reception For Larwill Teachers

The Evening Circle of the Larwill Methodist church will give a reception in the church social room, Thursday evening at 7:30, for teachers in the Larwill school. The general public is extended an invitation to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eudolph Holycross of Larwill will show pictures of their 40-day trip taken this summer through the northwest.

WKJG-TV Puts Fall Emphasis On Local Talent

A local programming emphasis for WKJG-TV was made evident as the fall schedule was released by Calo O. Mahlock, program manager for the Channel 33 station. Shows involving Fort Wayne personalities come regularly from the Purdue Center studios throughout the day and week.

News can be seen and heard three times daily, each involving a different commentator. Tom Elkins is the editor for "The News at Noon," Jack Gray and the News comes along at 6:15 p.m. and Ted Strasser wraps up "The News Today" at 10:15 p.m. All of these are on a Monday through Friday basis and all feature local, national and international news and pictures.

Ken Newendorp, WKJG-TV weatherman, gives his version of the weather picture three times daily at 12:10, 6:25 and 10 p.m.

"Farms and Farming," a feature program from WKJG-TV five days a week at 12:15 p.m. keeps the rural dwellers up-to-date on items of interest. Wayne Rothgeb, farm director for the station, presents the latest in farm news, interviews and demonstrations.

At 1:30 p.m. each day comes "Here's Charlie," where Charlie Powell plays the piano, sings and shows off his many talented guests.

Interviews with local celebrities and visiting firemen are the fare on "Editor's Desk," the 3 o'clock show each day on Channel 33. Jack Gray is the editor and he chats for 15 minutes with someone of more than common interest.

News Of Sports

Hilliard Gates, WKJG sports director and assistant general manager, takes over Monday through Friday at 6 p.m. for "Gateway to Sports." "Sports Today" with John Siemer gives the wrap-up of sports news each evening at 10:10 p.m.

Sunday finds three shows coming from the WKJG-TV studios. "The Church of the Air" is seen at noon. Sacred music by local artists is also an important phase of The Church of the Air.

"Fort Wayne Forum" takes over each Sunday at 1 p.m. Channel 33's Fort Wayne panel show is called "Perspective." The game consists of identifying pictures of places and things taken at random throughout the city and area. Moderator Ted Strasser and panelists Barbara Disser, homemaker, and Bob Vegler, librarian, greet guests each Sunday evening at 6:30 for Perspective.

WKJG-TV carries two programs for children of all ages in its schedule. Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5:30 is the time set aside for "Carol and Corkie."

"Uncle Dave and Pete" livens up the WKJG-TV studios each Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Dave Lee and Jim McBride are the proprietors for this show.

Noon on Saturday is the time for "The Trailriders," four young men who have teamed up to become proficient at dispensing country, western and popular music.

"Behind the Camera," the WKJG-TV offering seen each Friday afternoon at 3:15, presents news of the progrrams, views of the studios and other facilities of the station, and interviews with station personalities. Wilson Schroeder is responsible.

Rodeo

Contined from page one

clear how slight a swing of the front wheel serves to reinstate the balance of the rider when he starts to topple. It trains for straight riding.

Test 2. Changes in Balance

Ride three times around a "Figure 8" formed by two touching circles each 20 feet in diameter. The meeting point of the circle is the point at which the rider changes his balance. He must change it at just the right instant to keep on the line of the circles. If he doesn't, he will swing off it.

Purpose - To test changes in balance required by intended changes in direction.

Significance - Traffic frequently demands that a bicycle rider change his direction, sometimes with warning of the necessity for the change, sometimes without warning. The rider should know his road. If it is a perfect pavement, he can shift his balance and his direction handily. But if the pavement is studded with the usual holes that even, at times, motorists must dodge, he will have to pick his spot to change balance and pick it quickly. He should know how he is going to shift his balance at that point.

Test 3. Obstacle

Ride 30 feet on a straight path eight inches wide flanked at six-foot intervals on alternate sides by first-sized stones, without touching the stones.

Purpose - To test poise and decision in riding.

Significance - Hitting or missing an obstacle in the road, whether it is a stone, a puddle of water, or a pedestrian on the sidewalk, is a psychological problem. The reason a rider hits an obstacle is because he is watching it and naturally steers where he is looking. If he looks at the clear smooth strip of road to one side or other of the stone, he would go in that direction and miss the stone. This test aims to point out that fact to young riders who are not quite sure of themselves. They must be taught to signal the pedestrian so that he may take a position to one side and stay there.

Home Basement Is Still In Demand

CHICAGO — (UP) — The American family's "dream home" is ranch type, one story with a basement, three bedrooms and one and a half baths, a magazine survey indicates.

Of 5,500 readers surveyed by Popular Mechanics, 79.5 per cent said they would like a basement, despite modern architects who insist the basement is a thing of the past.

Slightly more than 60 per cent of the persons surveyed specified they wanted three bedrooms in their "dream home."

Exactly 52 per cent said they would like to have 1½ baths.

In the survey, 57.4 per cent of the readers said they could pay between $10,000 and $15,000, not including the lot, for their home.

Three-Step Method For Washing Windows

LINCOLN, Neb. — (UP) —Window washing need not be the chore many housewives, and their husbands make it, according to an extension home management specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Clara N. Leopold said that dirt on soiled windows should be wiped off with a damp cloth. Then the windows should be washed with a cellulose spong moistened in a solution of one quart of warm water plus one tablespoon of household ammonia or vinegar.

The windows should be polished with a soft, dry cloth, a clean damp chamois, or a squeegee.

Private Monies Must Finance Proposed Lake Michigan Seaport

By KEITH L. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Indiana's proposed Lake Michigan seaport must be financed solely by private monies, not federal, and potential industrial backers are interested, Governor Craig said late Monday.

He told newsmen it would take four years to obtain federal aid for the harbor and by 1959, when the St. Lawrence Seaway opens, shipping "would have attached itself to other ports."

"If you wait for federal money, you've waited too long," he said.

To speed up seaport planning, Craig went to New York last week and discussed the project with financial interests. He found them "particularly interested."

Craig said the port at Burn's Ditch in northern Porter County cannot be started during his term, which ends in January, 1957, but he hoped preliminary work will be far enough along to start construction soon thereafter.

Under State Control

"The plan would be that the port, while built with private money, would be under control of the state through its Public Harbor and Terminals Commission, and the private interests would only be the medium or vehicle by which the port would come into being," he said.

"Next to toll roads, the port is the greatest single factor we have in rapidly increasing the wealth of the people of Indiana in all categores — labor, agriculture and management."

The governor said three groups displayed interest in buying bonds for the port: National Steel, which owns 900 acres of land in the area; the Murchison interests of Texas, owners of about 1,100 acres of land adjacent to the port site designated by the U.S. Corps of Engineers, and the New Uork Central Railroad, which serves the area.

If those three backed the port, he said, "they would be appreciating their own investments."

He said National Steel bought its land about 25 years ago for a possible steel mill, and the Murchison interests accumulated their holdings over the past 20 years—"I don't know if for speculative purposes or not."

Plan Several Surveys

Whether the interests actually invest in the port probably will depend on forthcoming surveys. A St. Louis firm, Harland and Bartholomew, will make a verbal feasibility report to the harbors commission Sept. 22, Craig said, and Indiana University's business school will submit a mid-November report on how the seaport would affect Hoosier products.

The commission later will hire an engineer to make a study. Craig said this will cost about $75,000 and part of that money has been "committed" by the industrial interests.

Once completed, the port and facilities would cost 50 to 60 million dollars. The state would operate it and fix docking and storage charges, using the revenue to pay off bonds.

Craig said a seaport outlet to ocean shipping would make Indiana products "more competitive" in world and national markets. He estimated Hoosiers could save seven cents a bushel on wheat shipped to foreign markets and 65 cents a on on coal.

"The port gives to the Indiana farmer, the Indiana workers and the Indiana manufacturer an advantage which is just and proper," he said, "and we must at all times take advantage of those opportunities that are given us."

While in New York, the governor said, he met "socially" with interests which may buy bonds for Indiana's proposed north-south toll road. Craig was confident the market will be favorable for those bonds in the spring.

He said President Eisenhower's federal superhighway program, which still has to hurdle congress, would not hinder development of Indiana's toll road system.

Indiana is "so far behind," Craig said, that it can use toll roads and improved free roads and still lack enough highways to carry the traffic volume expected in the 1970's.

WHAT IN THE WORLD? The continuing upheaval in the international situation is credited by many for sparking the rise in popularity of the portable radio. That, plus new technical improvements which are resulting in more and more compact and better performing receivers.

Government Agrees On Faure's Plan To Restore Peace

PARIS (UP)—The French government agreed on the outline of Premier Edgar Faure's general plan to restore peace in Morocco at a cabinet meeting today.

But it was evident that details of the plan had not yet been worked out, and further disagreement might arise before required reforms could be made.

Officials said Resident General Pierre Boyer de LaTour, in Paris for the crucial consultations, would fly back to Rabat tonight to put the cabinet decisions into effect.

The announcement after today's ½-hour meeting was taken to mean the cabinet had finally agreed on the third man to sit on the three-member council of the throne. The council, under Faure's plan, would take power when the sultan steps down.

Air Force Fliers Killed In Plane

ERIE, Pa. (UP)—Two Air Force fliers, attached to the weather group at an Ohio Air Force base, were killed Monday when one of the two engines of their C-45 aircraft caught fire shortly after a take-off from Port Erie Airport.

The Air Force identified the victims as Capt. Richard W. Lane, 31, Erie, chief weather forecaster at the Wright-Patterson base, and Lt. Robert H. Gingles, 25 Ashland Wis.

The two airmen were making a routine round-trip flight from the Dayton Ohio, base to Erie to log required flying time of four hours a month.

Thick Fog

FORT LEE, N.J. (UP)—The fog was so thick in New Jersey Monday that an Army convoy enroute from Fort Dix to Fort Devens, Mass. lost three of its vehicles on a main highway.

State police said a distressed Army officer reported a jeep and two trucks missing after the fog lifted.

Benson Plans Steps To Bolster Hog Prices

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson plans "immediate steps" to bolster rapidly-declining hog prices.

He gave no indication as to what steps he has in mind. But he said he will call representatives of the hog and pork industry to Washington to advise the department on "how best to utilize the machinery available and to improve prices to farmers." The plans probably will involve government purchase of pork products.

The move was the first Benson has made since he promised last week to do something concrete about skidding farm prices. The Agriculture Department reported earlier this month that farm prices have declined 4 per cent so far this year. Hog prices led the drop.

Benson said he "instructed the Department of Agriculture to take immediate steps to the use or appropriate machinery to improve the hog price situation.

"These plans will supplement the efforts already underway to cooperate with and coordinate a pork promotion campaign now being so successfully carried on by the whole industry, from the farm to the retail store," he said.

"Two years ago we faced a similar price situation on beef," Benson said. "Our efforts to stabilize the beef industry have greatly increased beef consumption. We are determined to make a careful appraisal of the possible need for similar direct actions . . . to help hog producers."

Frozen Bread Found Ideal For Lunch Box

MADISON, Wis. —(UP) — One way to beat the problem of wilted lettuce in lunch-box sandwiches is to use frozen bread.

Food specialists at the University of Wisconsin said frozen bread will keep sandwich fillings and spreads cool for several hours. The bread is ready for use three to four hours after it is taken from the freezer.

Bread stays fresh longer and is easier to spread when frozen. The slices separate easily and are good for toasting immediately.

Does He Know When To Bid No Trump?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. -- (UP) — Firemen here have given the name Ely Culbertson to a young beagle they rescued recently — because he's a bridge hound.

The firemen found the dog perched on a narrow pier on the Clark Memorial Bridge over the Ohio River. A 40-foot extension ladder had to be used to rescue the stranded dog.

The beagle apparently was washed through a large storm sewer drain near the roadway on the bridge during a downpour.

The first brick kiln in the United States was built in 1629 at Salem, Mass.

Rubber Rhinos Flunk Taste Test

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Two rubber rhinoceroses from South Africa just lost their chance to join a toy project designed to bring more of the wide, wide world into lives of American children.

The rhinos, as they are referred to by spelling cowards, flunked the taste test for one thing.

"We found," said Clinton Gardner, holding a dull-finish rubber rhino in one hand and a shiny-surfaced copy in the other, "that very small children didn't like the taste. Little girls thought the animals were too ugly and six-year-old boys objected to the squeeze-squeaker in the stomach as too childish."

Decided Year Ago

Gardner and his partner, Alastair Kyle, decided a year ago to try and promote some toy scheme which would make more American chldren aware at an early age that they lived in only one of many nations in the world.

Both young men had traveled widely, both had worked for NATO and both spoke four or five languages, so they took off in separate directions to begin setting up a far flung toy business.

Finally their business, christened "Toys of the World" began to grow as a sort of the toy-of-the-month club for children from two to 12 years old, mailed in each case directly to the child from the country it represented along with a folder telling something of the life in the country.

They have approved toys from eight countries, and already mailed out some 50,000 Alipine villages from Austria to their first customers.

German Construction Toy

They considered a German construction toy — a neat box filled with metal pieces, rubber wheels and complicated diagrams.

"It's really a fascinating toy," Kyle said regretfully, "but the trouble is you have to be about a 40-year-old construction engineer to figure it out."

Then there was a hand-painted dragon from Hong Kong, something no child should be without. It's on the discard table with the rhinoceroses. The world is full of a number of things, the two young men decided, more attractive than dragons and rhinoceroses.

Cheese which has become too dry for most uses can be grated and used to add flavor and food value to spaghetti, macaroni or soups.

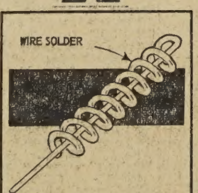
HOW TO USE WIRE SOLDER SAFELY



WIRE SOLDER

This will save many a burned finger when using a soldering iron. A handle wound from the wire itself will prevent wire solder from becoming too hot to hold. Wrap a suitable length, 2 or 3 ft., around a pencil, then pull off the coils. Pass one end of the wire through the center of the turns. The solder now can be held around the loops and worked close to the torch or iron without danger of burned fingers. Additional solder is supplied by pulling the end through the coils.

Local Dealers Unveil New Ideas For Fall Television Entertainment At Home

National Radio and Television Week is the gala occasion for the spotlight to fall on the newest ideas in better home entertainment. Your favorite store displays the latest in television, radio and phonography during this week to bring you all the wonders in sight and sound abailable right now.

Latest Developments Here

Television receivers, which automatically change stations at the touch of a finger, feature the new 1956 television models. Shoppers will also see new remotely controlled receivers which will be available to the public for the first time this fall. Among the new sets are some with "picutre frame" cabinets, a dramatic feature of the "new look" in television. The 1956 television receivers have been completely redesigned and restyled inside and out, and usher in a new era of television reception. In addition to automatic and remote control tuning, manufacturers have incorporated circuits and other major developments from the research laboratories this year, to give the viewer bigger, brighter, clearer pictures than he has ever seen before.

"Top Touch" Tuning

Tuning one new set is accomplished by a finger controlled "treadle bar" which automatically triggers the mechanism at the lightest touch, so as to select, in sequence, all receivable channels in any location. A second "treadle bar" automatically turns the set on or off at the touch of a finger. The new controls are located on top of the set, near the front of the cabinet, where they are convenient for full scale television operation from a standing position. A remote control unit for armchair operation of the set is available as an accessory with each model incorporating the "top touch" tuning principal.

The "picture frame" effect on some models is made possible by placing all controls on top of the set, out of sight of the viewer. The television picture is "framed" by a decorative panel in color. A number of the 1956 models will have "inclined" sounding boards with high-fidelity reproduction of sound. This design change results in sound uniformly diffused throughout the entire listening area. Several models have twin speakers for better sound reporductions; are equipped with a "swivel base" for directional viewing.

Color Television Arrives

America's top manufactures will make color television receivers available to the public this fall, and more homes than ever before will have them to view the new TV programs in color. Color television receivers will use color systems developed in the manufacturers' laboratories and based on principles established by the National Television System Committee and approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

Looking into the future, television executives say they believe the television industry will manufacture and sell more than 7,000,000 television receivers in 1955. In 1956, they estimate the number will go up to 8,400,000 and they foresee production and sale of 9,200,000 sets in 1958, including both black-and-white and color receivers. This increase, they add, will not result from color television alone. The second-set-in-the-home and the replacement markets are becoming major factors in the industry.

High fidelity phonographs and clock and table radios are two lines of consumer products that continue to gain in popularity.

NEW TREND IN TV is set by this new "Low-boy" 21-inch television console. It is the forerunner of the coming trend in modern cabinet design and styling. It features a cabinet finish made so durable by a special process that cigarettes can be put out on it, liquids spilled, and lighter fluid set fire on it, without damage or marring.

Portable Radios Do Heroic Duty

The havoc wrought by hurricanes and similar disasters have put a timely spotlight on the portable radio. In evaluating the experiences of living through these buffeting storms, it was the little portable radio, often working on batteries, that kept hundreds of thousands of citizens informed and aware of the fast-breaking developments.

Traditional tornado areas in the country, not unmindful of what Mother Nature also can do, reportedly have turned to the portable as "must" equipment for any eventuality.

Hurricane

cane velocty.

As late as 7 a.m. CST, the Weather Bureau still was warning that the storm might yet veer northward and threaten New England. Hurricane warnings were up at that hour from the Virginia Capes north to Block Island, off the Rhode Island coast.

Hundreds Flee Homes

As Ione smashed into Virginia during the night, many areas were flooded, roads were blocked, trees uprooted, and hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes.

In Maryland high tides shoved into Kent Narrows on Chesapeake Bay, forcing 200 fishermen and their families to leave their homes. Baltimore port authorities were unable to take care of all ships seeking refuge and some had to be sent into chesapeake Bay to ride it out.

Washington, D.C., escaped with mild winds and less than a fifth of an inch of rainfall. The capital was bathed in sunshine this morning.

Cities which had been in the path of the storm had rushed to complete hurricane preparations.

In New York City, more than 2,000 Red Cross workers stood by and the department of welfare was ready to staff 100 emergency centers. New York weather bureau chief Ernest Christie said winds of 50 to 60 miles would hit the city.

At LaGuardia Airport, 20 empty planes were evacuated. Commercial traffic was halted Monday night, cancelling at least 21 flights.

Low-lying areas at Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey beach resorts were evacuated. Second Army headquarters at Ft. Meade, Md., dispatched thousands of cots and blankets for use in anticipated danger areas and organized a seven-station emergency radio network.

The Red Cross sent 10-man disaster teams to Atlantic City, Cape May and Asbury Park. N.J.

in Pennsylvania, Gov. George M. Leader said state agencies 'have done the limit" in preparing for the storm.

The Washington Weather Bureau said Ione—which it briefly billed Monday as the most severe storm in years—lost some of its original destructive force because of its strike over land in North Carolina. This, plus an unanticipated shift in winds at 40,000 feet which determine a hurricane's path, accounted for Ione's erratic course and seaward turns, the weather bureau said.

Authorities said damage in North Carolina would amount to "tens of millions of dollars." It was estimated that New Bern, N.C., alone suffered to the extent of 15 million dollars.

A dozen or more coastal towns in the northern portion of North Carolina were flooded or otherwise damaged. Most were left without electricity or telephone service and with highways washed out or under water.

Ione spared the great port area of Norfolk and Newport News except for flooding some downtown waterfront streets to a depth of two feet.

But the little Virginia town of Poquoson was flooded with waters backed up from tides which ran three to five feet above normal in the Chesapeake Bay. State police said roads leading into the town of 1,600 were impassable and Mayor Chester H. Page declared a state of emergency.

North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges, who witnessed the hurricane's force at Morehead City—he called it a "terrifying experience" —asked President Eisenhower to declare the affected section of his state a disaster area. Eastern North Carolina suffered 100 million dollars property damage earlier from hurricanes Connie and Diane.

The Red Cross rushed assistance and Army Engineers began moving in to restore vital facilities.

The weather bureau said Ione's highest recorded winds, which occurred over the ocean, was 125 miles an hour. The highest over land was 108 miles an hour, recorded at Cherry Point, N.C.

Peron

aid "negotiations on pacification" have begun.

The 13-man committee declared the day a holiday and urged the nation to remain calm.

The Peronista Confederation of Labor, whose one million members supposedly were the backbone of Peron's support, told the workers they "should be calm and resume their work and cooperate in the maintenance of the public services and order."

A heavy guard was being maintained around Peron's suburban Olermo home but his exact whereabouts were unknown. The Paraguayan Embassy denied reports he had taken refuge there.

Security System Shakeup

An announcement in Santiago, Chile, that a special transport plane carrying unidentified persons was expected from Buenos Aires touched off a flurry of speculation but at 7 a.m. the plane still had not arrived.

Lights had blazed nightlong at the Santiago airfield which was guarded by police.

The 13-man military committee announced it was taking over after Peron's forced resignation and the clean sweep of his government which followed.

The committee offered to negotiate with the revolutionary leaders "to seek pacification in order to avoid useless bloodshed among brothers."

It also shook up the security system, naming new heads of federal police, national gendarmerie and the coast guard.

Arcaro Is Nominee For Hickok Award

NEW YORK (UP)—Eddie Arcaro today was listed as one of the nominees for the 1955 Hickok "Professional Athlete of the Year" award. The veteran jockey qualified for the award after piloting Nashua to victory over Swaps in last month's match race at Chicago.

Slade Wins Dull Bout From McBride

NEW YORK (UP)—You couldn't tell the winner from the loser after Monday night's widely - televised fight between heavyweights Jimmy Slade of New York and Archie McBride of Trenton N.J.

Slade, an 8½ to 5 underdog, won the 10-round fight on a unanimous decision but also wound up with three deep cuts about the eyes.

McBride opened a cut on Slade's right cheek in the second round and puffed his left eye in the same session. In the eighth round, Jimmy was slashed under the left eye.

It was a dull, mauling bout that had the crowd of 1,000 calling for action most of the way.

Rocky Marciano - Archie Moore Title Fight Postponed For 24 Hours Because Of Ione

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—The Rocky Marciano - Archie Moore heavyweight title fight was postponed for 24 hours today because of hurricane Ione.

In view of weather forecasts calling for strong winds and heavy rain for the New York area, promoter James D. Norris of the International Boxing Club announced the postponement.

The fight now will be held, weather permitting, at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night. However, the fight, which was scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m. CST tonight, will not start until 8:45 p.m. CST Wednesday because of broadcasting complications.

Should another postponement be necessary, the fight will be staged Thursday night.

The 24-hour postponement came as another frustration and perhaps a costly one for Moore, the long-thwarted, 38-year-old challenger who figured to be bothered more by the waiting than the placid Marciano.

New York's share of the hurricane was originally expected Monday night, but the weather bureau explained that Ione's slow progress delayed the heaviest rain and winds until today.

A representative of the International Boxing Club said, "If the weather clears in mid-afternoon, the fight will be staged; but if no clearing occurs in the evening, it will be postponed. The field and seats would not have time to dry out."

Unbeaten Marciano, now favored at the lengthened odds of 4-1, probably would zoom to 5-1 if the bout were postponed to Wednesday night, and perhaps higher if another delay moved it to Thursday it will be postponed. The field and will start at 10:30 p.m., EDT; but Wednesday night's starting time would be 10:45 p.m.

The Marciano - Moore extravaganza will not be televised to homes, only to 128 theatres and four veterans' hospitals in 92 cities on a closed circuit.

Promoter Jim Norris was uncertain how much a one-day washout would hurt the gate. He had expected at least $750,000 from 50,000 fans. The advance sale approximated $600,00, and he figured additionally that at least $50,000 worth of tickets already had been sold in outside consignments.

Coincident with their arrivals, each issued a pre-battle statement in which he predicted victory. Moore declared, "I've said a lot of things about Rocky and this fight, and I meant every one of them." He apparently referred to his charge that Rocky was not merely a rough fighter but a foul fighter.

Rocky, denying, said, "I've never been a dirty fighter. Nothing, not even the heavyweight title would make me stray from the way my parents trained me."

Archie clinched the shot at Marciano by outpointing big Nino Valdes, then top heavyweight contender, in May, and by knocking out middleweight champion Bobo Olson in June.

Boxing men generally recognize him as the best combination boxer puncher in any division. He can fight from the upright or the bob-weave. His unusually long left jab has a kick that could threaten a "quick bleeder" like Rocky. He is an authoritative left-hooker, and a "sure stopper" with his sneaker right.

Boasting 21 straight victories, he goes into the ring with a 120-19-5 record that includes 82 knockouts. While getting three times Rocky's experience, usually against bigger men than himself, he was stopped only four times.

But the big question of the fight is this: How long can his well-preserved but nevertheless "old" fighting body withstand Marcianos headlong assault, if he doesn't stop the champion on face cuts within five rounds?

Marciano — unusually rugged except for his tendency to cut — is seeking his 49th straight professional victory and his 43rd kayo. He was floored but once, by Jersey Joe Walcott; but he rose from the canvas in the first round and won the crown from ancient Joe on a 13th-round knockout, Sept. 13, 1952.

Halas Would Like To Mark His Last Active Campaign

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UP)—George Halas, the dean of National Football League coaches, would like to mark his last active campaign by guiding his Chicago Bears to the 1955 championship.

But his announced aim is second place in the Western Division. That's where his Bears finished last year. Halas who also owns the Bears, says 1955 will be his last season as head coach.

"Let Detroit, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Green Bay play for the (division) championship," Halas said. "We'll just go for second place and if they knock each other out of it and we can win, that's all right, too.

"I'm not declaring Baltimore (the other Western Division club) out of it, because that's a good club. But the other four figure to play for the title.

"I figure us to finish second this year, and I'm going to leave a team that can win the championship."

The 1954 Bears were weakest on defense. Halas believes he has improved that platoon. Joe Fortunato a rookie from Mississippi State, has shown up well as a linebacker in exhibitions and Alton Romine Alabama Teachers has strengthened in the secondary.

The club s new offensive talent includes halfbacks Rick Casares of Florida, Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette and Bobby Watkins of Ohio State. They join such experienced men as fullback Chick Agade, half back Leon Campbell and quarterbacks George Blanda and Ed Brown.

The passing attack should be a good one. Harlon Hill, an all-league selection offensive end las year as a rookie, will be on one flank. Gene Schroeder, back from the Army, will handle the other end. Bill McColl will alternate with them.

This year, Bob Williams, former Notre Dame star, has returned from military service to help Blanda and Brown with the passing.

Halas also plans some surprises for the club's opponents. Some of the new plays probably will feature Casares and Brown passing from a halfback spot.

The line is big with veterans for every spot. The linemen include Bill Bishop, George Connor, Kline Gilbert, Stan Jones, John Kreamcheck Bill Wightkin Herman Clark, Bill George, Ed Sprinkle, and John Helwig.

Pair Of Robust Businessmen Meet To Cement Big Deal

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—A pair of robust businessmen are supposed to meet in the middle of a ballpark to cement a big million dollar deal and the primary question seems to be whether they'll go for three.

Very few observers feel that a fried chicken merchant named Archie Moore has enough voting S-O-C-K to take over as chairman of the board of a property known the heavyweight championship of the world. The incumbent, one Rocky Marciano, has too many proxies.

But the financial wizards of Wall and a lot of other streets from Paris to Tokyo are suspicious that a clouding cartel may be in the making.

For A Million Bucks

This one is for a million Bucks, more or less. If Moore takes control, or even loses by a split decision, the next time around it would well be worth two million more of those good old Yankee dollars. Considering the background of boxing, and some of the shadowy figures who allegedly control the back room, there may be a vague basis for this suspicion.

But in this corner, there is a great deal of faith in the integrity and honesty of Rocky Marciano. This is a poor boy who came out of nowhere. That alone, one might say, wuld be enough to make him suspect. Yet the shining pride in the thing he has accomplished means more to Marciano than the dollars which went with it.

Understand, nobody puts the knock on money. You'll never find anybody who agrees he has enough. If the Rock had sufficient, he'd quit getting his nose busted up. And, owning a valuable property, he makes it pay off.

Still, he does it with a quiet dignity, because Rocky Marciano believes that he represents the little people. Those are the ones he knows would be hurt if ever it was proved that he had feet of malleable clay. When Moore was plugging for this lucrative engagement and didn't seem to have much of a chance, old Arch made it clear that for his paltry pesos the champ was afraid of him.

Didn't Say Anything

"My friends didn't say anything," Marciano recalled. "But I could feel them wondering, just in the way they looked at me. You know, the guys you'd always been friendly with. The'd sort of drop their heads and look at me out of the corner of their eyes. It hurt deep down inside, I'll tell you."

Marciano insists he holds no bitterness against Moore.

But you get the idea that he hasn't forgotten, or forgiven.

Which is why, along about the 9th round tonight, I figure that Moore, the aging aviator-musician will do a crash dive at Yankee Stadium after being be-bopped into a real bone position.

Norris Does Not Fear Investigation

WASHINGTON (UP) — James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, says he is "not afraid of any federal investigation of boxing."

"My position, and my associates' position, is anything that would help boxing, to clear the atmosphere, is fine with us," said Norris in an interview Monday on a MBS radio program.

The National Boxing Assn. recently adopted a resolution calling for a federal investigation of racketeering in boxing and several congressional committees have in the past threatened such an investigation.

Norris also denied that the IBC, which is promoting tonight's Rocky Marciano - Archie Moore heavyweight championship, has a monopoly on championship fights. In a monopoly case which has been pending for three years, the Justice Department has accused the IBC of monopolizing the promotion, exhibition, broadcasting, telecasting, and motion picture production of championship bouts.

"The IBC is running boxing in the best manner that it can be run and in the only way that it can be run," said Norris.

Yankees Aim For Quick End To Pennant Race

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees aimed today for a quick end to the American League pennant race, serene in the knowledge that neither the Cleveland Indians nor Hurricane Ione can do much about it.

The Yankees' immediate objective was a three-game sweep of the Washington Senators — a feat which would clinch Casey Stengel's sixth flag in seven years should the Indians lose their two-game series with the Chicago White Sox.

In Chicago, AL President Will Harridge assured all the interested parties that Hurricane Ione can't give anyone an unfair advantage even if the Yankee-Senator series becomes disrupted. Harridge announced that any postponed games having a bearing on the race would be played after the season.

Out For A Sweep

With this knowledge, Stengel was sending Don Larsen and his two star southpaws, 17-game winner Whitey Ford and 16-game winner Tommy Byrne, out for a sweep in Washington.

The Yankees were theoretically crippled by the loss of centerfielder Mickey Mantle and shortstop Phil Rizzuto as well as Bill Skowron's broken toe but once again Stengel's bench strength should be adequate to meet the emergency. A Yankee outfield of Elson Howard, Irv Noren and Hank Bauer is probably as good as any other in the league. Gerry Coleman fills in adequately for Rizzuto and Joe Collins has been more effective than Skowron in recent weeks anyhow.

At Chicago, the Indians start their series with the White Sox tonight striving to snap a four-game losing streak but they'll be running into two of the toughest pitchers in the circuit for them to beat. It'll be Billy Pierce tonight and Jack Harshman Wednesday.

Lopez Undecided

Manager Al Lopez said he would pitch either 16-game winner Early Wynn or Herb Score, the rookie strikeout king, tonight.

Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' brilliant young shortstop, set his second major league record of the season Monday night in one of the two games played. Banks, who earlier set a new mark for homers by a shortstop in one year, hit his fifth grand slam homer of the campaign although the St. Louis Cardinals won out in the 12th inning, 6-5, on a homer by Rip Repulski.

Rookie Bud Black pitched a six-hitter for his first victory as the Detroit Tigers beat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-0, in the other game.

$64,000 Question May Be In For Some Stiff Competition

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — "The $64,000 Question," a show which has cut a wide swath for several months, may be in for some stiff competition.

On Oct. 4, NBC-TV will unveil a new drama series, "Pontiac Theatre," in a time slot which will overlap the big quiz program. Pontiac Theater will alternate on a two-month basis with an old standby, "Armstrong Circle Theatre."

Right now, producer Fred Coe is mapping out an attack geared toward boosting Pontiac toward a niche as the number one drama show on TV. It is shelling out the highest prices for TV scripts in the medium — $6,000 to $7,000 per one-hour play.

Top Writers Hired

As a result, Coe has managed to corral some of the top scribbling talent in the business — David Davidson, Robert Alan Arthur, David Shaw and Ted Mosel.

What's more, Coe, an old hand at luring in the viewers, plans to use clusters of top stars in each of the vehicles. In the first show, for example, Paul Douglas, Nina Foch, Albert Dekker Walter Abel and Conrad Nagel will star in an adaptation of Phillip Wylies short story "The Answer."

"We have Ernest Hemingway's 'The Battler' and William Faulkner's 'The Sound and the Fury' lined up early in the series," said Coe. "The program will have bigger production and more scope than anything yet done on television."

Plan 16th Century "Dragnet"

"We'll not only use stories like Hemingway's which are only brief vignettes, but entire books like 'The Man Who Killed Shakespeare.' The latter, by the way, is a very exciting story — it deals with the murder of Christopher Marlowe and is a regular 16th Century 'Dragnet.' "

Coe, a baby-faced fellow who speaks with a Southern drawl, originally hailed from a community known as Alligator, Miss. He brings a broad background to his new task including stints at the Nashville Community Theatre, the Columbia, S.C., Civic Theatre, off-Broadway productions and as producer of such TV shows as "Television Playhouse" "Mr. Peepers" and "Producer's Showcase."

The 38-year-old Coe also directed and later produced shows for the Theatre Guild and Kraft.

Cecil Zinkan, general manager of the municipal Lightner Museum of Hobbies in St. Augustine, Fla., leafs through an early edition of the historical novel "Alice of Old Vincennes" as he explains the interesting background of the desk. Zinkan, an ex-Hoosier, was born just a few miles from Vincennes, locale of the classic book.

The desk was donated by a Chicago patron of the Museum who acquired it from Mrs. A. H. Long, daughter of the novel's author, Maurice Thompson. It was made in 1701 and was given by a French priest in New Orleans to author Thompson when he was but a boy; and he treasured it throughout his lifetime.

It is distinctly French in design and construction. Of fine old walnut it has slight brass trim on the outside. When the drop-leaf is opened the observer is delighted with the aged curly maple trim on the inside, mirror panels in the back, and secret drawers to lend a note of mystery. Because of the fame achieved by the novel the desk is characterized as having attained the furniture "Hall of Fame."

"Alice of Old Vincennes" was written in the late 1800's; and it was a best-seller in the early 1900's.

Take Grim Look At Seriousness Of Corn Picker Accidents

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UP)—If you want a grim look at how serious this business of corn picker accidents is, go to an Indiana farm sale.

F.R. Willsey, farm safety specialist for the Agriculture Extension Service at Purdue University, says you can see at least one farmer with a hand missing at nearly every Hoosier farm sale.

It was Willsey's way of pointing up the danger which soon will haunt farmers again, as it does every fall, when thousands of mechanical corn pickers eat their way through rows of Indiana's No. 1 crop.

Every year, Willsey said, one or two Indiana farmers are killed and another 100 to 200 maimed by carelessness in handling corn pickers.

Perhaps hundreds of others narrowly escape similar disaster. Some who get caught in cornpicking machinery are lucky to escape with torn clothing. Others, less fortunate, lose fingers, hands, arms or even legs.

May Be Bad Now

The situation may be at an all-time peak of seriousness this fall Willsey said. For one thing, there 's an increasing number of pickers, which means more farmers are in danger.

But the biggest reason is that the corn is "heavy" this year—that is, there are a lot of stalks—and if it stays as dry as it has been the last few weeks, the stalks will be dry and crumbly at harvest time.

The drier the stalks, and the "heavier" the crop, the more danger of picking accidents, Willsey said. For there is greater chance of more material getting caught in the rolls.

The same situation existed in October, 1953, and Willsey said there undoubtedly were more accidents that year than any season yet.

One county reported a dozen or more accidents in which farmers lost fingers, hands and arms in one season.

Deadliest of Machines

The pcker is the deadliest farm machine, Willsey said. Actually, more fatalities occur from tractors, but they are used the year around while corn pickers get a workout only a few weeks each fall.

The Indiana Farm Bureau conducted a survey and found that the average cost of a corn picker accident in Indiana is $631. That includes the cost of doctor and hospital and extra help needed to take the injured worker's place in the farm.

Corn picker accidents go down in the records on a par with certain non-farm accidents.

Everybody knows you shouldn't strike a match to see what's wrong with the gas heater, and you shouldn't pour kerosene over the coals of a fire in a stove.

And every farmer knows he won't get hurt in a corn picker, ever, if he shuts off the picker before he tries to unclog or adjust a roll.

Shopping Habits Change; We Expect More For Our Money

by ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The woman standing next to you at the $6 hat bar may have a clothes budget that would pay off your house mortgage.

The youngish matron who races into the sports shop to buy a skirt she can wear out of the store may be one of the "idle rich" who used to have everything made to order.

Our shopping habits have changed. We expect more value for our money, and we get it. The result is that women with modest amounts to spend on clothes pick from designs, or copies or designs created by names once restricted to a few wealthy customers. And women with unlimited clothing budgets eye the bargain departments with new respect.

Stores that once set aside entire floors for women who had the time and money to select clothes from models and then have them made now are frankly shrinking these custom departments and giving the space to clothes for working girls and average housewives.

Buying Has Increased

"American buying simply is turning away from custom-made clothes," Andrew Goodman, president of one of the exclusive Fifth Ave. stores, said.

"We sold fewer units in our custom shop—that means suits, coats and dresses—last year than we did in the peak depression year. In those days a woman could have a dress custom made by us for $195. Now the same dress costs $495.

Other living costs have doubled and tripled since the depression years and yet buying has in- the extra buying has turned to ready-made clothes. His store just moved the custom department into a smaller section and turned an entire floor over to a new department where the average suit sells for around $70.

"The way we live is partly responsible," Goodman continued. "Women are in too much of a hurry now to have seven or eight fittings fr a dress. And the new generation of shoppers is being brought up on beautiful clothes bought ready made—they won't take their mother's places in custom shops."

Not The Blue Jean Set

Goodman admitted that his store keeps the custom-designed clothes for prestige—not because there are enough customers to make it profitable.

"And don't get the idea that this new shopper we're catering to is the blue jean set,' he said. "We want to attract young women who like to dress well on a limited income, whether it is for the office or for suburban living or for a television career.".

That's the attitude in a store which regularly records the average price its women customers pay for various things and comes up with wuch figures as $45 spent for the average negligee and $1,637 for the average fur coat.

Designers who used to make $60 hats and $600 afternoon dresses tell the same story. They'll still make the specially-fitted designs at those prices—but their major business is now designing $10 hats and $100 dresses.

Father Begs Kidnaper To Return Infant

To Hospital As Soon As Possible

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — A heartbroken father pleaded today with the kidnaper of his four-day-old son to return the infant to Mount Zion Hospital as soon as possible.

Dr. Sanford Marcus, the 34-year old father and a staff physician at the hospital promised he "will not sign a complaint or try to prosecute" if the child is returned unharmed.

The kidnaper was believed to be a blonde in her mid 30's.

"I feel that this was done by a lonely woman...one who was lonely for a child and went to the most obvious place to get one," Marcus said.

He asked newspapers and radio stations to relay a message from him and his wife, Hanna, 29, that they want their baby, Robert back.

"Tell her I am not vindictive. We are not angry...I know she is someone who loves children but we love our children too.

"My wife is completely broken up. I had to give her a sedative.., within our ability we will refrain from punishing her if she will bring our baby back unharmed."

The kidnaping took place in the Mount Zion Hospital nursery Monday. It touched off one of the most intensive police searches in San Francisco history.

Mount Zion Hospital offered a 1,000 reward for information leading to recovery of the child.

The kidnaper was believed to be a woman with "stringy blonde hair," about 34 years old, 5 feet inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds.

The only immediate clue to the whereabouts of the baby came from a bus driver, Bing Wong, who said he had picked up a blonde woman carrying a baby near the hospital about three hours after the child was kidnaped.

Sense Of Aloneness Is Major Complaint Of Mentally Ill

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—A social scientist has directed the attention of psychiatrists to the ever-increasing loneliness of American life. Since a sense of isolation and aloneness is often a major complaint of mentally ill persons, the implication was that the mentally ill share their loneliness with the mentaly heathy, and only feel it more.

Dr. Claude Cam Bowman of Temple University, Philadelphia, suggested that many of us have been made into bureaucrats although we're not in government but in business or the professions. That is so because we're in "a highly organized activity, usually involving a large number of people, where special functions are fitted together into departments and hierarchies of power."

This makes people lonely whether they will it or not.

Bureaucrat Knows His Place

"The good bureaucrat knows his place in the social structure, knows his function and status, thinks impersonally, avoids impulsive spontaneity, Bowman said.

"Spontaneous fellowship and impersonality simply do not mix. Moreover, the feelings generated by competition are detrimental to the development and maintenance of friendliness.

Moreover, the feelings generated by competition are detrimental to the development and maintenance of friendliness. Friendly feelings toward fellow workers may be quite real, of course, but the other side of the ambivalence may be even more significant.

"This is the side of competition. In a competitive situation a person may fear that friendly colleagues are scheming behind his back, and blocking his advance directly or indirectly. One must constantly be on the alert to advance his cause—and that cause is always himself.

Reported In Journal

In treating the mentally ill, psychiatrists shouldnt think that aloneness and loneliness result only from the inner pecularities of the individual, said the social scientist in addressing the medical specialists through the pages of their technical journal. Indeed, "some degree of loneliness is indigenous to our society.

Bowman suggested that there are "normal types of loneliness as well as the loneliness which stems from mental illness. From this point of view, he continued, the psychiatrist will want merely "to reduce a sense of isolation (in his patient) to normal proportions. But unless he knows how much aloneness and loneliness exist among mentally healthy people, the psychiatrist "may expect more of the patient—and more of himself—than is sociologicall justified.

City People May Become Fertile Field For Reds If Tax Burdens Continue To Increase

By ROBERT V. HUDSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—The mayor of New Albany said today that people who live in cities "may well become a fertile field for communism" if their property tax burdens continue to increase.

Mayor C. Pralle Erni, president of the Indiana Municipal League, said the "antibiotic" for the situation is league efforts to return more state-collected funds to cities and towns.

Erni made the keynote speech at the opening of the league's annual two-day session.

"Disheartened, weary and exhausted financially under the burden of property taxes, and an even gloomier future to look forward to, dour homeowners may well becme a fertile field for communism," Erni said.

"Vassals of the State"

Municipal League opened its two-day convention today with a proposal for a new home rule amendment which would require retention of the mayor-council form of city government.

The new proposal would eliminate the league's chief argument against a constitutional amendment on home rule since it would prohibit cities from instituting government by a city manager.

A home rule amendment passed the 1953 Indiana legislature, but was defeated this year in the House. An amendment must be passed by two sessions of the legislature and a public referendum before it becomes part of the state constitution.

The league invited support for its home rule resolution from the League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, whose original amendment the league helped defeat. Municipal League officials said the new amendment would be introduced in the 1957 legislature.

The main feature of the new resolution is that it would enable cities to broaden the tax base and pay checks, cigarets and impose a relieve property owners of the major municipla tax burden. It would enable cities to tax amusements, utility fanchise tax.

Other resolutions under consideration by the league would criticize the legislature for its failure to reapportion for 33 years, urge distribution of the cigaret tax to cities and enable cities to retain all traffic fines.

Among speakers at today's session were Lt. Gov. Harold Handley, Frank T. Millis, state revenue commissioner, and Paul W. Phillips, Fort Wayne city attorney who drafted the new home rule resolution.

Australian Says Hands Of Women Are Larger

SYDNEY, Australia — (UP) — Women's hands are getting bigger all the time—at least in Australia.

That's the verdict of W. T. Brown on retiring at 82 after 16 years of glove-buying and 57 years with a big Sydney department store.

"Years ago," said Brown, "size six was the most popular women's glove. Now we sell more of the six and three-quarters, and sevens."

Brown's theory is that the bigger hands are a result of "all this carrying of parcels our womenfolk have to do these days."

Democrats Promise Investigation Of Blocked Air Force Agreement

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democrats, leveling new "big business" charges against the Republican administration, today promised an investigation of a blocked $2,400,000,000 Air Force agreement to lease secret new radar communications equipment from private firms.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell has warned the Air Force it had no authority from Congress to make such contracts. His ruling, made public Tuesday by House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass), means that no federal funds can be spent on the project.

But the Air Force said later Campbell has agreed to reconsider his stop order. The Air Force called the communications network, known as "Sage," "vital to the air defense of the United States" and has the approval of the top-level National Security Council, headed by President Eisenhower himself.

Virtually Automatic System

The project would make the operation of radar warning stations virtually automatic.

The Air Force emphasized that work on the project will continue while the dispute is being threshed out. One official said the government is not required to pay out any money until the private firms put the system into operation.

The Air Force denied McCormack's charge that it made a "secret effort to bypass Congress" in the matter. It said the project was carefully explained in advance to the House and Senate Appropriations Subcommittees on Military Spending, the full Senate Armed Services Committee, the Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on Real Estate and the full House Appropriations Committee.

Automatic Warnings

Once the communications system is completed, the course, speed and altitude of an approaching enemy plane will be signaled automatically to central warning stations, from which planes, missiles and anti-aircraft fire can be directed to head off the attacker.

Private telephone companies and the Western Electric Co., which makes their equipment, are to build, install and operate the secret new system. They are to be paid about 240 million dollars yearly for 10 years, after which their costs will have been amortized and they still will own the equipment.

McCormack said he expects an appropriate House or Senate committee to look into it thoroughly next year.

4-H Commercial Beef Steers To Be Sold Monday

Grading And Auction At Producers Market

Boys from eight Northeastern Indiana counties who are enrolled in the 4-H Commercial Beef Feeding Project will take their final examinations in cattle feeding when their groups of fat steers are graded at Producers Marketing Association yards at Briggs, Monday, and the price paid for their cattle in the afternoon auction will determine whether or not they passed the test.

These boys, ages 15-20, started the project last year with the purchase of five or more calves. During the year, they have financed the feeding and management of the beef animals, and Monday they will get their practical experience in marketing the cattle. The steers should begin arriving at the livestock yards at 7:00 a.m. and are supposed to all be in by 9:00 a.m. At 10:30, Paul Mitchell of Purdue University, will begin a grading demonstration of the fat steers. The 145 steers in the project will be sold in the regular Monday afternoon auction at Producers. A special invitation to attend the 4-H commercial beef auction has been extended to all regular buyers at the auction.

The Albion Production Credit Association is sponsoring the project.

Refueling Plane Crashes, Burns During Landing

12 Fliers, 3 Air Force Firemen Hospitalized

DOW AIR FORCE BASE, Maine (UP)—Twelve fliers and three Air Force firemen were hospitalized today after a four-engined refueling plane crashed and burned during a routine landing.

The 78-ton plane, assigned to the 341st Air Refueling Squadron of the 406th Air Refueling Wing, was used to refuel Strategic Air Command bombers in flight. It was on a routine mission when it crashed Tuesday.

Among the three crewmen most seriously injured was Maj. Bert H. Lynn Jr., Centralia, Ill., who suffered first and second degree burns of both hands.

The other crewmen hospitalized for observation and treatment of minor injuries, included: T.Sgt. Alonzo R. Dodson, Middleton, Wis.; S-Sgt. Howard I. McKinney, Brainerd, Minn.; and Airman 1.C. Kenneth E. Danielson, Mountain City, Wis.

Airman 2.C. Albert J. Thome, Moorland, Iowa, a base fireman who fought the flames also was hospitalized.

Meeting Of PTA At Jefferson Center Largely Attended

A large crowd attended the get-together of patrons, friends and students in the Jefferson Center school, held Monday evening with a potluck supper in the gymnasium.

Officers for this year are Mrs. Jack Phillips, president; Mrs. James Williams, vice-president; Mrs. Coral Platter, secretary; Mrs. Howard Hasty, treasurer. Committees were appointed and plans for the year were made.

Eudolph Holycross, principal of the school, and Mrs. Holycross, gave a most interesting travelogue," titled "Western Holiday" illustrated with colored slides taken on a 40-day trip taken during the summer by the Holycross family.

Pretty 15-Year-Old Austrian Princess Weds Her 31-Year-Old German Prince Charming

VENICE, Italy (UP)—A 15-year-old Austrian princess was married today to a 31-year-old German prince before a glittering assemblage that almost recreated the court of Kaiser Wilhelm.

The princess was Virginia Ira Furstenberg, daughter of a millionaire Italian motor magnate whose family dates back to the Holy Roman Empire. The prince, an engineer and equally wealthy racing enthusiast, was Alfonso Maximilian Hohenlohe - Langeburg.

They rode to the 16th century Church of San Sebastian in gondolas along canals freed of traffic by her father, Prince Tassilo Furstenberg, who paid the business houses along the route to shut up shop for the day.

A Who's Who of European nobility watched in the ancient Church of San Sebastian as the bride—too young to drive the Mercedes Benz sports car her bridegroom gave her for a wedding present—said "I do."

And the tall, dark-haired, brown-eyed princess, a beauty, said "Now I feel really like a princess. I have found my Prince Chraming. Never was I so happy."

The bride wore snow-white tulle and valenciennes lace for the ceremony. Her wedding gown was created by Jacques Griffe of Paris. The tulle gathered in horizontal bands separated by valenciennes lace, was gathered in a large bow from which extended the long trains, borne by her brothers, Prices Edward Egon and ebastiano.

For the wedding trip she had packed a wardrobe of 40 Paris dresses in the turquoise and pink bedroom of the family villa at Marocco, a show place six miles north of Venice and famous even before Venice was signed away by the Austro-Hungarian Republic in 349.

In display there were the wedding gifts which included gold dinner service sets, a Fiat automobile from her father who manufactures them, the Mercedes Benz from her husband who sells and races them, precious ceramics out of treasured collections; a diamond necklace from her mother; two enormous emeralds dating from the Second Crusade from the Hohenlohe clan; collections of pearls, diamonds, rubies and sapphires.

"Funnybone Follies" Cancelled, Refunds Are Now Available

LeRoy Loe, commander of VFW Post 5582 and his committee are reminding ticket purchasers to "Funnybone Follies" that they may have a refund by returning tickets to the seller or taking them to 409 Swihart street.

The committee also announced that all money received from advertising would be returned.

The home talent show scheduled for presentation in Marshall Memorial Hall Wednesday and Thursday evening was cancelled by the sponsoring organization.

The director of "Funnybone Follies" expressed disappointment that the production did not go on as scheduled.

All were appreciative of the cooperation of the many folks who had given of their time and effort to work on the program.

Five-Alarm Fire Kills 8 Persons And Injures 12

As It Races Through Coney Island Residences

NEW YORK (UP)—Eight persons were killed and at least 12 were injured today when a five-alarm fire that may have been set by an arsonist raced through a row of aged Coney Island residences.

The fire broke out just after dawn, trapping many persons in their beds in the rickety brick and frame buildings. One of the buildings was a boarding house, police said.

The fire was only two blocks from the famous Coney Island Beach and Musement Park.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh described the origins of the blaze as "very suspicious." Police began an immediate investigation for arson.

More than 50 pieces of fire apparatus responded to the alarm. Firemen wearing masks fought through dense clouds of smoke to rescue screaming residents trapped on upper floors. Shops occupied the ground floors of most of the buildings.

A brisk wind, the aftermath of hurricane Ione, fanned the flames.

At least four dwellings were engulfed by the fire and sparks showered areas for blocks around.

Police Hunt Woman Who Kidnaped Baby

Three Women Fit Description

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Police hunted three women today in the belief that one may be the kidnaper of 4-day-old Robert Marcus.

All fitted the description of a person believed to be the abductress, a heavy-set blonde who speaks English with an accent.

One of the suspects was reported seen in Novato, 30 miles north of San Francisco and the other at San Jose, 50 miles south. The third was a nurse's aide whose child was stillborn.

The San Jose woman's actions aroused immediate suspicion. She went to the home of Mrs. Henrietta Guerrero Tuesday and asked if she could heat a four-ounce bottle for her baby.

Mrs. Guerrero, noting that the woman was not carrying a change of diapers for the crying baby and did not have a purse, permitted the husky blonde to warm the bottle but notified police as soon as she left.

The child refused to take the bottle, Mrs. Guerrero said. The kidnaped baby, son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus, had been breast-fed until he was taken from Mt. Zion Hospital last Monday.

Mrs. Guerrero said the woman told her the baby was 18 days old but she said the infant appeared only 4 or 5 days old.

The second suspect was reported by Mrs. Ruth Haughan at Novato. She said the woman's companion stopped at her home to ask directions to Point Reyes, another small community in the county.

While the man was asking directions, Mrs. Haughan said, the woman was sitting in a ramshackle car holding a crying infant in her lap.

Officers also searched hospital records and found the name of a woman whose infant was stillborn and whose description matched that of the suspect.

Holbrook Home Is Nearly Finished

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Holbrook, one-half mile north of the city on the Line Street Road, is nearly completed. The house is on the east side of the road on land purchased from Don Leininger.

A drive leads to the garage on the north side of the house. Two wrought iron lamps are beside the front door with matching post lamps in the yard.

The living room and kitchen are on the side toward the road. The living room has two ten-foot picture windows on the south and west.

The kitchen and dinette are separated by a pass-through counter section opening on both sides. What-not shelves are built back of the stove area on the dinette side. The kitchen is built in a U shape. It has double auto-lock windows with aluminum screens. Kitchen cabinets have a lazy-susan in the corner and built in bread and flour containers.

A clear natural finish has been used on the birch doors, woodwork and cabinets. Counter tops are in pearl finish to match the dinette table top.

A terrace opening from the garage will be built on the east.

A basement is under the entire house with space for pump, laundry and freezer. It has an oil burning furnace using recessed baseboard outlets. A play and recreation room will be in the basement.

The house has two bedrooms and bath on the east opening from the hall. The bedrooms have sliding closet doors.

The bathroom has a built in vanity with a clothes-chute underneath. Fixtures and upper walls are in shell coral with pearlized green tile at the base.

Kitchen and bath floors are in clock tile. The bedrooms have oak floors in natural finish and the living room is carpeted.

Choir To Pracitce

Members of the choir of First Presbyterian Church will meet for practice at the church Thursday evening at 7:30.

Grotewohl Flies Home Today With State Treaty

Granting His Regime Full Independence

BERLIN (UP) — East German Premier Otto Grotewohl flew home from Moscow today with a "state treaty" granting his Communist regime full independence and control over the arteries linking Berlin to the West.

Whether the Communists would clamp down on traffic immediately was not known. Party boss Walter Ulbricht implied this when he said the Reds may put new difficulties in the way of Berlin bound traffic if the West "continues or steps up the cold war."

Russia granted its German satellite "full independence" in a move aimed at perpetuating its power and putting it on a par with newly sovereign West Germany.

The East Zone government's new powers include the right to raise its own army (which it already has) and to control traffic over the land and water routes to Berlin.

Grotewohl negotiated his treaty just two days after West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer left Moscow with an agreement to establish diplomatic relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union.

Grotewohl said before leaving Moscow that the East German-Soviet talks opened a "new epoch" and will be of "great future importance" for all of Germany.

Apply For Foreign Farm Trainees Before October 1

The final date for filing applications for foreign farm trainees for the coming year in Indiana is October first.

The program, sponsored by the State Farm Bureau, has as its major objective the building of good-will and understanding.

Farm trainees from foreign countries agree to live with, work with, and enjoy community activities with the family.

The farm family agrees to teach American ideals, objectives and work habits to the trainees.

Plans are that all trainees arrive the second or third week in January, 1956 and depart in December, 1956 making an eleven months stay. Terms are the same as in 1955: $50 per month to the trainee and $20 per month to the American Farm Bureau Federation to administer and supervise the program.

Details of the plan may be obtained locally by contacting the following Whitley County Farm Bureau officers: Preston Gregory, president; Mrs Talmage Leedy, social and educational leader or Mrs. Guy Gross, Churubusco, district board of S & E directors.

Rev. David Holland Accepts Pastorate At Napoleon

Rev. David Holland, pastor of the Eberhard Lutheran church, has accepted the pastorate of the Lutheran church at Napoleon. He will close his work at the Eberhard church next Sunday.

The parish will give a combined Harvest Home and farewell dinner, Sunday, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Holland. The dinner to be served at noon, will follow the worship service at 9:15 Sunday morning and the Sunday School service.

Rev. Holland has been pastor of the Eberhard church for the past five years.

City Council Not Expected To Change Time

Officials Plan No Action To Discontinue 'Fast Time' After Saturday

The Columbia City City Council has no plans of recommending that local businesses and offices move their opening times back one hour Saturday night, Mayor Thos. H. Hood has announced.

Midnight Saturday is the hour when most communities throughout the country which have daylight saving time during the summer return to standard time. Columbia City and other communities in Whitley County made the switch from daylight to central standard time as of midnight September 25, 1954, or the last Saturday in the month.

However, several communities in Indiana voted to countinue "fast time" or switched back to it some time later. Fort Wayne and the Whitley County area moved their clocks up one hour again as of October 30, 1954 and daylight saving time was continued throughout the winter months.

In his statement on the time issue, Mayor Hood said that because of our proximity to Fort Wayne, the community would probably operate on whatever time that city chooses, just as it did last October.

The Indiana General Assembly at its last session passed an act to submit to the voters at the next general election in November, 1956 the question of the official time for the State of Indiana. According to the act, the results of the referendum will be used for information and guidance of the members of the 90th General Assembly in legalizing the adoption of different times by individual communities in the state.

In the referendum, the Assembly will seek answers to the following questions on the time issue from the voters: (1) Do you favor the retention of central standard time as the official time for the State of Indiana, and (2) If so, do you favor legalizing the adoption of daylight savings time for certain periods of the year by the various political subdivisions of the state? and (3) Do you favor eastern standard time as the official time for the state and (4) If so, do you favor legalizing the adoption of DST for certain periods of the year by various political subdivisions in the state?

Some communities have gone back to CST for the winter months. Most areas, including Whitley county, probably will continue their present policy until the time question is decided by the state assembly.

2 County Firemen Receive Diplomas At State Fire School

Two members of two fire departments in Whitley County received diplomas for attending all four days of the Indiana State Firemen's School last week at Purdue University. They were Russell D. Wolf, Jr. of the Columbia City department and O. H. Laughman of the Thorncreek township fire department. Laughman is secretary of District 6 of the Indiana Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The members of the other departments attended the state school along with several members of the city department. Elmer Heinley and Ogle Shriver represented Columbia township at the school.

Russell D. Wolfe, Sr., city fire chief, said that a demonstration on the use of fire fighting masks was a feature at the school. Pictures of the Whiting fire recently were also shown by that town's fire chief.

Wolfe announced that the monthly meeting of the IVFA will be held Thursday night at the home of the Big Lake Fire Department.

Threat Of Violence At Perfect Circle

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (UP) —A threat of violence at the strikebound Perfect Circle plant continued today as some "400 to 500" pickets blocked the entrance and prevented non-strikers from reporting to work.

Thorncreek PTA To Hold First Meeting Of Year

The first meeting of the school year for the Parent-Teachers Association in Thorncreek township, will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 at Thorncreek Center, according to the president, Richard Snyder.

Plans for the year will be made at this time and the parents of the school are urged to attend and get better acquanited. The principal of the school, Kenneth Helmer and his corps of teachers will be introduced, also the trustee, Tom Cornelius, and the bus drivers.

Only 648 Youths Sign Army's New Training Plan

United Press Survey Shows

WASHINGTON (UP)—Only 648 pre-draft age youths have signed up so far for the Army's new six-month military training plan which begins Oct. 3, a United Press survey showed today.

The plan is a key part of the administration's military reserve program enacted Aug. 9 and aimed at building a 2,900,000-man ready reserve fighting force.

Despite the admittedly slow response to the plan, Asst.Defense Secretary Carter L. Burgess told a reporter "I am not dismayed or discouraged." He said enlistments will pick up when the armed services step up their campaign of "selling the program."

But Burgess admitted the Army probably won't be able to meet its goal of 5,000 youths actually in training under the plan by the end of this year. Many of those who have signed up will delay training until next year.

The Army hopes to have 90,000 youths in the plan by June 30, 1956.

Under the plan, a 17 or 18-year-old can volunteer for the Army reserve, and take six months active duty training, followed by 7½ years in the ready reserve. This frees him from the possibility of a two-year draft, which is now followed by a compulsory three years in the ready reserve.

Ready reserve training requires attendance at 48 weekend drill sessions and two weeks summer training, or 30 days summer training, each year.

The Marine Corps announced Tuesday it would accept enlistment of 5,500 pre-draft age youths in the Marine Corps reserve under the six-month plan between now and June 30. The Air Force and Navy do not plan to use the plan.

New Provisional Government To Start Thursday

General Lonardi Named New Head

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP)—Argentine rebels won unconditional surrender today from the ruling generals who took over power from fallen President Juan D. Peron. A new provisional government takes over Thursday.

Gen. Eduardo Lonardi was named to head the new government, an official announcement broadcast over the state radio said.

An earlier announcement said the ruling junta of 14 generals "accepted all conditions made" by the rebels.

The announcement, made no mention of Peron, but one of the rebel conditions was that he be surrendered to them to stand trial.

Peron still was aboard the gunboat Paraguay in Buenos Aires harbor to which he fled Tuesday. Technically, on board the ship, he was on Paraguayan territory but the rebels have announced they would not let the Paraguay sail with Peron on board.

Truck Hits Auto As 2 Wait To Cross Street To Enter Auto

Two women escaped possible injury at about midnight Monday when a truck and semi-trailer struck their car as they were standing at the corner of Van Buren and Whitley streets waiting to cross the street to enter the automobile.

The women, Mrs. Lloyd V. Walker, Churubusco, an dMiss Marjorie Erne, 110 Peabody Ave., had just come out of the door of the Memorial Hospital, where they are employed, and were about to cross the street to where the car was parked when the truck sideswiped the automobile.

The driver of the truck, Herbert William Sauer, 32, of Flint, Mich. told a member of the city police department that he was glancing in his rear view mirror when the accident occurred.

Damage to the car, which was parked on the south side of Van Buren street when it was hit by the eastbound truck, was to the left rear fender wheel. The cost was estimated at $10.

The accident occurred just east of the street intersection.

One Family Here Has Most Of Its Christmas Shopping Completed For Coming Two Years

One family in Columbia City has most of its Christmas shopping completed—for 1955 and also for 1956. This family is not just making sure to avoid the Christmas rush, they are making sure they will have presents to exchange with their relatives and friends.

The Walter F. Meyers, Jr. family, who are ending a vacation in this city with relatives, will leave here Saturday and begin the return trip to South America where Mr. Meyers is employed by Creole Petroleum, an affiliate of Standard Oil of New Jersey. It will be two years before Mr. and Mrs. Meyers and their three children will again get a long enough vacation to return to the States. A shopper for Christmas gifts in Venezuela, where they will live, does not have as wide a selection as the shopper here. There is another problem that the Meyers family would face if they bought gifts in South America and they sent them here at Christmas time. That would be the cost of shipping and possible import duties.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Meyers have been buying gifts, wrappings, cards, etc., and the home of Mr. Meyers' parents, at 208 W. Jefferson street, has the appearance of a few days before Christmas. Walter, Jr., "Bud", as he is better known here, explained with a smile that "to make certain the gifts are not opened until Christmas, we leave gifts for our parents at the home of my aunt, and gifts for my aunt at my parents' home, etc."

The younger Mr. and Mrs. Meyers have three children, and the purchase of clothing in Venezuela presents a more pressing problem than here, as most things bought there have to be shipped into the country, making it more costly. The selection here is also greater, so the parents have also purchased a considerable amount of clothing to take back with them. When taking such products into the South American country, proof of ownership is required, and Mr. Meyers explained it is easier if the clothing has a laundry mark or is not new. If the clothing has been laundered, it is less likely that it is being taken into the country for resale, and therefore no import duty is charged on it. Mr. Meyers added they are taking a new washing machine back with them, simply because the machine would cost about twice as much there.

Teen-Age Editor Concedes Girls' Clothes Cost More

(Editors Note: Fred D. Wahlstrom, Jr., at 13½, is the founder, editor, and publisher of the Shore Road Herald, circulation 200 plus, a United Press client. He is just entering high school. He talked with his friends, consulted some mothers, and wrote the following first-hand account of what a high school freshman needs in the way of clothes.)

By FRED D. WAHLSTROM, Jr.
Editor, Shore Road Herald
Written for United Press

OLD GREENWICH, Conn. —(UP)—It just plain costs more to outfit a girl for school than it does a boy. In the first place, the average girl going into high school needs about six changes of clothes while most of the boys can get along with three or four.

I would estimate it costs around $100 to get a girl all set, but this does not include party dresses, shoes and a good coat. The boys can be outfitted for about $75 for the essentials, but if a new suit and topcoat become involved, it would at least double that amount.

Most of the teen-age boys around here in the fall and winter wear khaki pants and cotton and flannel sports shirts. Some have flannel and gabardine slacks. Occasionally, the boys will appear in good suits (charcoal gray, the most popular,) sports jackets, with white, pink, yellow shirts and ties to match.

Cotton Featured

Most girls wear cotton skirts and blouses, cotton dresses, crew socks, loafers and brown and white saddle shoes, with a few wearing brown ones.

Almost all of the boys prefer loafers, white buckskins, sneakers mostly on "gym" days and substantial brown shoes (the latter being the mothers' choice.)

In the fall, a lot of the boys are displaying their favorite baseball teams by wearing baseball jackets and caps. When winter rolls along, the mothers start getting winter jackets out where they have been in storage, with a few heavy sweaters now and then.

When it gets cold, the girls wear heavy cotton dresses, a few woolen dresses, pullover and cardigan sweaters and more cotton blouses. The woolen skirts, as well as the cotton skirts, are on the straight side with the teen-ager, instead of the full skirt of the younger girls.

Hand-MeDowns

The girls like polo coats, bright, long scarves and convoy jackets later on. Some of the boys get along without topcoats using their heavy jackets at times.

In a lot of cases where there are more than one boy in the family, the mother will splurge more and invest in a good topcoat and extra shirts, for these can be worn next year by the younger brother.

I guess that $100 estimate will hold for the girls' wardrobe. Of course, if a girls' mother sews well she would be able to save around $30 or $40. Some of the experts can even make blazers which are so popular with the girls this year.

P. S. Blue jeans are popular with boys and girls for after school and weekends.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed Proposals or Bids for the construction of a Unit B Classroom Building for Smith School Township and Smith Civil Township, Whitley County, Indiana, will be received by the Trustee and Advisory Board in the Smith Township Grade and High School Building, in the Town of Churubusco, in Smith Township, Whitley County, Indiana until 12:30 o'clock P.M. (Central Standard Time) on the 18th day of October, 1955, at which time and place all proposals or bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. Any proposal or bid received, for any reason, after the designated time will be returned unopened.

Contracts for the proposed work are divided into the following divisions and proposals or bids will be received on any one, or any combination of said divisions:

1. General Contract, including all work as called for.
2. Architectural Trades Contract, including all work as called for except in the following Mechanical Contracts.
3. Plumbing, Heating and Ventilating Contract.
4. Electrical Contract.

The contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file for examination only at the office of the Township Trustee, the State Board of Accounts, State House, Indianapolis, Indiana, and the F. W. Dodge Corp., 2212 South Calhoun Street, Fort Wayne, Indiana. Copies of documents may be obtained from the Architect, Albert Heeter, 1001 Gettle Building, Fort Wayne, Indiana, by depositing $20.00 for each set of documents. The amount of deposit will be refunded to bidders who submit a proposal, upon return of the documents in good condition.

Each proposal or bid shall be accompanied by an acceptable Certified or Cashier's Check, or an acceptable bidder's bond, made payable to William W. Shew, Trustee of Smith Township, Whitley County, Indiana, for not less than five per cent (5) of the total bid price.

No bidder shall have the right to withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for opening of bids.

Each bidder to whom a contract is awarded for any part of the work will be required to furnish an acceptable surety bond for the faithful performance of the work in an amount equal to one hundred per cent (100) of the contract price.

Each proposal or bid shall be properly and completely executed on Proposal Form 96, with non-collusion affidavit, as prescribed by the Indiana State Board of Accounts and the Statutes of the State of Indiana. Any proposal or bid of Five Thousand Dollars, or more, must be accompanied by an experienced questionnaire 96A as prescribed by the Indiana State Board of Accounts.

Wage rates paid on this work shall not be less than the prescribed scale of wages as determined pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 319 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Indiana of 1935.

If proposals or bids are submitted by mail they must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for Construction of Smith Township Unit B" with the name and address of the bidder stated thereon and should be addressed to William W. Shew, Trustee of Smith Township, Churubusco, Indiana.

The Township Trustee and Advisory Board reserve the right to reject any and all bids and to waive any informalities in bidding.

Steel Ingot Production May Set All-Time Mark

NEW YORK (UP)—Steel ingot production has a good chance of setting an all - time production mark this year, the magazine Iron Age reported today.

The publication said 1955 output "will approach 115 million tons," compared to the existing record of 111,600,000 tons produced in 1953.

Iron Age reported an increasing number of mills operating at 100 per cent of capacity. Output has inched ahead steadily after summer lapses caused by vacations, maintenance work, and the weather.

Incoming orders continue to run well ahead of capacity, Iron Age noted. The problem will remain acute next year, the publication predicted, and customers "will be told what they can expect, not what they would like to get."

While a small gray market in steel exists, it is "not of real significance," the publication said.

Iron Age also noted that many normal mill customers have been forced to buy warehouse steel to main operations. This, said the publication, has "placed an unusually heavy burden on the warehouses at a time when their own customers are pressing them for delivery."

Demand is so heavy that, if producers accepted all the business offered them, they would have to operate at between 130 and 150 per cent of capacity, the publication declared.

Notice To Taxpayers Of Additional Appropriations

Notice is hereby given to the taxpayers of Smith School Township of Whitley County, Indiana, and Smith Township of Whitley County, Indiana, (the same being the civil township) that the Advisory Board and Trustee of said school and civil townships will meet in the office of the Township Trustee in the Central Building in the Town of Churubusco, Whitley County, Indiana, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. (Central Standard Time) on the 26th day of September, 1955, to consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time:

1 An appropriation of the funds of said school township and said civil township in the sum of One Hundred Seventy-two Thousand Dollars ($172,000.00) to be applied on the cost of erecting and equipping an Eight Classroom High School Building, and connecting corridor, in said school township, including the incidental expenses to be incurred in connection with said building project. The funds to meet said appropriations are to be provided from funds now on hand and funds to be received in 1955 from the following sources:

(a) Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000.00) of said total amount from funds now on hand from unexpended monies previously raised and appropriated in 1954 and 1955.

(b) Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12,000.00) of said total amount from funds to be received in 1955 from the cumulative building fund of said school township

(c) One Hundred Twenty Thousand Dollars ($120,000.00) of said total amount from funds to be received in 1955 from the Department of Public Instruction of the State of Indiana Veterans Memorial School Construction Fund.

The foregoing appropriations for the cost of erecting and equipping an Eight Classroom High School Building, and connecting corridor, in said school township, are in addition to all appropriations provided for in the existing budgets and levies and an extraordinary emergency for such appropriations exists for the reason of the inadequacies of existing facilities to accommodate the pupils of high school age resident within such townships.

Taxpayers appearing at such meeting shall have a right to be heard thereon. The additional appropriations as finally made will be automatically referred to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, which Board will hold a further hearing within fifteen days at the County Auditor's Office of Whitley County, Indiana, or at such other place as may be designated. At such hearing, taxpayers objecting to any of such additional appropriations may be heard and interested taxpayers may inquire of the County Auditor when and where such hearing will be held.

New Georgia Peach Implies She'll Shoot For Pennant Money

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs Myrtle Power, baseball's new Georgia peach, untangled herself from half a dozen good luck charms today and indicated she would shoot for pennant money on TV's "The $64,000 Question."

Myrt, bolstered by a four-leaf clover, an Indan head penny, a turkey wishbone, an Oriental statuette, a lucky necklace and a jade ring, reached the $32,000 level on the giveaway show by swatting her way through a baseball query. Next week, the bouncy 70-year-oldster from Buford, Ga., can retire with her winnings or try to double them.

But Myrt left little doubt she would go all the way.

She revealed that she already was casting around for an expert to bring to the CBS-TV program next Tuesday. Under the rules of the show, Myrt can tote in a helper if she decides to go for the big question.

Myrt wore her lucky dress, a black silk number, for the third time on the show. She said she would wear it again next week.

"A ballplayer doesn't change his underwear during a winning streak," explained Myrt, "So I'm not going to change my dress."

The question pitched at her dealt with the seven ballplayers who collected more than 3,000 hits during their major league careers. Myrt was asked to supply the six aside from Ty Cobb, the old Georgia peach.

"Cap Anson, Tris Speaker, Hans Wagner, Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie," she said and then added, "Paul Waner."

Lads In Service In 1860s Had Some Difficult Problems

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Any GI griping about cutting the grass around the post might take a look at some old Army regulations.

Those fellows in earlier Army history who were in charge of lawn manicuring did not have any ower driven mowers—or even hand pushed mowers.

The Pentagon tells us that the ade in the service in the 1860s ad some rather difficult problems.

There was a regulation in 1861, or instance, which was relaxed little a couple of years later, which read:

"All grassed surfaces, except glacis (slopes and hills) will be carefully and frequently mowed except in dry weather) and the oftener the better, while growing idly—the grass never allowed o be more than a few inches high."

Remove All Weeds

That was a rough enough order in those days. There were no push mowers. It was all hand work.

"In order to cut the grass even nd close, upon small slopes, a ight one-handed scythe should be used. And mowing the steep slopes, the mower (or man should stand on a high ladder resting against the slope and not upon the grass."

That must have posed a problem.

Also there was a rule of thumb in the early Army regulations that "all weeds must be eradicated."

Something that at this late date hasn't been solved with all of the millions of dollars spent on research, spray guns, DDT and the ke.

Straw Every Month

By 1908, some of the tough ectives had been levened. At at point, a man could go about the acres with his sickle and so long as he kept the premises "attractive," he would not wind up in the soup.

In the year 1955, of course, the old Article 52, Section 1126 does not apply.

That one said that in barracks, 12 pounds of straw per month for bedding would be allowed each man.

That straw allotment was increased in 1913, under regulations, to a little more and maybe that was where the mattress was born —who knows!

The 1913 regulation said:

"Except for troops serving in the tropics, when mattresses are not supplied, a bed sack and 30 pounds of straw a month for bedding will be furnished for each enlisted man.

CHILDISH GROWNUPS

ST. LOUIS — (UP) — Dr. John A. Schindler, Monroe, Wis., told a teachers' conference here that more than 50 per cent of all illness today is emotionally induced because people are not being educated to grow up. He said they are "trying to handle adult problems in childish ways."

Schuberts Home From Trip To New Orleans; Attend Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Milton V. Schubert, Jr., have arrived home from a 10-day trip to New Orleans, where they attended the convention of the Allied farm Equipment Manufacturers Association, held at the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans.

Ladies registered at the convention were taken on a walking tour of the Vieux Carre, lunching at the Court of Two Sisters. Dinner was served at Antoins and a sightseeing trip was made on the Mississippi.

A delightful conclusion to the week's program, was a dinner party featuring New Orleans Show Boat entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jellison and son, Leigh will leave this evening for their home in Toledo, O., after a visit since Sunday in this city.

The Jellisons have been guests of Mr. Jellison's mother Mrs. Max Bennett. They came particularily at this time to be with the Walter Meyers, Jr. family, who are here from South America. Mr. Meyers and Mr. Jellison were boyhood friends while the two were in school in this city.

Cpl. Ted Bell Leaves For Washington;Given Going Away Party

Cpl. Ted Bell, who has been home on leave, has gone to Fort Lewis, Wash., preparatory to leaving for Korea. Before leaving, Cpl. Bell was given a farewell party at the Clair Henney home in Jefferson township.

A weiner roast and a hayride was included in the evening's entertainment. Guests included Armo Fulks, Agnes Bauer, Alice Heney, Dwight Fulks, Richard Stove, Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Henney, Mr. and Mrs. Ancel Bell, parents of Cpl. Bell, and their grandchildren.

EUB Church Women Has Missionary Lesson Meeting At Church

Wednesday evening, the Women's Society of World Service of the Evangelical United Brethren church met at the church for its September meeting. Mrs. Robert Souder presented the lesson, "Christian! What of the Church?" She was assisted by Mesdames John Andrews, Dwight Trumbull, Robert Cramer, Lawrence Wolfe, P. F. Young, Leonard Gordon and Ulysses Groves. Mrs. Ben Herr, Jr., had devotions.

Plans were made to unify the Ladies Fellowship and the missionary society and have two circles.

More Oven-Table Servers Mean Less Dishwashing

By TERESA REESE
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO — (UP) —Less dishwashing is in the works for the nation's cooks.

Ever-growing numbers of "pots and pans" go from stove to table —and attractively so. They eliminate the need for use of special serving dishes and the added dishwashing.

Cook-and-serve ware dominated at the recent Chicago gift show, attended by 400 exhibitors and featuring 800 lines from the United States and 30 foreign countries.

Tourquoise and the other blues replaced pink as the number one color for ceramics and dinnerware.

There were countless casseroles with warmers for oven to table use. One of the most unusual was an old-fashioned white enamel pot glamorized with a hand-painted motif in olice green, gold and black.

New Shades, Designs

Many earthenware casseroles come in the new turquoise and blue shades and there are fresh designs in copper casseroles. A new twist to the popular highly colored enameled iron skillets are some lighter weight enamel-on steel skillets from Denmark. They come in orange, turquoise, pale green and yellow.

Cook-and-serve practicality also has been carried into handsome "company" dinner china. One firm showed a service-weight china in white with a turquoise snow drop pattern.

Glassware decorated in all colors—particularly black and gold-is increasing in popularity.

Imported lead crystal bowls, decanters and glasses from Sweden and France lent elegance to the show. American glass makers, in an effort to meet the competition from imported glassware, have come up with fine models in glowing colors, as well as clear crystal.

Early American

Manufacturers are offering more co-ordinating trays than ever before. One shrimp server consists of a large flat bowl of clear glass with a small detachable deep bowl in the center and glass tooth pick holders which can be hooked onto the rim of the large bowl.

Lavabos appeared in new shapes as well as new materials and colors. One is of imported pink china with elaborate gold tracery. In a more casual vein are lavabos in metal or ceramic mounted on natural wooden plaques.

Following one of the home furnishing trends the displays featured a number of early American touches combined with modern. One designer used giant apothecary jars filled with artificial fruits and candies for lamp bases. The shades are modern.

Other things to look for:

Handblown milk crystal glass ware — imported European china figurines — mottled turquoise enamel baked on brass in vases and candlesticks from Israel — new shapes in imported mahogany salad bowls — and imported china desk sets including hand-painted writing blotter corners.

Most Mayors Agree That Real Home Rule, Giving Cities Power To Levy Taxes, Needed

By ROBERT V. Hudson
Inited Press Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—One thing most mayors agreed on at the Indiana Municipal League convention is that real "home rule," giving their cities the power to levy their own taxes, is needed.

Mayors interviewed at the two-day convention ending today generally spoke of the need for state government to recognize that each city and town may have its own special problems requring special attention not tendered by existing laws.

One of these mayors is Ralph Tucker of Terre Haute. According to Tucker, cities should have the right to levy special municipal taxes on such items as cigarets and amusements.

"Seventy-five per cent of fires in Terre Haute start from smokers," Tucker said. "The city has to pay for fire equipment and firefighting but gets little income from sale of the product which causes the fires."

Most mayors believed the municipal tax is the answer to mounting taxes on the local property level which place the tax burden on property owners.

Mayor Emmett Kelly of Bloomington said not everybody in his cit complains about property taxes. The chief complainants, he said, are "property owners with ranch type houses spread over large areas." Kelly said the municipal income problem is less serious in a city like his which owns its own water utility and has a source of revenue from sanitation facilities.

Mayor Paul Hironimus of Mount Vernon said property owners in his area were not complaining much. The city has gas and water utility income, gets revenue from parking meters and sweeping of state highways.

"We give them (the people) more than their money's worth," he said.

Mayor Onis Rudolph of Boonville said he believed full "home rule" would come to the cities of Indiana although "it may take six to 10 years."

Eden To Explain Alleged Foreign Office Bungling

Of Investigation Of Missing Diplomats

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden is ready to explain personally the alleged Foreign Office bungling of the investigation of missing diplomats Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess, informed sources said today.

The two men disappeared from Britain while the Labor government was in power. Eden took office as Conservative foreign minister during the investigation of their disappearance and reports they were Soviet spies.

Eden was meeting with his cabinet today and it was believed he would discuss the growing scandal over why the diplomats were permitted to slip behind the Iron Curtain even while they were under investigation.

The informed sources said a speech by Lord Hope, undersecretary for foreign affairs and one of Eden's top foreign policy aides, indicated that Eden himself was prepared to explain the blunders by his subordinates.

Observers said Hope's statement appeared to indicate that Eden was prepared to face the furious sniping by Britain's newspapers touched off by the disclosure that the Foreign ffice suspected the men of being spies before they disappeared.

Viet Namese Army Flushes Out Insurgents

SAIGON, Indochina (UP)—The South Viet Namese army launched a general offensive today against Binh Xuyen rebels entrenched in deep jungles outside the gates of the capital, the government announced.

Several dozen army battalions were reported to have attacked at dawn against the river pirates in an effort to drive them out of the wooded woods and marshes around Nhabe, 10 miles south of the capital.

Troops were under orders to push the insurgents out of their jungle hideouts and push them into the plains lining the China Sea coast where they could easily be destroyed.

A powerful artillery barrage rocked Saigon until dawn as heavy guns struck at the rebel lairs. Viet Namese air force planes joined the attack at dawn to soften up the die-hard insurgents with bombs and strafing attacks.

The Binh Xuyen sect of ex-river pirates was driven out of Saigon early this year in a series of street battles but regrouped outside the city in hopes of overthrowing the present government.

Is Civil Engineer

Mr. Meyers is a civil engineer with Creole Petroleum and assists in building roads, housing, warehouses, etc. He has worked with the oil company for eight years. He graduated from Columbia City high school in 1941, served in the Armed Forces in World War II and graduated from Purdue University in Julv 1947.

They have been living in an oil camp of his company's at Quiriquire in the state of Menagus in Venezuela. He, his wife, and three children, Jeffrey and Mary Margaret 5½-years-old, and Nellie Grey 3½-years-old, will leave here Saturday. They will travel to New York and leave there September 30 on the five-day boat trip to Venezuela. After reaching the South American port, they will have a 16-hour drive to their home. Most of the roads there are of asphalt construction and satisfactory for travel.

40 Other Families

There are about 40 other American families living in the oil camp with them. There is a commissary where they buy most of their food and essentials. Other shopping is done at a native general store, where the storekeeper has "about one of anything a person would need." Prices on items sold at these stores are usually set when the customer walks into the store. The merchant attempts to decide what the customer can pay and the price is regulated accordingly, Mr. Meyers said. Sears Roebuck is opening a department store in the country, and others will probably be patterned after it, Mr. Meyers said.

The civil engineer explained that much of the drilling for oil with which he was involved is land drilling and in the eastern part of the country. "Much of our work is actually exploring, which makes it more interesting," he declared. "Abuot one of 10 wells we drill are considered good commercial wells, producing approximately 200 barrels daily."

boat was anchored was under heavy guard and rebel warships blocked any exit from the harbor.

Expected to rule with Lonardi were three others named with him earlier in a revolutionary provisional government.

They were Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, aboard whose flagship in the River Plate estuary the surrender terms were reached in an eight-hour conference ending at 2 a.m. today; Gen. Leon Bengoa, and Gen. Audelino Bergallo.

Bergallo was the only remnant of the 14-man junta which took over from Peron after Peron was forced to resign on Monday.

The junta had named Bergallo director of national safety and it was his forces that clashed bloodily with Peronist hoodlums in the center of Buenos Aires early today.

Lonardi is a long-time opponent of Peron, known to have been against him since 1950.

His Cautious Plan

In 1951, while commander of an army division at Santa Fe, he plotted against the government but was so cautious that another general moved in and tried to take over the revolution for himself. The revolution was a failure and that general was sent to a Patagonian prison for life.

Lonardi was retired from the army at Peron's order.

He is married to a member of a devoutly Catholic family of Cordoba. His wife's brother, Villada Achaval, is a leader of the church lay movement in Cordoba.

An earlier announcement read over the state radio denied there had been any outbreak of new hostilities.

Smoke still rose this morning from the darkened rubble that had been the headquarters of the Alianza Libertadora Nacionalista Party whose members clashed in a bloody struggle with government troops and police early today.

Party Building Wrecked

The Alianzas, Peron's personal storm troops, wore red arm bands and roamed the city streets in jeeps, immune to arrest. They were accused of setting fire to seven Roman Catholic churches after the abortive June 16 revolt.

Some 400 to 600 of them, including some women, fought a pitched battle from their barricaded two-story headquarters, beginning shortly after 1 a.m. with the arrest of Guillermo Kelly, their chief.

The government forces replied with cannon fire from four Sherman tanks and a field piece perched atop the All America Cable Building diagonally across the street a block away. Flames consumed what the shelling left.

Five minutes later some of the Alianzas shot their way from the building and spread to nearby roof tops where they sniped at government forces below with automatic pistols.

Police cordoned off the block and brought up two more tanks and a field gun.

Soon, as gunfire echoed across the city, the party headquarters was aflame.

Firemen fought the blaze even as the fighting continued. As the flames spread, they ordered the evacuation of nearby buildings, among them the building occupied by the newspaper "La Nacion."

After the main battle, small gun fights broke out a mile away between police and groups of alianzas who had escaped the headquarters.

Keep vacuum bottles and jugs clean and odorless with baking soda. Just before filling with a picnic beverage, half fill the bottle or jug with water, add a couple of tablespoons of sida, shake well and rinse. Corks or other closures will be oderless if rubbed with moistened baking soda.

You can improve the flavor of apple pie by sprinkling a few drops of lemon juice on the sliced apples before dotting the slices with butter.

DOC DOLLAR

It's True-We Can't Bake Bread Anymore!

"But We Sure Have Lost A Lot Of "Dough"

The $74,000 which the present Republican administration salvaged from the City Light Plant equipment represents nearly half a million dollar investment -------- all since 1947.

As the Republicans admit, they raised abond issue of $400,000 in 1947 (under a Republican administration) which proved underestimated and the Democratic administration of 1948-1952 had to raise $288,000 additional.

WOULD IT NOT HAVE BEEN BETTER TO HAVE TRADED-IN "MOM'S OLD COOK STOVE" IN 1947 .... AND SAVED THE CITY NEARLY $700,000!

After the $400,000 investment in 1947 by the Republicans, the Democratic administration had no alternative but to continue with the already started project.

As for the "efficency experts" findings that another new turbine would be needed as the power peak was being neared ---- we wonder why the present administration went to Indianapolis and fought the Whitley County REMC to supply power outside the city limits to the Westgate area (and by the way they won the case.) Also we are sure the REMC would have been glad to have taken over the lines running to the Lake Area (obviously not for city jurisdiction.)

The City Light Plant was valued at approximately $1,000,000. It cost $60,000 to hook up to I & M. This means that from the $74,000 salvaged from the not-so-outmoded equipment that actually only a net of $14,000 remained.

Cleveland Indians Have Just One Edge On Archie Moore

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians had just one edge on Archie Moore today as both awaited the inevitable — the New York Yankees can't beat Rocky Marciano to the knockout punch.

All the relentless Yankees can do tonight is cinch a tie for the American League title. They'll do that if they beat the Washington the Indians lose to the Chicago White Sox. But they can't deliver the kayo blow until at least Friday.

The Indians made certain of that Tuesday night when they snapped a four-game losing streak with a "back-to-the-wall" 3-2 triumph over the White Sox. The victory did little more than prolong the agony, however, as the Yankees beat the Senators, 6-3 and 9-7, in a day-night doubleheader and went 2½ games ahead of the tribe.

As a result any combination of Yankee victories and Cleveland losses totaling three will clinch Casey Stengel's sixth flag in seven years. The Yankees have five games left while the Indians have four.

Early Wynn yielded 10 hits but stranded 11 White Sox batters and pitched his way out of a ninth-inning threat to win his 17th game of the year.

Bobby Avila, the AL's 1954 batting champion, struck out the big blow for the Indians — a two-run triple in the eighth inning that snapped a 1-1 deadlock.

The Yankees' nightcap victory—mathematically knocked the White Sox out of the race.

Baltimore Beats Boston

The Baltimore Orioles beat the Boston Red Sox, 3-2 and 7-4, to move the Senators into seventh place and the Detroit Tigers downed the Kansas City Athletics, -3, in other American League action.

In the National League, Willie Mays hit his 49th and 50th homers as the New York Giants walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-1 and 14-8. Mays, who leads Ted Kluszewski by four homers in their seven homers in six games and ace, has tied a mark by hitting equal Johnny Mize's club record needs one more round-tripper to established in 1947.

The champion Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-3 and 6-1; Lew Burdette tossed a six hitter as the Milwaukee Braves beat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 7-0, and the St. Louis Cardinals got five-hit pitching from Ben Flowers and Harry Haddix to down the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, in other NL games.

East Chicago Roosevelt Leads U. P. Coaches Poll

By KURT FREUDENTHAL

United Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—East Chicago Roosevelt, a traditional powerhouse in Indiana high school football, made an early bid for the "mythical" state title today.

Coach Pete Rucinski's Rough Riders, easy winners in their first two starts, compiled 87 points to lead the pack in the first weekly United Press Coaches Poll.

The Calumet powerhouse thus started the campaign just as last year when it also led the elite until its 12-7 loss to eventual state champ Whiting.

Roosevelt was nominated on nine of the 10 ballots, receiving six firsts and three runner-up spots.

Muncie Central's 1954 North Central Congerence co-titlists, the only club nominated by all coaches, was second with 71 points, including one first-place nod.

Only one point each separated the next four positions, indicating a real scramble for the next few positions. At this stage, South Bend Washington is third with 44 points, city rival Central has 43, Evansville Reitz 42 and Mishawaka 41.

Sullivan's Golden Arrows were rated seventh with 28 points, followed in order, by South Bend Adams, Kokomo and East Chicago Washington. The latter dropped a 7-6 opener at Muncie last Friday.

If results of the first poll are a criterion, the two sections of the Northern Conference will again have an edge in state-wide competition. The NIHSC now has six of the first 10 spots nailed down. Only other major conference with more than one berth is the North Central with Muncie and Kokomo.

Four of the first 10 also made the grade in the final tally last November. They were Muncie, the two East Chicago teams and Mishawaka. Most conspicuously its absence was Whiting, last year's "mythical" king but loser of its first two starts against Hobart and Hammond.

13 Errors By Tigers Help South Whitley To 18-5 Win Tuesday

The South Whitley Bulldogs baseball team, helped by 13 Jefferson Center errors, defeated the Tigers 18-5 in a game Tuesday afternoon on the losers' home field.

The Tigers committed five of the errors in the first inning when the visitors scored five of their runs. The Bulldogs only got 10 hits but made only three errors. The Tigers were held to nine hits.

Ulshafer was the winning pitcher for South Whitley as he went all seven innings. Terry Clapp was behind the plate. Ulshafer struck out nine men and gave up eight walks. He was the victim of a triple hit with two men on by Jefferson's Geiger in the sixth inning when the losers scored two of their runs. The other three were scored in the fifth inning.

Max Aker went the route for the Tigers with Steve Bolinger catching. Aker issued seven bases on balls and struck out seven. He gave up two hits each to Graf and Easterday of the Bulldogs. One of Graf's hits was a double. Coach Tony Newell of the Tigers cleared his bench during the game as he used all of his 15-man squad.

The win gives South Whitley a record of 2 wins and one loss in county play. Jefferson Center has yet to win a game in three starts.

Friday South Whitley will be at Churubusco, which has a record of 2-0 and did not play Tuesday. Jefferson Center will be host to Coesse, which also has failed to win in two starts.

Breaking Eggs Is Fine Art In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. —(UP) — Between three and four hundred women here make their living breaking eggs.

There is more to this egg-breaking than just breaking eggs. You have to separate the white from the yolk.

A crack egg-breaker can break 900 eggs an hour. That's 7,200 a day, 36,000 a week.

Five or six months out of the year, in the spring and early summer, egg processors sell egg whites and egg yolks to candy makers, noodle makers, bakeries and such. The rest of the time they process the whole egg, in the shell, for home consumption.

Larwill Beats Coesse 11-4 For Third Win; Coesse Needs Victory

The Larwill Trojans won their third successive baseball game Tuesday afternoon as they downed the Coesse Indians on the latter's field by a score of 11-4. The Trojans now have a perfect 3-0 record for the county season.

Roger Tuggle was the winning pitcher for the Larwill team with Mathias behind the plate replacing Fred Cornelius, the first-string catcher who suffered an injured finger in the game with South Whitley last Friday. Ronald Steele went the route on the mound for the losing Indiana with Jerry Walker behind the plate.

Coesse has yet to win a game in county play, having lost previously to Churubusco and South Whitley.

The schedule will have Coesse at Jefferson Center Friday while Larwill will not play.

Hoosierland Due For Long-Awaited Rain Late Today

By UNITED PRESS

Hoosierland is due for some long awaited rain late today and Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said fair skies in the morning will be followed by increasing cloudiness. Showers and scattered thunderstorms possibly will begin in the extreme west of Indiana late this afternoon.

Thursday will be partly cloudy with scattered showers and cooler temperatures.

The rainfall will amount to about one-half to three-fourths of an inch. That is all Indiana was expected to get through Saturday, the weatherman said.

Hoosier crops have been suffering from lack of moisture. Some parts of Indiana haven't had rain of consequence since July 25. But the small amount tonight and Thursday wasn't expected to help much.

The rains will usher in cooler weather Thursday. It will come toward evening after daytime high ranging from 82 to 88. Today's highs will range from 82 to 90.

Lows tonight will range from 65 to 68.

Lows early today ranged from 52 at South Bend to 66 at Evansville. The highs Tuesday ranged 15 degrees, from 92 at Evansville to 77 at South Bend.

The outlook for Friday was "cloudy and cooler."

Bouncy Pinky Lee Collapses During TV Show Tuesday

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Bouncy Pinky Lee today may leave a hospital where he was rushed after collapsing during his TV show, one of the nation's top-rated day programs watched by millions of children.

The veteran comedian, suffering from nervous exhaustion, slumped to the stage floor Tuesday while performing on his coast-to-coast (NBC) show. He complained during a commercial that he was feeling dizzy, then clutched his throat and collapsed 10 minutes before the end of the half-hour show.

The network blacked out the screen and substituted musical selections for the remaining 10 minute sof the show.

"Boner" Postponement Of Marciano-Moore Bout Leaves Odds Unchanged, Boosts Gate

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—The "boner" postponement that sends Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore into the ring tonight for their heavyweight championship fight left the odds unchanged at 4-1 but may boost the gate toward $900,000.

With the weather lid lifted by a forecast of "cool and fair," officials of the International Boxing Club figured today's rush of ticket buyers might swell the crowd at Yankee Stadium to 70,000. Fresh sales were in the ratio of nearly 5-1 to refunds.

Despite challenger Moore's nervousness during Tuesday's physical examination and the general belief that the 24-hour delay would bother him more than the "ice-cold champion," the betting price remained static.

Unbeaten Marciano and the 38-year-old light heavyweight champion were slated for another physical exam today, but they need not undergo the ordeal of another weigh-in.

Their respective trainers pointed out that the weights Tuesday — Rocky 188¼ and Archie 188—were about what was expected.

Fight Deferred 24 Hours

Many boxing men figured promoter Jim Norris had "pulled a prize boner" Tuesday when he deferred the fight 24 hours because of a bad-weather threat that never materialized. He announced the washout at 10 a.m., but less than an hour later the skies were clearing and Hurricane Ione veered out to sea. It was the first time an important title bout had been postponed before the weigh-in.

Norris denied any boner. He explained: "I would do it again. We had no choice. Forecasts from all weather bureaus — government, Navy and flying fields — were hopelessly gloomy. And we were being bombarded by railroads and air companies for instructions whether to start their speeial fight trains and planes for New York."

Before the box-offices reopened this morning, Norris said the ticket sale was slightly more than $700,000. He expected a rush today and until fight-time tonight at the stadium for medium-priced $20 and $30 tickets. In addition, 8,000 general admission $5 seats will go on sale at the stadium at 7 p.m.

Starting Time Set Back

Tonight's starting time was set back 15 minutes to 10:45 p.m. to avoid conflict with the regularly scheduled Wednesday night home TV scrap between middleweights Bobby Dykes and Georgia Johnson at Miami Beach.

There will be no home telecast of the Marciano-Moore bout, but it will be broadcast nationally over ABC networks and to several foreign countries.

Should Moore's long, solid left jabs and stunning "sneaker" rights achieve an upset victory tonight, a private contract provides that he must make his first defense against Rocky in a return bout next June. It would bring his 19-year record to 121-19-5. He already has 82 knockouts, but has been stopped four times.

Marciano, seeking his 49th consecutive professional victory and 43rd knockout, is an aggressive, explosive, short - armed slugger who is unusually rugged. he has been floored but once. However, he has been cut several times and is known as a "quick bleeder."

Each is a slow starter and each has promised to warm up lengthily in the dressing room and come out "hot."

Sports Briefs

CHICAGO (UP)—The Cleveland Indians "will keep on swinging" because they're not out of the American League race yet, Manager Al Lopez said today.

"Those other guys can lose four straight, too," he said, referring to the league-leading New York Yankees who hold a 2½ game bulge on the Indians with five games left to play. "We lost four straight."

"I only wish we had to play our games against them, instead of somebody else playing them," Lopez said. "I'd feel sure then. We played our best ball against the Yankees all season."

LOS ANGELES (UP) — United States singles champion Tony Trabert today considered an offer to turn professional which promoter Jack Kramer said guaranteed the amateur tennis star at least $80,000.

"The offer I made Trabert is the highest, I believe, in the history of professional tennis," said Kramer, one-time U.S. national champion and Davis Cup star.

NEW YORK (UP)—Willie Mays, with 50 home runs already, says "phooey" on all those records even though he is in a good position to break a couple of all-time marks today.

"Home run records never interested me and they still don't," declared the fleet center-fielder of the Giants after he helped them sweep a twin-bill from the Pirates with his 49th and 50th circuits Tuesday.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Lanky Bobby Dykes, the sixth-ranking middleweight contender, is a 2-1 favorite over George Johnson in tonight's 10-round bout that national home television fans will view instead of the Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore bout.

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—For the first time in five years the Calumet Farm racing stable will compete in Florida this winter instead of California. The entire stable of 59 horses will be shipped here soon. Calumet has been the leading American stable 9 of the last 13 years and currently ranks sixth.

SALEM, N.H. (UP)—Jockey R. Lidberg accounted for both ends of a $720.80 daily double at Rockingham Park Tuesday. Lidberg scored on Ace Bomb ($61.00) in the opener and Palos ($9.60) in the second.

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—Bill Zimmer, former All-Missouri Valley Conference tackle, will return to Bradley University as a line coach. Zimmer has been engaged to help head coach Billy Stone.

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Sad Sam Jones, who hurled the only no-hit no-run game in the major leagues this season, became the first pitcher to lose 20 games Tuesday night when he was charged with the Chicago Cubs' 2-0 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals. Jones has won 13 games.

Nothing Like Experience Says Tar Heels Coach

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
United Press Sports Writer

RALEIGH, N.C. (UP)—"There's nothing like experience," Coach George Barclay chuckles, talking about the opening football game for his University of North Carolina Tar Heels Saturday.

Oklahoma is the Tar Heels foe at Chapel Hill. And, even on a schedule that includes Maryland, Notre Dame and Duke, The Sooners are "the big one."

Despite the schedule, Barclay confidently expects the Tar Heels to improve on a so-so 1954 record of four victories, five losses and a tie. He counts heavily on the finest crop of sophomore talent in Tar Heel history to pave the way for a return to national prominence for North Carolina.

Quarterback Problem Solved

Quarterbacking has been the main problem since Barclay took over the North Carolina helm a year after his predecessor, Carl Snavely, switched from the single wing of the Charlie Justice era to the split-T attack.

Barclay figures he finally has the man — or rather three men —in Buddy Sasser, a cool 155-pound former high school sensation from Conway, S.C., rangy Ron Marquette, a 6 foot 2 all-around quarterback from Pennsville, N.J. and David Reed, a passing whiz from Shamokin, Pa.

The Tar Heel line is big and fast and anchored by veterans.

Conference Battles Begin

Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference family battling begins this weekend with defending ACC champion Duke opening against North Carolina State here. State took a 7-0 pasting from Florida State last week, but Coach Earle Edwards says "if we don't make too many mistakes, we'll beat somebody big."

Coach Frank Howard's Clemson Tigers and the University of Virginia Cavaliers, among two of the most improved ACC squads, clash at Charlottesville, Va. Wake Forest and South Carolina, after opening with easy wins last week, pair off in a battle of ACC darkhorses.

The University of Richmond, bidding as a Southern Conference power, faces defending conference champion West Virginia. VMI, which frightened Tulane, plays George Washington. William and Mary opens against Navy.

Goal Is Lofty But Approach Simple And Direct

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—His goal is a lofty one but his approach is simple and direct.

"We want to put Pitt back where it was when I played for Jock," he said.

One victory doesn't prove much and may not even establish a trend but at a quick look one has to conclude he's moving in the right direction.

He's the United Press Coach of the Week, big John Michelosen who wants to start a new golden era for Pittsburgh's Golden Panthers.

Surprising 27-7 Triumph

Last Saturday's 27-7 triumph over well-rated California was significant not only because of the surprising margin but because the team showed traits similar to the Pitt elevens of the late Dr. Jock Sutherland. These things stood out:

1. A superior ground game with 274 yards gained rushing to 81 for California.
2. A combination of single wing power of the old Sutherland style and a split-T featuring some of the old pro tricks he picked up as coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.
3. Superb conditioning which enabled the Panthers to score three of their touchdowns in 92-degree heat in the fourth period when California was wilted and exhausted.

Star Under Sutherland

Big John as the 39-year old Michelosen is known to his boys, was a quarterback star under Sutherland, directing the Pitt eleven which defeated Washington 21-0 in the 1937 Rose Bowl game.

Michelosen emphasizes that he wants to keep the rugged high school youngsters from the Western Pennsylvania steel mill and coal country coming to Pittsburgh as students instead of being recruited by big time colleges from all over the nation.

Michelosen regards Pitt's schedule as the toughest of any team in the nation.

"We meet five teams that most consider among the top 20, Oklahoma, Navy, Duke, Miami of Florida, and West Virginia," he said. "But we're not going to back away from any of them."

UCLA Six-Point Favorite Over Title Conscious Maryland

NEW YORK (UP)—UCLA, the national champion team of 1954, was named a six-point favorite over title-conscious Maryland today in a New York rundown of odds on Saturday's big college football games.

The odds-men seemed to be disregarding Maryland's 13-12 "squeaker" victory over Missouri last week as not indicating Maryland's true strength.

In the same vein, the odds-makers listed Missouri as a 20-point underdog against Michigan — another leading contender for the national gridiron crown.

Illinois was favored by six over California and Notre Dame by the same margin in making its season debut against Southern Methodist. Minnesota was a husky 13-point choice over Washington and Texas was favored by the same amount over Tulane.

The figure-experts tabbed three games as even-money toss-ups: Louisiana State-Texas A&M, Colgate-Dartmouth, and Wake Forest-South Carolina.

Here's how they sized up some of the other leading games:

Intersectionals — Washington St. 13 over Kansas, Rice 14 over Alabama, Colorado 19 over Arizona, Oklahoma 20 over North Carolina, Purdue 20 over College of Pacific, and Baylor 21 over Villanova.

East — Columbia 6 over Brown, Princeton 6 over Rutgers, Penn State 7 over Boston U., Pittsburgh 13 over Syracuse, Holly Cross 14 over Temple, and Navy 21 over William and Mary.

South — Mississippi State 1 over Tennessee, Clemson 6 over Virginia, Mississippi 7 over Kentucky, Georgia Tech 7 over Florida, Georgia 7 over Vanderbilt, and Duke 20 over North Carolina St.

Midwest — Michigan State 1 over Indiana, Northwestern 13 over Miami (Ohio), Wisconsin 19 over Marquette, Ohio State 26 over Nebraska, and Iowa 26 over Kansas State.

Southwest — Texas Tech 1 over Texas Christian, and Arkansas 7 over Oklahoma A&M.

Far West — Stanford 13 over Oregon State.

To remove paint from a roller, place it in a glass jar with the proper solvent for the paint you've been using. Shake the solvent through the roller, then roll it out on newspapers to remove the liquid. After all the paint is out, wash the roller in warm suds, rinse and dry.

Uncooked smoked meats will stay fresh longer if they are wraped in a vinegar-dampened cloth, in waxed paper, and then stored.

Toasted caraway sticks are delicious when served with salads or soups. Trim the crust from slices or rye bread. Spread uniformly with melted butter or margarine. Cut each into three strips. Sprinkle with caraway seed. Place under a broiler until toasted, or for two or three minutes. Serve hot.

Save time and fuel by halving large potatoes before baking them.

E. J. Whiteleather, Richland Township, Dies Early Today

Was Resident Of Larwill Community Many Years

Eli J. Whiteleather, 85, of Larwill, died at 4:15 Wednesday morning at the Whitley County Hospital. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy Sunday noon while visiting at North Manchester, and after returning to his daughter's home north of Larwill, he was brought to the local hospital by ambulance. His condition has remained critical since he was admitted at the hospital.

He was a native of Troy township and was born November 12, 1870, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whiteleather. When a small boy, he came with his parents to Indiana and they settled at Larwill. In the year 1896 he was united in marriage to the former Loretta Prugh and they always made their home in the Larwill community where Mr. Whiteleather engaged in farming for many years. He was a member of the Larwill Methodist church.

The surviving relatives include one son, George Whiteleather, Thorncreek township; two daughters, Mrs. John Menzie, and Mrs. Cleon Schuman, both of Richland township; nine grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren. In addition to his wife who died in the year 1945, he has been preceded in death by one daughter, a sister, and a brother.

The body has been removed to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home where friends may call after 7:00 this evening. At 10 o'clock Friday morning it will be taken to the Larwill Methodist church to lie in state until the hour of the service. The Rev. Walter Meacham, church pastor, will officiate at the funeral rites to be held at 1:30. Committal services and burial will be in the Lakeview cemetery.

Native Of Richland Township Dies At Her Daughter's Home

Death Comes To Mrs. Ethel Kistler Tuesday

Mrs. Ethel Kistler, 69, died at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rindfusz in Eel River township, Allen county, Tuesday night at 9:30. She had been ill for the past week with heart trouble and was taken to her daughter's home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Kistler was a native of Richland township and was born June 18, 1886, a daughter of James and Ellen Teagle Patterson. She was married to Aaron Kistler in 1906 and they lived their entire married life in the Larwill community. Mr. Kistler died in 1936 and since his death she has made her home in Larwill.

She is survived by four son: Lewis, Larwill; Kenneth, Tuscon, Arizona; Russell, Coldwater, Michigan; Owen, Big Lake; six daughters, Mrs. Ruth Kistler, Larwill; Mrs. Alma Ricketts, Greensburg; Mrs. Myrtle Sloan, Warsaw; Mrs. Coral Craig, Warsaw; Mrs. Gertrude Abboit, Huntertown; and Mrs. Martha Rindfusz, Allen county; 22 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren; and one brother, Rollo Patterson, Columbia City.

The body has been removed to the Smith and Sons Funeral Home where friends may call after 7:30 this evening. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home at 2 p.m. Friday, the Rev. Marion Shroyer officiating. Burial will follow in the Lakeview cemetery, Larwill.

Memorial Rites Held For Laud Woman

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Smith and Sons Funeral Home for Mrs. Minnie L. Chavey. Mrs. Helen Slagle Aker played a prelude and postlude of Mrs. Chavey's favorite hymns on the funeral home organ. Rev. Paul Clark and Rev. J. Maurice Thompson officiated at the final rites.

Relatives and friends who served as pallbearers were Max Kaufman, Merlin Hindbaugh, Paul Raber, Tom Juillerat, Ancil Mullett, Mark Snyder, and E. A. White. Interment followed in South Park Cemetery.

Ione Dies; Sister Hilda Spreads Death And Havoc Through Mexico

By UNITED PRESS

Hurricane Ione veered into the North Atlantic to die today, but her older sister Hilda spread death and havoc through Mexico.

Hilda swept whole villages into the Gulf of Mexico and engulfed the port city of Tampico with a devastating flood. There were 99 counted dead and hundreds missing. Mexican officials conceded they will "probably never know" how many hundreds of persons died.

In the United States, a hurricane threat was lifted from large areas of the East Coast as Ione swept into the North Atlantic and began breaking up. It left a path of destruction through North Carolina, at least six persons dead, and 75 million dollars in damage.

Elsewhere in the country, storms swept through the northern and central Plains on the heels of a cold front. The worst blow roared through the carnival area of the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, Tex., Tuesday night. Twelve tents collapsed and from 75 to 100 persons were injured, 3 seriously.

Los Angeles, meanwhile, awaited the second smog alert in two days. City and county authorities were feuding about who was responsible for smog control, with one city councilman accusing the county air pollution committee of "trying to pass the buck."

In the nation's midsection, wind gusts clocked at 55 miles per hour hit St. Joseph, Mo., and Lemon, S.D., got a dousing of 1.79 inches of rain. Widespread thunderstorms were reported early today as far east as Iowa and Minnesota

Early snows whitened the higher peaks in the Colorado Rockies, while the South sweltered in a 90-degree heat wave.

The Grand Canyon, says the National Geographic Society acts as a barrier to many of the smaller animals living on the rims. Because of varying climatic conditions, animals on one rim are of a different species or subspecies from their relatives on the other, only a few miles away.

Truman Says He Had No Inkling Big Wartime Atomic Energy Project Existed Until He Became President

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP) — Former President Harry S. Truman disclosed today that he had no inkling that the mammoth wartime atomic energy project even existed until the day he became President, four months before history's first A-bomb explosion.

Not even then was he immediately told in detail about the world-changing development which had been concealed from him for years while he was senator and throughout his brief service as vice president.

Subsequently, the new President, who was to bear the responsibility for ordering the atomic destruction of Hiroshima, was assured by a close military adviser that the A-bomb would "never go off."

This and other revelations about his early feverish days as President were recorded by Mr Truman in his memoirs, publication of which began in Life magazine. Among the former President's disclosures were:

1. He once regarded James F. Byrnes, now his bitter political enemy, as the man "best qualified" to succeed him in the White House.

2. He startled Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in his first two weeks as President by giving the Russian diplomat a "sharp" lecture for breaking the Yalta agreement on Poland.

Written in his familiar homespun style, Mr. Truman's memoirs relate his struggle to recover from the "terrible blow" of Franklin D. Roosevelt's death on April 12, 1945 and grasp the reins of government at a crucial point in American and world history.

At a news conference in Kansas City about the memoirs, written under contract with life for $600,000, Mr. Truman said he dedicated them "to the people of all nations."

"I think people of all free nations are interested in the leading free nation of the world," he told newsmen. "I believe the people behind the Iron Curtain also are interested, too, so I dedicated the memoirs to the people of all nations."

Mr. Truman said he received great help in writing his memoirs from former Cabinet members and White House assistants and from a Kansas City office staff numbering at various times five to eight persons.

Volume I of the memoirs, to be published in five successive installments in Life, also will be serialized in the New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The first installment covers his first 18 days in the White House.

It was after his first Cabinet meeting, which followed shortly on the brief oath-taking ceremony, that Mr. Truman received his first hint about the A-bomb. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson stayed behind as the other members left.

Stimson told him an immense project was underway to develop "a new explosive of almost unbelievable destructive power." That was all Stimson "felt free to say at the time, and his statement left me puzzled."

"It was the first bit of information that had come to me about the atomic bomb."

Women At Zion Church Hold Meeting; Picture Is Shown

The Ladies' Aid Society of Zion Lutheran Church met Wednesday evening at the parish hall.

After the opening devotions, a sound motion picture entitled "Shades of Darkness" was shown by the pastor, the Rev. J. K. Muhlenbruch. This picture depicts typical life in Mexico and showed how the Gospel is being brought to our neighbors south of the border.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Emil Schaper, chairman of the society. Mrs. Wayne Mayfield was welcomed as a new member. The following women were guests Mrs. Ivan Parrish, Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mrs. Phillip Weick.

Cash gifts will be sent to the Martha Society of Concordia Lutheran College, Fort Wayne and to the Lutheran Child Welfare Association of Indianapolis. It was announced that the next meeting would be held the second Wednesday in October and that it was to be an all-day meeting. The November and December meetings will be evening meetings.

Mrs. Schaper named the following as the November bake-sale and bazaar committee: Homer Ummel, chairman, John Ummel, Paul Hoover and Gerald Gamble.

The kitchen committee, consisting of Mesdames Homer Ummel, Carl Auer, J. R. Bauer and J. K. Mulenbruch, were instructed to continue with their plans for placing kitchen cabinets in the newly-decoraged parish hall kitchen.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. John Ummel and Mrs. Ed Wiliey.

MRS. LEININGER HAS GUESTS TODAY

Mrs. J. C. Leininger, 114½ West Van Buren street, had as dinner guests today, her sister and niece, Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mrs. Feral Kerchner of South Bend, a nephew Robert Fisher and Mrs. Fisher of Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Leininger will accompany her relatives to South Bend this evening to spend a week.

Women In Circle Three Entertained By Mrs. Pfeiffer

Thirteen members of Circle Three of the First Presbyterian church were guests Monday evening of Mrs. Howard Pfeiffer. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Adrian Scott and the Bible study on the 10th chapter of Hebrews was conducted by Mrs. J. C. Sanders.

Mrs. Ralph Brockenhamer, social, educational and activities chairman, presented the topic "Women and Economics."

After the program, the hostess served a dessert course.

TV Station, Community-Sponsored Education Channel, Awards 40 High School Diplomas

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The nation's first high school graduating class entitled to wear the call-letters of a television station on their sweaters had their diplomas today.

Station WQED, a community-sponsored education channel awarded certificates, equivalent under state law to those obtained by fulltime attendance at a high school, to 40 students Wednesday night.

Nineteen of the graduates could not be present because they are prisoners in Western State Penitentiary or Allegheny County Workhouse. Of the others, 11 appeared in caps and gowns to receive their "sheepskins" from Mrs. Charlotte G. Coffroth, assistant director of the state's Department of Public Instruction.

The others were missing largely for the same reasons which kept the mfrom finishing regular high school courses — families, transportation and jobs.

Kevin McCann, president of Defiance College of Ohio and special assistant to President Eisenhower, in a commencement address for the unique class hailed their accomplishments as proof that the "airways have been harnessed' for the education of man.

Speaking for the graduates, George Sipp, a husky clerical worker for the Veterans Administration, expressed thanks for the educational opportunity given through the "little window."

Sipp's high school studies were interrupted by the necessity of getting bread and butter in the depression-hit 1930's. By studying outlines provided by WQED and watching the station's instructors on Channel 13 he scored high marks in stiff, state supervised tests in algebra and several elective studies.

"That 13 was lucky for me," Sipp said. "Now I'm ahead of my son. He's still in high school. I plan to enroll in some courses at the University of Pittsburgh now."

Nine of the first graduates of the "school of the air" were women. Seven of them walked before the cameras of the station to receive their diplomas, some with their husbands watching from the studio audience.

From Sunset Boulevard To The Place de la Concorde Is Quite A Jump In Time, Space

By GLORIA SWANSON

Written for United Press

PARIS (UP) — From "Sunset Boulevard' to the Place de la Concorde with Billy Wilder, the director, is quite a jump in space and time.

I can't believe that six years stand between his producing, writing and directing "Sunset Boulevard" and his present movie "The Spirit of St. Louis," which he is now filming here in Paris.

The name Charles Lindbergh and the plane he called the Spirit of St. Louis are synonomous. Now they are the subject of the picture Wilder is directing and producing with Leland Hayward, who is best known for his stage successes "South Pacific" and "Mr. Roberts."

With an American crew of 20 persons they have photographed scenes in such places as Garden City, N.Y., Boston, Halifax, N.S. St. Johns Nfld. and Greenland.

"Crazy Movie People"

Wilder invited my daughter Michelle and me to come to the Place de la Concorde at 7:30 p.m. when he would be shooting some night scenes of Lindbergh's approach to Paris. Warner Bros. had arranged with Paris officials to turn on all the lights of the city one hour earlier (for a fee) so that in the twilight an exact replica of Lindbergh's tiny plane could be photographed by cameras placed at the Eiffel Tower Notre Dame and the Place de la Concorde.

When I arrived I found the familiar sight of a camera atop a high platform, along with cameramen, director and producer. And naturally a crowd of curious bystanders watching "those crazy movie people."

Unhappily the star of the picture, Jimmy Stewart, who is playing Lindbergh, wasn't needed. So he was probably dining at Maxim's, just a stone's throw waiting for the plane to make its approach "just once more.'

Only A Hand Compass

"Here it comes," someone would shout, and again the camera and all eyes were turned to a tiny speck silhouetted against a sky that looked as if it had been painted to order. You'll see this beautiful shot in the movie.

The last time we all held our breath as we watched the "flying machine" no larger than a big 1955 automobile skim the top of the Concorde's obelisk. Pedestrians and motorists twirling around this historic place and not seeing the camera might have thought they were losing their heads!

I made the remark that Lindbergh must not have had any of canvas and wire with, believe imagination if he was able to take it or not, only a hand compass to guide him. Otherwise he would off in a one-motored plane made have been scared to death!

Promptly I was set upon for not knowing my history. Wilder told me that Lindbergh's heart did stop with fear — when he was approaching Greenland and found himself facing a mountain of icebergs. The possibility that he was dead and in another world actually crossed his mind, until his logic returned and he realized neither heaven nor hell could be quite so cold.

Polio Cases In Nation Declines

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S Public Health Service said today that the number of new cases of polio reported during the last three weeks has declined slowly but steadily.

There were 1,950 new cases reported during the week ending Sept. 17 as compared with 2,009 in the previous week. The weekly decreases have been about 2 to 3 per cent.

This compares with a slight upward trend in the disease's incidence which extended over several weeks during the same period of last year.

Decreases from the previous week were reported in the New England, Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic, and West South Central divisions. Increases were reported in the Mountain and Pacific divisions.

There have been 20,165 cases reported this year compared with 23,998 last year. In the disease year, which begins April 1, there have been 19,102 cases reported this year, compared with 22,445 in 1954.

about to turn left; left hand and arm straight down for stopping; left arm and hand straight up indicates a right turn. Progress of the wheel during this test should be at moderate speed and under good control. At the conclusion of the test, the rider should bring the wheel to a stop with the front of the bike not more than 3 inches from the stop line.

Purpose - To establish control of the bicycle with one hand on the handlebars and demonstrate knowledge of traffic signals and ability to stop at a given time.

Significance - It is important that other vehicles and pedestrians know in advance what a bicycle rider intends to do. It is of the utmost importance that the proper signal be used at all times and that the rider have his wheel under control while signalling.

Test 7 Pedaling and Braking

The rider mounts and rides 100 feet at average riding speed, pedaling and braking as described below. He then dis-mounts and parks his bicycle. This can be accomplished on any level surface 100 feet by 25 feet.

Purpose - To have the rider demonstrate the definite skill technique in pedaling and braking.

Significance - This test should teach the rider to keep the balls of the feet on the pedals while riding and parallel to the ground during pedaling. In braking, the pedal cranks are approximately parallel to the ground and the back pressure is exerted on the rear pedal. The rear wheel should not skid. The bibycle should be stopped approximately 10 feet from the point where the brake was initially applied.

Marciano May Follow Footsteps Of Tunney And Louis And Retire As Undefeated Champ

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — Rocky Marciano, battered and worn after his roaring ninth-round "million dollar" knockout of Archie Moore, may follow in the footsteps of Gene Tunney and Joe Louis and retire as undefeated heavyweight champion.

"Yes, it's true that I'm considering retirement," admitted the Brockton Blockbuster, who had to get off the floor in the second round before flooring Moore four times and knocking him out at 1:19 of the ninth round of their title bout Wednesday night.

Richer by about $472,760 — the biggest purse of his career—Rocky realized that his handlers were planning another title defense for him in June.

"But I just don't know," Marciano said. "It'll take some time for me to make up my mind."

But his manager, Al Weill, who was in the champ's corner Wednesday night, angrily denied that Rocky would retire.

"He'll make his next defense in June," Weill promised.

He named Bob Baker, Hurricane Jackson and Nino Valdes as possible challengers.

Marciano, who had appeared off-form in the latter stages of training, was not impressive Wednesday night. He suffered the second knockdown of his career in the second round, but kept hammering away at his 38-year old opponent until the knockout.

Biggest Gate Since 1946

Their weather - postponed fight was a good one and it drew the biggest gate in nine years—$948,117.95 — largest since the second Joe Louis-Billy Conn extravaganza attracted $1,925,564 in the same stadium on Sept. 19, 1946.

Theatre Network Television drew an estimated $1,125,000 from some 320,000 fans in 129 theatres in 92 cities. And the radio fee for home sets was $35,000. Total receipts—before the movies are distributed—approximate $2,100,000.

Moore's 175-pound crown was not at stake — only Rocky's, because each weighed well above the light heavy limit. Marciano, the ring's first perfect-record heavy champ, weighed 188¼ pounds. Moore, who hoped to be the first light heavy king to step to the heavy throne, registered 188.

Fighting grimly in the white patch of ring-light in the cavernous and roaring stadium, Moore dropped Rocky with a "sneaker" right to the chin for a count of four in the second round. And he bloodied Rockys' tender nose and nicked his left brow in that same session.

Kept Marciano Forward

But Rockey kept marching forward with his short-armed hooking attack against his back-pedaling, and bobbing-weaving opponent in round after round. Rocky missed his experienced and elusive opponent with almost as many punches as he landed until the years and the punches began to catch up with Moore in the sixth session.

Then Rocky dropped him twice —with a right for a count of two, and with a series of punches for a count of nine. Dr. Vincent Nardiello examined Moore in his corner, and permitted him to continue.

In the seventh, a right to the chin dropped the challenger to one knee for what would have been a four-count, but Referee Harry Kessler, wealthy steel industrialist of St. Louis and New York, ruled it a "slip" and not a knockdown.

The bell saved Archie at the count of six as the eighth round ended.

In the ninth, Moore still was fighting desperately with his back against the ropes in his own corner, and had landed four good rights; but Rocky's barrage ended with a right-left to the chin that dropped him on his haunches for the full count. The finishing punch was the left hook that followed the right.

It was Moore's 20th defeat and fifth knockout in 145 professional bouts, and it was Rocky's 49th straight victory as a professional and his 43rd kayo. And it was his sixth successful defense of the title he won from Jersey Joe Walcott in 1952.

Columbia City Reserves Lose To North Side 12-7

The Columbia City reserve football team lost its second game of its six-game schedule Tuesday evening, bowing to the North Side freshmen 12-7 at the winners' field.

The Columbia City freshman and sophomores played North Side's freshmen. The Fort Wayne notched both of its touchdowns after recovering the ball on Eagle fumbles.

Fullback Larry Ostermeyer ran the ball over from the eight-yard line, climaxing a 50-yard drive by the Columbia City team late in the game. Ostermeyer also ran for the extra point and the 12-7 score.

The Eagle reserves previously lost to Concordia 6-0. The next game for the local reserve team will be at Garrett on Monday at 7:00 p.m., then at New Haven October 3, with Decatur here October 10, and with Howe here October 17.

World Series Tickets Oversold

NEW YORK (UP) —Don't waste that three-cent stamp if you haven't already ordered World Series tickets from the New York Yankees.

The Yankees announced Wednesday that all box and reserved seats for the anticipated four games at Yankee Stadium are sold out. Standing room tickets at $4.20 and approximately 14,000 bleacher tickets will go on sale on the day of each game.

"We are oversold and are accepting no more orders," a Yankee official said. "We thank our fans and regret there are no tickets left for sale."

Pistons Sign Mel Hutchins

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—The Fort Wayne Pistons were assured of the services of one of their "KEY" MEN TODAY WITH SI 'key" men today with the signing of Mel Hutchins for the 1955-56 season.

Hutchins, a six-foot-six former Brigham Young cage star, scored 34 points for the Pistons last season in National Basketball Assn. play. He also led the Pistons in playing time.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (UP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, has resigned his position in a letter to Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the club, the Sox announced today.

Phil Fry Moved To Fullback, Other C. C. Changes In Lineup

When the Columbia City football team takes the field against unbeaten New Haven here in its home schedule opener Friday night, it will look like an entirely different team than the one starting the two games thus far this season. Many offensive and defensive changes have been made by Eagle Coaches Barnum and Duffield.

One significant change will be that of switching Phil Fry from tackle position to that of fullback on offense. Fry, a senior weighing "something over 205 pounds" who can handle himself well despite his size, has always played in the line. Action never seems to get too rough for him, and he will be expected to provide some offensive blocking, which has been sadly lacking in the C.C. backfield in the first two games, as well as to provide more punch with line smashes.

Defensive Changes

The Eagle defensive line has had one major change. Gary Deutsch, halfback, has been moved into a guard position. Dick Loe will be the other guard, Fry and Conrad, tackles; J. Smith and Brennan, ends; and Bridge, as center. Defensive backs will be Link and Yant, and Jones and Simmers.

Since the game at Concordia last Friday, the Eagle coaches have been drilling their charges tirelessly on blocking and tackling all this week, hoping for improvement in those two phases of the game.

New Haven comes here with two wins, over Decatur and Garrett. On Tuesday of this week, Garrett played Concordia to a 19-13 game, the Cadets winning. Concordia did not score the winning TD until the last four minutes of the game.

First Band Performance

The Columbia City band will perform for the first time this football season before the game and at half time. Bandmaster Robert Sharpe states the halftime show will be a "Salute To The Services", with the American Legion Color Guard also participating. Fifty-three bandsmen will make up the marching band. This year, eight bandsmen are also members of the football squad.

Only One Question Left In American League Race Today

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

There's only one question left today in the once-blazing American League race: Will the New York Yankees have enough champagne to go around?

For, the relentless Yankees' "magic number" was down to "one" and it'll be cork-popping time sometime during the four-game weekend series with the Red Sox in Boston. The Yankees need only one victory in the series to wrap up Manager Casey Stengel's sixth pennant in seven years.

The Yankees, rolling to their eighth consecutive triumph and their 15th in 19 games in a magnificent September stretch drive, clinched at least a tie for the flag when they beat the Washington Senators, 7-3, Wednesday night while the Cleveland Indians bowed to the Chicago White Sox, 7-2.

Can't Get A Bet

The Indians' forlorn hope is that the Yankees will lose four straight and that they will sweep their three-game series with the Detroit Tigers and go on to beat New York in a single-game playoff next Monday. The only betting on this possibility is that you can't get a bet on it.

The Yankees rolled out their siege guns to win Wednesday night's game, Billy Martin blasting a homer and Bob Cerv and Bill Skowron belting triples.

It was the New York Giants who broke the Indians' bubble in the 1954 World Series and it was an ex-Giant pitcher who dealt them Wednesday night's mortal blow. Jack Harshman, who has only a 6-5 record against the rest of the league, beat the Indians for the fifth time this year with a five-hitter embellished by seven strikeouts.

The Baltimore Orioles scored their seventh straight triumph when they shaded the Boston Red Sox, 8-7, in 13 innings and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Kansas City A's, 10-1, in the other American League games.

In the National League, the Giants clinched third place with 7-2 and 7-3 victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates but may have lost the services of Willie Mays in their last three games, Mays, who leads the majors with 50 homers crashed into the center field wall in the first inning of the second game and suffered a bruised left hip and stiff back.

Ted Kluszewski slammed his 47th homer and Gus Bell knocked in eight runs with a grand slam homer and two other hits in leading the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 14-5 rout of the Milwaukee Braves. And the Chicago Cubs rallied for four runs in the 13th inning to down the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-5, in the other NL game.

Butler Urges Democrats Attack Ike's Fiscal Record

WASHINGTON (UP) — Demo- Butler urged 2,000 Democratic leaders today to attack the Eisenhower administration fiscal record during the 1956 presidential election.

He said President Eisenhower has "failed to keep" the three major fiscal promises he made in the 1952 campaign:

1. To balance the budget.
2. To abolish all deficit spending.
3. To cut the national debt.

Children To Receive 2nd Salk Polio Vaccinations October 26 In Schools

The second Salk polio vaccination will be made October 26 to those eligible in Columbia City and Whitley county schools, according to an announcement Thursday by Joseph R. Roe, chairman of Whitley County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The scheduling of the second polio shot was made known in a letter to Roe from Dr. Linus J. Minnick, secretary of the Whitley County Medical Society, which is in general charge of adinistering the vaccine here.

The vaccine will be given children at the same time that the diptheria and tetanus shot is administered. The same program as for the first polio vaccination last April will be used at the schools, where physicians were scheduled to arrive at 8:30 a.m., according to Dr. Otto Lehmberg, president of the medical society. Each doctor will use his own office staff members for assistance needed, Dr. Lehmberg said.

In order to receive the second polio vaccination, children must present permit slips from their parents as before.

Approximately 850 children in the second and third grades at the schools will receive the second shots. Another 100 children failed to hand in consent slips from parents last spring to become eligible for the first shot of polio vaccine. It was not revealed whether these children may receive their first vaccination this fall, as will be done in Allen County.

Several other youngsters will receive the polio shots at the expense of the Whitley County Welfare Department, unless they are already eligible to receive the shots under the regular program.

Findings by a national committee set up by President Eisenhower found that vaccinations during the polio season are not particularly dangerous. The first frost usually reduces the possibility of a polio epidemic.

Only two cases of polio were reported in Whitley County this year, according to Dr. Lehmberg. Neither of the victims had received the Salk polio vaccine, since one was an adult and the other a pre-school child.

This is expected to be the last mass polio vaccination program in

Ten Families Needed In Better Farming, Living Program

According to Hugh Reinhold, assistant county agent, the enrollment for the Better Farming and Better Living Program is progressing well. At this time there are twenty-three families enrolled, and space is available for ten more families in the first group. "Remember, that this program is for the whole family," Mr. Reinhold adds.

Miss Anna K. Williams and Lester Arnold from Purdue will work with the women and men of each group. The first group discussion meeting will be on November 22 for an all-day session. More details will be sent out later to the people who are enrolled for the program.

The advisory committee for Better Farming and Better Living is being enlarged from one to three members from each community. The names of these people will be printed in the near future. Untill you know the people on this committee, the best way to enroll or obtain information about the program is to contact the county extension office, the assistant agent advises.

Robert Fry, 4, Hurt When Hit By Car On Chicago Street

Robert Dale Fry, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fry, 410 East Chicago street, suffered severe head and knee lacerations at about 8:40 a.m. Friday when he was struck by a car while crossing the street near his home.

He was taken to Whitley County Hospital by a Smith and Sons ambulance and he is reported to be resting satisfactorily. X-rays have been taken to determine the extent of any further injury to his head.

The driver of the car, Wilmer Messman, of R 2, New Haven, was driving west on the street on his way into the city where he gives driver examinations each Friday for the State Department of Motor vehicles, with whom he is employed.

According to city police, the Fry boy was crossing the street from his home to the store at Johnson's service station when the accident occurred. He ran in front of the car at a point where an alley intersects at the north side of East Chicago street.

The impact of the car threw him about 15 feet forward where he landed on the pavement. The driver of the car stopped immediately, since he was not going fast, the police said.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry were not at home at the time of the accident. The boy was being cared for by Mrs. Icy Beasley while the parents were at work. Mrs. Beasley had sent the boy to the store when he was struck by the car.

Strikers Cited For Contempt Of Court Today

In Connection With Walkout In Richmond

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —Forty-four striking AFL electrical workers were cited for contempt of court today in connection with a long walkout at the Crosley plant in Richmond.

Wayne Circuit Judge G.H. Hoelher issued the cituations against men singled out as alleged participants in a demonstration Thursday turned while throngs of pickets in which an automobile was overmilled about the plant gates.

The scene was quiet this morning, although mass picketing continued. State Police detectives kept a sharp eye on the Crosley scene as well as another eastern Indiana strike point after Governor Craig assailed management and labor for failing to negotiate their differences.

Craig announced Thursday the posting of plainclothesmen at Perfect Circle Corp. plants and at the Local Band Probably Will Participate In Purdue's Band Day

An estimated 136 high school bands will converge upon the Purdue University campus Saturday for its second annual High School Band Day, and the Columbia City Joint high school band will participate in the event—"if the weatherman permits."

Bandmaster Robert Sharpe stated today, that the local band will leave here Saturday morning at 6:30 by charter bus—maybe. "We will decide sometime this evening whether or not the band will go to Purdue," Mr. Sharpe stated. "If the rains cease and the weather breaks, we're planning to go," he explained.

Providing the local band goes, the 56-member organization will participate in a halftime massed band program on the field. If it is raining at halftime, the bands will remain in their seats and play. The Purdue marching band will present the pre-game show to the Purdue-College of the Pacific game.

Summer Was Very Hot And Wet In County; Breaks Many Records Of Previous Years

At 2:42 p.m. today summer officially bows out and crisp autumn with its array of wonderful colors will arrive.

This past summer has been exceedingly hot and wet. It is one of the hottest on record. Officially if just the official dates of summer are considered it tops all others, with 40 days of over 90-degree temperatures.

1953 was the previous hottest. However, 1953 actually was much warmer with a total of 48 days of over 90-degree weather. But one of them came in May, six in June prior to official arrival of summer, and two in September.

This summer has seen 13.53 inches of rain. This compares to 11.86 inches in 1954 and only 9.58 during the hot and dry 1953 season.

However, the month of July which set an all time record for that month in precipitation with 7.63 inches, accounts for over half of the rain. June had only .05 inches since summer arrived, August 4.91 inches and September .94 inches.

High for the summer was a 98 recorded on July 27. In 1954 maximum was 100 on July 14 and in the record "hot" year of 1953 highest was 102.5 on September 2.

June was exceptionally cold this year and summer bowed out with warmer temperatures than normal for September. Today's drizzling rain is just another reminder that summer is over.

Crops in the area fared well this year with a good bean and corn crop. The past three weeks have been very dry, but should not harm corn which was planted at the normal planting season.

Glenn Western To Head Etna-Troy Farm Bureau

Adenauer Gets Confidence Vote From Bundestag

On His Mission To Moscow

By JOSEPH W.W GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

BONN, Germany (UP) — The West German Bundestag (lower house) today unanimously approved establishment of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

It was an unusual vote of confidence in West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on his mission to Moscow.

The vote came with surprising suddenness after less than 2½ hours of debate during which spokesmen of all parties announced endorsement of the agreement signed by Adenauer with the Soviet leaders.

But opposition Socialists, while supporting diplomatic relations with Russia, stated specifically that their approval did not constitute a "blank check" for Adenauer's foreign policy. In addition, they leveled bitter charges at the chancellor for damaging prospects

Show of Hands Vote

Socialist Party chief Erich Ollenhauer charged that the establishment of diplomatic ties with Moscow has "hardened the division of Germany."

He suggested that the Soviet Union be approached on the idea of a united Germany included in a European security system allied with neither the Communist nor Western power blocs.

Russia has long sought a "neutral Germany" patterned after Austria, which won its freedom only when it gave in to such a Soviet demand. Moscow, however, wants such a neutralized Germany outside of any security system.

The Bundestag's approval was registered by a show of hands vote on two resolutions on which all parties had agreed to in advance.

The first endorsed diplomatic relations, but made two important reservations: That the West German government is the only legal spokesman for the entire German people and that Germany's eastern frontiers can be fixed only in an all-German peace treaty.

Want Prisoners Freed Soon

Adenauer already had made these reservations in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin at

Figures Prove GOP Farm Policy Failed

Says Douglas As He Cites Reports

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas said today that latest government figures on falling farm prices are proof that "the Republican farm policy has failed."

The Illinois Democrat cited reports of the Federal Reserve Board, the Agriculture Department and President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers.

The Federal Reserve said in its monthly bulletin Thursday night that farm income will be "somewhat smaller" this year than last and perhaps will be one-sixth below the peak in 1951. It said farm prices for August were 8 per cent less than a year ago and that farm debt has risen appreciably since last fall.

The Agriculture Department reported that farm prices were down 4 per cent for the first eight months of this year, as against the corresponding period last year.

Farm "price declines in July and August were fairly general, reflecting big supplies, as well as seasonally heavy marketing," the department said.

But the department emphasized it believes prices will remain fairly stable around present levels until the next harvest season. However, further "seasonal price declines may occur for some commodities," it said.

"The Federal Reserve Board deserves credit for its brave statement which Secretary of Agriculture (Ezra T.) Benson will not like," Douglas told a reporter.

"The truth of the matter, however, is that the farmers have suffered even more than the board says. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, net income per farm, in dollars of constant purchasing power, fell from $2.877 in 1951 and $2,605 in 1952 to an annual rate of $2050 in the second quarter of this year. These are decreases of 29 to 21 per cent, respectively.

"These figures show that, on the basis of results, the Republican farm policy has failed," Douglas said.

But Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said he believes farmers are "pretty well off" despite the decline in farm prices. He predicted that Congress next year will develop a "bipartisan solution" to the farm problem.

Rodeo Entrants To Be Enrolled In Bicycle Safety Club Saturday

Children whose bicycles pass the safety test for entrance in the Rodeo in Columbia City will receive a card enrolling them in the "Bicycle Rodeo Safety Club," it has been announced by Lee Gross, chief of police.

Gross has had a number of the cards, pink in color, printed for issuance to safe bicycle riders at the rodeo. The card has space for the bicycle owner's name, the make, serial number and color of the bicycle. It specifies that the recipient "Has passed the Bicycle Rodeo Safety Test and pledges to obey all traffic rules and ride safely." The cards bear the dates "1955" and "1956" and are signed by Gross.

Gross said that several neighboring towns and cities have inquired about the bicycle rodeo and planned to have representatives in Columbia City Saturday to learn how the event is conducted. Gross said that those inquiring would like to start such an event in their own communities.

Text Of Letter Soon To Be Made Public

Possibly Within 24 Hours

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

FRASER, Colo. (UP)—President Eisenhower headed back for Denver with plans to make public the text of an 11-page letter on disarmament he received from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

There were indications that the historic letter, which reports said contained the Soviet's general terms for a disarmament agreement, would be disclosed officially within 24 hours.

However, Mr. Eisenhower's reply, which the temporary White House originally planned to release simultaneously with the Bulganin letter, was not ready and will be made public later.

The Chief Executive wound up a four-day fishing sojourn at the Byers Peak ranch of Denver businessman Aksel Nielsen near here with his attention mainly focused on the momentous possibilities of the Bulganin letter.

First Written Communication

It was the first direct written communication from the Soviet leader to the President since Bulganin became premier.

Mr. Eisenhower was expected to go to his desk at his Lowry Air Force Base headquarters at Denver shortly after completing the 0-mile drive back over the Continental Divide.

The White House awaited only a formal diplomatic okay from the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, headed by Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, before

Fourth Annual Night Hunt Starts Tonight, Sponsored By Local Coon And Fox Hunters

The Fourth Annual Night Hunt begins this evening in this community under the sponsorship of the Whitley County Fox & Coon Hunters Association.

The fox and coon hunters' club house will open at 4:00 p.m. today and remain open, day and night, until Sunday afternoon. In addition to the coon hunting trials, the annual Dog Day will be held Sunday afternoon, at which time dogs will be traded, sold privately, and auctioned. Other hunting equipment will also be included in the auction.

1954 Champion

Homer Wells, of this city, owner of the 1954 Night Hunt Champion, Freckles, will not be in the competition this year, a representative of the local organizations has announced. Wells will serve as one of the several judges for the event.

The 1953 championship was also won by a Columbia City man, hound, Brownie. Wunderlich has not indicated as yet whether he will be competing this year or not.

Scoring for the night hunts will be made according to national rules of coon hunters, and members of the local coon hunters organization will act as judges. Arrangements have been made to do the hunting on farms in the county.

Over 60 Dogs

Over 60 owners brought their dogs to the contest here, and more dogs than that are expected this year, as the event has attracted wider attention each year it has been held.

The hunting of the dogs are judged as follows: four dogs are designated to make up what is called a brace. The owners of the four dogs, a guide, and a judge will leave the local hunters' clubhouse east of this city on State road 205 and drive to a designated woods to hunt. The dogs are turned loose, and when one picks up a trail, its owner recognizes his bark and tells the judge his dog is trailing. For being the first dog "To trail", the hound is given a specific number of points. Then when the dog "trees", he is given a specific number of additional points. However, if the dog loses the trail or does not "tree" (in other words just barks to hear his echo) it is given a certain number of demerits. The dogs hunt for three hours and then the points are added up for that brace of dogs. More hunts follow, and when the event is over the dog with the most points is declared the Night Hunt Champion, receiving a large trophy.

Any proceeds from the event will go into the building fund for additions to the club house here.

Molotov Doesn't Say Plan To Be Accepted

No Reference To Bulganin Letter

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) —Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov said today the Kremlin is "engaged in studying" President Eisenhower's arms inspection plan.

The Russian foreign chief, in a policy address to the United Nations General Assembly, said the Soviet Union regards the President's proposals "as an expression of a sincere desire to facilitate the solution of the important problem of international control and inspection."

But his 5,000-word speech contained no hint as to whether the Kremlin would accept the Eisenhower plan. And he made no reference to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's letters — presumably concerning the disarmament problem — to President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure.

Rev. Lowell L. Yeatts, of Peru, is to be the evangelist at the Church of the Nazarene, 325 North Elm street, September 28 - October 9. Lowell Tague of Cromwell, will be in charge of the music.

Mr. Yeatts emphasizes salvation and the Wesleyan doctrine of heart holiness in his sermons. He has evangelized extensively in the Middle West, New England and Can ada. He has served the Church of the Nazarene as both evangelist and pastor.

Mr. Tague is a Mechanic by trade but is also a beautiful tenor singer. He will conduct the congregational singing and present special numbers each evening.

Rev. Merle Bright the pastor of the church states that all services will commence at 7:30 p.m.

Rally Day Service All Day Sunday At Oak Grove Church

Lester Worrick, superintendent of the Oak Grove Church of God Sunday School, announces an all day Rally Service this Sunday.

Sunday school will open at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Ronald Mossburg leading the song service. The subject of Rev. Hubert Miller's morning message will be "Fight of Faith."

A basket dinner will be served in the church hall at 12 o'clock.

Miss Judy Schrader will open the afternoon service at 2:15 with a 15 minute organ prelude. Stanley Morse, former Horace Heidt band member will lead the congregational singing and present trombone solos.

The afternoon message will be delivered by Ben Williams, a native of Hawaii, now affiliated with the Fort Wayne Bible College.

Mr. Morse will be in charge of the singspiration at the young peoples meeting at 7 o'clock.

A color film, "Lord of All," starring Colleen Townsend, one of Billy Graham's Hollywood converts, will be shown at 8 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend the service.

Special Services At Blue River Church

The Sunday services will start at 10:30 a.m. and each evening service at 7:30.

Rev. D. G. Berkebile, North Manchester, will be the evangelist

The subjects he will be speaking on are:

The Need of the Hour; What it Means to be a Christian; Essentials in Christian Living; Morality Insufficient for Salvation; The Gospel of Which We are not Ashmed; The New Birth; Jehovah's Concern for the Lost; Weighed and Found Wanting; Carry Your Corner; Sowing and Reaping; A Gracious Invitation and The Kingdom Within.

Local Church Adopts Program Known As Year Of Achievement

More than 3,000 Churches of the American Baptist Convention united September first in a program known as "A year of Baptist Achievement," designed to strengthen the Church School. The First Baptist Church of this City has adopted the program in its entirety and several months of preparation have been carried on by the committee of the local Church, of which Calvin Landrum has been chosen as general chairman. During the year specific goals, with a monthly emphasis will be highlighted and actually carried to completion.

Mr. Landrum recently stated that a second of the five Area Cluster Training Conferences to be held here during the coming year, was recently concluded. There were 107 delegates, representing 13 area Baptist Churches in attendance at the first conference held here. Dr. Cletis Brown, Area Director of Evangelism for the American Baptist Convention, and Miss Mildred Arnold, of the Department for Child Evangelism, conducted the training conference. The first phase of the first year of Baptist achievement is related to the goal of attendance increase in, the month of September. Mrs. Randall Gregg, who is chairman of the adult work, announces an every family enlistment - which will be conducted Sunday afternoon, when more than 25 "visitors" from the local Church will call on the Church and Sunday Church School constituency, asking for a committment to attend the Sunday Church School for a 3-month period, October through December.

Sunday, October 2 is designated as "Rally Sunday," with a goal of 250 set for the Sunday Church School attendance. Maurice Simmons is church school superintendent and the Rev. Dale T. Heinbaugh is pastor.

Group Meeting Of Methodist Women To Be Held Monday

The Methodist church at South Whitley will be host for a district meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Monday. The meeting will convene at 9:30 in the morning.

Women from the various churches will take a sack lunch and the women of the host church will serve coffee. During the morning officers in the local organizations in the district will meet with their corresponding officer in a private session.

Mrs. Maud Fowler Bristol will be the afternoon speaker. A native of Illinois, Mrs. Bristol is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University and studied at the National Training school. Young Women's Christian Association, also the Chicago Theological Seminary and the University of Chicago.

A teacher for some time, Mrs. Bristol later became secretary of the National Board of the YWCA in rural work. After the death of her husband, the Rev. Ronald Grant Bristol, she became pastor of a rural church which they had served together. She is vitally interested in the program of evangelism, youth and women's work.

In 1950, Mrs. Bristol was appointed coordinator of the rural work for the Holstein Valley conference in Tennessee. She is regarded as a most interesting speaker with a rich background.

Churches of the Columbia City group include the local church, Blue River, Charter Oak, Churubusco, Etna, Larwill, Oak Grove, South Whitley, Troy and Wesley Chapel. Mrs. Furlow Burd of the Blue River church is group leader.

Notre Dame Dedicates Television Station

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—The University of Notre Dame dedicated its new television station, WNDU-TV, today at a convocation attended by about 3,000 faculty members, students and guests.

David Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, was presented an honorary degree for his contributions to the development of radio and television.

House Of Our God

Lesson for September 25, 1955

WHY support churches? The first thing we need to understand about this, as Christians, is that support of the church is not optional, but a "must." During a year's time every citizen is confronted with more "causes" than most of us can keep up with. We are invited to share in many good works; orphanages, schools for the blind, boys' towns, foundations for the study of various diseases, hospitals for crippled children, the Red Cross, all sorts of things. Most of us have to decide which we shall send our few dollars to, and which not. But if a Christian thinks he has a right to decide whether or not to support the church, he does not understand what the church is. The central reason why the church calls for the support of the people of God is that it is the "house of our God."

Dr. Foreman

Here They Know You

If those poor people in ancient Jerusalem pledged themselves to support the house of God, we who are Christians have even more reason to do so. For one thing, the church is where we really belong. Where else in the world is a person recognized for what he is, a child of God? Elsewhere you are a statistic, a consumer, a customer, a tax-payer, a cost item, a voter. These may be important facts about you. But the most important fact about any human being is not that he is kin to the human race, important though that is. The big fact is that every human being is made by God, for fellowship with him. Every man alive is a child of God. Either he knows that or he does not know it. Vast numbers of the human race live as if they were orphans of the storm, they live pigs' lives like the prodigal in Jesus' parable. But no one will tell them they are children of God. No one will tell them of the Father's house, no one will recognize them for what they are. Only in the house of our God."

Here Citizens Are Trained

There are very shortsighted people who may tell you that money put into support of the church could better be spent in civic improvement, such as better schools or sanitation. On the contrary, supporting the church is the best thing that can be done for the betterment of society. It cannot be said too often: even if the church were only a listening post, even if a church did nothing at all but hold a meeting on Sunday, even if a church might as well be laid flat in ashes six days in the week, for all the work it does—still, even if it did no more than hear God's messages once a week, it would be doing a great and unique thing. For the people who hear those messages and believe them would come to know their true relation to God and their duty in his sight; they would live not as animals, not as the "beasts that perish" but as immortal sons and daughters of the Most High. Then if the church is more than a listening post, if it puts its members to work, they will be actually taught and trained in Christian living.

Here God's Will Is Sought and Taught

Are we talking about the real church or are we idealizing it? Well, of course no church is quite ideal. But taking the church by and large, these things are true, the church at its best wants them to come true, this is what it is driving at. For the church is the only place in town where large groups of people join in trying to know the will of God, and how to find it and how to do it. The church is the place where problems, personal and/or social, can and ought to be discussed in the light of God's Word and Will. It is the place where life is looked at in the light of heaven. A church that does not live up to its high calling is hardly worth support; but a church where there is a sincere effort to know what God wants for this community and for our part in it, a church where there is brave and honest opportunity for minister and people to think and to study and to speak out for God and his ways, a church which by prayer and service keeps the door open toward God, such a church is indeed a House of God; how can a Christian refuse to support it?

Graham's Crusade Was Successful

GLASGOW, Scotland (UP) — Billy Graham's six week "Tell Scotland" crusade sent more than 10,000 extra worshippers into Glasgow churches in the three weeks following it, it was announced today.

Organizers of the crusade said more than 10,000 more persons attended the city's 329 Protestant churches following the crusade than during the same period in 54.

After the three week period Baptist Church and the Free Church of Scotland both reported increased memberships however, however, attendances sharply declined, the organizers said. The

OPM Squires Honors His New York Guests With Pretty Affair

O. P. M. Squires, local jeweler, entertained guests last night with a buffet supper complimentary to his guests, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Matter of Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. Matter is a daughter of the late Lloyd Squires, the oldest brother of Mr. Squires.

A large chrysanthemum plant in a soft lilac shade stood on the coffee table in front of the fire place.

Roses attractively arranged centered the candlelighted table in the dining room laid in white linen for the buffet supper. An attractive relish plate adorned the table with platters of fried chicken, and crystal platters of potato salad nestled in green.

Cocktails and coffee were served earlier in the evening and candies were found on the several tables in the living room.

Mr. Squires' two granddaughters Mary Ann and Martha Squires assisted in the serving. Each lady received a carnation corsage.

The guests were particularily interested in Mr. Squires' rare collection of old books, a number of books in the collection being more than 100 years old.

The guests besides the guests of honor included Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gates, Mrs. Belle Egner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Squires, all of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fox, South Whitley.

Darlene Hontz And Robert Busz Are Married At Ormas

Miss Darlene Hontz and Robert Busz were married Friday evening at the Ormas Baptist church with the Rev. Volie Pyles, pastor of the church, officiating at the ceremony.

Miss Hontz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hontz of near Etna and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Busz of Big Lake are the parents of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Oakerson attended the couple. Mrs. Oakerson is a cousin of the bride.

A reception was held in the church dining room. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Edith Shoemaker, Mrs. Harry Hontz, Miss Donna Adair and Miss Sarah Shoemaker.

The couple will reside at Ligonier where Mr. Busz is employed at the Essex Wire company.

Mrs. Keister Gives Birthday Party For Mrs. Viola Lawrence

Mrs. Viola Lawrence, of Fresno, California, who is visiting her former home here, was given a birthday surprise dinner Tuesday at the home of her brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Keister, in Etna.

Mrs. Keister baked the birthday cake, which served as the table centerpiece.

Guests for the party, in addition to the honor guest, were Mrs. Claude Heritier, Mrs. Ethel Weick, Mrs. Lida Holderbaum, Mrs. John Blain, Mrs. Gerald Moyer, Mrs. Claron Roth and son, Richard, and the hosts.

Mrs. Lawrence received several attractive gifts. Later in the afternoon the hostess served muskmelon, cookies, and iced tea.

"Conservation On The Spiritual Classics" Is Rebecca Circle Topic

Mrs. Earl Anderson and Mrs. Clifford Smith presented the lesson topic "Conservation on the Spiritual Classics," Wednesday afternoon, before 18 members of the Rebecca Circle of Trinity Methodist church. The presentation of the topic was given in the form of a playlet, by the two women, at the September meeting held at the church.

The devotions given by Mrs. Ray Reed were taken from the 13th chapter of Corinthians. Mrs. John Ginder, hostess for the afternoon meeting served ice cream bars.

Mrs. Viola Lawrence, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Holderbaum, East Jackson street, was a guest at the meeting.

Gloria Swanson Misses Styles At Race Track

By GLORIA SWANSON
Written for United Press

PARIS (UP)—I can remember the day when Longchamp, Paris' beautiful race track, was also a style show, where you could see the very latest.

Most of the ladies went to the races to win their own race against their competitors. They were vying for escorts, who usually paid for the extravaganzas but were busier with the four-legged girls (fillies).

This time I sat in Mr. Ralph Strassburger's box. He has the second largest stable in France. With my specs and binoculars glued to my face I am sure no one suspected I was not looking at the horses but trying to find the smartest in styles.

I scanned thousands of spectators. Toward the end of the day I was quite frantic because I thought I must be losing my eyesight. Where were the chic women? I could count them all on one hand.

Two were my friends—Mrs. Bertram Taylor and Arlette Marchal. Both confessed they were wearing "last year's" models.

I had seen only five attractively dressed women—and here were two of the five confessing they were wearing last year's!

"But why," I asked, "don't you like the new 'Y' look of Dior's or the 'draw-string' of Givenchy?"

Dead silence. Until one charming and very outspoken old gal with a French title and an Ohio background said, "Gloria, surely you know why everyone is wearing last year's clothes in the middle of September."

She told me that "the collections were made for buyers (mostly Americans) and tourists-they have to cause a sensation or there would be nothing to talk about.

"Naturally the Frenchwoman is too conservative for freakish clothes and at this moment she has nothing to wear. But wait until next month—that's another story, when collections are designed especially for her."

I asked what would happen to Mr. Dior's alphabet look. What a nice husky laugh she had.

"Well, my dear, our Frenchwoman didn't accept the 'H' and 'A' and I hardly think she will want to look like 'Y'."

I couldn't help interjecting that I personally couldn't wait for the "O" look, for I was sure it was going to be the most comfortable of all.

That's Right, Lady, Your Feet Are Bigger

DETROIT — (UP) —No offense intended, ma'm, but you got big feet.

What's more, they're getting bigger all the time.

Risking the chance he might be run out of town on a rail, the president of the Michigan Shoe Retailers Association gave the womenfolk this bitter news during his organization's annual convention here.

"Our women have the biggest feet in the world, on the average, and they seem to be getting still bigger," Morton Hack said.

Thirty years ago, Hack said, the average woman took a 6B shoe size. Today, he said, she takes a 7½B.

"It's all part of the changing pattern," Hack explained. "Women are getting rid of the Cinderella complex—the mistaken idea that small feet are dainty.

"Small feet usually are not dainty," Hack said. "They are generally pudgy, foreshortened, with no grace. Women with large feet are more pleasant, as generous of character as of pedal extremities."

Janet Roars West Across Open Waters

Toward Central America At 115 MPH

MIAMI (UP) Hurricane Janet blasted through the sparsely settled Windward Islands and headed into the open Caribbean Sea today with a suddenly-grown force of 115 miles per hour.

The new tempest, termed already dangerous although scarcely two days old, roared westward across open water toward Central America.

Westermen discounted any potential threat to the U.S. mainland some 1,600 miles away but said the twice-hit Yucatan Peninsula might come into Janet's range.

An advisory from the weather bureau at San Juan, P. R., estimated Janet was located about 425 miles south-southwest of San Juan.

A Navy reconnaissance plane during the night found the hurricane at the moment was moving on a course between west and west northwest, at about 15 miles per hour, the advisory said. Shipping in the hurricane's path was advised to use caution.

The danger apparently had passed for the Leeward Islands. The whirler Thursday swept across the British Island of Barbados, forcing the weatherman to abandon his coastal post for better shelter, the weather bureau reported.

Forecaster William McGee of the Miami Weather Bureau said Janet apparently was starting a long trek across the open Caribbean in which it could blow itself out without striking land.

Although the storm could turn northward toward Puerto Rico it appeared likeliest to continue westward toward Central America, McGee said.

Janet's predecessor, Hurricane Hilda, struck the Yucatan from another route across eastern Cuba and continued across lower gulf waters into Mexico, where flooding has caused a catastrophe.

The toll of Hilda's victims in the area of Tampico, Mexico, has risen above the 200 mark and another 370 persons are missing and assumed dead.

SEDAN IN THREE SERIES—The four-door sedan, traditional American family car, is offered in three series by Ford for 1956—Fairlane, Customline and Mainline. Above is the Customline four-door in one of the 21 two-tone paint combinations offered on models which will be displayed by dealers Friday, September 23. A lower roof line, restyled grille and parking lamps, a new design of body side moldings are among 1956 Ford appearance changes. Thunderbird Y-8 engines in Fairlane models develop 202 horsepower for Fordomatic drive, or 200 hp for overdrive or conventional drive. In the Customline and Mainline, Y-8 engines produce 176 hp for Fordomatic, or 173 hp for overdrive or conventional drive. The 137 hp Ford I-Block six also is available in all models with all transmission types.

Headquarters For Military Information Will Be Available

A headquarters for military information will be established and function in Columbia City every Wednesday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the Veterans Affairs Office, Courthouse building.

This information program will be under the supervision of Sgt. James Dilkey, U.S. Marine Corps Recruiter from Fort Wayne.

It is the intention of Sgt. Kilkey to inform the young men from Whitley county about their military obligation under the new reserve law signed by the president in August 1955. Since there are several differant ways a young man can fulfill his military obligation, this is an opportunity to find out just where he stands.

This service is offered by S—Sgt. Kilkey to all young men, or their parents, without any obligation.

Judy Garland Makes TV Debut

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Judy Garland makes her television debut Saturday night and, as usual with this dynamic performer, there's as much drama behind the cameras as in front.

The singer brings with her to the CBS-TV Ford Jubilee (9:30 p.m. EDT) the revue that drew raves at the Palace Theater in New York and at the London Palladium.

Judy's show is an usual production even for CBS' big studios. She and husband Sid Luft are receiving $125,000 for the one-night stand—more, according to CBS, than any single performer has collected for entertaining on the home screens.

Judy has been rehearsing at night, a precedent at CBS. She still has trouble keeping daytime working hours. Because she is new to TV, a special monitor (at $2,000 an hour) was brought in during her camera tests so she could see herself on color TV.

Judy is rated a special entertainer, too, so CBS broke another rule and will let a live audience view the show. That will cost $10,000 for special equipment because of fire laws.

"Judy didn't want canned laughter and applause. She wanted people," explained associate producer Berni Gould.

Judy confessed she's "scared" about her TV debut. She said she would "like to be shot before Saturday."

Judy gave up her touring stage show to go on TV, but she hopes the sacrifice was worth while.

"TV is insane confusion, but it's a great medium," she said. "I'd love to do more. But that depends on how TV feels about me."

Madden Says GOP Farm Program Hard On Economy

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UP)—A "reactionary" Republican farm program is inflicting economic bruises on the entire nation's economy, Rep. Ray J. Madden (D-Ind.) charged today.

He told farmers at the Indiana mechanical corn picking contest their recession is "real" and warned "history is almost repeating itself" and could lead to an economy-wide crash like the 1920's.

"Some economists have contended that farmers are better off now because there are fewer farmers dividing up the farm income," Madden said. "But the facts are that per capita income in agriculture is falling."

Farmer's income last year was the smallest since 1944, he said.

He said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson's flexible farm support plan is a "reactionary experiment" and dismissed Vice President Richard Nixon's promise of "bold" help to a Wabash farm audience last weekend as verbal ointment to the economic bruises."

Madden conceded the nation's economy is booming but added "not for everyone."

Corporation profits are up 26 per cent, while the average worker's income is only up two per cent," he said. It seems this record prosperity just is not "trickling down" to all of us, the way the Republican administration likes to say it is.

So the next time you hear a Republican talking about booming prosperity, ask yourself—prosperity for whom?"

As it is, Madden said, the prosperity is being reserved for big corporations and their stock holders.

How Free Is Free Speech?

By JAMES BAAR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—How free is free speech today?

Nearly 800 Americans attending the 10th annual conference on citizenship struggled with the problem for three days.

The delegates from nearly 800 organizations throughout the nation met in small discussion groups. The talk in one group that sat in a corner of a red, white and blue ballroom went like this:

Ideally, I want a climate where someone can openly dissent without being penalized for it," a Washington, D.C., woman said. 'We don't have anything like that today."

"Everyone is aware of a certain degree of sensitivity about saying things and associating with people," a man from Ohio agreed.

"The government is setting the pattern," a Maryland man said. "You can't have the kind of security pattern the government has set without having it affect everyone."

'You can't blame the government," another Maryland man argued. "The pattern represents public opinion."

"Both are to blame and freedom of speech is being impaired," the Washington, D.C., woman said, hotly. "People are afraid to disagree with the general trend because their loyalty will be questioned."

"But their has to be some control" a Delaware woman said. "What about the people susceptible to propaganda. Some people believe anything they read."

"You can't say that and not have lost faith in the American mind and system," a man from New York City said.

"It's a matter of discretion and always has been," said a Pennsylvania man. "If I am a Democrat I wouldn't visit some Republican friends and beat them over the head. And if I feel like it, I want to be able to retreat to a nudist colony and live as I darn please."

"I don't know any country where the non-conformist has the rights he has here," the Delaware woman said. "But there must be something to stop them from threatening our safety. . ."

"Or rights," the Pennsylvania man insisted.

Letters

making the letter public.

There was no official advance comment from either the White House or the State Department.

The White House decision to speed up official release obviously was prompted by the fact that the basic contents of the letter were leaking" from various highly-placed sources. Copies of the document also went to British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure.

Received English Copy

Mr. Eisenhower received an English translation of Bulganin's letter Wednesday at the secluded guest house he occupies on Nielsen's ranch in this remote mountain valley. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles also was given a copy.

The President conferred with Dulles by telephone after reading the letter and studied it further Thursday.

It was regarded as especially significant that Dulles had seen the letter before his optimistic speech Thursday to the U.N. General Assembly. Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said there was "nothing to indicate" that Dulles made any changes in his planned speech after seeing the Russian official's communication.

Dulles' remarks indicated that there was nothing in Bulganin's letter to discourage U.S. hopes for a lessening of Cold War tensions. He told the General Assembly that the world may be entering a decade of peaceful change, possibly leading to an end of the Cold War.

Crosley Corp. plant at Richmond, but told his news conference he refuses to se dntroops or National Guardsmen to patrol the areas except in an emergency.

He said lack of negotiations with the CIO United Auto Workers prompted violence at the four Perfect Circle plants in richmond, Hagerstown and New Castle. Recurring acts of vandalism also have rocked the Crosley plant where AFL Electrical workers have been on strike since June 25.

Authorities at Richmond and New Castle previously asked state intervention to prevent mass picketing which continued in violation of a court order.

Force Unjustified

"The state's function is to provide arbitration facilities and use force only when local law enforcement agencies are unable to preserve life and property," Craig said.'

He added "there is no condition at Crosley or Perfect Circle (the New Castle plant) that justifies the use of an extreme force."

Following a telephone conversation with Phillip Rogers, chairman of the National Labor relations Board, Craig said they agreed that Perfect Circle and the union should resume negotiations.

The company has refused to bargain while a petition to decertify the union is pending.

"The mere fact there is a petition pending does not justify either management or labor in refusing to negotiate, said craig. "The union is the official bargaining agent unless and until it is decertified. It is a duty of labor and management to negotiate."

The governor charged violence at Perfect Circle started only when negotiations were halted.

"Violence that attends a labor controversy always occurs when there are not honest, good faith attempts to negotiate."

By refusing to negotiate, Craig said, Perfect Circle has "laid the groundwork for an unfair labor practices charge against itself" if the decertification petition fails.

The use of state troopers on strike duty jeopardizes the efficiency of highway traffic control, Craig explained. He said on three occasions when troopers were used in labor disputes, traffic mishaps and deaths increased.

Troopers were used in strikes involving the Indiana Bell Telephone Co., the Avco strike at Connersville, and the Morgan Packing Co. strike in Scott County.

In each case, Craig said, there were "actual threats to life and property."

the conclusion of the historic Moscow talks.

The second resolution took note of the Soviet promise to release thousands of German war prisoners and expressed hope that the pledge would be carried out soon.

The opposition charges that Adenauer's policies hampered reunification were sharply rejected by Dr. Henrich Krone, spokesman for the Christian Democrats.

Krone said his party was convinced "that this first conversation in Moscow has also contributed to reunification."

"The road to unity lies not on double track negotiations, which only after his return from Moscow, but on the basis of the Paris treaties and in unity with the free world."

Critics Praise Britain's First Commercial TV

LONDON (UP) — Critics today praised Britain's first television with toned down American-style commercials and generally agreed that the state-owned British Broadcasting Corp., is in for some tough competition.

An estimated 2,500,000 Britons got their first look at commercial TV Thursday night in a four-hour premier telecast by the new London station of the Independent Television Authority (ITA).

The general verdict was that commercial TV had come to stay.

All 11 London morning newspapers commented on the premier. All except the Communist Daily Worker had high praise for production techniques and commercials alike.

The commercials interspersing entertainment fare including exerpts from three plays, a comedy show, a boxing match and some newsreels generally followed the American technique but were more subdued.

"Here and there the American influence poked through with little jingles and songs about the various products," the News Chronicle said.

The Daily Sketch said the commercials, which popped up about every 15 minutes, were "ingenious and unembarrassing."

Draft Proposal May Keep Youths From Volunteering

WASHINGTON (UP) — Some Army officials feared today that proposals to defer most fathers and all men over 26 from the drazt may discourage youths from volunteering for service.

They said the plan might encourage the youths instead to take a chance on not being drafted by seeking repeated deferments.

The officials said such a reaction would cripple the administration's new six months training plan for pre-draft age youths. That plan, aimed at training between 100,000 and 250,000 youths a year, depends on volunteers. They will undergo six months active duty training and 7½ years in the ready reserve, thus gaining exemption from the two-year draft.

Other Army manpower experts believed, however, the draft change proposals may have the opposite effect. They argued that the changes would lower the age at which men are being drafted and put greater pressure on youths to volunteer so they might choose the type of service they prefer.

Salk Vaccine

Whitley county sponsored at the expense of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The expense of the third shot will have to be borne by the children's parents. The vaccine is available commercially in Whitley county to children between the ages of 5 and 9 only, Dr. Lehmberg related. However, more serum is expected to be made available later to local doctors.

The effective period of the three Salk polio shots has not been definitely determined by medical researchers. The initial shot is supposed to protect against non-paralytic polio for 12 months. Officials say the second shot serves as a strong booster and provides definite aid against paralysis. A seven-month waiting period is recommended before the third shot is given, according to the researchers.

New York Giants Are Banking On Those Classy Rookies

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (UP) — The New York Giants were the surprise of the National Football League's Eastern Division last season and they're banking on classy rookies to help them do even better in 1955.

The Giants, bouncing back from a poor 3-9 campaign in 1953, wound up third behind the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles last year with a 7-5 record in Jim Lee Howell's first season as head coach. Howell's huskies led the division with a quarter of the 1954 season to go, but then they hit the roadblocks that stop many NFL teams — injuries and the Browns.

Howell isn't making any title claims, but believes he has added enough fresh talent to make a good bid for the Eastern crown Cleveland has won five straight years.

Better Than 1954

"We are much better than last year," Howell said as he prepared to take his team to Philadelphia to open the league's 36th season Saturday night against Coach Jim Trimble's Eagles.

Howell believes the team is stronger at offensive halfback, fullback, tackle and guard.

Alex Webster, a 210-pound ball carrier from North Carolina State who was chosen the most valuable player in Canada's Big Four pro circuit last year, appears to be the prize addition to the halfback department.

Mel Triplett, a 215-pounder from the University of Toledo, figures to give Eddie Price a big lift with the fullback duties.

Penn State Rookie

Roosevelt Grier, a 265-pound tackle and middle guard from Penn State, and Rex Boggan, a 245-pound tackle from Mississippi, are the prize rookie linemen. Ray Beck, an offensive guard from Georgia Tech, also has returned from military service to strengthen the line. The Giants also bolstered their middle guard post Monday by obtaining Stan West, a NFL veteran, from the Rams in return for a high future draft choice.

The all-veteran offensive unit probably will be: Ends Bob Schnelker and Ken MacAfee; tackles Roosevelt Brown and Dick Yelvington; guards Bill Austin and Jack Stroud; center Ray Wietecha; quarterback Charlie Conerly; halfbacks Frank Gifford and Kyle Rote, and fullback Price.

Tackles Ray Krouse and Ray Collins head a defensive platoon composed of veterans, except for Mississippi's Jim Patton in the secondary.

Florida's Simpson May Earn Spurs For Winged Heels

By BILL FERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UP) — Florida's Jackie Simpson could earn spurs for his winged heels this week as he puts his break-away magic against Georgia Tech and Dixie's fastest defensive backfield.

Simpson put on the greatest running show of the new-born season last week when he streaked 48 yards for one score and then went 101 yards for another to lead Florida to a slim win over Mississippi State.

However, it takes more than two runs to make a halfbac ka Tommy Harmon, and Simpson should be able to prove is worth this week against Tech. If the rough-and-ready 170-pound junior can get loose in Tech's super-charged secondary, then he rates a second look from anybody searching for an All-America halfback.

The Tech secondary proved its mettle over the week-end by holding Miami's fine running attack to mostly four and five-yard shots. The defensive backfield was also responsible for scoring the touchdown that enabled the Engineers to claim a 14-6 victory.

Engineers Slight Favorites

Tech's overall speed, combined with the win over Miami, makes the Engineers a slight favorite in the Saturday afternoon Gainesville Fla., clash, but the Gators are expected to have one of their very best seasons, and they could give Tech a fit.

Coach Bobby Dodd will be counting on such halfbacks as Paul Rotenberry, Jimmy Thompson, Jimmy Vokert, Stan Flowers and Johnny Menger and quarterback-safetyman Wade Mitchell to apply the red light to Simpson's all-the-way running.

While Simpson undergoes his big test Saturday, four Southeastern Conference teams will undergo their first tests of the season. Alabama, Auburn, Tennessee and Vanderbilt will kick off the 1955 season a week behind the other eight of the "Dixie Dozen."

Alabama Meets Rice

Alabama meets Rice, which could be better than the traditional Mississippi Southern opener, and Tennessee goes against a tough Mississippi State team.

Auburn has a breather starter with Chattanooga, and Vanderbilt tries Georgia.

Mississippi goes against Kentucky, and this could be a battle between quarterback Eagle Day of the Rebels and Bob Hardy of Kentucky. Day was sensational in leading Mississippi to a win over Georgia, while Hardy had a hard time getting started as the Wildcats lost a shocker to Louisiana State.

Louisiana State, fresh from the unexpected win over the bluegrass boys, meets a rough and ready Texas A&M team, while Tulane takes on Texas.

NL Player Who Hits Season's Final HR To Be In Hall Of Fame

CINCINNATI (UP)—The National League player who hits the final home run of the current campaign will have his name and the bat with which he hit it enshrined in baseball's Hall of Fame. The bat and the player making the homer will have special significance because the league already has set a new record for homers in a season. The last one hit will fix the number entered in the record books.

Tiger Jones To Meet Chris Christensen In 10-Round Bout

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones meets Chris Christensen of Denmark in a 10-round televised middleweight fight tonight and is a 2-1 favorite, but he admitted his thoughts will be elsewhere.

Jones originally was matched to meet Cleveland's Rocky Castellani, but the later withdrew because of a death and an illness in his family. The Brooklyn Tiger consented to the new pairing, but made plain it was Castellani he preferred to meet.

"I have an old score to settle," he said. Castellani and Jones have met twice before, both times when they were working their way up the 160-pound ladder. Castellani won by decisions each time.

In Christensen, Jones will meet has displayed more boxing skill has displayed more boxing skill than tower in his few American appearances. Since coming here six months ago, Christensen has won decisions over Johnny Lombardo and Billy Graham.

Because of their weight difference — Christensen doubles in brass as both welterweight and middleweight champion of Denmark — Jones agreed to weigh in no more than 155 pounds for the fight.

Manager Frank Lane Leaves The Chicago White Sox

CHICAGO (UP)—There's no joy on Chicago's South Side today. Frantic Frankie's leaving town.

Frank Lane, dynamic general manager of the Chicago White Sox for the past seven years, tendered his resignation Thursday in a letter to Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the White Sox.

The man who became known as the greatest gambler and trader in baseball said he was "reasonably assured" Mrs. Comiskey would free him from his contract which runs through 1960.

Charles Comiskey III, vice president of the Sox and No. 1 reason for Lane's decision to quit, said there has been no discussion as to who will succeed Lane.

"I imagine that is a matter that will be taken up after the World Series," Comiskey said.

Came to Sox in 1948

The 29-year-old Comiskey also refused to discuss whether he would take over Lane's job himself.

"I'm not in a position now to say whether I will or will not," he said.

Lane took over the Sox in 1948 after they finished eighth the year before and led the club to its most financially successful era in history.

Under Lane and his shrewd deals the Sox' net worth skyrocketed from three million dollars in 1948 to around six million dollars today.

Lane led the WWhite Sox to sixth place finishes during his first two years and has kept the Sox in the first division for the past five seasons.

During his reign, he made 241 deals involving 253 players. Some of his best included getting Billy Pierce from Detroit for Aaron Robinson; buying Chico Carrasquel from Brooklyn in 1950 for $25,000; and trading catcher Joe Tipton to Philadelphia, for Nellie Fox.

Acquired Many Prize Players

In 1951 Lane got Minnie Minoso in a straight deal for Gus Zernial and Dave Philley. He bought Jim Rivera from the St. Louis Browns in 1952.

Among the other "prizes" on his long list are Bob Keegan and Sandy Consuegra, who he purchased in 1953 for a song. This year he got Jim Busby back from Washington, Dick Donovan, Dixie Howell, Walt Dropo and Bob Nieman. Without them, the Sox never would have been in a flag race at all.

Lane made his decision to leave the Sox earlier this month when young Comiskey took Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's side after Frick fined Lane $500.

When the Sox were finally eliminated from this year's race Lane wasted no time in resigning.

Rumors have it that Lane's next stop will be as boss of the St. Louis Cardinals, but nothing official can be announced concerning his next job until Mrs. Comiskey relaeses him from his contract.

Summer Of '55, Which Will Stand OnRecord As One Of Hottest In History, Ends Today

By UNITED PRESS

The summer of 1955, which will stand on the record books as one of the hottest in the nation's history, ended today.

A heat wave still was hanging on in the South. But fall got off to a blustery start in Canada, where the worst autumn snow storm in five years blocked highways in southern Alberta.

Officially, summer was to bow out and fall was to begin at exactly 1:42 p.m. CST. This was the moment of autumnal equinox, when the center of the sun is directly over the Equator.

Most of the nation was appropriately cool for the beginning of fall, with brisk Canadian air knifing as far south as the Texas Panhandle.

But summer heat stayed on in the Gulf states and southwest desert. Highs of 99 were registered Thursday at Yuma, Ariz., and Needles, Calif., and temperatures were in the 90s as far north as southern Illinois and Indiana.

In Alberta, meanwhile, nearly 5½ inches of snow blocked highways and halted traffic in and around Calgary. The snow was whipped by 20-mile-per-hour winds and power lines were knocked down in nearby areas. At least one death was blamed on the storm.

Far to the south, a new hurricane churned through the Caribbean and the death toll of hurricane Hilda continued to rise.

The new hurricane, dubbed Janet, was only a little more than a day old, but already carried 115 - mile - per - hour winds. It rammed through the sparsely populated Windward Islands and was headed in the general direction of Central America.

In Mexico, floods swollen by hurricane Hilda began to recede around Tampico, but washed up 21 more bodies which brought the death toll to 204. At least 370 more persons were missing and believed dead.

The summer which ended today had been the hottest on record in many parts of the country. Successive heat waves broke record after record and the hot weather lasted far into September.

The season's worst heat wave was in the Los Angeles area, where more than a week of 100-plus scorchers caused scores of deaths.

INDUSTRIAL AMBASSADOR?

I&M has a number of them working full time! Officially, they're "industrial development consultants"—but industrial ambassadors comes closer to telling what they do.

They work for a balanced community...by helping to attract the type of industry that will fit in best with the resources and labor skills in the area we serve, the industries most compatible with those already here.

They contact industrialists outside our area that are looking for the best place to locate. They are helped in their efforts by the national advertising I&M is doing in papers read by industrial leaders throughout America.

They work closely with Chambers of Commerce, civic bodies, and other groups within our area who, like I&M, are interested in helping the communities we're so much a part of to grow and prosper.

Michigan State Over I.U.; Purdue Has Wide Edge; Notre Dame Over Southern Methodist

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UP)—Big Ten teams were favored today to win intersectional battles against two Pacific Coast Conference clubs and three Big Seven rivals on the opening Saturday of the football season.

However, the intersectional scraps will share billing with a single Big Ten Conference match, the meeting between Michigan State, conference co-champions two years ago, and Indiana at Bloomington in the regional television game on the CBS network.

Michigan State, winner of three of nine games last season, was a 2½ points choice to down the Hoosiers, who last year also had three victories. In their meeting last year Michigan State gained a 21-14 decision.

Illini Favored By Point

Illinois, which finished last in the Big Ten last season, faced apparently the roughest non-conference match, traveling to the West Coast to tangle with California. The Golden Bears, tutored by former Big Ten Coach Lynn Waldorf, were beaten by Pittsburgh in their first game and Illinois is a one-point favorite.

Minnesota meets Washington at Minneapolis in the second match with a Pacific Coast Conference rival, and the Gophers, who have lost to the Huskies only three times in 10 games, were listed as a two-touchdown favorite.

Michigan, touted as the top fa- t home against Missouri of the Big Seven, defeated by Maryland its opener last week, and the Wolverines were a 20-point choice. defending conference champion and Rose Bowl winner Ohio State also faces a once-beaten Big Seven club, Nebraska, and the Buckeyes were a 26-point choice to trip Kansas State of the Big Seven.

Purdue Given Wide Edge

Purdue also meets a West Coast eleven, College of the Pacific, and the Boilermakers, also rated as a Big Ten powerhouse, were a 19-point favorite. College of the Pacific lost its first game to Stanford.

Both Northwestern and Wisconsin face Midwest opposition and were favored. The Wildcats, set for their first game under Coach Lou Saban, were a 12-point favorite over Miami of Ohio, even point favorite over intra-state rival Lou Saban, were a 12-point favorite over Miami of Ohio, even though Miami last year tripped Indiana, while Wisconsin was a 20-point favorite over intra-state rival Marquette.

Notre Dame will open Coach Terry Brennan's second season with the Irish as a seven-point choice to drop Southern Methodist in their second consecutive game. The two clubs closed the 1954 season against each other with Notre Dame winning a 26-14 match.

Charles Bates Is In Cross-Country Meet

Charles Bates, freshman at Manchester College, will participate in the first cross-country meet against Earlham College at Richmond, Saturday. He will be in a meet at Manchester, scheduled with Valparaiso University, in two weeks. He is enrolled in the liberal arts department.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bates, 311 Chicago street, and was graduated from Columbia City high school with the class of 1955.

Bob Grim May Be Yanks' Best Bet To Dominate Dodgers

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—A young man from Brooklyn who "always rooted for the Giants' may be the New York Yankees' best bet today to retain their World Series domination over the Dodgers.

That would be Bob Grim, a 25-year-old pitcher fighting his way to effectiveness in the shadows of the bullpen. So far this season he has been a keen disappointment.

But there are indications that he is rounding once again into the form that last season made him the American League rookie of the year.

It could be just what the doctor, in this case Casey Stengel, the left-handed dentist from Kansas City, ordered. Because with a pitching staff which is a model of inconsistency, the Yankees are plagued by the need of a sure-fire relief pitcher for the impending World Series.

Such a man is a necessity in a short, sudden death series such as the playoff classic. He may be a starter taking an extra turn, such as Harry Brecheen of the 1946 Cardinals or Gene Bearden of the 1948 Indians, but he has to be ready when the emergency bell rings.

Usually Have Had Them

The Yankees usually have had them in the past, which explains, to a great extent, their amazing record in the series. With such as Joe Page, Allie Reynolds and Johnny Sain available to put out the sudden fires, the Bombers had a great edge going for them.

This time it just might be Grim.

The quiet Hungarian came out of nowhere last season to become the first Yankee rookie in 44 years to win 20 games. A Brooklyn boy who never received a Dodger offer he had been snapped up by the Yankees and sent to Butler, Pa., in 1948. There he won eight against four defeats while "pitching on hamburgers."

At Amsterdam, N.Y., in 1949 he developed a slider to go with his curve and fast ball. Then followed 10-14 and 16-5 seasons at Norfolk and Binghamton before a two-year hitch in the Marines. He was a none-entity when he returned but the Yanks gave him a look and the six foot, one inch Grim handed them a real surprise.

By season's end he had won 20 against a mere six defeats.

A Different Story

But this year it was a different story. In the spring he struck his elbow on his knee while following through. The elbow became ever more sore and it got so Bob couldn't put out the cat. He was beaten in his first two starts and taken off the hook in a third before winning one. It was May 29 before he went the distance the first — and only — time this season.

Finally, on June 30, Grim was placed on the 30-day disabled list. He didn't throw a ball for three weeks, but did fight a constant weight problem by suiting up every day and working out. Then he would sit in the press box and grin or groan as the Yankee fortunes swayed.

In his last two outings, Bob has saved two important stretch games for the Yankees. He did it big, too, with seven no-hit relief innings against Boston and two scoreless innings against Washington.

He may be "back" at just the right time — and more important than when he won 20 games.

What's Ahead For Coach Waldorf?

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—What's ahead today for Coach Lynn Waldorf, the fat man with the thin cigar who brought order out of chaos at California nine years ago and has to do it again?

Pappy isn't exactly on the spot yet at the erstwhile "coaches graveyard," but he is struggling with the greenest contingent of Bears ever assembled since he took over after the disastrous 1946 season. And California's rooters hate to lose.

Saturdays game with Illinois could be a good barometer of their feelings — if the Illini plaster another defeat on the Bears. Pitt did it last week, 27-7.

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned — or a Cal rooter whose club is beaten too often. When the Bears lost seven out of nine games in 1946, the rooting section stomped out after the Stanford defeat leaving several yards of ripped up seats in its wake. The campus seethed with meetings and Coach Frank Wickhorst went to thescaffold after only one season.

Came a few weeks of cloak and dagger stuff and Waldorf arrived from Northwestern to save the Bears' fortunes. He proved to be one of the game's best organizers by taking approximately the same men Wickhorst had handled and turned them into a club that went 9-1 for 1947.

Then from 1948 through 1950 came three straight trips to the Rose Bowl — and three narrow defeats there. But Waldorf still had given Cal's critical rooters their biggest reason for yelling the traditional "osky-wow-wow" since 1938.

The pendulum started to go the other way last season when the Bears took on a murderous schedule that included losses to Oklahoma, Ohio State and top-ranked UCLA. Waldorf had to settle for a 5-5 record.

This year it could be worse because most of the veterans, including Paul Larson, are gone. There are a lot of non-lettermen in key spots now and some of them looked mighty beat in that last quarter against Pitt as one tackler after another slid off the driving panthers.

But Waldorf hardly is the type to act panicked.

"We still aren't a football team," he rumbles matter of factly from behind a cloud of cigar smoke. "We have shown traces of good playing and now must put it all together."

More bad news landed in his massive lap with the revelation that guard Don Gilkey — who was the bulk of Cal's defense against Pitt — may miss the Illinois game because of a kidney infection.

Which just about leaves Pappy where he came in nine seasons ago. His reputation for being able to make a prize-winning portrait out of a tangle of jigsaw pieces once more is getting the test—while the rooters watch.

Sullivan Proves Lofty Standing

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Sullivan's Golden Arrows convinced Terre Haute Gerstmeyer of their lofty standing in Indiana high school football ranks Thursday night with a 26-0 lacing.

Coach Bill Jones' boys, ranked seventh in this week's first United Press Coaches Poll, pulled off their fourth straight win and third in the Western conference—and again it was Bobby Crick and Mike Mayfield who did most of the damage.

Crick exploded for three touchdowns, including a 10-yard pass from quarterback Jack Organ, and Mayfield got the other.

Terre Haute Schulte shaded Brazil, 6-0, on Dick O'Leary's 75-yard gallop in the final period.

Upstate, Gary Emerson waltzed over West NIHSC city foe Tolleston, 30-0, and South Bend St. Joseph upended Fort Wayne Catholic, 13-7, fullback John Gamble plunging for both tallies. John Becker raced 86 yards for the Irish's lone Td

Wall And Haas Leading Pack Of Golf Pros

NEWTON, Mass. (UP) — Low-scoring Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., were leading the pack of 50 golf pros as the $43,000 Carling golf tournament moved into its second round today.

Wall and Haas fired five under par 67's Thursday to take an early lead in the classic being held over the Charles River Country Club's 6-431-yard extended course.

Second-best honors were won by Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., who shot a three-under-par 69. Most of the top pros, PGA champ Doug Ford, Masters champion Dr. Cary Middlecoff and top money winner Julius Boros, defending champion in the tourney, finished the first round on the heels of the three leaders.

Ford, who toured the course with Boros and Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N.Y. shot a first round 70. Middlecoff was also among the six entrants who finished the first 18 with a score of 70.

Boros, the cash collector from Connecticut who took the tourney last year from George Fazio in an 18-hole playoff, finished the first round in 72. Ted Kroll of Bethesda, Md., the man who won the $20,000 Philadelphia Daily News tourney last week, finished up with a 77.

The second round, for touring pros and amateurs, will be held today, with the final 18 holes for New England PGA members as the finale for the day. The third round will get underway Saturday and the winner will be crowned after the final round, Sunday.

Practice Is Rough

After coming out of their first two football games of this season with losses, Eagle football coaches, Barnum and Duffield, decided the practice sessions should be conducted in a more serious manner. So this week the pressure was really put on the squad members, with head-on blocking and tackling the course of study nightly. The first evening, bloody noses, skinned shins, and bruised faces were quite prevelant. The second evening, the squad got the same rough treatment—but there were not so many bloody noses. Wednesday evening, the bruising grind continued, and the same thing happened, only somewhat lighter, Thursday.

Naturally, each evening the coaches would frequently have to demonstrate what a viscious tackle really was, or they would set themselves up to be blocked by a learning player.

After four days of this rough treatment, the team is ready to meet New Haven this evening at DeVol Field. Every member of the squad is ready to play. However—both of the coaches are on the injured list. Barnum re-injured the finger he broke this summer, and Duffield is hobbling on a twisted left knee. Yes, the practices were rough this week.

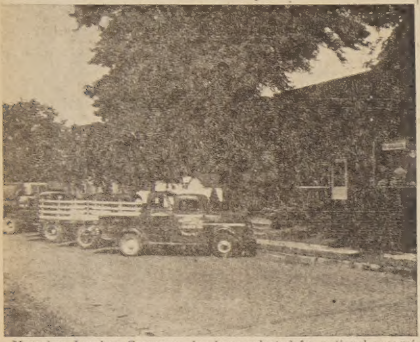
Morsches Lumber Company To Receive National Recognition At Exposition



Morsches Lumber Company, local lumber and building materials company, has been notified that a photograph of its store building has been selected for national recognition.

The photograph, to be enlarged to mural size, will be included in a display of the country's best designed retail lumber yards to be held October 11 to 14 at Cleveland, Ohio, as a feature of the Building Products Exposition sponsored by the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

The purpose of the display of especially selected photographs is to show the evolution which has occurred in the retail lumber industry as dealers have expanded and improved the efficiency of their merchandising operations.

The exposition, which will be attended by retail lumber dealers from all parts of the country, is being held to call attention to the wide variety of services which dealers offer customers interested in building or modernizing homes and other structures.

Other features of the exposition include product displays by several hundred of the nation's largest manufacturers and a series of clinics at which dealers will learn about new trends in lumber yard management and merchandising.

General Eduardo Lonardi Takes Oath Of Office As Provisional President Of Argentina;SucceedsPeron

By W.H. McCALL
United Press Staff Correspondent

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP)—Gen. Eduardo Lonardi took the oath of office as provisional president of Argentina today.

The 59-year-old army veteran took the oath succeeding ousted President Juan D. Peron in the white room of the Casa Rosada, Argentina's government house.

Lonardi who has promised to render Peron harmless from now on, took the oath of office shortly after he arrived by plane from the provisional capital of Cordoba. One of the most enthusiastic welcomes in Argentine history greeted him.

His accession to the presidency on a program pledged to guarantees of civil liberties and political freedom climaxed a successful revolution led by the army and navy.

The Triumphal Parade

The revolt toppled Peron's regime after 10 years of dictatorship and sent the former president fleeing aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor.

Lonardi rode in triumphal procession from the Buenos Aires airport in company with Adm. Isaac Rojas, who was commander of the revolutionary fleet which played so vital a part in the revolution.

Outside the government house, from which Peron ruled this country for so long, the streets of Buenos Aires were thronged with more than 300,000 persons who cheered the new president.

Earlier, other thousands cheered wildly when Lonardi arrived at the city airport in a DC3 plane, accompanied by three Gloster Meteor jet fighters and a Lincoln bomber.

The huge crowd at the airport chanted: "Lonardi . . . Lonardi . . . Lonardi!"

When the trimly erect military leader who had been forced into retirement for his opposition to Peron, stepped from the plane, the cheers increased.

Lonardi and Rojas then climbed into a black Cadillac and the other dignitaries piled into other cars behind them. The motorcade rolled off to government house in the heart of downtown Buenos Aires.

Lonardi has promised that Peron will be rendered harmless.

One American Is Killed As Arabs Bomb Bus

In Israel; Incident Considered Grave

TEL AVIV, Israel (UP) — An American was killed and a Canadian was wounded when a band of Arab infiltrators machinegunned and bombed an Israeli bus, it was disclosed today.

The dead man was identified as Rabbi Herman Brach, Brooklyn, N.Y. The wounded Canadian was identified as Rojica bercowitz, Montreal, Que.

An Israeli spokesman said the bus was ambushed Thursday night northern Israel. The scene was the Haif-Safad highway between the towns of Meron and Kefar Shamal, near the frontiers with Lebanon and Syria.

Official circles hinted that the incident was considered most grave since it bore all the signs of a campaign to "make life inside the country unsafe through terrorist methods."

A bus loaded with schoolchildren on an excursion was ambushed on the same spot two years ago and that one schoolboy was killed. The attackers then came from Lebanese territory.

Israel protested today to the Israel-Lebanese Mixed Armistice Commission demanding an emergency session to deal with the ambush, the Foreign Office announced.

Roberts Rites To Be Held Sunday At Baptist Church

Arrangements have been completed at the J. A. DeMoney and Son Funeral Home for the memorial services of Willard R. Roberts. Rites will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Dale Heinbaugh, pastor of the church, and the Rev. L. U. Kreider, retired minister of the Church of the Brethren, will unite in conducting the rites. Internment will follow at the Nolt cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 6 o'clock this evening until 11 o'clock Sunday morning, when the body will be taken to the church. Friends may call there after 1:15.

Defense Rests Case In Wolf Whistle Trial

Expected To Reach Jury Yet Today

By JOHN HERBERS
United Press Staff Correspondent

SUMNER, Miss. (UP)—The defense rested today as the murder case against two white half brothers, accused of killing a Chicago boy for whistling at one of their wives, neared a decision by a jury of 10 farmers, a laborer and an insurance salesman.

The defense for J.W. Milam and Boy Bryant closed out its case in a packed second floor courtroom without allowing the jury to hear any testimony about the so-called "wolf whistle" that led to the pistol slaying of Emmett Till, a 14-year-old Chicago Negro who was visiting his tenant farmer uncle.

After final arguments, the case was expected to reach the white jury by mid-afternoon. Conviction on the murder charges without recommendation of mercy would make execution in the state's gas chamber mandatory.

The prosecution, which prepared its case in less than three weeks after Till's body was fished out of the Tallahatchie River, put a witness on the stand Thursday who testified he saw a Negro resembling Till being taken to a barn in a neighboring county.

Bryant's Wife Testifies

The witness said he heard yells coming from the barn and saw one of the defendants on trial — Milam — coming from the building with a pistol at his hip.

The defense put Bryant's wife, who was in her husband's store when the alleged incident occurred Aug. 27, on the stand Thursday. Much of her story was kept from the jury's ears.

She said for the record, but while the jury was out of the room on orders from the presiding judge, that a Negro insulted her and grabbed her arm. She did not name Till.

A parade of character witnesses closed out the defense case. After the defense rested, a short recess was called while the state prepared its summation to the jury.

Defense Attorney C. Sidney Carlton declined as the case entered probably its final day to ask that jury deliberations be confined to a question of manslaughter.

Carlton said he had only six or 0 character witnesses for the half-brothers, before he and Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham present their final arguments in this jammed, tense courtroom.

District Judge Curtis Swango, who limited each argument to one hour and 10 minutes, ruled the jury could not hear the testimony of Bryant's young wife, because it was not positively linked to Till.

The attractive, brunette Mrs. Brant lowered her head demurely in describing the purported wolf whistle incident in Bryant's rural store.

She said a Negro "man" entered while she was alone in the store near Money, Miss., bought candy and grabbed her hand when she held it out for money and asked, How about a date, baby."

When she pulled away, Mrs. Bryant testified, he "caught me at the cash register around the waist?" and said, "What's the matter, baby can't you take it?"

Heard Wolf Whistle

She said he also bragged of "having been with white women before" and used an "unprintable" word before another Negro entered and pulled him outside. From outside, she said, she heard a "whistle."

Two final defense witnesses testified Thursday that in their opinion the body found battered and weighed in the Tallahatchie River seven days after the whistling incident was not that of young Emmett Till.

B. Otken, a Greenwood, Miss., physician, said the body was in such "an advanced state of decomposition" that "you couldn't tell whether it was colored or white."

H. B. Malone, an undertaker from Cleveland, Miss., said that according to knowledge he gained at embalming school the victim "had been dead for a minimum of 10 days."

Kremlin

Molotov said that Russia was interested "in ascertaining to what extent that (Eisenhower) proposal would contribute to a reduction of armaments and to the settlement of the problem of outlawing atomic weapons."

Presents New Resolution

"That is to say," he added, "to what extent it would help fulfill the principal task—that of ending the armaments race and relieving the people of the heavy burden of inflated military budgets and various war preparations."

Molotov urged adoption of Russia's overall disarmament proposals, put forward last May 10. The West has rejected these proposals until a foolproof system of inspection and control is established.

However, the Soviet foreign chief presented a new resolution for the assembly's consideration. It urged consideration of disarmament proposals made by Britain and France, as well as those of the United States and Russia. Britain wants a mutual inspection of troops confronting each other across Europe's Iron Curtain. France has proposed limitation of armaments by "budgetary control."

"The General Assembly," Molotov's resolution said, "shall consider these and other possible proposals, regarding as its principal tasks the removal of the threat of a new war, achievement of security and confidence in the morrow and creation of conditions for a peaceful and tranquil life for people throughout the world."

Teacher Unaware, Of Reason For His Dismissal

BEDFORD, Ind. (UP) —Ralph Holmes, who Thursday resigned as Bedford High School teacher after students took up his fight, said today he does not know what charges prompted his dismissal as athletic director.

Holmes, coach in this southern Indiana basketball "hotbed" for 1 years, said he had "absolutely no comment" after submitting his resignation through an attorney just before a school board meeting called to terminate his teaching contract.

But he said he had never been told "directly" why he was relieved as athletic director last spring.

School Board president Ray Knapp said the resignation would be "considered between now and May 1st." It becomes effective after the 1955-56 schoolyear.

Meanwhile, Holmes said he would continue as "acting athletic director." He added he "has no idea who will coach basketball.

Previously mentioned as hardwood coach were freshman mentor ic Simmons, Junior High School coach Connie Galloway, and football line coach Bill Luse ,formerly basketball coach at Mitchel and Oolitic.

Charges against Homes were never made public.

"In view of the fact he resigned, the board felt in all fairness to Ralph it would not release the charges."

Thursday, about 70 students, shouting "we want Holmes" and carrying a sign, marched in front of the school building. They returned to class after faculty mem bers granted them permission to circulate a petition asking tha Holmes be retained.

Navy Veteran Marshals Family Into Picket Line

BESSEMER, Ala. (UP)—A Navy combat veteran said today he mobilized his pretty 24-year-old wife and two children into a task force of pickets that idled 800 steel workers because he did not want other employes to risk getting fired.

E.L. McClain, 31, marshaled his family into a picket line Wednesday morning at the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co., claiming he was unjustly fired from his watchman's job.

Both the CIO United Steel Workers of America and the company called the walkout unauthorized, but enough workers honored the picket line to close the plant.

Democrats Plan Water Tower

It was during the Democratic Administration of 1948-52 that a need was seen for a water tower in the northern part of town.

The Democratic Council set up a Sinking Fund for this purpose so that such a project will soon become a reality.

Just another Community betterment plan originated by a progressive Democratic Administration.

Argentina Embarks On A Freedom Era After 10 Years Of Iron Rule

By W. H. MCCALL
United Press Staff Correspondent

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP) — Argentina embarked today on a new era of freedom after 10 years of "iron man" domination by Juan D. Peron while the deposed dictator sat aboard a crippled Paraguayan gunboat awaiting a decision on his fate.

President Eduardo Lonardi, the retired major general who led the successful revolution, promised a "regime of law" in his inaugural address Friday. More than 500,000 Argentines jammed the Plaza de Mayo to acclaim the new president and the dawn of the new era.

But sporadic outbreaks of violence, provoked by diehard Peronistas, flared in at least two cities. In Rosario — Argentina's second city — loyal troops and tanks wheeled into action against rioting Peronistas. At least seven persons were reported killed.

Brig. Gen. Enrique Legend, commander-in-chief of the First Army, ordered troops in Rosario to fire on sight at any rioters. The 4th Infantry moved in to reinforce the 11th Infantry Regiment and all inhabitants were warned to stay indoors after 8 p.m.

Clashes also were reported in the industrial Avellaneda suburb of Buenos Aires. A mob of some 100 Peronistas barricaded themselves in a former hangout of the Fanatical Alianza and opened fire on loyal troops. They were blasted from their stronghold by tank cannon. Eyewitnesses reported a number of casualties.

Peron Resigned Monday

Lonardi's inauguration and the scattered violence diverted attention for the moment from Peron. Peron resigned Monday and took refuge aboard the Paraguayan gunboat Paraguay in Buenos Aires harbor.

Peron admittedly poised a critical problem for the new government. There were indications, however, that he will be granted the safe conduct requested by Paraguayan Ambassador Juan Chavez Wednesday.

The Paraguyan government has dispatched the gunboat Humaita from Asuncion presumably to remove Peron from the Paraguay which is here for repairs and apparently not fit to make the 700 mile voyage up the Parana Rir to the Paraguay capital.

The Humaita is expected to arrive here Sunday. Lonardi, who has promised to render Peron "harmless," is expected to decide then whether to permit him to go into

Bulganin Letter Mostly Regarded As Encouraging

No Indication Of Real Change In Soviet Position

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DENVER (UP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's historic letter to President Eisenhower was regarded by most observers today as an encouraging development, but no real indication of change in the Russian position on disarmament.

There were clear signs that the United States will continue to press strongly at United Nations disarmament talks Mr. Eisenhower's "pre - disarmament" proposals for "blueprint" exchange of military information and swapping of aerial reconnaissance between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Although he did not flatly reject them, Bulganin said in effect that the Eisenhower proposals are not adequate to deal with the bigger problem of actual disarmament.

The temporary White House in Denver made the Bulganin letter public Friday, but withheld comment pending Mr. Eisenhower's formal reply. The 11 - page, 2,000-word document was released slightly more than 48 hours after the President first received it on his fishing sojourn at Fraser, Colo., high in the Rockies.

On Golf Course

He returned to Denver Friday and was on the golf course when Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder released the letter.

Hammond Man Named To Head NIPSCO Office

Jack Stine To Assume Position Wednesday

Bob Kaade, manager of the Fort Wayne division of Northern Indiana Public Service Company, announced Friday the appointment of Jack W. Stine, assistant to the Calumet division manager, as manager of the Columbia City office The appointment was approved by Dean H. Michell, president of the compnay.

Stine, who lives in Hammond and has had the Calumet division position for two years, will assume the position in the local office Wednesday. He succeeds Charles H. McKenna, manager of the office for 15 years prior to his death September 10.

Stine has been with NIPSCO for seven years. He is married and the father of two children. He and his family are expected to move to Columbia City as soon as it can be arranged.

System Of Treaties Covering Area From Artic Ocean To Himalayas Soon To Be Completed

A system of Allied defense treaties covering an area extending from the Arctic Ocean to the Himalaya Mountains may be completed within a few weeks.

Iran, the last link in the system, apparently has decided to join it.

If it does, it will be sad news for Soviet Russia. The Kremlin for years has used threats, then promises, to keep Iran neutral.

President Celal Bayar of Turkey is now in Tehran, the Iranian capital, on a six-day visit to Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi and Hussein Ala, the anti - Communist premier.

Dispatches say that the three leaders are discussing a Turkish-Iranian alliance.

Parliamentary informants in Tehran say it is nearly certain the Shah and Ala will decide in favor of the alliance.

The result may be a Middle Eastern alliance comprising Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan.

Turkey, now a member of the North Atlantic Treaty organization, has separate defense pacts with both Pakistan and Iraq. Pakistan also is allied directly with the United States.

If Iran drops its neutrality, the vast Allied defense system though the NATO treaty and regional pacts will stretch unbroken from Arctic Norway through Europe and the Middle East on to Himalayan Pakistan.

Hussein Ala, in a speech he made in the Iranian parliament Tuesday, left little room for doubt as to expectations.

He ridiculed the idea that Iran could safely remain neutral. He said Iran's neutrality in the past had not protected it.

"We no longer can let things go in hope that our integrity will be respected," he said.

"Only those who aim to devour us can want us to be unprepared and weak.

"We must take steps for closer cooperation with our friends, and must willingly accept their help."

Tehran dispatches said that by the potential devourer Ala meant Russia.

In speaking of friends who might help Iran, the dispatches said, Ala referred especially to the United States.

Ala is the Shah's most trusted adviser. Both are pro-American. Ala, long the Shah's court minister, was made prime minister in April.

Wiry, impassioned, Ala has something of the aspect of a game rooster. He does not look his 72 years and certainly does not show them in action.

He made himself an international hero when in 1946, as ambassador to the United States, he presented and fought out in the United Nations Iran's demand that Russia be compelled to withdraw its World War occupation troops.

He enraged Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko, and started that dour Soviet diplomatist on his famous series of walkouts.

Ala was given the credit for forcing Russia to agree to get its troops out of Iran.

It was a personal triumph for Ala. It also was a triumph for the U.N. in a crisis, now almost forgotten, that could have meant its death.

Mrs. Webster Injured In Fall At Larwill Home

Mrs. Elsie Webster suffered severe injuries to her chest, left arm and possibly hip, in a fall in the yard at her home in Larwill Friday morning.

She was returning to her home from a visit at the neighbors when she slipped on the wet leaves in the yard. She was carried into her home by her son, Robert Webster, and the Smith and Sons ambulance brought her to the Whitley County Hospital for X-ray examinations and treatment.

Pierceton Girl Is Junior Miss Indiana Winner

Sandra Brubaker Is 1955 Queen

The 1955 Junior Miss Indiana beauty contest was decided Friday night in conjunction with the 45th Annual Bluffton Street Fair and Agricultural Exposition.

Miss Sandra Anne Brubaker, 16-year Pierceton high school student, received the coveted crown, succeeding Miss Rose Marie Glasgow, of Winchester.

Miss Pat Puckett, Columbia City's entry in the beauty contest, won third place in the beauty-talent contest.

The runner-up in the contest was Miss Georgia Ann Haecker, 17, of Berne, while the fourth place contestant was Miss Phyliss Sprunger, 18, a Berne-French high school graduate who was runner-up in last year's contest.

Miss Brubaker, who entered the contest as "Miss Pierceton" had no sponsor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brubaker, R 2, Pierceton. She sang and tap danced in the talent portion of the contest.

The Columbia City entry, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, displayed her talent as a vocalist.

Lt.-Gov. Harold W. Handley performed the crowning of the new queen. Rain forced the ceremonies into the Bluffton Community Building which cut the anticipated attendance greatly.

Jury Frees Emmett Till Murder Suspects

Kidnap Charges Still Pending

SUMNER, Miss. (UP) — Two white men, found innocent by an all-white jury of charges that they murdered a 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy, today faced additional charges of kidnaping in the "wolf whistle" murder case.

The defendants, half - brothers Roy Bryant, 29, and J. W. Milam, 36, happily hugged their pretty wives on hearing the verdict Friday and then, puffing cigars, accepted the congratulations of their friends and neighbors.

Bryant and Milam later were moved to the Lefore County Jail at Greenwood where they face kidnaping charges for allegedly taking young Emmett Till from the farm home of his great uncle to determine if he was "the one" who "insulted" Bryant's pretty wife with a "wolf whistle."

Kidnap Charge Dismissed

Judge Curtis Swango dismissed Tallahatchie County kidnap charges against the two immediately after the verdict was reached because it was brought out in the trial that the boy was actually abducted in neighboring Leflore County.

Defense attorneys announced they would immediately seek freedom for the men pending their arraignment on the new kidnap charges but could not make bond Friday night.

Jim Pennington, a member of the jury of 12 sun-tanned white men, mostly farmers, said the verdict was reached on a third ballot during the one hour and seven minutes of deliberation.

"There were several reasons for the verdict," he said. "But generally everyone reached the conclusions that the body was not difinitely identified."

Identification Doubted

Two defense witnesses, a physician and an undertaker, testified they did not believe the mutilated, bullet-punctured body found weighted in the Tallahatchie River three days after Till was abducted, could have been that of the missing boy.

Till's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, and his great uncle, Moses Wright, swore they were certain of the identit but the professional men said the body appeared to have been decomposing longer than three days.

Bryant and Milam announced through their attorneys readiness to stand trial on a kidnap charge. They admitted taking Till from his uncle's home early on the morning of Aug. 28 but said they released him unharmed when Bryant's wife said he was not "the one" who whistled at her at the Bryants' country store.

Indiana Had Slight Increase In Polio Cases Last 3 Weeks

Indiana State Board of Health released figures Thursday showing a slight increase in the number of polio cases reported during the last three weeks. The increase has come after a steady drop from the August 1st peak to about the first of September.

There were 32 new cases reported during the week ending September 17 as compared with 29 in the week and one-half before September 10. Three new cases had been reported during the current week.

This compares with a definite downward trend in the disease's incidence extending over several weeks of the same period of last year from an August peak.

The total number of polio cases reported in Indiana during 1955 is 285 compared with 435 last year. Seven deaths from the disease have been reported this year compared with 24 in 1954.

The breakdown on the types of cases included in the 285 total shows paralytic 100, non-paralytic 156, abortive 1, and unspecified 28.

Whitley county has reported only two cases this year, neither of which were paralytic. Lake county, with six cases, has by far the largest number of polio victims reported during the week ending September 17. Grant County had 5 and Allen 3 and 15 other counties reported either one or two cases during the week.

Mrs. Dean Reed To Appear On Television Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Dean Reed the former Wilma Bennett of Whitley county will appear on television Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, CBS Station.

Mrs. Reed now resides at Baldwin Mich., and with Mr. Reed operates the Whalen Camp at Whalen Lake near Baldwin. Mrs. Reed is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bennett of Washington township and is a sister of Alfred and Ralph Bennett of Washington township.

City Elementary Schools Show Loss Of Pupils

86 Students Move Away In Past Year

Dale Pence, Columbia City elementary school principal has released come interesting school enrollment figures for grades kindergarten through eight. The figures show that 86 students in these grades have moved away from the city in the past year, while only 49 have moved to this city-making a net loss of 37 students.

Mr. Pence pointed out that at the beginning of the 1954-55 school year there were 738 students enrolled in kindergarten through the eighth grade in Columbia City. At the beginning of the present school year, there are 744 students in these grades.

During the 1954-55 school year, 25 students moved away from the city school system, and during the past summer 61 more students moved away. In the meantime, this summer, there were 49 students who moved here to make the loss of 37 students.

The incoming class of kindergarten students this fall included 109, while there were 66 graduated into high school last spring. Since the number of incoming kindergarten students exceeds the number of graduates, the overall school enrollment is slightly more than that of last year, 744 as compared to 738. If Columbia City had "held its own", as regards families moving to the city and those moving away, the elementary school enrollment should have been 781. It would have been a rare instance indeed if the humber moving here and those moving away would end up equal, but the figures show the city has "slipped" in the last 12 months.

3 In Local Family Injured In Crash At U. S. 30 And 33

Three members of a local family suffered minor injuries at 9:15 p.m. Friday when they were involved in a two-car crash at the intersection of U.S. highways 30 and 33 west of Fort Wayne.

John D. Holloway, 39, his wife, Lucy, 39, and their son, Jerry, 14, all were treated at Parkview Memorial Hospital, Fort Wayne.

Holloway was driving northwest on U.S. 30 when his car and one driven by Samuel Wiles, 25, Hidenite, N.C., collided. Officials said that Wiles, traveling southeast on U.S. 33, had driven onto U.S. 30 when the accident happened.

Wiles was charged with failure to yield right of way. The Allen County sheriff's office and State Trooper William Reynolds investigated the accident.

22,650 Hoosiers File Unemployment Claims Last Week

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—The Indiana Employment Security Division today reported 22,650 Hoosiers filed unemployment compensation claims last week.

There was an increase of claims from the Evansville area, which the division attributed to the idling of automobile workers for a model changeover.

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Police said today a 36-year-old Los Angeles man they arrested for illegally crossing a busy street identified himself as J. Walker.

Killer Storm Roars Across Open Caribbean

Today With Ever Increasing Force

MIAMI (UP) — Hurricane Janet, which took at least 24 lives and left thousands homeless in the hard-hit Windward Islands, roared across the open Caribbean with ever-increasing force today.

The killer storm, already packing 115-mile-an-hour winds and still growing, appeared to be the most powerful hurricane of the season. The San Juan, P.R., Weather Bureau said it was heading on a generally westward course across the open sea and was located early today almost due south of San Juan.

Authorities at Bridgetown, Barbados, in the Windward Islands, estimated property damage in the millions of dollars and declared a state of emergency in the wake of the hurricane.

Relief work was put on a 24-hour basis when the big storm first hit Thursday. All major highways were reported cleared of debris early today and the island's only airport was in limited use.

Power and telephone lines were down across the small island, a British colony, and the government issued urgent requests for food and building materials from the outside world.

The storm's west to west-northwest course was along miles of open water but storm warnings were ordered raised on Curacao, Bonaire, Aruba and the Parangua Peninsula.

The weather bureau warned small craft along the coast of Venezuela and the Netherlands Islands to remain in port.

Fire Destroys Barn Near Arcola, Farm Hand Escapes Blaze

A large barn on a farm near Arcola was destroyed Friday night by a spectacular fire which kept firemen and bystanders fearful that a farm hand was trapped inside the blazing building.

The possibility of the man being trapped inside of the barn during the fire at the Charles DeBailile farm on Felger Road, three miles north of Arcola, was allayed when it was discovered that all barn doors were locked from the outside.

The farm hand had not been located Friday night, but since the farm tractor was missing from its usual place, inside the barn, it was believed that the man had driven the vehicle away before the fire started.

The fire, which broke out at about 7:45 p.m., destroyed the 40 by 60-foot single story barn filled with farm machinery and onion crates. Loss was estimated at $20,000 by firemen from Arcola, Coesse and Washington township.

Cause of the fire was not determined. A passerby saw the blazing barn and sounded the alarm. A truck shuttled water to the barn from Lake Everett.

Dairymen Preparing For Chicago Show

CHICAGO, — Dairy cattle royalty in 22 states and Canada are being primped by hopeful owners in preparation for the third annual International Dairy Show which is slated for the Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards Oct. 8 through 15.

Etna's Annual Festival To Be Held October 1

Annual Lord's Acre Festival

A large parade, the crowning of the queen, and the auction will be features of the annual Etna Lord's Acre Festival which starts at 10:00 a.m. October 1 in Etna.

Floats will be entered in the parade by the WSCS of the Etna church, the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the church, and Missionary Society of the church, the Beginners Class, the Sunshine Class, the Jolly Juniors Class, the High School Class, the Young Adults Class, the Builders Class, the Wawaka Methodist church, the Rebekah Lodge, the Etna-Troy 4-H Clubs, the Blue River Methodist Youth Fellowship, and the Big Lake Scout Troop will march. Also, Larry Gaerte, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Gaerte, will have his own float, which is entitled "The Surprise". Mrs. Cecil Knapp will have her own personal float in the parade too.

Persons of the Etna neighborhood will recall that Rev. Albert Rider was minister of the Etna church when the Etna Lord's Acre Festival was originated. Now he is minister at Wawaka, and his church is entering a float in the parade. Two bands, Larwill and Wolf Lake, will march.

Queen

Following the noon meal, which will include barbecued chicken, the queen will be crowned. Miss Julia Egolf, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Baker and the 1954 Festival Queen, will crown Sandra Adams as the 1955 queen. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Adams and a sophomore at Larwill. The selection of the queen is based on church attendance.

First attendant to the queen will be Janice Hontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hontz, a freshman at Larwill.

Second attendant to the queen will be Judy Ann Gaerte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gaerte, a sophomore at Larwill.

The Weatherford Quartet, of Radio Station WOWO, will be included on the entertainment list, and the auction Saturday afternoon will conclude the festival.

Set Off Big Explosion, Kill At Least 65

Injure 100 Others; Drivers Apparently Were Racing

GOMEZ PALACIO, Mexico (UP) — Two trucks loaded with nine tons of dynamite smashed into a crowded passenger and freight train at a crossing Friday night, setting off a tremendous explosion that killed at least 65 persons and injured 100 others.

Authorities feared the toll would rise. They said many of the injured were not expected to live. At least 12 of the dead were children.

The two drivers apparently were racing their trucks, each loaded with four and one-half tons of the high explosive, and were so intent on their competition they did not see the train. They hit it at full speed.

The explosion tore a gaping hole in the ground and levelled houses near the scene of the blast. The balcony of a movie theater in Gomez Palacio a mile and a half away, collapsed from the force of the explosion and the moviegoers fled in panic but none was injured.

Flung 700 Yards

The engine and all three cars of the mixed passengers and freight train, a local running from Torreon to Chihuahua, were destroyed. The engine of one truck was found 700 yards away. No trace was found of the bodies of the drivers.

All the crewmen aboard the train and most of the passengers were killed. Many of the dead and injured were inhabitants of houses along the tracks.

The scene was like that of a battleground. Bodies and parts of bodies lay scattered among the devastation when ambulances began arriving from Torreon, eight miles away. Many of the injured lay groaning under piles of wreckage. An accurate count of the dead was difficult because so many of the bodies were destroyed.

Animals All Killed

Chickens, pigs and burros kept in pens near the houses were all killed.

Many of the injured had to be taken to private homes in Gomez Palacio because the town's hospital quickly filled up.

The accident happened about 10:15 p.m. EDT. Gomez Palacio is about 250 miles south of Big Bend National Park in Texas.

Authorities said the lead truck smashed into the train just as the train reached the crossing. The second truck, only a few yards behind, followed the first vehicle into the holocaust and exploded seconds later.

Hundreds of cars were stalled on both sides of the crossing and highway crews were dispatched to fill in the giant crater.

Western Diplomats Study Molotov's Policy Speech And Bulganin's Disarmament Letter

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United PressStaff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) —Western diplomats concluded today that neither Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's disarmament letter to President Eisenhower nor Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's U.N. speech offered "anything new" in the way of Soviet policy.

Bulganin's letter caused more of an immediate stir here than Molotov's speech. But the 5,000 - word delivery of the aging Kremlin foreign chief was being studied in every major delegation headquarters this weekend for clues to departure from past Soviet policy.

An American spokesman said Bulganin's letter on the President's "open skies" arms inspection plan "seems to miss or ignore the point."

U.N. observers after close study found that it contained nothing that had not already been said by Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev in the past four weeks of secret disarmament discussions here among the five major atomic powers.

"The President's proposal is a pre - disarmament proposal," the spokesman said, "which has been clearly defined as such from the beginning.

"It would provide an effective safeguard against massive surprise attack, the danger of which is a major source of fear and tension in the world today. Particularly, it would allay fears as between the two nations which are most powerful militarily.

"These fears would be reduced to a level which would make easier an agreement on the second step —which is a multilateral reduction and limitation of armaments and a supporting inspection system."

Thus it appeared the situation would be unchanged when Sobolev and presidential aide Harold E. Stassen face each other in the five-nation disarmament subcommittee at its next meeting next Wednesday afternoon. Both the United States and Russia hold to their previous positions on disarmament and refuse to concede to the other's plan.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles keynoted the West's surface reaction to Molotov's 90-minute review of Soviet policy.

"I didn't find anything new in it," Dulles said in Washington.

The West found little to quarrel with in the resolution Molotov presented for the Assembly's approval —an opening day custom with Soviet delegates. It did little more than ask the Assembly to consider, in addition to the Eisenhower inspection plan and the Soviet disarmament proposals, Britain's demand for mutual inspection of armed forces confronting each other along Europe's Iron Curtain and France's suggestion for arms reduction through "budgetary control."

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP) —Three former officials in China's huge Sinkiang Province charged today Russia is seizing the border province to build a "Russia - Chinese empire."

The three former officials commented on Red China's announcement that Sinkiang, biggest and most remote Chinese province, had been granted autonomy.

The officials, who fled to Formosa with the Chinese Nationalists, charged that "autonomy" meant the area was being annexed by Russia.

LONDON (UP) —Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan flies to New York tonight for the current United Nations General Assembly session and Big Three talks on next month's Geneva foreign ministers conference. He is expected to address the General Assembly next Friday.

TOKYO (UP) —Walter A. Rickett, self - confessed American "spy" who was released from Communist China, left here by plane today for the United States.

The 34-year-old Fulbright scholar, who spent four years in a Communist jail, is flying home by way of Honolulu. He is returning to his home in Seattle, Wash.

CATANIA, Sicily (UP) — New eruptions atop volcanic Mt. Etna were believed today to have opened a new crater northeast of the volcano's central crater.

The explosions hurled fire and smoke high in the air and some lava has seeped down the slopes but not enough to menace inhabitants living on the mountainside.

MUNICH, Germany (UP) — A city councilman proposed that Munich sue American servicemen for the 2,000 illegitimate children they allegedly fathered here since 1945.

But a colleague in the city legal branch reminded Dr. Hans Keller that German soldiers occupied a dozen countries not so long ago and warned "to start a legal action might give other countries the idea of suing Germans."

What Happened When You Had Polio?

By Hart E. Van Riper, M.D., Medical Director National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of five articles on what parents should know about the Salk polio vaccine. Under Dr. Van Riper's direction the National Foundation sponsored the research development of the vaccine and he is in charge of the Foundation's program for vaccinating children in the first and second grades of school.)

You have had polio.

Unless you are one of those exceedingly rare adults who are susceptible to polio paralysis but who, purely by chance, have gone through childhood without being infected — you centainly have had polio. The virus has invaded your system but was out-maneuvered before it caused any lasting damage.

Chances are, moreover, that you have had polio more than once. Your doctor hopes so, at least. He also hopes that the same thing has happened to your children.

Shocked? You shouldn't be. If you are like the great majority of people, what you had was non-paralytic polio; and if the virus was introduced you without the accompaniment of major aches and pains, you had the form of non-paralytic polio known as a "silent infection."

When the doctor hopes your children have been safely through a series of silent infections — real polio, mind you, but without illness and without paralysis — he is wishing all the best for them, for this means they are protected naturally against the paralyzing power of at least one of the three types of polio virus and possibly against all.

A polio infection is not something that happens onlyt to a few thousand individuals each year, leaving them paralyzed. It happens to almost all of us, leaving in most cases no disability whatever ,and usually without even making us ill — an infection that sooner or later reaches nearly as many people as the common cold.

This, for the parent seeking a better understanding of the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk with March of Dimes support, is Vital Fact Number One. It is important to remember that in time of polio epidemic, for every person who comes down with the disease there may be a hundred or more in the same community who are carrying the virus.

What does "getting polio," in the sense used here, means? Why, if almost everybody gets it, doesn't everybody come down with symptoms, even go to the hospital and possibly come out crippled?

When the polio virus entered your system, to establish even temporary residence it had to find a cell in which it could live and reproduce. But en route, it had to travel, very briefly, in your blood stream. Had it not been successfully challenged in your blood, within a matter of hours it would have found its way to a nerve center with its paralyzing power intact.

But what happened was this: Small particles in your blood, known as antibodies, met the polio virus in your blood stream, "ran interference" for you and destroyed the power of the virus to paralyze.

Most human beings have antibodies and also are able to produce more of them when necessary. More are needed when there is a virus invasion of your body. Thus the presence of virus triggers the making of antibodies.

Non-paralytic polio does this, whether it makes you sick enough to go to the hospital — as occasionally happens — or remains a silent infection. If the system does not "trigger" — that is, if it lacks the ability to create antibodies — rapidly enough, paralytic polio may result.

The Salk vaccination is not an infection. It introduces nothing into the human body that can do it any harm. What it does accomplish is to provide — for those who need it — extra help in creating antibodies.

How it does this will be the subject of Monday's article.

Mama, There Is Hope For That Boy Of Yours Yet

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The channel swim.

Mama, there's hope for that boy of yours yet: Dr. Bergen Evans, who makes up the posers for "The $64,000 Question," was expelled from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, his first year for low grades.

Hottest rumor of the week: CBS-TV has offered Margaret Truman a job as a producer. Arthur Godfrey is mulling over the possibility of switching one or more of his CBS-TV shows to color. Martha Ray's definition of a parakeet who was left at the altar—"Only a bird in a jilted cage."

Sid Caesar has returned from Rome where he set plans in motion for his new package centered around the exploits of the O.S.S. Sid also signed on Sandra Deel to play the part of Carl Reiner's wife in Caesar's new fall series.

"Wizards And Witches"

Soft touch: Willard Levitas, senic designer for "studio One's" upcoming show, "Three Empty Rooms," was called upon this week to design, you guessed it, three empty rooms — Don "Mr. Wizard" Herbert has the ladies and gents rooms in his New York offices labeled this way — "Wizards" and "Witches."

CBS-TV is having a little trouble with its filmed shows. This week, it cancelled the new "Joe and Mabel" series indefinitely because of the poor quality of the first couple of shows.

Jeanne Cagney, fashion commentator on Mutual's "Queen For A Day," is expecting stork visit number three. Simon and Schuster will publish Eddie Cantor's memoirs this spring. Eddie, incidentally, is huddling with NBC and CBS executives about the possibility of doing some spectaculars.

Grandpop Ed Sullivan

Insiders are poor-poohing reports that "The $64,000 Question" will switch from CBS-TV to NBC-TV. They point out that Louis Cowan, owner of the show, recently took on a special job at CBS-TV to jack up that network's programming and would be rather leery about cutting his own employer's throat.

Robert Saudek, the executive producer of "Omnibus," has won four Peabody awards. Ed Sullivan will become a grandpop for the second time. Mrs. Myrtle Power, the baseball expert of "The 64-you-know-what," used to baby-sit for Carl Lundquist, baseball writer from the United Press. Carl says he didn't even know Myrt was a fan.

Need Aroused Public Opinion To Stop Highway Slaughter

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—Only an aroused public opinion will stop the slaughter on the nation's highways, a leading newspaper executive said today.

Basil L. Walters, executive editor of Knight Newspapers Inc., challenged newsmen to help form this public opinion by handling the traffic safety story "the way it should be handled."

Walters made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at a traffic safety clinic for newsmen. The clinic was co-sponsored by Northwestern University's Traffic Institute and Medill School of Journalism and the Iland Daily Press Assn.

"'somehow we don't realize,' Walters said, "that a guy is just as dead if he is killed..by a motor accident as he is if he is killed by a gun" or by a disease

Purdue Broiler Day To Be September 29

LAFAYETTE — Two panel discussions will highlight the 9th Purdue University Broiler School Thursday, September 29, R. L. Hogue, Purdue extension poultryman, has announced.

Poultry farmers, extension specialists, and representatives of industry will assemble in the Purdue Memorial Union at 10 a.m. for the day's events.

Robert Merkle, Claypool, chairman of the broiler department of the Indiana State Poultry Association, will serve as chairman of the morning session.

Robert Schram, Peru, director of the broiler department of the state poultry association, will direct the afternoon sessions.

Visitors will have an opportunity to see the processing annex at the new poultry science building after the sessions end.

Federal Government To Purchase Excess Quantities Of Hogs

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UP)—The federal government will purchase excess quantities of hogs sent to market if pork prices slump in the near future, Rep. Ralph Harvey (R-Ind.) said today.

He told farmers in a speech prepared for delivery at the Indiana mechanical corn picking contest the program now is being prepared by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson.

Harvey said it would be the same program whic hwas applied to cattle two years ago when the government's purchase of excess beef "stopped the downward plunging price." He called it more feasible than a price support program.

Any attempt to support the price of hogs would not be very successful, he said, because the government could not regulate hog production.

Harvey conceded some farmers are "victims of a cost - price squeeze" but said those in the Midwest corn belt are "fortunate because they are not in a straight jacket" of government control.

The price of corn, he said, helps stabilize prices of livestock and minor feed grains so corn growers can operate "with a minimum of government control and are not beset with many of the headaches that accompany the cotton or wheat growers."

"We want a farm program that will not put us under such rigid controls that our freedom of operations will have been lost," Harvey said.

He said the government is trying to "close the gap in farmers' purchasing power" by expanding the export market and by diverting surplus crops to school lunch programs and to institutional and military diets.

Americans Will Have Record Food Bill For 1955

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL
United Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK — (UP) — Top industry spokesmen predict Americans will pour a record-breaking $66,000,000,000 or more across the nation's retail food counters in 1955.

This huge expenditure —some $1,000,000,000 greater than last year's total food bill—will be made gainst a backdrop of bountiful food supplies and stable or declining prices.

Economists say that despite floods and droughts in many sections of the nation, farmers are anticipating the biggest harvest since the record year of 1948. Meat also is plentiful.

Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America Inc., said the favorable supply picture will militate against any general increase in food prices in the months ahead.

Rises Elsewhere

He noted some seasonal commodities might be in tight supply or higher in price, but that the over-all food picture is a bright one for America's budget-minded housewives.

Economists at Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., pointed out that wholesale food prices have been declining in recent months, a potential harbinger of what you now expect at retail.

A preliminary survey by Dun & Bradstreet hinted at higher retail prices for such things as apparel, household appliances and 1956 model automobiles.

These retail price increases, if they come, will be triggered by higher wages and cost of raw materials, particularly steel.

D. & B. noted, however, that keen competition for consumer's dollar will help to modify price hikes.

Better Eating

Economists explain that the stability of consumer prices in recent years has been the result of rising industrial productivity. This situation, they added, has maintained, the purchasing power of a rising dollar wage scale and has permitted "real" wages to rise as fast as "money wages."

Willis said a rising volume of business, plus vast improvements in the production, processing and packaging of foods has enabled the food industry to offset sharp increases in wages, taxes and transportation costs.

Americans now are spending 25 cents of each after-tax dollar for food, he added, compared with 22 cents in 1939, when the total food bill was only $16,000,000,000.

Inflation has played a part in the four-fold increase in the nation's food bill since 1939, but so has the big increase in population.

"We have a much bigger variety of foods to choose from and people are eating better than ever before" Willis said.

The increase in both total and per capita food expenditures also reflects the advent of convenient processed foods such as cake mixers, frozen and canned fruits and vegetables, baby foods and many others

New Markets

Consumers have been only too willing to pay for this "built-in kitchen angle," which transfers much of the time, drudgery and mess of preparing meals from the kitchen to the manufactuer's plant, he asserts.

"A few years ago," Willis explained "it used to take five and one-half hours a day to prepare meals for a family of four. Now easy-to-serve foods make it an hour and a half job.

He said processed foods—canned, frozen, dehydrated, pre-packaged and concentrated — have "wrought a revolution" in America's cooking habits, adding:

"The growth an development of processed foods has opened new markets for a number of farm crops and has triggered an increase in per capita consumption of many foods."

Willis said that, reflecting the growth of canned fruit juices sereral years ago and more recently the rapid expansion of frozen concentrates, total per capita consumption of citrus products has soared 60 per cent since before World War II.

The broad-scale introduction of cake mixes in 1947 touched off a sharp increase in per capita consumption of cake flour, he added, noting the same is true for almost every other product.

Unexpected Bath

ROSEVILLE, Mich. (UP)—Village Manager Olaf R. Pearson and his staff got an unexpected steam bath whe nthey turned on the heat in his offices Thursday.

Workmen had disconnected the radiators while renovating the building this summer and apparently left them disconnetced.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Commissioners of Whitley County, Indiana, will receive sealed bids not later than 9:00 A.M. Elnora J. Buckles Becomes Bride Of Rolland B. Gipson

Miss Elnora J. Buckles and Rolland B. Gipson of this city were united in marriage Friday evening at the First Baptist church, the Rev. Dale Heinbaugh officiating at the 7:30 ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Buckles of North Chauncey street. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gipson, parents of the bridegroom, reside north of the city.

Garden flowers formed a background at the church altar for the ceremony.

Carolyn F. Hile played a group of bridal numbers, using the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional.

The bride chose a suit of navy rayon cord styled with a box jacket with which she wore black accessories. Her flowers were pink sweetheart roses. Her sister, Miss Carolyn Buckles who served as bridesmaid, wore yellow pompons with her torso dress in grey. Her accessories were in black.

The two mothers wore black accessories and corsages of pink asters. Mrs. Buckles wore a blue dress and Mrs. Gipson was in grey.

Forty guests attended the reception held in the church social room. Mrs. Wilbur Kettlekamp, and Janet and Barbara Buckles assisted with the serving.

The young Mr. and Mrs. Gipson, who attended Columbia City high school, are on a short trip in Northern Indiana.

The bridegroom is employed in this city as a roofer. They will reside near Columbia City.

Naomi Circle Begins Course Of Study On American Indian

The Naomi Circle of Trinity Methodist church began a study of the American Indian, given by Mrs. Carl Emig and Mrs. Roy Sutton at its meeting held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Eldridge Roberts, corner of Ellsworth and Line streets.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Maude Trout. Mrs. Roberts served a dessert during the evening assisted by members of her committee.

Dinner Party Given For Mrs. Sylvia And Mrs. Arta Kessler

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Kessler, 210 North Washington street, entertained with a dinner party Thursday complimentary to Mrs. Sylvia Kessler, who will be leaving the first of the week for California, and Mrs. Arta Kessler, who recently arrived here from California and will spend the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Sylvia Kessler is locating in California and Mrs. Arta Kessler has been with her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Plummer and Mr. Plummer on the West coast. She has just arrived here for a visit with her relatives before going to Florida where she will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harley Davis.

The affair was in the nature of a cousins' party, the cousins from this city and vicinity being present.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kessler and little son and Mary Kessler from California, the family of Mrs. Sylvia Kessler; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Samsen, Fort Wayne son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Artie Kessler; Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mrs. Feral Kerschner, South Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher, Boston.

Big Lake Club Takes Indian Name; To Be Known As Goe Bic

The Big Lake Home Demonstration club will hereafter be known as Goe Bic, the Indian translation for Big Lake. The club was entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. Ivan Gephart, 15 members responding to roll call by telling what they would do if they would inherit money. Mrs. Sylvia Stuver presented the lesson topic "Group Recreation."

Mrs. Gene Baughman, Mrs. Harry Pritchard and Mrs. Robert Trump were named to prepare the slate of officers for the October election. Mrs. Laurel Cox led in the singing of "Sweet and Low."

Hostesses prizes were won by Mrs. Baughman and Mrs. Roland Smith. Mrs. John Mueller assisted Mrs. Gephart in serving sandwiches, salad, cookies and coffee.

A masquerade party was announced for the next regular meeting of the club to be held at the Lewis Hurley home, October 19, at 7:30 in the evening.

The 12th District Indiana Federation of Clubs announces its convention for next Friday at the Woman's club in Fort Wayne. Mrs. John L. Worthman of Fort Wayne is district president.

Reservations are being taken now for the luncheon by Mrs. Charles E. Stiffler, Reckeweg Road, phone A-57128, Fort Wayne. Mrs. Eugene Beard of South Whitley, president of the Whitley County Federation of clubs, and Mrs. Fred Taylor, president of the Allen county Federation are now making plans for the convention for which the clubs of the two counties will be hosts.

Included among the speakers are Mrs. Henry Humphrey, Osgood, state president; Mrs. Henry J. Smith, Bloomington, and Mrs. Leo Curtis, third vice-president.

The 12th District Federation was represented at the International convention held in Geneva, Switzerland, and a report of the convention will be given by Mrs. Robert Whitacre, a state chairman.

Teachers Guests Of Circle; Entertained With Travelogue

Twenty teachers were guests at a reception held Thursday evening by the Methodist Circle at Larwill. The program included an interesting travelogue illustrated with slides given by Mr. and Mrs. Eudolph Holycross.

The Holycross family traveled through the western states for 40 days during the summer. Words of welcome were spoken by Mrs. William Helfrich, president of the circle.

Rev. Douglas of the Wesleyan Methodist church was in charge of devotions. A poem was read by Mrs. Helfrich titled "Duties of a Teacher" and Mrs. Glenn Shook led the group singing. Rev. Meacham dismissed with prayer.

Punch was served with cookies from a white linen covered table centered with asters in varied colors. Mrs. Eudolph Holycross and Mrs. Helfrich presided at the punch bowl.

Manchester College Department Heads Receive Honors

NORTH MANCHESTER — Dr. Donald Royer, head of the department of sociology at Manchester College, received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago this month.

"The Acculturation Process and the Peace Doctrine of the Church of the Brethren" was the subject of Dr. Yorer's 425 page dissertation. It will be filed in the Library of Congress and a number of copies are being made available to Manchester students.

It was found, stated Dr. Royer, that those churches who give the most support to Brethren peace doctrine are the ones located close to institutions, such as the colleges.

Other facts discovered, commented Dr. Royer, were that, contrary to popular opinion, college graduates tend to be more conforming to the Brethren peace principles than high school graduates, and that the religion of one's parents tends to be more decisive than of one's mate.

Dr. Charles S. Morris, head of the department of physics at Manchester college, has just been awarded a $3,000 Frederick Cottrell grant by the Research Corporation of New York for research in the field of atomic energy in his department at Manchester college.

VERNAL EQUINOX

Plague take this equinoxial dither
Rains that come from yon and thither
Lightning rips the skies apart
And tears up springtime's early start.
The winds—so furious, mad and strong
Laugh down on havoc all day long.
This ice and snow and gusty gale
Is mixed with rain and husky hail.
Winter's leaving - tough and leacherous
Fields and byways - rough and treacherous.
There's hate and spite in every blow
At Spring's bright smile; but even tho,
Those icy fingers clutching grip
Hang on through March's frigid trip
Promise of warmth, of zephyr breeze
And exit soon - this winter freeze!

WHY LAUGH?

Laugh
When your eyes are cloudy
And your throat is choked with tears.

Laugh
When your heart beats loudly
And your soul is consumed with fears.

Laugh
At your own bitter sorrow
When the world falls apart at your feet.

Laugh
And have faith in tomorrow
And your destiny here is complete.

THE GRAPEVINE

I called upon my neighbor
Who then was slightly ill,
Not enough to go to bed
Or even take a pill;
But later on that day
I heard someone relate
She was so very bad
They'd have to operate.
But, Oh, my heart was heavy
Like a molded piece of clay
When someone stopped to tell me
That she had passed away!
So imagine my surprise
When a knock came at my door
There stood my dead neighbor
As healthy as before!
I'm sure that you have heard
Great oaks from acorns grew,
But did you know one drop of broth
Would oft produce a stew?

ON SETTING IDEALS

We build castles in the air with ethereal waves around,
What we really build is ne'er more than anthills on the ground.
We climb mountains in our dreams leading fellows all the way,
They are tiny steps it seems when we climb them day by day.
We drink costly aged wines in the things we want to do,
They are fanciful designs-; When it comes to what we do,
We drink lowly tasteless water as others likewise drink!
And by thoughtless doing slaughter the doing what we think.

THE TRAIN WHISTLE

The train whistle calls through the fog of the night,
It's magnetic accent seduces, enthralls,
And I strain at the chains of my fate, as in flight
The train whistle calls.

Old habits and pleasures in these narrow halls,
Old contacts have lost all their power of delight.
My windows of thought have now become walls.

My eagerness climbs to the infinite height
Of a vagabond's fancy - then slowly it falls,
As out of my dreams through the grey morning light
The train whistle calls.

DESERTED HOUSE

Forlorn mausoleum of a by-gone day
It stands deserted, off the beaten day
In irremediable stages of decay.

Where children's voices once awoke it's halls,
Now through it's broken chinks, the harping squalls
Torment it with their errie caterwauls.

And through the night it echoes with the screams
And wails of spectres from bygone regimes,
Holding post mortems o're departed dreams.

THAT YOU MAY KNOW

Why must my heart remember and regret those things my mind tells me could never last. It's over now, yet I cannot forget. A part of me is buried in the past.

A day of leisure is a day I dread. I dread the sleepless nights the most of all, for then forbidden thoughts wing through my head. A busy day leaves no time to recall.

The walks I take, the midnight hours I keep, the thankless tasks I give myself to do for fear that when I close my eyes in sleep my disobedient heart will dream of you.

I know I'm restless—that I go away too often, and that I stay out too late; I know I act too carefree and too gay. I dare not stop, nor even hesitate.

So, if at times I show an unshed tear, or if I laugh too loudly or too long. I do it so that I may never hear the distant echo of that lovely song.

Good And Bad News On Week's Balance Sheet

United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. Bombastic Juan D. Peron, dictator of Argentina, was overthrown by the revolting armed forces. He took refuge on a Paraguayan gunboat. Authority was taken over by a provisional government headed by Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi. The United States prepared to recognize the new regime as soon as it showed it was in firm control. During 12 years in power Peron ruthlessly trampled down all opposition by gangster methods. He suppressed freedom of speech and of the press. He made the courts, the schools and the labor unions political instruments. He brought his country to the verge of economic ruin. His fall is a triumph for lovers of liberty.

2. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, addressing the United Nations General Assembly, called on Russia to free its satellites and urged the unification of Germany. He demanded that Red China renounce the use of force as a national policy. Dulles called for world cooperation which would make the next 10 years "the healing decade of true peace."

3. Iran seemed ready to join the vast system of western alliances against Communist aggression. Premier Hussein Ala, addressing his parliament, ridiculed the idea that Iran could longer remain neutral. It was reported that he was discussing an Iranian-Turkish alliance with President Celal Bayar Turkoey ,who is now on a state visit to Tehran, the Iranian capital.

The Bad

1. Russia, seeking to build up the East German Communist regime, gave its puppets control of the area which separates Berlin from West Germany. The threat of a new blockade of Berlin arose immediately. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer asked the United States, Great Britain and France to protest the Russian move as a violation of international agreements.

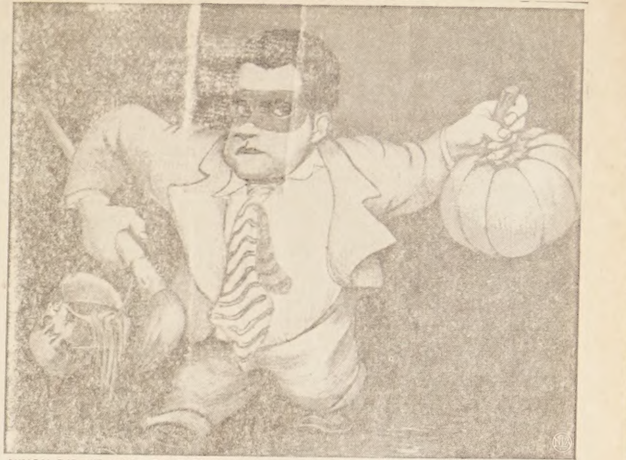
2. A new wave of terrorism in Algeria brought the French cabinet into emergency session. Paris dispatches said Premier Edgar Faure regarded this situation as even more serious than that in Morocco where he is trying to work out a home rule agreement. Algerian terrorists raided farms, villages and military convoys. New militarized police forces were called up. The Faure plan for Morocco still met with opposition. Faure faced trouble at home also because of a series of strikes. The latest, a 24-hour one, affected the government-owned railroads.

3. In Palestine armed Israelis occupied a demilitarized zone on the Israel-Egypt frontier. United Nations officials joined Egypt in denouncing the action as a violation of the Egyptian - Israeli armistice. Israel said that Egypt had established two military positions in the zone. Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, the truce supervisor, said the occupation was a flagrant violation of the armistice. He asked that the Israeli troops be withdrawn at once.

Ray Mangan Will Admitted To Court

The will of Ray Mangan, who died September 9, 1955, was admitted to probate in Whitley County circuit court last week. Letters testamentary were ssued to Hilda Mangan, the widow and executrix of the will.

The bond was set at $500 with Kenneth and Mary Magley as sureties.



NIXON DIDN'T MIND THIS ONE—Vice President Richard Nixon had no objections to this caricature of him being exhibited at the recent San Francisco Art Festival. When the Art Commission ordered it removed, he telegraphed them, saying the public "should not be denied a full opportunity" to see it. The lithograph portrays Nixon as "Dick McSmear" carrying a pumpkin in one hand and a red-daubed paint brush in the other. The pumpkin symbolizes the famous "pumpkin papers" of the Alger Hiss case, in which Nixon figured prominently. Artist is Victor Arhautoff, Stanford University art instructor. Nixon said Arhautoff is entitled to his opinion.

Can You Name The Two American WomenAmbassadors?

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Name the two American women ambassadors and the countries to which they are assigned.

Try this one on your friends. If you do not find that at least four out of five promptly give the name of Clare Boothe Luce and Italy, then falter and finally fail to name the second woman or nation — then we have a request.

Please write to a charming woman named Frances Willis, our ambassador to Switzerland, and tell her that among your friends her admirable career has not gone unnoticed.

Because, quite frankly, a number of people are unaware that we have a second woman ambassador. And Miss Willis is aware that this is so.

U.N. Advisor

"Do you mind that a lot of Americans never heard of you?" we asked Miss Willis the day after she arrived here to act as one of the advisors to the U.S. delegation to the U.N. General Assembly.

Miss Willis smiled. She is a tall, slim woman with expressive blue eyes, slightly grey hair and a gentle sense of humor.

"Happy is the reign that has no history," she said.

Actually, of the three American women who have served as ambassadors and the three who have the longest diplomatic history. She is the only woman career diplomat ever to rise to the rank of ambassador.

"It sounds so simple it's hard to believe," Miss Willis said. "Twenty-eight years ago I was teaching government at Vassar and I decided that all I knew about government I had learned out of books. I took the examination and passed it and went into foreign service for what I thought was a short time. I just found it far too fascinating to leave."

Appointed In 1953

She was appointed ambassador to Switzerland by President Eisenhower in 1953 and moved to Berne from Helsinki, where she was the consul for two years.

"When I dress up and put on a little makeup for evening, people who have seen me only in the office sometimes don't recognize me," Miss Willis said. "I can look quite severe behind a desk."

She put on a pair of glasses and scowled slightly to look severe. She wore no makeup at all, except fingernail polish. The effort was fairly unsuccessful, since her warmth and friendliness are too apparent to conceal.

Backstairs At The Summer White House

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

FRASER, Colo. (UP) — Backstairs at the summer White House:

Friends close to President Eisenhower are convinced that he not only hasn't made up his mind to run next year, but that he isn't thinking much about the decision on his current golf-fishing-work stay in Colorado.

They think he'll make up his mind firmly and probably quickly when he feels the time has come to make the decision. Until then, it'll be anybody's guess.

Mr. Eisenhower not only isn't worrying over the decision, he's apparently annoyed by all the editorial speculation over what he'll do. There's much less of that in the West than in the East, where Washington developments loom larger in importance.

For that reason, some of the President's friends attach no significance to his recent golf course remark that the pleasant Colorado air and his successful golf shots are "another reason for getting out."

And nothing, it is said, fires up the Eisenhower ire quicker than asking him whether he will seek reelection.

Mr. Eisenhower's favorite methods of cooking mountain trout, vegetable stew and thick steaks have become almost common household knowledge.

But he also showed his adeptness at another favorite disk — fried chicken — the first day he arrived here from Denver for his second round of trout fishing on his Colorado visit.

First thing after he arrived at his spacious guest house on the Byers Peak Ranch of Denver businessman Aksel Nielsen, Mr. Eisenhower turned to the kitchen and brewed coffee four later and returned with seven nice ones. But the trout yielded on the evening's menu to the President's yen for fried chicken.

Golf and fishing are the President's most publicized hobbies. They're also the ones that occupy most of his leisure moments.

But whenever he can, Mr. Eisenhower works in some time at another favorite sport from his Army days — skeet-shooting.

Although Nielsen's ranch has no skeet range, it provides plenty of opportunity for target practice with rifle or shotgun.

In Memory Of Little Dale

"I'll lend you for a little time a child of mine," He said,
"For you to love the while he lives, and mourn for when he's dead.
It may be six or seven years or twenty-two or three,
But will you, till I call him back, take care of him for me?
He'll bring his charms to gladden you, and should his stay be brief,
You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief.
I can not promise he will stay, since all from earth return,
But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn.
And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes I have selected you.
Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain,
Nor hate Me when I come to call to take him back again?"
I fancied that I heard them say, "Dear Lord, Thy will be done;
For all the joy Thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may,
And for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay.
But should the angels call for him much sooner than we've planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

New Haven Bulldogs Win 48-6

The New Haven Bulldogs opened the home football schedule of the Columbia City Eagles at DeVol Field Friday night and blasted the Eagles 48-6. The Bulldogs ran up a 41-0 score, with two other TD's called back, before Columbia City scored its lone tally in the early part of the last quarter.

The story on New Haven's first 13 points scored in last night's game should nearly be selected for the "believe it or not" column. The game was only a few minutes old by the time New Haven had rolled up a 13-0 score—and, "believe it or not", had only executed one play, on which the Bulldogs fumbled and the Eagles recovered the ball.

How was it done? The first New Haven TD was made by Nowels when he intercepted Whetstone's "flat pass" and ran over untouched from the C.C. 16. On this attempt for the extra point, the Bulldogs failed, but it was the only time they did not add the "easy point" after scoring touchdown. The second New Haven TD also was made on an attempt by Whetstone to pass. By the time the Eagle quarterback had taken the ball from center and ran back to a passing position, there were two or three New Haven players back there with him. Whetstone cocked his arm just as he was tackled. The ball flew about three feet in the air and came down in the outstretched arms of Longardner, who ran over the goal line untouched. The C.C. play had started on it own 30.

Turning Point

From that point on, it was a goose chase, with the Eagles doing the chasing.

The next Bulldog score came after the visitors had marched to the six-yard line, from the C.C 41. The drive was climaxed on a pass from Nowels to Buhr. New Haven scored the second time in the second period, advancing the ball from the C.C. 39 on two plays. Allgood went over from the 18-yard line on an end run. Up until that time New Haven had not needed to run the Eagle ends, but whenever a team needs yardage against the Eagles all it needs to do is try the ends, as the Eagle ends play inside the offensive ends.

Two New Haven TD's were called back in the third period before one was scored that counted. That score came after two ends, by Allgood and Nowels, the latter notching the score for 34-0. After the kick-off by New Haven, the Eagles got a first down on a roughing the passer penalty but had to punt four plays. New Haven returned Deutsch's punt ot the N.H. 31, and in four plays had scored, Buhr going over from the C.C. 25-yard line on the first play of the third period.

Yant Scores

It was 41-0 and soon time for the Eagles to score. Columbia City took New Haven's kick-off and marched from their own 31-yard line to pay dirt, Yant plunged over from the 8-yard stripe for the six points, but as in the two previous games, the attempt for the extra point failed. Score 41-6. It was on this drive that the Eagles first crossed the mid-field stripe.

Late in the quarter New Haven scored its final long parade of touchdowns. The Bulldogs got possession of the ball on the C.C. 45, and in three plays Burh had run for a TD. Null plunged for the point, and the final score was 48-6.

Next week the Eagles go to Bluffton for the third conference game.

Freddie Haas Leads Pro Field

NEWTON, Mass. (UP) —Fred Haas with a seven under par 137 led a field of the nation's pros into the third round of the $43,000 Carling golf tournament today.

Haas, who shared medal honors in the first round with a five under par 67, posted a 70 Friday to lead the feld at the halfway mark.

PGA champ Doug Ford was two strokes back of the Claremont, Calif., pro with 139. Gene Littler was tied with Ford.

Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., who shared medal honors with Haas turned in a 73 Friday to be one stroke back at 140 in a tie for fourth place with Bill Nary, Wayne, Mich.

Cary Middlecoff and Fred Hawkins, St. Andrews, Ill., were two strokes back at 142 and Jack Burke Kiamesha Lake N. Y. Fred Wampler Indianapolis, and were bunched at 143.

Julius Boros the season's top money winner and tournament defending champion was one over par at 145 in a tie with nine others.

The final round will be played Sunday with the winner taking home a $7,000 purse.

Does the Color of Your Car Reflect Your Personality?

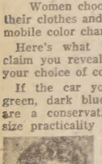
By Betty Skelton, Dodge Test Driver

In everything you buy, your color preferences express your own individuality. The color of the car you select may reveal a lot of information about your personality.

Women choose colors that flatter them, not only when they select their clothes and home furnishings, but also when they scan the automobile color charts.

Here's what the psychologists claim you reveal to the world in your choice of colors:

If the car you drive is dark green, dark blue, or black: You are a conservative. You emphasize practicality in your selection of clothing and home furnishings, as well as cars. You are undoubtedly a dependable, responsible person.



Miss Skelton

If you choose a light shade for your car, such as a pale blue, green, beige or grey: this puts you in the middle-of-the-road classification, neither conservative nor extreme. You want to be up-to-date, but still you consider the importance of practicality.

Keynotes Personality

If you sport a two-tone, three-tone, or brightly-hued automobile: modernity keynotes your personality. You probably follow the fashion magazines and are among the first to wear the more daringly different styles.

If you choose a gaily-colored car, like red, yellow, or white: you are a person who likes the unusual—the dramatic. Your entire character expresses a refreshing individuality.

Scientists Observe

These interesting observations were made by scientists in a recent study sponsored by the Chicago Tribune.

Color, they say, is just as important to modern automobile purchasers as size, style and engineering.

The next time you watch a stream of cars roll past, try to see if the people at the wheel of various-hued cars appear to fit the characteristics the scientists attribute to them. You might have some fun!

America's most famous woman driver, Miss Skelton holds the woman's automotive speed record of 143.44 mph, and is the only woman test driver in the automotive industry. Address any questions or suggestions about cars, safety, and driving problems to her in care of this newspaper.

Coach Buddy Parker Looks Forward To The 1955 Season

By LLOYD NORTHARD
United Press Sports WWriter

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UP)—Buddy Parker, the optimistic Detroit Lions coach who has compiled one of the National Football League's finest records, looks forward to the 1955 season although his star passer is crippled and he is minus nine of his 33 Western Division champs of 1954.

Parker begins his fifth season as Detroit's head coach with a record of 38 victories, 12 losses and two ties in four campaigns. He has guided the Lions to two league championships, three straight division titles and one second - place finish.

Despite personnel losses that would wreck most clubs, Parker believes Detroit can put up a stiff battle for its division crown if quarterback Bobby Layne is able to pass with his sore shoulder and if the club's rookies fulfill his hopes.

Yayne Is Big "If"

Layne is the big "if." He is one of the league's top stars and the key man in the Detroit attack. Doctors gave cortisone injections to enable him to play in the exhibitions, and Parker hopes the shots continue to loosen up the shoulder. It's an old injury dating from 1949.

Parker's No. 2 passer is Harry Gilmer, whom he obtained from the Washington Redskins when Tom Dublinski jumped to the Toronto Argonauts. Tackle Gil Mains and guard Jim Martin also jumped to Toronto but both recently switched back to Detroit.

Parker lost ends Cloyce Box and Bob Dove, tackle Thurman McGraw and middle guard Les Bingaman's middle guard berth.

Dave Middleton, a 190 - pounder from Auburn who was Detroit's No. draft choice this year, has moved into the backfield at right half. Guard Jim Salsbury of UCLA and tackle Darris McCord of Tennessee appear capable of plugging gaps in the line. Defensive end Walt Jenkins of Wayne University, defensive halfback Lee Riley of Detroit University and linebacker Bud Brooks of Arkansas are other promising rookies.

Besides Layne, the nucleus of Parker's offensive platoon includes such "old pros" as halfbacks Doak Walker, Lew Carpenter and B Hornschemeyer; ends Dorne Dibble, Leon Hart and Jim Doran; tackles Lou Creekmur and Charlie [illegible]ne and guards Harley Sewell and Dick Stanfel. Besides Ricca, the defensive unit includes ends Hart, Sherwin Gandee and Jim Cain; tackle Bob Miller; linebackers Joe Schmidt and Martin and backs Bill Stits, Carl Karislivacz, Jim David and Jack Christiansen.

British Milers May Compete Here

LONDON (UP) —Britain's four-minute milers — Chris Chataway and Brain Hewson—may compete in the United States during the 1956 indoor track season. Jack Crump, secretary of the British Amateur Athletic Board, said he has received an invitation from the AAU but declined to dicuss the possibility that either or both will compete at this time.

Fearless Fraley's Facts And Figures

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

One of baseball's hottest hitters over the last half of the season., as usual, has been Carl Furilo and "The Arm of Brookyn attributes his almost annual late spurt primarily to luck.

Furillo, despite a fast getaway this year, at the Al-Star break was batting a mere .279. Over the last half of the season he hit at a .350 pace to get his average up to its current .312.

"Luck plays a big part in hitting," Furillo explains. "It's all in getting hits on those bloopers, infield taps and grounders through a hole. Add a few line drives which aren't hit directly to somebody and you have the difference." And what a difference.

All Southern Backfield ....

Right out in the heart of the Big Ten, which everybody knows plays the best college football in the nation, the Detroit Lions have had the temerity to come up with an All-Southern starting backfield.

It consists of Bobby Layne of Lubbock and the University of Texas; Doak Walker, of Dallas and SMU; Dave Middleton of Birmingham and Auburn, and Lew Carpenter, of Earle, Ark. and the University of Arkansas.

The UCLA - Maryland football game today should be one of the year's best. The Uclans aren't taking the Marylanders lightly either, because scout Bill Barnes told them that the Terps are the "most professional - like college squad I've ever seen."

The Sysonby Stakes at Belmont Park today will not only decide horse of the year honors in all fine line on such approaching features as the Laurel International and the Jockey Club Gold Cup.

Nashua, despite his match race win over Swaps, hasn't wrapped up horse of the year honors as he goes out against such challengers as Helioscope and High Gun. Helioscope is a lot of horse and, come the special, will be attempting to become only the second horse in history to win it twice. Challedon turned the trick in 1939-40.

Construction work is being done around the I.U. football field. When one of his freshman backs started an end sweep, the yougnster headed right into the path of a truck. Brown took him out of danger with a flying tackle. If he isn't carful, they'll draft him for the varsity.

Orioles Assign 3 To Farm Clubs

BALTIMORE (UP)—The Baltimore Orioles have assigned three more youngsters to farm clubs. They are first baseman Ezell King and catcher Glenn Slusher to San Antonio and second baseman John Makell to York, Pa.

Yanks Climax Late-Season Rally, Win 21st AL Pennant By Defeating Boston Red Sox

By EARL WRIGHT ....
.. United Press Sports Writer ..

The New York Yankees and Broklyn Dodgers will begin their sixth "subway" World Series next Wednesday with left hander Whitey Ford probably pitching against right hander Don Newcombe.

New York, climaxing a magnificent late-season rally, won its 21st American League pennant Friday night by defeating the Red Sox at Boston, 3-2.

The Dodgers clinched the National League flag Sept. 8. Rain forced them to rest in Pittsburgh Friday while their arch series rivals qualified to play host in the first two games of the 1955 classic. Brooklyn hasn't won a World Series in seven tries and has lost five of them to the Yankees.

Boston frustrated New York by winning the afternoon half of a day-night doubleheader, 8-4. That loss snapped an eight - game Yankee winning streak but Manager Casey Stengel's men snapped back at night to win and crush Cleveland's faint hope of retaining the pennant it won last year.

The second place Indians were rained out at Detroit as the Yankees climaxed their pennant push: Cleveland has two games Saturday against the Tigers but will be playing only to hold second place against the Chicago White Sox.

New York ends its regular season with single games at Boston Saturday and Sunday. Cleveland has three more games but trails by 3½

Stengel's bruised and limping players drove to a story-book finish after trailing Cleveland by two games Sept. 13.

It was "Lucky Friday" again for the grizzled, 64-year-old Stengel, who apparently likes close shaves. It was the fifth of his six Yankee pennants that he cinched on the final Friday of the campaign.

Since Stelgel began managing the Yankees in 1949, they have won the pennant each year except in 1954 when the Indians forced them to take second place.

Stengel's colorful conversation often confuses his listeners but his crystal-ball was as good as his baseball this year.

Before the season began, he predicted 95 victories would win the American League pennant. New York's Friday night triumph was its 95th. Early in August, he said one of the contenders in the close race would take the pennant by winning eight straight games. That's what the Yankees did to break the race open before invading Boston for their last four contests.

And Boston was a fitting place for Stengel to clinch another pennant. He never finished better than fifth in six seasons as a Boston Braves manager.

Pinch - hitter Eddie Robinson's fifth inning single with two out scored Bob Cerv from second base with what proved the pennant-clinching run.

Don Larsen, who weakened in the seventh after getting one man out, was the winning pitcher. But left hander Ford, who relieved Larsen, got the big dividend.

"Ford won the right Friday night to pitch the opening game of the series and that's just what he's going to do," Stengel said. "We'll take care of ourselves in the series.'

At Pittsburgh, Manager Walt Alston said his Dodgers were "up" for the series and that he had expected the Yankees to win in the American League.

In Friday's other American League games, the White Sox defeated the Athletics, 12-4, and the Senators defeated the Orioles 6-4 and 7-3. The Phillies defeated the Giants 5-1, and the Braves downed the Cardinals, 4-2, in the only National League games played.

Ralph Tiger Jones Unhappy Because He Won A Fight

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones was unhappy today because he won a fight.

He wasn't unhappy because of the decision — a unanimous 10 round verdict over Chris Christensen of Denmark — but because he was out boxed by the 29-year-old import.

"He was a good boxer," Jones said afterwards. "I should have had him, but I couldn't get him. I guess I was just rusty—but that doesn't mean that Christensen didn't put up a good fight. He was good."

The bout was a question of weight, for had Jones not carried 158 pounds to the Dane's 125. It might have been a different story. Jones landed considerably fewer punches, but those that found their target had greater authority.

Harry Stickevers, Christensen's manager pointed out Christensen was a last minute substitute for Rocky Castellani, who was excused because of a death in his family.

"I think Chris ought to stick in the welterweight division," he said, "but we agreed to take this fight and he fought Jones just the way he sholud: out box him, but stay away from the power."

Special Farm Advisory Group Guards Secret

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Eisenhower administration's special farm advisory commission today guarded like a top secret its proposals to halt skidding farm prices.

The commission's secret recommendations are expected to form the basis of the new farm proposals the administration has promised to send Congress next year.

The 18-member bipartisan group wound up a two-day meeting Friday on the politically explosive problem.

None of the members would say what took place. When questioned they kept their answers deliberately vauge. But it seemed certain from what little they did say that the commission had not produced a final solution to the farmers' cost-price squeeze.

One spokesman said the members had approved some proposals vetoed others, and put still others off for further discussion at another meeting in December.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said earlier that he would have "very specific" recommendations how to ease the farmers' lot by the time Congress reconvenes in January.

When asked whether the commission had discussed the "very specific" proposals Benson promised, the spokesman said only that the members talked about some "long-range problems" and about some "more immediate problems."

A December meeting would give the commission time to relay to Benson any specific proposals it makes before Congress meets.

When the members complete their recommendations, they will be sent to Benson in the strictest secrecy.

The staff of the Senate Republican Policy Committee Friday issued a booklet in which it blamed the farm price decline on the Truman administration. It said the Eisenhower administration had slowed down "the long drop in farm buying power which started in 1951, and took its deepest plunge under the Democrats."

More Coaches On Trains For Fans

NEW YORK (UP) —The Pennsylvania Railroad announced today that extra coacnes will be added to several regular passenger trains running between New York and Princeton, N. J., for the benefit of those attending the Princeton-Rutgers football game.

Rescues Dentures

CHICAGO (UP) —R. O. Segraves of Alton, Ill., likes the hospitality he received in the Windy City.

When Segraves sneezed so hard Friday that his upper plate dropped through a grating to the bottom of a 50-foot subway air shaft, the Chicago Transit Authority rushed a crew to rescue the denture for the visitor.

Etna-Troy Cubs Win 4th Game, Shut Out Larwill By 7-0 Score

The Etna-Troy Cubs shut-out the Larwill team 7-0 in a grade school baseball game Thursday afternoon at the losers' field. It was the fourth victory of the season for the Cubs without a defeat.

Tuggle pitched for Etna-Troy and Brunner was on the mound for Larwill. Tuggle also aided his own cause in the fifth inning with a home run. It was his second home run of the season.

Coach Ralph Bailey used 18 boys in the Cubs' win while 12 boys saw action for Larwill.

Etna-Troy will be host to Thorncreek in a game Tuesday.

Installation Of Auto Pin-Spotters Completed At Schuman's Alleys

Installation of automatic pin-spotters was completed Friday on the last of the 12 lanes at Schuman's Bowling Alleys, Errol Schuman announced today.

Schuman reported that six alleys have been open for practice bowling only during part of this week. All 12 lanes will be available for open bowling until Monday when the league season at the alleys will get underway.

Schuman said that he plans a "grand opening" of the remodeled and redecorated alleys within a couple of weeks.

4 Front-Runnes Slosh To Victory On Muddy Gridirons

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — East Chicago Roosevelt and three other early-season Indiana high school football front-runners sloshed to victory o nmuddy gridirons Friday night, but seven major outfits lost their perfect status.

Tops among the victims were Mishawaka, ranked sixth in this week's United Press Coaches Poll, 10th-placed East Chicago Washington, and Auburn.

Mishawaka was held to a 6-6 draw at Goshen in an East NIHSC game, while Washington's Senators dropped a 13-6 decision to West NIHSC foe Hammond Clark.

Auburn's Red Devils had their 11-game winning streak clipped by tied but undefeated Bluffton, 8-0. On the first play of the last half Gary Scott was smeared for a safety, and Bluffton fullback Alan Scott scooted 49 yards around end for good measure with three minutes to go to shatter Auburn's record.

Top-ranking East Chicago Roosevelt, meanwhile, chalked up its third straight West NIHSC win, fullback Jack Davidson smashing for three talies in a 26-13 verdict over Hammond.

Gary Wallace, the only remaining unbeaten steel city eleven, remained half a game behind, beating crosstown foe Froebel ,12-6, when a blocked kick with a minute remaining set up the deciding TD.

South Bend Washington, third East NIHSC with a 20-7 win over rival Adams for the lead in the Elkhart. Adams, No. 8 state-wide, knocked Fort Wayne North from the top spot, 14-6.

Ninth-ranking Kokomo, unscored on in its first three starts, escaped with a 14-13 edge at Lafayette to share the north Central Conference lead with Anderson. Although Kokomo was in front all the way, Bill Reel's extra points spelled the difference. Anderson chalked up a 20-12 victory in the mud of Indianapolis Tech—the first time in at least a dozen years the Big Green dropped three games in a row. Marion spoiled Logansport's 3-0 record, 32-7.

Muncie Central, South Bend Central, Evansville Reitz, and Sullivan also "Big 10" members, were [illegible]de, and numerous other games were postponed following day-long downpours.

Lafayette Evansville Bosse, Fort Wayne North and Mishawaka also tumbled from the unbeaten, untied ranks.

Top standings in three other major conferences remained unchanged.

Plymouth pocketed its fourth straight Central Conference decision, blanking Peru, 13-0. Also in the CIC, Huntington's Tom Hummer ran for two markers and passed to John Hicks for the third in a 21-6 win at Warsaw—the latter's fourth straight loss.

Danny Thomas and Bode Hill paced Seymour to its third consecutive South Central Conference in at Rushville, 27-7. Columbus shelled Shelbyville from the per-[illegible] record ranks, 27-14, and South-[illegible], with four reguars sidelined by the "flu" poured it on Frak-[illegible]n, 25-7.

Boonville, seeking its first Southern Conference crown, made it three straight, blanking Bosse, 12-0.

This Is A Stickup

CHICAGO (UP) —Mrs. Lillian Gordon, cashier at the Regal Currency Exchange, said she was counting out $6,000 Friday when all of a sudden she saw the wastebasket begin to move.

Then a man wearing a paper sack over his head with eyeholes cut in it popped up through a hole in the floor.

He whipped out a gun and announced a stickup.

Mrs. Gordon, 31, and a startled customer watched in amazement as the gunman and a companion, who also emerged from the hole, grabbed the $6,000 and disappeared through the hole.

Police surmised the bandits entered the basement during the night, cut the hole in the floor and waited for Mrs. Gordon to arrive.

Housewives Mourn Heroine Of BBC Favorite Soap Opera

LONDON (UP) — British housewives wept today for the fictitious heroine of their favorite soap opera. She was killed off by a script writer for the British Broadcasting Corp.

Some nine - million listeners to "The Archers—An Everyday Story of Country Folk," Thursday night heard heroine "Grace Archer" die in the arms of her "husband" after being trapped in a burning barn.

Hundreds of weeping women called BBC to ask wh Grace had been killed. Many offered aid to the "bereaved husband."

A family in Dover pulled down the blinds in their home as a sign of mourning. Viewers in Birmingham cancelled a movie date.

One unhappy housewife told the BBC, "I don't see any reason for getting rid of Grace. She and Phillip haven't been married long and they seem to be happy. Why did she have to die?"

A BBC spokesman said the episode was planned last March because writer Ed Mason decided to eliminate Grace from the plot.

"We want to keep the program realistic," the spokesman said. 'Normal families have deaths and other tragedies — why not the Archers?"

Facetious

WASHINGTON (UP) — Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas facetiously told a questioner who asked for secret information on how long the atomic - powered submarine Nautilus can remain submerged, the sub "only comes to the surface to re-recruit the crew."

Navy enlistments run for four years.

Less Carpet Wool

United States mills consumed a fourth less apparel and carpet wool in the first four months of 1952 than they did during the comparable period of 1951.

Traffic Fatalities In State Ahead Of Same Period For 1954

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) —State traffic fatalities are running ahead of the figures for a corresponding period a year ago, Indiana State Police reported today.

State Police Supt. Frank A. Jessup said traffic deaths from Jan. 1 through Sept. 18 totaled 749, as compared to 729 for the same period last year.

A breakdown of the figure revealed that 591 of the deaths occurred in rural areas where high speeds increased the danger of accidents. Only 158 fatalities were recorded in cities.

Jessup urged motorists to redouble their safe driving efforts and warned that the "most dangerous days of the year are still ahead of us."
